

Tourism Is Really Big Business In Texas

U.S. travelers spent a record $16 billion in Texas during 1985, a seven percent increase over 1984, another record year, the Texas Tourist Development Agency announced recently.

Statistics compiled by the U.S. Travel Data Center, Washington, D.C. for TTDA show once again that tourism is one of the state's top industries.

The 1985 figure "exceeds our projection for 1986, which is quite pleasing to the travel industry," said Larry Tod of Austin, TTDA executive director. He said the 1986 figures should be even higher due to the Sesquicentennial and favorable economic factors for travel.

"This increase indicates tourism added greatly to Texas' economy, including the state and local tax bases," Todd continued. "The indicators promise a bright future for the Texas tourist industry."

Out of state visitors in 1985 totaled 36.1 million, as compared with 37.6 million the previous year. TTDA has estimated that more than 40 million out of state visitors will come to the Lone Star State in 1986.

Total night visitors stayed in Texas in 1985 rose 3 percent over the previous year, from 168,040,000 to 172,700,000. The longer visitors stay in the state, the greater the tourist income, Todd noted.

The number of jobs generated by tourism in Texas increased 4.3 percent in 1985 to 278,099 as compared with a 2.9 percent increase in total state nonagricultural employment. Employees in these jobs earned more than $3.2 billion in wages, which also contributed to the state's economy.

Traveler spending brought in $477,227,000 in state taxes and $245,985,000 in local tax receipts. The state tax figure was approximately 4.1 percent of all state tax collections in 1985.

"Many people have the impression from movies and television that Texas is hot and arid, rocks and sand, and dusty with few trees," Todd said. "But those who come here learn about our beaches and forests and lakes and rivers and our varied climate. They learn one can, indeed have a big time in Texas."

That is the slogan TTDA will use to promote tourism through the end of 1986. Then the slogan will be "Another Big Time in Texas".

Halloween, it has its roots in antiquity, it's origins in superstition and it's modern form in trick or treating.

It is for many, a favorite holiday, evocative of evenings roaming town dressed in costumes which allow even children to become "someone else" for a

Perhaps it is so popular because there is nothing serious about it. There are no solemn moments in it!

Of course, such was not the case years ago, when the ancient Celts, or medieval peasant covered in their huts in abject terror of the spirits, haunts, evils and demons that they were convinced were out roaming around.

Once upon a time witches were "real", sorcerers had power, and "things that go bump in the night" were as terrifying as terrifying can possibly be.

But now Halloween is skeletons and ghosts, vampires and bats on doors, corn and pumpkins in front yards, and worlds of events for fun.

There are fall festivals, carnivals, community gatherings, church gatherings, contests, parties and displays.

When the weather is cool enough for fun, but not cold, when leaves are tumbling down, making a delightful scuffling noise under foot, then it's time for Halloween.

Although trick or treating in big towns is threatened by the wicked tricks of adults, in small towns it is still alive and well.

Little Rambos, ghosts, punks and goblins scamp from door to door, their parents secure in the knowledge of who their neighbors are.

Halloween is a holiday everyone not afraid to let their inhibitions loose can enjoy. Costume parties seem to be more popular than ever, and the opportunity for folks to get together and have fun is taken advantage of.

Halloween, it's this week, it's fun, so enjoy!

Eagles Drop Rebs

By Stan Anderson

The Rivercrest Rebels journeyed to Como-Pickton last week to challenge the Eagles in the third week of district play. Despite a super effort by the young Rebs, the Eagles took a 13-7 win.

Rivercrest took the opening kick-off ten yards to their own 21-yard line to start the contest. The Rebels seemed to be ready to play as junior tailback Clint Stephenson ran for two first downs on two consecutive rushes, but three plays later, the Rebels were forced to punt.

A bad snap forced punter Brad Woods to scramble away from the shadow of his goal line, only to be tackled on the 19-yard line. The Eagles took only three plays to score, via the Bozeman brothers, Ronnie and Vincent. The point after was good, giving the Eagles an early 7-0 lead.

Rivercrest answered with an impressive drive on their own, as split end Chris Anderson ran back the kick-off 33 yards to begin an impressive drive that displayed a powerful running attack led by Rebel backs Amos Brown and Clint Stephenson.

This drive would amass 77 total yards on 12 plays before the Rebels were forced to turn over the ball on an incomplete pass attempt on the fourth down.

The Eagles took possession on their own 21, but an inspired Rebel defensive effort forced a punt in four plays. The Rebs fared little better as they also punted after four plays.

