Worth

By Nanalee Nichols Sparrows are hardly the ideal bird. Scorned by bird watchers, subject of evil thoughts and sometimes heroic efforts to eliminate their nesting sites, the perky little birds still provide a lesson in determination and perseverance.

If mankind pursued its goals as diligently as does the humble sparrow, there is just no predicting what they might achieve!

Persistence is undoubtedly the main feature of the sparrow. The tiny, feathered critters will nest in the most unlikely of places...window ledges, on top of signs, under awnings and in rattling air conditioners. Nothing short of atomic disaster will sway them from their efforts to hatch a family.

Next door to the office here last week was a perfect drama portraying what I mean.

Two sparrows decided that the top of a small lighted sign was the ideal place to bring up a family.

The store proprietor didn't agree.

So, six times during one day, the sparrows lodged grass and hay upon the flat top of the sign, and six times it was raked down by a store owner who thought himself as determined as the birds.

At dark, of course, the birds quit trying to build a nest.

But within only minutes of daylight the next morning, there was a substantial wad of grass atop the sign!

At last report, the battle still raged, but I think the human side was weakening!

The birds don't give up easily. They display an astonishing amount of ingenuity in nesting...probably the reason they become such extreme pests.

But for myself, their determination and plain old persistence endears them to me. I hate the boogers for the mess they cause, but at the same time can't resist a rueful smile as I, too, pull down the wads of nesting materials they install over the building.

I hate to admit it, but if they ever get as far as laying eggs...well, the sparrows will finish raising their family unmolested, by me at least.

Monday Rain Brings Relief To Area

By Nanalee Nichols A "million dollar rain" is an old expression, but that may be precisely what the area received Monday.

Seldom is rain needed so early in the spring time, but this April has been one of the driest on record...as well as one of the coldest.

March was also a very cold and somewhat dry month.

Farmers have had time to get their crops planted, but were already having to worry about tender seedlings sprouting and then dying from lack of moisture. Some had already had to replant because of the lack of seed bed moisture.

Wheat farmers needed rain to help fill out their wheat heads, which are in a crucial stage right now.

Gardeners, whose persistence has been severely tried by late frosts and freezes, were beginning to water tender tomatoes, peppers and other transplants, while seeds weren't sprouting.

Flower specialists were suffering from the same problems.

The weatherman wasn't predicting quite the fine rain that fell on Lamar, Red River and Titus Counties.

After several days of high wind, consistently gray, cloudy skies and no more than a few sprinkles of rain, Monday looked as if it would produce more of the same.

By noon, however, a fine, cool mist was falling. The mist gradually developed into a drizzle that made gardeners smile and farmers breath a sigh of relief.

Late in the afternoon, the rain was accompanied with some thunder and lightning, and the downfall intensified until puddles were everywhere.

None of the severe thunderstorms, tornadoes or other forms of violent weather materialized in the local vicinity, much to the relief of residents, who visualized last year's turbulent skies.

Fears that May would continue in the same dry vein as April were somewhat relieved, although an inch or more of rain would have been preferred by those on especially dry, light soils.

One optimistic person was heard to remark, "Well, maybe this year nature is saving some moisture for summertime."

Hopefully for agriculturists this will prove true.

But one thing is certain...without Monday's rain, they wouldn't have had to worry about summer being dry...crops and gardens would never have made it that far!

Allied Youth Presents Alcohol Awareness Program

The Rivercrest Allied Youth Organization presented an Alcohol Awareness Program on May 2 in the high school auditorium. The program was to inform the students of the real effects of alcohol.

Guest speakers were Joyce Clark, Chairman of the Board of the Dallas-Ft. Worth Chapter of M.A.D.D., Jim Hooper, a defense attorney from Texarkana, and John Davidson, Regional Director of Services in the alcoholism division of Ark-Tex Council of Governments in Texarkana.

Mrs. Clark, originally from Bogata, spoke to the students concerning the M.A.D.D. (Mothers Against Drunk Drivers) chapter which she helped form two years ago following a tragic crash, killing three people and injuring several others caused by a drunk driver.

