

NICHOLS' WORTH

By: Nanalee Nichols

We didn't do too well at North and East Texas Press Association's competition this year...a fourth place in feature writing was the only thing we won.

Actually, though, it doesn't bother us too much. It seems that a group of University Journalism students did the judging. And they simply don't have any ideas about the realities of the weekly newspaper business.

They made an overall critique of weeklies, and here's a few of their comments, and my thoughts.

"Community papers must run the ritual group awards, check presentations and 4-H winners, school news, but good ones don't do it on the front page. They should cover news affecting everyone."

Wellll...how about that! Somewhere along the line I had gotten the idea that community civic organizations, kids, etc. were an important part of any community!

Community service: "Community service does not mean boosterism." It's not? Well, there we went again, somewhere along the line we got the idea that we were here to SUPPORT our communities, not tear them down! But then they continue: "Award winners tackled public issues like bond elections and scandal." Ah, now it's becoming clearer...we need to try the "National Inquirer" approach, perhaps?

Under sports, the judges asked "Doesn't anyone play anything but football or basketball? Winning entries showed more diversity." Oh my, we missed the polo match between Prairiland and Rivercrest, also the chess tournament! I guess track, baseball, band coverage, etc. doesn't count? But really, don't they realize that in schools associated with most weekly papers they DON'T play much else but football and basketball?

The one that really threw me was when they said Editorials should be UNSIGNED! Also a product of the "Editorial Board". Our whole staff doesn't make up a board!

But there is currently a measure in the Texas Congress to pass law requiring all editorials to be signed! In my book we have to demand the same thing of ourselves as we do of our readers: if we want it run we must put our names to it, just like letters to the editor must.

We were also admonished to "Not right in chronological order." How else does one write?

So that was the way the ball bounced. We always like to win...but we won't win at the cost of what we believe in.

Somehow, though, I think a few years of actual experience among these journalism students will bring about some changes in their attitudes.

Adjusting the antenna for your favorite sitcom is not a laughing matter

Your favorite sitcom may be funny, but adjusting a television antenna to watch it is serious business. That's because antennae often combine two dangerous factors — they're near power lines, and they conduct electricity. If the antenna strikes a power line while you're holding it, the results can be deadly.

To adjust your antenna safely, please remember to make sure it is installed far enough away from power lines that it could fall without striking one.

For more information on power line safety, call or visit your local Texas-New Mexico Power Company office today.

To My Friends and Neighbors

Let us put bitterness behind us and get on with building the reservoir voted by a majority of Red River County Citizens last September.

John Dial, a conservative businessman, is standing for Place Seven on the Water Board, to represent Precincts One and Two. I am standing for reelection to Place Nine, representing the county as a whole.

It will be our aim to get Dimple Reservoir built at the lowest cost and with fairness to all sections of the county.

With my lifelong experience in public administration and his management experience, I sincerely believe that John Dial and I can contribute to these goals.

Your votes on May 7 for John Dial, Place 7, and Travis Hale, place 9, will be sincerely appreciated.

To My Friends and Neighbors

After a lifetime in public administration, I believe I am qualified to see that Dimple Reservoir, which the people of this county endorsed last September, is built as efficiently and fairly as possible, and at the lowest cost to the taxpayer.

I would appreciate your support and your vote for another term as Director-At-Large Place 9, County-Wide in the May 7 Water Board election.
