

Schools Begin Sept. 2, Caution Urged

When classes start Tuesday, September 2, the tardy bell rings at 8:15 a.m. on all three campuses. But, schools will dismiss according to the following schedules: kindergarten through third grade will be dismissed at 3:05 p.m. and the rest of the students at the Talco and Bogata campuses be dismissed at 3:50 p.m. The Rivercrest campus will start at 8:15 and will be out at 3:40 p.m.

The crossing guard at the Bogata campus will be working from 7:30 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. in the morning. In the afternoon, the guard will be working from 3 p.m. until 4 p.m. The flashing lights will also be working during this time.

The highway department should also be installing flashing lights near the Rivercrest campus in the near future, according to Rivercrest Principal James Smith. He contacted the Texas Highway Department earlier in the summer and the equipment has been ordered.

In the 1986-87 school year, all vocational education programs are open to all students, including women, members of minority groups, handicapped students, disadvantaged students and persons of Limited English Proficiency. They shall have equal access to vocational education programs, services and activities.

Talco and Bogata Junior High students planning to participate in sports must have a physical. Those students who do not comply will not be allowed to work out.

Last year in the state of Texas, there were 1,228 accidents involving school buses, with seven fatalities and 323 non-fatal injuries.

Area drivers are cautioned to keep a sharp eye out in and around school zones and school buses in an effort to prevent these accidents.

An increasing problem in recent years has been drivers who either ignored or were unaware of the law restricting vehicles from passing a school bus while that bus is loading or unloading children.

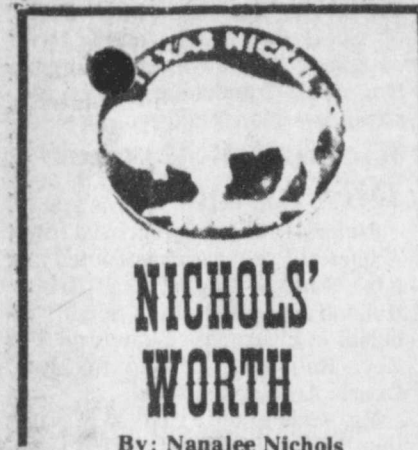

Children often cross the street in front of the bus, and a car that's trying to pass may not see them. Children also frequently do not use good judgment, darting out to catch up with companions, or forgetting to check and see whether their path is clear.

The problem became so bad two years ago that the Texas Legislature considered requiring buses to have mechanical arms at the driver's window that would extend into the traffic lane while the bus is stopped.

At present, Texas buses have flashing lights at the front and back of the vehicle when stopped, as well as signs noting that vehicles are required to stop for the buses.

A problem exists, too, around school. Parents or people driving by must keep an extra-wary eye out for youngsters coming from behind parked cars or structures which might obscure them until it is too late to stop.

There are a number of ironies in the world...some very evident, some rather subtle...some not of great importance, but interesting none-the-less.

How account for some of our cultural changes eludes most people, even historians.

Consider, if you wish, the subject of clothing. More specifically, the subject of clothing and its relation to temperature.

Most people now are quite accustomed to air conditioning. They don't have to spend their nights trying to keep cool.

But think about this...back when people had to really work to keep cool by building sleeping porches, sprinkling down the sheets with water, putting in bay windows to try and catch the slightest breeze, people also wore layers and layers more clothing than they do now.

It's true. I can recall my grandmother telling about her sister crying all afternoon because she was thrown from her sidesaddle and a neighbor man saw her ankles. The ankles, of course, had been encased in high button boots and heavy cotton stockings, but that didn't matter, he saw the SHAPE of her ankles!

Back before fans and water coolers, much less air conditioners, ladies enveloped themselves in long sleeves, long dresses, lots of petticoats, bonnets, stockings, and a cruel invention known as a corset which actually deformed women's rib cages during a lifetime of wear.

Men were only a shade behind them in layers, with long underwear, heavy slacks, undershirts, shirts, attachable cuffs and collars, long sleeves, vest and coats.

Even those who worked beneath the blazing Texas sun made few concessions to the heat...leaving off ties or petticoats to some extent was all.

