Sun Valley Anti-Trust Suit Touches Public Officials

A complicated string of connections which allege conspiracy is the basis of a federal lawsuit filed September 18 in Tyler by Sun Valley, Inc., owners Harley Wagnon and his wife, Jean, against Toco, Inc., and its mayor, W.E. Thompson, charging violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act and Clayton Anti-Trust Act.

The petitions and interrogatories filed by Clarksville attorney Jim D. Lovett, representing the Wagnons as plaintiffs, imply connections between W.E. Thompson, Toco, Inc., Dorothy Suggs, Mrs. Dave Durham, Paris attorney J.D. McLaughlin, state representative Bill Heatley of Paducah, Texas and an unnamed judge. The complaint attempts to determine the identity of the judge.

Sybil Colson, an attorney in Lovett's office in Clarksville, would not comment on the case for the record, but referred this newspaper to the public records on file in Tyler.

According to the original petition filed, defendants named are Toco, Inc., W.E. Thompson, J.D. McLaughlin, Dorothy Suggs and Mrs. Dave Durham. The petition charges that the defendants caused injury to the Wagnon business by conspiring to create or maintain a monopoly in the legal retail sale of alcoholic beverages in Lamar County, Texas.

In addition to the defendants named in the original petition, an exhibit attached names of approximately 100 other Lamar County residents who might be named in later suits by the Wagnons. The suit will attempt to show that the 100 persons were either used by Toco, Inc., as innocent pawns, or that they participated with the intent to violate the laws of the United States which deal with anti-trust.

Named by the petition as shareholders in Toco, Inc., and as the receivers of benefits from the defendants actions were Dorothy Agnes Clem, A.W. Clem IV, Toni Clem, James D. Clem, Betty Clem, Paul Michael Clem, A.W. Clem IV as guardian of Malcolm K.

Clem, Willie E. Thompson III, Markita Thompson, Mary Jane Thompson and Hugh D. Thompson.

Reference by the petition to state representative Bill Heatley states that W.E. Thompson frequently conferred with Heatley and kept him briefed as to the actions involving Sun Valley.

In a reply filed by attorney McLaughlin with the court, he stated that he had been the counsel for Toco, Inc., but that he had advised them that they should seek other counsel in their representation in this anti-trust matter so as to avoid any possibility of conflict. The statement was made in a motion for extension of time in which the defendants, Toco, Inc., Dorothy Suggs, and W.E. Thompson may file an answer. The extension asked for by McLaughlin was until October 30, while the law allows 45 days from the time of the filing of the original petition, or until November 1 or later.

McLaughlin answered for himself and for Mrs. Dave Durham in a separate filing.

McLaughlin opposed four applications for elections to be held at Sun Valley, but county judge Lester Crutchfield allowed the application on the fourth attempt. Another suit was filed by McLaughlin in the Sixth District Court entitled Marvin Jaynes et al vs. Josie Osburne et al and the purpose of the suit was to prevent the election to incorporate Sun Valley. Visiting judge for the Sixth District Court, the Honorable Jim N. Thompson, signed and granted a temporary restraining order halting the election. According to the petition, McLaughlin did not appear at the Texarkana Court of Civil Appeals when the suit was heard, but the suit had already had the effect of postponing the election.

After the election was held on January 24, 1976 and the incorporation passed, two suits were filed by Mrs. Dave Durham through McLaughlin, and both were dismissed as groundless. The suit has been appealed by McLaughlin.

When an election for the sale of beer in Sun Valley was in the process of being called, a temporary restraining order was signed by visiting District Judge Kearney Brim, but the order was later dissolved and an injunction not issued because the action was groundless.

The sale of beer was authorized in an election on July 6, 1976, and a license to sell beer for off premises consumption was granted on October 15, 1976.

On November 12, a suit was filed by Mrs. Durham through McLaughlin to set aside the beer license granted to the Wagnons, but no further action has been taken aside from the filing of the original petition.

Questions asked by the Wagnon anti-trust suit include the fees, if any, paid to McLaughlin for legal services for Mrs. Durham, Marvin Jaynes and Tommy Nichols, and fees collected by McLaughlin for legal services performed for Toco, Inc., and W.E. Thompson.