Jim Hooper is a graduate of the University of Arkansas School of Law. He handles criminal cases many of which concern DWI offenses. He spoke from the standpoint of the laws concerning these cases.

John Davidson gave the students his views on how the attitudes of the American public must change about the problem of alcohol abuse can be solved. The program was effective and well received by the student body and visitors.

JOYCE SEAMAN CLARK, formerly of Bogata was at Rivercrest High School Monday, May 3 for an alcohol awareness program sponsored by Allied Youth, where she spoke to the student body about her work as president of the Dallas Chapter of M.A.D.D. (Mothers Against Drunk Drivers). In the afternoon, Mrs. Clark spoke to a group of Talco-Bogata mothers concerning her organization and the impact that a local chapter of M.A.D.D. could have on attacking the problem of getting the drunk driver off the highways. Public Urged To Attend Hearing

The City Council of the City of Bogata will meet Tuesday, May 10 in its regular session to consider items to be included in its 1983 fiscal year budget.

The public is encouraged to attend and offer suggestions or comments on the development of the budget. Persons who cannot attend should address their comments in writing to the City prior to the meeting.

Wildflowers To Look At, Not Pick

This spring's profusion of bluebonnets and other wildflowers in many areas of the state has prompted numerous calls to state agencies about the legality of picking the flowers on public lands and state owned highway rights of way.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials said there is some justification for confusion, since state law on the subject is subject to interpretation.

Officials said it is unlawful to pick, dig up or otherwise damage any plant found in a state or national park. Although the bluebonnet has been designated by the Texas Legislature as the official state flower, the plant is not granted any more protection from picking under state law than any other wildflower.

A spokesman for the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation said state law declares it a misdemeanor to "recklessly damage or destroy" wildflowers along state owned road rights of way.

However, he said although his department discourages the public from disturbing the flowers, law enforcement agencies' officials normally do not construe casual enjoyment of the plants, including picking to be reckless damage and destruction.

State agency officials recommend that Texans and visitors enjoy this year's unusually lush offerings of wildflowers without damaging or removing them, in order to allow more people the privilege.

Another recent topic of curiosity has been the availability of seeds for growing bluebonnets and other wildflowers. Officials said no state agency distributes or sells seeds, but some may be available from commercial seed firms, feed stores or plant nurseries.

Immunization Clinic Scheduled For May 12

The Texas Department of Health, Public Region 7 office announced plans recently for the continuation of a series of monthly immunization clinics for all children needing immunizations. The clinic will be conducted at the Bogata City Hall in Bogata on May 12 from 2 to 4 p.m. Future clinic dates will be announced.

The Health Department emphasizes that this clinic is available to all children, preschool and school age, beginning at two months of age. Parents are reminded to bring the child's immunization record if it is available.

Tetanus-diphtheria vaccine is also available to adults.

Dear Myra Jean, I have wanted to thank you for your Johtown News in the Bogata paper. My cousin, Fannie Rhodes, mentioned you in her letters to me and I feel that I should know you. She thought an awful lot of you. I appreciate reading about the happenings in Johtown.