Now, when working in the summer sun is frequently a matter of choice instead of necessity, when tennis and swimming rank among favorite past times, we think nothing of removing all but the skimpiest layer of clothing.

Even in air conditioning we seldom think of wearing long sleeves in the summer, and the undergarments of today would have sent a Victorian woman into a swoon of shock.

The more air conditioning became available, the fewer garments society has chosen to wear!

Can anyone in today's world truly imagine what trying to work in those cumbersome, bundlesome skirts must have been like? Can we recall what the heat without even an electric fan was like?

It is hard to understand why the world has changed in the manner it has. It's probably all part of a cycle so vast we aren't even aware of it...certainly dress ethics have shifted from the revealing to the extremely covered over the centuries.

One thing is clear, however...air conditioning or not, I for one am glad I don't have to go around clad from top of my head to the tip of my toe...worrying about someone seeing my ankle!

Rescue Unit Object Of Fund Raising

The Clarksville Volunteer Fire Department will enhance the rescue services available to the residents of Red River County by putting a new rescue vehicle into operation in the very near future. In December of 1984, through financial support from all over the county, $12,000.00 in rescue equipment was purchased and rescue service became a reality. The department currently uses a 1971 van to transport the equipment to rescue scenes and recently committed to replace that vehicle and raise funds to purchase the new vehicle at a cost of $26,500.00, complete with a utility bed for storage of the rescue equipment, a Darley "Champion" fire pump powered by a Wisconsin 30hp engine with a 300 gallon booster tank all mounted on a 1986 model 1-ton cab and chassis.

The rescue vehicle is staffed 24 hours per day by members of the Clarksville Volunteer Fire Department who are trained in rescue operation and extrication techniques. Since the service began, the department has responded 22 times including 13 major automobile accidents where victims were pinned in their vehicles.

The department has financed $16,500.00 of the cost and in an effort to retire the debt, is asking for financial support of this project. Numerous fund raising activities are planned and in progress. Any donations may be made to the department by contacting Chief Mike Bouliware, Assistant Chief Larry Moore, Captain Billy Mitchell, Secretary-treasurer James Vaughan, Jr. or any member of the Clarksville Volunteer Fire Department.

Talco-Bogata Board Tends To School-Opening

The Talco-Bogata C.I.S.D. School Board met in regular session Tuesday night, August 19 at 7:30 p.m.

A public hearing was held, and questions concerning revenue and expenditures were answered.

The board adopted the 1986-87 budget as presented and set the tax rate at 89¢ which is the same rate as last year.

The minutes of the previous two meetings were approved. The board also approved budget changes, and to pay bills.

The tax report and adjustments were accepted as presented.

A request was made for the penalty of interest to be waived on a 1984 tax. The board voted against the request.

Cabell got the milk and ice cream bid, Mrs. Baird's Bakery got the bread bid, and Pyeatt got the oil and gasoline bid.

A luncheon for the teachers and board members was planned for Monday, August 25 at Rivercrest, beginning at 11:45 a.m.

The board voted to provide funds to pay the difference needed to purchase a new football clock. Several donations have been given for the clock.

It was decided that too much work would be involved in repairing the principal's house in Talco, and the Board voted to sell the house and keep the property.

A meeting for August 29 at 7 p.m. was planned to adopt the amended budget.

Linda Woods was hired as a teacher's aide for the Talco campus, Sue Nolen was hired as an aide on the Rivercrest campus, and Maxine Anderson was hired as a cafeteria worker for the Talco campus.

Labor Day Death Estimates Released

Officials of the Texas Department of Public Safety estimate that 43 persons could be killed in traffic accidents across the state during the Labor Day period.

The 78-hour holiday period begins at 6 p.m. Friday, August 29 and ends at midnight Monday, September 1.

"During this period, the Department will have additional troopers on duty," director Adams said. "We know that some drivers will be determined to violate the traffic laws. DPS officers will be taking enforcement action against as many violators as they can to increase the safety factor for law abiding motorists."

Adams said the final fatality count for the 1985 Labor Day period was 52.

