

Area Hay Shortage Could Be Critical

The supply of hay is running short almost anywhere in Texas this season, and this area is no exception. If another extra severe winter should follow in 1984-85 cattlemen will be in serious trouble, while dairymen are already feeling the shortage pinch.

Many ranchers will be putting in winter pastures such as wheat or clover, but many more do not have the acreage to do so.

Several county extension agents, and the Texas Extension Service predict that the hay crop on first cuttings was only around fifty percent of the usual amount, and in spite of a number of heavy rain storms that have provided much needed moisture, the outcome of the second cutting is uncertain. Without continuing moisture, or if an early frost should strike, the second cutting will also be short.

Area ranchers are considering culling their herds sharply to rid themselves of older cattle, scrubby calves or mother cows that are not as productive as they should be. This move will provide fewer head to be wintered, and reduce their hay needs.

With cattle feeds such as range cubes or similar feeds and mineral supplements being expensive, feeding cattle through the winter without hay may prove unfeasible.

Because of the hay shortage many highway right of ways, railroad beds, or farm to market roads are being cut by hay producers in an effort to provide more hay. Although unfertilized, and not of the best quality, the ranchers seem to have the attitude that "every little bit helps", and, indeed, it does.

If ranchers are forced to sell too many calves or cows, the cattle market will definitely suffer a depression. Although this should result in lowered meat prices to the consumer, in the past prices have not dropped. The packers, middlemen, and grocery stores do not pass that savings along to the consumer.

Those few farmers with excess hay to sell can almost name their price this season.

The long term effects of the shortage cannot be predicted, but the outlook at present points to a long, tight winter for ranchers in this area.

By: Nanalee Nichols

Enjoyment and observation of the surrounding world can enhance life immeasurably. Taking the time, and it takes very LITTLE time, to look closely and in detail at the scenes that constantly unfold before the eyes is not a natural instinct, but can be an acquired habit.

Each season, indeed, each month of the year, has its own particular forms of beauty.

Right now, early in the morning, there are dozens of beautiful sights and sounds to be noticed.

The heavy dew turns Johnson Grass seed heads into gorgeous jeweled scepters...never mind that the Johnson Grass is unwanted, just profit from its brief spell of beauty.

All the grass sparkles and twinkles like a fairy dream, and the golden, almost liquid sun that pours over the horizon turns simple items into patterns of artistic interest.

New lumber, stacked in piles, turns as warm and richly toned as the finest furniture. The sky isn't blue yet, but rather a pale gray tinged with pink. The clouds that have been forming especially the thunderheads, glow as if lit from within, and the edges are often so clear-cut and purely white that they seem unreal.

Squirrels use this time of the day to come down and scamper on the ground, daring anyone or anything to bother them as they play. Strangely, unlike other times of the year, sunrise does not bring birdsong...the world is frequently silent except for manmade sounds.

Manmade sounds, too, can be reassuring. The routine of the milk truck rumbling by, the far away sound of machinery, the slam of a neighbor's door all seem to tell us the same thing that William Shakespeare did many years ago "God's in His Heaven, all's right with the world."

And while it may not ALL be right with the world, just looking at things helps make up for a lot! Try it, there is a reward!

Dear Mrs. Nichols:

I would like to comment on a very special week we are about ready to celebrate at Red River Haven. August 19 through the 25 marks National Nursing Home Employees Week, a week when the whole community should thank the people who work in our nation's nursing homes.

During the past year my employees have performed in many situations both routine and unusual. In every situation they have performed superbly and maintained the quality of life for our residents. When our gas line broke during the ice storm last winter and we had an electrical short in our heating unit the same day, my employees performed in a most professional manner. Many who were off duty came to offer their services and some employees stayed over to the next shift to help keep our patients warm and comfortable.

The professionalism of my staff has dealt time and time again with such situations as well as the routine. Their contributions to the community and the well being of the residents are testament to their fine work.

I would like to thank the staff publicly for their good work and hope that the community will take time to recognize their professional efforts.

Sincerely,
Red River Haven Nursing Home

Guess What? Contest Begins

Want to make five dollars? It could be simple and easy...but then again, it might not!

The papers are running a Guess What? contest for the next few weeks, and the first reader who calls the correct answer into the Bogata office wins $5.00!

Simply decide what you think the picture is of, then call your answer in. If it is the first answer, simply leave your name and address and you will be mailed $5.00.

