Rivercrest Blows By Maud 47-6

The Rivercrest Rebels blew past the Maud Cardinals Friday night 47-6, and even though the score was not as high as the week before when the Rebels beat James Bowie 71-6, Rivercrest played better football and looked sharper.

Perhaps one of the biggest side benefits to the fans of the high scoring first team Rebels has been the opportunity to see Dale Jean at the helm in the final moments with a team made up of primarily of juniors. This Rebel second team has made an amazing showing against Ore City, James Bowie and Maud, scoring sometimes and always moving the football.

This opportunity to play has still been made possible by the first team combination, led by senior quarterback Kip Stansell.

The Rebels opened the ballgame against Maud with a 50 yard run by Billy Scales into the end zone for the first score, and Jimmy Via began methodically planting his foot into the ball for points after. Via made five of the seven extra point kicks. Maud was unable to make a first down on the Cardinals first possession, and the ball went to the Rebels on the 49 yard line.

Jimmy Via ran around the right end of the Rebel line and then across the field to the left corner for the TD. The extra point kick by Via was good again.

Maud held the ball for four more downs, then the Rebels started their third touch-down drive from their own 42 yard line, with Eddie Belcher carrying in from the five yard line. Via's extra point was good.

The second quarter was more or less dominated by Maud, as the Cardinals forced the Rebels to punt

Residents Listed On "Who's Who"

Local residents Kathy Brooks and Shan Watkins of Bogata, and Terry McGonagill of Talco, along with Amelia Miller, former Talco resident, are among 40 Paris Junior College students selected for inclusion in the 1978-79 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges." The list was announced recently by Robert Thornburrow, chairman of the Faculty Scholarships and Awards Committee at PJC.

The selections by the college faculty were based on academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extra-curricular activities and future potential.

All students are graduates of Rivercrest High School.

twice and completed a drive with a 34 yard pass good for six points.

The Rebels bounced back with a 47 yard kickoff return by Stansell, then three plays later Scales crossed into the end zone from the 10 yard line. Via's kick was good again.

Scales was either tiring by the middle of the third quarter, or Maud had a speedster on the team who never got loose with the football, because Scales was caught from behind at the five yard line when a touch-down was in his grasp. Scales has not been caught from behind all year. Via finished the job on the next play, however, then missed the extra point kick for the first time.

An attempt by the Cardinals to establish a passing game was broken up by Scales, who intercepted one pass, and Via, who intercepted another. Belcher made a 29 yard run, then Stansell carried around the left end from the 14 for the TD. The kick by Via was good.

The Cardinals fumbled the football to Ricky Franks on their first play from scrimmage, then the Rebels, with Dale Jean at quarterback, scored again, this time from the five yard line with Belcher the ball carrier.

Billy Scales and Eddie Belcher almost tied for yards rushing this week with 142 for Scales and 137 for Belcher. Stansell carried for 71, Via for 62, Charles Davis for 16 and Dale Jean for 12.

The Rebels will play at Redwater Friday night with game time set for 7:30 p.m.

Dress Plant Evacuated

Employees of Wolff Manufacturing Company in Bogata evacuated the plant Monday when an air condition compressor ruptured. Many of the forty employees in the plant at the time of the incident were sprayed with the black acid smelling oil, but there were no injuries.

Tom Gilbreath, Wolff plant manager, said Monday that they had been having trouble with the air conditioning system for some time and that the units need repairs. Gilbreath had replaced the fuses on the unit Friday afternoon and didn't restart it until about 11:00 a.m. when the compressor ruptured all three terminal connections. The force of the oil knocked off the front cover plate and blew oil 20 feet across the main working area of the plant.

Employees of the plant spent the remainder of Monday cleaning their work

Bazaar Termed Successful

Saturday, Nov. 11 marked the most successful bazaar ever for the First United Methodist Church of Bogata. Almost $2500 was raised in the fourth annual event.

A wide variety of hand made items were sold in eight divisions of the bazaar. Home canned and home baked goods, pot plants, art work, things for tots, ceramics, needle work and Christmas decorations filled the Lowry educational building. Also, a big hit was the noon meal which featured turkey, dressing and all the trimmings.

The church wishes to express a special thanks to all who participated in the bazaar, whether it was in the preparation, purchase or donation of any article.

Nichols Honored As Outstanding Co-Operator

Glen Nichols, Route 6, Clarksville was honored as the outstanding Result Demonstration Co-operator for 1977 at a meeting in Mount Pleasant, November 2.