Adams said the DPS deeply appreciates the positive response shown by Texas motorists to the safety belt law.

"We'd like to mark the first anniversary of the seat belt law by having far fewer fatalities occur than our statisticians have estimated for the holiday period," Adams said.

During the July 4 holiday period earlier this summer, 8 of 9 persons killed in motorcycle accidents had not been wearing helmets.

"Though only those motorcyclists 18 and younger are required to wear protective headgear, statistics show overwhelmingly that helmets save lives," Adams said.

As part of the increased driving awareness program, the DPS will furnish revised fatality counts to the news media during the Labor Day period.

Talco Times Has New Reporter

Jelu Binion is the new Talco Reporter. She hopes to bring the community interesting news, but stresses "I need everyone's help".

She and her husband Wayne, and son Kevin moved to Talco in September of 1981. Since they have only been in the community a few years, they are not familiar with many people, especially the elderly.

That, Mrs. Binion says, is where she wants people's help.

"If you hear of or know of any news that you think would be of interest", she says, "please let me know. Call me at 379-6951, or come by the house.

She lives in the white house with blue trim in the old Fina or Dorchester camp off of Highway 71 East. If one is coming from Hwy. 271, it's the first road to the left after passing the city limit sign. The house sits back from the road quite a bit.

She plans to put up a box of some sort outside to hold news in case she isn't home.

Wayne and Kevin are on the fire department, and she plans on their help in keeping up with some of those events.

School events, locals, anything worthy of a picture, contact Jelu.

She concludes by saying "let me strongly urge you to get the news to me so we can all enjoy the Talco News".

Johntown Lake House Memories

By Mollie Williams

Several months ago, the lake house on the Pirtle Farm was torn down. It was only a small one room cabin, but it held a lot of memories, not only to the family and the community, but also to those of us from the '60's generation who spent endless hours there swimming in the lake, listening to the 'Rock-its', and sometimes just gathering there with other kids to visit.

The "Rock-its" was a group who played for every school function and get together we had back then. They won the local FFA Talent Contest, and then went on to win 3rd place at the state level. The band included Bill Buckman, Al Castleman, Vance Pirtle, and Donnie Strain. From time to time others would join the group and sing and play for banquets, proms and other events. Some of those were Robert Watters, James Finch and Jerry Hutson. A girls singing trio was formed and sang with the band for awhile. They were Patsy Clark, Mary Ann Vaughan, and Carol Hawkins.

I have pictures of one of the last get togethers we had at the Johntown Lake House. There was a big fire blazing with hot dogs to roast, plenty of koolaid, and of course, music by the 'Rock-its'.

With the first warm day of summer, the girls would all head for the lake to swim and sun. All the guys would appear somewhere along toward the late afternoon. On on particular day a boy from Talco happened on the scene. This was before consolidation of the schools, and rivalry between the two towns was big, so the Bogata guys took offense of his being there, and attempted to throw the 'trespasser' in the lake. He somehow managed to get to his car and escape and before they could reach him.

The dark driving us in, we'd pile as many kids as possible on one of the guy's jeep and head for home, already anticipating tomorrow and another fun time at the lake.

We really thought we were 'cool'---and we were---until the 70's crowd came along and outdated us. Memories are fun, though. I hope you've enjoyed me sharing mine with you.

Bogata High School Pictures To Be Displayed

A free standing, swinging panel system picture frame has recently been purchased with Bogata High School Homecoming funds. The panel was bought from Multi-Plex Company and will display Bogata High School pictures from 1937 to 1965. The pictures are covered with multi-glass and the panel is finished in bronze baked enamel.

The committee chosen for the purpose of finding a way to preserve and display the pictures included Frances Rozell, Mary Margaret Vaughan, Mollie Williams and the late Tommie Joy Pirtle.

The panel system cost $1,270. A balance of $560 is due and will be paid with donations from those wishing to help with the project.

The pictures will be on display in the recently opened V&S Variety and True Value Store in Bogata.

"We hope everyone will stop in and take a look at the pictures when in town", said Mrs. Rozell, chairman for the committee. "We're so appreciative of Mr. Pyron's generosity in allowing us to display them in his store."

