Lack Of Sight Doesn't Daunt Couple

By Mollie Williams

Russell and Kathy Woodall are special people, not just because they are visually impaired, but because they have conquered the overwhelming problems that accompany handicapped human beings in a society created for sighted people.

Kathy Woodall became blind only hours after her premature birth from too much oxygen in the incubator. Although she's never known what it's like to see with eyes, she's managed to gain a very good education by graduating from a public high school, attending a year of college in Oklahoma and completing several trainings for the blind. She has held jobs as a medical transcriptionist, has done secretarial and clerical work, worked as a switchboard operator, worked for the State Agency for Abused Children in Little Rock, AR and worked for the IRS in the Customer Service Department. Kathy says that in past years she would work a while and save up for expenses, then go for more training wherever it was offered, realizing she would have to be over-trained in order to compete in the business world with her handicap and with computers entering the field.

Kathy enjoyed her work for the IRS because she did most of her tax counseling over the telephone. "No one knows you're blind on the phone," says Kathy with a grin. Kathy says the work was challenging because she would have to refer to the many volumes of information in Braille and answer as quickly as sighted people. However, she says she had very good training and memorized a lot of material and was able to do the work quite efficiently.

Kathy says she owes her independence to her mother. "She never let me accept defeat," says Kathy. Kathy's mother was so determined that Kathy overcome her difficulty that she did not allow her to attend special schools, but kept her enrolled in public schools. Her mother attended training programs designed for parents of blind children and learned how to transcribe much of Kathy's school work into Braille. Kathy learned to type by the time she was in the third grade and from that time on handed in homework and assignments just like sighted students.

When asked about her social life during her teenage years, Kathy admits that there were some difficulties.

"At times, it seemed as though I was the only girl in the world without a date," Kathy recalls. "But then, someone would come along who could look beyond my hardship and I'd have a good time."

Kathy says that her independence helped her to be able to cope with society and that she has always believed it was up to the blind people to educate the public about their condition. She also feels that it was her generation that brought the blind out of "broom making" and gave them a place in the business world.

Kathy recalls few problems with co-workers in the jobs she has held. "After a few days on the job, I proved to them that I could do my part and didn't need any special favors. After that, things usually went okay." One of the biggest problems Kathy faces as a blind person is people's reaction to her leader dog. She says a lot of people are afraid of dogs and tend to withdraw from her in some places. "However," says Kathy, "this is my form of mobility and I can feel independent working as a team with my dog."

Kathy recently spent two and one half weeks in Morristown, New Jersey being trained with Lyra, a yellow Lab which was given to her by The Seeing Eye Company. Kathy's first leader dog died, so she was already familiar with using a leader dog.

Kathy's first marriage ended in divorce, leaving her with two small boys, age one and two years old to raise alone. Kathy says she has felt the most fulfilled in life as a mother and although the struggles have been many, the joys have been far greater. Under the supervision of a friend who has a nurse. Kathy learned to bathe and care for infants before her first child was born by practicing with a doll and later with another friend's baby. She says the infant stage was easy because they had to stay where they were put. It was as toddlers that the boys gave Kathy her greatest concern. "They wore bells on their shoes long after most children," Kathy says, laughing.

Kathy and her boys moved a lot during the boys' younger days so that Kathy could get job training. She said she was always amazed that after a few days living in a new complex, someone from the welfare department would come by to tell her they had received a report from neighbors that a blind woman was living there with two small boys. "I finally learned to expect it and didn't let it bother me. They never caused me any trouble," says Kathy.

Kathy met her present husband at the Rehabilitation Center in Little Rock, AR while working there as the switchboard operator. Russell had enrolled in the center to learn small engine repair for the blind. Russell inherited retinitis pigmentosa, a deterioration of the retina. Russell realized he had this deterioration by the time he was a tenth grader in high school. Doctors told him he could lose complete vision at any time. With this tragic possibility hanging over him, Russell set out to get training that would allow him to support himself when his sight was gone.

Kathy recalls that as a student at the center, Russell had impressed her with his willingness to face his situation realistically and prepare for it. She says that a lot of victims in Russell's condition refuse to face their trouble and end up bogged down in self-pity and no way to support themselves.

After completing the course on small engine repair, which, for Russell involved completely taking an engine apart, putting it back together and making it run while blindfolded, Russell became an instructor at the Rehab Center teaching the trade.

