Rebelettes Take Saltillo

By Diana Eudy
The 1983-84 Rebelettes kicked off the season with victory over Saltillo last week, 61-25. Leading scorer was Jackie Via with 13 points. Stacy Griffin hit for six in the first quarter. Nelda Anderson, Mary Savage, Kristi Foxworthy, Jackie Via, and Delores Simpson each added two. The score stood at 14-4 at the end of the first period.

The first quarter set the pace for the rest of the contest as the Rebelettes racked up 14 more to Saltillo's 4 to bring the halftime tally to 28-8 in favor of Rivercrest. Nelda Anderson and Jackie Via each hit for 4 and Mary Savage, Pam Ward, and Delores Simpson added two apiece.

The rest of the contest was Rebelettes all the way. They allowed Saltillo only six points in the third period and added 11 to their own mounting figures for a third period score of 39-14. Kim Reeder and Mary Savage put through two points each as did Jackie Via and Stacy Griffin. Kristi Foxworthy made two free throws and Pam Ward one. Bogata Businesses Burglarized

Thanksgiving night, or early on the morning of November 25 proved to be the time that burglars decided to break into two Bogata businesses. Glass Auto Parts was burglarized of two car batteries and about fifty dollars in cash when burglars broke in. The thieves first attempted to enter through a small window on the northeast corner of the building, but were unable to gain access there. They then kicked in the back door of the building. Jo's Pizza, also located on Hwy. 271 in Bogata, was entered through a small window on the west side of the building. The burglars took the cash register and about $30 in change, all cash being removed from the business. Red River County Sheriff's Department has the two burglaries under investigation.

Barbara Russell Is CF Chairperson

Dear Editor,
Mrs. Barbara Russell has been the chairperson of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation's campaign in Talco & Bogata to help "give a child some breathing room." On behalf of the Cystic Fibrosis community, the children, their families and their friends, thank you to the people who helped raise $820.28 for research, public education, and patient care. Cystic fibrosis is the number one genetic killer of children and young adults. It is an inherited disease that attacks the lungs and digestive system. A thick sticky mucus is produced which blocks digestion, obstructs breathing, destroying lung tissue and eventually causing the death of the child. Through research funded by donations and collected by volunteers, the average life expectancy of a child with CF has been extended from three years twenty years ago to twenty years today. Cystic fibrosis is a recessive gene disease, so that for a child to have CF, both mother and father must carry the gene. Unfortunately, one out of twenty of us is an unknowing carrier of the CF gene, and there is no way of telling who is a CF carrier until a baby is born with cystic fibrosis. The Cystic Fibrosis Foundation continues to support the research that will find a carrier test. Thank you for your contribution. Sincerely, Andrea Rutledge Campaign Director

Nichols Worth

My time flies when your having fun! Sometimes that's been said late at night with the work still stacked up, with a wry smile...but basically it holds true. This week we here at the paper are celebrating an anniversary. This marks the first year that Thunder Prairie Publishing Company has been in existence. And all in all it's been a good year, and always interesting. We've learned a lot, and met a lot of new friends. We hope folks have learned about us, and consider us as friends too. Although the previous five years were spent at this establishment, owning a business for oneself is definitely different. The feeling of pride, pleasure and satisfaction doubles when it's all your own. Of course so do feelings of discouragement, chagrin at mistakes and weariness when things seem to "fall apart". And there have been a few times when it felt a little like that was happening. When we compare last year's edition to this year's we realize just what an efficient team we have developed and how much less amateurish we are. Last year at this time we were working until 10 and 11 at night to get out that first edition. But when it finally came out...Pride shown brightly. But pride still shines bright. We want to produce a paper that people will LIKE...and as we said last year...we want suggestions and news offerings from everyone. We haven't gotten rich...but we haven't starved to death either. We don't have video displays terminals like big newspapers on TV but we do have some nice new additions that make things more efficient. We don't have a management staff so that we can just drop by every now and then...but we do have a tremendous amount of fun, satisfaction and pleasure in doing the job. The past year has sped by almost unbelievably. And we all repeat "My, time flies when you're having fun."