Red River County joined with other counties in Extension District 5 in observing "Farm Demonstration Month" in October as proclaimed by Governor Dolph Briscoe.

The state-wide observance pays homage to all Texas farmers and ranchers who have "pioneered" in farm demonstration work, as well as current cooperators, says Bob Moody, County Extension Agent.

Nichols has conducted the following result demonstrations: Soybean variety yields, chemical disease control, chemical grass and weed control and five acre soybean yield contest.

In 1972, he entered the five acre soybean yield contest. He was the top producer in the state with 65.4 bushels per acre. For his efforts, he and his wife were awarded a two week trip to the Mediterranean. In 1976, he was the second highest producer in the northeast Texas area, his yield was the fourth highest in the state.

Local farm demonstrators are carrying out a practice-teaching technique that began 75 years ago at Terrell, Texas. Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, a special agent of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, was invited by local citizens to come to the area and show them how to do a better job of farming.

Knapp met with them in February of 1903, and agreed to conduct a farm demonstration, provided they would locate a farmer who would farm precisely as he directed. The other stipulation by Knapp was that local citizens pledge or contribute $1,000 to cover any losses sustained by the farmer.

A 70 acre tract on the Walter C. Porter farm near Terrell was selected as the farm demonstration site. Porter prepared his land and grew cotton and other crops as Knapp directed. When harvest time rolled around that October, Porter netted considerably more on his test acreage than on his other land. The indemnity funds were never needed.

Success of the venture spread rapidly to other areas. W.C. Stallings was hired as the first county Extension agent in 1906, and others were added in the next several years. The Smith-Lever Act of 1914 paved the way for establishment of the Cooperative Extension Service in every state.

Prairiland Aviation Club Is Formed

Twelve members of the Prairiland 4-H Club met at Paris Municipal Airport to organize an aviation club on Sunday, November 12. As far as can be ascertained, the organization is the only 4-H aviation club in the United States.

Members were introduced to the principals of flight by adult leaders Bob and Pat Wright and Thomas and Nanalee Nichols. They waxed an airplane and were shown the various control surfaces as they worked.

Bob Wright then showed them how to pre flight an airplane, and the importance of safety and conscientiousness was discussed.

The club held a business meeting and elected officers. Elected were: Blaine Gillie, president; Coralea Basinger, vice-president; Julie Clark, secretary; Gina Malone, treasurer; and Wendy Milford, reporter. Julie Clark was appointed refreshment chairman.

A discussion was conducted in which the members decided to wash airplanes for people to raise money for the purchase of books on aviation and to purchase sweat shirts with

Wood Stoves Require More Than A Few Logs

The warm glow of a cheerful fire in a wood burning stove may be irresistible. But before this cozy scenario becomes a reality, there is work to be done, says the Insurance Information Institute's Texas Insurance Information Center.

Improperly installed stoves--most notably the potbelly, the box, the Franklin--can be fire hazards in disguise.

The Institute advises potential stove owners to follow some important guidelines set forth by the National Fire Protection Association and Underwriters' Laboratories for purchasing, installing and operating a wood burning stove.

The following guidelines are essential for safety: Select a stove made of sturdy material such as cast iron or steel. Look for those listed by UL or other recognized testing laboratories. Used stoves should be checked carefully for cracks or other defects.

To determine where the stove can be best placed, make sure there is enough clearance between the stove and floors, walls, and ceilings. If adequate clearance is impossible, nearby combustible surfaces must be protected by a panel of fireproof material such as sheet metal or asbestos millboard spaced at least one inch from the wall.

Place the stove on a fireproof base. Commonly used is one-quarter inch asbestos millboard covered with sheet metal extending at least 18 inches beyond the ash removal door.

If using an existing fireplace chimney, it must be sealed off below the stovepipe's point of entry to prevent toxic gases from backing up into the room.

Have a mason or other qualified person inspect the chimney.

Burn only dry, well-seasoned wood. Green wood may cause a buildup of flammable creosote which could start a chimney fire.

Open a window slightly for ventilation if your house is securely insulated.

Dispose of ashes in a closed metal container outside the house.

Properly ventilating a wood burning stove is extremely important to prevent odorless toxic fumes from building up in the house. One should never extend the stovepipe through a wall or ceiling unless there is no alternative. If it must go through a wall or ceiling the pipe should be passed through a thimble which must be installed within the ventilation space. The thimble is a metal sleeve which should be at least 12 inches larger in diameter than the stovepipe for insulation against flammable wall or ceiling material.

Earnings

Continental looks at a ceiling, not a floor.

