

Rivercrest Hosting Tournament

By Britt Morgan
The Rebels and Rebelettes will host the Invitational 1981 Rivercrest Tournament this weekend, starting at 10 a.m. Thursday, December 3 and continuing through Saturday. The tournament will feature possible the finest line-up of teams in the Red River Valley. These teams include the Delmar Eagles, Roxton, North Lamar

Panthers, Prairiland Patriots, Honey Grove Warriors, Cooper Bulldogs, Detroit Eagles, and of course, Rivercrest's Rebs. Both boys' coach Wake Wood and girls' mentor Frank Stubblefield are excited about the tournament. "We're just real pleased to hold a tournament this year. And I think it will be the best one in our area," said Wood of the upcoming event. "But we will need the support of all the communities to make the tournament a success. That means, not only coming to see our (Rivercrest) teams play, but attending as many of the games as possible. And I don't think there will be any game that will not be worth watching." Unlike many tournaments where strong teams were pitted against weak ones, this tournament holds no weak teams, according to Wood and Stubblefield. All of the games are evenly matched and all are considered toss-ups, therefore no team is picked as a favorite to win the tournament.

The Rebelettes play their first game at 1:00 p.m. Thursday, against Delmar, and the Rebs play Delmar at 2:30 p.m. Thursday for their first contest. So the stage is set, the actors are prepared, the orchestra has begun to play, and the curtain is ready to open. But the most important element of the show is missing—the audience. So pack yourselves into whatever means of transportation you can find and come out to the Rivercrest gym to support your community, your school, and your children.

Rebels Defeat Mt. Vernon 86-51

The Rivercrest Rebels defeated Mt. Vernon Tuesday night with a score of 86-51. David Rozell led the scoring with 18 points, and James Strickland had 13. John Hines was close behind with 12 points.

Coach Wood commented that all ten members of the team contributed to the game, and each member of the team scored during the game. Coach Wood also stated that the starting lineup for this season is not yet definitely decided, and games like the Mt. Vernon, Rivercrest game provide an opportunity to further make the decisions concerning a starting lineup.

Ambulance Service Membership Efforts

The Red River Ambulance Service announced that they have met sixty-one percent of their goal of $100,000 of subscription fees during their subscription drive. They noted that forty percent of last year's subscribers have not renewed, and as of December 1 are no longer covered. Subscriptions are, of course, still available, and citizens of the area are urged to take advantage of them. The service has been providing prompt, efficient service not only to Red River County, but to many Deport area residents who find that it is faster to bring an ambulance out of Bogata and take them to the hospital of their choice rather than wait on one to travel the longer distance from Paris.

A membership in the Red River Ambulance Service entitles the members covered to up to 75 miles of free ambulance service transportation each trip and a charge of $1 per mile for over the first 75 miles per trip that the patient is transported. Non members CAN use this service. The rates are a $75 base charge for each pickup and $1.50 per mile charge for each mile a patient is transported. One trip for a non-member can clearly cost much more than a year-long membership for an entire family! Annual fees are $50 per family, and $30 per individual. The six month subscription is $25 per family and $15 per individual. However, there is a possibility of a rate increase in May of 1982, for those with six month memberships. Businesses, Industrial Plants, and School District may purchase memberships to cover employees are students while at work or school, and going to and from work or school for $100 for up to 50 employees, $150 for 51-100 people or $200 for 101 or more. Memberships may be purchased from the Texas New Mexico Power Co. office, John M. Howison, Bogata based ambulance service and Red River Haven Nursing Home and at the Deport Nursing Home in Deport. If a mail subscription is desired a form is included in this issue of the paper. Mail the form with a check made payable to Red River Ambulance Service to either one of the addresses on the form and a receipt and membership card will be mailed to you. New directors from the Deport area were placed on the board of directors Monday, November 1, as the service is expanding it's coverage to that area. They are Roy Lee Castleberry and Nanalee Nichols. From the Bogata area Travis Hale and Morris Foster were appointed to the board. Residents of the entire area are strongly urged to participate in this program which is of immense benefit to family or personal health.

