FAMOUS HEALTH FAIRY VISITS HASKELL

The Magazine Club, through the efforts of Mrs. J. C. Fields, State Citizenship Chairman for the General Federation of Women's Clubs, staged an entertainment of high order at the new Christian Church last Friday afternoon, Miss Raymond, of New York City, now operating in Texas under the auspices of the State University Extension Department, was secured for Haskell for that date. Miss Raymond usually appears only in the larger cities.

The Magazine Club extended an invitation to all school children to attend by rooms. The Haskell schools responded in such fashion as to tax the capacity of even the new Christian Church. Quite a number of adults were present, too, including Miss Halbert, Stamford Health Nurse, and several children from the schools there. Over seven hundred children filed into the church so noiselessly that Miss Barry, Extension Department representative accompanying Miss Raymond was sent out from the dressing room to find if the children were coming, only to meet a sea of upturned, expectant faces.

Dressed as a fairy, charming in person and manner, Miss Raymond captivated her audience from the first. She appealed to the younger children in particular, but even the adults were vastly interested. Impersonating fairy-folk, she told her audience the health secrets of Fairyland. She made the drinking of abundant pure water and wholesome milk so vital as to make a run on the town water supply and dairies imminent! She stressed the virtue of cleanliness so much and made it so attractive that every little urchin present, no matter how deep his coat of mud, vowed himself from that moment forward a bath-fend! If bath-tubs do not appear in the stock of our hardware houses in tremendous quantities soon it will not be the fault either of the "Health Fairy" or the younger portion of her audience.

Gliding away as a fairy, Miss Raymond disappeared in street dress and led a health conference with the adult portion of her audience. She told of the health work being carried on in various places, described the means of launching and sustaining the work, and displayed a remarkable exhibit of health lessons in graphic form done by children in various parts of the country. Miss Raymond proved quite as adept at entertaining grown-ups as children.

The community is to be congratulated on securing this truly wonderful play-lecture. Many little folks will remember the wonderful "fairy" and profit by reaction to the secrets she told them throughout life. Mrs. Fields and the Magazine Club are to be commended for this signal piece of service to school and community.

LUCIAN W. PARRISH DIES MONDAY NIGHT

Lucian W. Parrish of Henrietta, congressman from the Thirteenth Congressional District and candidate for the United States Senate, died at a Wichita Falls hospital Monday night following a two weeks fight for his life.

Congressman Parrish was injured in an automobile accident near Roby two weeks ago while on a speaking tour in the interest of his candidacy. His injuries were not thought to be of a serious nature until cerebral meningitis developed, resulting in his death. Mr. Parrish had many warm personal friends in this city, and the news of his injury and subsequent condition has been closely followed by his friends here.

The following extract from a tribute to Mr. Parrish appeared in the Dallas Morning News of March 28th:

"The death of Lucian W. Parrish interrupted the career of a man worthy of remark. The record of the man, privately and publicly, seems to invite even those who knew him but casually to wonder what he might not have achieved, had the years been spared to him for continued accomplishment. But, though his career was interrupted, it can not be said that it has been spoiled. On the contrary, the life of Mr. Parrish, brief as it was for one of his prominence, may be considered as a complete exemplification of the spirit by which he was animated."

INTENSIVE CLEAN-UP DAY APRIL 5TH

Next week has been proclaimed "Clean-Up Week" and Wednesday April 5th has been designated "Intensive Clean-Up Day." On this day the business houses have been requested to close and cooperate with each other in making this a successful clean-up day.

In the proclamation published this week due to an error the date appears Wednesday April 15 instead of the 5th. Nevertheless, NEXT Wednesday, April 5th, is the day, so close your place of business as much of the day as necessary and join your fellow business-man in this much-needed work.

HASKELL FARMERS AWARDED PRIZES

Again Haskell County has proven the fertility of her soil and the ability of her progressive farmers to compete for prizes on farm products in one of the strongest contests ever held in the state. J. D. Jackson, a farmer living ten miles west of town, was in the city Wednesday and made this office a pleasant call. He had in his possession a check for $24 and three ribbons he had won at the Fat Stock Show recently held in Fort Worth on 30 heads of maize grown on his farm which he entered for premiums.

