NICHOLS' WORTH

By: Nanalee Nichols

This week, my friends from England wrote this column. They haven't had much time to experience our other communities in the same personal way they have Deport...but we all know that Bogata, Talco, Blossom, Jolintown, Pattonville, Cunningham or wherever would make them just as welcome, and be just as friendly.

To Deport on Foot

We left "The Hill" at mid-day, with the two dogs closely on our heels. We reached the bridge beyond which the dogs were forbidden to go. "Go back", we said in our best animal trainers voices and to our surprise they about-faced with heads bowed and tails drooping they obeyed. As we reached the main road, we were fully inspected by a herd of cows who, after deciding we were harmless, resumed grazing. We sauntered along the road, stopping to admire the mass of wild flowers growing in profusion, but like the sensible old girls we are, remembered to walk on the left, knowing you all drive on the wrong side of the road here. Not that it mattered, as we only met two cars, whose drivers waved to us, making us feel we were real live Texans.

As we preambled along we thought we must be the only two humans left. The songbirds, butterflies, trees and flowers were enchanting. As we pushed on left, we got slightly bewildered. A young lady in a van stopped to ask if we were lost and put us on the right road again, something that would be nothing short of a miracle if it happened in London. We stopped to look at your lovely homes. M. Thomas of Monroe Street has the sweetest duck painted letter box. Very daring. We peeped in to see his daily and letters there. Believe us, if we did this at home, within 15 seconds they would all be nicked. We finally arrived in Main Street at 1:15 and went straight to Duane's, who promptly sat us down and gave us a refreshing cup of coffee. Although we have only been here for five days, the way you have opened your hearts and homes to us makes us feel so very welcome.

We think your Deport is quite out of this world and how lucky you are to live in such a caring community. Thank you.

Former Coach To Speak At Banquet

Coach Wake Wood has announced that J.L. Tucker, superintendent of the Leonard schools, will be the guest speaker at the athletic banquet to be held in the Rivercrest cafeteria Monday, May 19 at 7 p.m. Tickets are $4.50 for adults and $3.50 for students.

Mr. Tucker, former Rivercrest Coach and principal, has an outstanding coaching record. In 1960-61 as coach at Avery High School, he coached the girls' basketball team to a district championship, but was defeated in the regional finals.

In 1962-63, Coach Tucker accepted the coaching position at Talco High School. In 1963, the girls were state runner-up and in 1964, they were bi-district winners. His boys' team won the Class A state championship in 1964. Again in 1964-65, his Talco girls were district champs.

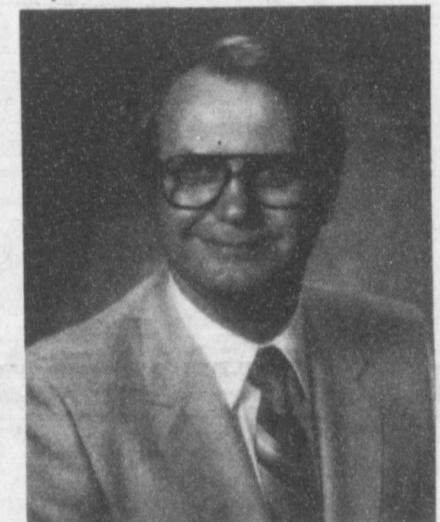

After Bogata and Talco schools consolidated, Coach Tucker won the girls' district championship every year from 1965-75. His teams participated in the state meet four times and won the state championship in 1968 with a flawless record of 35-0.

Coach Tucker served on the committee that consisted of ten representatives from throughout Texas that met in Waco during the 1962-63 school year and organized the Texas High School Girls' Track Association. He served as director for the nine years the association was in existence. During this time he coached the track and field events and won district championships every year from 1965-74 with a state championship in 1972. The Rebellets held state and national records from 1972-78 with Linda Montgomery's discus record of 148'10" and 880 relay with a time of 1:41.

When asked what he contributed his success to Coach Tucker said "I truly believe that the Lord blessed me with being at the right place at the right time; and was fortunate enough to have outstanding boys and girls that made coaching them a pleasure."

Mr. Tucker is married and he and wife Mary have three daughters, Jamie, who is married and teaching school, Jana, a student at East Texas State University and Jae who is a sophomore at Leonard High School.

The cafeteria was decorated with a rainbow arch and helium filled balloons where the kids had their pictures taken. The conversation wall was decorated with a rainbow against a blue sky and the class motto "Friends Forever... Enemies Never" in silver letters. Then and now pictures were also taped on the wall. Those that attended enjoyed a meal of pizza, spaghetti, and salad with the fixings. Sandra Ingram baked and decorated cookies with a rainbow and the theme "Friends" written on them while Judy Easley baked a cake that matched the conversation wall.