It's that easy, if you can identify the picture. The pictures will be of common, ordinary items, nothing exotic. They can be found in the home or office, or even outdoors, but the angle, view and way the photographs are taken make them harder to identify.

So test your eye and observation skills, the first picture in the series will begin in this week's paper.

The Bogata News office is 632-5322 and the Deport Times office is 652-4205.

100-Year Old Recalls Early Life In Talco

Mrs. Nona Gieger was born August 14, 1884 in Red River County near Detroit. On August 14, 1984, Mrs. Gieger a resident of the Grandview Nursing Home, will celebrate her 100th birthday. In reminiscing of her 100 years, Mrs. Gieger has had much to offer in the way of history.

When Nona was just a few months old, her mother died. There have been six other children and in her words she was the "last pea in the pod". The oldest daughter was sixteen but somehow they were able to keep the family together by hard work and being able to share the good times with her. Nona says that it was hard for them because they were poor, but somehow they made it.

She recalls that in her day, education was not very convenient. When it was a nice day they would walk to school. It was about two miles from her house to school. One winter day, she and several children were going to school, the horse pulling the buggy slipped on the icy bridge suffering internal injuries to the mare. She enjoyed school, but sometimes she could not go because they had work to be done on the farm.

In her early teens she stayed in the home of a Dr. Brown in Detroit and went to school for a year.

When she was in her early twenties, she met Andrew Gieger, a handsome farmer living in the adjoining county. After a year they were married and moved into the home he had prepared for them. With a sparkle in her eyes, she described the house, three rooms with a front and back porch. To this young couple three children were born.

They lived in the Talco area for several years before moving to Ft. Worth. After thirteen years, Mr. Gieger died leaving this young wife and three small children. She recalls that it was hard, but with the help from the family and friends they made it.

Mrs. Gieger has seen the change from the wood burning stoves to the microwave and the horse and buggy to the automobile. She says, that she always wanted a wax doll but now she has a hand made doll. It's not a Cabbage Patch doll, but it sure does look like one.

Mrs. Gieger is very alert, active and gets around quite well. She is up early in the morning making her bed, fixing her face and hair and in the dining room by 7:30. She enjoys the church activities, birthday parties and is always ready for a day out with her family.

Her sons James and Audree Gieger live in Ft. Worth and her daughter, Vivian Ford, lives in Grandview. There are seven grandchildren, 19 great-grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren.

She is looking forward to her 100th birthday. Words of wisdom...you have to keep trying if you want to make it to be 100.

Mrs. Nona Gieger

Behind The Scenes

This is the beginning of a series of short articles honoring the people who keep Talco-Bogata CISD running, but are usually "behind the scenes." The janitors, bus drivers, cooks and other people who dedicate themselves to the school system are sometimes overlooked when we notice the fantastic job that the teachers and school system is doing.

Jack Mills started to work for the Talco-Bogata School System in December of 1982 as janitor at Rivercrest High School. Last year he started the school year as a bus driver, working two hours a day at the field house. He said there never was a dull moment, one day everyone would be nice and quiet and the next day "war" would break loose. When asked what he liked best about driving a bus, he said "I love children".

Jack and his wife, Willa Jo reside on Crawford Lane in Talco. They have two sons, James of San Antonio and Randy of Tom Bean, they have five grandchildren.

The Mills are members of the First Baptist Church.

Bullock Releases Sales Tax Figures

State Comptroller Bob Bullock today sent checks totaling $98.3 million in local sales tax payments to 988 cities that levy the one percent sales tax.

Although bookkeeping changes that were part of last year's deadline speedups made the August 1984 payment smaller than the previous August amount, Bullock said year to date comparisons can be made accurately.

"This 12 and a half percent increase is honest growth over last year because both this August payment and last August's are based on all sales reported during the first half of both years," Bullock said.

last year, bringing the 1984 total to $6,233.42 for a 13.32 percent increase from 1983.

Bogata received $3,629.66 for this year's period, compared to a $4,687.57 payment last year, or a 2.20 percent decrease.

Talco received $2,388.14 for this payment, bringing the yearly total to $16,060.59 showing a 3.22 percent decrease.

The August checks were for taxes collected on sales made in June and the second quarter and reported to the Comptroller by July 20.