A prize will also be given to the best decorated bicycle or go-cart. Persons participating in the parade are asked to call Rusty Jones or Mrs. Wanda Vickers at the Talco State Bank. More Light Fluorescent lights are more economical than incandescent ones because much more energy goes to lighting rather than to heat cost.

CHRISTMAS QUEEN nominees for 1981 have been selected by popular vote. This year's Court include (L to R): Senior, Dusty Damron, daughter

Mrs. Laranne Denison chose teaching as her profession because "I like to work with young people, and I like learning new things from my students as well as sharing new ideas with them."

She has six year's teaching experience, one in Paris and five years in the Bogata school where she teaches seventh and eighth grade math. Her pet peeve is for students to ask for help on math problem without ever having read the problem first to see if they can actually reason it out for themselves.

The things Mrs. Denison dislikes about school is having to punish a child for misbehaving.

Mrs. Denison received a Bachelor of Arts in Teaching and a Masters of Art from Sam Houston University, and she has done post graduate work at East Texas University.

She and her husband John live in Deport with their three year old son, Dru. For a pastime she likes to work with her plants, in pots in the green house, or in the yard. Earthtones are her favorite colors.

She is member of the Texas State Teachers Association and of the United Presbyterian Church in Deport.

This interview was conducted by Stacy Spencer, a junior member of FTR.

Last week's interview with Miss Brenda Gunter was done by Leah Lewis, a junior member of FTR.

PUBLIC NOTICE

In accordance with rule 052.01.00.043(a) of the Public Utility Commission of Texas' Rules of Practice and Procedure, Continental Telephone Company of Texas announces it has petitioned the Commission for increased rates to offset costs associated with a change in accounting for inside station connection costs.

The increase is the result of an order by the Federal Communications Commission, directing telephone companies to expense certain station connection costs in their accounting procedures. The increase in rates to result from the accounting change will produce an increase of less than one half of one percent in gross intrastate revenues of the Company. The increase will not affect monthly recurring charges but will be reflected as an additional element to nonrecurring service connection charges when a premise visit is required.

In a separate action, Continental Telephone Company has petitioned the Public Utility Commission to amend its tariff by adding a $7.50 service charge for each check returned to the Company unpaid due to insufficient funds. The new service charge is intended to offset costs of administering unpaid checks and will affect gross revenues by approximately $35,000 annually.

The effective date of these rate changes will be based upon approval by the Public Utility Commission.

SENIOR CITIZEN'S CORNER

HELPFUL IDEAS FOR SUCCESSFUL RETIREMENT

GENERATION GAP

When circumstances bring a senior citizen to reside in a family home where teenagers are present, the generation gap can cause instant problems and require some serious adjustments. The transition from chaos to harmony is seldom easy. It behooves the eldest to promote a spirit of cooperation. Here are some ideas.

Teenagers are struggling to become adults and are seeking to gain both identity and respect. They cannot be expected merely to be seen and not heard. Teenagers have their share of problems, and these problems often influence their actions and temperament. Getting along with teenagers requires understanding, often compassion.

Few things are more important in the conduct of human relations than an open line of communication. Individuals of any age respond when they know they are loved, when they know that someone cares. Communication is the key to establishment of areas of mutual interest that can solidify a caring relationship.

Most teenagers want and need privacy. They may be extremely possessive relative to their room, its contents and any personal belongings. They are usually responsive in kind to elders who do not intrude into what they consider their personal domain.

Teenagers take their problems seriously, whether it be acne, poor grades, puppy love or whatever. They look for understanding, rather than jokes or laughter.

In short, teenagers are people, too.

CHRIST'S "SOMETHING MORE"

December 6, 1981

Background Scripture: Matthew 14: 28-33; Mark 1: 11; 9: 2-8.
Devotional Reading: 1 Corinthians 1: 20-31.

At one time it was fashionable in some circles to regard Jesus as nothing more than a fictional or mythical character. Apart from the Bible itself, there is no proof that such a man actually lived and died in the first century A.D.

Nevertheless, today, if I can judge from what I see, hear and read, there doesn't seem to be much doubt among most people that Jesus was an actual historical figure. The conflict and disagreement today seems more to be over the question: Who was this man? or, depending upon your approach, Who is this Christ?