The prizes awarded Mr. Jackson are as follows: first prize on Red Maize, $10.00; second prize on Red Maize $7; second prize on White Maize, $7, making a total of $24 in prizes.

J. C. Lewellen, ex-County Commissioner, was winner of third prize on White Maize. Mr. Lewellen is another good farmer who looks after growing better farm products. It was coffee corn and some other products grown by Mr. Lewellen, that helped to make Haskell County's excellent winnings in the Dallas State Fair of last year.

There are other farmers in Haskell county who are in line with these men who won prizes and we hope to see more of Haskell county's products on exhibition in the future.

CITY ELECTION WILL BE HELD TUESDAY

A city election will be held in Haskell next Tuesday, April 4th, for the purpose of electing city officials for the next two years. At this time there are to be elected a Mayor, City Attorney, City Secretary, City Marshall and four Aldermen.

No one has announced as a candidate for mayor, although several have been mentioned as likely contenders for this place. Three candidates are in the race for city marshal, I. W. Kirkpatrick, who is now serving as marshal by appointment, C. W. Goodwin, and Harry Farmer. Four Aldermen are to be elected instead of three as is usually the case, in order to fill the vacancy caused in the City Council by the resignation of Alderman Jno. Oates.

Considerable interest has been manifested in this election and it is expected that a large number of votes will be polled in Tuesday's election.

BAPTIST LADIES WILL MEET IN ABILENE ON APRIL 12th

WORK STARTED ON NEW BRICK BUILDING

Work was started this week cleaning up the debris of the fire which destroyed the Texas Garage and Filling Station and the Haskell Bottling Works several weeks ago, and work will be started the after part of the week on a new brick building on this location.

R. C. Couch, owner of the property, stated this week that the new building would be of brick, 56x110 feet, and would be occupied by a garage, filling station and a candy kitchen. The contract for the brick work has been let to A. J. Tuck, local contractor, while J. M. Maxwell of this city has the contract for the interior and finishing work.

The new building will be modern in every respect, and is one of the best locations in town. The names of those who are to occupy the building when completed have not been announced.

MAN ARRESTED WITH BURGLARY AT CISCO

Local officers this week arrested a young man by the name of Roy Farley who is wanted in Eastland county on a charge of burglary. Young Farley had been at work on the new High School building here for several weeks. Eastland county officers were notified of his arrest Tuesday, and Deputy Sheriff Looney of Cisco, arrived Wednesday morning and took charge of the prisoner, taking him to Cisco, where he will await trial. Deputy Looney stated that Farley was supposedly a member of a gang of organized thieves who have been giving Eastland county officers considerable trouble of late.

Mrs. H. S. Gibson of Pinkerton was shopping in the city Monday.

LOCAL DECLAIMERS WIN TWO PLACES

Fifteen girls entered the Haskell City Schools Junior Girls Declamation Contest last week. Erlene Mask won first place for the North Ward girls and Bessie Kaigler first place for the South Ward.

HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE SATURDAY

Last Saturday afternoon the home of E. H. Yates in the south part of the city was destroyed by fire, together with practically all the contents. The fire had its origin in a defective fuse, according to reports, and due to the fact that an unusually strong wind was blowing at the time it had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the building when the fire boys arrived on the scene. However, the fire was extinguished before the entire building had been consumed. We understand that Mr. Yates had insurance to cover his loss.

NEW ORLEANS OF LONG AGO

Pleasant Picture of Beautiful Southern City in the Days Before the Civil War.

New Orleans at that period was filled with gay, animated, French-speaking throngs, says the Yale Review, telling of the long ago in the Crescent city. Slaves were as numerous as they had been in the old home. The shop windows on Royal and Chartres streets had nothing to fear in comparison with the glittering streets of Saint Pierre. Fashions, luxuries, bonbons, liqueurs, books, pictures and jewelry were displayed with the same sure confidence of purchasers here as there.

What is called today the "Vieux Carre" was then the city. It was compactly built with solid brick houses, whose iron-railed balconies with their garlands of filigree work extended over the banquet; whose courtyards with great gates, then as now wide open, showed the luxuriant tropical foliage of their secluded garden—the lounging place of the gayly turbaned women and the well-dressed servant men of the establishment. Fresh meats, fresh vegetables and fruits were cried every morning in musical patois. At night the theaters, the opera and public halls kept the city awake and alive with their gaiety, while children fell asleep behind the batten windows to the pretty tinkle of the ice cream cart that busily threaded its way in and out of every thoroughfare.

