When a Texan runs short of stupendous facts, however true, to lay on an audience, he can often reach into a store of creative material about the Lone Star State..and hardly miss a word.

One item currently making the rounds is called "The Texas Braggadotta," and the story that goes with it is that a vacationer at Galveston came on a bottle washed up on the beach with a bit of parchment inside

A message was written by someone named Leinad Moolb, and it goes this wav

"Go placidly amid the oil rigs and the cowboys and remember what peace there may be in Texas. As far as possible, be on good terms with your neighbors whether they be native or naturalized, and remember that the Indians were here first, long ago.

"You are a denizen of the biggest, brashest, most gussied-up state in the Union and therefore conduct yourself accordingly but don't overdo it. Respect the signs of nature, preserve the environment or what's left of it, recycle your laundry and watch out for prickly cacti, be they in plant or human form.

Levee Break Sends Sulphur On Rampage Flood Damages Severe To Farmers

Bogata Jr. High

The "Flood of 1982" carved out extensive damage and losses for farmers within reach of the overflowing Sulphur River and its tributaries, according to agriculture officials in Red River and Titus counties.

"It's difficult to put a dollar mark on the damges at this point, but it is considerable," says county extension agent Bob Moody of Red River County.

In Red River County, damages were not confined to the Sulphur area as the norther borders of the county were well-soaked by floodwater from the Red River, also causing damages to croplands in that area.

The damages, especially to crops, were considerable along the Sulphur in the Bogata-Talco area. The Highway 271 bridges were closed to traffic from Thursday through late Saturday, as the bridges and approaches were covered by more than two feet of rushing waters.

TV GUIDE?...As you may or may not have observed, we have stopped including the TV schedules in the paper. Frankly, we didn't think there was that much interest in the schedules that were being published, especially since the list included a number of channels no one can get around here unless you have one of those satellite dishes of your own. If you do miss the TV schedules and would like to see them returned to the paper, call our office in either Deport or Bogata and let the voice on the other end of the telephone know, or stop in at either of the offices and voice your comment in person. If enough readers want the schedules, we'll see about getting them back.

caused the Bogata-Talco schools to begin an early weekend as schools remained closed on Friday.

A sudden deluge of rainfall, ranging from 7 to 13 inches started the overflow and things began to get hectic when a levee in Franklin County washed out, spilling its runoff into the Sulphur.

After foaming under the bridges on Highway 37 near Hagansport, the water spread out into nearly a mile wide lake as it flowed on toward the Highway 271 bridges between Johntown and Talco.

R.W. "Red" Sanford of Talco called the flood waters on the 271 "the second highest I've ever seen.

Agriculture officials in Titus and Red River counties say several hundred acres of crops went down the drain, especially wheat, with grain sorghum and corn, along with some cotton, also being washed out.

Other than soybeans, it is now too late for replanting.

There's still plenty of time to plant soybeans, probably up to about June 20, if we can get some dry weather," Moody says.

Trustees Discuss Travel Pay, Ballfields, Tax Collections

Items ranging from tax collections to paying travel mileage and operational policies for baseball fields on school property were discussion topics for trustees of the Talco-Togata schools at their regular meeting.

There was also an excutive session, listed as discussion of a personnell matter, with no action taken.

No action was taken on a proposal from Gary Lesniewski, chief appraiser for the Red River County Appraisal District, that the appraisal district handle tax collections for the Talco-Bogata CISD. Board members pointed out that the school district is a multi-county district with property in Red River, Titus and Franklin counties and that permitting the Red River County Appraisal District to collect all the taxes could cause a number of problems and confilcts for the school district.

In the discussion of travel for administrative and other school personnel, approval was given for the continuation of the policy of paying

"so much" per mile for approved school travel. The report on the board meeting did not specify the "so much' figure

There was a brief discussion on the procedures and operation of the three baseball fields located on schoolowned property in Bogata, Johntown and Talco. The fields have been operated with preferential treatment given teams composed of school age students, with one person in each community in charge of scheduling the field in the community for games and practices.

Board members expressed the desire to continue the operational procedures for th baseball fields. although the administration was requested to make recommendations at the June meeting on other matters involving the baseball fields, such as concessions

Written information on the administrative guidelines used in selecting students for the Meat Processing Lab when there are more requests for participation than can be accomondated was presented to board members. The guidelines were previously approved use during the 1982-83 school year.

