Prairiland Outscores Rivercrest In Offensive Battle

Although Prairiland's 34-30 defeat of Rivercrest at the Rebel Homecoming Friday night was far from what one might term a defensive game, Rivercrest essentially lost when they went to the clubhouse at halftime with a 10 point lead thinking they had the ballgame already sewn up.

Even though Prairiland took an early lead, Rivercrest made four touchdowns in the second quarter and must have been convinced they could score against the Patriots at will. Wrong!

It was Prairiland who turned on its offensive strength in the third quarter, making 20 points and racking up 129 yards on the ground. Prairiland came very close to increasing their lead by another touchdown in the fourth quarter, but the Rebels held at the one yard line.

Prairiland presented a more balanced running game than did the Rebels, with four players running for more than 40 yards. Mike Smith, who was injured during the game last week, made 81 yards, with Gregg Weddle running for 42, Darrell Loveless for 62 and Ricky Connot for 110. Connot, who has not been on the tally sheet with impressive yardage this year, was the source of a 76 yard touchdown scamper that left the Rebel defense stunned and Patriot fans in hysterics.

Rebel Jimmy Via made 117 yards, and Billy Scales was good for 121, including a 61 yard touchdown made by virtue of the fact that Scales was the fastest runner on the field. Individual honors go to Steve Alford, who averaged 43.6 yards per kickoff.

In the passing department, Rebel quarterback Kip Stansell found speed end Gregg Norman only once for 25 yards with six attempts. It was a spectacular catch, with Norman stopping the ball with one hand and making the reception on his way to the ground in heavy traffic.

Prairiland's passing attack was led by Mike Smith, who completed four for 85 yards, one for a TD to Gregg Weddle.

The first Patriot score came midway in the first quarter, when a fumble by quarterback Kip Stansell was recovered by Tracy Norwood on the Prairiland 46 yard line. Everyone in the Prairiland backfield carried the ball to the Rivercrest 21 yard line, then David Pasquill hit Tim Davis in the end zone for the score, and Mike Smith ran around right end for the extra points.

The Rebel drive began in the first quarter and ended with 9:37 left in the second quarter with a series of short yardage plays that added up to a touchdown when Via scored from the three. Prairiland bought insurance for their lead with a score highlighted by a 20 yard touchdown run by Mike Smith. The try for points after was no good.

On the first play after the kickoff, Rebel Billy Scales got loose behind a couple of good blocks and outran everyone on the field for a 61 yard touchdown. Prairiland was forced to punt on their next possession, and Stansell hit Norman for the 44 yard completion at the three. Via made the TD, but failed his attempt for the extra points.

A fumble by Prairiland's Mike Smith which was recovered by Rebel Bradley Smith paved the way for another Rebel touchdown, when Via took the ball on the first play from scrimmage and ran 36 yards for the score.

Prairiland began playing a game of ball control in the third quarter, helped along by a fumble by Rebel Eddie Belcher which was recovered by Patriot David Loveless at the Rivercrest 34 yard line. A pass from Mike Smith complete to Tim Russell put the ball on the 16, with Smith scoring three plays later from the seven. Prairiland then pounced on a ball fumbled on the kickoff to gain possession again, and scored immediately on a pass from Mike Smith to Gregg Weddle.

Although the Rebels were forced to punt, Stansell boot a beautiful 54 yarder to put the ball deep in Patriot territory at the nine yard line. Prairiland countered with an 18 yard run by Darrell Loveless, then the 76 yard thriller by Connot.

A 37 yard kickoff return by Kip Stansell gave the Rebels good field position at the Prairiland 47 yard line, and a steady barrage of small gains put the ball on the 14, where Scales finished the drive for the final score of the game.

The Patriots then began their own methodical trek to paydirt, with Smith completing one 25 yard pass to Weddle to put the ball on the Rebel 19. With first and goal to go from the eight yard line, the Patriots were unable to score with 1:59 left on the clock.

With the spirit of these two high schools as high as the traditional rivalry allows it to go, it is interesting to note that the only penalty was on Mike Smith for pass interference against Gregg Norman, who was coming back to catch a Kip Stansell pass. The one penalty that was called was an innocent offense, and that statistic denotes outstanding sportsmanship. The rest of the statistics follow.

