GOOD RAINS FALL IN THE O'BRIEN COUNTRY

The long extended drouth has at last been broken in the northwest part of Haskell County. The O'Brien territory during the last week has received sufficient rain for its immediate needs. This was the first rain of any consequence since the big rains of June 6th. On account of the disastrous rain and hail that fell at that time, a big per cent of all cotton had to be planted over, and the feed crops that were up to a stand were retarded in growth. The long hot days of July and August caused the early cotton to deteriorate and throw off a lot of its fruit, and this part of the crop is much below normal. The early maize was good, and for a time promised to make better than a ton per acre, but at the final harvest it was found that the drouth had caused the heads to be light and the general average was below this figure. About two hundred and fifty tons of maize has been sold on this market at six and seven dollars per ton, and is being threshed and sold by Messrs. Barnett and Langston. Farmers in this community are securing cotton pickers rapidly, and are paying seventy-five cents per hundred, sufficient help at this price is coming in to take care of the early picking. The late cotton on account of the recent rains give promise of a good yield, and a late fall will greatly benefit late feed and June corn. Stubble land is being plowed and prepared for another crop of grain, and with the proper amount of rain within the next two months, a large increase will likely be sown. A trip through our part of the country will convince one that our people are at peace and at work, and that this country has been blessed with a reward for its efforts during the year.

CONGRESSMAN PARRISH FLAYS REPUBLICANS ON TAXES

The habit of Honorable Lucian W. Parrish, of Texas, of being always on the job, stood him in good stead the other day, when opportunity offered to expose before the House the short compass of Republican leadership in the matter of tax revision. The House was sitting in Committee of the whole, and Mr. Parrish obtained 25 minutes in which to speak and used it to the best advantage in pointing out how the Republicans had been in control of both branches of Congress for more than two years and had been in complete control of the Government for six months, and had not up-to-date passed a law or the scrap of a law that would relieve the immense tax burdens resting up on the people because of the war.

COTTON BRINGS 22 CENTS ON LOCAL MARKET THIS WEEK

Cotton continued to advance on the local market this week until some sold Tuesday above the 22 cent mark. The we understand that the market is off today, the Haskell buyers are paying the top of the market every day and the farmers are going to realize a neat sum from the crop.

The market opened here around the 12 cent mark and the majority of the people expected it to remain around that figure for the remainder of the season, but the short government report which was given out last Thursday stimulated the price and it has continued to advance until today. The decline today is believed to be only temporary and the price will remain around 20 cents.

SURVEY SHOWS WHERE COTTON PICKERS NEEDED

As in the past three years, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, for the benefit of growers and employers alike, will operate an employment bureau especially for the purpose of supplying cotton pickers. No fees whatever will be charged, but on the other hand no advancement of funds except in exceptional instances will be arranged to transport the pickers. Estimates of the 1921 crop in West Texas vary all the way from 50 to 75 per cent of the 1920 crop. Farmers are now paying 75 cents per hundred pounds. In some special instances board is allowed.

Summary of cotton pickers now needed at important West Texas towns as revealed by preliminary survey made by the West Texas Chamber as of Sept. 1. shows the following:

Rotan 200, Roby 150, Stamford 75, Haskell 100, Goree 50, Anson 50, Belinger 100, Leanders 50, Aspermont 50, Knorr City 75, Colorado 100, Snyder 125.

SCHOOL OPENS WITH NORMAL INITIAL ENROLLMENT

School opened in the Haskell Independent District Monday morning with a total enrollment of 600 pupils, plus 19 kindergarten pupils. As the scholastic census plus the transfer record shows 820 entitled to attend, the initial enrollment is almost exactly seventy-five per cent of the possible total. This is much heavier than any first enrollment of previous years excepting that of 1920. The initial enrollment of the last two years are almost exactly equal.

In the grades the heaviest enrollment is in the fifth grade with a total of 87 at the South and North Ward. The attendance at both wards for the sixth and seventh grades is light. If these grades could be combined at one building each could be given the entire time of one teacher instead of having two fractional portions of these grades under one teacher as at present.

The enrollment at the East Ward has so far been extremely light. Only eight pupils have been enrolled there in the first grade.

The high school surges up the first week with a total of 155. Many pupils from rural schools have registered in this department. The heaviest registration is in the eighth grade, with slightly less in the ninth. The senior class numbers almost the same as last year. Nearly everyone in this class expect to attend college later. The heavy enrollment of this class and the high percentage of college-bent students represented in it offers one of the most encouraging features to be found in the school. The enrollment in the senior class has increased one hundred per cent in the last two years.

The following tabulation shows the distribution of pupils by wards, grades, and teachers.

