Watson, together with two other men whose names have not been made public, were passing the patch, which is near the road, when Watson entered the watermelon patch, whereupon Goodwin fired upon the party, using a shotgun. ## COUNTY DEMOCRATS HOLD CONVENTION

The County Democratic Convention which met at the Courthouse here last Saturday afternoon was a very tame affair. Only a small number of the precincts sending delegates to the convention.

The following were elected delegates to the State Convention: H. R. Jones, Jno. A. Couch, A. B. Carothers, Clyde F. Elkins, Jesse G. Foster, Dr. J. C. Davis, L. D. Ratliff, Sam A. Roberts, R. C. Whitmore, Mrs. P. D. Sanders, Mrs. Clyde F. Elkins, Joe Jones, R. H. Davis, Mrs. S. R. Rike, and J. W. Collins.

The following were elected as delegates to 102nd Representative District Convention: J. U. Fields, R. C. Montgomery, G. R. Couch, D. Scott, and Dennis Ratliff.

L. D. Ratliff and Dr. J. C. Davis, were elected as delegates to the 10th Judicial District Convention.

The following resolution on the death of Judge H. G. McConnell was adopted by a unanimous vote of the convention: WHEREAS it has come to the notice of the Democratic Convention duly assembled at Haskell, Texas, on July 29th A. D. 1922, that Judge H. G. McConnell, a life long citizen of this county, and a sterling Democrat, now lies in San Diego, California, and will be buried in San Diego on Monday, July 31, 1922.

THEREFORE, Be it resolved by this Convention that in the death of Judge Henry G. McConnell, the State of Texas and Haskell County has suffered a loss which cannot be repaired. Judge McConnell was a Democrat in his party affiliation, clean and honorable in all his politics, devoted to his party, ready to serve it at any and all times, not for the leaves and fishes which it might afford him, but for the good of his country and in his death we feel that the party has suffered greatly in that his voice will no longer be heard in the councils of his party, his guiding hand is now pulseless and still, but we realize that he has rendered the State of Texas and especially Haskell County, service as a private citizen and as a member of the Democratic party, beyond measure and that his services will stand as an enduring monument to his life in Haskell County and as a member of this party.

Therefore, be it further resolved that this resolution this day unanimously passed by the Haskell County Democratic Convention be published in the local paper in memorial of his death and that a copy of the same be furnished to his surviving relatives."

WEST TEXAS EXHIBITORS TO HOLD BANQUET IN DALLAS

Members of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce having exhibits at the State Fair of Texas will hold their fourth annual banquet in Dallas during the Southwestern Exposition, according to an announcement of Porter Whaley of Stamford, secretary of the West Texas Chamber. The date has not yet been decided upon, but the gathering will be held between Oct. 6 and 15, Mr. Whaley advised officials of the Fair Association Tuesday.

In full co-operation with the State Fair of Texas, the West Texas Chamber is hard at work on a program that will assure West Texas fullest representation at the big Texas Exposition Oct. 6 to 15, officials of the fair said Tuesday. Comprehensive exhibits by West Texas counties and particularly special trains to Dallas from points in the western section that will serve the largest territory, is part of the plan, as announced by Porter A. Whaley, secretary of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Whaley has advised State Fair officials that B. M. Whitaker, exhibit manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, is now in the field, making an automobile tour of a number of counties in West Texas. On this trip he is urging county exhibits at the State Fair, and is organizing the several districts to that end.

GASOLINE SHORTAGE CAUSED BY STRIKE

Local filling stations and garages have been faced with the necessity of trucking gasoline and oil to supply the needs of local motorists, as a result of the railroad strike. So far, local dealers have been fortunate in securing gasoline from nearby towns, Stamford and Munday having furnished the most of this.

J. F. Kennedy, local dealer for the Texas Company, stated if no improvement was seen in freight service that plans would be made to truck gasoline from Wichita Falls to this city. Other dealers have likewise made plans to a supply of gas and oil on hand by trucking from nearby refineries if necessary.