Dear Editor,
I really have enjoyed the Bogata News. I do appreciate it being mailed to me. Thank you so much, Laura Hawkins

Christmas Selections At PJC

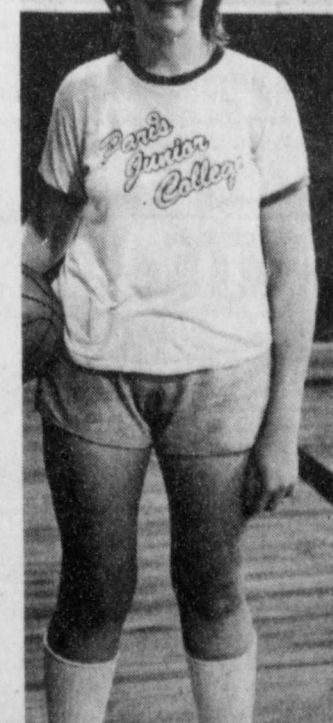

Some Christmas selections, choral literature ranging from the Renaissance period to the 20th Century and the performance of a work never before presented in Northeast Texas will be included in the fall concert of the Paris Junior College Chorale on Sunday, Dec. 4. Area residents are invited to the program at 3 p.m. in the First Christian Church of Paris, said Steve Brown, new director of choral activities for PJC. Highlighting the program will be the presentation of the John Ness Beck composition, "Visions of St. John." Taken from the book of Revelations, the work details the tribulation of the last days as envisioned by St. John and culminates with the vision of the

Veronica Howerton PJC Key

Veronica Howerton, 1982 graduate of Rivercrest High School and a sophomore at Paris Junior College, is the tallest member of PJC's Lady Dragons basketball team and perhaps one of the tallest women basketball players anywhere. "In the two years Veronica has played for PJC, only one other team we played had a woman player as tall as she is," said Mickey Flippen, PJC athletic director. Veronica whose nickname is "V," is 5 foot 5 inches and plays center and post for the Lady Dragons. Veronica is the "key to our season," said Lady Dragons' Coach Roy Tom Stone, explaining that she is improving this year and that if she "matures to her ability, we will have a really good year." She led the Lady Dragons to a 35-27 victory over Cooke County last week with a total of 18 points, and played her "best game of this year" Saturday against Rogers. A resident of Talco, Veronica was all-district four years and all-Red River Valley three years while at Rivercrest. The team made regionals for two years and placed second in the state one year, Veronica said; her coach was Frank Stubblefield who is still at Rivercrest. "V" started playing basketball in the ninth grade because she thought the sport would be fun. A physical education major, she hopes to get a basketball scholarship and continue her education at a four-year university. Eventually, she wants to coach basketball in junior high or high school. The daughter of Raymond and Jane Howerton of Talco, Veronica has two sisters. Her older sister did not play ball but the younger one, a sixth grader and 5 foot 7 inches tall, plays basketball. Veronica's father is a mechanic in Mount Pleasant. At most PJC games, a group of "Veronica Howerton fans" can be seen in the stands, yelling for "V," who is easy to spot since she is four inches taller than any other Lady Dragon. But, in case you miss her, she's number 55.

VERONICA HOWERTON, 1982 graduate of Rivercrest High School, is a Paris Junior College sophomore and a "key player" on the Lady Dragons basketball team. The six foot five inch Veronica was all-district and all-Red River Valley while at Rivercrest.

People and Things
BOGATA LIONS CLUB will hold its REGULAR MEETING Dec. 1st at 7: P.M. at the COMMUNITY CENTER. All members are urged to be present. The CHRISTMAS PARADE will be Dec. 6th at 2 P.M. If you wish to HELP with the COST of the parade, see WORTH HOOD. IT was called to our ATTENTION that with the CHRISTMAS SEASON approaching folks are looking for CHRISTMAS TREES...but that people should be sure and not FRESPASS on other's property...this party had planted TREES as a WINDBREAK, only to have people cut them down without permission...it was also pointed out that there is a very stiff fine for trespassing, much less destroying property...REMEMBER...GET PERMISSION before cutting that PRETTY TREE...

