IMPROVEMENT OF PARRISH SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Hon. Lucian W. Parrish.

Improvement in the condition of Hon. Lucian W. Parrish was from Wichita Falls by physician after a slight setback Wednesday caused considerable concern.

Afternoon the patient's pulse was lower than at any time Monday, and he was able to take nourishment with indications of continued improvement. Late Wednesday night he was somewhat rather alarming, but he soon rallied and by noon saw his condition more than at any time since his serious turn.

It is still too early to say whether it is past, physicians seem hopeful of eventual complete recovery.

COUPLE WEDS AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH SUNDAY

Marriage of Miss Ruth Payne and Forrest M. Squires at the Christian church Sunday morning, came as a surprise to their friends for everyone knew it was the time and place had not been announced. The church had been very attractive with ferns and plants, preparatory to the services and an immense gathering for that purpose—standing the services, while Miss Payne and Mr. Kissick stepped out in front, facing Kissick who pronounced them a wife, using the ring ceremony. The bride was lovely in a handsome suit of navy blue pique with white carnations, black accessories to match.

Payne has made Haskell her home for the past five years, and most of the time she has been connected with the Free Press and has endeavored to all with whom she has come in contact, always finding time for little kindnesses toward her, which make life worth while.

Squires, who is manager of the Lumber Company, has been in our town for the past year and has made many warm friends.

The happy couple left Sunday evening on a honeymoon trip to Spang and other points, carrying with them the hearty good wishes of all. After the honeymoon they will return to their many friends at home where they will make their home.

Whitmore made a business trip to Fort Worth Thursday.

EDISON TONE TEST DRAWS LARGE CROWD

The Edison recital, which was given Monday night at the new First Christian church, was thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by one of the most representative audiences ever assembled in this city. Before the artists were introduced the large auditorium was practically filled to capacity, about eight hundred and fifty adults being present. The program was so arranged as to bring out the fine musical qualities of both the artists and the Edison Diamond Disc machine, which gave a perfect re-creation of the human voice and the tones of the violin, cornet, and piano.

Mr. Harvey Hindermeyer explained the purpose of the recital was to illustrate that Thomas A. Edison, after many years of work, had achieved his ideal to perfect a musical instrument which would actually re-create music and voice so perfectly that the re-creation would be indistinguishable from the original.

This was a broad claim, but it was established before the evening was over, for Mr. Hindermeyer and the Dann Trio, composed of the Dann sisters and Miss Davis, actually stood beside the New Edison Phonograph and sang and played in unison with Mr. Edison's re-creation—so called—of their own performances. This would have proved little, as the voice of Mr. Hindermeyer, the tones of Miss Davis' violin, Miss Dann's cornet, Miss Dann's piano, might have easily overbalanced the tone of the instrument; but they did more, they paused from time to time, apparently at random, and permitted their re-created productions to be heard alone. This gave an opportunity to compare one with another, and it is no more than just to state that there was no discernible difference in tone quality. No difference in tone quality could be apprehended by the audience even when the lights were turned out.

Music such as Mr. Edison has given to the world is gratifying and inspiring, and the local Edison dealers, McNeill & Smith Hardware Co., are due much credit for bringing such a fine recital to the city.

The Edison Phonograph stood the "Acid Test."

ALL PAVING WORK HAS NOW BEEN COMPLETED

The McCollum Construction Co. of Fort Worth, last week, finished the paving work contracted for by this city. This included the paving of the square and one block on Depot street, together with the widening of the sidewalks to sixteen feet. All the work was completed and accepted last week by the city.

The completion of this much needed work places Haskell in the front ranks as a progressive city, and aside from filling a long-felt need, shows the progressive spirit of the citizens of Haskell.

RAID NETS STILL, MASH AND WHISKEY

In a raid conducted by Sheriff Cousins and deputies Wednesday night, two copper stills were seized, together with several barrels of mash and some whiskey. They were found in a house near Jud occupied by Allison Edge and family, and Edge and a man by the name of Will Fritz were placed under arrest. Officers also found a quantity of stolen automobile extras, cushions, casings, tubes, etc., of the value of over $200, and this was also taken in possession by the officers together with the illicit distilling apparatus.

The stills captured in the raid were both large ones, and from the fact that plenty of mash was found at hand, doubtless would have provided enough "extract of corn" to supply several.

The two men arrested in connection with the raid, Edge and Fritz, were brought to Haskell and made bond Thursday in the sum of $500.00 each to await the action of the court. Both are held on charges of theft.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT FOR HASKELL SCHOOLS

M. H. Brasher of Abilene has recently been elected Superintendent of Haskell City schools for the year of 1922-23.

Mr. Brasher has a long line of successful experiences to his credit. For ten years he was superintendent at Roswell, N. M., and for another six years superintendent at Big Springs, Texas. In all these places Mr. Brasher raised the standards, put institutions on a sounder financial basis and made material improvements.

Mr. Brasher is a graduate of one of our best Texas colleges and has done advanced work in some of our graduate institutions. His scholarship and ripe experience guarantees the Haskell schools a successful administration next year.

Editor and Mrs. E. B. Harris of Rule were in the city Monday night attending the Edison Tone Test at the First Christian church.

RIVAL GARDENS

LARGE DELEGATION FROM HASKELL ATTEND RAILROAD MEETING AT FT. WORTH SATURDAY

Nearly three score towns of West Texas and New Mexico were represented at a general railroad meeting held in Fort Worth at the Chamber of Commerce building last Saturday morning when the cooperation and support of practically all West Texas and a part of New Mexico was pledged. The dominant note of the session was the eagerness of all towns to start construction regardless of the route traversed. More than four hundred delegates were present. It was the most momentous railroad meeting held in Texas in many years, and faith that it would be built was voiced with enthusiasm.

One representative from each town was selected for a general committee to expedite the work of the session. Soon after their retirement they returned with the recommendation that President Massie be empowered to appoint a committee of nine or more to forward the movement for the building of the road. This was the only direct and far-reaching action taken at the first general meeting of West Texas and Fort Worth.

