Last week I had a birthday. I didn't like it.

ne ranks of the unoriginals I join ided that I wouldn't have any more. Or at least not admit to them. Instead of holding at 39 for ten years, I thought I'd hold at 38 instead.

I can remember very, very clearly when I thought that being young was a personal achievement. I felt a little contempt for older people, and a whole lot of pity. The realization that I would someday be the same age as they just didn't soak in. I was sure I'd always be a teenager, or in my twenties!

I suspect that, too, is hardly original. An awful lot of young people feel exactly the same way. Oh, well, their day is coming!

But back to my 38th birthday. The absolutely terrible thing about it was up feeling older. I swear, my back ached. My joints were stiffer than usual. My head held dozens and dozens more white hairs than they had the day before.

Those wrinkles that were just beginning to show had matured overnight!

Cindy made things sooo much better by putting on my card, "One more until the BIG 4-0." With friends like her...who needs..well, you know the expression

My husband told me that me being older made him feel older. He also laughed and reminded me that I was older than him to begin with.

Thanks a lot, buddy. The trees in my brother's back yard were planted the summer I was born. He reminded me that those were getting to be big trees....old trees.

Thanks a lot, brother. It went on that way the whole day. By the end of the afternoon, I was considering what type of wheel chair I should purchase, what kind of dentures I needed, and wondering when the hearing aide would become necessary.

Then I recalled what Vera Grogan a spry 81, always said. As she rolled up another paper she would grin and look up with "Well....I don't know but one way to quit having birthdays...and I'm sure not ready to do Thanks, Mrs. Grogan, from the bottom of my heart. I'm determined now that when I'm her age, I'll feel the same way. Hey, you're only as old as you feel!

The Wonders Of Windsor Wowed Us!

Nanalee Nichols Editor's Note: I meant to close this column out this week, but a number of people have told me not to do that just yet...they want to hear more. Since no one has voiced an opinion to the contrary, I shall continue for this week and next.

One Wednesday there was Windsor. Oh, was there Windsor!

Windsor Castle is located outside London in rolling, misty countryside that looks like the epitome of every English movie ever seen.

It is, of course, the Duke of Windsor's "place". The Duke of Windsor, for those who may not do any royalty watching, is Queen Elizabeth II's husband

The castle is absolutely fabulous. It is a huge complex, a mile on each side of it's four outer walls.

Within there are all kinds of "grace and favor" apartments, abodes for those who have devoted their lives in one way or another to serving the country, and beautiful lavish state rooms used upon ceremonial occasions.

St. George's Chapel is an experience within itself as one walks into ancient, outstanding stained glass, intricately carved ceilings, and monuments and plaques in memory of those famous and not so famous who served the British Empire and the people before their death.

The crests of the barons hang from the ceiling, emblazoned like a roll of honor from long ago.

A box with a note pad and pencil beside it states that "prayers are made for specific people and needs, please note down the persons name and need and we will offer a prayer."

Absolutely stunning choir pews were carved hundreds of years ago. Every now and again I was struck by the multitude of lives that went into the creation of all this beauty.

One can picture the wood carvers and gilders going about their business within some huge structure before it's completion, hundreds upon hundreds of them painstakingly chipping out works of art.

In Windsor Castle itself, we entered a room which almost literally took me to my knees in shock.

Overhead was the most fabulous ceiling I had ever seen. Done all in gold, it was intricate, yet so perfectly proportioned that the immense size of the room seemed perfectly natural. Huge chandeliers of Waterford crystal grace the length of the room. Light sparkled and bounced off the gold and crystal, and one could only gaze and gaze until the neck gave out!

Closets were big rooms with priceless paintings within, bedrooms held beds fifteen feet high and decked with golden embroidery and velvets, carved woods and ostrich plumes

We spent hours going from room to room. We saw the mahogany dining table where President and Mrs.