All donations will be acknowledged and should be sent to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cawley, Homecoming Sec.-Treas. for 1987 P.O.Box 473, Bogata. Checks should be made out to the Bogata School Homecoming.

Correction

In the Bogata City Council report in last week's edition of The Bogata News, it was incorrectly reported that the council had moved to institute proceedings to file lien against the owner of the Jesse Day lots for refusal to hook up to city sewer.

The report should have read that the council had moved to institute proceedings to file lien against the owner of the Jesse Day lots for failure to clean up the lots.

We're Serious About Power Line Safety

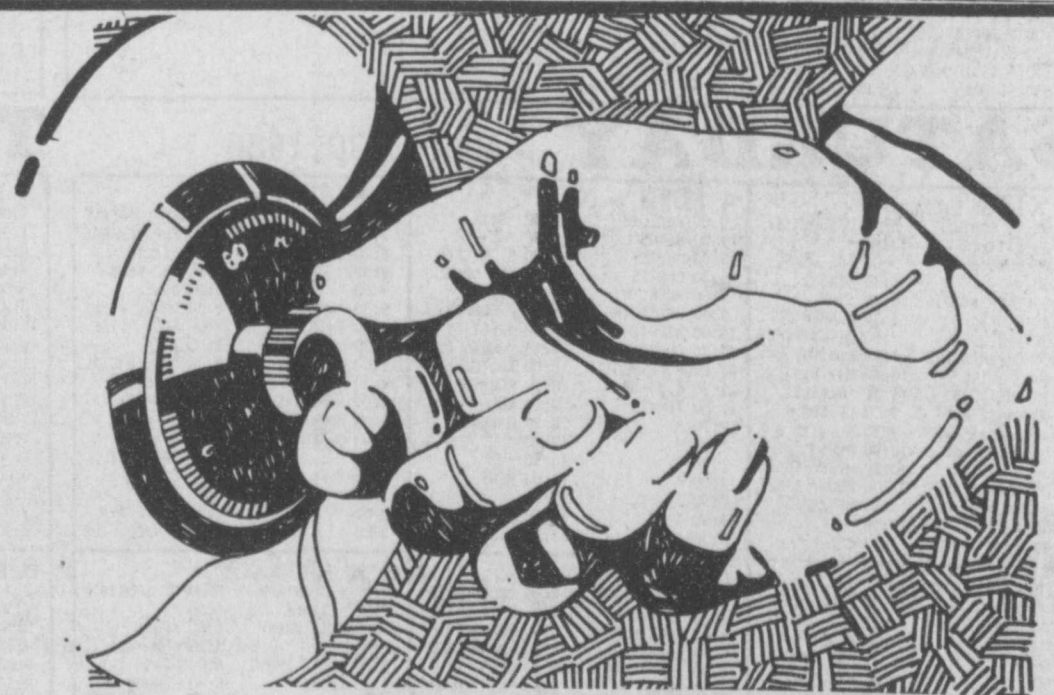

Power lines are essential to deliver the electric service that makes possible most of the conveniences we take for granted. Texas-New Mexico Power Company takes great care to construct each power line safely, but these safety measures alone can't prevent accidents. Here are some important rules to remember about power lines.

When working around your home or business, be certain to avoid any contact with power lines...always take extra care when using ladders or tree pruning equipment. When at the lake, be sure to keep sailboat masts away from power lines. Overhead and underground power lines are constructed to be safe, but it is up to you to treat them with respect and avoid them at all times. Remember, electricity is your safest power choice, but contact with power lines can result in serious shock. We're here to help with information about power line safety. Contact us today.

LABOR DAY 1986

The Chevrolet Dealership Management Academy offered by Chevrolet's Sales Education and Training Department, Warren, Michigan, has graduated its 109th class.

The graduates included Joe W. Sandlin, Jr., of Sandlin Motors, Inc. in Mt. Pleasant, Texas.

The Academy, founded in 1938, trains Dealers' sons, daughters, and selected managers and has graduated more than 5,000 students from across the United States and more than 30 countries.