Patriot JV Defeats Rivercrest

The Prairiland Patriot Junior Varsity defeated the Rivercrest Junior Varsity at Patriot Stadium Thursday night 20-18.

The Patriots drew first blood, scoring on a pass from Norman Alexander to Bradley Sessums early in the first quarter. An attempt by Tommy Kennedy to make the points after the touchdown failed.

The Rebels also scored on their first possession following a 20 yard run by Jimmy Dickey, a 12 yard run by Jerry Merchant and a 10 yard run by Billy Froelich. Merchant carried in from the eight for the TD. When the points after attempt failed, the Rebels and Patriots were tied at 6-6.

Prairiland's Cliff Gifford stopped the Rebels short of a first down from the 34 yard line, then Blaine Gillie made another stop. On third and short yardage, Rebel Billy Froelich scampered across the goal, giving the Rebels the lead 12-6.

The score was tied again a few plays later when Gillie carried in from the one yard line for the Patriots. A Rebel turnover in the form of a fumble by Craig Clemmons was recovered by the Patriots, but the end of the first half stopped the Patriot drive.

There was no scoring in the third quarter by either team, but early in the fourth quarter James Strickland completed a pass to Billy Froelich to give Rivercrest the lead, 18-12. The try for points after failed.

After Patriots Blaine Gillie, Norman Alexander and Bradley Sessums moved the ball to the Rivercrest 46 yard line, Alexander connected with a pass to Tommy Kennedy for the score that tied the game. Alexander then carried for the extra points that won the game.

Book Lovers Hold First Meeting

The first fall meeting of the Talco Book Lover's Club was held Friday at 2:00 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Ollie Jones. Her newly decorated home was lovely and carried out the season's colors in flower arrangements and refreshments. Since the president, Mrs. J.H. Weatherall was called out of town, the hostess presided over the meeting. She welcomed a new member, Alice Ruth Tidwell, who reminded us that her mother, the late Mrs. S.A. Tidwell, was a charter member of the club, organized in 1925.

Each member contributed a new book, which was numbered and will be exchanged at each meeting throughout the club year, 1978-79, enabling each member to have the privilege of reading eleven different choice books a year.

Mrs. Jones also presented the program on "Caves" and with the roll call being "Tell Something About a Cave You Have Visited", it all proved to be very interesting.

During the social hour, bingo was enjoyed with Mrs. Fannie Gieger, Mrs. Cleone Sullivan and Mrs. Ivy Smith winning prizes.

Assisted by Mrs. T.L. Barton, Mrs. Jones served a delicious refreshment plate of hot chicken pie, fruit salad and hot spiced tea. This was topped off by warm just baked cookies and home made candy.

The next meeting will be October 20 in the home of Mrs. J.L. Cato where Mrs. Loretta Foster will bring the program about "Tip of Texas".

THE LEGISLATURE

YOUR REPRESENTATIVE'S REPORT

Amendment No. 1-S.J.R. 50

This amendment has not been amended since its placement in the Constitution of 1876. The Board of Control was created in 1919 to call for and award all state contracts. Notice is given to the governor, secretary of state and the comptroller when bids on printing or fuel are to be opened. This formality would be eliminated.

In 1975 authorization was granted to state agencies to purchase products and services from "nonprofit agencies for the blind" without letting competitive bids. However, two years later an attorney general's opinion was issued prohibiting the purchase of stationary and supplies without competitive bidding. Many of those items are some of the principal products of the visually handicapped.

Two of the arguments for this amendment are: 1) The social and economic value of employing otherwise unemployable handicapped individuals outweighs the value of competitive bidding on products and services they can supply. The taxpayers would not suffer any loss because the law demands the items be purchased at a fair market price. 2) Approval of contracts by the governor, secretary of state, and comptroller is a mere formality and has become red tape.

Arguments against this proposed amendment are: 1) Even though the legislature's policy of helping employ handicapped individuals is praiseworthy, the policy of competitive bidding established in the state Constitution is also sound. 2) Approval of purchasing contracts by the governor, secretary of state, and comptroller serves as a check on those actually performing this function. The voters have recourse if it becomes apparent that these contracts are being improperly awarded.

Amendment No. 2-S.J.R. 55

This proposed amendment would permit political subdivisions to issue revenue bonds "to develop employment opportunities through local government financing of industrial facilities. This is a common practice in other states. The facilities would not be exempt from property taxes unless they were used exclusively by the political subdivision.