W. M. Massie President of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, was elected president, and Eugene Shannon, secretary of the same organization, was elected secretary of the permanent railway organization. Colonel Louis J. Wortham was placed in nomination by Clifford B. Jones, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, but later withdrew his name in a short speech. R. A. Baldwin of Slaton placed the name of W. M. Massie in nomination, which was seconded by J. F. Hartford, co-manager of the Double-U Company of Post.

R. E. Sherrill of Haskell placed the name of Eugene Shannon in nomination for secretary. Amon G. Carter nominated Porter A. Whaley, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which was seconded by Jule Smith. Whaley asked that his name be withdrawn and that Shannon be elected by acclamation. Jule Smith countered with a recommendation that a paid secretary be employed by the organization. In the election Shannon was chosen.

Tribute to Massie

Colonel Wortham paid a glowing tribute to Massie as the guiding hand in developing the Fort Worth and Plains railroad idea. He said he was a man of influence and vision. Wortham declared that Fort Worth and the Plains must build this line, and not sell its idea to already established lines. Clarence Ousley painted a picture of the immense latent wealth of West Texas and the Plains to indicate that its development could insure ample tonnage to make a railroad a good paying investment.

"There is always a way to do a thing when it ought to be done. Building this railroad ought to be done," was one of the epigrammatic utterances of Mr. Ousley.

Cato Sells dwelt at length on the advantages to the West and to Fort Worth by the construction of the road.

Committee Selected

Preceding the speaking proper, a representative from each town which had a delegate present was chosen, and together they retired in executive session as a committee to outline a plan of procedure in the building of the road. They were:

- Haskell, O. E. Patterson; Slaton, R. J. Murray; Breckenridge, R. B. Leach; Throckmorton, A. H. King; Roswell, W. C. Lawrence; Rule, T. L. Hiner; Megargel, J. M. Spontz; Weir, G. R. Couch; Dimmitt, Judge C. F. Kerr; Lubbock, Curtis A. Keen; Claremont, D. I. Combs; Seymour, Joe A. P. Dixon; Red Springs, Wallace Nichols; Vera, J. A. Feenston; Benjamin, F. M. Patton; Westover, C. L. Martin; Post, J. F. Hartford; Munday, J. E. Hammer; Dickens, B. G. Worsdick; Olney, W. P. Reynolds; Seminole, W. B. Austin; Perrin, J. P. Harmon; Plainview, E. H. Perri; Ralls, W. E. McLaughlin; Lamesa, Judge J. R. Lowery; Lovington, Seth Aiston; McAdoo, R. R. Jones; Afton,

- O. C. Newberry; Rochester, A. B. Carothers; Olton, W. H. Bohner; Bellevue, J. R. Hall; Grady, N. M., R. A. Crawford; Friona, John White; Roaring Springs, E. F. Stevens; Tahoka, S. B. Hatchett; Jacksboro, S. D. Stark; Floydada, Frank Daugherty; Folsom, N. M., James Ryan; Big Spring, W. W. Ricker; Graham, M. K. Graham; Matador, C. E. Hamilton; Mineral Wells, Ray Leaman; Goree, E. L. Covey; Stamford, Judge W. T. Andrews; Spur, Clifford B. Jones; Fort Worth, W. C. Stripling and Jule G. Smith; Jermyn, Oliver Loving; Happy, A. L. Harrison; Lockney, A. B. Brown; King County, R. D. Jones; Springtown, J. M. Hart; Plains, C. I. Bedford; Southland, Roy Stephens; O'Donnell, Ben T. Brown; Asperment, Roy Riddle; Lorenzo, R. D. Shaw; Loving, N. M., Seth Liston.

The above committee recommended that the president of the permanent organization be empowered to select an executive committee of not less than nine members from among the towns represented to whom would be delegated authority to prosecute the affairs connected with the securing of right of ways, pledging of bonus and otherwise in getting matters in definite shape. The committee was also vested with the power to call meetings about the railroad whenever it saw fit. The recommendations met with the unanimous favor of the convention and President Massie will select the committee later. Mr. Massie said that such a committee must be selected wisely and therefore he would take his time on the matter.

Haskell demonstrated her eagerness and willingness to co-operate in a Fort Worth-to-Plains railroad by having one of the largest delegations present at the meeting of any town represented. About thirty delegates, representing as many business firms, were present at the meeting and all expressed themselves as being well pleased with the progress of the meeting.

Slaton was also represented with a strong delegation and are heartily in favor of the same proposed route that Haskell so strongly endorses and which seems, beyond a shadow of a doubt, the best and most probable route for a Fort Worth-to-Plains railroad.

Below is map of the proposed route.

HASKELL-SLATON ROUTE FOR PROPOSED PLAINS RAILROAD

CHRISTIAN CHURCH DEDICATED SUNDAY

Last Sunday was the greatest day in the history of the Christian church in Haskell—and we believe it is not too much to say that it was the greatest one day victory Haskell ever had in the history of its religious life. Geo. F. Snively of Chicago, was master of the three services of the day. It was the day set for the dedication of the new house of worship, erected by the members of the Christian church—twenty thousand dollars was the amount necessary to pay all indebtedness and in less than forty minutes after the call was made for the above amount, more than twenty seven thousand dollars had been pledged, and such heroic giving as was manifested more here than common. The gifts ranged from $1.00 to $4,000.00. The building itself is not only a credit to the members but to the town as well and the giving was just as great a credit as the building itself. Bro. Snively is a master in his work—not solely because he can get people to give money, but he makes men want to give their lives along with their money. The members of the Christian church are better men and women as a result of the days work. This church in version, love and services was put forward ten years in a day. After the morning service was over, more than six hundred people lunched in the great basement of the church.

The young people who had a splendid service in the Methodist church at the 11 o'clock hour, came over and enjoyed the good things to eat. The 600 people were served in just 1 hour and 15 minutes. At 2:30 p. m. a great unison memorial service was held. At this service the names of the departed members of the various churches were read and beautiful tributes of love spoken in memory of their noble work as christian men and women of the past, and those influences are still felt for good in our town.