WANTED TO CHEER UP RIVAL

Rossini's List of His Ailments Designed to Comfort Composer Whom He Knew Disliked Him.

When thinking of celebrated musicians who loved a joke, the name of Rossini naturally occurs to us, for he was as fond of one as of his table. Here is an instance. Walking one day with a friend in Paris he met Meyerbeer, who was his only formidable rival at the time, though the two were always courteous to one another. The German, hat in hand, enquired most anxiously after the Italian's health. "Alas," said Rossini, "I am suffering from complete loss of appetite, and when I manage to eat I cannot digest. My lumbago gives me no peace, my heart is weak, and I have difficulty in breathing. My sight is failing, and my memory is going." Meyerbeer expressed himself as deeply grieved, and hoped that when next he had the good fortune of meeting "his dear friend," he might hear a better account of his health, and wished him good-day. When he had gone, Rossini's companion asked him why he had told so many fibs, for he appeared to be in the best of health. "So I am," said he, "but the old man looked so unhappy that I felt impelled to say something to cheer him."—London Times.

Parallel of John Smith Story.

A parallel for the story of Capt. John Smith of Virginia, and Pocahontas, the daughter of the Indian chief, Powhatan, comes from Mooriland. About 1830 Billy Bundy, a Sydney whaler, who afterwards took part in the defense of Ngamotu, on the Taranaki coast, against the Waikato hordes, was captured by hostile Maoris. They tied him to a post while they prepared to turn him into a meal, and the oven was just hot enough when the chief's daughter rushed forward and threw her mat over him. This made him "tapu," and his life was saved.

But there is a marked difference in the cases of Smith and Bundy. The Indians didn't propose to eat Smith, and Bundy married the girl, an act for which Smith lacked the courage.

The Life in Arizona.

A lot of these here Easterners and Big Town folks stop at Salome—not because they are crazy over the town—but they have to have gas for their machines—and after giving the town the once over (it doesn't take two looks to see it all), some of them remark: "Lord, what a place to live!" I often wonder what they mean. While they are doing this, some Old Timer, whose entire wardrobe never did consist of more than a three-piece suit—pants, shoes and shirt—will stick his head up over the greasewood and sagebrush and after taking a quick squint (even one makes him blush) at the latest ladies' styles, exclaims to his burro: "My God, did you see that?"—Salome (Ariz.) Sun.

Oldest House in Scotland.

Dunrobin Castle, can be claimed, according to the London Daily Express, as the oldest inhabited house in North Britain, having been erected by a thane of Sutherland in the Eleventh century. Much of the present mansion is modern, a feature being the creation of complete suites named after notable members or connections of the Sutherland family. One set is named the Cromarty rooms, because in 1746 the earl of Cromarty, a reckless Jacobite leader, was there captured and only saved from being beheaded on Tower hill by the efforts of his wife, the clever "Bonnie Belle" Gordon.

Business Is Picking Up.

"Rastus, said the judge, sternly, "you are found guilty of having stolen two chickens from Mr. Robinson's coop last week. The fine will be $5." Smiling complacently, Rastus approached the clerk of the court and laid a $10-bill on the desk. "Yassuh, judge," he said, "so Ah gives you 10 bucks which will pay you up to and includin' nex' Sattidy night."—American Legion Weekly.

Ask Someone Who Was There!

On Monday night at the First Christian Church, the new Edison proved that there is no difference between its Re-Creation of music and the original music. It was proof that would be good in any court of law.

If you did not attend, take the trouble to find out exactly what happened. Investigate all the details of this drastic test. It was given particularly for the music-lovers of Haskell,—so that they might know, through their own personal experience, that there is a phonograph which can give them the exact performance of the living artist.

Harvey Hindermyer, famous tenor, made the test. He stood on the platform, beside the New Edison. He sang. In the midst of his song, he stopped singing. The New Edison took up the song, and continued it alone. Thus, they alternated,—singer and phonograph.

