

NICHOLS' WORTH

By: Nanalee Nichols

At the end of February, I will have worked full time at these papers for nine years. December was Thomas and mine's fourth year to own them. I wrote for them four years before I began working full time.

That makes thirteen years of writing feature articles, columns, taking pictures, covering sports, fires and wrecks.

It's a long time. It has added up to a lot of memories.

Some of them stirred through my head yesterday evening. Probably the most embarrassing was when I went to Bogata to do a feature on an elderly woman and ended up at the wrong house...same last name, wrong people! I was wandering around their house, asking detailed questions about things! Finally they asked "Where do you think you are? I think you must have the wrong house."

There was the time I went to a dairy to do a feature article and ended up in manure up to my knees.

The night it was 10 degrees and the wind howling thirty miles an hour at a house fire was nice, too, until I stepped into a ditch of water and soaked my feet. By the time I reached home, my feet were blue.

Many of the memories aren't so funny or pleasant. Wrecks and deaths blur into a long train. Crying people watching their worldly goods go up in flames are always disturbing.

But for the most part, they are good.

How many pairs of jeans have been ruined by barbed wire, how many pairs of shoes (I will never learn to wear boots, I don't suppose).

Jars of honey, dried peaches, home made cakes, cookies and other presents have accompanied visits to folks for feature articles.

Kids running up years later to say "remember when you took my picture doing so and so" make things nice.

Lying in a ditch watching a skilled bomb squad dismantle an explosive device was an educational experience.

So was seeing an oil well drilled.

There have been so many educational, interesting, amusing and enlightening events over those thirteen years.

It makes looking forward to the next thirteen years brighter and easier!

Talco Oil Field Discoverer Dies

The end of an era occurred January 5, when John B. Stephens, Jr., a Mt. Pleasant native, died. Stephens and R.L. Peveto discovered the Talco Oil Field.

He was 81, and died at Baylor Medical Center in Dallas. He was a descendant of a pioneer family in Titus County.

In 1924, Stephens began doing title searches on land for possible future oil production for Deep Rock Oil Company. He and Peveto, in partnership, drilled the Carr No. 1 in March of 1931. The well came in, marking the beginning of Talco's oil boom history.

Stephens was also active in cattle raising, land development and various other businesses.

CNB-Detroit Robbed, Suspects Caught

By Nanalee Nichols

One of the largest manhunts in the area's history netted two bank robbery suspects after the Community National Bank of Detroit was held up Friday evening.

Two men entered the bank lobby shortly before 6 p.m. Friday, one positioning himself by the front door with a sawed-off shotgun, while the other threatened tellers with a 9 mm pistol.

Shirley Anderson and Susan Yarbrough, the tellers on duty, handed over $14,507 and the pair then fled in a 1968 red and white Chevrolet pickup truck, according to Lamar County Sheriff Jim Parker.

Apparently, the two had planned on abandoning the pickup on County Line Road walking back to U.S. Highway 82, where they would pick up a motorcycle they had hidden in the area and make their escape.

This plan failed to work when a Texas Department of Public Safety officer appeared on the County Line Road before they could reach the motorcycle, forcing them to flee on foot.

The officer was acting on information provided by Hugh Jeffus, president of the Community National Bank. Jeffus had first gotten the license number of the pickup and then followed the vehicle at a safe distance. He spotted brake lights near the intersection of County Line Road and U.S. Highway 82, and passed the information on to law enforcement officials, who took prompt action.

The shotgun and pistol were discovered in a ditch near the abandoned pickup truck, Sheriff Parker stated.

Law enforcement officials from Red River, Lamar and Titus Counties, Texas Rangers, Department of Public Safety officers, Paris City Policeman and Lamar County Game Wardens all began an all night search of the entire area.

Dogs from the Oklahoma State Department of Corrections were brought in and began tracking.

About 12:30 a.m. on Saturday, Gerald Mack Payne, age 47, of California was captured in a barn east of Blossom. The bloodhounds picked up the trail near County Line Road, according to the dog's handler, David Turner.

One dog was separated from the rest and kept returning to the barn. A search of the structure revealed Mack Payne, who was taken into custody at that time.

Just before noon on Saturday, the second suspect, identified as Gilbert George Adams, age 39, of Aspen, Colorado, was captured, also near Blossom.

He was spotted by Mike Connot, an eighteen-year old Blossom man, in the door of a cabin. Connot didn't stop upon spying the man, but continued on down the road and located a deputy to relay the information.

The dogs had been chasing Adams, and were going in circles near the suspect.