Hon. W. H. Murchison spoke of those who were members of the Christian church. Mrs. J. U. Fields for the Methodist church and Mr. R. E. Sherrill for the Presbyterian church. This service was one of the most beautiful and helpful of the entire day. Bro. J. T. McKissick, president of Midland College, who is one of the greatest preachers of the Christian church, and who is conducting revival services in the new church this week, delivered a powerful address at the afternoon service on the "Old Days, old ways, and Old Friends," which closed the afternoon program. Then at 7:30 another great service was held. Bro. Snively made a very helpful talk at the opening of the night service, then Bro. McKissick delivered a powerful sermon to the great audience present. At the close of this sermon the pastor invited the members of the building committee to come to the platform. The following composed that committee: Marvin H. Post, Chas. W. N. Huckabee, Mrs. Courtney Hunt, P. W. Walthall, The three trustees, T. A. Ballard, H. S. Post and Hardy Grissom were invited to take their place on the platform, then Marvin Post in a beautiful and impressive talk presented the keys to Hardy Grissom, who in a few well chosen words accepted them—then the dedication vows and petitions were read, and the services of the day closed.

There were many visitors present throughout the day. The other churches of the town dispensed with their services and joined with the Christian people in the program of the day, and people came from Stamford, Spur, Dickens, Rule, Rochester, Abilene, Sager-ton and all intermediate points. All of these added materially to the great success of the day.

This church has been erected as a community center, with a great auditorium, with a seating capacity of 1,000, is open for all who come bringing that which is good for the community, and the great basement is to be social center for the young people and a splendid program is now being worked out and will soon be in operation. A good gymnasium will be put in and when open will be a great blessing to the young people of Haskell.

To sum it all up, it was a great day with a great people in a great work for a great town, with a great future, with a great preparation to care for the best interests of the people in a great way.

MARTIN SISTERS COMPANY SHOWING THIS WEEK

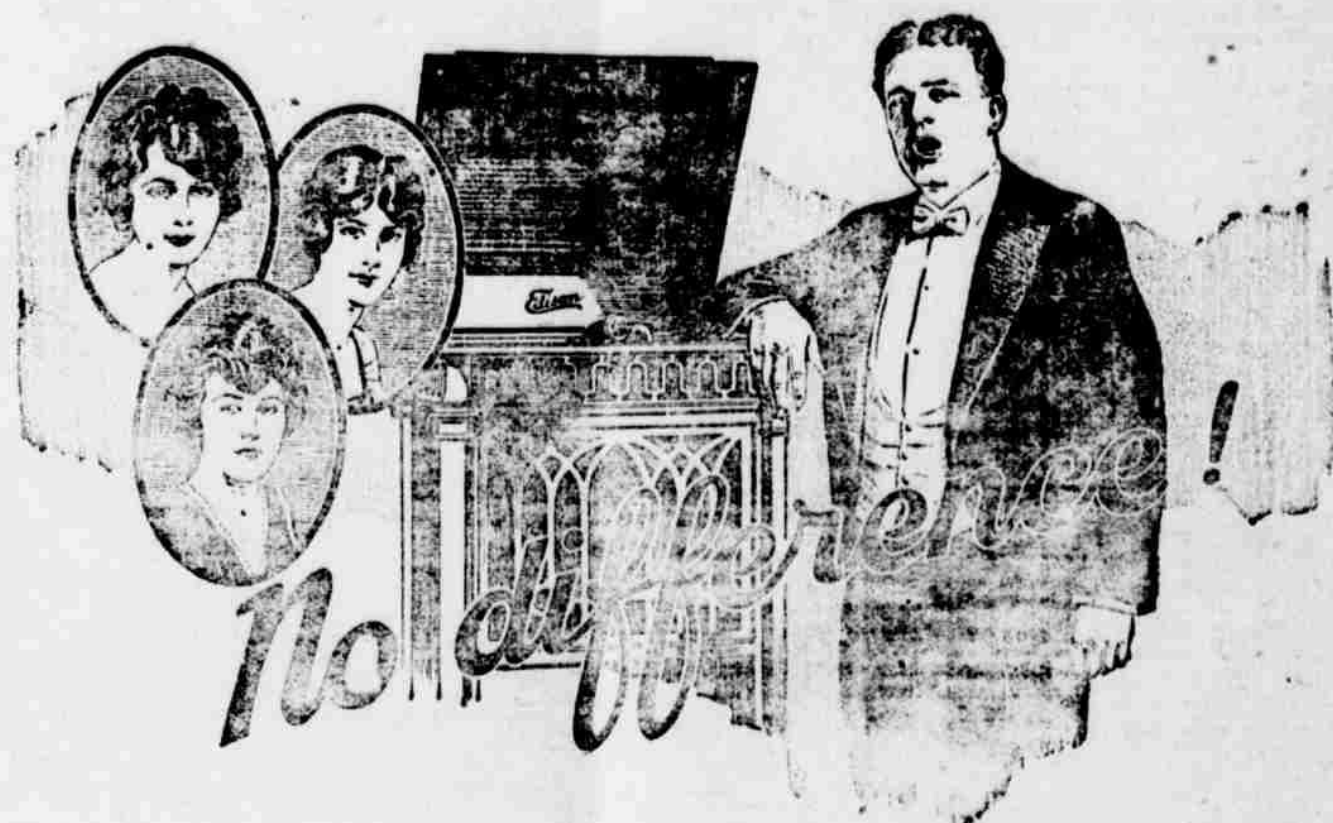

Martin Sisters Company, one of the best stock companies on the road in this section of the country, have been showing in this city under their big tent all this week. This popular company has presented their plays here this week to good crowds, and all the bills rendered have been high class and clean throughout. They have an excellent seven-piece orchestra, together with a fine cast of players.

MUNDAY GIRLS WILL COMPETE FOR STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

According to a telephone conversation with Mr. Wilson, principal of the Munday High School, the Munday girls basket ball team will play Waco High School girls for the State Championship at Munday on Friday, March 31st. The Munday High School has a fast team and expect to win the championship game. A large delegation from Haskell will probably attend the game.

PROVED! Monday Night March 20, to Haskell!

Big Audience at Christian Church Hears Harvey Hindermeyer and the Dann Trio in EDISON Tone-Test

In a test of direct comparison, made Monday night at the First Christian Church, before a large audience, the New Edison scored a complete and convincing triumph.