Contrary to what many people believe, Continental Telephone is not guaranteed a profit just because it is a regulated, public-utility company that has no competition in its franchise area.

The government agencies that regulate Continental's activities set a maximum allowable rate of return—a ceiling, not a floor. Our actual rate of return in any year may be much lower than the maximum allowed. It can be less, but it can never be more.

Unlike other businesses, we are not allowed to automatically raise our prices if our costs increase and our profits decrease. We can increase our rates only if the government agencies decide the rate hike is justified.

Our profits depend on how well we manage our business, how well we control our operating costs, and the volume of our sales.

Earnings are necessary for us to pay stockholders a fair return on their investment and to attract new investors. Their money allows us to replace outdated equipment with new and efficient equipment, expand our service to new customers, and provide the kind of maintenance that adds up to reliable service.

Through good management, we're doing our best to do more for you.

Federal Inflation Fighting Can Take Funny Twists

Inflation fighting by the federal government can take some funny twists. While many agencies are urging both management and labor to hold down wages and prices, another arm of government is urging changes that could cost consumers billions per year extra in food costs alone.

That agency is the Bureau of Motor Carrier Safety, which is advocating a little publicized plan to change the hours of service for the nation's truck drivers.

On its surface the plan seems reasonable: to increase the amount of off duty time for drivers by up to 60 percent following each ten hours of driving.

However, the "ripple effect" of this plan would mean both higher prices for consumers and severe economic effects in many of the nation's small communities.

It would force the trucking industry to use 10 trucks for the work nine now perform, and that could cause tremendous increases in the price of consumer items.

In official testimony on the proposal, Swift & Co. estimated it would add $2 billion to the nation's already high food bill each year.

In addition to the problems this would cause for everyone who eats, the proposal would have a disastrous effect on many communities that depend on payrolls from trucking operations and related industries.

For example, a major user of truck transportation in Preque Isle, Maine, 420 miles north of Boston, now employs 1,200 workers. That small community depends on the plant payroll.

But, like many small and medium sized operations, this firm can't stand to be hit with more cost increases. As its officials say:

"Any further additional costs to our operation could and will have devastating effects on this company's survival." And, if the company goes, so goes the economy of the area.

Another example:

A Florida common carrier of canning supplies and products says the rescheduling of drivers' hours would boost costs enough that it would cease operations. The ultimate losers: the nearby community and its residents. Clearly, a nation with an already inflationary economy can scarcely afford any more government tinkering to cause higher prices for all of us — and severe economic hardship for many segments of the population.

Cattlemen's Meeting Set

Dr. O.D. Butler, Jr., Associate Vice President for Agricultural & Renewable Resources at Texas A&M University, will be the speaker at a special cattlemen's meeting to be held in Lamar County on November 27, 1978. Dr. Butler will give a motivational presentation on the challenges of the beef industry in the years ahead at the sales arena of the Paris Livestock Commission Company.

Up until about a year ago, Dr. Butler had served as head of the Animal Science Department at Texas A&M University for 21 years. He has provided effective administrative leadership for research, teaching and Extension in all areas of animal science in Texas.

This will be the first time that Dr. Butler has addressed cattlemen in Lamar County and organizers of the meeting are hopeful that cattlemen in the area will support the meeting by their attendance. Sponsors of the meeting are the All Breed Bull Sale Committee of the Lamar County Chamber of Commerce and the County Beef and Forage Committee. Dr. Butler is a native of Orange County and received his undergraduate degrees from Texas A&M University and a Ph. D. in Animal Husbandry from Michigan State University. He served with the United States Army in 1941-45 and has continued in the beef industry. Among these is the Progressive Farmer, Man of the Year Award for service to southern agriculture in 1964.

The November 27th meeting will kick off with a homemade chili supper at 6:30 p.m. Compliments of the All Breed Bull Sale Committee. The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. and producers will have a chance to inspect the bull consignments to the sale and visit with sale consignors.

Sale of the bulls begin at noon the following day. Dr. Don Smith is committee chairman.

Stockmen Can Winterize Herds

With winter approaching, stockmen can take certain steps to winterize their cow herd for a more efficient operation, points out Bob Moody, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Efficiency is increased mainly by culling unproductive cows that would otherwise consume costly supplemental feed.