The attorney for a taxpayer who was not permitted to sigh-up for a homestead exemption, based on the application being submitted after the sign-up deadline, discussed the matter with the school board.

In other action at the May meeting, approval was given for the purchase of carpeting for principal's house in Talco; the various financial reports were approved. Permission was granted for an under age out-of-state transfer student who is presently enrolled in kindergarten to be enrolled in the first grade next school year.

year and continuing to show a gain in sales tax receipts for the overall year to date.

Bogata has received a reimbursement of $4,653.17 for the period ending May 9, which is an increase of nearly $500 over the same period a year ago. Through the first five months of the 1982 year, Bogata now has received $9,860.88, which is an increase of 4.5 percent over the initial five months of 1981.

Talco's reimbursement check from the state comptroller's office totaled $9,170.08. That represents an increase of nearly $1,000 over the same period of a year ago. Talco has $19,943.23 in sales tax money through the first five months of 1982, an increase of 29 percent over a year ago.

Talco and Mt. Pleasant are the only Titus County cities showing an increase in sales tax receipts for the year to date. Mt. Pleasant is up by 22.6 percent, while Monticello is 18 percent behind its pace of a year ago and Winfield is down by 4.7 percent.

In Red River County, all cities with the exception of Avery are running ahead of last year. Avery is 39 percent behind a year ago after five months. Bogata's total of $4,653.17 for the

Alma Bell Claims $5 Prize

Mrs. Alma Bell, Route 1, Bogata was the 'Hidden Name'' last week, in the second week of the Hidden Name Game appearing in the News-Times newspapers, and Mrs. Bell had plenty of help in knowing about the game. Mrs. Bell, calling the Bogata News office to identify herself and claim the $5 prize money, said she received several phone calls, "tipping" her off about her name being hidden in the Ye Olde Smokehouse ad in last week's paper.

She requested that her $5 check be out jointly with Joe Ford Grocery in Bogata.

There's a new name "hidden" in one of the ads in today's newspaper and if you're a paid-up subscriber, it just could be you.

Each week we're selecting a name at random from our subscription files, afterwhich the name and address is placed in the same size type as the word you are now reading, then "hidden" in one of the ads.

The name and address, however, may be upside down, on a slant, sideways or in some such condition that makes it easily spotted as compared to other type within the ad. If the Hidden Name you discover is yours and if you will call our office in either Deport (652-4205) or in Bogata (632-5322) before this Saturday noon," you will win $5. If it's a long distance call, we'll accept a collect call if you're the one who has the hidden name.

That's all there is to it. Just spot your name and call us. It isn't necessary to come to the office and pick-up the check; we'll even mail it to you. The only "catch" is that the check

By Bonnie Kyle According to Bonnie Kyle, County Extension Agent, recalls have been issued on the following foods:

The FDA has announced a recall on canned salmon. The recalled salmon has been identified as a botulism containing product. The following canned salmon is the recall product. Salmon in 73/4 ounce cans. There are no specific brands because the salmon was canned under many labels. The following TWO LINE CODE identifies the contaminated product. Top Line of Code: Something, K13, something (This means that K13 holds the middle spaces of a 5 space code.)

There are four numbers or letters in the bottom line of the code but they do not identify the contaminated batch. A can of salmon with this code should be returned to place of purchase.

Mosey's Corned Beef, Inc. is voluntarily recalling its cooked corned beef after U.S.D.A. tests confirmed the presence of salmonella in their product. The suspect meat was produced between January 8 and February 1. It distributed to was delicatessens and similar outlets in many states. Mosey's is notifying its distributors to return the suspect corned beef. Consumers who believe they may have purchased some of the product should return it to place of purchase.

AUSTIN REPORT

by Senator Ed Howard

AUSTIN -- On Monday, May 24th, the Texas Legislature will convene in Special Session in Austin to act on a constitutional Amendment to repeal the state advalorem property tax which is presently designated by the Constitution at the rate of 10 cents per one hundred dollar valuation.

Under Texas law, the Governor has the authority to call special legislative sessions and to determine subjects to be considered during such sessions. Governor Clements, in exercising that authority, has set two issues for consideration, the repeal of the state advalorem tax and a one-time appropriation of state funds to finance building and improvements to seventeen state colleges and universities including East Texas State, Stephen F. Austin, North Texas State, Texas Tech, and the University of Houston.