Harvey Hindermeyer, the famous tenor, sang in direct comparison with the Re-Creation of his voice by the New Edison. To every ear, there was no difference between his living voice and his Re-Created voice.

This is the most drastic phonograph test known. No other phonograph has ever sustained it. No other phonograph has ever attempted it.

The New Edison's marvelous performance of Monday night vindicates everything that has been said or claimed for its perfect realism.

Mr. Hindermeyer stood on the stage next to a shapely Chippendale cabinet. He began to sing. His golden notes soared over the auditorium, bringing all under its magic spell.

Halfway through his song, he suddenly stopped singing. The New Edison, at his side, took up his song,—and continued it alone.

Singer and phonograph thus alternated, thru-out the song.

The only way the audience could be sure which was singing, was by watching Mr. Hindermeyer's lips,—so exactly like the living voice was the Re-Created voice.

The Dann Trio made the same test of comparison with the Re-Creations of their instrumental selections. Again the same result—there was no difference between the Re-Created performance and the living performance.

Proof was piled upon proof! Evidence was massed on evidence! The end of the concert found the audience absolutely and completely convinced, through its own personal experience, that there is no difference between an artist's living performance and its Re-Creation by the New Edison,—that listening to the New Edison is, in literal truth, the same as listening to the living artists.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph With a Soul"

Only one question can still bother your mind. This question we now answer.

The instrument used in Monday night's tests was not a special model. It was an Official Laboratory Model, taken from the home of H. S. Post. Every Official Laboratory Model in our stock is guaranteed to sustain the same test of direct comparison with living artists.

You can have an Official Laboratory Model in your home. You can own an instrument which will do everything done Monday night in the test. Come in. Hear the wonderful Official Laboratory Model for yourself. Learn about our Budget Plan, which puts our Official Laboratory Model into your home for no more than you would "pay down" for a talking machine.

NEW IN SUITS

The season's new suits speak the slip-over dress might truthfully boast: "I came, I saw, I conquered." for it made a complete triumph last summer. It was a long step in the direction of comfort for wear in warm weather. And now enters its near-of-kin in suits, traveling in the same direction. This new arrival is a two-piece affair in which a sleeveless coat is worn with a skirt to match and a blouse, usually of crepe or other silk, made in one with the skirt. The dress is complete in itself and can be worn without the coat. But some women object to going coatless on the streets, and this suit fits their needs. The model pictured is of polart twill with beige-colored blouse of crepe de chine. Silk embroidery in navy and beige finishes the edges of the coat and adorns the narrow cuffs.

SPOKE WITH SOME AUTHORITY

Mr. Perkins' Position Probably in No Danger Because He Turned Down That Contract.

"You've had another hard day, haven't you, dearie?" asked Mrs. Potts as her husband came in from the office.

"I'll tell the world I have," Potts agreed. "I'm plumb fagged out. Everything in the world went wrong."

"That's too bad," sympathized the lady.

"Almost landed the biggest contract of the year," Potts announced, throwing his coat down on the chair by way of emphasis. "Had the man all ready to sign up—pen in hand—when the bottom dropped out."

"How was that?" inquired Mrs. Potts, taking her cue from years of wifely experience.

"Oh, Perkins had to come sticking his head into the matter!" exclaimed Potts. "There were one or two of the clauses to the contract that he didn't think were just right. Said he didn't quite approve of the time limit, either. And, say! I had given the firm six weeks more time than we would have ever required to complete the contract. Some people are so conservative that it ceases to be a virtue. Yes, sir, if it hadn't been for Perkins I'd have landed the biggest contract that the firm has had in 18 months."

"My!" exclaimed the lady. "I should think the firm would be terribly mad at this man Perkins. Will he be able to hold his position after causing you to lose such a big contract?"

"Oh, yes, I suppose he will," Potts admitted. "You see, I took it for granted that you knew. Perkins is president of our company."—Kansas City Star.

INCIDENT CONVEYS A MORAL

Illustrating Once More That Physical Force is Altogether Ineffective as an Argument.

One great man who had delved into scientific methods for many years was passing along the street one day when he was halted by a householder, who said:

"Sir, you had an article in your paper yesterday."

"Yes, I did," was admitted.

"In that article you said that the world moved."

"And so the world does move."

"You are a liar, and I can prove it. I drove some stakes on my property last night, and found that they had not moved at all."

"Rash man, but I can prove to you that the world does move." And he turned the other around and gave him a kick which landed him about ten feet away.

"And I will prove to you that the world does not move," cried the householder. And he hauled off and gave the wise man such a blow in the face that he fell down and did not move.

Moral—When a man cannot be convinced, by argument, then blows, and kicks and black eyes will do no good.

Where Was De Soto Buried?

The question as to what spot on the Mississippi river marks the grave of Hernando De Soto, the discoverer of that stream, is an unsettled one. Arkansas City and Helena, Ark., Rosedale and Greenville, Miss., river towns, have had a four-cornered controversy over the question. Citizens of Helena contend that the Spanish explorer was given a watery grave in the river he discovered at a point just opposite Helena. Arkansas City produces historical data tending to show that De Soto's funeral ceremony was said at a point opposite that city and close to the junction of the Mississippi and White rivers. Rosedale and Greenville have produced evidence in support of their respective claims. So about the only answer one can give in assurance that it will not be disputed is that De Soto's grave is somewhere in the Mississippi between Memphis, Tenn., and Greenville, Miss.

Gold Mines in Ancient Graves.

The latest method of gold mining is grave robbing. Modern Indians of western South America have discovered that buried in the mounds that contain the skeletons of their ancient ancestors there also can be found gold—trinkets. They burrow into these, claim the trinkets as an inheritance and melt these priceless relics of America's wonderful pre-Columbian civilization into gold of commerce.

Archaeologists of the bureau of American ethnology of the Smithsonian institution declare that such practices are destroying forever the early history of South American Indians.

Large images of gold and silver were made by the prehistoric goldsmiths. The records of the early Spanish explorers are filled with descriptions of these golden articles, some of which were as large as cart wheels.