Arguments for this proposed amendment are: 1) Experience in other states has shown the use of industrial development bonds to be a valuable means of attracting new business and thus improving local economics. 2) The availability of such programs in other states puts Texas communities at a competitive disadvantage in attracting new business and industry. 3) By insuring that facilities financed under the program will be subject to property taxes while used by private firms, the amendment would not diminish local tax bases and, in fact, could help spread the property tax burden among a greater number of taxpayers.

Arguments against this amendment are: 1) The Texas economy and the business climate are among the best in the country. Unemployment in Texas has long been well below the national average. Our communities do not need programs such as this to attract new business. 2) The proposed amendment would involve local governments in financing private business ventures, usurping the role traditionally played by private investors and financial institutions. This is inconsistent with the free enterprise philosophy. 3) There is sound policy behind the constitutional prohibitions against local governments lending credit and making grants to assist private entities. These prohibitions were inspired by such abuses as municipal grants to railroad corporations. Public funds and public credit should be used only for public purposes; the proposed amendment would seriously undermine this policy.

Arguments for this amendment are: 1) Authorization of tax increment financing will provide Texas municipalities greater flexibility in developing local solutions to the problem of urban deterioration. 2) The prohibition against using state tax revenue to repay redevelopment bonds will insure that local officials keep the cost of local redevelopment projects within the limits of local tax revenues. 3) Although local taxing entities other than the city or town will not benefit from increased tax collections in a redeveloped area until redevelopment bonds are repaid, once the bonds are repaid these local governments will have the benefit of a larger tax base. Even while the bonds are outstanding, the beneficial effects of redevelopment will likely spill over into adjoining areas, stabilizing or enhancing property values and producing a broader property tax base.

Arguments against this amendment are: 1) Permitting cities and towns to siphon off taxes that would otherwise go to school districts, counties, hospital districts, and other taxing entities is a bad precedent. If municipalities need increased taxing power, they should seek to raise constitutional tax limits. Tax of other governmental units should be used only by those other political entities taxing the redeveloped property.

Although a limited form of tax increment financing could be authorized without a constitutional amendment, constitutional authority is probably needed if cities and towns are to use for their own purposes the taxes of other political subdivisions, particularly since those political subdivisions' taxes are themselves authorized in the constitution.

Arguments for this amendment are: 1) Authorization of tax increment financing will provide Texas municipalities greater flexibility in developing local solutions to the problem of urban deterioration. 2) The prohibition against using state tax revenue to repay redevelopment bonds will insure that local officials keep the cost of local redevelopment projects within the limits of local tax revenues. 3) Although local taxing entities other than the city or town will not benefit from increased tax collections in a redeveloped area until redevelopment bonds are repaid, once the bonds are repaid these local governments will have the benefit of a larger tax base. Even while the bonds are outstanding, the beneficial effects of redevelopment will likely spill over into adjoining areas, stabilizing or enhancing property values and producing a broader property tax base.

units. 2) Allowing cities and towns to administer property taxes of other governmental entities in a redeveloped area may result in inequitable appraisal practices. Municipal tax departments might tend to appraise property for taxation at a higher rate than would the other taxing units. Unsophisticated taxpayers may not realize that increased county and school district taxes are being used to repay municipal bonds instead of being used for county or school district purposes. 3) Texas municipalities already have broad powers to use their spending and borrowing powers for urban redevelopment. No need has been shown for granting them additional powers such as this amendment proposes to do.

Amendment No. 4-S.J.R. 53

Under the Texas Constitution all property must be taxed unless it is exempt, and the legislature may not exempt property without an express constitutional authorization for the exemption. Exemption of solar and wind-powered energy devices is not authorized. This amendment would add those devices to the constitutional list of property the legislature may exempt.

ment are: 1) As traditional energy sources are depleted, it becomes more important to exploit alternative energy sources. Wind and solar energy are two of the more promising alternative sources, and tax exemption for solar and wind-powered energy devices is an effective method of encouraging private investment in them. 2) The proposed amendment is permissive, and its scope must be determined by the legislature. If the legislature adopts the exemption, it may revoke or restrict it whenever it becomes desirable to do so.