Russell and Kathy were married in March, 1983. Kathy's sons, Robert and Jerry, were eight and nine years of age. Although the boys were anxious for a father figure, they were also a bit mistrustful, but within two weeks the boys were calling Russell dad, making Russell and Kathy very happy. Since that time, the relationship between them has grown very close. According to Kathy, the boys accept having visually impaired parents very well. "I have always maintained good communication with my boys. We always talk about everything. If I embarrass them, they tell me." Kathy tells of the time the school asked her to bring her leader dog and speak to the students. She said this made the boys feel very proud and special. Any problems in communication she now has with the boys, she attributes to their age and feels that the breakdown is what any parent of teenagers might face and not because she's blind.

The Woodall family moved to Rivercrest, just a few miles south of Bogata on Highway 271, in July of this year. The land there was given to them by Kathy's brother to set up a small engine repair shop. Russell hopes to get the business set up and some business coming in before he loses his vision. Robert and Jerry, now 12 and 13 years old, are anxious to help him in the shop. Kathy says she would like to find some part time work in the order to supplement their income. The entire family seems to be very happy living here. The boys enjoy school and Kathy reports that they're doing better academically than ever before. They feel at home in the First Baptist Church where they have become members, and are anxious to meet others in the community.

Kathy and Russell Woodall are living testimonies of the victories that can be obtained in life even when faced with insurmountable obstacles. The Woodalls have taken the plow and dug for themselves a place in society and proved once again that determination and perseverance can conquer life's most difficult situations.

Talco Purchases New Emergency System

The City of Talco has recently purchased a new answering system for its emergency number. The number is still 379-3331. This new system enables fire department personnel a 24-hour coverage on this number without trying to keep volunteers at home by the phone all the time.

The system works by letting firemen answer either through a walkie-talkie or a remot patch in their vehicle when there is no one by a phone or everyone is on a call when another call is received.

The number, 379-3331, still reaches the City offices Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 12 p.m. and 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. On weekends, holidays and after hours, this number will be answered by volunteer firemen or the answering service using remote equipment.

If you use this service, please turn down all radios, televisions, scanners or anything with loud noises as this system is voice activated and loud noises make it difficult to transmit or receive.

This system is a definite plus for this community and the fire department would like to thank the City Council for their support in this and other much needed equipment recently purchased to upgrade the fire department and the EMS system.

Keep Your House Warm with a special blanket

Nothing keeps you warmer in the winter than a cozy blanket. When you're wrapped in its warmth, cold air stays out, and warm air stays inside.

This same principle can also work to keep your house comfortably warm for a reasonable cost. When you install proper insulation, you're using a different kind of blanket on your house.

Without proper insulation, your home loses warm air in the winter (and cool air in the summer). Your heating and cooling system must work harder to maintain a comfortable temperature. The proper amount of insulation will make your home more energy efficient and comfortable.

Girl Scouts Hold Annual Meeting

Alice Ann White of Bogata received special recognition at the annual meeting and awards banquet of the Red River Valley Girl Scout Council held recently in Clarksville.

President Georgia Weddle of Paris presided over the meeting which included election of officers and directors, presentation of awards and committee reports.

Two Clarksville residents were elected to the board of directors: Susan Hughston, first vice-president and Bettie Millikan, director. Glen White of Bogata also currently serves on the board.

Mrs. White was presented a plaque in appreciation for her contributions to the Girl Scout day camp program and her service on the Gold Award committee. In addition, Mrs. White received tokens of appreciation for serving in the capacities of neighborhood chairman, volunteer trainer and day camp director for Bogata during the past year.

Mollie Williams, current neighborhood chairman in Bogata, Kay Ross and Paula Speir attended the meeting as delegates. Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Seir also received their five-year membership pins at the meeting.

Mr. White received a golden ruler in appreciation for his outstanding patience and support of his wife throughout her Girl Scout career.

An announcement was made at the close of the meeting that the council had received a grant from the DeWitt Wallace Reader's Digest Scholarship Fund to send eight girls and two adults on a Wyoming Trek next summer to Girl Scout National Center West in Wyoming. Girls and adults from the council were encouraged to apply for the trek by contacting project director Debbie Janeway at the Girl Scout office in Paris.