Mistletoe Has Brains.

One of the most curious illustrations of the working of intelligence in plants is offered by the mistletoe, whose sticky berry, finding lodgment on a tree branch, throws out a tiny rootlet, which tries to pierce the bark and thus obtain a foothold. If the bark is too tough, the rootlet swings the berry over to a fresh spot, and makes another trial. In this way such a berry has been known to make five jumps in two nights and three days. Go, and examine a number of them, were discovered by a botanist in the act of visibly journeying along a telegraph wire, trying to find places to grow.—Exchange.

Methodist Church

The one most important interest just at this time is the revival meeting to begin next Sunday. As a help to the meeting there should be at least 300 in Sunday school next Sunday. If every pupil not unavoidably detained will make it a point to be present we will have a great many more than that. It is no uncommon thing for visitors to our city to remark that "this Sunday school is one of the greatest Sunday schools to be found anywhere in a town the size of Haskell."

We are indeed proud of our Sunday school and we hoping and earnestly praying that every pupil not already a christian may become a christian during the revival.

We are also praying that it may be a revival that will reach the entire town. It is not planned just for the Methodist congregation, set that be understood, but is for the entire town. We cordially invite all who are interested in making Haskell a better town morally and religiously to cooperate with us during the next few days in this special revival effort.

We have secured a very fine choir director to lead the music. This is to be a special feature of the meeting. All the singers of the city are invited to join the "Revival Choir" and help to furnish some of the best music ever heard in Haskell.

The preaching will be done by the pastor. If you enjoy plain gospel preaching and good music, we are sure you will get good out of attending these services. Preaching during the week at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Mr. A. H. Bryant who has been seriously ill for quite a while is no better at this writing.

Quite a number of people from the surrounding country attended Trades Day here Monday and everybody seemed to have had a good time. Many premiums were awarded for the best display of products.

A number of our citizens attended the Southwestern Exposition at Fort Worth last week. They all report a good time.

Mr. W. L. Ray of the Jud community was in town Monday. He says Jud is having a fine Sunday school at that place. They have upwards of 80 now in attendance and are going to raise it above 100.

The candidates for office in the county were sure swarming in Rochester on Trades Day, there were so many that I think ye scribe promised to vote for about six or eight of them.

V. G. Martin, our new depot agent, is a jolly good fellow and is getting along nicely in his new location.

This week's issue of the Free Press chronicles the wedding of Miss Ruth Payne and Mr. F. M. Squyres which was solemnized at the First Christian church last Sunday. On this occasion the Free Press lost one of its most valued and trusted employees. Miss Payne for the last three years has been connected with the Free Press, and during this time she has endeared herself in the hearts of all with whom she has been associated and has proven herself in all matters faithful, efficient and trustworthy. And as she has proven herself faithful and unflinching in all things, we know that in her voyage over the matrimonial sea, she will prove to be an aid, an inspiration, and devoted helpmate to her husband. On this occasion, the entire force, from editor to "devil" wish for her and her chosen mate, all the joy and happiness that life can bestow.

Greenwade-Wright

Announcement has been received by the Free Press of the marriage on March 12 of Miss Marguerite Olive Greenwade and Mr. Troy H. Wright, at Rochester. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Greenwade of Rochester, and is a beautiful and accomplished young lady. Mr. Wright is a well known and popular young man of Rochester, and the Free Press join in wishing them happiness and prosperity.

Mrs. Chas. Conner Entertains

Mrs. Chas. M. Conner was hostess to the T. E. L. class of the Baptist Sunday school on Tuesday afternoon, March 21st, from 3 o'clock to five. We were glad to have with us at this time, a number of ladies from Rule, representing the class there.

Vases of peach blossoms and ferns, lent a spring-like atmosphere to the otherwise attractive rooms.

Mrs. Wilmont Daugherty spoke in behalf of the class, welcoming each member, and especially the out of town visitors. Mrs. Reynolds responded, also making a splendid talk along the line of class opportunities. Mesdames Winkler and Conner represented the active members outlining some of the things which have been accomplished by the class the past month. Mesdames Leon and Rodgers responded for the Rule. As they mentioned how the class had grown from only a few members to its present large enrollment. During the social hour a contest on trees was very much enjoyed. Pictures of the various trees had been placed in the wall of the different rooms, and each guest was given a paper and pencil and asked to write the names. The prize for the best paper, a pair of shoe trees, went to Mrs. Charlie Davis of Rule. The program was passed for "A Tongue Dance," a progressive game, which was very unique and caused much merriment. Partners were chosen by means of score cards, four ladies being at each table. At a signal all began talking on a given subject, as marked on the program as Woman Suffrage, "Camouflage," "Husbands," etc. The judges had a hard time deciding just who should progress, as all seemed to be exceptional talkers. The prize, a tiny dictionary, went to Mrs. Rodgers, not so much for winning the game, but because of her splendid address earlier in the afternoon.

Mrs. Conner, assisted by Mesdames Daugherty, C. C. Fouts, Woods, Scott, W. Green and Whitaker, served brick cream and small cakes to the guests. Besides the home class, those present from Rule were: Mesdames E. J. Hunt, Rodgers, Biddell, C. E. Leon, Elmer Penick, W. L. Hills Jr., C. A. Powell, Jno. Hunt, Westmoreland, E. B. Harris, Turner, Graham, Oscar Cooper, Duncan, Head, Charlie Davis, and Baker.

To Stop a Cough Quick

take HAYES' HEALING HONEY, a cough medicine which stops the cough by healing the inflamed and irritated tissues.

A box of GROVE'S O-PEN-TRATE SALVE for Chest Colds, Head Colds and Croup is enclosed with every bottle of HAYES' HEALING HONEY. The salve should be rubbed on the chest and throat of children suffering from a Cold or Croup.

The healing effect of Hayes' Healing Honey inside the throat combined with the healing effect of Grove's O-Pen-Trate Salve through the pores of the skin soon stops a cough.

Both remedies are packed in one carton and the cost of the combined treatment is 35c.

Just ask your druggist for HAYES' HEALING HONEY.