Arguments against this amendment are: 1) Schools, cities, and other local governments depend primarily, if not exclusively, on property taxes to finance their operations, and exemptions diminish their ability to raise revenue. The proposed amendment would authorize the state to make the decision to exempt the property. The state would suffer no loss of revenue as would local governments, whose consent is not required by the amendment. 2) The exemption that the proposed amendment would authorize, like any other exemption, would not reduce taxes, but would shift those taxes to other taxpayers, thus establishing an invisible subsidy.

Arguments for this amend-

By The Bookworm

Hello again! As I promised last week, I would like to introduce the members of your library Board of Trustees. Under the very able and capable guidance of the president, Pat C. Beadle, these members try to serve the library in many and varied ways: Lela May Beadle, Bill Barker, Ann Black, Sharla Black, Tex Bryant (Annona), Iva Hooker and Eleanor McCluer (Bogata), Mary McAllister, Ralph Ribble, Les Schneider, Mary Simpson, John Oee and Sonya Williams (Avery). Remember, this is a county library and is operated to serve all the citizens of Red River County, so let any member of this board help you in any way he or she can with any type of library business.

Now, let me tell you—I have watched our librarian, Jane Murray, in action, and she is really on the ball. If she can't find the book you want in the library, she will manage to get you whatever you are looking for. Don't forget: we have connections with other libraries! More about that another time.

I am happy to report that the memorial book case for E.W. Bowers is here. This was given in his memory by Mrs. Allie Bowers and Mrs. Josephine Russell. What a wonderful "living" memorial honoring a loved one. So many people will use and enjoy this through the years. Come by and see it.

Friend Dick Wren has always been so happy to help down here. He always puts the memorial plaques in place and helps to hang the pictures just right. The time he gives is appreciated very much.

Thanks go to Marion Lowe and Les Schneider who gave of their time and help to put up new shelves. Folks like these are really appreciated.

While bouquets are being thrown, let me toss one to the Red River National Bank. They have given the library a copier-printer for use with micro-film and for copying other printed matter. Isn't that great? I do believe we have just about the best library in this part of the country and with gifts like these and all our good friends, it will get better and better.

Well, darn, I haven't had a chance to list all our new books for you, but we can't take up just too much space. Anyway, we have all the best sellers and many new children's books. How about coming in to see for yourself.

Happy Reading!

Prairiland, Rivercrest 7th—8th Grades Each Take One

Rivercrest seventh grade football team defeated Prairiland by a margin of two points in a tight ballgame Thursday, October 5. Making the score for Rivercrest was Wade Cline, who also made the two point conversion. Busty Haley carried the ball for a six point score on a reverse for the Patriots.

In the eighth grade game, it was Prairiland as the dominant team all the way, with final score Prairiland 20, Rivercrest 0. Kent Minter passed to Ronald Nichols to bring the ball to the three yard line, and Dewayne Battle carried the ball on in for the first score. Kent Minter then scored for the conversion. Rivercrest was moving the ball well until a fumble returned the ball to the Patriots.

Lowell Ford then passed and ran for two first downs, then passed to Ronald Nichols for a touchdown. The two point conversion was unsuccessful due to the Rivercrest Rebel's good blocking.

A good first down run by the Rebels was called back due to illegal procedure. Then the Rebels failed to hold the Patriots, with the Rivercrest Quarterback Stan Wood being dropped for a loss several times.

At the beginning of the second half, the Patriots fumbled the ball and the Rebels recovered but were unable to make a score on the recovery. The Patriots scored a touchdown after recovering a Rivercrest fumble with Ronald Nichols running from a reverse to make the score 20 to 0. The Rebels made a last valiant effort, but were unable to make much yardage against a Patriot team that was fired up to their best.

Funds Are Available To Purchase Vehicles For Elderly

R.S. Thornburrow, District Engineer of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, recently announced that funds are available to purchase vehicles and related equipment for the transportation of elderly and handicapped citizens.

Approximately $1.19 million of Federal funds will be available under the Section 16b(2) Program during fiscal 1978. Only private, non-profit agencies are eligible to receive these funds. Under this program capital assistance grants are available on an 80-20 matching basis—80 percent from the Urban Mass Transportation Administration and 20 percent from the private, non-profit organization, with the stipulation that the latter portion be from non-Federal sources.