- Kindergarten—Mrs. Oslin, 19 pupils.
- East Ward—
- First Grade—Mrs. Rike, 11 pupils.
- Second Grade—Mrs. Rike, 24 pupils.
- Third Grade—Miss Kirkpatrick, 20 pupils.
- Fourth Grade—Miss Kirkpatrick, 16 pupils. Total pupils attending East Ward, 71.
- South Ward—
- First Grade—Miss Minadele Davis, 60 pupils.
- Second Grade—Miss Minadele Davis, 27 pupils.
- Third Grade—Miss Lewis, 33 pupils.
- Fourth Grade—Miss Francis Sherrill, 30 pupils.
- Fifth Grade—Miss Hassie Davis, 46 pupils.
- Sixth Grade—Miss Francis Sherrill, 25 pupils.
- Seventh Grade—Miss Francis Sherrill, 24 pupils. Total pupils attending South Ward, 215.
- North Ward—
- First Grade—Miss Lively, 24 pupils.
- Second Grade—Miss Lively, 20 pupils.
- Third Grade—Miss Smith, 15 pupils.
- Fourth Grade—Miss Smith, 16 pupils.
- Fifth Grade—Miss Long, 41 pupils.
- Sixth Grade—Miss Hamilton, 20 pupils.
- Seventh Grade—Miss Hamilton, 24 pupils.
- High School—
- Eighth Grade (Freshman)—Misses Langford, Collins, 58 pupils.
- Ninth Grade (Sophomore)—Miss Collins, Mrs. Hughes.
- Tenth (Junior)—Mr. Kuhn, 29 pupils.
- Eleventh (Senior)—Mr. Lebo, 19 pupils.
- Post-Graduate—Mr. Lebo, 1 student.
- Total attending North Ward 155.
- Total for entire school, 623.

It will be noticed that some teachers have much heavier enrollment than others. Above the third grade this difference is more apparent than real. Departmental work distributes the burden of over-crowded rooms over the entire departmental faculty except as to matters of attendance and certain aspects of discipline.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Posey entertained over Sunday the former's sister-in-law, Mrs. L. A. Posey and daughter Miss Jewel of Bomarton, who were en route to Albany to visit other relatives.

MARY PICKFORD HEROINE OF FAMOUS NEW ENGLAND STORY

In direct contrast to the vast number of sex and problem photoplays that are occupying the screen these days is Mary Pickford's famous picture, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," which will be shown at Dick's Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.

This is easily one of Miss Pickford's best vehicles as well as one of the most popular and charming stories in all American literature. It is a tale of New England childhood, involving such familiar incidents as visitors' day at school, the home-made circus, canvassing for soap premiums, and going away to boarding-school. Miss Pickford has made the role of the little heroine fairly live on the screen.

"Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" is for grown-ups as well as children. For the older folks it cannot help but strike reminiscent chords, and the kiddies will be overjoyed with it. Such favorites as Eugene O'Brien, and Marjorie Daw appear in the supporting cast, and Marshall Neilan directed the picture. It is and Arcraft release.

Report on Civic Righteousness

The following report, made by the Committee on Civic Righteousness of the Haskell County Baptist Association has been handed us for publication:

We, your Committee on Civic Righteousness, beg leave to submit the following:

First, we wish to speak of "Civic Righteousness" from the standpoint of a righteous citizen. In view of this definition we find by observation and investigation that the righteousness of our citizenship in general is in a critical condition, taking the country in general, county, state, and nation. Especially do we find that in the bounds of our own Association that the conditions in general are not what they ought to be. Almost every crime is laid at our door because of the open disregard for law, both Divine and State.

According to the best information that we can secure, there seems to be an open disregard for the laws of our country, both state and national, by both public and private citizens.

According to reports, and in our judgment, there is not the respect given to the home government that should be.

We find that there is a growing disregard for our Lord's Day all over the land, even by some church members.

If reports be true there seems to be all sorts of schemes used to evade the laws of our State and Nation developing a spirit of disregard for authority.

We also find that since we have nationwide prohibition there are men that are almost openly defying the law in the manufacturing and selling of whiskey. While this is done for the purpose of making money out of this business; but we believe that part of their aim is to endeavor to disgust the people with the present prohibition law. To this end Satan has induced them to venture to the limit.

With the going of the saloon went the regular gambling houses with the evils attached thereto, but in its stead has come all kinds of gambling in other ways in open violation of the law.

According to our judgment and the best information that we can obtain, there are four prime causes for the above conditions.

First we wish to speak of the relinquishment of former restrictions in the home government. Parents giving way to the appeals of the young people in their home to go with the world in its mad rush for pleasure.

The second cause we wish to mention is the members of our churches giving their endorsement to some of the evils of the day by attending them and supporting them by paying the cost.

In reference to this second cause, we have reference to the baseball on the gambling basis. The moving picture show with its indecent scenes, and mixed bathing, as it is generally termed, of the two sexes.

The third cause that we wish to speak of is the failure of teachers to emphasize in their schools the importance of the highest type of citizenship, by teaching it in their schools by the different methods at their command.

The fourth cause that we wish to mention according to the best information that we can get, is that our officers in whom we have intrusted the law making and law enforcing powers are not always true to the trust that we have placed in their hands and even some are disobedient themselves.

In connection with this cause we are informed that it is often the case that our officers do not have the cooperation of the people at all times in their efforts to enforce the law.

We recognize the fact that we yet have those who enforce the home government. Church members that are true to their religious duties. Teachers that meet their responsibility. Officers that do their duty. But the opposite exists and causes bad results.

