When a kid has his dad in the bleachers and the bases are loaded he often tries so hard to get a hit that he strikes out instead.

The human brain is a lot the same way, sometimes the harder it is pressed to remember, the more of a block it creates.

There are few things more frustrating than trying to remember something and being unable to.

Names are one of the most common culprits. Is there a single person in the world who hasn't shaken hands with someone and desperately, furiously tried to get their brain to reveal the name?

Dates, times, locations, road numbers and authors, quotations, or instructions, all tend to vanish like dew under a July sun when the occasion arises to recall them.

The problem is age-old. Witness the expressions we hear so frequently "if you hadn't asked me I could have told you", "It's right on the tip of my tongue", or "it'll come to me".

Apparently our memory banks just don't appreciate surprises very much.

Give them a little time to work on a problem and they usually perform. But spring a sudden surprise and they rebel, refusing to yield information they definitely possess.

Most of us use little tricks to try and remember.

Reciting the alphabet slowly in our heads to come up with the proper sound to begin a name, remembering similar words to try and trip a signal that will reveal the information, or using number combinations are common ploys.

The tricks are usually unreliable, however. There is only one real way to achieve remembering.

That's to forget it! That's right, just give it a rest. Quit driving down the road going over and over the needed chunk of memory.

Quit saying name combinations out loud.

Forgo looking through a book to try and locate an author or quotation.

Go do something else entirely. That's the only way to ever regain the lost shred of information!

Sometime after we've gone and genuinely forgotten what we were attempting to remember the light bulb will come on...the sun will come up, and the information we sought will appear!

Don't think the human brain can be faked out...it can't. Fiddling halfheartedly with something while still surreptitiously trying to remember will result in further delay.

Just really and truly quit racking your brain. It works almost without fail.

Of course, there is no guarantee that the information needed will be produced while it is still needed.

It may pop up within minutes, hours or the next day.

Many people, like myself, will awaken in the wee hours of the morning with the knowledge that they had desperately sought.

All this seems to point to one conclusion. Our brains won't be bullied. But they never really forget anything, either.

All the desired data is there, we just don't use the right signals to reclaim it.

The brain is so marvelous that it works on things even when we are unaware that it is working.

But like that kid at bat, when we try too hard, we may strike out!

Local Sales Taxes On The Increase

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Tuesday that payments to cities that collect local sales tax continued to show an increase this month, with July payments up 14.3 percent over those sent in July last year.

"The gaining strength in our state economy is being reflected on a local level, and local governments can continue to expect a steady increase in their share of sales tax collections," Bullock said.

Statewide, year-to-date payments are 10.8 percent higher than the same period last year, according to Bullock. Houston's payment of $10 million was up 17.5 percent over last year's allocation, Bullock said, and Dallas' payment showed a 10.1 percent increase.

Bullock said that 915 checks totaling $61.3 million in local sales taxes were sent Tuesday to cities that collect the local option sales tax at either one or one and one-half percent rates. Allocations to the state's six metropolitan transit authorities also showed an increase of 17.5 percent, with their checks totaling $28.9 million. El Paso's city transit department, the only CTD in Texas, received a payment of $794,658.

Checks totaling $5.8 million were also mailed Tuesday to 81 counties that collect the one-half percent county tax, Bullock said.

July's checks represent taxes collected by monthly filers in May and reported to the Comptroller's Office by June 20, according to Bullock.

Locally, Blossom received $1,147.28 for this period, compared to $862.13 for the prior year, for a 1.48% decrease over total payments to date.

Deport received no payment for this period, as compared to $512.97 for the previous year, for an 0.29% increase over total payments to date for the year.

Paris received $137,147.93 for a 7.41% increase over payments to date.

Bogata received $1,019.66 for its payment for this period, compared to $2,268.27 for last year, for a 4.80% decrease in total payments to date.

Clarksville received $12,446.21 for this period, for a 6.09% increase over the payment for the same period last year of $12,014.23.

Detroit received no payment this period, but experienced a 66.07% change from the same period last year.

Mt. Pleasant received $73,484.56 for an 8.25% increase over last year's payment.

Talco received $1,752.16 for this period, compared to $1,167.49 for the same period last year, marking a 4.22% increase in total payments to date.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:
On June 25, I attended the Talco Homecoming and when someone handed me a copy of your newspaper it dawned on me that your paper was the sponsor of a football trophy that I received as I remember in late November 1936--the inscription reads "The Most Outstanding", my name and "The Talco Times", the trophy is silver football player on top of a black stand.

Just last month I had given this trophy to one of my grandsons, I gave him the best of my memories about this. I can't recall any newspaper account but there must have been one, a copy of that would really enhance the trophy, this grandson is only four years old and I told him that he could pass it along when he had it for some 52 years.

I forgot to mention that I was a member of the Class of '38, four of us were in attendance last Saturday.

If you can find a copy of the article would you please send it to me and bill for your services. Thank you, Wayne M. Duncan

First Responder-Firemen Appreciation Dinner Held

The Ladies of the Assembly of God Church of Talco honored the Talco firemen and emergency medical staff with a covered dish supper Friday, July 15 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fletcher in Talco.

After enjoying supper, the program began with Bro. Gary House of the First Baptist Church in Talco opening with a short speech. Bro. House began by praising the men and women of the fire department and first responder rescue squad saying "These individuals suppress the loss of life, property and bring comfort and aid to any distressed individuals. By their immediate action, these men and women answer in the affirmative the question 'Am I My Brother's Keeper.'" These are citizens protecting other citizens, they risk their lives and physical well-being, they leave the comforts of their homes in order to protect us, the citizens of Talco, and the surrounding area.