Deputies, officials and Paris policemen surrounded the area, and Adams was brought out shortly afterwards. Authorities said he was carrying the money taken in the robbery.

Sheriff Jim Parker's office said Tuesday morning that both men had made statements. They confessed to the bank robbery, the robbery of Short's Piggly Wiggly store in Paris on January 3, the theft of a van from the Evangel Church of God on the same date, and the burglary of the William Dorries residence near Blossom.

Officials report that the property stolen in that burglary has been recovered.

Apparently, the two had been living "on the road" for some time, and had been looking for a bank to rob.

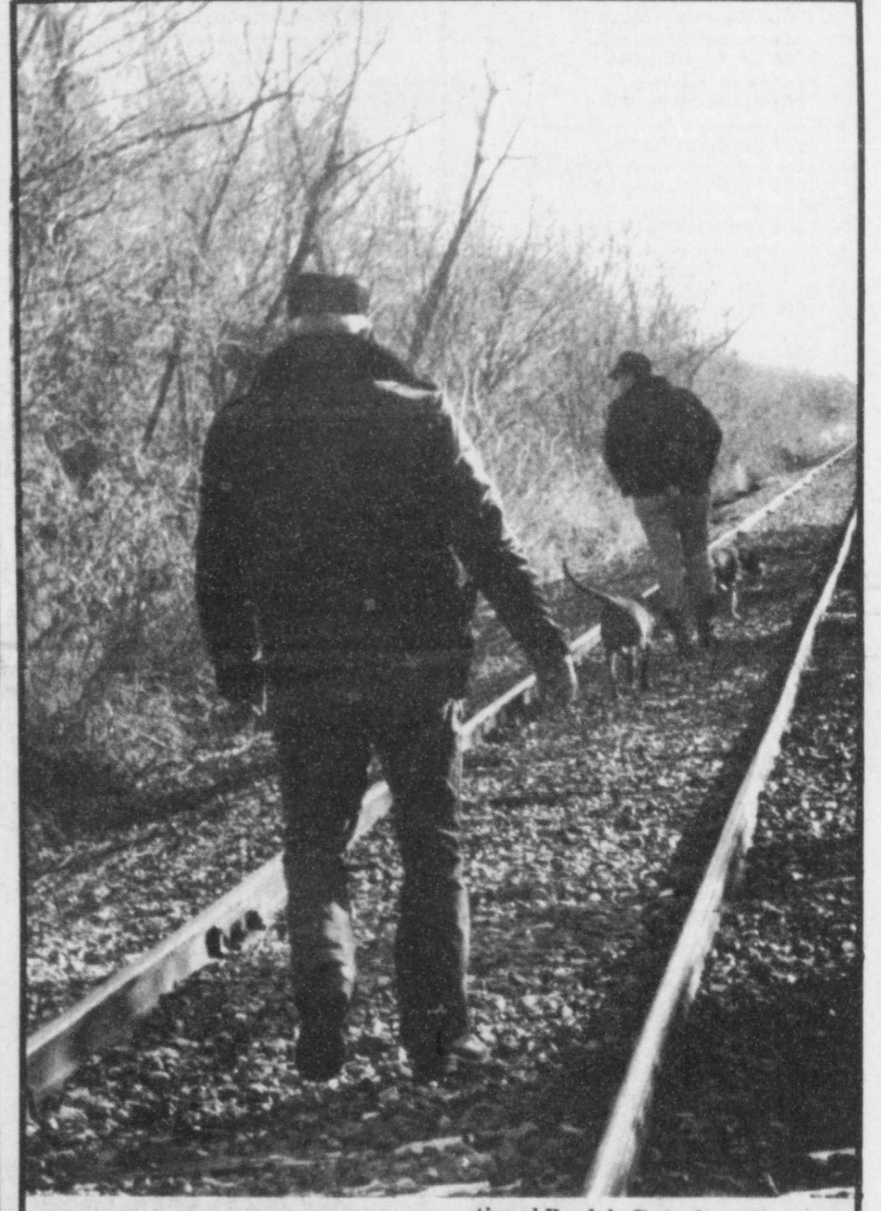

Both have been charged with aggravated robbery. Lamar County Judge Robert Burns set bond for each man at $100,000.00 and the two will be transferred to Red River County Jail, since the bank robbery occurred in that county.