Placing the responsibility of the present standing of citizenship upon the above mentioned sources, we recommend that Haskell County Association put out strenuous efforts from this day on to better the citizenship of that part of our country that we come in touch with, under the leadership of our Lord Jesus Christ, from the church through all the above mentioned sources.

Christianity stands for everything that goes into life to make a good citizen and more too. The more of Christ in the home. The more of Christ in the teacher. The more of Christ in our officers.

All this and nothing short of this will make better citizens. With better citizens we will have a better nation.

To this end we favor a campaign put on by our churches against any movement that has not got Christ for its leader.

That we endeavor to demonstrate to the world that we recognize the sovereignty of God and the authority of Jesus Christ.

Taking a firm stand for the authority home. For the authority of the law, divine and state.

them in condemning the public evils of today, and raising the righteousness of our citizens to the highest possible standard.

The future of our homes, churches, government, both state and national, will be no better than the foundation we construct for them. We can lay no better foundation than Christ. You'll notice that the man who minds his own business generally has a good one.

As a candidate a baker ought to be a sure winner. He'd have plenty of dough and also crust.

Secretary Mellon ought to insist upon full payment of the allied debt to the United States before the Washington hotel proprietors present their bills to the European governments for entertaining delegates at the disarmament conference.

AMERICANIZATION

In this issue of the Free Press we start a series of articles on "Americanization." Americanization—to give the term its most comprehensive meaning—is the business of making good American citizens. The articles in question were compiled by Elwood Gleason, Jr., and should be read by every school boy and girl in the country. We say every school boy and girl, because in this "business of making good American citizens" we naturally think first of all of the citizens in the making, the boys and girls of this country. I will do the parents good to read the articles from time to time also.

Greatest Man in the World

Who is the greatest man in the world? Ask any little boy that question and he will tell you without hesitation that daddy is. He believes everything his daddy does is absolutely right, and everything his daddy says is the truth. He thinks his daddy knows more than anybody else in the world, and that he could whip any other boy's daddy just as easy as falling off a log. If his daddy smokes, he will get him an imaginary pipe or cigar or cigarette—whatever his daddy smokes—and he will pretend that he is smoking; he'll tell you it is all right to smoke because his daddy smokes. If daddy swears and uses improper language, he will do likewise; tell him it is wrong and he will tell you it is not, because his daddy could not possibly be wrong. He will remember until he is a big boy what his daddy told him when he was young—and he will believe it whether or not it is the truth. If he hears his daddy say something uncomplimentary about a man he will not have much use for that man; his daddy said the man wasn't all right, of course it was true. His daddy is the greatest man in the world, and it is up to daddy to do his best to live up to his son's opinion.—Exchange.

FACT AND FICTION

Another summer gone.

A man may be down—but he's never out-of allis.

Men with sense consider it too much trouble to look for trouble.

It's always best to tell the truth before someone tells it for you.

The fellow who is a candidate can be nice even to his poor relations.

Last Monday was "blue" Monday for the school kiddies of Haskell.

Short skirts make the women look shorter, but they make the men look longer.

A man's belief or disbelief in the saying that there's no fool like an old fool depends entirely upon his age.

The average citizen would take a lot more interest in that disarmament conference if it was to include the hold-ups tents.

A Chinese princess says she never heard of chop suey until she visited America, but to our way of thinking, she didn't miss much.

Congress has gone on a 30-day rest. That's the best thing that august body has done since going into session, for the public certainly needs a rest.

Col. Harvey has come forward with a "premonition" of disaster to the ZR-2. Looks like the colonel is trying to regain his lost reputation as a prophet.

Matches made in heaven may be the ideal matrimonial state, but if mamma didn't try her hand at cupid's game once in a while the divorce court lawyers would starve to death.

Of course in cutting down government expenses, no member of Congress would hear to a limit being placed on the number of copies of his printed speeches that he could send out.

Senator Borah has declined President Harding's invitation to become an administration leaser in the Senate. Evidently the senator from Idaho does not want to make any entangling alliances.

Even legal documents are often rich in humor. For instance the divorce libel in which a 200 pound husband asks to be freed from his 100 pound wife on grounds of "cruel and barbarous treatment."

An East Texas farmer has come into the limelight as a grower of peaches that weigh over a half pound. That's nothing. Haskell has a lot of peaches weighing around a hundred pounds.

Germany must pay for the American lives lost on the Lusitania, says the alien property custodian. Judging by the Allies experience with the Germans in collecting war reparations we'll likely be a long time collecting.

Muskogee Woman Relieved of 15 Years' Troubles by Taking Taniae

"Taniae has relieved me of a case of stomach trouble that made my life miserable for fifteen or twenty years," said Mrs. Margaret C. Grider, 1006 Elgin Ave., Muskogee, Okla.

"Nothing agreed with me, and the gas which formed on my stomach bloated me up so that I suffered agony for hours. There was a pressure around my heart that almost took my breath away. I was so nervous and restless any unusual noise almost drove me distracted and I scarcely ever got a good night's sleep. I was so weak and run down I could not do anything hardly, but would just move about the house like I was half dead. I used every medicine I ever heard tell of, but nothing did me any good and I had almost given up hope of ever getting well.