BACK TO SCHOOL

Talco Times: Enclosed is an article regarding one of our residents, who was originally from the Talco area. She still at the age of 100 looks forward to the Talco paper each week. I would appreciate you running this article in your weekly newspaper. Thank you, Marvin Bruce

In order to carry on routine operations and be able at all times to redeem deposits on demand, all commercial banks must have on hand or subject to call an adequate amount of currency relative to the volume of their deposit liabilities. There must be vault cash to meet day to day demands and additional funds on hand or on deposit with other banks to meet a sudden increase in demand for cash payments. The proportion to cash deposit may vary from time to time, primarily depending on the type of economy and the size of the bank.

Grays Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Willie L. Gray celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, August 12 with a reception in the fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church in Bogata.

Hosts for the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Duane Benson, Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Thornton, nieces and nephews of the couple.

Willie and Maggie Lee greeted guests and presented each one with a scroll, engraved in gold, expressing their appreciation for sharing in this happy occasion.

Miss Jennifer Gray, great-niece, registered guest in a leather bound 50th anniversary memory book. The register table was covered with a yellow taffeta cloth edged with white, four-inch bridal lace. The wedding cake was served from a table layered in yellow taffeta and hand-crocheted lace cloth.

The cake was topped with a golden "50" and golden wedding bands. Wedding reception punch and nuts were served from crystal appointments. A floral arrangement of gold and bronze in a gold urn, centered around a three-branch candleabra decorated the serving table.

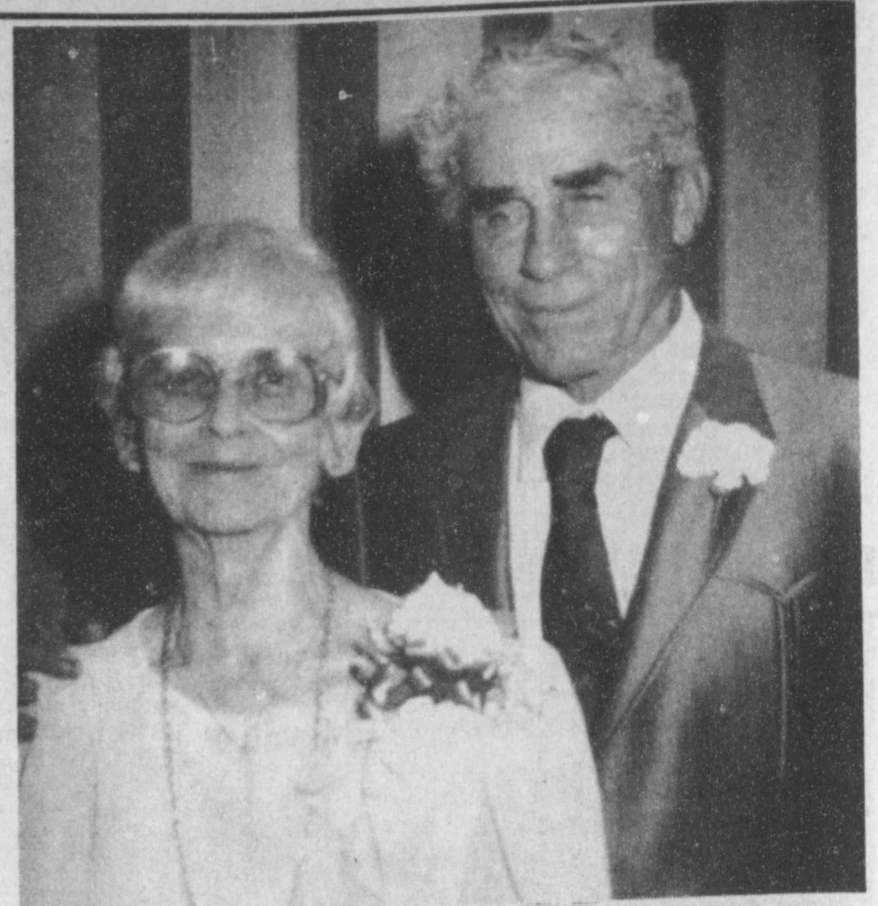

Bobby Thornton sent a special letter to his aunt and uncle because he was unable to attend. Billie Hancock read it to the couple during the reception.

The hosts presented their aunt and uncle with a pair of gold-tone picture frames and a plaque of the announcement for the reception, all embossed with golden nuggets. The flowers from the register table and anniversary book were given to them as special mementos of the afternoon.

Ninety-seven guests registered during the afternoon and many lovely gifts were received and displayed on tables covered with yellow taffeta.

Out of town guests came from Natchez, Miss., Mt. Pleasant, Talco, Mt. Vernon, Wimsboro, Purley, Powderly, Clarksville, Paris and Ft. Worth.