COMMAND POST-The unused truck stop at Blossom served as a command post as officers from Red River County, Lamar County, Titus County, Texas Rangers, Paris Police, Department of Public Safety and even the Red River and Lamar County Game Wardens banded together in a long, cold all-night search for the gunmen who held up Community National Bank in Detroit on Friday evening. Efforts paid off, as the pair were taken into custody and the money recovered. $14,507 was taken in the robbery. (Staff Photo by Thomas Nichols)

TRAILING-Bloodhounds from the Oklahoma Department of Corrections were set on a boot track trail as a massive manhunt last Friday night searched for the two men who held up the Community National Bank in Detroit earlier that evening. The pair were apprehended, and the money recovered from the robbery by noon on Saturday. (Staff Photo)

ALTHOUGH RETIRED, Mrs. Lorene Bogie, originator of Bogie's Cafe, still spends her time

helping out by cooking at the cafe, which has been turned over to her son. (Staff Photo by Mollie Williams)

Mrs. Bogie, Home Cooking Specialist

By Mollie Williams

If you're in Bogata or the area nearby, and you're hungry for some good old fashioned home cooking, chances are you won't be disappointed if you stop in and eat at Bogie's Cafe located on North Main Street in Bogata.

Mrs. Lorene Bogie started her tradition of home cooked cafe meals about 42 years ago when she began cooking for Claude and Edith Gray in their cafe which was located where the new post office now sits. The business there sold and she worked for Ann Walker and later for Jeff Hancock. Mr. Hancock moved the cafe business to where Mary's Boutique is now located. She also worked for the McKelvie's in their cafe near the old bank building, which now houses City Hall, and Mr. and Mrs. Robbins, who ran a cafe here for awhile.

Mrs. Bogie and her husband, Odell, opened their own cafe February 22, 1961 on Highway 271. The hours were 5 a.m. to 8 p.m., seven days a week. She turned the business over to her son, Harold Dean Bogie and wife, Janie, in 1972, but has continued to help. The Bogies moved their business to North Main Street on May 8, 1978.

Mrs. Bogie recalls that in her cafe on 271, she had a cut-out where she could place the orders for the waitresses to pick up. Through this hole, she could look out into the dining portion of the cafe and see the customers. As she saw many of the regular customers come in, she could begin to fill their order before it was turned in.

Dixie Stringfellow, her faithful employee, who has been with her since the beginning, and Mrs. Bogie reminisced about some of those regular customers who patronized the cafe in years past. They spoke of Rena and Newt Bryson who ate with them every Sunday. "Regardless of what was offered on the menu, they always ordered fried chicken," says Mrs. Bogie. "There were others who ate with us on a daily basis and many who do, today," she added.

"Many of our regular customers just call in and say 'fix me a hamburger', and Mrs. Bogie knows just how to fix it and what to put on it for them," said Dixie.

Like a lot of good cooks, Mrs. Bogie does not use recipes. A pinch of this ingredient and a shake of that always seems to come out just right for her.

Specialties of the house, which Mrs. Bogie has cooked up for hungry folks through the years are her famous roast beef plate lunches, chicken fried steaks, and hamburgers which have been labeled by her patrons as "Mrs. Bogie hamburgers". She's also become famous in these parts for her home baked pies, which she makes fresh every day.

Mrs. Bogie has a recliner in the kitchen of the cafe, now, in which she sometimes rests during working hours. She only comes down to help out and to have something to do, she says.

Her mother, Mrs. Maggie Gillis, who lived to be 102, always spent one day a week at the cafe with the Bogies and enjoyed a meal there with them. Now, we won't try to tell you that eating at Bogie's Cafe helped her to live such a long life, but we will say that Mrs. Bogie's fine cooking has become a "treat" to most folks in these parts.

Mrs. Bogie has been known to quip, "I've made enough gravy to float a horse."

Brown - Holt Announce Engagement

MR. AND MRS. BILL BROWN of Honey Grove announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Angie to Harold Wayne Holt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Holt of Cuthand. The couple will exchange vows at 7:30 p.m. Friday, January 30 at the United Methodist Church in Cuthand. Friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend the wedding.

Red River County Methodist Men To Meet

The United Methodist men from the UM churches in Red River County will gather in Detroit at 7 p.m. Thursday evening, January 22 for a dinner and program, according to Gavin Watson, Jr., president of the organization.

Watson said that congregations expected to be represented include: First Um Church, Avery; Boxelder; Garland Chapel; Williams Chapel at English; Annona; McKenzie UM; St.

Paul's UM and Brewster UM in Clarksville; Cuthand; Rosalie; Lone Star; Bogata UM; Martin Memorial UM in Detroit; and Woodland UM.