IF we foolishly have attempted to keep with exaggerated corsetry a disproportionately small waist-line, or have permitted our figures to unbecomingly sag through lack of proper corsetry, we have put our birthdays where anyone can count them. There is not a type of figure but can be made more alluring and more youthful in a Gossard Front Lacing Corset.

Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered occasionally with indigestion. NEWS OF THE WEEK FROM THE POST COMMUNITY

NEW ROOF AND AWNING FOR LAMM

We are still expecting and logging for rain to settle this awful dust. The light shower of last week did very little good in our vicinity. Bro. W. H. Hughes preached a very fine sermon at his last regular appointment and had a very good crowd. Our B. Y. P. U. is growing and they gave an entertainment at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Livegood last Tuesday night which was one of the most enjoyable and pleasant affairs of the season. It consisted of different kinds of games and light refreshments and all took part and stayed until after twelve o'clock before leaving for their respective homes. Our school will be out in one more month or April 21st. We are still planning to have our fall on that date and are preparing for a large crowd and amusements for them and shall expect everyone to bring a well filled basket for dinner. Everybody come and let us make it one of the best of the times at all. We find Prof. J. E. Humphreys in town every Saturday shaking hands and smiling and kissing the babies. Most of the farmers are ready to plant now. But are waiting for it to rain and get warmer. Martin Middlebrook and wife have been in Rule visiting Mrs. Middlebrook's people. The sad news came from Calif. of the death by accident of Mr. Henderson McElreath, brother of Mrs. Martin Middlebrook. They have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad hour. Thelma and Earl Livegood spent the week-end with home folks, returning to Simmons on Monday. They say the small pox has been stamped out of Abilene and that it was in a very mild form. Well, as news is scarce, I will quit.

The Lamm Building on the square has put on a new roof this week. Workmen busy repairing the roof of the and a new awning has been put on this week.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Pardo turned this week from a friends in Clisken.

J. F. Posey, proprietor of Cash Store, has been confined for several days with illness.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Aspermont, and their family are visiting relatives in the city this week.

Harmon, of the Harmony Club, a regular meeting last week, 22nd, with a good business meeting was held at the remainder of the afternoon voted to change position.

MUST LET THE WORLD KNOW

Too Many Expect Others to Be Con-servant With Their Secret Hopes and Aspirations.

The rarest person in the world is the one who knows what he really wants.

And if you don't know yourself, how can you expect others to know?

Two young people went off and got married in the most casual, Bohemian fashion, informing nobody.

And their friends asked them around to dinner now and then, accepting the marriage in equally casual fashion, only to find out, years later, that they were deeply hurt not to have had the usual formal bride-and-groom dinners
given for them.

But how could anyone have known that?

If independence, freedom and an adventurous life are what you really want, don't expect people to deduce it from the fact that you are married and have several small children.

If you are a professional person, and have decided early in your career that you must make money above all things,
don't be hurt and surprised when you are forty if you are not widely known as a distinguished scientific expert.

And if you have given up your life
to research, don't be surprised if you haven't made a lot of money.

You have told the world one thing.
Now you are dismayed that it did not see into your heart and understand what it was that you really wanted.

Too many gentle souls pin their faith
on the old idea that the world will sooner or later beat a path to their doors.—Marion McLean, in The Designer.

ADAM AND EVE GO SHOPPING

Highly Imaginative Picture of Our First Parents Strolling Through a Department Store.

Let us imagine our scapegoat ancestors attempting an 11 o'clock stroll
through a ten-story department store.
Ellen Burns Sherman writes in the North American Review.

Can we not hear the tense ejacula-tions of our first mother before the mountains of unknown things, wools, satins, silks, chilies, organdies and muslins, piled ceiling-high before her?

Even Adam, who has a reputation as a namer of things, might well drop all his Miltonic airs of superiority, and say for once in some dainty form of Edenic language, "Eve, dear, I certainly am out of soundings. I can find names easily enough for birds, beasts
and fishes, but all this" (with a gesture of meek hopelessness) "is out of my zone. Yet I am sure it is all intended for your sex; for I'm thinking no man would gear himself up in any of this duffie"—if one may help him to a word.

Then Eve, if true to her old Edenic
form, would retort:

"But Adam, dear, you can't deny that it is all most tempting, and I am going to pick right away some of that soft, cloudy stuff, the color of a sunrise; I'm sure it would be much prettier than fig leaves for a dress."

Differ Concerning Apparition.

An apparition in dazzling white appeared above the altar at Belmont abbey, according to priests of the Benedictine order at the monastery attached to Belmont abbey. One of the priests was kneeling before the high altar when the apparition appeared and he called some of his colleagues, who are also reported to have seen the apparition. One of the priests at the monastery said: "One evening I was in the grounds closing doors, when I saw the figure of a priest, dressed in his ordinary habit. Another time I was asleep, when I was awakened by someone passing a hand over my heart.
Starting up, I recognized the visitant as the returned spirit of a dead priest." The abbot of Belmont treated the matter humorously. "No sensible person believes in such psychic phenomena
nowadays," he said. "If any man here tells me he has seen a ghost I will give him a good dose of physic for indigestion and watch how he cuts his next meal."

Measure Your Figure.

A Brazilian art scholar claims to have discovered how the old masters of painting and sculpture worked. He has taken the pictures and shown, by drawing lines and angles on them, how the artists gave their compositions
strictly mathematical foundations.

Ancient Egyptian artists had a rule of proportions based on the length of the middle finger, the distance of which was contained nineteen times in the length of the whole body.

Greek artists adopted these proportions until it was established that the face must be a tenth part and the head an eighth part of the total height of the body. The face was divided into three equal parts—from the roots of the hair to the root of the nose; from the root of the nose to its point, and from the end of the nose to the chin.

Mind-Laziness.

Most of us have, or have had, a tendency to be lazy about thinking. That, in itself, is not dangerous; a tendency
can be overcome if we are interested in overcoming it. But many people, not realizing what is the matter with their minds, let lazy thinking habits develop unchecked. The slipshod mind has always an excuse ready. It says,
"I'm too tired to work now. What I need is a thorough rest to fit me for thinking. Tomorrow I shall be able to do this work easily." Sometimes the excuse is genuine, but we must be on our guard to see that the tired feeling really means overwork. We must be on the lookout for the idle brain that complains of being exhausted.