Moody lists these steps as part of a cow herd winterizing checklist:

1. Sell all cows found open in a pregnancy test.
2. Treat eyes for injury, blindness and tumors.
3. Check teeth for excessive wear and decay—both cause problems in eating and loss of weight.
4. Inspect ears for ticks and treat as needed.
5. Treat any cow showing signs of stress from internal parasites.
6. Remove all cows in poor condition since they probably will not conceive next year.
7. Watch for lameness and any other problem in structural soundness that might limit the cow's ability to forage.
8. Check udders and teats for injuries that may limit the milk when the calf does arrive.
9. Search for last year's records for health problems that may limit a cow's future usefulness, such as retained placenta, calving difficulty or prolapsed uteri.

Winterizing the cow herd is just good sound management, contends Moody. This saves on supplemental feed and also reduces the competition for range grasses.

ANGIE CLAYPOOL, driver and Mrs. Jim Sulsar, both Paris residents, struck a black angus cow on Highway 271 near Cox Field at approximately 9:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 10. Officers investigating the accident had received several

Tax Assistants Needed

Volunteers are needed to assist low-income and elderly taxpayers who have difficulty completing basic Federal income tax forms, A.W. MCCanless, District Director for Dallas District of IRS, said recently.

The IRA sponsors the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program to help those who cannot afford private assistance and who are unable or unwilling to use Taxpayer Service offices staffed by IRS employees.

As participants in VITA, volunteers help low-income individuals and older Americans with relatively simple tax return status complete Federal income tax returns. They also advise taxpayers on basic tax matters such as the earned income credit, tax treatment of pension benefits and dependency requirements.

Volunteers do not have to meet any education or experience requirements to train as VITA assistants. However, each volunteer must complete a two to three day IRS instruction session in basic income tax procedure.

Individuals or groups interested in participating should contact Frank Boyce or JoAnn Campbell by calling IRS or writing to: Internal Revenue Service, 1100 Commerce Street, Code 151B, Dallas, Texas 75242.

How long can you depend on Lone Star for natural gas service?

10 Years  20 Years  50 Years  More Than 50 Years

"Natural" is the key word in question. Unless regulatory price limitations make the development of new gas fields unprofitable for this area's producers, it will be many years before natural gas supplies run short for our million-plus priority customers.

The good news, however, is that these "natural" reserves can be supplemented with enough synthetic gas to keep Lone Star in the gas business for the next 50 years. And beyond.

Lone Star has weathered too many storms in the last 69 years to shy away from the challenge of the energy future. We know what must be done to meet that challenge, and we'll meet it.

The groundwork is done.

There are excellent reasons for optimism. Foremost of these is the fact that 50% of the known onshore gas reserves in the United States are in areas where Lone Star already has pipeline systems in operation.

The energy outlook becomes even more promising when you consider the enormous, long-term potential of the gas fields under development in Texas' Gulf Coast waters. Lone Star is already buying some offshore gas. And we intend to buy enough of it to satisfy our customers' demand as it becomes available in volumes large enough to be gathered efficiently and economically.

Lone Star's ability to take delivery of new natural gas reserves as they are developed gives us an outstanding opportunity to buy our area's fair share—enough gas to last our customers for many years.

Whether we can take advantage of this opportunity depends mostly on whether we'll be allowed to recover our actual costs on a timely basis.

Without the ability to pay our gas bill, earn a reasonable rate of return on our investments and recover our operating expenses, we will be unable to continue an aggressive supply program in time for it to be really effective.

There is no shortage of natural gas.

There's only a shortage of the low-priced, easily accessible gas that nearly everyone took for granted in years past.

If gas producers are given incentives to continue their risks in exploring for deeper, more inaccessible reserves, there is little reason for our high-priority customers to face natural gas shortages until we're deep into the 21st century.

After that, the future for gas energy still looks good. The technology for gasifying coal is a fact, not some fantasy of the future. And our nation has enormous coal deposits.

Converting it into gas makes sense. Because gas burns clean and doesn't pollute. It also makes economic sense, because this gas can be distributed through the pipeline system we have, and the families who have gas appliances can keep right on using them.

How long can you depend on Lone Star for gas service? We intend to make sure your children's grandchildren can depend on us.

Going Strong

by Gerry Johnson

Daily Grind This Man's Delight

By taking up an almost-vanished occupation, 72-year-old Ralph H. Ralph, of Mesa, Arizona, has built a flourishing business catering to the many mobile home parks located in the Arizona desert.

Ralph is now a traveling knife and scissor sharpener, a trade that dates back to the days when scissors grinders used to travel from town to town in their horse-drawn wagons. Years ago, these itinerants were fairly common and traveled well-established routes. By the time a person's knives or scissors got dull again, the scissor grinder was making another stop.