Reagan dined with the heads of state. The table was closed to its smaller proportion walls while we were there...it would only seat 75 people. When all the leaves are in it, it will

Also at Windsor, Madame Trussard's waxworks had an exhibition called "Royalty and Empire". These hundreds of wax figures were absolutely astonishing. One expected them to move and breath.

Devoted to the reign of Queen Victoria, they followed her through the course of her lifetime, from young woman to her death. Inside the theatre, the most amazing figures of all spoke, moved and

Dickens and Florence Nightingale spoke their piece, and Victoria and Albert told their dreams at the begin-commented upon the age. Charles ning of her rule Even her little dog, lying at her feet, perked his ears at her voice, wagged is tale and yawned!

After the awesome experience of Windsor, it was pleasant to drive out into the countryside to Runnymeade.

Here, breeze touched meadows rolled while peaceful cattle grazed upon the hillside.

Runnymeade is famous for being the site the Magna Carta was signed on. This world famous document was the beginning of "Justice Under The Law" and the beginning of legal process as we know it.

It wasn't hard, as we wandered across the empty meadow, to imagine the jingle of harness and bits, the flast of bright cloaks and armour as mounted knights and barons, kings and dignitaries met on this hallowed ground for various ceremonies, including the signing of the Magna Carta. back in the ten hundreds.

We walked on down a fence line, then up a winding path through handsome trees. There, inscribed on plain granite, was a monument to John F. Kennedy, set in the center of an acre of land that Great Britian gave to America in memory of the assassinated president.

The rain began again after we had our walk, and we drove home (how easy it was to think of our friend's place as home), through gathering

A fire, (yes, in July) took away the chill and we sat in Mic's living room sipping iced tea... (we had the craving, old habits are hard to break).

We began to talk about some of the expressions we heard among the British. "Full of beans and bus tickets" is their expression for feeling happy and ready to go. 'There's not enough room to swing a cat in" speaks of tight spaces. For me, the one that sent me off into gales of laughter was "To hell with poverty...give the cat the goldfish!" "The weakest to the wall" we found out, is an ancient expression. It seems that originally there were no seats in church...only a long bench along each wall of the building. There the crippled, infirm and ill would sit, while all others stood....hence the expression!

We went, as always, to bed early because we were always tired and happy after a day filled with our friends and their lovely nation.

several centuries since royalty has used the room for sleeping, instead, secret affairs of state were discussed and settled in bygone days. Now, it is part of the castle complex open to the public. (Staff dusty rose and silver gray were apparent throughout the ceremony and reception. Floral baskets of iris, snapdragons and gerber daisies flanked the altar of the chapel which was accented by the unity candle.

Eric Goldstrom, the chapel organist, presented the processional, "The Prince of Denmark March" by Clark, and the recessional, "We Thank Thee, Lord" by Bach.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, Timothy Kline, and given in marriage by her parents. She was gowned in white satin with a sweetheart neckline and short puffy sleeves. The fitted bodice was accented with seed pearls, lace and embroidery. A chapel length train with lace insets extended from the dropped waistline. She wore her mother's wedding veil, a crown of pearls and illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of baby's breath and freesia centered with phalaenopsis orchids. A concealed blue garter completed the tradition of "something old, new, borrowed and

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with a dusty rose cumberbund, bow tie and freesia boutonniere. The best man, Jimmy Smith of Clarksville, and the groomsmen, Edwin Lee of Glenn Heights, Bobby Smith of Irving, Mike Trapp of Arlington and Richard Mch of Dallas, wore identical silver gray tuxedos with cummerbunds, bow ties and boutonnieres of matching dusty rose. The ushers were Chuck Earley of Arlington and Jim Earley of Tyler.

The matron of honor, Konnie Darrow of Arlington, and the bridesmaids, Julia Knight of Shreveport, LA, Cecile Kittock of Dallas, Christi Schmidt of Arlington, all friends of the bride, and Tessa Morgan of Irving, sister of the groom, wore tea length dresses of dusty rose taffeta with sweetheart necklines, pointed drop waistlines and ruffled sleeves. They each carried a free form bouquet of gerber daisies, iris and astromaria.