The audience had to watch Mr. Hindermyer's lips, in order to be certain which was singing. The New Edison's triumph was complete and spectacular.

A similar test was made by the Dann instrumental trio, with the same astonishing results.

Remember that no other phonograph can sustain this test! Remember that you want a phonograph which does! And remember that the New Edison did it,—right here in Haskell.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph With a Soul"

You can have, in your own home, the exact kind of instrument used in the test. This was an Official Laboratory Model,—out of the home of H. S. Post. Select any Official Laboratory Model in our store, and we will guarantee it to sustain the test of direct comparison, and to do everything that was done in the test at the First Christian Church.

Ask us about our Budget Plan. It brings you this New Edison for a small payment. Any man or woman, who loves music, can make a gentleman's agreement with us.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Baylor county offers to the voters of the 102nd representative district in the person of Mr. C. L. Martin, a candidate in every way qualified for that office. Mr. Martin is a native Texan; was born and reared on the farm, and educated in Texas schools. He is a graduate of Baylor University and a graduate of the law department of the University of Texas. He has been a close student of public affairs and holds a license from the Supreme Court authorizing him to practice law in all the courts of Texas, but has never availed himself of that privilege. For eighteen years he has been actively engaged in farming upon his own resources and by close application and careful economy, has been fairly successful.

With this experience, we feel that he has first hand information as to the rights and requirements of those who toil year in and year out, digging the wealth of the world from the soil. He believes that farming is the biggest, in fact, the basis business of the country; and as such is entitled to full and fair consideration on the part of our law making bodies. If the business of farming is profitable, all other dependent industries will share in this prosperity.

The 102nd District is composed of the counties of Baylor, Haskell, Throckmorton. For a number of years the honor of this position has been going to the best named counties. In fact, it has last 23 years since Baylor county had one of her citizens in the legislature halls of Texas. Turn about is fair play, and it certainly ought to be Baylor's turn, and yet, Mr. Martin is not pitching his campaign on that platform.

In addition to the above, Mr. Martin has a very large acquaintance all over the state. Many of our public men are his personal friends—a very valuable asset to your representative, whoever he may be.

The Banner editor, having known Mr. Martin personally for a period of more than twenty years, can speak with confidence regarding his qualifications. The candidate is in every way fitted by nature, by training, by his own determination, and by the esteem in which he is held in his home county, to fill most acceptably this important position.—Seymour Banner.

The man who has push generally is the man who pulls through.

MUSIC THAT IS IMMORTAL

Mendelssohn Needs No Other Memorial Than He Left in His Wonderful Wedding March.

Possibly the most famous march ever written is the wedding march from the "Midsummer Night's Dream" by Felix Mendelssohn. Like the overture to his famous work it is a splendid example of Mendelssohn's astonishing musical fertility. The overture is now one hundred years old and is one of the greatest examples of precocity in any art. Although written by a youth of eighteen, it is one of the great classics of the tone art. The march was not written until later, but its glorious burst of exuberant harmony would make it an all-fascinating musical number even though it were not associated with the joyous occasion of marriage festivals. Mendelssohn's musical mind retained these numbers in wonderful fashion. Once when the score of his famous overture was left in a cab in London and lost, he blithely replied, "Never mind, I shall make another." After he had completed this immense work it was compared with the instrumental parts and found to be accurate to the last dot, even though Mendelssohn had made it from memory. Why did not Mendelssohn write other famous marches? He wrote others, but none quite so good as the wedding march. His "March of the High Priests" from "Athalia" is built upon the same formal lines and is an altogether beautiful work in classical march form.

AMBITION IS HARD MASTER

Success Means Concentration and a Willingness to Make Sacrifices for its Attainment.

Ambition is more than a wish; it is desire intensified into determined purpose. All that is needed for the accomplishment of our ambitions is a desire so strong that we will sacrifice whatever may stand in the way of our success. The law of compensation never fails. If we would gain one thing we must give up another. How many people have you known who complain of failure through bad luck, when your own knowledge of them tells you that their downfall came through lack of really trying? They were not willing to forego pleasures or extravagances which interfered with their success.

