1200 PEOPLE ATTEND FIRST BAND CONCERT

A crowd estimated at 1200 people attended the first public concert by the Haskell Concert Band, which was given on last Friday evening at 8:30 in front of the Haskell Theatre. The entire east side of the square was crowded with automobiles full of people, many coming from Pule, Stamford, Weimert, and other neighboring towns. The first number given by the band was "Straw March", an excellent number, which was well played by the entire band. A round of applause greeted the musicians, and when this subsided, Rev. P. W. Walthall, pastor of the First Christian Church, made a short talk complimenting the members of the band, their leader, and those who are supporting the band. He spoke very highly of the personnel of the band, as well as the ability of their director, Prof. Humphreys, and asked that everyone get behind the band with their support and influence. Rev. Walthall concluded his talk by telling of the many benefits to be derived from a well-organized and directed band. After his talk, several other excellent numbers were rendered by the band, after which they were the guests of the Haskell Theatre for the evening's program.

The Haskell Concert Band was organized two months ago, and under the capable direction of Prof. Humphreys, they have progressed wonderfully, and bid fair to exceed all expectations. Prof. Humphreys deserves much praise for his untiring work in connection with this movement, and the members, individually, are to be complimented on the excellent progress they have made. The band now numbers some twenty-seven instruments, several new members having joined since the concert Friday night. It is planned to increase the size of the organization to thirty-five instruments if possible, and several have signified their intention of becoming members in the near future.