The meeting will be the second in the reorganized Red River County United Methodist Men group which schedules three or four meetings a year in the various UM churches.

The ladies of Martin UM will prepare and serve the meal.

Ernie Aikin, Jr., program chairman, is arranging the program for the evening, and a speaker from Martin UM will give a brief devotional. Mrs. Jim Davis is arranging the musical portion of the evening.

Those planning to attend are urged to call their pastor or church office so that an estimate of meals required can be obtained.

Light the way for a safer business

Leased floodlighting from Texas-New Mexico Power Company adds the double benefit of convenience and nighttime security to your business.

Criminals usually prefer areas that are dark, so floodlighting can prevent costly thefts. Dark areas also increase the likelihood of accidents, so you'll be adding to the safety of your employees and customers.

If you want to keep your firm's parking lot, entrance or loading area well lighted, we at Texas-New Mexico Power Company are here to help you by providing leased floodlighting. Leased floodlighting units automatically turn on at dusk and off at dawn.

Paying Practices For Beef Outlined

By Paul D. Payne

Cattlemen must pay close attention to efficient management practices to survive financially in today's depressed economic conditions. That means following practices that offer the greatest potential for increased income while keeping risks at a minimum.

Certain management practices can make a difference in total dollars returned to an operation depending on such factors as weather, market prices and dedication of operator to efficient management.

The following practices offer an expected return on savings per cow. The dollar values shown were taken from result demonstration trials on cattle under average environmental conditions. Returns will be variable where cattle are stressed due to drought, disease and other natural influences.

Practice	Realized Dollar Return
Pregnancy testing and culling	$30 of open cows
Herd health program	$5 to $20
Breeding soundness in bulls	$3 to $50
Controlled breeding season	$50
Breeding heifers 30 days before the rest of the herd.	$10
Use of performance tested sire	$30 to $90
Use of easy calving sire on virgin heifers	$10 to $60
Observing for calving difficulties three times daily.	$4 to $10
Use of wormers	$2 to $5
Use of growth implants in calves	$7 to $25
Rotational grazing	$10 to $20
Use of estrous synchronization	$3 to $12
Use of artificial insemination	$7 to $30
Sorting cows based on feed needs	$8
Use of year-round mineral supplement	$5 to $12
Control of external parasites	$2 to $5
Retained ownership of calves (stockers and/or feeding)	$0 to $40
Targeted marketing (specialized production, such as F1 heifers, club calves)	$20 to $200
Crossbreeding	$15 to $30

One might think that if all the practices were implemented simultaneously, the result would be increased net income equal to the sum total of all the values in the dollar column. That, obviously, is not true, but certainly a combination of two or three practices would have an additive effect on net income. The actual realized return also depends on the level of production and management that the cows are experiencing when the practices are implemented.

These practices will help a cattleman minimize production with minimum costs. Use of these types of technological advances requires determination and dedication, but the potential for increased profits is real.

Men Turning 26 Reach Milestone Says Selective Service

The Selective Service System has announced that men who will reach their 26th birthday in 1987 are reaching an important milestone.

Beginning on January 1, 1987, men who were required to register with Selective Service in 1981 will be turning 26. Selective Service does not have the authority to accept registrations after age 26. By failing to register before turning 26, a young man will have permanently forfeited his right to certain benefits including federal student aid, job training and federal employment. In addition to these federal benefits, some states require registration for state student aid, entrance to a state supported college or university, state employment and permission to practice law.

Many of the 25-year-olds who have still not registered may be unaware of the requirement or do not understand the importance of the obligation to register. Some may even have served in the military but failed to register either before entering the armed forces or after leaving active duty. Others may have been institutionalized or incarcerated at the time of their 18th birthday and not realized that they were required to register if released prior to age 26.

For those men born in 1961 who have registered, 1987 also marks the year that ends their eligibility for selection for induction under present law should there be a return to the draft. Over 17 million men, age 18 through 25 have registered with selective service since registration was reinstated in 1980. These men comprise over 97 percent of those required to register.

Men, age 18 to 25, who have not yet

H & R Block Offers Free Seminar

People who are interested in finding out how the provisions of the recently enacted Tax Reform Act of 1986 will affect their federal tax situation are invited to attend a free one-hour informational seminar sponsored by H&R Block.

The seminar, entitled "How Will the New Tax Laws Affect You?" will highlight most of the individual tax changes that will take effect in 1987 as well as cover the few changes that will apply to the 1986 return.