Intense effort comes through intense desire which allows nothing to interfere with its purpose. Life is not much without ambition of some kind and unless one is living with a purpose of some sort he is merely whiling away the time, waiting for the call of the grim reaper. Try to make your ambitions worthy ones, and then concentrate on fulfilling them. Find out not only what you must do to realize them, but also what you must give up. If you desire strongly enough you will accomplish.—Montreal Family Herald.

Forget That "Hate To" Idea.
 Are you one of the "I hate to" family? How often one hears people use that phrase. If you are guilty of using it, try to break yourself of the habit. It doesn't reflect a strong, healthy, vigorous mental attitude. It suggests pettiness, querulousness, lack of the "I will" spirit. The way to conquer a disposition to "hate" so many is to cultivate a cheerful, resolute, beneficent frame of mind. If you fill your heart with love of your fellow mortals and are possessed of a consuming desire to be of service in the world, you will have little room left in you for "hating" this, that or the other thing or person. The forceful person, animated by the right motives, starts more sentences with the words "I like to" than with "I hate to." Get this thought into your mind: If you are constantly "hating," the cause lies within yourself.—Forbes Magazine.

Sailing, Lashed to Trees.
 Great trains of driftwood, bound for the Arctic, forever sail the Mackenzie river, and the voyager who happens to be going along with this forest debris often presses it into service instead of regarding it as an obstacle.

The larger trees which retain their branches can be utilized to make progress against an up-river wind, for these submerged boughs are just as effective as an underwater sail.

And there are lots of other advantages. By lashing to a suitable tree the traveler can cook his meals on the way, and if he wants to get forward by night his canoe may be secured to an Arctic-bound tree and he may go serenely to asleep while continuing the journey.

Strange Mistake.
 Give me the right word and the right accent and I will move the world. What a dream for a writer! Because written words have their accent, too. Yes! Let me only find the right word! Surely it must be lying somewhere among the wreckage of all the plaints and all the exultations poured out aloud since the first day when hope, the undying, came down to earth. It may be there, close by, disregarded, invisible, quite at hand. But it's so good. I believe there are men who can lay hold of a needle in a pile of hay at the first try. For a moment, I have never had such luck.—Joseph Conrad.

The sign of the man...
 "I thought you told me it was to be a clear operation!"
 "So it was, my dear sir."
 "But I could have had a major operation for the sum you've charged me."

ROSE SCHOOL WINS RURAL BASKET BALL CHAMPIONSHIP

The game of March 11th, between Taylor and Rose, in which Rose was officially announced winners was contested by Taylor. It was decided that the game should be played over March 11th. The game was called at 2:30 with Mr. Watson as referee. It was even more interesting than the game of March 11th, as both sides were more determined to win. The game ran close together, in fact, too close to be comfortable for the many friends of both sides, but the final score showed Rose to be the victorious team, with a score of 14 to 11.

After this game Rose played Tonk Creek and won the county championship. The scores standing 24 to 15 in favor of Rose.

REVIVAL MEETING IN PROGRESS AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

There is a revival in progress at the Methodist Church not for Methodists alone but for everybody. When the Methodists have a good revival every church in town receives part of the converts as new members. The pastors and officials of the other churches are lending their cooperation. There has been good attendance at every service and a good old fashioned gospel sermon with a great spiritual message.

Bro. McIntosh could not come on account of illness, but the pastor has secured another splendid choir leader. There will be prayer meeting at the Church Friday evening with the Neotan Bible class in charge and all the young people are cordially invited to attend. Every Christian in town is asked to come and help in this great battle for the souls of men.

ITEMS OF THE WEEK FROM THE LITTLE TOWN OF SAGERTON

Rev. W. A. Bentley of the Church of Christ preached at the Methodist church Sunday afternoon. The crowd was not so large as it might have been due to the high wind that blowing at that time. Plans are being made to have some one of this faith to hold a meeting at Sagerton some time in the near future.

Mr. Homer and Miss Mary Cowart of Haskell were in town last Sunday afternoon.

T. J. Ratliff completed the scholastic census for the Sagerton district last Saturday. The law requires that each district have at least one hundred and fifty scholastics residing in the district to maintain its status as an independent district. It looked doubtful for a while whether we would have that many but the final figures show that there are one hundred and fifty four now enumerated.