FIND PLEASURE IN PAINTING

Almost Every One Had at Some Time
of Life Been Fond of Handling Bright Colors.

Nearly everybody likes to paint. We like to feel the paint flow from the brush and to see the dull, dirty surface we are painting covered with a bright, brightly colored coating, which not only lends beauty to it, but protects it as well against the destructive influences of the weather and the corrosive gases in the air. It may be that the almost universal pleasure found in painting is an inherent trait, communicated to us through the centuries by our savage forefathers, who mixed pigment with fat or grease and smeared their bodies and faces with it. Paint is no modern invention; even white lead is of ancient origin, declares a New York Sun writer. The story is told of the wife of the famous Greek general, Xenophon, who had the habit of smearing white lead on her face and wounding high heels until her husband told her he thought her pretty enough as she was without the application of artificial aids to beauty.

There is a reference traced back as far as the Seventh century A. D., which is the first recorded instance of the use of paint to cover a wooden carriage, very much in the manner prevalent today. There are earlier historical mentions of the use of paint, but these refer more to sizes, such as glue, and special paints such as those made with wax and used by the Romans in admix-ture with glue to paint their ships of war. The Egyptians used glue sizes and varnishes. The mummy cases in museums indicate that clearly and probably form the earliest examples of varnished articles in existence.

USED "DOG-OIL" AS MEDICINE

Fearful and Wonderful Combination Recommended for the Treatment of Gunshot Wounds.

The great surgeon, Ambrose Pare, wrote the following about the year 1540:

"When I was at Turin I found a surgeon famed above all the rest for his treatment of gunshot wounds, into whose favor I found a way to institute myself, that I might have the recipe of his balm as he called it,
wherewith he dressed these wounds.
And he made me pay my court to him
for two years, before I could possibly get the recipe out of him. In the end, thanks to my gifts and presents, he gave it to me, which was this, to boll down, in oil of lilies, young whelps
just born, and earthworms prepared with Venice turpentine. Then was I joyful and my heart made glad, that I had learned his remedy."

And the London Pharmacopoeia for the year 1650 contained a recipe for
"dog oil," with the following ingredients: "Sallet oyl, two pugy dogs newly whelped, earthworms washed in white wine and cypress turpentine and spirit of wine."—Exchange.

New England's "Hobblebush."

One of the oddest-mannered trees to be found in the New England countryside is the wayfaring tree, or hobblebush. The name is especially applicable, for the tree spreads out a branch till it touches the ground, then takes root right from the branch. The blossoms of the hobblebush are most effective, scores of flower wheels growing in plats, giving stunning masses of ivory white to the spring landscape, almost as soon as the snow has melted.
The leaves themselves are brilliant green, and are very large. In autumn they turn a gorgeous garnet red, while where the lovely spring blossoms were appear clusters of apple-shaped berries blackish crimson in hue. So you see the hobblebush, despite its queer name
and strange habits, is really very beautiful almost the whole year round.—
Christian Science Monitor.

Proceedings Against Beetles.

The "Memoires de la Societe Royal Academique de Savoie" give a curious account of proceedings taken against beetles in 1445 and 1487. They had committed great ravages in the St.
Julian vineyards. Having listened to counsel on either side, the judge suggested that the vinegrowers should cede to the defendants land where they could live without trespassing on the vineyards; otherwise he ordered that the vineyards should be respected by the beetles under certain penalties.
The beetles' lawyer protested that the land was barren, and the court appointed assessors to survey it. They reported favorably, but the beetles raised a legal quibble and so it went on, but what the upshot was is not known owing to the destruction of the document.

Unwitting Criticism.

There are some well-intentioned persons who walk about the streets of a certain town with poles, displaying large paper placards, on which are printed texts and religious exhortations.

The other afternoon one of them took for his pitch a place just in front of a potato chip stall. On his placard ran the affrighting query:

"After life, judgment. After judgment—what?"

Exactly beneath and in a line with it ran the potato stall announcement:
"We fry in the best beer dripping."—
London Answers.

Looking Ahead.

Wednesday—What's the idea of giving your fiancee a cigarette case?
Does she smoke?

(Gayboy)—Oh, no, but she's just about due to break off and send my presents back, and I can use it myself.

PROCLAMATION

I, Sam A. Roberts, Mayor of the City of Haskell, Texas, by virtue of the Authority vested in me,
do hereby proclaim the week of April 3rd to 8th,
"Clean-Up Week" for Haskell.

as intensive "Clean-Up Day" and request all business houses of the city to close their doors for the entire day and assist with the work.

All citizens are requested to clean up and burn
all trash and weeds on or around their premises on or before the above dates. Tin cans and other rubbish that will not burn should be placed in boxes, sacks or neat piles in a convenient place, easily reached by the city wagons.

The city is desirous of having the earnest cooperation of every citizen of the town and especially the school children in making Haskell
a beautiful city and a cleaner and healthier place

SAM A. ROBERTS, Mayor.

SPRIGHTLY SILK FROCKS

Any number of sprightly, new, target frocks came trooping in, in advance of spring, and they were perfectly sure of a welcome. Along lines similar to those in the pretty model shown here designers have made them
in very great variety, suited to gay youth and varied to please charming age. In a conspiracy to make them wholly irresistible to gentlewomen, lace is introduced in the sleeves or neck or both, and the silk is used in and made embellishments of flowers and ruchings, covered cord or straps.

The dress pictured here for afternoon, or informal wear, is a youthful model with full scalloped tunic over a plain skirt. Its elbow sleeves, of the tulle, are lengthened by a puff of fine net ending in a band of silk at the wrist. Straps of the tulle extend from the elbow to cuffs and roses of it are set about the tunic. The scalloped edge is finished with a silk-covered cord.

Baptist Missionary Society

On Monday afternoon the Baptist Missionary Society met for our regular monthly Bible study.

For Devotional the society repeated
in concert the 23rd Psalm.