Thank you again for your news column. Cora Davis Thayer

Paris Art Fair Unique Events

The 22 year old Paris Art Fair traditionally attracts artists and spectators from a wide area. Many will come this year from your community, and we wish to reach them with word of our features, attractions and delights planned for May 7 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.
 A rainbow of hot air balloons will add a new dimension May 7 to the 22nd annual Paris Art Fair, rising above the usual music, dancing and special events planned at Paris Junior College.
 Professional artists and amateur craftsmen from across the country will display and sell their work during the fair from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Entertainment for bagpipers, Indian dancers, local singers and musicians—as well as the hot air balloon antics—combine to make the Paris Art Fair an event for the whole family, the whole day.
 At least 25 huge colorful balloons will be in Paris to coincide with the fair, for a nationally sanctioned hot air balloon competition, officials noted. Beginning with preliminary runs on Friday, May 6, the balloons will perform at least three races through Sunday in the "Greater Paris Hot Air Balloon Competition."
 Balloonmeister Dr. William Bussey said that the FAA licensed balloonists would soar above the nearby countryside in competitions named "Hare & Hound," "CNT," and "Judge Declared Goal."
 Art Competitions are a traditional part of the Paris Art Fair, officials continued. Entries will be accepted from 8 to 10 a.m., May 7 in the senior division, open to any artist, including students, whose work is totally original in conception and execution. Work must not have been entered in previous YWCA Art Fair judging.
 A $3.00 entry fee will be charged for each piece, paid at time of registration, officials explained. Judging will begin at 10:30 a.m. and awards will be presented at 4 p.m.
 Entries which are for sale must have the price on the front. Sales will be arranged through the YWCA, which will deduct a 20 percent commission from the price.
 Food concessions this year include commercial vendors selling barbecue, fried chicken, Mexican food, hot dogs and corny dogs.
 "Carnival Row," a new attraction presented by Paris school teachers, will feature games for all ages. A coin roll, dunking booth, putting green, basketball, football, baseball and tissue-throw will be awarded with carnival prizes.
 The Children's Corner will entertain the kids with face painting, spin art, personalized printing and other games designed especially for younger fair-goers.
 Donated works of art from celebrated artists Sam Tuminello, Tallie Lipscomb, Jamie Carter, Garry Morell and Charles Singleton will be given away during the day.
 Equipment displays provided by the U.S. Army, Navy and Marines will be at the fair, including a tank, cannon, missile and miniship, officials said.

Fulbright Good Neighbors Club Meets

The Good Neighbor Club met in the home of Mrs. J.J. Kerbow Thursday, April 28.
 Mrs. Jimmy King presided over the meeting. Roll call was answered with something you plan to do this spring. Nine members were present and one guest, Mrs. Kyle of Clarksville. She is with the Red River County Agent's office and gave a program on preservation of important documents.
 Mrs. Kerbow held a ten minute demonstration on two quilts she had made. Discussion was on health fair to be held in Clarksville on May 23.
 The meeting dismissed with refreshments and next meeting will be with Mrs. Maude Legate on May 12.

Talco Native Returning To Area

Talco native Bill Ed Graf and his wife, Edith, are eagerly looking forward to retirement so they can leave the big city life of Ft. Worth and move to Happy Hollow Ranch east of Talco where their newly built home awaits them.

Graf, who is employed by Southern Asphalt and Petroleum Company in Ft. Worth, says he has the only house in this area with a porch the entire length of both the back and front of the house. The three bedrooms and two large bathrooms have plenty of closet space, there is also a living room with a fireplace, dining room and kitchen.

Except for the exterior, the energy saving windows and doors, the whole structure, including the brick fireplace, is built from an old Methodist Church they tore down in Ft. Worth.

The Graf's said their house was sure to be sanctified.

They have plenty of work to keep them busy between now and retirement with paneling to be done, carpet to be laid and porches to be finished. A flagstone for the front and a deck for the back.

The ranch is located near his father's old homeplace and joins his brother's property on what is known in the Talco area as the Trix Liz Road.

A LITTLE LOVE GOES A LONG WAY.

Let's Talk Long Distance.

Share a little bit of yourself with a long distance friend. Someone you haven't seen or talked to for too long. Just pick up the phone. And presto. Distance is no longer a factor. And time — just something to catch up on.

With long distance, as fast as you can say the word "friendship," you can bring some to someone who really matters.

CONTEL Continental Telephone of Texas

ODE TO ARENA

By Jackie Crane
I've been patient
And I've been good.
Thought 'til now
you were misunderstood.
The cable's been lousy.
The cable's been bad.
But until today I didn't get mad.
I didn't rant,
I didn't rave,
I kept my temper
And I forgave.
The "Wheel of Fortune" went round and round,
The "Price Is Right" didn't tell me to "Come On Down!",
The "Love Boat" weighed anchor and sailed without me,
And "All My Children" forgot about me.
I didn't get a kiss from Richard Dawson.
Watching movies through lines is really awesome.
And so, dear cable, I've had my fill,
You're making my head ache,
You're making me ill.
Either straighten this mess out,
And I mean today!
Or I'll buy an antenna,
And you, I won't pay.