Figuring there was a need for such a service, Ralph set himself up in business, buying a gas-driven van for transportation. His business instincts proved to be right on target. A few years after going into business, the demand for his services made it necessary for Ralph to take on a partner.

"I got into this business because I didn't like retirement," Ralph told a writer from The National Council on the Aging. "It was something I'd been looking forward to, but it didn't take me long to find out that sitting in a rocking chair or watching television all day wasn't for me."

After a lifetime of working, it was no wonder Ralph wasn't happy in retirement without a business to operate. For 13 years he owned a nursery in Coolidge, Arizona, selling that business to run a fertilizer business in Casa Grande, also in Arizona. In 1955, he sold his second business and started Ralph's Ironite Company, his third and last business, which he ran until 1970, selling it to launch what he thought would be his retirement.

"The only good thing about my retirement was that I had a lot of time to think," Ralph said. "Mainly I thought about how I didn't like to sit around, but I also thought that a mobile sharpening service might do pretty good."

Many of the residents of the mobile home parks Ralph services are retired and don't drive as much as they did when they were younger. Or, like people of any age, they enjoy the luxury of personalized service.

Ralph works with the people who schedule activities in the various mobile home parks he visits, paying them a percentage of his earnings in return for setting up appointments in their parks.

"Most of the activity directors are retired and they can always use a little extra income, so why not spread it around?" Ralph said. "Besides, I'm not out to get rich or conquer the world with my business. More than any money I make, it keeps me busy. That's the most important thing."

As advertising for his business, Ralph has designed and copyrighted what he calls "Astrology Rhymes." His customers enjoy the poems he has written about each sign of the zodiac, although, "it's all in fun, not to be taken seriously," he said.

With his business now firmly established, Ralph intends to be sharpening scissors and knives for some time to come.

"Why, I'd be a fool to sell this business," he said. "I can finish my work in about five hours a day and I take every Sunday off. That's just about right for a retired man, wouldn't you say?"

YOUR WEEK AHEAD By DAMIS

- Forecast Period November 19 - 25
- ARIES Mar. 21-Apr. 19 At this time, you need a lot of understanding. A member of the opposite sex's attitude might disturb you.
- TAURUS Apr. 20-May 20 Resist the urge to strike back at a bit of sarcasm going on around you. Diplomacy will be very effective with your associates.
- GEMINI May 21-June 20 Forget about new friends at this time. Devote more time to old friends and business associates. Consolidation is important.
- MOONCHILD June 21-July 22 You rarely feel courage, but cosmic influences now build your confidence. You are heading toward solid goals.
- LEO July 23-Aug. 22 Mercenary appeasement, for sure! A gift or so, here. And a dollar or so, there, will go a long, long way.
- VIRGO Aug. 23-Sept. 22 You have become a little too eager. You are stepping on someone's toes — who happens to be in authority.
- LIBRA Sept. 23-Oct. 22 According to stellar patterns, there is an unusual message due. Most members of your sign should receive an interesting phone call.
- SCORPIO Oct. 23-Nov. 21 Some Scorpio's with extreme reluctance, will be forced to cut bait! A decision facing you on the opposite sex is apparent.
- SAGITTARIUS Nov. 22-Dec. 21 Punctuality will not be one of your strong points. Lethargy and indifference are dominating. You can't help it.
- CAPRICORN Dec. 22-Jan. 19 Demands on you this week will be more than you can handle. As a matter of fact, cool it!
- AQUARIUS Jan. 20-Feb. 18 Aggressive action puts you ahead of competition. When opportunity knocks — you must open the door.
- PISCES Feb. 19-Mar. 20 Success this time could go to your head. However, don't join the ranks of your enemies and become hard to get along with.

THOUGHT FOR FOOD

By GOULD CROOK

Turkey Tips

When we start thinking about holidays we start thinking about food, and one of our main treats is the holiday bird — turkey.

We wonder what size bird to buy — keep in mind that you want to allow 1½ pounds per person. You're sure to have enough and quite sure to have some leftover for sandwiches or one of many tasty casserole dishes.

A reminder on thawing: A 12 to 16 pound turkey will take 2 to 3 days to thaw in the refrigerator or 6 to 8 hours the cold water method.

Roast the turkey, breast side up on a rack in a shallow roasting pan. Rub the skin of the turkey with salt and butter. Allow about 18 minutes per pound in a 325° oven. Baste the bird frequently with pan juices and additional melted butter. To prevent overbrowning, cover the roaster with a loose tent like top for the final cooking time. Using the 12 to 16 pound size for example, the roasting time should be 4 to 5 hours. Cooking times vary due to differences in turkey and roasters. The thickest part of the drumstick will feel soft when the bird is done.