ROCHESTER PLANS PARK ON AN EXTENSIVE SCALE

A City Park with umbrageous trees, drinking fountain, bandstand, seats and everything—that is what the Rochester Chamber of Commerce will seek to install at Rochester in the near future.

JUDGE MCCONNELL DIES AT SAN DIEGO

Judge H. G. McConnell, prominent citizen of this city, and one of the best known lawyers in this section of the State, died at his summer home in San Diego, Calif., Friday, July 28, at twelve o'clock. Death came unexpectedly, following an attack of apoplexy, caused by his failing health. Mr. McConnell with his family, had been in California several months, hoping to benefit his health, which had been failing for several years. He had shown a decided improvement up until a few hours of his death, having finished writing several letters to friends here just a few hours before he passed away.

Judge McConnell was 58 years of age at the time of his death, and had been a resident of Haskell for the past thirty-five years. He was one of the first, if not the first lawyer to make his home in Haskell, and was always at the forefront of every movement for the development of this section. He was one of the first men to serve as County Judge of Haskell County, which office he filled with honor and credit to himself and to the county. At the time of his death he was senior member of the law firm of McConnell, Ratliff & Ratliff, but due to his failing health, for the past year had taken no active part in his business. He was also an honored member of the Haskell Bar. As a member of the Masonic fraternity he had many honors conferred upon him, and had always taken an active part in this fraternity, exemplifying its teachings in his daily life.

Funeral services were held at San Diego, Calif., Monday, July 31, at 3 o'clock p. m., and his body was interred in the beautiful Masonic Cemetery in that city.

Deceased is survived by his wife and four children, Mrs. W. H. Allen of San Antonio, Mrs. H. P. Lyles of San Diego, and Monroe and Hal McConnell, both of San Diego. All of the family, with the exception of Mrs. Allen, were at the bedside when the end came. All Haskell joins in extending sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Mayfield and Ferguson opened the second campaign for the United States Senate Tuesday evening. Mayfield speaking to a crowd estimated at 5,000 in Fort Worth and Ferguson opening his campaign at Waxahachie before a crowd of 3,000, which was the limit of the capacity of the Chatauqua auditorium where the speaking was held.

From the opening speeches of the two candidates, the indications point to a hot time in Texas politics between now and the 20th day of August—the second or run-off primary.

Booth English and family and David and Georgia Smith spent Tuesday and Wednesday out on the creek picnicking and fishing.

Dave Maude Cummins returned Saturday from Georgetown where she has been attending the Southwestern University the past year.

The best of order prevailed and the interest was good from the first. Rev. J. B. Rowan, pastor of the First Baptist church at Stamford did the preaching in a very plain but forceful manner which was appreciated by the entire community.

Woods, Jeweler and Optometrist, who has conducted a jewelry and optical store in this city for several years, is moving his store and family to Lubbock this week, where he will engage in the jewelry and optical business. Mr. Woods is an expert jeweler, and one of the best opticians in West Texas, and it is with regret that Haskell gives him up from the ranks of her progressive business men.

NO FREIGHTS RUNNING ON WICHITA VALLEY

Towns on the Wichita Valley railroad have been practically without freight service during the past week as a result of the railroad strike. Only about two freight trains each week are running on this road, and only through freight or merchandise in carload lots are being handled on these.

J. L. Southern, local agent for the Wichita Valley, states that no serious trouble had occurred on this road. All passenger trains are still running, although not on schedule and no in convenience is expected in the passenger service. Local merchants expect no trouble in keeping up their stocks, as the trucks so far have been able to handle all local requirements.

STATE TAX RATE RAISED TO LEGAL LIMIT OF 75 CENTS

The State ad valorem tax was increased from 22 cents to the constitutional limit of 35 cents of the $100 property valuation for 1922 by the State Automatic Tax Board, at a meeting held last Saturday. This increases the entire tax rate from 62 cents to 75 cents of which 35 cents ad valorem and 5 cents Confederate Pension. The constitutional limit had already been reached on the school and Confederate pension taxes.