The petition charges that W.E. Thompson and Dorothy Suggs solicited people to bring groundless, baseless, repetitive claims against Sun Valley, and further charges that McLaughlin is counsel for Toco, Inc., and actively participated in the conspiracy to use legal harassment against the Wagnons as the means by which to maintain the monopoly power of Toco, Inc.

Damages asked in the suit include $18,010.00 in legal fees to defend the contests that were filed, and denial of profits that could have been derived during that period of time, amounting to $720,000.

Friday The 13th Unlucky For Rivercrest Rebels

Friday the thirteenth of October did indeed prove to be unlucky for the Rivercrest Rebels as they fell to Mt. Vernon's Tigers 34-12 in the game played at Mt. Vernon.

The Rebels could not put the right combinations together for an effective game against Mt. Vernon. Plagued by fumbles, Rivercrest had three turnovers, which they saw the Tigers turn into scores.

The first score of the game came with 9:32 remaining in the first quarter of play. Mt. Vernon's defensive tackle Joe Henry recovered a fumble by Rivercrest's Kip Stansell at the 33 yard line in Rebel territory to begin the drive.

Stevie Evans, Mt. Vernon running back took the ball four yards, followed by a pass of 22 yards from quarterback David Cates to fullback Mark Fountain. The ball was taken in for the score by Evans with a seven yard run up the middle. Cates made good the kick for the extra point.

The Rebels next possession was also to end quickly as on their third down play a fumble by halfback Billy Scales came up in possession of Mt. Vernon's Norris Minter on the Rivercrest 17 yard line.

The Tigers made quick work of the yardage between them and the goal line, taking only four plays to claim the six points.

Evans again took the ball in over the middle four yards for the score with 6:57 left in the first quarter. Cates' kick again was good bringing the score to 14-0 for the Tigers.

Only two minutes remained in the half when the Rebels began their first scoring drive of the game from the Mt. Vernon 38 yard line. The drive was sparked by a 19 yard pass completion from Rebel quarterback Kip Stansell to halfback Jimmy Via, and kept alive by Stansell's running.

Via took the ball in for the touchdown on a three yard run up the middle with only 1:02 remaining. Stansell attempted to run the ball for conversion points, but was held short by

Mt. Vernon's strong defense.

On the second play of the third quarter Mt. Vernon was again able to pick up on the still faltering luck of the Rebels, when the ball was jarred from the hands of Rebel Stansell by a hard sack behind the line of scrimmage. Joe Jaggers of Mt. Vernon recovered the ball on the Rebel 28 yard line.

With 10:29 remaining in the quarter the Tigers added their third touchdown to the score. Evans charged the final one yard needed to cross the goal line. This time the extra point kick by Cates was no good.

Quick retaliation was made however, as on their following possession of the ball, Rivercrest made their second touchdown of the game. The big moment in the drive came when Stansell found a hold in the Tiger line and drove a whopping 64 yards before he was dropped at the Mt. Vernon one yard line. He then plunged over for the final yard and the score.

Shortly before the end of the third quarter Mt. Vernon began their third scoring drive from their own 46 yard line.

Evans, Cates and Fred Sims combined running efforts to bring the Tigers down to the Rivercrest five yard line just at the close of the quarter. Cates took the ball a final five yards four seconds into the fourth quarter for the score. He then made good the extra point kick.

The final score of the game came following a 90 yard sustained drive by Mt. Vernon, which began midway through the fourth quarter.

Fullback Sims carried the ball in from one yard out for the score. Cates kick for the extra point was good.

The Rebels revived and sustained a 73 yard drive to the Mt. Vernon one; aided by a 23 yard penalty for pass interference against Mt. Vernon. However, the fumble fever struck again on the fourth down, and the Tigers took possession at their own four yard line.

In the next 48 seconds before the end of the game the ball changed possession twice more due to fumbles. The game closed with Mt. Vernon in possession at their own 15 yard line.

Evans led Mt. Vernon in yards rushing with 128 yards in 22 carries. He was followed by Fred Sims with 88 net yards in 13 carries; Mark Fountain, 28 in seven carries; Cates, 23 yards in seven carries; and Norris Minter, 6 in one carry. Passing for Mt. Vernon, Cates completed two of six attempts for 30 yards. Mark Fountain was on the receiving end of the 22 yard pass from Cates, and Stevie Evans was the receiver in a screen pass good for eight yards.