One more thing — decrease cooking time if the turkey is unstuffed.

American Viewpoints

Agriculture, manufacturers, commerce and navigation, the four pillars of our prosperity, are most thriving when left most free to individual enterprise.

Facts from a pro on driving to survive.

Q. Is it illegal to put a police radio monitor in my car? S.S., San Marcos.

A. A monitor, no...a transmitter, yes. If you take this monitor along with you on a trip, be warned that it is illegal to have either transmitter or monitor in some states. You might also be interested to know that, even in Texas, passing on information received over a police radio monitor is a violation of the Federal Communications Act of 1934.

Q. A couple of months ago someone asked for clarification on the "right turn on red" law. Even though you answered it, many people still don't understand the law or they try to take advantage of it. Would you please restate the law? R.L., Austin

A. The "right turn on red" law is still rather new and it will take people a while to get used to it. The law says that, unless prohibited by a posted sign, you may make a right turn on a red light after you have made a complete stop and have yielded to traffic in the intersection and pedestrians. Also, you may make a left turn on a red light if the intersecting streets are both one way and a left turn is permissible.

Q. I have seen an increasing number of motorcyclists ride with their headlights on during the day. I'm new in the state and wondered if this was a law? J.K., Freeport

A. Not in Texas. Some cyclists ride with their headlights on at all times so that other motorists can see them better. Too many car-motorcycle accidents occur because the car driver simply didn't see the cyclist. The motorcycle's small size causes it to "disappear" into the background on busy streets. Some states (like Virginia) require cyclists to have their lights on all the time. Some manufacturers are making cycles so that the headlight comes on whenever the engine is started, but there is no law to that effect in Texas.

you and the LAW

PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: If I am arrested for drunk driving, do I have to submit to a breath test?

A: State law says that every driver is presumed to have given consent to a breath test, if arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol. If the test is refused, no breath sample will be taken, but the law also allows state police to request suspension of the driver's license for refusing the test. The suspension request must be presented at a hearing before a municipal court judge or justice of the peace.

Q: My son is staying with friends out of state this summer. Does my ex-husband have a right to withhold child support payments because my son is not living with me during the summer?

A: The child support payments set in a divorce decree must be obeyed as long as the court order is in effect. Neither parent has a right to change the order without the approval of the court. Anyone making court-ordered child support payments who intentionally withholds payment, without first requesting the court to modify the order, risks being punished for contempt of court.

Q: My aunt died three years ago and left several hundred dollars in a safety deposit box. She left no will, and her sister asked me to help her get access to the safety deposit box because she's too ill to travel. A lawyer told me we'd have to go to court, even though there is no other relative who wants the money. I can't understand why we have to go to court to get the money.

A: State laws concerning the estates of persons who die without a will provide very strict requirements designed to protect the interest of all relatives and other persons involved. Before the bank can release the funds, you must submit proof of death, an affidavit of heirship, and an order of the probate court.

Q: Our daughter in junior high school is threatening to move into an apartment with several other girls as soon as she reaches the age of 17. She keeps insisting that when she reaches the age of 17, she is no longer a minor and therefore cannot be held against her wishes. At what age is she no longer responsible to the rules of the home?

A: Juvenile court jurisdiction is limited to acts committed by children after they are 10 years old and prior to their 17th birthday. After they reach the age of 17, there is no law which gives a parent authority to force a child to return to their home unless the child already was under the control of the juvenile court.

Send your questions to "You and the Law," State Bar of Texas, P. O. Box 12487, Austin, 78711. Answers may appear in columns in hypothetical terms; personal answers not possible.

GRAPE-CRANBERRY MARMALADE IS COLORFUL HOLIDAY TREAT

If you're wishing you had taken advantage of summer's fresh fruits to put up jams and jellies for holiday gift-giving, wish no more. Contrary to popular opinion, you don't always have to plan ahead to look like you did. Late starters can look like a million with a little grape juice and some cranberries, thanks to the clever home economists at the Ball Corporation.

GRAPE-CRANBERRY MARMALADE

2 cups Concord grape juice
2 cups stemmed cranberries
1/2 teaspoon grated orange peel
3 cups sugar

Combine juice, cranberries and orange peel; bring to boiling. Add sugar; bring slowly to boiling, stirring until sugar dissolves. Cook rapidly to jelling point, about 5 minutes. Stir occasionally to prevent sticking. Pour, boiling hot, into hot jars, leaving 1/4-inch head space. Adjust caps. Process 15 minutes in boiling water bath. Yield: about 4 half-pints.