Rivercrest FHA Holds Family Night

Rivercrest Future Homemakers of America held their annual family night supper in the high school cafeteria on Tuesday, April 26.

Tables were covered with white cloths and centered with miniature sailboats and seashells to carry out the nautical theme. Red napkins added color. Fishnet draped pilings and a seagull mobile provided a focal point in the room. The installation table was covered in red and held a red, white and blue centerpiece.

After the invocation given by Jana Gibbs, the covered dish meal was served buffet style to members and their families.

Following the meal, President Stacy Spencer welcomed the group and introduced the outgoing junior and senior chapter officers and the chapter parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Barnett and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Branch. Leilani Barnett and Kathie Williams reviewed the year's activities.

Leah Bull, vice-president of Encounter, presented a certificate and a red rose to Kathie Williams for having completed all three levels of the Encounter growth program.

Newly elected officers were installed. Stacy Spencer presented the gavel to the incoming president, Leilani Barnett, who in turn presented a plaque to Stacy in recognition of her year's work. The ceremony concluded with the group repeating the FHA Creed.

Other officers for 1983-84 are: vice-president of programs, RaNell Burns; vice-president of Encounter, Lee Warren; vice-president of projects, Becky Brooks; vice-president of recreation, Kim Parsons; vice-president of public relations, Brandy Bryer; secretary, Pam Ward; assistant secretary, Nancy Smith; treasurer, Jana Gibbs; historian, Kristi Foxworthy; assistant historian, Jennifer Gray; parliamentarian, Kim Reeder; sergeant at arms, Melissa Varner.

BIBLE DRILL TEAM—Children of the First Baptist Church of Bogata were in Tyler on April 22-23 for competition in the Children's Bible Drill Finals. Competing were Mark Posey who won Superior rating, Judy Gray and

Melanie White who won State Perfect, Penny Moles who won Excellent and Scott Denny who won a Good Rating. Wade

White entered Youth Bible Drill and only had one error. (Staff Photo by Diana Eudy)

MR. AND MRS. TONY SLOAN honored their son, Stephen Michael, on his first birthday with a party at their home at 213 10th Street. The white cake was decorated in orange, yellow and green and inscribed with "Happy Birthday Stephen". Ice cream and punch were also served. Those present were his grandparents, Barbara England of Grand Prairie, Sara Sloan and great-grandmother, Mrs. Dona Sloan of Mt. Pleasant, his aunt and uncle, Judy and Mike Sloan of Talco, great-aunt, Reba Dees of Paris and cousin LaNell Franklin of Dallas, and friends Lindsay and Barbara Gravit of Mt. Pleasant, Jody and Kathy Ottinger and Jason and Barbara Brown of Talco.

Rivercrest Variety Show Set

The annual Rivercrest Variety Show will be held in the school auditorium on Friday, May 6 at 7:30 p.m.

Songs, skits, bands, the kiddie style show and many entertaining acts will be featured by students from the Talco-Bogata Schools. A night of entertainment is planned for all. Admission will be $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for students.

Talco Eighth Grade Holds Banquet

By Linda Rackliff

The Talco eighth grade was honored Saturday, April 23 in the school cafeteria by parents, teachers and board members. The banquet is sponsored annually by the Talco PTO.

The theme this year was "Spring Fantasy '83". The cafeteria was decorated by an ivy covered brick wall giving the illusion of a flowering garden. Glittering pastel butterflies were abundant, suspended from the ceiling about the room.

The focal point was a carousel cage of pastel colors containing two doves with trailing streamers.

The invocation was given by class vice-president Amy Stansell. Welcoming the approximately 57 guests was president Wesley Hood. A humorous account of the "Class History" was given by Rhonda Grissom. As the students' names were mentioned, they walked to the front of the room to present the program with Mrs. Oates, the school's music teacher.