Mankins-Martin Exchange Wedding Vows

Miss Lessa Nell Martin and Wesley Neil Mankins were united in marriage in a semi-formal ceremony at 7 o'clock Friday evening Nov. 4 in the Lone Star Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Martin of Bogata. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dolan Mankins of Lone Star.

Mrs. Neva Oats played the organ and Mrs. Anaya Phillips played the piano, while Mrs. Oats sang "I Owe You".

Donald Shovvan performed the double-ring ceremony before the altar centered with a 14 branched candelabra flanked by two 7 branched candelabra each holding champagne candles and accented with greenery and dusty blue bows. On each side of the altar was a basket of white gladiolas accented with dusty blue bows and greenery.

The traditional wedding march was played while the bride was escorted to the altar by her father. For her wedding she chose a gown of chantilly lace over bridal satin. The fitted bodice featured a Queen Anne neckline. Tiny seed pearls covered the chantilly laced bodice dress, and sheer lace sleeves gathered on sweetheart cuffs. The softly pleated over skirt formed a chapel length train and was bordered with scalloped chantilly lace.

The bride chose a garden hat trimmed with veiling of illusion accented with chantilly lace and tiny seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses encircled by tiny white rose buds with green ivy leaves tied with white satin ribbon and lace.

Miss Debbie Mankins, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Miss Melanie Williams niece of the bride was flower girl. They wore identical gowns of Dusty Blue crepe de chine featuring a square neckline and Queen Anne sleeves. The gown was accented at the waist with a wide sash. The gathered skirt fell in soft folds from the fitted waist. Their identical bouquet of silk flowers consisted of dusty blue roses accented with champagne rose buds and greenery tied with dusty blue and champagne ribbon.

Nathan Mankins, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Jeff Morris was ring bearer.

Ushers were James Martin, brother of the bride, and Hayden Martin, cousin of the bride, both of Bogata.

The bride's parents were hosts for a reception in the fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony.

Miss Amy Hervey niece of the bride, and Master Chad Martin, nephew of the bride registered guests.

On Friday night Nov. 3 Mr. and Mrs. Dolan Mankins honored the couple with a barbeque dinner at their home in Lone Star. After dinner the couple presented their attendants with gifts.

Mrs. James M. LeCour

Weekly Agricultural Briefs

Proper nutrition and economical winter feeding programs are imperative for producers that expect productivity, says Dr. Randall Grooms, livestock specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Cattle prices have been low and the condition of pastures and cattle varies across East Texas because of differences in rainfall.

Winter feeding is always a problem for the beef cattle producer. Dry pregnant cows can be maintained through the winter on a seven percent protein ration if sufficient dry grass is available, Grooms says. Later, supplemental protein in the form of salt limited rations, range cubes, molasses blocks or liquid supplements can adequately meet the protein needs before calving.

These protein supplements can also be used while the cows are cleaning up the pastures. The important consideration is to get the cows in condition prior to calving if they are to calve and rebreed or schedule. Grooms says cows that are in thin-to-poor condition may need a higher protein and energy ration to gain sufficient weight to be in condition for calving and rebreeding.

Once the producer starts feeding hay, the hay feeding should be continuous. Feed the poorer quality hay to dry cows and save the higher quality hay for cows with calves, Grooms points out. The nutritional requirements of the lactating cow is almost double the requirements for maintaining a dry cow.

Now is a good time to have hay tested for nutrient content so that hay quality and class of livestock can be considered when feeding. Dry cows can be fed a lower quality hay than is fed to cows with calves.

Reeves suggests feeding hay which is stored outside first to eliminate possible loss of quality. Feed supplements will be more expensive this year, thereby making forage testing more important.

Entry deadline for the Texas State Hay Show is December 15. County Extension agents have information on the show and entry requirements. There is no entry fee and all producers are encouraged to enter. The state hay show is January 24, 1984 in Houston during the American Forage and Grassland Council meeting.

The Texas Forage and Grassland Council is hosting that national meeting next year. Reeves says that all forage producers are welcome to attend the meeting. Numerous presentations on producing forages, forage quality and feeding forages will be given. Additionally, many exhibits will be set up for viewing.