The increased tax rate for 1922 was based on an estimated total property valuation in Texas of $3,350,000,000, while the actual valuation for 1921 was $3,455,560,089.

An announcement of the Board stated: "The automatic tax board in fixing the ad valorem tax rate for the year 1922 was brought face to face with the necessity of either placing the rate at the constitutional limit in order that proper provision be made for the public schools or the adoption of a lower rate which would have imperiled the efficiency of our school system.

"The necessity for an increase in the tax rate was, and is, due to the following conditions affecting the public revenues:

"First—Decrease in assessed valuation of all taxable property as reported by the several county tax assessors, which for the year 1922 shows a decrease under that of 1921 amounting to $105,000,000.

"Second—Decrease in revenue under the gross receipts tax law, due principally to decreased production and price of oil, amounting to $1,500,000.

"Third—Increase of delinquent and unpaid taxes for the last fiscal year. This, as shown by the records, is approximately double that of preceding years.

"After careful consideration of the above conditions the board was forced to the conclusion that less than a rate of 35 cents would be inadequate to meet the needs of the public service."

S. R. Rike and family and E. H. Rike are visiting in Marlin this week.

The KITCHEN CABINET

In matters of economy a woman who first and foremost considers a well equipped kitchen is a woman who is a success in the home.

BRAN FOODS

Bran is a good brush for the alimentary canal and may be used in its uncooked form with any cooked breakfast food. Two or three to five spoonfuls of the bran will be noticed in any cooked or fried breakfast food.

For bran mush, sift gradually one and one-half cups of fresh bran into one pint of rapidly boiling water, add one-half teaspoonful of salt and 1/20 third of a cupful of steamed prunes chopped, or dates or figs also chopped.

Bran biscuits are prepared like ordinary biscuit, adding one-third of bran in the usual measure of flour.

Bran Crackers.—Prepare a bran mush, let it cool, then work into it as much bran as possible for rolling on one inch thick. Bake well in a moderate oven.

Bran Cookies.—Cream three-quarters of a cupful of shortening with one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, add two eggs, one teaspoonful each of salt, nutmeg and vanilla extract and one-third of a cupful of sweet milk. Into this stir one pint of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder and add enough bran to make a soft dough. Roll out thick and bake in a moderate oven. For spice cookies use brown sugar, flavor with nutmeg and sprinkle the tops with sugar and nutmeg or cinnamon. Put a raisin in the center of each cookie.

Bran Fruit Crackers.—Wash and dry one cupful of currants. Take two-thirds of a cupful of sweet cream, add one-half teaspoonful of salt, and six fields: bran and white flour mixed in equal measure to make a stiff dough. Divide into two parts. Roll out one-eighth of an inch thick, sprinkle with currants over half of the dough, lay the other on top and roll out again, pressing firmly. Cut out, prick well and bake in a moderate oven.

Bran Coffee.—To one quart of hot water add two beaten eggs and one-half cupful of molasses. Chickory or other cereals may be added if desired. Mix well and place in a moderate oven till thoroughly dry, stirring meantime to brown evenly.

Between the printed words which are so wise and match so easily across the page, sometimes quite suddenly I catch the looks of him who wrote, toiling in lowly guide To keep his pen undulled by use or age—And then I think, "What precious things are books." —Hilda Morris.

USEFUL DISCOVERIES
To keep the bread sponge warm over night; put into the fireless cooker with a warm stone at the bottom or a hot water bottle filled with hot water. If neither of these is at hand cover two patent flatirons well heated with a tin cover, set the bread pan on this and wrap well.

When cooking a pot roast which seems tough, add a tablespoonful of vinegar and steam with the cover on tightly. Cook in an iron kettle adding a very little water from time to time and the most obstinate roast will become tender.

Cook all potato parings with any leftover fats like mutton on the bottom of the frying kettle and serve to your chickens. Dried potato peelings will burn and clean out the chimney at the same time.