The Good Word from the Bible

... a weekly inspirational message for today's life-styles.

Then came Peter to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall I forgive my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? til seven times? Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times: but, Until seventy times seven.

St. Matthew 18: 21-22

Jesus might as well have said that we should forgive our brother a thousand times a thousand. Imagine how difficult it would be to say, "I forgive you" if someone offends us time after time after time.

The message is clear, however. It is Christ's way, the Christian way, to forgive. Imagine once more, how better off the world if there were more forgiveness, more brotherhood among men.

We may never see a perfect world but, in Christ's way, we can find a better one.

Blakely-Huddleston Vows Exchanged

Miss Sherry Lynn Blakely became the bride of Rex A. Huddleston in a semi-formal ceremony at 7:30 p.m., October 14 in the First Baptist Church of Bogata, the Rev. Bob Posey officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Blakely of Harper, Kansas, and Mr. and Mrs. Barney Gayler of Bogata. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Huddleston of Bogata.

Miss Gaylene Blakely, sister of the bride, sang "You Light Up My Life," and "More", accompanied by Mrs. Carlton Stanley, organist, who also presented the traditional wedding marches.

The couple repeated their double-ring vows before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladiolus with mint green and apricot streamers flanking two seven-branch candelabras, forming an arch, white wedding tapers, entwined with Spanish Ivy. Two three branch candelabras with streamers and white wedding tapers marked each side of the altar. The family pews were marked with streamers of the bride's chosen colors.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her family. For her wedding she wore a gown of candlelight satin featuring an A-line skirt trimmed with lace scallops and chapel-length train, empire waist, stand-up collar, and puffed sleeves capped in lace. Tiny self-covered buttons accented the long fitted cuffs and embroidered lace covered bodice. The bride's fingertip veil of illusion fell from a headband of lace daisies. She carried a cascade of miniature white roses, mint green daisies, apricot carnations, babies breath and greenery with pastel streamers.

Miss Anita Blakely was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. John Davis and Miss Deonna Mankins, all of Bogata. The attendants gowns of mint green crepe were designed similar to that of the bride. Each wore a mint green picture hat adorned with candlelight streamers and carried a long stemmed white rose with streamers.

Miss Angela Cox was flower girl and Gary Lee Bankston was ringbearer. Candelighters were Miss Tracie Jeffery and Miss Deonna Mankins.

Jim Bill Chaloner served as best man. Groomsmen were Berney Huddleston and Gary Huddleston, brothers of the groom, all of Bogata. Serving as ushers were Larry Harville, Lewisville, and Alan Blakely, Harper, Kansas, brother of the bride.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents were hosts for a reception held in the Fellowship Hall of the church, honoring the newlyweds. Miss Tracie Jeffery presided at the registry. Mrs. Gary Bankston, Mrs. Jim Chaloner, Mrs. Gary Huddleston, and Mrs. Berney Huddleston served punch and wedding cake from a table covered in net and centered with an arrangement of carnations and daisies. Miss Gaylene Blakely, Harper, Kansas, distributed rice bags.

The bride is a 1977 graduate of Rivercrest High School. She is a former employee of Baker and Taylor, Clarksville, and is now working for Tide Fertilizer in Deport, Texas. Her husband was graduated from Rivercrest High School in 1973 and is a Paris Junior College graduate. He is employed by Texas Utilities Generating Company at Winfield and is also in the construction business with his father.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Huddleston

Following a wedding trip to Dallas, the couple is residing at 409 N. Main in Bogata. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Huddleston were hosts for a dinner at the Branding Iron Restaurant in Clarksville immediately following the wedding rehearsal on Friday evening. Thirty-five people attended and the couple presented their attendants with gifts.

Child Care Income Must Be Reported

Again this year, working parents who claim the credit for child care on their Federal tax return are required to furnish the name, address, and social security number of their babysitter.

At the same time, providers of child or dependent care services must report amounts received as income on their Federal tax return and the IRA said it is stepping up its efforts to insure that the income reported is consistent with amounts claimed by parents who take advantage of the credit.

IRS Form 2441, "Credit for Child And Dependent Care Expenses" calls for claimants to furnish certain identifying information about the child care provider and the amount he or she was paid.

The credit for child and dependent care is 20 percent of actual child care expenses paid so parents can work. Money paid to a babysitter so the parents can go out socially does not count for purposes of the credit. The maximum credit is $400 for one child and $800 for two or more children.