"But after I got Taniae I began to mend from the very start. My appetite soon became ravenous and I began to eat things I hadn't dared touch in a long time. I have just finished my sixth bottle and haven't felt better in years. I sleep like a child, wake up refreshed and have strength to do my housework with ease. I always keep Taniae on hand to take when I get to feeling a little bad, and it never fails to put me on the right road again. Taniae is just grand."

Taniae is sold in Haskell by Reid's Drug Store.

Honoring Mrs. R. J. Paxton

Mrs. R. J. Paxton of Denton, with a number of old friends, was entertained for dinner on Tuesday in the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Gilliam.

The ladies had been looking forward to this occasion for several days, and after the heavy rain on Monday night they gladly accepted Mr. Gilliam's kind offer to come for them in a wagon. At the appointed time the merry crowd left town, trying to make themselves and each other believe there was no mode of travel quite so comfortable as the old way.

Two of the ladies, however, were brave enough to drive their cars and ere we reached our destination, all of the occupants of the wagon, except four had deserted for the more luxurious conveyances.

Upon arrival, perhaps an hour was spent in pleasant conversation, when dinner was announced, and if there were any "timid" ones present, we failed to discover the fact.

Many were the excellent dishes which the visitors carried with them, and combined with the delicious fried chicken, vegetables and hot biscuit prepared by the hostess, we had a veritable feast.

Hand-work, "42", and conversation employed everyone throughout the afternoon, and at a late hour the visitors came home, declaring the hostess, the lay, and the dinner, ideal.

Those enjoying this hospitality were: Mesdames R. J. Paxton, D. Scott, S. A. Roberts, T. J. Arbuckle, Jno. A. Couch, R. C. Couch, S. A. Hughes, G. W. Waldrop, B. M. Whiteker, R. J. Reynolds, T. W. Johnson and a number of little folks.

Mr. Wiley, representative of the Record-News, Wichita Falls, was in the city Thursday transacting business.

Honor Miss Sadie Killingsworth Shower.

At the Shook home on Tuesday noon, Miss Helen Shook and Miss Lou Post entertained with a matrimonial shower honoring Miss Sadie Killingsworth.

After the arrival of fifty guests lights were suddenly flashed and darkened room revealing the bride seated under a huge wedding veil showered with a downpour of petals thrown by the girls. The bride-to-be wore her bouquiere to-be. Mrs. Killingsworth's bouquet was caught by Miss Mary Long.

Marnie Pinkerton then sang a full selection followed by a little encore.

In order to counsel the bride the hostesses gave each of them an opportunity to express their opinion on "holding a husband." This was each writing as many letters as they were letters in her own name.

These various papers were read into a book which was presented to the bride-to-be for future use. To those things necessary for a Saddle worth on a shopping tour of the larger cities. On her way to Haskell, she opened her pocket inspection of all. There were lovely gifts of linens, cut glass, silver, and a grand finale of refreshments of ice cream and served by the charming hostess.

Here's why CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigarettey aftertaste,

It's Camels for you.

School Activities and Public Activities
The Free Press' Americanization Series

Many high schools maintain general organizations and special clubs—glee clubs, a athletic teams, orchestras, and dramatic societies. Is membership in these capable of developing consideration for others? Are there any school-boys who are too selfish to make the reasonable sacrifices necessary to pay their regular periodic dues for the support of such societies? Does it not seem as though a glee club, a dramatic club, or an athletic team might be justified as affording exercise in adding to the happiness of a large company of spectators? High school organizations quite generally get as far as that. They awaken an individual to do something for a larger interest than one's own. Critics of high schools urge us to go further than this. They say that we make a great ado about cultivating class spirit and school spirit, with no definite object except class spirit or school spirit. It evaporates in class yell or school songs or in the wearing of colors or pins. It makes what is sometimes called the "rah-rah boy."

Some would-be philosopher asked Socrates to describe his idea of "the good."
"Oh, I don't mean it that way, I mean the abstract idea of the good."
"I know what is good for a cold," said Socrates, "and good for a sore foot; but if you mean good for nothing in particular, I neither know nor care to know of any such thing."
A school that uses its glee clubs, its orchestra, and other such organizations regularly and often for the actual good of an organization that gives concerts for the benefit of a city hospital, or a flower guild, or a National Child Labor Committee, or any one of the numerous general welfare agencies which are all about us, is training Americans for public welfare, is it not? What public service whiter than the advantage to itself has the individual school done?

During the war school boys and girls rendered personal service for the general welfare. The majority of thinking citizens now realize that this is the best kind of fitting for citizenship. The old idea of school as a training for life later on is being replaced by the proposal that school should be life itself. We are living now. We are Americans now. You who are in school should not put off American action until after you leave school; but you should form the habit of thinking and acting public-mindedly now, while you are being supported by the public. You should give while you are receiving. Those who conduct your school provide that you shall salute your country's flag, sing patriotic songs, and learn patriotic quotations. This is good. When a schoolboy writes a patriotic oration, he exhorts his hearers to be real patriots. This is good. But if these things end in shouting others or in mere word, it is in service. How much is it worth? —William McAndrew.