Change the flavor of the apple pie by adding a dash of lemon juice and a little grated rind, or the same of orange.

When rolls need warming drop them into a paper bag and place in a hot oven; they will be crisp and fresh as new.

A small brush broom is useful to remove the corn silk. A tablespoonful of vinegar added to corn when cooking on the cob will make it more tender and white.

Postal scales will be found useful in weighing many small quantities of food in the kitchen. They take up little room and are very convenient.

A Good Breakfast Dish.—Dip stale bread in cold water and place in the dripping pan to become hot and slightly crisp. Heat canned tomatoes, seasoning with pepper and salt and adding butter to enrich. Butter the hot bread and pour over the hot tomatoes.

Cinnamon Rolls.—Roll out the dough until one-half inch thick, spread generously with butter and sprinkle thickly with cinnamon and brown sugar mixed with a few chopped nuts.

Church and School

First Christian Church
This is hot weather and many people are out of town but that does not solve the many vexing problems now confronting the American people, and especially the church people.

Next Sunday at the First Christian Church there will be two subjects discussed by the pastor that are of vital interest to all people, they are subjects which are now occupying the minds of all religious people who are honestly facing the real needs of the day.

Some few more for the Secularist Spirit than they do for the Spirit of Christ. Secularism is doomed and the time of burial is not far off. Both subjects to be studied next Sunday at the above named church will deal with the matter as it is being dealt with by all thoughtful men in all churches today.

Subject 11 a. m.: "Realizing the Masters Idea," Jun. 17.

Subject 8:30: "The Community Church A Solution."

Few people realize the wonderful growth the Community Church Plan has made during the past few years, and the great good that has come from the plan. Some of these facts will be brought out without fear or favor, showing how the Secularist spirit manifests itself in opposition, not only to this movement but also in things not directly connected with the church. Secularism is farther from the spirit of the Master than any other spirit in the world, tho it goes under the Masters name.

You are invited to be present next Sunday and listen to the study of the above subjects.

Don't forget SUNDAY SCHOOL at 10 o'clock. During the last six or eight weeks we have had the best attendance of the year at our church services. A welcome awaits one and all.

P. W. Walthall, Minister.

The Presbyterian Church

Our Motto: "To Know Christ and to Make Him Known to Others."

At the 11 o'clock service, the pastor will help you settle some questions such as the following: "Property, what is it? What is the meaning of ownership? Who shall control our property? On what terms shall property be possessed and enjoyed? Is the ancient Pagan idea right in regard to the foregoing?" All will be discussed in the light of the gospel. "Come, let us reason together, saith the Lord." Our song service will put heart into you for the coming week.

If you do not think that our Sunday school is growing, it is because you have not been there. Nineteen more were present last Sunday than the Sunday before. Come. Bring a friend. Every member is urged to miss a single Sunday. Lets "go over the top" in our contest next Sunday, and have our celebration right away. All men and women who do not attend a Bible class will find it worth while to join us.

We do not have church services on Sunday evenings, but the Christian Endeavor has a very pleasing program for you at 7 o'clock.

Our prayer meeting interest continues if you would find soul refreshment and rest from care, come. Every Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Thanks!

I desire by this method to express my appreciation each and every voter in the District who gave me their vote and influence in the first primary. I am still in the race to win, and respectfully ask that you go to the polls August 26th and cast your vote for me. If elected, I will try to serve every part of the District on an impartial basis, being guided at all times by the means at hand for the needs of the community. A residence of seven years in this District gives me a knowledge of the varied soils to be encountered, and the varied experience I have had in road work qualifies me for service along that line. I believe in moderate taxes and a cash basis as far as possible, and will guard closely the finances of the District if intrusted to me.

I respectfully point to the confidence imposed in me by the large vote given me in the three voting precincts nearest my home, and further solicit your vote upon the basis that my ability, experience and service shall be commensurate with the confidence.