Leading the Rebels in yards rushing was Kip Stansell with 97 net yards in 12 carries. Others adding rushing yardage to the Rivercrest offense were: Jimmy Via, 38 in 18; Billy Scales, 33 in 10; and Eddie Belcher, three in one.

Stansell completed two of eight pass attempts. A 19 yard pass was completed to Jimmy Via, and Nicky Brown was hit for five yards.

A possible solution to the inequities of the tax structure in Red River County was almost tabled by Red River County Commissioners Darwin Floyd and Joe Runyan when the Court met in regular session October 9.

A delegation of businessmen appeared at the meeting to protest past assessing procedures. Clarksville attorney Austin Guest spoke for those attending, who included Jimmy Smith, Exxon agent; Layne Ballard, T.P.&L. local manager; Tommy Reep, First National Bank president; Robert Smith of Buddy's, The Man's Store; and Perry O'Brian, manager of Stoneville Furniture.

Guest said that the Industrial Foundation has been negotiating with an industry to occupy The Baker and Taylor Company premises but that the prospect's tax advisor was concerned about County assessing procedures. He said that assessing for ad valorem taxes in the County has been so erratic that there is a real danger that the industry will decline to locate here. Guest said that it is time for the assessment division to begin a sound program and asked the Court to cooperate.

A solution to the problem was presented by Tax Assessor-Collector A.A. (Suey) Sauls, who thought the problem could be solved by assigning one of his present deputies to the full time duty of assessing, but that position would require $600 monthly salary and space in which to operate the assessment program.

Under Texas law, assessing is the exclusive duty of the Tax

Court Asks For Farm Road Extension

The Commissioners Court met in special session at the Courthouse Friday morning and confirmed the appointment of judges and assistants for the General Elections in November.

The Court also approved a Resolution requesting an extension of some six-tenths of a mile on a F.M. Road project already approved but not yet started for the Lane's Chapel area. Such an extension would take the F.M. highway to the intersection of a county road.

County Judge Connie Sullivan said that there is no certainty that the additional mileage will be granted but that on occasion such small projects are approved in order to round out District funding for F.M. roads.

Justice of the Peace W.B. (Bill) McDonough also received a salary increase effective October 1. McDonough's salary was raised from $630 monthly to $750 and a $50 allowance for car expense will continue.

McDonough, Justice of the Peace for Precinct 1, the area surrounding Clarksville, is one of four County J.P.'s but handles some 90 percent of the cases filed, with his Court collections approaching $50,000 yearly. Constable Olin Humphrey was also granted a raise in car expense from $50 to $75, which has been previously included in the year's budget.

In other business the Court approved a motion to pay Patti Stanley $100 a month to handle the juvenile cases in the county. Ms. Stanley is now serving as the secretary to the adult probation officer.

Assessor-Collector, but the Commissioner's Court sets salaries, allocates office space and sits as a Board of Equalization to correct errors in the Tax Assessor's roll.

In an attempt to kill the solution presented by Sauls, Runyan made a motion to table the salary for the assessing deputy, and Floyd seconded the motion. Commissioners R.L. Edwards and Earl Humphrey voted against the move to table the salary, and County Judge Connie Sullivan voted with Humphrey and Edwards to keep discussion going on the salary.

Humphrey and Edwards then voted for Edwards motion to authorize the additional salary for Sauls and to allow his office additional space in an effort to begin an aggressive assessment program. Runyan and Floyd voted against it.

Judge Sullivan broke the tie in favor of the motion, pointing out that the Tax Assessor-Collector has in the past been authorized an assessing deputy but has not filled the position, although the set salary was low.

Lease Agreements The Court also approved a lease agreement with Mental See EQUALIZATION Page 8