The Son of God

Christians often attempt to answer either or both of these questions by listing one or more of his titles. Jesus, we say, is the Christ, the Messiah, the Lord, our Savior, the Incarnate Word of God, the Master, and the Son of God. (Although we do not usually use this title, we are aware that the Gospels, particularly Mark, also call him the Son of man at times.)

But titles are not answers in themselves. For when we say that Jesus is the Son of God, what are we saying?

In Mark, we find that Jesus' divine "sonship" was that Gospel's main theme. He begins his Gospel proclaiming "The beginning of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God" (1: 1). At Mark's recounting of the baptism of Jesus, there is "a voice from heaven, 'Thou art my beloved Son; with thee I am well pleased,'" (1: 11). And on the Mount of Transfiguration, there is another voice, saying of Jesus, "This is my beloved Son; listen to him" (9: 7). What is Mark trying to say to us about Jesus?

In Daniel 3: 25 King Nebuchadnezzar saw in the fiery furnace besides Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego a fourth person whose appearance was that of a "son of the gods," indicating that there is something divine about him. In the books of Job and Psalms the term "sons of God" indicates beings who are divine but subordinate to God. In other Old Testament sources, to be God's "son" or "sons" implies simply a special relationship with God (the nation of Israel, Exodus 4: 22, 23; the Davidic king, Psalms 89: 26, 27; etc.).

The Divine Become Human
Mark, however, implies something more when he uses this term. This "something more" was a special, filial relationship between Jesus and God ("Father" being the term Jesus used most in referring to God). It also indicated that the disciples realized that, in dealing with this man Jesus, in some way virtually indefinable they were dealing with God Himself. As John would later put it, they found that the Word had become flesh in Jesus, the divine expressed in human terms.

The title "Son of God" is impossible to precisely define, but it does not matter that we cannot define it, so long as we are able to experience for ourselves the "something more" of Jesus, the Son of God.

Agricultural Briefs

By Paul D. Payne

The special local needs label for Sencor in wheat in Texas has been revised for 1981-82. The important points from the revised label are: (1) Use only on dryland winter wheat on the varieties TAM W101, TAM W105, and Newton, (2) Do not use on high calcareous soils or soils with a pH greater than 7.7, (3) Do not use on soils containing less than one percent organic matter, (4) Application may be made in the fall or spring, but wheat should have developed at least three tillers and four secondary roots that measure two in length to avoid injury, apply prior to jointing, (5) apply before weeds are two inches tall or have a two inch diameter rosette to assure effective control, (6) Do not graze treated fields for 14 days after treatment, (7) Temporary chlorosis may occur, especially if frost occurs, (8) Weed control may not be observed for two to six weeks after application depending upon rainfall frequency. Winter Weed Control Winter weeds especially henbit seem to be a more widespread problem every year. There are at least two herbicides that can be applied in the fall or winter to control cool season weeds that have a state label.

Bladex, manufactured by Shell, can be applied either pre-emergence or post for henbit control in land to be planted to cotton, grain sorghum, or corn. The weed should be sprayed before it is six inches tall. It will be necessary to use a herbicide for spring weed control at the time the crop is planted.

Igran, manufactured by CIBA-GEIGY, is another herbicide that can be fall applied to Blackland for control of henbit, seedling dock and annual thistle where sorghum is going to be planted. Weeds should be less than six inches tall and a herbicide will also be needed in the spring.

Applicators should add a surfactant or agricultural oil to both of these herbicides for best results.

Three more weeks of dry weather is needed by area food and fiber producers in order to get the 1981 crops harvested and the winter wheat crop planted. Most farmers would welcome a longer period than that, but a light shower in about three weeks would not hurt anything.

The 1981 County peanut crop which looked like a record breaker back in September could turn out to be a disaster. Producers are reporting in excess of 15 percent loss of nuts due to the extended wet season.

Harvesting activity picked back up this past weekend. Late planted milo, soybeans, guar and peanut harvest is under way while other farmers attempt to get the 1982 wheat crop in the ground.