The bride's mother chose a blue textured silk tea length dress with pink accents. The groom's mother wore a tea length dress of pale olive champagne with bone accessories. The mothers each lighted a candle during the ceremony, with which the newly married couple lighted the uni-

Following the wedding ceremony, the bride's parents honored the couple with a reception in the R.L. Thorton Alumni Center on the SMU campus. Rose and silver balloons decorated the area. The bride's table was covered with a rose satin cloth centered with the lemon-filled bridal cake, topped with a cascade of flowers. Crystla bowls of punch flanked the cake, with the groom's traditional chocolate cake on a side board. The buffet table held small sandwich meats, cheeses, vegetables, dips, a watermelon fruit basket and other hors d'ouevres.

Piano music was provided in the parlor room by Harrietta Flachmeier, a friend of the family.

Members of the houseparty for the reception were Randa Collins and Lana Collins of Corpus Christi, Cathy Knebel of Hockley, cousins of the bride, and Melissa Casey of Stafford.

Eileen Fortney of Dallas presided at the registry.

At the close of the reception, in place of rice bags, silver and rose colored balloons were distributed to the guests and released when the couple left for their wedding trip to Orlando, Florida.

The bride is a 1981 graduate of Lake Highlands High School in Dallas and 1985 graduate of Stephen F. Austin University in Nacogdoches. She is employed as a math teacher with Ennis Independent School District. The groom is a graduate of Rivercrest High School of the Talco-Bogata Independent School District and a 1985 graduate of the University of Texas at Arlington. He is employed by the Mesco Metal Building Company in Grapevine. Upon their return from their wedding trip, they will be at home in Arlington.

Following the wedding rehearsal on the night before the wedding, the groom's parents, Talmadge and Dorothy Morgan, were hosts for the rehearsal dinner at Hoffbraur's in Dallas. The wedding party, their guests, and the immediate families of the bride and groom celebrated the occasion. Special guests were grandparents of the bride, Rev. and Mrs. A.L. Phennig of Austin, Mrs. Olive Kline of Pittsburg, PA and grandmother of the groom, Mrs. W.L. Brueck, Sr. of Woodville and aunts, Mrs. George W. Smith and Mrs. Murphy Davis, also of Woodville.

The Best Way To Keep Your House Cool May Be With a Blanket

It seems strange to use a blanket in the middle of summer. But to keep cool air inside your house, you need the blanket effect of proper insulation.

Without proper insulation, your home loses cool air in the summer (and warm air in the winter). Your cooling/heating system must work harder to maintain a comfortable temperature. The proper amount of insulation will make your home more energy efficient and comfortable.

Over 23 million Americans own U.S. Savings Bonds, our nation's most popular security. Sales of U.S. Savings Bonds increased 24 percent in January 1987 to $710 million, compared to $575 million in January 1986. The month's sales helped bring the total value of Savings Bonds held by the public to $93.11 billion, the highest level ever and a 16 percent increase in the past

The bride was escorted by her father, Jennings Harley Vaughan, attired in a full length gown of white satin made by her mother, Pansy Vaughan. She carried an arm bouquet of a dozen varigated pink roses and baby's breath accented with ribbons of varigated pink and tied with a bow of delicate lace.