Small Business Opposes Minimum Wage Increase

A clear majority of small businesses oppose the scheduled increases in the federal minimum wage, according to a nationwide poll conducted recently by the National Federation of Independent Business. Eighty-three percent of the respondents voted to limit minimum wage increases to 5.5 percent per year over the next three years, rather than the Congressionally approved increases of 9.4 percent, 6.9 percent, and 8.0 percent. Approximately 12 percent of the respondents opposed limitation of minimum wage increases, and 5 percent were undecided. NFIB is a non-profit, non-partisan organization representing the interests of small and independent businesses. With more than 547,000 members, NFIB is the largest small business organization in the United States and is growing more rapidly than any other individual membership business organization. The Carter Administration has asked the private business sector to limit wage and price increases to 5.5 percent, but the scheduled minimum wage increases greatly exceed this guideline. Federal Reserve Board Chairman William E. Miller has indicated that, in order to control the accelerating inflationary spiral, some postponement of the legislated minimum wage step increases might be advisable. It is apparent from the results of the NFIB survey that most small business owners agree with Miller's assessment. NFIB President Wilson S. Johnson pointed to the fact that, for the first half of 1978, inflation averaged 9.4 percent on an annual basis. "Substantial federal minimum wage increases will merely add to this inflationary trend," stated NFIB President Johnson. "And the hardest-hit area of the economy will be the labor-intensive small business sector. 'The most serious and far-reaching result of large minimum wage increases is that it will become too expensive to hire young and unskilled workers,' Johnson warned. 'On the surface, it looks as though unskilled people would benefit from a higher minimum wage, but in practice it means that fewer people will be hired and fewer

Deadline To Report Federal Tax Is Near

Employers must report on Form 941 Social Security and withheld Federal income taxes for the third quarter of 1978 by Tuesday, October 31. If the quarterly liability (reduced by any deposit during the quarter) is $200 or more, the unpaid balance must be deposited. Persons who have deposited the entire quarterly tax liability in a Federal Reserve Bank or approved commercial bank have until November 10 to file Form 941, "Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return," the Internal Revenue Service said. Employers should use the preaddressed Forms 941 mailed to them by the IRA or obtain copies of the form from the nearest IRS office. IRS Publication 15, "Circular E-Employer's Tax Guide," provides more information and is available free from local IRS offices.

Corps To Close 40 Areas For Winter

Forty public use areas at lakes and the navigation system operated by the Tulsa District, Corps of Engineers, will be closed October 15 for renovation and improvement during the fall and winter. Col. Robert G. Bening, District Engineer, announced earlier this week. The areas will be reopened next April for the 1979 recreation season. Col. Bening said the closing of the areas located at 10 of the District's 35 lake and navigation projects will allow Corps maintenance crews to work freely in the areas to reconstruct them and also will result in reduced maintenance costs during the slack period of attendance. "Since most of these areas have been heavily used, the period of closure will give them time to recover from erosion, soil compaction, loss of ground cover and other physical damages," he added. The closed areas will be marked by signs, barricades, or gates. Launching ramps at some of the closed areas will remain open and at others access to the lake shoreline will be readily available at nearby public use areas.

Col. Bening stressed that most of the public use areas will remain open all winter, including some at each lake or navigation project. The public use areas scheduled for October 15 closing are: Canton Lake, Canadian Area "B"; Fort Gibson, Rocky Point West, Taylor Ferry North, Wildwood West, Wildwood East, Jackson Bay West, Chouteau Bend South, Big Hollow North; Eufaula, Brooken Cove, Holiday Cove, Highway 31 Landing, Gaines Creek, Cardinal Point, and Highway 9 Landing Southwest; Hugo, Sawyer Bluff "C" road, Virgil Point "B" road, Kiamichi Park "E", "F", and "G" roads, portion of "A" road north of "D" road and all of "H" road north of "J" road; Robert S. Kerr, North area of Cowlington Point, West and Middle area of Short Mountain Cove and the South part of Sallisaw Creek; W.D. Mayo, Braden Park; Oologah, Will Rogers Park, Clermont Park 2, Blue Creek Park, Spencer Creek Cove, Wiganon Ramp; Pine Creek, Little River Park North; Tenkiller, Pettit Bay I, Standing Rock, Snake Creek Cove.

East Texas Eating

By Margie Rice
Cool weather seems to whet our appetites just as we get busier and busier. Here is a meal that can be popped into the oven—well, all except the cole slaw.
Oven Braised Pork Chops With Apple Rings
Baked Sweet Potatoes
Cole Slaw
Scrub sweet potatoes, puncture with fork tines, put into 400 degree oven. Forty-five minutes later, reduce oven to 350 degrees.
Trim excess fat from pork chops. Lightly grease a heavy, hot skillet with the fat edge of a chop. Lightly brown both sides of pork chops. Add 1/4 cup water. Top pork chops with 3/4 inch rings of tart, raw apple. Sprinkle lightly with brown sugar. Cover tightly and cook slowly in 350 degree oven for 20 to 30 minutes.
While the sweet potatoes and pork chops are baking, shred the cabbage. I like to shred cabbage finely with a big, sharp knife. Lately, though, I've taken to shredding cabbage lickety-split by cutting it into chunks and putting a couple of cups or so of it into the blender along with a cup and half of water. If a bell pepper or pimento survives in the garden, shred it along with the cabbage. Drain the shredded cabbage while you mix a dressing. For 1/2 head of cabbage, to serve four, use three or four tbsps.