Involvement of minority-oriented organizations is encouraged. The District office at Paris has mailed application instructions and forms to known prospective applicants in its nine-county area of Delta, Fannin, Franklin, Grayson, Hopkins, Hunt, Lamar, Rains, and Red River counties. Other interested individuals or organizations can obtain information and applications for 16b(2) grants at the SDHPT District Office.

The new program has been divided into four funding cycles. Deadlines for receipt of applications for these cycles are November 15, 1978, February 15, 1979, May 15, 1979, and July 15, 1979, but intent to submit an application should be given to the applicant's Regional Council of Governments and to the SDHPT District office as soon as the decision is made to apply for these grant monies.

Inquiries may be directed to H.H. Short, Assistant District Engineer, at the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation's District 1 office, P.O. Box 250, Paris, Texas 75460-telephone (214) 784-4311, or Larry J. Buttler, Senior Planning Engineer, P.O. Box 1044, Sherman, Texas 75090-telephone (214) 892-3031.

Do You Have A Decay Resistant Fence?

Evidence of rotting fences can be found everywhere. Many homeowners must repair or replace privacy fences only a few years after construction, according to Chuck Stayton, area wood products specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Any homeowner can build a fence that will outlast his house, even in areas of high decay hazard by following a few simple rules," Stayton contends. "The same decay prevention principles applicable to homes also apply to wooden fences."

"Posts are more susceptible to decay than other fence parts because of direct contact with the soil," Stayton says. "Use either metal posts or wood posts that have been pressure treated with a preservative." "Normally, horizontal stringers are fastened to the posts to provide a surface for attaching vertical fence boards," Stayton continued. "Leave a space of one-eighth to one-fourth inch where the ends of the stringers meet to permit air circulation. This reduces water collection between the ends of stringers, thus reducing the chance of decay. Wood used for stringers should be naturally decay resistant heartwood or be pressure treated with a preservative."

"The vertical boards fastened to the stringers should not touch the ground," Stayton warns. "This is the most serious mistake made. Ends of boards take moisture from the ground and can decay or be attacked by termites in a very short time. Use either naturally resistant heartwood or pressure treated wood and elevate the boards approximately two inches above the ground. If the boards are to be stained, use a penetrating stain containing a water repellent and preservative."

Survey Shows Legislative Needs

Respondents to a survey on legislative needs in the alcoholism field conducted in northeast Texas indicated that their highest priority is the use of liquor taxes for financing alcoholism programs. The survey, jointly conducted by the North Central Texas Council of Governments, the Ark-Tex Council of Governments, the Texoma Regional Planning Commission, and the East Texas Council on Alcoholism and Drug Abuse, elicited almost 800 responses from the 42 county area covered by those four Regional Alcoholism Authorities. The survey was sent to a wide range of community leaders in the area, and the largest numbers of responses came from educators, elected officials, business and industry leaders, and non-alcoholism social service professionals. Respondents were asked to rank a number of legislative priorities in the field by order of importance. The issue receiving the largest amount of high priority rankings was one which advocated the "apportionment of the existing tax on liquor sold by the bottle or by the drink with proceeds to be used for alcoholism prevention, education and treatment." This issue received the largest number of first-priority votes as well as a significant portion of second and third priority rankings. Two other issues were ranked as top priorities by survey participants. A proposal to mandate alcohol education for public schools in addition to existing programs on crime prevention and drug education funded by the Texas Education Agency was ranked as the second priority overall. And a proposal to increase the amount of State funding for local alcoholism programs ranked third overall. Ranked as lower priorities were proposals advocating the establishment of mandatory Statewide licensing for alcohol programs and facilities, the requirement of medical insurance companies to include alcoholism treatment as a covered expense, and the establishment of mandatory Statewide certification of alcoholism program professional staff members. A proposal calling for decriminalization of public drunkenness was ranked last of all the issues presented on the survey.