Sagerton is to have a new business enterprise in the shape of an up-to-date gasoline filling station. Mr. August Baizer is building on the lot north of the bank an up-to-the-minute building to house the new business of which he will be manager. He will handle all sorts of automobile accessories and should do a good business in this line.

Why not some electric lights for Sagerton? There is talk that Mr. Baizer will put in a large DeLo lighting plant to supply the business houses and the mercantile part of town is he assured of enough patronage to justify the outlay. Now is the time to get away from the oil lamp age and take a step toward the future.

The Sagerton on the map as one small town with a good lighting system—efforts are being made.

At the last report those who intended contesting the school election have not taken the necessary steps to bring the suit and so the election will stand as reported by three votes at this writing. There will be held another election for trustees on April 1st. All legal voters are allowed to vote in this election.

This week ends the school term at the High School. The Baccalaureate Sermon will be preached at the Methodist church, Tuesday evening, by Rev. J. M. Venzel of Rochester. It is not known just who will deliver the commencement address and deliver the diploma to the Senior Class but plans are being made to have Rev. P. W. Waitball of Haskell perform this act if possible. This latter ceremony will be held at the High School auditorium.

Sagerton is in need of a good general merchandise store at this time and now is the time for some five wise to establish a business in a real live town. Come to Sagerton.

What would have been a serious accident, was narrowly escaped near Sagerton one day last week when Mr. Geo. Hanks and wife were driving into town to visit Mr. Bauer's uncle, Mr. J. M. Barrow. In turning a corner the car upset and it was feared that Mrs. Hanks was seriously injured, but we were happy to report that she has entirely recovered from her injuries.

Mr. M. P. Caudle has been sick for the past week of a gripe and asthma. The spring weather of the past few days has improved his condition so that he is now able to be about.

The High Club in Sagerton has today been a failure owing to psychological reasons. At one time the boys were enthused and prospects were bright, but a delay of some two weeks waiting for the necessary supplies damped their ardor and commencement week passed us and there seems little chance of getting them organized before the school opens next fall.

'WEED' GROWN IN MANY LA...

Almost Every Country in the World Has Made at Least an Attempt to Cultivate Tobacco.

Some old English chronicles show that the early cultivation of tobacco in England was attended with strange results. In 1655 the county hangman of Gloucestershire complained that men were so busy growing tobacco that they neither had time nor inclination for sheep stealing. The opposition of the royal Stuarts to tobacco raising in England is said to have been "for revenue only." It has been written that Charles I "prohibited, in order to maintain the revenue from its import duties, the cultivation of tobacco in England and Ireland under a fine of 40 shillings for every root planted with the herb, except in any physic garden for either university or in any private garden for physick or chirurgery." In 1694 the penalty was increased to 10 pounds per root.

It is not generally known that tobacco is grown in nearly every country in the world—England, Ireland, France, Switzerland, Spain, Italy, China, Japan, Uruguay, Argentina, Java, and so on throughout the world except in the extreme northern and southern latitudes where the temperature is too low. There have been various efforts during the last ten years to revive interest in the cultivation of tobacco in England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland.

MADE TOP FLOOR DO WORK

ingenious but Forgetful Young Man Drafted Door Opener Into Service and Escaped Reprimand.

Having on the third successive day forgotten to take the front-door key with him a young man living in one of the rooms of a first-floor apartment, stood in the outer vestibule wondering how he could get in without letting his landlady know of his latest negligence.

Unlocking the front door was a simple matter for anyone in the apartment, since all one had to do was press a button, but unfortunately, the button was at the front of the apartment and usually when the young roomer arrived, which was about supper time, his landlady was engaged in the kitchen at the other end of her domicile. Suddenly an idea came to him. Glancing over the rows of mail boxes on the wall at his side, he chose a button above one of them belonging to a top-floor apartment.

He pressed the button and waited—no response. Then he pressed another button and a moment later heard the click of the electric lock release. Stepping inside he was soon at the door of his apartment, which he opened with his other key, while the person who unlocked the downstairs front door wondered why the supposed visitor did not appear, says the New York Sun.

Oldtime Football.