"The basic curriculum of the four-week course is continually upgraded and includes training in sales and marketing techniques, customer service, labor relations, and the latest in contemporary management systems," according to Robert D. Burger, Chevrolet general manager and General Motors vice president. "Our dealers believe strongly in the Academy because many of Chevrolet's top dealers and sales management personnel are graduates."

Students attend classes at the Chevrolet Merchandising and Management Center, participating in discussions with Chevrolet and GM executives, as well as dealers and management consultants.

Classroom experiences are complemented with field trips to various operations within the adjacent GM technical center and other GM installations. In addition to these experiences, students agree that one of the highlights of the Academy is the opportunity to exchange ideas with their peers.

Dear Mrs. Mollie Williams:
I got quite a kick out of your July 10 column in the Bogata News. I can relate. Though I don't yet qualify for most senior citizen discounts, I'm close enough to appreciate the notion.

Seriously, I plan my personal visits to the park (as a regular guest) for Sundays in the fall. It's cooler. Lines are shorter. It's very enjoyable. To help with future planning, I would urge that our close-in neighbors avoid Saturday or the day immediately preceding any holiday. Those are invariably our most crowded days and another time is going to be much more enjoyable.

Thanks for visiting, and for featuring us in your column. I hope you'll come back when the weather cools a bit.

By Britt T. Morgan

A couple of weeks ago, I got a chance to talk to my grandfather. You may be thinking that is not very strange, but he has lived in southwest Georgia for the past 15 years or so. So the years of my life that I could learn the most from him, I have not been able to because of the distance between us. But the times that I have gotten to talk to him, usually at Christmas or on his infrequent visits to Texas, have been very informative to me. I love to sit and listen to his stories. Of course over the years they got a little better, not exaggerated, but better.

You see my grandfather was born in 1899, a different century, a different time, a different world. He remembers a time without cars, without planes and without television. Can you imagine a world without television? The everyone would have to think for themselves, not have someone do it for them. It was a much simpler life, when trips to town came once a month and God was the head of every household. God was very close to my grandfather's heart.

One of the best stories my grandfather told me was about the first automobile he ever saw. It belonged to his cousin. My grandfather was fourteen or fifteen at the time and was so intrigued by the car that he PAID his cousin five dollars, which would translate into about $500 in today's dollars. Just to drive the car down to the hill! Not around the block, not to the next town, but just down the hill! And thus his love for cars began. He always had a good car and he always drove very fast.

On one of his treks to Texas, he was stopped in Mississippi on Interstate 10 for speeding. The officer asked the required questions about an emergency or specific reasons for speeding to which my grandfather replied that he was just not paying attention to the speed. The officer asked for his license, and noticed the birthday of January 21, 1899. He queried about the accuracy of the date and was told it was correct. The officer then handed my grandfather back his license and said that anyone that had been driving that long did not deserve a ticket, and let my grandfather go on his way! Funny how only a few people respect age anymore.

He also told me stories of seeing the first airplane, and how a two-and-a-half hour plane trip from Atlanta, Georgia to Houston would have taken two-and-a-half months when he was a boy, by wagon, and was almost unheard of.

Technology amazed him...the atomic bomb, television, air conditioning, space travel. For a man whose only knowledge of space was a sea of stars on a dark night and the sun rising in the east and setting in the west, amazement of men going into space and coming back was unbelievable.

I got to hear all those stories again when I went to see him. He was in a nursing home in Lufkin and for the first time in his life was confined to a bed. Cancer was slowly eating up his body, though his mind was sharp as a tack.

He talked about family and old friends and how he was getting a chance to ponder many of the decisions he had made throughout his life and about all the changes he had seen in the world. That was the last time I got to talk to him.

My grandfather died last week. I do not think that I ever will know anyone who lived a more fulfilling life. He lived his dreams and passed on as much of the knowledge that he had to as many that would listen. He was a good person, and was always able to keep things in perspective. He was a year older than the twentieth century, held a millennium's worth of knowledge.

I know that on the other side of death there is a mansion on a gold-lined street with a mailbox out front that bears the name of Jonathon Everett Morgan.