mayonnaise, one tbsp. prepared mustard, 1/4 cup milk, one tsp. sugar, two tsp. vinegar, and salt and pepper. Adjust ingredients to taste and number of servings. Blend well. Toss with shredded cabbage. Chill until pork chops and sweet potatoes are done.
Warm Apple Dumplings
Warm apple dumplings are a marvelous alternative to the apple rings...if you have a bit more time or some pastry squares in the freezer.
4 tart apples
pastry to encase apples
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
3/4 tsp. salt
1/2 cup + 2 tsp. shortening
Approximately 3 tbsps. cold water.
Sift flour and salt. Cut in shortening until most of the shortening particles are the size of peas and the rest are smaller. Sprinkle with water—I find that a clothes sprinkler enables me to sprinkle the water quickly and evenly. Mix lightly with a fork until the flour is moistened enough to hold a ball when gently pressed together. Roll out pastry and cut into 4 7 inch squares.
Pare and core apples. Place an apple on each square of pastry. Fill the core cavity with a mixture of one-third cup brown sugar, 1 tsp. cinnamon, dash of nutmeg. Dot with butter.
Overlap opposite corners of pastry over the apple, moisten and seal. Place a little apart in a baking dish. Pour hot cinnamon syrup around dumplings.
For syrup boil together for three minutes: two-thirds cup sugar; 1 1/2 cups water; 2 tbsps. butter; and 1/4 tsp. cinnamon.
Bake 45 to 50 minutes or until golden brown and apples tender (test with fork) in 400 degree oven. Serve warm with some of the cinnamon syrup spooned over the apple dumplings!
Never Unite
A visitor to a mental hospital was astonished when he figured out the patient-to-guard ratio. "Don't you think these people could overpower the guards and escape?" he asked an official. "No problem," was the weary reply, lunatics never unite."

Stephenson Selected As Austin College Choir Member

An Austin College student from Bogata, Mark Stephenson, has been selected as a member of the 50-voice Austin College A Cappella Choir for 1978-79. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A.D. Stephenson.

In the 36 years of its existence, the Austin College A Cappella Choir has established an impressive reputation. The choir has toured extensively throughout the United States and Europe and in 1957 won worldwide attention during a European tour by placing third in the International Polyphonic Festival in Italy. The choir has appeared on national television; has sung before the Texas Legislature by special invitation; and has performed extensively for convocations and meetings of the Presbyterian Church, U.S. Each year a number of cities are visited by the choir and this year more than 35 concerts and appearances are planned in area churches and organizations.

The choir is now preparing repertoire for its fourth European tour next spring. Concerts are planned for London, Amsterdam, Freiburg and several other cities. The choir will perform the Bach "Mass in B Minor" under the direction of world-renowned Bach expert Karl Richter of Munich. The English Chamber Orchestra and soloists from England will also be featured. These performances will be prepared as part of the choir's participation in the St. Moritz Choral Festival in England which will involve seven U.S. choirs.

The choir participated in the festival in 1975. Following a tour, which took them through parts of the United States and Switzerland, Germany, Austria and Czechoslovakia, a West German newspaper columnist wrote, "What the Austin College choir of Texas achieves in its realm of music is scarcely equalled and certainly never excelled in Europe. They represent a choral culture of highest quality. The choir sings fluently without a strain, and as if it were a single breathing organism."

The membership of the liberal arts program of the college. Membership is open to all students and many of the members are not music majors. Members are selected through a series of auditions each fall and spring, and the group rehearses three days a week during the school year.

Other vocal activities at the college include the choral union, opera workshops and private vocal instruction.

The "New York" steak is a boneless cut from the short loin. A New York is the same as a Porterhouse steak — with the smaller tenderloin muscle and the bone removed.

Printed Circuitry

We're plugging it in to keep your rates as low as possible.