"While the majority of the new rules will not come into play until after the first of the year, we believe registered still have a chance to avoid risk of prosecution and loss of benefits by registering promptly at any local post office. Failure to register is a felony punishable by a fine of up to $250,000, up to five years in jail, or both.

Each seminar participant will receive a booklet that will give them a side-by-side comparison of the current law and the new law.

The seminar will be held at 6 p.m., January 22 at the Clarksville Public Library. To register, call 427-3135.

Bogata Book Club Meets

The Bogata Book Club met January 8 in the home of Mary Lou Daniels, with co-hostesses Jane Cowley and Lee Hood.

The meeting was called to order by the Club president, Mary Lou Daniels, and Pledge to the Flag. The roll was answered with "A Country I would like to Visit".

International affairs was the main subject of the program. Refreshments were served at the beginning of the program, which was a plate of Chinese food.

The vice-president, Eleanor McCleure read a quote, "It isn't the travel that broadens one, it's all that rich foreign food."

Jane Cowley introduced the speaker, Karen Bagley, who told about her trip to Hong Kong and China. She showed interesting things she bought while there.

The meeting was closed with members repeating the club dismissal. The next meeting will be February 12 in the home of Betty Puckett.

Speed Reading Course At PJC

A speed reading course is scheduled to begin Tuesday, January 27 at Paris Junior College. Classes will be held from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Tuesdays for six weeks, said June Jones, director of continuing education for the college.

The course is designed to increase reading speed and comprehension for business persons, students and others interested in covering more material. Fee will be $25.

Daisy Redding, instructor, has 17 years of teaching experience in public schools including 15 years in the Paris Independent School District. She attended PJC and holds B.S. and M.S. degrees from East Texas State University. For the past year, she has been employed in Learning Skills at PJC.

Reservations for the course should be made by mailing the fee, payable to PJC, with name, address and social security number to the Continuing Education Office, Paris Junior College, Paris, TX or going by the office.

The following events, selected by Mari Schnell of the Texas Tourist Development Agency, are but a few of the many excellent recreational opportunities offered by communities across the state.

Year-Round Tours — Gladys Porter Zoo, Brownsville. Opening to the public in 1971 as one of the premier zoos of the world, Gladys Porter has become a unique haven for rare and endangered species. The 31-acre preserve has over 2,000 mammals, birds, reptiles, amphibians and invertebrates. Dedicated to education, research and recreation, the zoo is open every day of the year from 9 a.m. till one hour before dusk. Admission: $3.50 adults; $1.50 children. Wheel chairs and strollers available; tour train on limited schedule. Free brochure from Gladys Porter Zoo, 500 Ringgold St., Brownsville 78520 (512-546-2177).

Year-Round Flea Marketing (begins Friday before the first Monday of each month) — First Monday Trades Day, Canton. During the late 19th and early 20th Centuries, trades day became an important means of communication for rural folks as they waited until "First Monday" to visit relatives and friends, exchange news and deal in business matters. Today, it is more a form of entertainment and bargain hunting. Set on 70 acres with 4,000 booths, 10 miles of street and ample parking space, the market offers commodities for sale or swap that range from precious china to "one hoss" plows and livestock of every variety. Free admission. For more information contact First Monday Trades Day, City of Canton, P.O. Box 245, Canton 75103 (214-567-6556).

Continuing — "British Rail Pension Trust Collection," Museum of Art, San Antonio. The museum has received a long-term loan of 18 major works of art from this collection based in London, England. Included are Old Master paintings, wood and bronze sculptures and marble busts from the 16th-18th Centuries; Chinese porcelain, bronzes and ceramics, some from the Ming dynasty; and a rare Persian silver dish from the 5th Century, B.C. Hours: Tues.-Sat. 10 a.m.-5 p.m.; Sun. 12-5 p.m. Admission: $3 adults; $1 children; free Thurs. 3-9 p.m. Details from Museum of Art, P.O. Box 2601, San Antonio 78299 (512-226-5544).

Jan. 22-Feb. 1 — 50th Texas Citrus Fiesta, Mission. This fiesta pays tribute to Rio Grande Valley produce with a variety of entertainment including special Winter Texan events for out-of-state visitors, plant exhibits and sale, royalty coronations, golf tournament, 10K run, folkloric dances, arts and crafts and carnival. Highlights are the Product Costume Shows featuring fashions created from natural Valley-grown products using a cloth base, and the Parade of Oranges with floats decorated with Valley-grown fruits and vegetables. For complete listing and prices contact Texas Citrus Fiesta, Box 407, Mission 78572 (512-585-9724).