Baptist Missionary Society

The Baptist Missionary Society met Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Mrs. Waldrop's with twenty-five ladies present. This was one of the most optimistic and spiritual meetings we have had in a long, long time. Mrs. Wilcox Daugherty opened the meeting by reading the 12th chapter of Romans. She led a most interesting devotional. We were then led in prayer by one of our former members and friends, Mrs. R. J. Paxton of Denton. The meeting was turned over to our most capable and efficient president, Mrs. Will Kirkpatrick. She gave us a most interesting talk on the phases of our work and outlined our work for the ensuing year. We were then favored with special music by Mrs. D. Scott. Mrs. Seal gave a very interesting talk on the Sunbeam work. Mrs. Will Whitman rendered two very beautiful solos. Mrs. Jho. Couch then gave a short talk on the G. A. work. Mrs. Gilstrap emphasized the importance of our Personal Service Work and Mrs. R. J. Reynolds told us of our Associational work and gave a report of the year's work. She also stressed the importance and offered a prayer for the Y. W. A., that God might send us a leader. Our president then called on Mrs. Paxton for a little talk. In her usual sweet spiritual way she told us of what the ladies of Denton were doing. We all enjoyed hearing her so much and we certainly miss her in our society and church work. Mrs. L. F. Cunningham of Houston gave us a very interesting report of what her church was doing. Mrs. T. W. Johnson then led a very interesting round table on what our society meant to the members and what we expected to do. This was full of spirituality and enthusiasm. We then enjoyed a social hour and lovely refreshments consisting of sandwiches and tea. We adjourned to meet at the church next Monday at 4 o'clock with a Mission Study on China led by Mrs. Waldrop. We hope all the ladies will come and be with us.

AMERICAN CAMPANILE

THE records of past ages are authority for the fact that campaniles or bell towers became very common in Italy and especially in Rome between the eighth and eleventh centuries. Almost everybody has at some time seen a picture of that famous old one of old St. Mark's Church in Venice.

On the other hand, campaniles are rarely seen in the United States now-a-days and yet California boasts what is perhaps the most splendid example of a bell tower on the western hemisphere.

It is one of the most-pleasing and graceful architectural structures one can hope to look upon and is located in the grounds of the University of California, at Berkeley. The gift of a Mrs. Sater, it cost about $200,000, is 302 feet high, approximately 36 feet square and is constructed of California granite, with the exception of the pyramidally-shaped top-piece which is of white marble.

Within the tower is an immense clock and a chime of twelve beautifully-toned bells. These precious bells were safely transported through the submarine-infested waters of the Atlantic, on their journey from the old world, during the earlier days of the world war.

These bells, also the gift of Mrs. Sater, range in weight from 349 to 4,118 pounds. The tenor or largest bell carries the following inscription, written especially for the purpose by Professor Flagg of the university:

"We ring, we chime, we toll;
Lend ye the silent part,
Some answer in the heart,
Some echo in the soul."

Cool Phones Hold Customers.

The canny manager of a Times Square drug store, has hit upon a plan to get business in this hot weather, trade which ordinarily was lost, according to the New York Sun. By the simple plan of installing a battery of electric fans near every telephone booth he claims he has been able to keep the store's business up to the level of the cooler months. As he puts it:

"When I saw people leave the booths after a hot session of telephoning and rush to the street for air, I found I lost business. It was a case of complying with the cardinal principles of business: 'Never let them get away without buying something.'"

"Most stores have their phones situated in the closest part of their interiors. Artificial air to cool them off has been an excellent method of persuading them to stay after they make their calls in coolness and comfort. The idea paid for itself the first three hours of operation on one of the hottest of recent days."

The NEW EDISON

Muzio the magnificent; the enchantress of the Metropolitan; idolized by London, Paris, Madrid, Milan, Buenos Aires and New York—such is Muzio. Behind the mysterious curtain, which screens the recording secrets of Edison, her divine voice is perpetuated, in every phase of its unsurpassed beauty.

Edison, the severest of all music critics, listens intently and is pleased with Muzio.

Bamboschek, principal conductor of the Metropolitan Opera, listened, to Muzio sing in comparison with the New Edison's RE-CREATION of her voice, and the following is his signed verdict:

"I have heard a comparison between Miss Claudia Muzio's voice and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. I consider that the quality of Miss Muzio's living voice and the quality of her RE-CREATED voice are identical."

The New Edison is positively the only phonograph that can sustain the test of direct comparison with living artists.

In the home, no matter where that home may be, Edison's new invention gives you the world's best music, just as it is heard in the operatic capitals of both hemispheres. The New Edison is the complete answer to Emerson's wish: "Could I only have music on my own terms, whenever I wished the ablution and inundation of musical waves, that are a bath and a medicine."

—the above is only half of it!