Whiteside To Seek State

Board Of Education Seat

Charles Whiteside, a Kilgore chemist has announced his intention to seek a seat on the State Board of Education. He would represent, if elected, District 8 which runs from the Red River along the east side of the state to the northern edges of Jefferson and Harris Counties.

A ten year member and past president of the Kilgore ISD board, Whiteside also served as president of the Texas Association of School Boards in 1979-80. His involvement also includes serving for 15 years as member and chairman of the Kilgore ISD Vocational Advisory Committee.

Whiteside, 55, was born and reared at Grapevine and attended Texas A&M University where he received B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. degrees. After working as a research scientist for Mead Johnson and Company for three years, Whiteside moved to Kilgore where he taught chemistry at Kilgore College for seven years. In 1965 he established Ana-Lab Corp., an independent testing laboratory which he continues to operate.

"I would like to see some fine tuning of House Bill 72, but I am definitely opposed to abolishing the principle provisions of education reform," Whiteside said. "Our education system needs to meet new challenges that effect our state."

Whiteside is involved in local civic activities including the Kilgore Chamber of Commerce, Kilgore Improvement and Beautification Assn., Kilgore Rotary Club and is a director of the East Texas Treatment Center (for physically handicapped). He serves a local church as deacon and Sunday School teacher for the deaf. He is also a member of several professional organizations and was an elected delegate from Texas to the 1986 White House Conference of Small Business.

Whiteside is married to the former Jo Ann Youngblood of Athens. They have a son and daughter.

Whiteside will file in the Republican primary.

If you smell gas, here's what to do.

You can't smell gas in its natural state, so Arkla adds a distinctive odor to make leaks easier to detect. Natural gas is clean, safe and efficient, but, if you smell gas in your home, there are certain things you should do.

If the odor of gas is light, the source of the leak is probably one of your gas appliances. Occasionally pilot lights will blow out, so first check each of these. While you're doing that, make sure each of the burners of your range and oven are turned completely off. In most cases, these two checks will solve the problem.

If the odor grows stronger and you can't locate the source, here's what to do:

- ventilate your home by opening all windows and doors. Doing this will prevent a concentrated build-up of gas in your home.
- extinguish all open flames. Don't use matches. Don't turn on light switches or use electrical or battery-powered equipment that might create a spark.
- get out of your house and call Arkla from an outside phone. Wait there until our service representative arrives.
- If you know where your meter is located, turn off the gas to your home by using the shut-off valve at the meter.

Tear this out and keep it in a safe place for future reference. Natural gas has an excellent safety record, and by following these suggestions, you can help keep it that way.

Roundball Round-Up

By Gary House

The Rivercrest High School basketball program includes not only the Varsity Rebels and Rebelettes, but also Junior Varsity and Freshmen competition.

Due to the number of games involved, it is not possible to give total coverage; the intent of this report is to bring a weekly summary of as many highlights as possible of the freshmen and junior varsity games. The Rivercrest coaching staff, Wake Wood, boys head coach; Eddie Barker, JV and freshman; and Randy Copeland, assisted by Sue Nolen, do an outstanding job of developing the skills of the younger players. They make many sacrifices in order that games may be scheduled for all teams.

The following is a summary of the games played by these units thus far:

Junior Varsity Boys

The Junior Varsity unit is composed of nine sophomores and occasionally one junior. This lack of depth has led to three defeats, although the squad is steadily improving. The opener against Prairiland saw the junior Rebels fall to a 66-34 defeat. Samuel Ross scored 12 points and Jason Pogue hit 10 first quarter points to lead the way for the Rebels. Lydell Mirler scored 14 for the Patriots, while Trevor Upchurch added 13 and Randy Barker and Randy Huddleston hit 12 each.

Prairiland also won the return match on Nov. 21, but game statistics were not available.

The JV unit made a much better showing against North Lamar on Nov. 23. Although they lost the game 66-55, Jeremy Abshier scored 24 points to lead all shooters while Jason Pogue added eight more for the Rebels as did Samuel Ross and Jason Lankford. After a game with New Diana next Tuesday, the Rebels will host a junior varsity tournament at RHS on Dec. 10-12.

Junior Varsity Girls

After four games the Rebelette JV squad boasts a 2-2 record. A one point loss to Prairiland opened the '87 season. Kelley Reeves scored 10 points to lead the Rebelettes, while Eatherly hit 12 for the Lady Patriots. This loss was avenged three days later when the Rebelettes defeated the Patriots 22-20. Juanita Howerton led the Rebelette scoring with nine points.