The survey also asked respondents to give their opinions on a proposal for the reorganization of the State's substance abuse agencies. Over 72 percent of the survey participants stated they favored combining Texas' planning, coordinating, and funding agencies for alcoholism and drug abuse into one organization. Only 17 percent were against the idea, and around 11 percent were undecided on the issue. Though there were some variations on the rankings of the issues in some of the Regions involved in the survey, all four Regions recorded the same three issues as being the top priorities—the use of liquor tax for alcoholism programs, the inclusion of alcoholism education in the schools, and an increase in State money for alcohol programs. The four Regional Alcoholism Authorities involved in the

Bureau To Combat

Illegal Notary Practices

"Notary-Consumer Watch", a new information bureau and the first of its kind to which consumers can report illegal, unethical or misleading practices by unscrupulous and uninformed Notaries Public, has been established by the National Notary Association, Woodland Hills, California. For the first time, consumers throughout the country can receive assistance in reporting improper practices by any of the nation's more than 2½ million Notaries, officials announced from the NNA, an educational organization with 24,000 members throughout the nation.

Establishment of "Notary-Consumer Watch" is the result of increasing nationwide misuse of the notarial seal by a small percentage of unscrupulous Notaries and a larger number of uninformed Notaries.

NNA officials revealed that the new consumer program is designed to combat public ignorance about notarization and to stem the popular tendency to equate the Notary seal with an official "seal of approval". One such example is what NNA officials call the "notarized testimonial", a meaningless notarization, usually in an advertisement or commercial, in which the Notary seal is deceptively used to lend credence and "official" sanction to the advertised product. This is not the function of notarization.

According to NNA officials, the performance of many improper notarial acts goes unreported primarily because duped consumers have nowhere to turn. Many have no idea on how or where to report Notary improprieties. Embarrassment, too, about not knowing what notarization actually is and does is another reason victimized consumers fail to report improper practices.

"Notary-Consumer Watch" will attempt to allay any embarrassment by the average consumer because the program will explain to him exactly what notarization does and when and why it is necessary, officials say.

"Notary-Consumer Watch" is the consumer version of "Notary Information Service," the information center established in 1972 by the NNA for Notaries needing assistance with the technical aspects of notarization, including interpretation of state notarial laws and the performance of the notarial act itself.

To take advantage of the new program, consumers should contact: Notary-Consumer Watch, National Notary Association, Consumers Affairs Division, 23012 Ventura Blvd., Woodland Hills, Ca 91364, telephone (213) 347-2186.

☺ have a nice weekend...

Tax Incentive Important To Growing Trees In South

Tax incentives may be more important to growing healthy trees in the South than the latest forestry techniques, according to a study released last week. Forest industry executive Richard Molpus cited a study of private forestland ownerships in the South, which pays particular attention to the investment disincentives caused by "the carry-over basis rule" of estate taxation. Molpus, president of Southern Forest Products Association, said that findings of the report indicate it is almost impossible to make private forestry a worthwhile investment under present capital gains laws, which include the carry-over basis rule. "The importance of this to consumers," said Molpus, "is that the nation needs more reforestation and timberland management in order for timber supply to keep up with demand. This study says that tax laws are working against consumer needs."

Can the insulation in your home pass the "R" factor test?

Costly heating and cooling energy loss can result from poor insulation. Properly insulating ceilings, floors and walls can make your home more energy efficient and save you money on heating and cooling bills.

The "R" factor is an accurate means of measuring the effectiveness of a particular type of insulation. The "R" stands for resistance to winter heat loss and summer heat gain. One type of insulation may be thinner than another, but if they have the same "R" factor, they will perform the same. The "R" factor requirements will vary according to climate. You should have the insulation in your home checked for the correct "R" rating today. If you are not sure about the recommended "R" factor for this area, or for other information on wise energy management, call Community Public Service Company. Our representatives will be happy to visit with you personally and answer any question you may have on using energy more efficiently.

BILL CLEMENTS WILL CUT TAXES AND GOVERNMENT SPENDING

Texas was built by men with the vision to look ahead and the grit to get things done. Bill Clements is the man to keep this tradition alive for the future of Texas.

Bill Clements will bring a strong, fresh and tough approach to our government in Austin. He is a businessman, not a politician.

Bill Clements started with nothing and built a successful, worldwide company with hard work and the skill to manage men and money. And now Bill Clements wants to preserve the future of our state and he wants the working people of Texas to have the same opportunities he had.

With his proposed "Taxpayers' Bill of Rights," Bill Clements is committed to protecting Texans from excessive taxation and runaway government spending. He is pledged to cutting taxes and returning that money directly to the taxpayers.

As former Chairman of the Southern Methodist University Board of Governors, Bill Clements knows how to make education in Texas the best in the Nation. He's for discipline in the classroom and "back to basics" quality education.