No one is happy when we have to ask our customers to pay higher rates for telephone service. Not you. Not we. And that's why we fight inflation — the number one cause of rate increases — every day in every way we can.

One of the ways we hold inflation at bay is to look for new and better ways to serve our customers more efficiently.

Printed circuitry is one of the new and better ways. Your radio and television sets probably have it, and you get better service with minimum maintenance because of it.

Now, in many of our exchanges, plug-in modules eliminate many of the tubes that burned out with such monotonous regularity. Plus thousands of hand-soldered connections. And miles of tiny wires that had to be traced to the source of any problem.

Plug-in circuitry is requiring a tremendous investment, but it's an investment that helps Continental control its operating costs and hold the line on rate increases.

Your rates for telephone service are based on our costs of doing business. With printed circuitry and other proven technological advancements, we're doing our best to do more for you.

Plan Now, Fly Later

Texas is not keeping pace with the growth of aviation. General aviation airports in Houston, Dallas-Fort Worth and other big cities are so overloaded that air traffic often spills over into adjoining counties. And in commercial aviation, both Houston Intercontinental and Hobby airports are brimming to the limit of their terminal capacities. The Texas Transportation Institute of Texas A&M University has held public meetings with city and county officials in 63 localities to update the Texas Airport System Plan. The Federal Aviation Administration and the Texas Aeronautics Commission financed the investigation carried out by George Dresser and his team.

Texas is so big and so far away from many centers of business, industry, commerce and government that both interstate and intrastate air travel is essential, the A&M study shows. The Texas plan includes 247 general aviation airports not served by long-distance or commuter airlines. By 1980 Texas will need 289 and by 1985 300 general aviation fields. The Texas plan calls for 70 new airports to be built, for 16 publicly owned airports to be replaced. The development of lignite mining and of coal-fired generating plants in East Texas and of uranium mining in Southwest Texas will put heavy air traffic into fields not designed for it. All existing airports need capital improvements ranging from runway overlay to reconstruction and expansion. All this should cost some $200 million over the next 20 years. Cities and counties will have to budget the expenditures and can hope for state and federal aid.

Dresser points out that flying for fun accounts for only a small proportion of the general aviation traffic in Texas. Business or commercial flights account for 72 percent of general aviation, sport or recreation for only five percent.

Too many strangers see Paris and Clarksville only through our airports. At present, neither of our airports offers a pristine face to arriving passengers and transient pilots. City Councils should give the matter immediate attention.

Helping Others Is A Way of Life

At 80 years of age, Miss Ethel Siehrs of Menominee, Michigan, still tackles her responsibilities as she did 60 years ago.

Born on a farm in Menominee, one of six children, Miss Siehrs finds it a natural thing to want to be around others and to share—whether it's teaching classes for the 4-H Club or giving some of her garden fresh vegetables and home-made butter to a neighbor.

"I've always loved the farm life," Miss Siehrs told a writer from the National Council on the Aging.

Today, with the help of one full-time farm hand, Miss Siehrs runs a 120 acre farm. She attends to many of the chores including Citizens club, where she's been secretary to the nutrition committee for three years. She is also a member of the Service Club and has served on the Menominee Library board for over 35 years.

An active 4-H Club leader, Miss Siehrs devotes a large amount of her time to helping young 4-H members. She teaches sewing and cooking mostly, but sometimes other subjects.

"I enjoy helping people, young ones especially. They need proper leadership and guidance," Miss Siehrs said. "I help in whatever way I can—whether it's on the farm or through the clubs."

milking 20 cows twice a day.

"It's very hard for me to sit around and do nothing," Miss Siehrs said. "When I do decide to stop and take a rest, I always see something else that needs to be done. I don't put off doing things until later—unless I'm sick."

During the summer months, Miss Siehrs hires young people to help out around the farm. "It's good for all of us, we need a change of pace at times and I enjoy having them here," she stated.

Even though the farm keeps Miss Siehrs pretty busy she still takes time to help others in the community.

In Auburn, CA hikers gather every weekend, lunch in hand, and head for the trails. The youngest is 49 and the oldest is 91. Together they make up Helen's Happy Hikers, an informal group of nature lovers led by 85-year-old Helen Edwards Bacon. Mrs. Bacon formed the Happy Hikers as an offshoot of the Sierra Club for whom she has led more than 470 hikes. Her groups always hike from five to 10 miles.