In 1979, the legislature sought to lower the tax rate from 10 cents per $100 valuation to 1/10,000 percent of valuation in order to provide property tax relief to the citizens of the State of Texas. This legislative action has been challenged in court by Midwestern University in Wichita Falls on the legal theory that any change in a constitutional amendment must be approved by voters rather than the legislature. This suit is scheduled for trial on June 1st. In approving a constitutional amendment repealing the property tax to be submitted to the voters, the legislature might prevent the re-imposition of the 10 cent tax should the lawsuit be decided in favor of the plaintiffs. It has been estimated that taxpayers would face an additional $450 million in taxes if legislative action is not taken.

Inquiries, comments and suggestions regarding the special session or any other matters are always welcome. Senator Howard's telephone number is (512) 475-0140, or you may write to him at P. O. Box 12068, Austin, Texas 78711.

I would like to ask the help of some of your readers. For several year I have worked on the Deaton name, both my own line, and all others.

As time permits, I also work on the Prescott name. I understand that some of the Deatons moved to the Titus-Franklin County areas.. I would appreciate any leads or information. For the past six months I have concentrated heavily on the Kentucky Deatons. This has brought me a number of other people working names that connect with the Deaton name.

If any of your readers are interested in any of these names-Baker, Combs, Davison or Davidson, Gross, Howard, Hearald, McIntohsh, Moore, Noble, Parker, Sebastin, Spicer, Stidham, Spencer, Sizemore, Watts, if they will contact me, I can either furnish some information or the names of someone who is working on that line.

Times' 2 For 1 Subscription In

Final 2 Weeks

The final two weeks of the unique 2for-1 subscription offer to the readers of the News-Times newspapers are now at hand.

Readers of the Deport Times, Bogata News, Blossom Times and Talco Times have through May 31 to take advantage of the 2 subscriptions. for the price of one offer.

Readers may either renew (add a year to their present subscription) or become a new subscriber, then give a gift subscription-both for the price of one.

If a reader is a present subscriber, they can renew their subscription for an additional year, then give a oneyear gift subscription to someone who is not a present subscriber.

If the reader becomes a new subscriber, they can give a free one-year gift subscription to another new reader or extend the subscription of someone who is already taking the apaper.

The only catch is that at least one of the two subscriptions must be for someone who is not a present subscriber to that particular newspaper. If both subscriptions are for persons with addresses in Titus, Red River and-or Lamar counties, the cost is $7.50 for the two one-year subscriptions. If either of the addresses is outside of those counties, the cost is $10 for the two one-year subscriptions.

A person taking the Deport Times can renew that subscription then also subscribe to the Bogata News make the gift subscription out to himself, or herself, for the Bogata News and vice-versa---as long as one of the subscriptions is a new one. The loss of wheat from the floodwaters, coupled with rust damage to the surviving crop, will drastically reduce the anticipated wheat harvest. Farm officials say the rust damage may reduce the surviving wheat production to as low as 20 bushels per acre.

The Titus County agent said he had received unconfirmed reports of livestock losses from floodwaters in the Talco area.

In addition to the crops there has been considerable damage to fences throughout the area, along with several levees that will now require repair.

"The water may be a boon to the pastures and appreciated by the cattlemen, but the crop farmers have suffered as severe blow," the Titus County Agent remarked.

Summer isn't far off now but it might be a really good time to take a good, long look around and appreciate the beautiful countryside we have before us.

Hardly a highway is without it's California poppies, (what we East Texans call buttercups), bluebonnets and Indian paintbrush. But one of the finest sights around right now are the farm to market and black top roads that meander through this part of the world.

They may not be the most direct route home, but they provide a wealth of golden glows, paintbrush, honey suckle, both the old fashioned red kind and the yellow, upland dogwood, and tiny blue and purple flowers that require close inspection to truly appreciate.

No formal garden could possiblly compete with the informal planting that Mother Nature has arranged to such perfection.

Go out some Sunday afternoon and drive slowly, or better yet, get out and walk. Look down, at the tiny colored stars about your feet, look up at the brightly climbing vines and bushes that surround everything. Truly, the wildflowers are a delight right now, but look fast, they won't be here for much longer! Summer's heat will make them give way to prairie sunflowers and purple pokers, which manage to provide color even during the hottest summer.

Spring goes by so quickly, so take advantage of it now.