As the son and grandson of farmers, Bill Clements knows the frustrations that an indifferent government can cause people who make their living off the land. He will use the strength of the State Government to fight burdensome Federal restrictions.

"I believe that Texas has always had more promise than problems, but the balance is more delicate each year. We need to get to work now."

Bill Updates VA Housing Program

The Veterans' Housing Benefits Act of 1978 has been passed by Congress and sent to the White House, it was announced by Congressman Sam B. Hall, Jr., a member of the House Veterans Affairs Committee which originated the legislation.

Hall said the bill, if signed by the President, will update the VA housing program to reflect rapidly changing conditions in the housing and lending industries.

"Escalating housing costs and interest rates have effectively shut veterans out of the market in many areas of the country," the Congressman said. "This bill brings the law up to date with the times."

The broadest impact will be felt from raising the maximum guaranty on VA home and condominium loans from $17,500 to $25,000. Another provision of the bill equalizes the eligibility for GI home loans for Vietnam Era veterans. It reduces from 181 to 90 continuous days the length of active duty service required for those serving in the armed forces from August 5, 1964 to May 7, 1975. Only 90 days has been required for World War II and Korea veterans. The eligibility requirement for peacetime veterans remains at 181 days.

The maximum grant to eligible disabled veterans for specially adapted housing will be increased from the present $25,000 to $30,000. It will still be limited, however, to 50 percent of the house's total cost.

The Veterans' Housing Benefits Act restructures the mobile home loan program in a way that will make it parallel the VA housing program for conventionally built homes and condominiums. It eliminates separate loan maximums for single-wide and double-wide mobile homes and substitutes a maximum guaranty of $17,500 that covers both. It lengthens the life of these loans by three years to 15 years, 32 days and permits veterans who get them to use their remaining entitlement for another housing loan.

Another section of the measure authorizes inspection of mobile home plants by the Department of Housing and Urban Development for the VA. It would also require that the VA monitor safety factors involved in the installation of mobile homes and conduct random onsite inspections to assure compliance with standards of safety.

For the first time, converted condominiums may be approved for VA housing loans, and loans at a higher rate of interest may be guaranteed for home improvements including solar heating and cooling systems.

Death Taxes Can Cause Financial Burden

Although you live modestly, you may be "rich" for death tax purposes, real estate, personal property, savings, stocks, bonds, life insurance and virtually all other assets may be ground up in the tax mill after your death.

Paying death taxes and other costs can put a tremendous financial burden as well as emotional strain on survivors.

Estate planning helps to minimize these crisis. A seminar on estate planning will be held October 16-17 at the North Lamar High School to help individuals have a clearer understanding of the complexities of inheritance taxes, etc.

The seminar is free and open to the public and runs from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. on each of these days at the high school cafeteria. Four knowledgeable speakers have been obtained by the Lamar County Overall Program Committee.

On Monday evening, Tom Prater, Extension Economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will give an overview of the subject with emphasis on state and federal inheritance tax laws. Both of these laws have changed since the last estate seminar was held in 1975.

Also on Monday evening, Hardy Moore, Paris attorney, will discuss the need for a "Will", its contents, who needs one and updating. Having appeared on past seminars, Moore is most knowledgeable in the subject area.

The two speakers on Tuesday evening will be Donald G. Williamson of the National Bank of Commerce in Dallas and A.W. Clem, IV, Paris attorney. Williamson, who has had many years experience in

4-H Foundation Boosts Youth Program

The 4-H Club program in Texas has grown from an organization of farm boys and girls to one that has something to offer for all youth between the ages of 9 and 19. Much of the change in the program has been due to strong support from the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation.

Through the Foundation, a non-profit organization, funds have been provided to enrich and expand the 4-H program and to provide for special activities and achievement awards, points out Wilma Hall, County Agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H.

Because of its continuous trusts departments will be discussing the many benefits that trusts offer in reducing inheritance taxes. Clem's topic will be the general administration of an estate with emphasis on guardianships and estate executors.

The seminar is designed to equip the participants with a working knowledge of the need for estate planning and some of the options available. Handouts will be available on the subjects.