Rivercrest Closes Out Non-District With Wins

By Stan Anderson
 The Rivercrest basketball teams closed out their non-district schedule last Tuesday night against the New Dianna Eagles, sweeping three games from the former district rival. The Rebel JV boys played the first game of the evening and took a 54-53 overtime win. Jimmy Lewis led the Reb scoring attack with 15 points, followed by Tim Easley with 14 points.

The Rebelettes squared off against the Lady Eagles in the first varsity contest of the night. Rivercrest had soundly beaten the Eagles earlier this season by a 20-point margin. But jumped out to a quick 6-0 lead, before a pair of jump shots by Cindy Thompson and Rhonda Collins pulled the Rebelettes close. Two free throws gave the Reb team six points to the Eagles 11 for the first quarter.

The second quarter proved to be somewhat better but not yet enough as the Eagles forged a 23-14 lead at the half. The Rebelettes opened the second half with a hot hand, as they outscored the Dianna fens 14-8 to pull within 31-28 in the third quarter. The fourth quarter proved to be the Rebelettes quarter, as they went to the free throw stripe eleven times, connecting on seven attempts, and outscored Dianna 15-11. But the Rebelettes were behind with 31 seconds left on the clock when Cindy Thompson sank the tying basket and was fouled. One free throw by Thompson put the Rebelettes on top for good, 43-42.

Cindy Thompson led the scoring with 16 points. Rachel Smith followed with ten, Lori Alford hit for eight, Kim Clark had four, Rhonda Collins had three, and Barbi Rackliff finished with two points.

The Rebels faced the Eagles in the final game of the evening. The Eagles managed to keep the game close as the Rebs led 17-13 at the close of the first quarter. Rivercrest slacked up a bit in the second quarter as Diana outscored the Rebels 13-12, but the Rebs kept a 29-26 lead to end the half.

Rivercrest opened the second half by allowing the opponents only six points to the Rebs' 13, as the Rebels widened their lead to a 10-point margin, 42-32. The Rebels used the fourth quarter to put the Eagles away for good as Rivercrest scored 24 points, compared to Dianna's 15.

Reb coach, Wake Wood, used his entire bench the final half, using fresh players to wear down the Eagle team and take a 66-47 win. Rebel forward Chris Anderson led all scorers with a 23 point effort. Russell Rozell followed with 15 points, Brad Anderson was next with 13 points. Reserve forward Craig Savage came off the bench with nine points. Marvin Anderson and Kenneth Kelley finished with four points and two points respectively.

Friday night, Rivercrest hosted Leonard for a pair of district contests. The Rebelettes were scheduled for the first contest of the evening. Both teams came into the game with a 1-1 district record. The first quarter was an even contest as each team scored 10 points.

Rebelette forward Lori Alford led the Reb cause with six points in the first quarter. The Rebelettes fell behind in the second quarter by two points, as they only connected on 7 of 25 attempts the first half, giving Leonard a 20-18 advantage.

Rivercrest opened the third quarter with a poor shooting performance as they only managed seven total points during the quarter, compared to Leonard's 11 points making the score Rivercrest 25, Leonard 31, going into the final quarter.

But the Rebelettes offense came out smoking the fourth quarter as they began their comeback effort. Rivercrest pulled within one point with 41 seconds on the clock when a Rebelette foul sent Leonard to the free throw line. The Leopards connected on one of two shots, giving Leonard a 41-39 lead. A quick basket by Cindy Thompson tied the contest. But another Reb foul gave Leonard the winning free throw as the Rebelettes fell 42-41 and 1-2 in district play.

Cindy Thompson led the Reb scoring with 16 points, followed by Lori Alford and Rhonda Collins each with ten, Rachel Smith and Barbi Rackliff finished with two each and Kim Clark chipped in one.

The boys game pitted Rivercrest against a tall Leonard team. But no real contest materialized as the Rebs shut out Leonard 15-0 in the first quarter. Rivercrest showed little mercy in the second quarter as they piled up a 25-6 lead in the first half.

The Rebs turned up the heat even more as they doubled Leonard's output 18 points to 9 and a 43-15 lead. Rebel forward Craig Savage hit five baskets during this quarter. Leonard did manage to outscore the Rebs, though, during the fourth quarter 14-12, as the entire Rebel bench saw ample playing in preparation for the upcoming weeks of play. Once again post man Chris Anderson led all scorers with a 22 point effort. Russell Rozell and Craig Savage finished with 11 and 10 points respectively. Brad Woods followed with four points and