"Every one of us, whatever the age, admits feeling better and younger since we began to hike together," said Mrs. Bacon.

you and the LAW

PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: A barking dog is threatening my sanity! The family living behind me has a dog capable of continuous barking — all day, all night. I've called and written letters and he still barks! Must I listen to this dog the rest of my life?

A: A barking dog is not only a nuisance mentally and emotionally, but may be a nuisance legally. If the canine cacophony is so frequent that the normal person's health and enjoyment of his property is affected, it might be possible for you to establish that the barking constitutes a common law nuisance and obtain an injunction. This would make the dog's owners liable for contempt of court if the barking continued. It might force them to move the dog.

Q: My husband and I had a will made out in Los Angeles, California, when we lived there, and we have moved to Texas. Will the will we had made out in California still be good here in Texas?

A: The will from California is probably good in Texas, though Texas law provides for independent executors and self-proving wills which are very advantageous provisions to have in your will. In addition, the community property laws in California are different from Texas, which may require changes in your will. In short, it would be a good idea to have your will reviewed by a Texas attorney, though no changes may be necessary.

Q: I recently heard that if you don't make a will three years before death, the government will take your property. Is this true?

A: No, this is a false statement. The government never takes your property unless you have no heirs.

Q: My husband and I have no heirs. If either of us should die, would the other one automatically get everything?

A: If you have had no children the surviving spouse would inherit all of the community property. As to your separate property the surviving spouse would inherit all of the personal property but would only get one-half of the deceased spouse's separate real property. The deceased spouse's remaining one-half of the separate real property will go to the deceased spouse's parents if they are alive or if they are deceased then to the deceased spouse's brothers and sisters or their children if the brothers and sisters are deceased. It is always a good idea to have a will as it will make the cost of administering your estate much less costly and troublesome, even if your property would pass as you would like it to by intestacy.

Send your questions to "You and the Law," State Bar of Texas, P.O. Box 12487, Austin, 78711. Answers may appear in columns in hypothetical terms; personal answers not possible.

The Good Word from the Bible

... a weekly inspirational message for today's life-styles...

Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God.

Psalms 90:2

There is nothing before God. We cannot say God "was," because God "is"...more than eternal, more than "from everlasting to everlasting."

With this thought in mind, those who profess to be Christians should find it difficult to believe that God's law has been changed in some way to accommodate the modern world in which we live.

Those who would be casual Christians excuse themselves by saying, "Things are different..."

As God is eternal, so are God's commandments. Eternal and unchanging.

Auto Service Tips

If the warning light shows your engine is overheating, pull safely off the road and turn the engine off. Driving faster will not blow more air into the engine and cool it.

Once off the road, raise the hood and see if the problem is obvious — such as a broken hose or radiator leak. Do not raise hood if heavy steam is already being emitted. Pop the hood latch from inside the car and let things cool off.

The U.S. Weather Bureau ranks Great Falls, Montana, as the windiest city in the U.S. The average wind speed is 13.1 miles per hour.

THE LEGISLATURE

YOUR REPRESENTATIVE'S REPORT

Amendment 5-H.J.R. 37

This amendment proposes to expand the jurisdiction of justices of the peace in civil cases. The justice of the peace also serves as a judge of a small claims court which operates under simple pleadings and procedures that do not require the services of a lawyer. This amendment relates only to civil jurisdiction and would not change the criminal jurisdiction of the justice of the peace in this state.

Arguments for the adoption of this amendment are: 1) Concurrent jurisdiction for the justice court and the county court for matters presently within the exclusive jurisdiction of the county court would help to relieve crowded county court dockets. 2) There is a need for a simple and economic procedure for quickly settling small cases involving more than $200 that do not justify expensive litigation and attorney fees.

Arguments against adoption of this amendment are: 1) The office of the justice of the peace was originated to maintain order, perform administrative functions and dispense local justice in areas where lawyers were scarce. There are those who feel the J.P.'s jurisdiction should not be enlarged and in fact has outlived its usefulness and should be replaced with a court better able to deal with today's complicated legal disputes. 2) Expanding jurisdiction of small claims courts may not be in the best interest for persons with small claims.

Amendment 6-S.J.R. 45

This amendment proposes to allow the legislature to expand the number of judges on any court of civil appeals. It would also allow the courts to sit on sections, with the concurrence of a majority of the judges sitting in a section necessary to decide a case.