It proves that the New Edison brings the real artist—and the real opera to your home. It establishes, beyond doubt or conjecture, that the New Edison is the only instrumentality by which the full beauties of true music can be enjoyed in every home. The revival meeting which has been in progress at the Baptist Church is growing in interest daily. Rev. Baldwin, State Evangelist, is delivering some fine sermons, and is leading the lost into the kingdom of God. Mr. Strickland, as a choir leader, has no superior, and his solos at each service are a treat to the audience.

We understand that R. K. McCleskey has bought an interest in the Morgan & Rose tailoring business, and this firm will put in a geuts furnishing store in connection with the tailoring shop. They are erecting shelves for the stock, and will soon be ready for business.

The protracted meeting which has been in progress at Sagerton for the past ten days closed Wednesday night. Rev. Young of Robert Lee assisted the pastor, Rev. J. T. Rea, in holding the meeting. E. C. Hawes of Weinert conducted the song services. There were nine additions to the church.

Mr. Marshall A. West and Miss Maggie Morris were united in marriage on last Saturday afternoon at the Methodist Parsonage in Haskell by Rev. J. P. Patterson. Both of the contracting parties live at Haskell and have a host of friends who wish them well.

Farewell Party Honoring the Misses McCarty.

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Hunt was the scene of a delightful social event Tuesday evening when their daughter, Miss Madalin, and Miss Lillian Smith were hosts of a farewell party honoring Misses Loreta and Naomi McCarty who leave this week for their new home in Abilene. On arrival the guests were greeted by the charming hostess and ushered into the beautiful living room, where many interesting games were enjoyed until a late hour. A delicious refreshment course of sandwiches and punch was served to a large number of guests. Many were the expressions of regret in giving up the Misses McCarty, for they are very popular with the younger social set of the city. But Haskell's loss is Abilene's gain and their many friends wish them happiness and success in their new home.

R. P. SIMMONS, Justice of the Peace, Precinct No. 1, Haskell County, Texas.

From the Cliff Community.
After three weeks spent traveling over the plains country I returned to find crop conditions better in Haskell county than any country I traveled over. We had a good rain last Thursday which is a great benefit to the late feed crop.
The cotton crop is good and the early feed has all been gathered. With the rapid advance in the price of cotton, the farmers are very much encouraged and business conditions are very prosperous in this community.
Reporter.

Mrs. J. U. Fields, of Haskell is visiting Mrs. W. S. Douglas this week. Mrs. Fields, who is State Chairman of Clives of the Texas Federation of the Women's Clubs, will be an honor guest of the Women's Literary Club Friday afternoon.—Hamlin Herakl.

W. P. B. Tucker, a former citizen of Haskell who has resided in Ranger and Leeroy for the past three years was in the city Wednesday on business and while here made this office a pleasant call. Mr. Tucker has purchased a home in Abilene and will reside there in the future. He states that the oil field towns are very quiet and it is almost impossible to sell a piece of property there.

E. B. Harris, editor of the Rule Review was in the city Monday on business.

W. B. Lee, vice-president of the First State Bank at Spar was in the city the first of the week on business.

Miss Kathryn Smith of this city now working for the Wichita Times, has earned a bicycle and I would be glad if those who are intending to subscribe for the Times would be kind enough to give her your subscription. She will explain the terms to you. Or write W. M. FREE, Traveling Representative.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
 THE STATE OF TEXAS,
 To the Sheriff or any Constable of Haskell County—Greeting:
YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to summon H. C. Roberts by making publication of this citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper therein, to appear at the next regular term to be held at the Court House thereof, in Haskell, Texas, on the second Monday in November, A. D. 1921, the same being the 14th day of November,