Mr. R. C. Couch, our efficient teacher, led a most interesting and inspiring lesson on the Major Prophets and the Poetical Books. Each lesson brings us a more comprehensive view of the books of the Bible and we are made to realize more fully the need of Bible study.

In the business meeting some very important matters were discussed and plans adopted. We were dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Whitaker.

CORNWALL LAND OF FAIRIES

People of That English County Firmly Believe in Existence of the "Little People."

A Cornish handbook recently published mentions that there are five distinct varieties of fairies in Cornwall and enumerates them as follows:

The "Small People," who were supposed to be the pre-Christian inhabitants; these are gradually fading away.

The "Spriggans," attached to cairns, cromlechs and other ancient monuments, with which it was un lucky to meddle.

The "Piskies," full of mischief and finding great joy in leading mortals astray.

The "Puccas," spirits of the mines, associated in local legend with men from the East, doomed to work underground until the Resurrection.

The "Brownies," kindly and good, the spirits of the household, ever ready to do what they could to assist mankind.

There are numerous legends of the adventures of mortals with these fairies and only a few years ago men returning from Redruth, Truro, Penzance and some other market town would turn their coats inside out before venturing to cross the wild moors or downs, in order to guard against being led away by the Piskies.

Once a miner, working in one of the levels, heard his name called distinctly. He was afraid to follow the voice and went on with his work. His name was called again and this time more vehemently. The miner threw down his hammer and went to investigate. Almost immediately a mass of rock fell on the spot where he had been working. The warning had saved his life.

The Broom or Knockers were so named at one time that people who had to pass a disused mine after dark took special precautions to prevent their presence being known.

Variation in Opinion.

One woman was telling another about a birthday gift she had just given her husband, and how she had saved for weeks from her house money to get it. The other woman was hooked:

"Why, Nellie, how could you! I don't dream of giving my husband present out of his own money! I saved every cent for his Christmas gift, made linens and dressing gowns for some friends.

And a man, who was near enough to a preacher, said to his companion:

"If I had a wife like that, I'd frame her."

"I wouldn't want her at any price. She's too good to be true. My old girl cents me out of every cent she can get by her hands on. I'm used to it. It's one of the rules of the ring. Wouldn't you want her to be different?"

Which, seems to show the variety of opinions—undoubtedly a wise dispensation of nature, since life would be somewhat monotonous if all of us were made in the same mold—like candles.—Washington Star.

New Ideas for the State.

It is reported that a play entitled, "The Island of Monkeys," in which the players are all to be dressed in the guise of various sorts of apes, is shortly to be produced in Milan, Italy. In view of Rosland's successful dramatization of the dwellers of a barnyard, one will wait until after the premiere to say that it can't be done. Then there was the operetta "Woodland," in which all the characters were birds. David Belasco's press department for some time nourished a rumor that the producer had in preparation a drama in which all the characters were insects. This manager secured very nearly as much publicity for this odd notion as William Gillette did for his persistently reported intention to play Hamlet. Dramatic editors in many cities devoted many columns to argument that the ideal impersonator of Sherlock Holmes would not make an even passable prince of Denmark.—Christian Science Monitor.

Business Girls Park High Shoes.

"Do you know the latest thing the girls are 'parking' in our office?" asked the office boy.

His mother, at home, couldn't guess.

"Their high shoes. The girls that live in the country have to wear high shoes to get through the snow and slush on the way to the train, but they can't afford to be seen in anything but low, French heeled pumps in town. It isn't being done. They bring in the pumps in a handbag without their mothers knowing it—I bet—and as soon as they take off their hats and coats off go the high shoes and on go the slippers. They have the glory of walking out at noon with them on and then they return to the high shoes at 5 o'clock.—New York Sun.

Question of Jurisdiction.

Judge Solon Carter, of Superior court, recently was called on to hear the divorce case of George vs. Martha Washington. When the combatants for matrimonial freedom arrived, they were colored folks. Judge Carter, with his fine sense of humor glanced at the complaint, smiled at the attorney for the plaintiff, and said:

"George versus Martha Washington. I don't believe this court would have jurisdiction. Shouldn't this go to Virginia?"

George Washington looked up at the judge, shook his head negatively and exclaimed:

"No, Judge, not Virginia—she's from Indiana avenue!"—Indianapolis News.

Two, a hundred and twenty-five at least, of the fairest and the best—out of the choicest realm of the Empire of Texas—the glorious First District of Federated Clubs.

Coming in the spirit of Democratic simplicity, in the cause of better to-day and girls, better men and women, broader and better education, better homes and subscribing to the doctrine of "I am my brother's keeper."

Lest we forget.

Let us remember again the spirit of the many invitations from all districts of our city extended to the First District last spring and not only live up to that spirit, but beyond it.

Let every man and woman, boy and girl feel personally responsible for the impression that will go out over Texas for the highest of our hospitality to our honored guests.

What They Shall Find

We know many of our most prominent State women have expressed a desire to see what our town is like—it is not an obligation of the club of our city to show them, but one which rests equally upon every citizen.

Let us join hand in one magnificent united effort, feeling as we do, confident and happy in the privilege of opening every available home to our honored guests.

"Mudder, I always wins the race when I carry home Kellogg's Corn Flakes. I can't hardly wait till I have some quick mudder!"

Watch the little folks speed home for Kellogg's Corn Flakes

It's great to see child-enthusiasm for Kellogg's—great to see every one in the family enjoy their crisp crunchiness and wonderful flavor! To sit down before a heaping bowlful of these cheery, oven-browned "sweet-hearts-of-the-corn" and some milk or cream—and fresh fruit, if it's handy—is just about the very last word in appetizing appeal! And, your good taste will prove that!

Kellogg's Corn Flakes ought to be superior—they are the original Corn Flakes! Kellogg's are never tough or leathery; never hard to eat; never a disappointment!

Be certain to get Kellogg's—the kind in the RED and GREEN package—because none are genuine without the signature of W. K. Kellogg, originator of Toasted Corn Flakes!

Don't forget, KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes are made by the man who gave you the JUNGLELAND Moving Pictures. Coupon inside every package of KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes explains how you can obtain another copy of JUNGLELAND.