Football may be a rough game, but it is quite gentle and harmless now compared to what it used to be. Way back in the Eighteenth century when the sport was in its swaddling clothes, the type of ball used was not so kind to the feet of the one who kicked it. Eighteenth-century footballs were made of straw which was braided until a long rope was obtained. This was then wound and coiled into the shape desired. The finishing touch was to knock it around in water until it became hard and unyielding.

When the leather ball finally replaced the old straw model, it was stuffed with horse hair until it became hard and solid. The leather ball was at first scoffed at by the old-timers who had played the game when straw balls were in vogue. Even when stuffed with hair, the leather ball was regarded as a toy for workings who were afraid of injuring their feet. The parents of that age had more cause to complain about the roughness of the game than have those of today, whose sons kick inflated pigskin instead of solid balls of straw.

Surely a Genius.

A man in a small town had a son who returned home from dental college and opened an office for practice. At the end of a week the neighbors told one another that "practice" was indeed the proper word; and one of them even went so far as to suggest to the young dentist's fond father that a man should be of a mechanical turn of mind in order to be a successful dentist.

"Why," exclaimed the father, "Jim is a genius! One day last summer I sent him to cultivate the orchard, and a cultivator tooth caught under a root; whereupon the boy took his pocket knife and tried to cut the root off. But, finding it slow work, he hammered his knife into the root with a rock until he broke the blade. Then a bright thought came to him. Getting a club, he whipped the nails until the cultivator broke and he was free."—Youth's Companion.

Fear of Old Ideals.

The future is a blank on which every man can write his own name as large as he likes; the past is find already covered with illegible scribbles, such as Plato, Isaiah, Shakespeare, Michael Angelo, Napoleon. I can make the future as narrow as my self; the past is obliged to be as broad and turbulent as humanity, and the epoch of this modern attitude is really this: That men invent new ideals because they dare not attempt old ones. They look forward with enthusiasm, because they are afraid to look back.—G. K. Chesterton.

Let Us Forget

The Federated Clubs of the First District will convene in Haskell March 18, and 19. Folks, this is not a Club affair. This convention is invited to Haskell by the City Council, County Officials, Lodges, Chamber of Commerce, and the two Clubs, so it is a Community affair. Visitors are coming one hundred and fifty strong; reports will go out over the state that this convention is a success or failure. If a success, it will be a feather in Haskell's cap, and the success depends on the entertainment of our guests. It matters not how humble our homes; folks remember longest, just how warm the welcome they receive in a home and not the contents. The entertainment will be for only two nights, with breakfast and supper for two days, the noon meals will be furnished by the Elks Lodge and the two Clubs, prepared by the Domestic Science Department of Haskell High School. If you can entertain one or more guests, please phone us, or if you can furnish meals but do not have a room, or have a room and it is not convenient to furnish meals, we will appreciate if you will let us know.

HI-Y BOYS COMMENDED FOR LOCAL ACTIVITIES

While stationed in Haskell Miss Seymour, Health Nurse, grew enthusiastic over the service rendered by the HI-Y boys in collecting and distributing milk for school lunches. The following letter is self-explanatory:

"Mr. Herman Wehnert,
Haskell, Texas.
Dear Mr. Wehnert:

"Miss M. Elizabeth Seymour has told me of the interest that the boys of the HI-Y Club have taken in health matters and particularly of your effort to promote milk for the school children.

"This is, indeed, interesting to me and is certainly a new line of activity for high school students. You are to be congratulated on the idea and I shall be interested to know the developments of your work along this line.

Very cordially yours,
D. E. Breed,
Executive Secretary, Texas Public Health Association."

This work is being continued by the HI-Y boys. The chief hindrance to the work is the apathy of parents and children to the necessity of drinking abundant milk.

OF GOOD AND EVIL

Alexandria Fland of Remarkable Contrasts.

Egyptian City Described by Travelers Home of the Wildest Contradictions—Always Great and Proud.

Alexandria is a city of contrasts, writes Harold Lane in the London Daily Mail.

"All the cities to which one comes in the course of this pilgrimage of life leave their mark upon the memory," says Mr. Lane. "And of those cities which I have found, I cannot recall one which could show such clear-cut contrasts of good and evil, of beauty and ugliness, of splendor and loathsomeness, as Alexandria, that white gate of Egypt, where in these days there are peace, confusion and turmoil. It lives in the mind as the home of the wildest contradictions, a place adorable and detestable, sacred and vile.