In our rapidly changing economy and society, 4-H is broadening its programs to meet the needs of the youth it serves. Programs now include leadership and citizenship training, and such skill-oriented projects as automotive care and safety, electricity, horses, photography, dog care and training, horticulture and clothing. 4-H must continue to change if it is to remain a viable youth program. Such changes will come with the continued support of the Texas 4-H Development Foundation.

New Crop Cotton Sales Still Slow

Roy W. Gilbreath, Area Director of the USDA, AMS, Cotton Division, Marketing Services Office in Dallas, said new crop cotton sales are still very slow. A little cotton was selling on a gin-run basis in the 52 to 53 cent price range. Dallas spot cotton price quotations on September 22 for the predominate qualities currently being produced in the Dallas territory, in the 3.5 - 4.9 range were: grade 41, staple 30, 52.00 cents and staple 31, 53.00 cents; grade 32, staple 30, 52.00 cents and staple 31, 53.00 cents. Cottonseed prices paid to producers ranged from $92 to $102 per ton.

Gilbreath said over 10,700 samples were classed during the week ending September 22, which brought the total for the season to nearly 29,600. Grades averaged higher, staple length longer and mike higher for the week ending September 22. Grade 41 at 31 percent, replaced grade 32 as the leading grade. Grade 32 accounted for 23 percent of the samples followed by grade 31, 17 percent and grade 42, 15 percent. Staple length 30 accounted for 60 percent of the total, followed by staple 31, 22 percent and staple 29, 15 percent. Mike readings in the 3.5 - 4.9 range accounted for 81 percent of the samples and the 5.0 - 5.2 range 16 percent. Pressley strength readings for the week ending September 15 were above 90,000 pounds per square inch for 85 percent of the samples tested.

4-H Begins New Year

The month of October begins a new 4-H year in Red River County, according to Gary Bomar, County Extension Agent. Any youth between the ages of 9 and 19 are eligible to join the program. At the present time there are eight organized clubs within the county and it is possible to organize new clubs where ever there is a need.

The 4-H program offers many opportunities both in Agriculture and Home Economics related projects as well as many other fields. The key to the complete program is the utilization of adults and parents which serve as adult leaders in the club. County Extension Agents provide training, help and guidance to the leaders and the leaders of the club. If anyone is interested in becoming involved in the 4-H program, contact the Red River County Extension Office in Clarksville and any agent will be glad to discuss the program with you. They will put anyone in contact with a club in your area which you may join. Or if there is not a club in your area, the County Extension Service will take steps in an attempt to organize a local club in a specific area within the county.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex or natural origin.

THOUGHT FOR FOOD

Cornbread Stuffed Franks
Franks are high in meat-power with lots of meat protein, popular for lunch, dinner and especially snacks. Although hot off the grill is the most popular way to serve them, Cornbread Stuffed Franks are a year-round hit.

Franks should be used within four or five days after purchase for the peak of their goodness and like all cured and smoked meat freezing is not recommended.

These are easy to make. First of all fix your favorite cornbread recipe or mix up the following — which is good. Cut a slit in the franks and fill with cornbread. Simply bake for 10 to 15 minutes, by then the frank as well as the cornbread is fluffy, hot and done. Serve with a crisp salad to complete a meal.

- 1/2 cup yellow corn meal
- 1/2 cup sifted flour
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup milk
- 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
- 1 beaten egg

Now — add a tablespoon each of chopped onion, pimento and green pepper to the batter.

Six Flags Invaded By Royal Rangers

It was a full scale invasion as the Royal Rangers from Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana converged on Six Flags Over Texas for a day of fun last Saturday. Twenty-one boys and four adults from Talco were present in the long lines and fast rides. This was the first activity of many for the local outpost.

October is going to be a busy month for Royal Rangers in Talco. The emphasis in the program featured for each meeting will be on physical fitness. Boys will be racing and competing in physical skills throughout the month.

A sales campaign for selling sylvania light bulbs will be getting underway this month. This will help to appropriate much needed supplies for the outpost.

A campout is tentatively scheduled for the last weekend of the month. Boys will be able to learn basic camping skills and demonstrate that which they already know. It's a busy month for everyone involved in the Ranger program.

If you would like to be involved as a leader or as a boy in the exciting and activity filled Ranger program, call Rev. McLain at 379-3851 or attend the meetings held every Tuesday evening from 7-8:30 p.m. at City Hall.