Bro. House said, "I recently heard the Mt. Pleasant Fire Department Chief say, 'Talco is fortunate to have a fire and rescue unit of such high calibre.'" Bro. House quoted "In as much as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me. Hebrews 6:10: For God is not unrighteous to forget your work and labor of love...nor do we".

Mrs. Thelma Jones came forward and thanked Randy Carroll for saving her life. The program was then turned over to Randy Carroll, Talco Fire Chief, he presented the awards given yearly to the Fireman of the Year, Jimmy McGee. Rookie of the Year was received by Ron Parker and Emergency Medical System award went to Lisa Carroll. The WM Class of the Assembly of God Church presented the Fire Department with a gift of a chargeable light box.

Tree Care Pointers For Dry Weather

A large number of trees are stressed in the Red River Valley area as the drought of 1988 continues. We are seeing valuable shade trees succumb to a variety of problems. However, the lack of moisture leads to death of trees that are stressed from these other problems.

One of the major problems that we have observed leading to tree deaths is man-made. Large trees are not able to compensate for a loss of their roots. Post Oak trees will not form new roots to compensate for the loss of roots according to Dr. Jerral Johnson, Extension Plant Pathologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. This theory explains why so many Post Oak trees have died.

It has been my observation that oak trees in particular will not survive where a new home, shopping center and other buildings are built. No matter how careful one is in the construction process the oak tree will eventually die. I call your attention to many of the housing additions in Paris. The addition west of Crockett School was built among stately oak trees. One by one they died. Today most of the trees that are there were either small at the time of construction or have since been planted.

Most tree roots are in the top 18 inches of the soil. However, most of the feeder roots that feed the tree are in the top eight inches. Therefore, it is so important that one not remove that top soil in the root area of the tree or stress will be placed on the tree.

Another point to remember in caring for trees is that theroots will extend outward two or three times the height of the tree. For example, the roots of a 50 foot tree will go out between 100 and 150 feet. If the roots extend that far outward and if oak trees do not form new roots to replace those roots that have been destroyed, then is it any wonder that those trees die?

So, the next time you place a concrete slab, asphalt driveway, or several inches of top soil over the root area of an important shade tree, stop and consider the consequences. If you must do that, then you should get another younger tree started to take its place.

Another no-no is applying water at the base of the tree. Remember the location of a majority of the feeder roots. They are not at the trunk. Keeping the base of the tree wet will only encourage wood rot disease development and no fungicide will take care of those diseases.

Loving Memories of Gilbert
Birthday, July 16
 Your gentle face and patient smile
 With goodness, yes, we recall.
 You had a kindly word for all
 And died beloved by all.

The voice is mute and still the heart
 That loved us well and true.
 Oh, bitter was the trial to part
 From one so good as you.

You're not forgotten, loved one, Dear
 Nor will you ever be
 As long as we live and memories last
 We will remember thee.

We miss you now; our hearts are sad
 As time goes by, we miss you more
 Your loving smile; your gentle face
 No one can fill your vacant place.

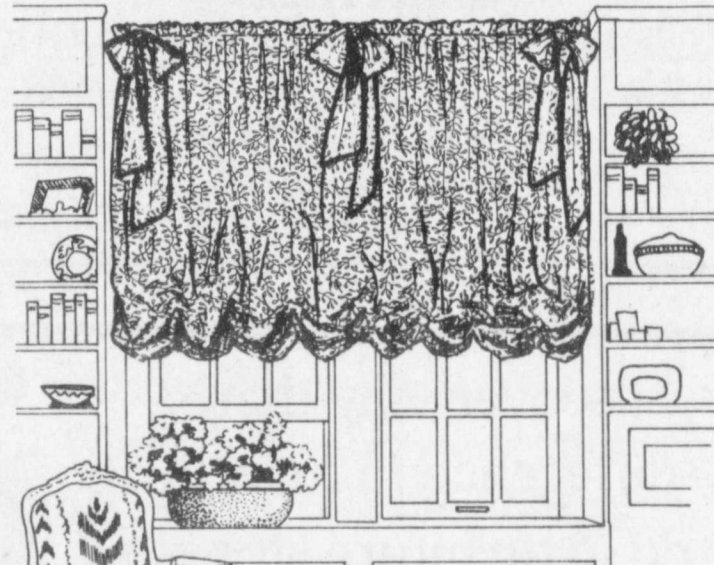

We miss you, loved one
 And always will.

PJ's CAROUSEL COLLECTION

PJ's Carousel Collection is made up of replica pieces from the early 1900's. Each carousel horse or menagerie animal is a replica in the style of the early master carousel carvers. Each initial piece is a PJ's original designed and created by one of PJ's artists. This piece then forms the master from which all pieces are molded with Gemwood™. Each piece is meticulously cleaned, hand painted in true carousel colors antiqued by our Virginia artists. Each piece is mounted on a brass pole, topped with a brass ring, and assembled on a walnut base. All pieces (with the exception of Fancy Major and Silver) use a 10" pole. The large horses stand 16" tall and use a 15" pole. All pieces that are direct replicas have distinct rectangular label to identify the master carver style. PJ's own creations have an oval PJ's sticker. Gemwood™ by the way, is basically a wood and polyester resin mixture that molds easily and still retains wood like properties of feel and weight. PJ's are members of the National Carousel Association & American Carousel Society. See this collection exclusively at Reep's Furniture.