To open the program, a medley of "Mountain Music", "Feels so Right" with Andra Whitney soloing,
and "Gonna Have A Party" were sung, accompanied by guitars, drum and electric organ. Jesse Johnson and Amy Stansell sang "You and I" and Tommy Anderson sang "Swinging". Secretary Barbi Rackliff gave the "Class Description" as each student sat down again. The program closed with Wesley Hood playing bass guitar and Timmy Jones playing lead guitar, gave their rendition of "On the Road Again".

After the meal, the class visited, danced and listened to music. A refreshment table provided punch and cookies. The table was decorated with light blue napkins printed with a silver rose and "Spring Fantasy
'83", Talco Junior High, silver platters and a crystal punch bowl were lit by hanging owl patio lights.
The dance area was separated from the main room by pastel streamers. A revolving disco light provided the light to dance by.

Talco Native Wins USAF Honor

Seniro Master Sergeant
James H. Stockton, son of Haskell Stockton of Talco, recently was named Air Force Systems Command's
Public Affairs Enlisted Specialist of the Year for 1982.

The award cited Sgt.
Stockton, a 1957 graduate of Talco High School, for his work as public affairs superintendent for the Air Force Contract
Management Division.

AFCMD is responsible for monitoring more than 42,000 defense contracts with a total face value of $104 billion annually. Contracts AFCMD is currently administering include the B-1B, the Peacekeeper missile, the F-16, the KC-10 tanker cargo aircraft and the Space Shuttle.

Sgt. Stockton, who left AFCMD in February 1983, is currently chief of the Research Branch, Office of Security Review for the Public Affairs in Washington, D.C.
While at AFCMD Sgt.

Stockton was responsible for supporting AFCMD's headquarters and its 26 field detachments, the AFSC NCO Academy and Leadership School and the Air Force Weapons
Laboratory.

Sgt. Stockton's award cited him for improving the units' information program, working with the news media, supervising public affairs representatives in the field and managing base tours.

Stockton was also cited for superb management of AFCMD's bloodmobile program, which quadrupled donations under his direction.

Sgt. Stockton is married and has two children.

There are numerous ways for the bank customer to put aside some of their earnings and make those dollars make money. The most widely used savings accounts are Bank Savings Accounts and Certificates of Deposit. The standard savings account is the most convenient, but pays the lesser amount of interest. The savings account, though, has advantages, as it is always available and the customer may withdraw it without notice. The Certificates of Deposit (we call them C.D.s) are a note on the bank you place it with.
Your money is placed in the bank for a specific period of time and has a specific and stated rate of interest. Withdrawal of the C.D.
earlier than the stated maturity date may result in a substantial penalty.

The standard savings account draws less interest than C.D.s for the bank doesn't know just how long the money will stay in the account.

SHANE GIBBS, 9 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Randy Gibbs of Detroit, shot this foot and a half long copperhead snake in his front yard last week. He shot it with a .22 rifle from about 40 ft. away.

Shane fired twice and hit the snake both times. His father has been taking him hunting and taught him how to use his rifle. (Staff Photo by Diana Eudy)

Bogata Book Club

Mrs. John Parrish was hostess when the Bogata Book Club met Thursday, April 28 at the Parrish home. Mrs. Gaylord McCluer was co-hostess.

The president, Mrs. Carlton Stanley, called the meeting to order with 16 members answering roll call.

The program "Women of Today" was introduced by Mrs. Thomas Ridge who read the quotation "One sure way to lose another woman's friendship is to try to improve her flower arrangements". She then presented Mrs. Alfred Puckett and Mrs. Joe Choate who spoke on the changing role of women in today's society, exploring the avenues open for women of today in politics, business, fashion and the arts.

Mrs. Stanley presided over a brief business meeting during which a donation was made to the cancer drive and plans were made for the annual gift of a dictionary to a graduating eighth grade student of Bogata Junior High School, the student to be determined by the faculty.

The meeting adjourned with the club litany and refreshments were served during the social hour.