The third outing saw the North Lamar Lady Panthers defeat the JV Rebelettes 37-32 by building an eight point lead in the third quarter, then hanging on. Melissa Horton scored 12 points while Jerilyn Russell added 9, and Shane Webb six points for the Rebelettes.

The Rebelettes came away from Maud last Saturday with a decisive 33-9 victory. Balanced scoring from the unit gave Howerton 9 points, Horton and Webb 8 points each and Russell six points.

Nine of our states got their names from the rivers that flow through them—Minnesota, Colorado, Connecticut, Illinois, Mississippi, Nebraska, Ohio, Oregon and Wisconsin.

Bring back the "Good old days" ...with GTE CLASSIC SERVICE.

GTE TURNS BACK THE CLOCK WITH CLASSIC SERVICE.

Remember "the good old days?" Whatever problems you had with your phone service, you'd just call GTE and we'd take care of it. No second thoughts. No repair bill. Your regular phone bill covered everything.

Now, under recent FCC rulings, you're responsible for the cost of repairs to the wiring and jacks inside your home or business. This makes things a little more complicated.

CLASSIC SERVICE HELPS KEEP THINGS MORE LIKE THEY USED TO BE.

We can't bring back "the good old days" entirely but, with new CLASSIC SERVICE, we can make things more like the way they were.

With CLASSIC SERVICE, you pay only $1.25 per month to have GTE repair your telephone wiring and jacks during normal working hours, at no additional charge.

Just $1.25, per telephone number, on your monthly phone bill (about 44 a day) covers you, no matter how many jacks you have. And if you sign up before JANUARY 1, 1988, you can avoid the one-time sign-up charge.

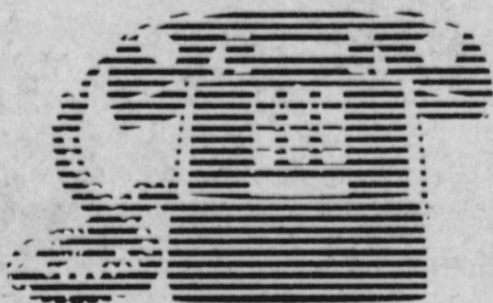

Here's how you'll save with CLASSIC SERVICE ...

NO SERVICE CALL CHARGES

Without CLASSIC SERVICE, if you have a problem with your phone service, and a GTE service call is needed to locate the trouble, you will be charged for the visit if the problem turns out to be in your wiring, jacks, or telephone instrument.

With CLASSIC SERVICE, there is no service call charge during normal working hours.

GTE
CLASSIC SERVICE

NO REPAIR COSTS

With CLASSIC SERVICE there is no additional charge for repair or replacement of inside wiring and jacks*. If you elect not to subscribe to CLASSIC SERVICE and need inside wiring or jack repairs, you have three options:

- As a full-service telephone company, GTE will be happy to make the repairs. But under the new FCC ruling, if you have not subscribed to CLASSIC SERVICE, you will be charged.

- Or, you contract with a third party for repairs, but rates and qualifications vary widely.

- Or, you can make the repairs yourself, but you'll have to supply your own materials. With CLASSIC SERVICE, there is no service call charge. No repair charge. No worry. That's why we call it "CLASSIC."

HERE'S WHAT CLASSIC SERVICE COVERS ...

- Service call charges
- Identification of the problem.
- Repair or replacement of inside wiring and jacks.

Like anything else, your telephone wiring can deteriorate with age and exposure to air and humidity. CLASSIC SERVICE covers this damage, as well as damage caused by natural disasters such as floods or lightning.

*Coverage does not include ...

- Willful damage
- Damage due to negligence
- Telephone instrument repair

AND NOW, NO SIGN-UP CHARGE UNTIL JANUARY 1, 1988.

Whatever problems you may encounter with your phone service, we urge you to call GTE first, even if you don't have CLASSIC SERVICE, because in many cases we can correct the problem from "our end." But if the problem does turn out to be inside your premises, won't it be nice to have CLASSIC SERVICE protection?

Sign up for CLASSIC SERVICE before JANUARY 1, 1988 and avoid a sign-up charge.