East Texas Eating

By Margie Rice
Bright red, fresh cranberries contribute a refreshing tartness to the traditional Thanksgiving dinner for many of us. They fit beautifully, too, into meals from now on through the holiday season.

20 minutes after you assemble the ingredients. It can be done just about as fast with the blender, but I have a tendency to "blend" the ingredients finer than I like, with that appliance. Prior to the blender and food processor method days, Fresh Cranberry Mold was most of the afternoon project.

This recipe makes a big, delicious molded salad. Or it will make several smaller salads. It keeps well in the refrigerator. Do try it for your Thanksgiving dinner if you get your paper soon after it comes off of the press-or in the coming holiday season.

Fresh Cranberry Mold
1 envelope unflavored gelatine
1 (3 oz.) box cherry Jello
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup boiling pineapple juice or juice from can + water
3/4 cup sugar
1 orange, cut in pieces and seeded
2 1/2 cups cranberries
a 15 1/2 oz. or 20 oz. can crushed pineapple, drained
1/2 cup sliced celery
1/2 cup pecans
1 Tbsp. lemon juice

Letting (to unmold on) Mayonnaise (1/2 cup, approximately)

Stop machine. Add pineapple. Process only until mixed. Turn into 6 cup mold, or smaller molds. Chill until firm. Dip the mold in warm water (up to the rim) after loosening the salad around the edges with a thin spatula or knife. Invert onto lettuce leaves. Serve with a dish of mayonnaise in the center.

Sprinkle gelatine over cold water in food processor or blender; allow to stand while assembling other ingredients. Add Jello, then boiling pineapple juice; cover and process by pulsing processor several times, or on low speed in blender until gelatine dissolves. Add sugar and orange; process until orange is finely chopped. Stop processor or blender and add cranberries. Process very briefly. Stop machine and add celery. Process briefly. Add pecans, process until fairly finely chopped.

BUDDY'S WORKSHOP

Until my husband retired a few months ago, we spent our whole married life living in a New York apartment building. We knew absolutely nothing about building maintenance. If a faucet dripped or a light bulb failed, we picked up the phone and someone came by to take care of it. We have just moved into our first home. It is in the Midwest, on a very beautiful small lake, but 15 miles from the nearest town. I understand we may be in for the worst winter in decades and it bothers me. There will be no one to call when something goes wrong with the plumbing, lighting or heating. My husband doesn't even know how to turn off the main water line. I wonder if it would help if we got some books on home maintenance from the library and read up on some of the things we know nothing about.

Do-it-yourself books are available at public libraries and book stores. Some are very detailed and clearly explained how many small problems around the home can be handled. Become acquainted with some of the professionals in the nearest town—plumbers, electricians, etc.—before an emergency arises. If your home is very old, you should have plumbing and wiring inspected before the severest weather arrives. The plumber can tell you whether or not you have pipes that should be insulated and how to shut off the water in the event of an emergency. The electrician should be consulted about the steps you need to take when a fuse is blown, the adequacy of your electrical system, etc. You will probably have to pay a service charge for the call, but it's a good investment.

Another good investment would be supplemental sources of heat and light. Ask the professionals.

Early Registration Set At PJC

Early registration for the spring semester at Paris Junior College will begin Monday, Dec. 12, and continue through Friday, Dec. 16, said Max Mabry, director of counseling.

Students may enroll from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. in the Rheudasil Learning Center at PJC. Before registering, students should have transcripts on file, and all tuition and fees must be paid to complete the early registration process.

During the early registration, students will no longer be allowed to charge tuition and fees against federal financial aid, said Jean Gilbert of the PJC business office. Financial aid checks will be ready during regular registration, Jan. 4-6, but students enrolling in the early period must pay tuition and fees.

Clean or Replace Air Filters Regularly

Nearly half of all service calls can be traced to dirty or clogged air filters. Clean or replace air filters every 30 days during the heating season. Have your serviceman show you how. It's an easy do-it-yourself job. Keep all registers clean by vacuuming them every few weeks, and make sure the air coming out is unobstructed by curtains or furniture. Remember to clean the fan that moves the air through your heating system at least once a year.