"As your boat feels its way landward through the shifting sands which guard its harbor Alexandria changes from a mere flash on the horizon to a tall, gleaming city, watching those perilous waters with the insolence of a venerable age. In some queer way you feel that the whole place is judging you and finding you wanting. It is so very, very old. There may be electric tramway cars and petrol-driven machines in its streets, and many of its houses may look like bits of Paris transplanted bodily to that southern Mediterranean shore, but the spirit of the city survives those accidents of today and compels you to remember how great and proud a place it was while Britain was still a wilderness.

"As is the town, so are its people, and one becomes curiously aware of their scorn. It is true that they will debate themselves to the dust in the hope of obtaining half a plaster, that fawning and flattery are among the chief of their arts, and that they will obey with cringing zeal any order you may choose to give—but behind it all is their contempt. . . .

"All the tides of the east and the west meet in those sun-swept streets. The most modern of motor cars will be checked in its progress by the passing of some madly decorated funeral procession; outside a shop where goods fresh from the newest factories of Europe are sold you will find a beggar with some loathsome disease which was being exploited before a beginning was made of the writing of the Bible; you may pass in twenty minutes from the stock exchange to the catacombs, which bear witness of the Greeks who were before the Romans.

"All religion, all science, all philosophy, and all sin which the ages have known meet within the borders of the city, together with all loveliness and all those things which are most hideous.

"But the vision which remains of a quiet Coptic monastery—found in one of its back streets on a certain happy day—can be set against the echoes of the voices of those detestable Egyptians who volunteer to guide the stranger to the habitations of vice."

Making Diamonds.

It was Majorna, an Italian chemist, who succeeded in producing minute artificial diamonds in a manner differing in one important particular, from the method of Moissan, the French chemist, whose operations in this direction were a sensation at the time.

Majorna heats a piece of carbon with the electric arc, and then submits it to a sudden pressure developed by explosions driving a piston and amounts to 5,000 times the ordinary pressure of the atmosphere. In the mass of carbon thus treated he finds microscopic crystals which answer the tests for diamonds. Moissan's method was first to dissolve carbon in molten iron and then allow the iron to cool under great pressure. The Italian chemist's experiments indicate that great heat and great pressure are sufficient to transform ordinary carbon into the diamond form without a metallic solvent.

Child Labor in Japan.

"While there is a law intended to protect child laborers, there is no restriction of the work hours of adults in Japan," said Henry Sloane of Toronto, who has just returned from the Orient. "Arrangement of working hours is left entirely to the agreement between employers and employed.

"Factory owners are not allowed to hire children under twelve without special permission, and children under fifteen cannot work more than twelve hours a day. The law also says they cannot work after 10 p. m., or before 4 a. m., except with official sanction. Children get two holidays a month, or four, if they work at night; half an hour for lunch, or one hour, if they work more than 10 hours a day."

Victoria Bridge.

The Victoria Jubilee bridge across the St. Lawrence at Montreal was originally known as the Victoria tubular bridge, and was named the "Victoria" after Queen Victoria. It was formally opened by King Edward VII. (then prince of Wales), in 1890. But when the tubular bridge was replaced by a cantilever bridge, built in 1897 and 1898, on the pier of the old bridge, it was given the official name of the Victoria tubular bridge in honor of Queen Victoria's diamond jubilee in 1897. It is still popularly known, however, as the Victoria bridge.

COATS RESEMBLE CAPES

One must look twice at many a spring wrap to determine whether it is a cape, pure and simple, or a more complex wrap. The more like a cape it looks the better its chances of winning approval from the fashionables. The cape has always stood women in good stead, nevertheless it will not hold her allegiance season after season without modifications, and we have them in the cape-wrap.

For general wear the spring offers, among others, the graceful wrap shown here. It is made of tricotine and has a large collar trimmed with applied loops of silk braid. At the back, loose, pendant panels of the cloth are finished with silk cords ending in stender tassels. Something between a sleeve and a slit at each side of the front allows freedom for the hands and arms. Altogether this is a smart and practical wrap for general wear and is developed in several coatings and colors.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Roberts visited relatives and friends in Crowell Saturday and Sunday.