After the meal, everyone went into the auditorium to watch the program put together by Neva Jean Oats. The class song "That's What Friends Are

Explorers Serious About Training

Explorer Post 211 are serious young men training to be firemen for the Talco Volunteer Fire Department. They are a junior fire department under the supervision of the adult volunteer members.

Most of the boys have a dad, relative or friend who are members of the adult fire department. Besides attending classes pertaining to fire fighting, they go camping and fishing which are fun trips. Some want to replace the older firemen when the times come while others dream of making a career of fire fighting.

There are eight members from 13 to 18 years of age meeting the first and third Monday night of each month for business and training with the senior department acting as advisors. The junior department is not allowed to participate in a house or vehicle fire otherwise they have the same responsibilities of the regular department. Regardless of the responsibilities, they love being a member of the Talco Junior Fire Department.

Fulbright Good Neighbor Club Meets

By Betty Rodgers
The Club met Thursday, May 8 with Mrs. Essie Kerbow as hostess in her home. The program was on Mother's Day with club members reading poems appropriate for that day. For her ten minute demonstration, Mrs. Kerbow showed a flower basket quilt and a crocheted pillow she had made. They were both beautiful.

The financial report and reading of minutes were given by Jimmy King. In lieu of flowers, the members agreed to give a donation to the community center in memory of Mrs. Grace Cardwell. New business was the home coming on June 8 at the center. Mrs. Marie Legate announced there would be an old timer's day at the Elderberry Center in Clarksville on May 12 for anyone wishing to visit or participate in the events.

The meeting adjourned with refreshments. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Audry Baker as hostess.

Bailey-Roden Exchange Wedding Vows

Gretchen Lynne Bailey of 7121 Hart Lane, Austin and Donald Mark Roden of 13309 Saddlebrook Trail, Austin were united in holy matrimony on Saturday, April 12 at 11 in the morning at the Barr Mansion in Austin. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. McKinney of Dallas, the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Travis Harbison and the great-granddaughter of Bill Harbison of Bogata. By Mollie Williams
We live in a synthetic world. Materials look like one thing and yet really are something else. Foods, too, can be deceiving. They may look and taste like something, but in reality not be that at all. Some things in life can never be duplicated, though and one of those is LOVE: true blue, genuine LOVE. The kind that does good out of a giving heart and always prefers others, regardless of who they are. I have found this rare and admirable trait in one very close to me: my sister, Tommie Joy. She's like a breath of fresh air in a stagnant and polluted world; a wonderful ray of sunshine on a cold and dreary day. Oh, I know she's not one-hundred percent perfect, but her faults are so minute, that when I compare them to mine, it seems she has none at all. I wonder why she has to suffer, but I know that someday I'll understand. Until then, Dear Tommie, you've given me a goal to reach for; a dream to be like you: kind, good, thoughtful, always loving, and true blue.

The Jesse Chisholm Trail

Jesse Chisholm gave his name to one of the most famous episodes in western history, but he never knew it. Chisholm, of Scotch and Cherokee ancestry, migrated with the Cherokees from Tennessee to Arkansas in the 1830s and later set up a trading post at Council Grove, on the North Canadian River near present-day Oklahoma City. His freight wagons cut a 220-mile path from Wichita, Kan., down to his store, and in 1866 when a Texas cattleman asked the best way to drive a herd to the Kansas and Missouri markets, he was advised to "take Chisholm's trail."

Joseph G. McCoy was hired by the developers of the new town of Abilene, Kan., to get a trail laid out to bring Texas herds to their railhead. McCoy's trail began deep in South Texas, the first cattle going up to Abilene in 1867. But instead of being called "McCoy Trail" or "Abilene Trail," by 1868 the route from Texas to Kansas was called the Chisholm Trail, giving its title to legendary cattle drives of story, song and film. The Texas portion of the trail saw several herds combined below San Antonio and again near Austin, crossing the Colorado River. The Brazos was crossed at Kimball Bend or Waco, then all herds combined at Fort Worth, continuing through Denton, Cooke and Montague counties to the dangerous crossing of "Big Red" at Red River Station.

Fort Worth was where the trail drivers outfitted their cowboys for the long trip across the Indian Nations. In season, the trail was a living, animal river. In 1871, half a million head of cattle passed through Fort Worth going up the Chisholm Trail. Although later cattle trails moved westward, Fort Worth remained "Cowtown" in the hearts and minds of Texas forever more.

Poor Jesse Chisholm, he died in 1868, reputedly from eating tainted bear meat from a copper pot, never dreaming how celebrated his name would become.