 A. D. 1921, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 2nd day of May, A. D. 1921, and a supplemental petition filed in said Court on the 13th day of July, 1921, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court
 No. 2741, wherein the Haskell National Bank is Plaintiff, and H. C. Roberts and Sam Davis are Defendants, and said petition alleges that the Plaintiff is a National Banking Corporation, duly incorporated under the laws of the United States with its principal place of business at Haskell, Texas. That on the 13th day of April 1920, the defendant,
 H. C. Roberts, executed and delivered to the plaintiff his promissory note for the sum of $10,000.00, bearing interest at 10 per cent, per annum from date, payable six months after date, and providing for 10 per cent, additional for attorney's fees in event of default, whereby said defendant became bound to pay plaintiff said sum of money according to tenor of said note. That to secure said note defendant Roberts executed a chattel mortgage in writing covering the following described property, to-wit:
 244 head of Herford yearlings, branded thus on left side and left hip:
 70 head of grade Hereford yearlings, branded as above but on left shoulder, which mortgage provided that same were to be located on Scott Ranch in
 S. E. part of Haskell County, Texas.
 Said mortgage providing as follows:
 Above is all yearlings I own and the same will be located on the Scott ranch in the S. E. part of Haskell County. That each of the above described cattle is of the value of $40.00.
 That by virtue of said mortgage a valid lien was created in favor of plaintiff to secure payment of said note.
 That said mortgage was forthwith filed for record with the County Clerk of Haskell County, Texas, and duly recorded in the Chattel Mortgage Records of Haskell County, Texas. That the defendant H. C. Roberts, has failed to pay said note or any part thereof except on the same up to the 13th day of April, 1920, to plaintiff's damage in sum of its principal debt, interest and attorney's fees. That plaintiff has placed said note in the hands of Murchison & Davis for collection and contracted to pay them sum stipulated in said note. That said mortgage is now a valid and unsatisfied lien against said cattle to secure said debt and plaintiff is legal owner and holder of same. That on or about 1st day of December, 1920, defendant, Sam Davis, obtained possession of about 200 head of said cattle covered by said mortgage while said mortgage was in full force and thereafter converted same to his own use; that said cattle so converted were of the value of $8,000.00. Plaintiff prays that the defendants be cited and on final hearing have judgement against each of defendants foreclosing his lien against each of the defendants, against said cattle and for judgement against defendant Roberts for its principal debt, interest and attorney's fees on said note, and judgement against defendant Davis for the sum of $8,000.00, and said amount to be credited on judgement had against defendant Roberts, and for general relief.
 Plaintiff alleges that it fears that the defendant Roberts, who now has possession of said cattle above described and covered by said mortgage, will injure and illtreat and remove said cattle out of the limits of Haskell County, Texas, during the pendency of this suit. Plaintiff prays that writ of sequestration in this cause issue to the sheriff or any constable of Haskell County, Texas, commanding him to take in his possession property covered by said mortgage and keep same subject to the further orders of this court unless the same be relieved according to law. Plaintiff alleges in his first supplemental petition that the residence of the defendant Roberts is unknown to it.
 Herein Fall Not, but have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.
 WITNESS, R. R. ENGLISH, Clerk of the

HELPFUL HINTS

Pumpkin Delight—3 cups thoroughly cooked pumpkin, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1 cup sweet cream, yolks of 3 eggs, well beaten, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon allspice, 1 teaspoon cloves, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 cup nuts. Mix well, put in pan and bake. Beat whites of eggs, put over the "Delight" and brown in hot oven. Serve from the pan.

Fried Pineapple—To 1 medium-sized can of sliced pineapple, make this batter: With one egg, 1/2 cupful sweet milk, 1/2 teaspoonful baking powder and small pinch salt. Add flour sufficient to make a thin batter. Dip each slice drained pineapple into the batter and fry quickly in hot oil.

Peanut Butter Muffins—1 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1/2 cup lard, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 level teaspoons baking powder, 2 cups flour, 1 cup water, 1 tablespoon peanut butter. Cream lard and peanut butter, add sugar and the egg, beaten. Add vanilla and cup of water, then the flour and baking powder. Bake in greased muffin pans.

Arizona Chili—Run meat through a chopper, add a little water and cook until tender. Use 2 quarts meat. Prepare dried chili peppers by removing stems, inner veining and seeds; use about 1 quart of the dried pepper. Spread it in a flat pan—bread pan will do—and place in a hot oven for a few moments so it will get crisp. Then pour enough boiling water on to cover pepper and boil until tender. Put the fine plate on food chopper and run the pepper through. Use the water in which pepper was cooked. This will make it about the consistency of thick cream. Add the pepper, also a cup of rendered tallow, to the meat, and cook a little longer. You will find this an excellent dish for serving with beans on a cold day.

If you have no beef to use put chili in a skillet after it is ground. When it is browned there or four cups may be broken and scrambled into it.

Grated Sweet Potato Pudding—2 cupfuls grated potatoes, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup molasses, 1/2 cup butter (or substitute), 1/2 teaspoonful each of cinnamon, ground cloves, and allspice, 2 eggs well beaten, 1/2 cup of sweet milk. Bake slowly about 40 minutes.

Coffee Cream—Heat 1 pint of milk in a double boiler; add 1 pint of strong coffee, 1 cup of sugar, 1 egg, and thicken with 1 tablespoon cornstarch. Let cook until thick, add 1 teaspoon vanilla and pour into molds to cool. Serve with whipped cream.

Beans and Corn—Boil in clear water 1 pint of lima beans until tender; add 1 can of corn, a lump of butter the size of an egg and a cup of sweet cream. Salt and pepper to taste. Let boil a few minutes and serve.

Peas and Macaroni—Boil separately English peas and about twice the quantity of macaroni. When both are tender, put the two together; add sweet milk or cream, a small amount of butter, and salt. Serve hot. Canned peas may be used in place of fresh.

Cinnamon Rolls—Make a good pie crust, roll out, spread with butter, then a layer of sugar, over this sprinkle plenty of cinnamon, roll and cut in lengths. Put in pudding pan, cover with milk, and bake in moderate oven.

Ham a la King—2 cups ham, cooked and diced, 2 cups medium white sauce, 2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced, 1 cup mushrooms, if desired, 1 pimiento, cut in narrow strips, 1 minced green pepper.

To the white sauce add the green pepper, pimiento, mushrooms and ham. The egg may be used as a garnish or added with the other ingredients. Serve on triangles of toast.

Stuffed Potatoes—Pare smooth, medium-sized potatoes and cut holes in them lengthwise with an apple corer. Fill with sausage meat, set in a pan in a half inch of water, and bake in a moderate oven until the potatoes are done. Serve with spinach.