Her sister, Sarah Hughes of Capistrano Beach, CA, served as matron of honor. Cara Ballard of Keller, DeeAnn Hutson of Friona and Shannon Worley of Kingfisher, OK served as bridesmaids. All wore matching pink print tea-length dresses and carried small arm bouquets of varigated pink roses and baby's

The bridegroom was dressed in white tails with a bouttonniere of two pink roses. Kevin Bently of Oklahoma City, Ok served as best man. Groomsmen were Terry Watkins of Oklahoma City, Ok and the bridegroom's two brothers, Black Smith of Garland and Scott Smith of Allen. They were dressed in charcoal gray tuxedos with pink bow ties and cumberbunds. Ushers were David Vaughan, brother of the bride of Richardson, Marc Hughes, the bride's brother-in-law of Capistrano Beach, CA and Robert Carter of Dallas. The candlelighter was Chris Vaughan, nehew of the bride from Dallas.

The bride's sister, Sarah Hughes, played prelude music on the piano. Several songs were sung by friends and members of the church.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church fellowship hall. The guests helped themselves to a buffet including roast beef, fried chicken strips, rolls, vegetables, fruit and cheese and crackers. The bride's four-tiered wedding cake was covered in fresh pink roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom. The chocolate groom's cake was made by the bride's next door neighbor.

Followign a honeymoon trip to Hawaii, the couple will move to Oklahoma City where they will be living until April when they graduate from Oklahoma Christian College and move back to the Dallas area.

The bridegroom's parents are Walter and Jane Smith of Richardson. Mrs. Mae Alsobrook of Bogata is the bride's grandmother.

Talco-Bogata Schools Reduced Price Lunches

The Talco-Bogata Schools serve nutritious meals every school day. Students in grades K-8 may buy lunch for $1.05 per day or $5.25 if they purchase a weekly ticket. Students in grades 9-12 may buy lunch for $1.20 per day or $6.00 if they purchase a weekly ticket. Students in grades K-8 may buy breakfast for 55 cents and high school students may buy breakfast for 65 cents. Extra milk may be purchased for 25 cents.

Children from households that meet Federal Income guidelines are eligible for free meals or reduced-price meals at 40 cents for lunch and 30 cents for breakfast. To apply for free or reduced-price meals, complete the application which may be picked up at the school, sign it and return it to the school.

Food Stamp/AFDC Households: If you currently receive Food Stamps or Aid to Families with Dependent Children for your child, you only have to list your child's name and food stamp or AFDC case number, print your name, and sign the application. Since you have already given income information to the welfare office, the school can confirm your eligibility.

All other households: If your household income is at or below the level shown on the scale, your child is eligible for either free or reducedprice meals. To apply for meal benefits, you must provide the following information and sign the application: (1) list the names of everyone who lives in your household. Include parents, grandparents, all children, other relatives and unrelated persons who live in your household, (2) list the social security number of each adult age 21 or older. If an adult does not have a social security number print "None", (3) list total monthly income and amount of income (before deductions for taxes, social security, etc.) each person received last month and where it is from, such as wages, retirement or welfare. If you have a household member for whom last month's income was higher or lower than usual, list the person's expected average monthly income.

Verification: The information on the application may be checked by school officials at any time during the school year.

Reporting Changes: If you list income information and yoru child is approved for meal benefits, you must tell the school when your household income increases by $50 or more per month (600 per year) or when your household size decreases. If you list a food stamp case number or AFDC number, you must tell the school when you no longer receive food stamps or AFDC for your child.

Foster child: Your foster child may be eligible for meal benefits. If you wish to apply for meal benefits for a foster child, contact the school for help with the application.

Nondiscrimination: Children who receive free or reduced-price meal penents are treated the same as children who pay for meals. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, national origin, age or handicap. If you believe you have been discriminated against, write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Fair Hearing: If you do not agree with the school's decision on your application or the result of verification, you may wish to discuss it with the school. You also have the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing the following official: Harold Cowley, Box 130, Bogata, TX

75417 or call 632-5205.

Confidentiality: The information you provide will be treated confidentially and will be used only for eligibility determination and verifica-

Reapplication: You may apply for benefits any time during the school year. If you are not eligible now but need to apply later in the year, please fill out an application at that time. You will be notified when the application is approved or denied.

All parties are asked to make application at the school their child or children will be attending.