The credit can be claimed by all taxpayers, regardless of income, and encompasses not only the workday care of children but certain other eligible dependents as well.

Arkla Gas Plans Storage Project

An application to construct a $39,000,000 gas storage project in eastern Oklahoma was filed earlier this week by Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission in Washington.

D.W. Weir, chairman of the board of Arkla, said that the project will connect directly into Arkla's main transmission system serving Arkansas, north Louisiana and northeastern Texas.

Weir said it "is another big step forward by Arkla to assure its highest priority customers that it can deliver adequate volumes of gas to them during cold weather." The highest priority customers are residential and commercial users—homes, schools, hospitals, offices, and the like, often described as "human needs" customers.

"We are hoping for prompt approval by the FERC," Weir said, "so that construction on the project can be started right away and be ready for the 1981-82 heating season when it will be needed."

The project will bring Arkla's investment in new storage facilities over a 5-year period to approximately $55,000,000 including current expansion of another storage field near Ada, Okla., costing $5,500,000. Arkla's total investment in all storage fields will be approximately $80,000,000, Weir said.

During the summer months, gas is produced from wells on the company's system and injected into depleted gas fields. During the coldest winter days when heating needs are at a peak, the gas is pumped out of the storage field and is added to the pipeline supply.

The new storage project, known as Chiles Dome, is located about 13 miles northwest of Coalgate, Okla., and will have a working capacity of 12 billion cubic feet of gas and a minimum daily deliverability of 133 million cubic feet. It will raise Arkla's working gas storage capacity from 18.3 billion cubic feet to 30.3 billion, an increase of 66 percent, and raise its daily minimum deliverability to 608 million cubic feet per day, an increase of 28 percent.

The Chiles Dome project includes:

Drilling of 15 new injection-withdrawal wells, workover of five existing wells for injection-withdrawal, and the drilling of one observation well.

Construction of 6.38 miles of gathering lines from the 20 wells to a central dehydration facility, a 6,750 horsepower compressor station, and 11 miles of 16 inch line from the compressor station to Arkla's existing Anadarko pipeline across Oklahoma and into Arkansas; 17 miles of 30-inch "loop" line on the Anadarko pipeline and an additional 4,250 horsepower compressor station.

SENIOR CITIZEN'S CORNER

Eye Care

Cataracts head the list of eye disorders and are particularly related to elder persons. Some medical experts claim that if we "live long enough," most of us will develop cataract.

Cataract is an opacity, or clouding, of the eye's lens which blocks the passage of light needed for vision. Its underlying cause has yet to be determined. Symptoms include spots, ghost images, the impression of a skim over the eyes, trouble with lights or a milky spot in the normally black pupil of the eye.

Simple surgery, entailing a safe operation, normally results in vision restoration. Statistics show success in more than 95 out of 100 cases.

Surgery can be performed when the person feels that the degree of vision loss caused by the cataract is interfering with his normal life activities. Eye surgeons remove the clouded lens and most patients return home within five days. Ultimately, cataract patients must have a replacement for the clouded lens.

Ophthalmologists prescribe either a set of special cataract eyeglasses, or, contact lenses.

Irving Club Honors Vanessa Clark

On Monday, Nov. 6, the Irving Optimist Club honored 16 local youths during its "Youth Appreciation Week" program. The youths were given plaques at a banquet at the Airport Marina Hotel.

The youths were chosen by their school principals or organization's district councils for their participation in projects that benefit the community and school.

Vanessa Clark, 13, is a student at Travis Junior High School, and is the daughter of Bill and Joyce Clark of Irving. Her mother is the former Joyce Seaman of Bogata.

In elementary school she played soccer, girls softball and at age 12 was the only girl member of the U.S. Skateboard Park competition team. In recent months she has competed in and taken trophies in bicycle moto-cross activities.

At Travis Junior High she is involved in the Publications Committee, STS English, Algebra, the Student Council, the Youth Advisory Council and the French Club. Last year, Miss Clark went to District Competition with her science fair project, which was a solar home.

After graduation from high school, Miss Clark hopes to study law at Harvard. She wants to continue pursuing photography as an added career. She is a member of the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer in Irving.

The staunch New York Republican complained: "The Democrats are making it tough for me to get out of town. I have to use FDR Drive and go past four Johnson restaurants to Kennedy airport. I even pay my toll with a Kennedy half-dollar."

"Stop griping," replied his Democrat sidekick. "Or, you'll have to save up enough Lincoln pennies, buy a ticket to Hoover Dam and jump off!"