Arguments for: 1) It is more practical to increase the size of existing courts of civil appeals to meet the demands of increasing population and legal business than to create additional courts which require separate personnel and facilities. 2) The present intermediate court system lacks the flexibility needed to shift judicial manpower as the volume of litigation fluctuates within a court of civil appeals district and also to equalize the case load between courts of civil appeals in the most efficient and just manner. The supreme court presently transfers cases between the courts, many litigants prefer to have their cases decided in their own local court of civil appeals.

Arguments against: 1) There is little need to increase the size of a court of civil appeals or temporarily assign active or retired judges to a court of civil appeals because the supreme court already has the power to equalize the dockets of the different courts by the assignment of cases. 2) A large appellate court may increase the expense of the judiciary to a greater extent than it will increase the efficiency of the court. Large courts may create more problems than they solve.

Amendment 7-S.J.R. 48

The proposed amendment would abolish the constitutional authority for the State Building Commission and the State Building Fund. The State Building Commission, which was responsible for planning and construction specified state buildings, was adopted in 1954 in response to the need for more state office space. The State Building Fund was to finance activities of the commission. The commission's statutory powers and duties and its records, property, and personnel were transferred to the State Board of Control on September 1, 1977.

The State Building Fund contains unappropriated assets. However, the legislature allocated the money to the State Board of Control and directed that it be spent by the board under the direction of the commission.

Arguments for: 1) The State Building Commission exists now in name only. The Board of Control performs the functions previously performed by the commission and spends the money appropriated by the legislature from the State Building Fund. 2) The responsibility for remodeling or constructing state buildings should be established by statute, not by the constitution. A statute can be more easily amended to cope with changing circumstances.

Arguments against: 1) It is important that the state maintain sufficient office space. Therefore, the money remaining in the State Building Fund should be used for the purpose for which it was originally intended, to remodel or construct state buildings. If this amendment passes before the building fund is depleted, it is possible that a future legislature could divert the money from this purpose. 2) Abolition of the State Building Commission and a statutory transfer of its functions to the State Board of Control consolidates too much power in one state agency. The commission should continue as the state agency with responsibility for remodeling or construction of state buildings.

Amendment 8-H.J.R. 42

The proposed amendment would authorize water districts to provide fire-fighting services to persons and property within their boundaries. To finance their fire-fighting activities, the districts would be authorized to issue bonds or other indebtedness or to otherwise lend their credit.

Arguments for: 1) The unavailability of adequate fire protection in some heavily populated areas of the state poses a serious threat to the health and safety of many Texas residents. 2) As a result of insufficient fire-fighting defenses in some of the unincorporated areas of the state, insurance rates are excessively high. Water districts should be authorized to provide and finance fire protection programs so that residents and property owners within these areas will not be required to pay such high premiums for fire insurance protection.

Arguments against: 1) With the availability of volunteer fire departments and other means of fire protection, residents of water districts should not be required to assume the additional financial burden of financing a fire protection program operated or contracted for by the district. 2) The expansion of the purposes and functions of water districts to include the provision of fire protection would require the unnecessary use of facilities and funds which should be devoted to the primary purposes of the districts to conserve and develop a local and state water resources.

Home Demonstration Club Membership Drive In Progress

Interested in learning more about homemaking? Then try joining a home demonstration club. "During the months of October and November, I'll be contacting Red River County homemakers to see if they'd like to become a member of a Home Demonstration Club," Mrs. Beth Dannheim, County Extension Agent said.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service employee said that anyone may join a club.

"Membership is open to anyone interested in learning more about homemaking or improving home life," she said.

In a home demonstration club, everyone has a chance to get involved. Members learn how to do things they want or need to know. They get the latest information about how to take care of their families and homes.

If you'd like to get the latest information about homemaking, join a home demonstration club. For more information, call Mrs. Dannheim at the local Extension Office at 427-2493 or come by the Baker Street building in Clarksville.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economics level, race, color, sex, religion, or national origin.

Hill backs tax relief on ballot November 7

"We've got a great opportunity Nov. 7 to take a significant first step toward tax relief in Texas. I'm urging everyone to vote for the proposed constitutional amendment to give tax relief to our farmers and ranchers, homeowners, and elderly. After this amendment is adopted, I'll be ready to take the lead in the 1979 legislature to follow through on this first step."