The Lost Love Letters

By E. DUNBAR.

"The letters! The letters!" Muriel Gray gave a great gasp, writhing to lean upon the writing desk for support, and stood there pale and quivering, mystified and frightened. She was thirty years of age, but still a girl. Many a one of sixteen might envy her radiant, soulful eyes, the flowing cheek, fair and velvety as a quince rose. Sorrow had been her's, grief and disappointment, but she had borne her troubles patiently. The old secret wound was torn open fresh at her present startling discovery. A hidden package of letters was missing from her desk. They were the story of her brief but happy acquaintance with Ronald Dyer, rudely snatched and broken in a single 24 hours. Why she had never known, and she had never searched for them. The letters she had preserved, even as she had retained the memory of the blissful period when life had been filled to the brim with golden sunshine. Now they were gone. Just then jolly, ringing, boyish voices broke upon her hearing. Rosy-cheeked, bright-eyed, full of juvenile fun and excitement, two little lads burst into her presence. They were the children of her sister, who came regularly once a week for a visit—Willie and Paul Emory. "Oh, Aunt Muriel, we have had such rare sport," breathlessly announced the latter, the elder of the pair. "I should say so," echoed his brother. "We always have lots of fun here." "What have you been up to now?" she asked. "Playing postman," proclaimed Paul exultingly. "We didn't ring any bells, but we put letters under doormats." "What letters—where did you get letters?" exclaimed Muriel, a dull premonition arising in her mind. "Why, right from your desk there, aunty," explained Paul. "Come with me," she said promptly to the two boys. "Now, then, Willie, and you, Paul, go instantly over the route you took, and get back those letters." The lads loved her, and saw that in some way they were causing her trouble. They hurried with her from the house. It was a singular experience. There were 12 of the letters, Muriel knew only too well. At the end of three blocks ten were back in her possession. "There are two more," said the anxious Muriel. "Yes, ma'am," replied Willie, "I handed one to a man." "Oh dear—dear!" cried Muriel, wringing her hands in distress. "And I left one on the porch of the big house yonder," indicated Paul, and they hastened to the place in question. It was a vacant house, but a trampish looking fellow was camped on its steps. "Lost something?" he inquired, in part overhearing the conversation of the trio. "I am looking for a letter," explained Muriel. "Ah, indeed," muttered the tramp. "Valuable, ma'am?" "I will pay for its return." "Mebbe I'll find it," said the man, and Muriel left. "Oh, Aunt Muriel," said Willie, as they reached home, "I just remembered! The man I gave the letter to looked a good deal like that photograph I noticed in your desk." Muriel flushed, with a new pang at her heart at the allusion. She sat on the porch that evening, trying to forget the distressing incident and Ronald Dyer, when some one came up the steps. It was the tramp she had met that day. "About that letter now," he began with a leer. "What will you give for it?" "Have you found it?" inquired Muriel eagerly. "I will gladly pay you ten dollars." "It's a hundred or nothing," said the tramp menacingly. "Not a cent," interrupted a ringing voice that thrilled Muriel through and through. And then the tramp was seized by the collar by a vigorous hand, and sent headlong into the road. His ready captor returned to the petrified Muriel. He lifted his hat courteously, but very gravely. "There is the letter that man had, here is one a little boy handed me today, 'passing out letters,' he called it." "Ronald—Ronald Dyer," murmured Muriel weakly. "Yes, it is I," replied her lover of the past. "I came to visit the old town after my long absence. You seem to have thought enough of those old letters of mine to preserve them." Her head sank low, she could not utter a word. It was a strained situation. "If so, why then," proceeded Ronald, "did you not make some reply when I sent word by my friend, Edward Ross, seven years ago?" "I never received it," spoke Muriel quickly. And then: "He was not your friend—I see it all now!" He was dead now, and she did not wish to prove his falseness. It came out reluctantly—the story. "Muriel," said Ronald, leaning closer to that pleading, longing, beautiful face, "a true man tells his love once, and never regrets it. Is it, then, somebody else's fault that we parted? Can it be possible that all these years you have thought of me as of old?" "Would I have treasured these letters otherwise?" asked Muriel softly, and the next moment she was clasped in his arms.

A Very Practical Literalist

The father of a St. Louis lad had given him a ten-cent piece and a quarter, telling him that he might put one or the other on the church contribution plate. At dinner the father asked the boy which coin he had given.

"Well, father," responded the lad, "at first it seemed to me that I ought to put the quarter in the plate, but just in time I remembered the saying, 'The Lord loveth a cheerful giver,' and I knew I could give the ten-cent piece a great deal more cheerfully. So I put that in."

Divinely Endowed Beauty

A young woman who thought losing her husband's affections a seventh daughter of a sorrower for a love powder. The woman told her:

"Get a raw piece of beef, about an inch thick. Slice it two and rub the meat on both sides. Put on pepper and salt, it on each side, over a fire. Drop on it three lumps of butter and get him to eat it." The young wife did so, and her husband loved her ever after.