After the punt, the Eagles had the ball on their own 21-yard line and on the second down, Eagle quarterback Rucky Bennett saw receiver Kevin Monk with single coverage racing down the sideline. Bennett connected with Monk for a 70-yard TD. The extra point attempt was missed, giving Como-Pickton a 13-0 lead midway in the second quarter.

The next Rebel threat came late in the quarter as Brad Woods returned an Eagle punt 40 yards to the Eagle 39-yard line. Tailback Amos Brown took control and accounted for 39 yards in three plays, 33 of which came on a third and fourth play as Brown outran the defense for the first Rebs score of the contest.

Joe Richeson made the point after attempt making the score 13-7 with 1:55 left in the half. The Eagles had final possession in the first half, only to have the time expire, leaving the contest at 13-7.

The Eagles opened the second half in good field position only to have the Rebs halt the drive on their own one foot line. Unable to move the ball, Rivercrest was forced to punt from the endzone.

Como-Pickton set upon the Rebs 49, but were intercepted by Rebs defender Brad Woods on the 33. Neither team was able to mount a threat until Rivercrest recovered an Eagle fumble just 15 yards from the goal.

The Eagle defense allowed only one yard before intercepting a fourth down pass attempt. Rivercrest defense quickly forced a punt and took over on the Eagle 39. The Rebels seemed to be on their way to evening the score, but quarterback Jimmy Lewis was intercepted on the 17-yard line, allowing Como-Pickton to run out the clock and take a victory.

The powerful Cooper Bulldogs come to town Friday night for what may be the biggest test for the young Rebels this year. Kick off is at 7:30 at Rebel Stadium.

Barbara Russell Is CF Chairman

The Cystic Fibrosis Foundation is pleased to announce the appointment of Barbara Russell as chairperson of the Cystic Fibrosis campaign in Bogata and Talco. Ms. Russell will hold a Walk-A-Thon on November 8 (rain date November 15). For further information or to participate, please call 214/871-2222.

Cystic fibrosis, the number one genetic killer of children and young adults, destroys the lungs and digestive system. Today there is no carrier test to tell which one in twenty of us is a carrier of the cystic fibrosis gene. Soon, it is hoped, research will find ways to help control the disease.

Community members, adults and children are urged to support your chairperson's fundraising drive. The money raised will shorten the time until the cure for cystic fibrosis is found, because of the increasing funds made available for research.

Convenience Banking?
What's So Convenient About:
PAYING
higher interest on your loans?
EARNING LESS
interest on your savings?
PAYING HIGHER
service costs at banks?
LOSING
local control over banking?
SACRIFICING
service to the big banks' benefit?

YOU WILL HEAR A LOT FROM THE SO-CALLED CONVENIENCE BANKERS ABOUT PROPOSITION FOUR BUT YOU PROBABLY WILL NOT HEAR THIS:

The big banks of Texas hope to create a bank monopoly of your expense. Proposition Four has disguised branch banking as "full service banking" whatever they call it - Branch Banking is a bad idea for Texas, and Texans will end up footing the bill for the big Texas bank holding companies to get bigger.

You especially don't want this to happen now since the Texas Legislature just passed a law permitting the large banks of New York City to purchase some or all of the large Texas bank holding companies. Not only can this legally happen now, but is almost certain to take place in the immediate future.

For all these years, Texans have never wanted or allowed the big banks of New York City to own and control the Texas Banking Industry. We are sure that this position by the people of Texas still has never changed.

Silver Haired Legislature Meets

The 116 member senior citizens group had eleven committees represented and also called for support for community based services and other alternatives to institutional care when the Silver Haired Legislature met recently.

Raleigh Jackson of LaGrange, the presiding officer of the Silver Haired Legislature, believed the resolutions to be outstanding across the board and definitely worth fighting for in the legislature and back in the communities.

The legislature also recommended four items; establishing a state-administered health insurance plan to cover catastrophic illness, freezing property tax payments at age 65, improving retirement benefits for teachers and state workers, and the barring of taking homes to pay off debts.

Texas was the 23rd state with 70 percent effective advocate. At one time during the special meeting, over 60 uncontested and contested recommendations were discussed.

Henrietta Wall attended the special meeting and sat in on State of Affairs discussion, health care, long term health care and ways and means. She has been involved with senior citizens and nursing homes for years. While attending these meetings she had the pleasure of meeting Bob Gibbons who is the chairman of the Texas Board of Aging.

Approximately thirty members of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program from Paris also attended.