Again thanking you, I am,

Respectfully,

VACUUM TUBE WHEN USED AS AMPLIFIER

It Will Function Thus for Either Radio Frequency or Audio Frequency.

Starting today we shall give a detailed description of the vacuum tube when used as an amplifier. This series, as in the past, is continuous and if clipped out and saved will be convenient for reference.

When the three-electrode vacuum tube was used as a detector, the circuits associated with it were such that where a symmetrical alternating difference was applied to the grid, a symmetrical change in plate current resulted. That is to say, the vacuum tube acted as a rectifier. In addition to rectifying, the tube also amplified. The variation in plate current was "K," where "K" is the amplification constant of the tube, times what it would have been in a two-electrode tube, for the same potential impressed on the grid.

By properly adjusting the electrical constants of the circuits associated with a three-electrode tube, symmetrical straight line, then C-D will equal B-E, or so long as the working range falls within straight line portion of the characteristic curve, symmetrical changes in grid potential will cause symmetrical changes in plate current. From this it can be seen that if the working point "A" be selected near the bend of the characteristic curve, symmetrical changes in grid potential will not cause symmetrical changes in plate current. Since the plate current variation in such case would bear only slight relation to the grid variation in potential, the output of the tube would be distorted.

In applying amplifiers to receiving sets used to pick radiophone stations, distortion is one of the greatest difficulties to overcome. Too strong signals will result in decreased amplification. In Figure 23, if the applied variation in grid potential were 10 times that shown in the example, the plate current would not change 10 times as much, because of the bends in the curve, due to saturation. Finally, a condition can be reached where the use of an amplifier tube will decrease the signal strength because of the saturation of the tube.

The rectified incoming signals would be louder without the use of the amplifier tube, because of the inability of the plate current of the tube caused by saturation to increase in proportion to the signal strength.

There are, in general, two factors that can be taken from the characteristic curve and the second is the length of the straight portion of the curve. The slope of the straight por-al variations of grid potential can be made to produce symmetrical variation in plate current, which are "K" times the amplitude of the plate circuit variations of a similar two-electrode value with the same applied grid potential. This means that if a three-electrode value be used in the proper circuits in a radio receiver, the signals can be made to appear as though the received signal is "K" times as strong as it actually is. If two tubes are used with their proper circuits in conjunction with a radio receiver the received signals will appear to be "K" times as strong as they actually are and so the apparent strength of the incoming signal is multiplied by "K" for each additional tube added to the receiver circuit.

A vacuum tube used in conjunction with a circuit that will cause the plate current to vary in exact proportion to the applied grid voltage, but apparently caused by "K" times the actual grid voltage variation, is called an amplifier. If the tube functioning as an amplifier is used to amplify the incoming signal at radio frequency before it is rectified by the detector, it is termed a radio frequency amplifier. If the tube functioning as an amplifier is used after the incoming radio frequency has been rectified by the detector, it is termed an audio frequency amplifier.

Returning again to the characteristic curve of the three-electrode vacuum tube, shown in Figure 23, notice its shape. Suppose that a positive potential was applied to the grid by means of a "C" battery so that the tube would function at a point represented by "A" on the characteristic curve. If now the applied grid potential from the "C" battery be reduced by an amount represented by A-B in Figure 23 the corresponding reduction in plate current will be represented by B-E. On the other hand if the grid potential be increased by an amount represented by A-C, where A-C equals B-C, the corresponding increase in plate current is C-D.

If the portion of the characteristic curve in the region of B-A-D is a tion of the curve determines the amplification of the tube. The more nearly vertical the straight portion of the curve is, the greater will be the change in plate current for a given change in grid potential, or in other words, the louder will be the response in the telephone receivers corresponding to a given received signal. The length of the straight portion of the curve determines the maximum variation in grid potential that will cause the tube to function properly without distortion.

TIPS TO RADIOISTS

At Muncie, Ind., bacon was fried by means of a radio current. At last an explanation for that "frying" noise.

Gifford Pinchot, nominated for governor of Pennsylvania by the vote of the people, acknowledges his great indebtedness to the radio. A primary coil no doubt played an important part.

An inventor of Chicago claims to have invented radio apparatus that permits of successful communication with the spirits. We hope that the anti-prohibitionists will not misinterpret this claim.

The police department of Portland, Ore., has asked for an appropriation for radio receiving and broadcasting stations and to equip the police automobiles with radio apparatus. Copper wire, it is needless to say, will be used.

Lord Northcliffe, famous English editor, in speaking of the future of journalism, recently predicted that radio would have an effect upon the publication of newspapers that will equal the invention of the linotype and high-speed press. He said that radio would undoubtedly come into general use of newspapers and news-gathering agencies.

one of the most successful revivals that has ever been held here. Bro. J. B. Rowan, pastor of the Stamford Baptist church, did the preaching. The interest was good from the start and continued through the entire meeting. Bro. Rowan delivered some very fine sermons and had the best of order and large congregations all the time.

Twenty-eight was baptized at Mr. Middlebrooks tank Sunday afternoon and a number joined by letter and several will join other churches.

Our church is on a very high plane now and the B. Y. P. U. was reorganized with four groups, with eight and over to the group.

At the close of the last service six young ladies and two young men surrendered themselves for service where God calls them.

Bro. W. H. Hughes, our pastor, has on one of the biggest smiles you ever saw.

Mr. Neil and son and Mr. John Lattimer of Merkel, (Mulberry Canyon) spent the week end here attending the revival which was appreciated.

The order of the day seems to be that there are plenty of farmers making money and if it should rain there will be quite a crop of late crops.

With the community seems to be doing well.

Mrs. W. T. West have returned from a visit to relatives in Bell and Bell counties and reports crops in this section are better than they saw on the trip.

Family have just returned from a visit to New Mexico, Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. West have returned from "Salt Creek." He has been visiting relatives and friends.

COTTON CROP FORECASTED AT 11,449,000 500-LB. BALES

This year's cotton crop was placed at 11,449,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight in the second forecast of the season announced this week by the Department of Agriculture, basing its estimate on the condition of the crop July 25, which was 79.8 per cent of a normal. There was a decline of .4 points in condition from June 25 to July 25, the condition of June 25 having been 71.2 per cent of a normal on which the first forecast of the season, 11,065,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight was based. The average change in the last ten-year between June 25 and July 25 was a decline of 3.9 points.

The average of cotton abandoned to July 1 was summarized at 7.1 per cent, the department announced in a supplemental statement issued in response to Senate resolutions.

County agents reported 80.2 per cent and reporters of the crop reporting board estimated 71.3 per cent of the total acreage was infested by the boll weevil.

The remainder of the season proves more or less favorable than average. Crops of previous years and the July 25 condition in those years follow:

Year—	Crop	Cond'n
1921	7,953,641	64.7
1920	13,439,093	74.1
1919	11,420,703	67.1
1918	12,040,532	73.6
1917	11,302,375	70.3
1916	16,134,390	76.4
1912-1921 average	12,279,348	72.9

In its supplemental report the department announced 295 replies as to abandonment of acreage had been received from Commissioners of agents of the various counties, so that the 295 replies received accounts for only about 34 per cent of the counties.

The estimate of acreage of the crop reporting board, issued July 3, which was 34,852,000 acres, related to cotton in cultivation on June 25, after practically all of the indicated abandonment had taken place, the department's statement said.

Replies from Commissioners of Agriculture came from seven states. Florida's Commissioner reported abandonment "not appreciable;" Alabama, "less than 1 per cent;" Mississippi, "no statistics;" Louisiana, "very little;" Texas "4 per cent;" Arkansas, "not over 0.2 per cent;" and Tennessee, "about 15 per cent."

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Montgomery and Mrs. J. S. Rike visited friends in Graham Sunday.

Tom Davis of this city, is spending several days in Colorado.

Mrs. Berney L. Kent of Post City, is spending the week-end with Miss Laverne Whitmore.