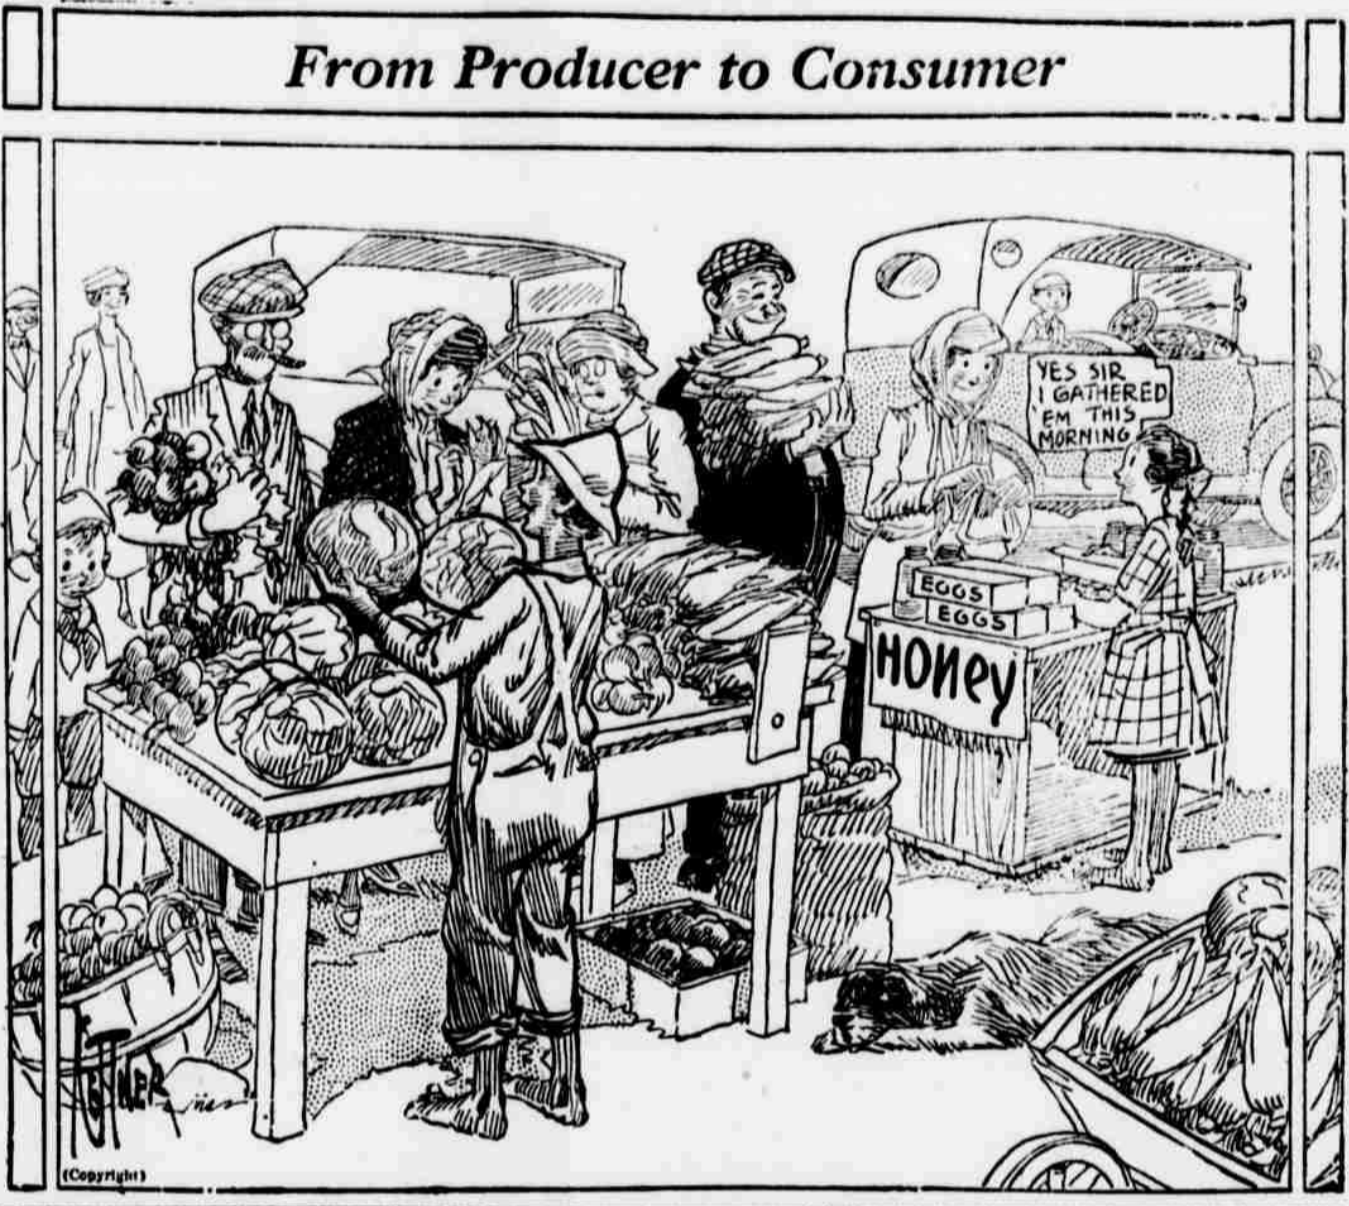

The band is supported by the business men of the city, who contribute a small sum each month to defray expenses of a director, furnish music, and other incidental expenses. A list of the business men who are contributing to the support of the organization appears below:

Haskell National Bank, Farmers State Bank, F. G. Alexander & Sons, J. E. Grissom & Co., Reid's Drug Store, Payne Drug Store, Oates Drug Store, Haskell Telephone Co., Haskell Ice & Light Co., R. V. This mill is one of the best equipped in this section, and will manufacture all cotton seed products.

EXCELLENT FACULTY FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The Haskell Public Schools will have the best and strongest faculty of any school system in West Texas.

Before a great system of schools can be developed you must have a strong corps of teachers. This is absolutely necessary before you can have a good system of schools.

The great majority of the teachers of the Haskell schools have all been trained and educated in the leading normal colleges and universities of the State and some outside the State, the large majority of them being college or normal graduates. About ninety eight per cent of them have permanent certificates. There are only a very few school systems in Texas where such a large per centage of the grade teachers will have permanent certificates.

All the High School teachers are graduates of the leading colleges and universities of Texas and some of them have done post graduate work in other state universities. In this respect Haskell High School will rank along with about the ten per cent best high schools in the state.

High School Faculty.

Mr. Lebo, principal of High School and teacher of science, is a graduate of Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College. He is one of the strongest teachers of agriculture in the State. He was the principal of our High School last year and a good principal and science teacher.

Miss Ida J. Collins, teacher of English, is a graduate of Simmons College and did post graduate work in the University of California. Miss Collins is a very efficient teacher in English. Her work last year was very successful and satisfactory.

Miss Langford, teacher of foreign languages, is a graduate of Southern Methodist University and post graduate work in the University of Mexico. Miss Langford is a home girl and she made good here as a teacher in Latin and Spanish.

Mr. Anthony, teacher of Mathematics and athletic coach, is a graduate of Simmons College. He comes to us with

DISASTROUS FIRE THURSDAY MORNING

Fire which was discovered at three o'clock Thursday morning totally destroyed a seven-room house one block east of the square. The house was occupied by D. E. Herring and family, who are away from home, having been visiting in Nacoma for several weeks. The property was owned by M. O. Lyles of this city, and was known as the old Capt. Simmons home, having been built by Mr. Simmons twenty-five or thirty years ago, being among the first residences built in Haskell.

The origin of the fire is a mystery, as Mr. Herring and family have been away for several weeks, and the house was unoccupied. When discovered the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the building or any of the household goods, all being a total loss. Efforts of the fire boys were directed towards keeping the flames from spreading to the Brazelton Lumber Yard on the next block, which was threatened for a time, as well as several other buildings in the vicinity.

Mr. Lyles stated that his loss was partially covered by insurance, but it is not known whether there was any insurance on Mr. Herring's household goods.

NEW TELEPHONE DIRECTORY WILL BE ISSUED SOON

A new telephone directory of Haskell is being printed this week, and will be delivered to local telephone subscribers next week. The new directory, which is for September, will contain the names and telephone numbers of all subscribers of the local exchange up to Thursday, August 31.

UNOFFICIAL RETURNS OF RUN-OFF PRIMARY

Unofficial returns from the run-off primary held last Saturday indicate that in the race for State Senator Mayfield defeated Ferguson by a majority of 60,000 votes. W. L. Davidson defeated Col. Billie Mayfield for Lieutenant Governor by a vote of 277,934 to 191,565. For State Treasurer, Garrett received 195,227 votes and Terrell 256,615. For State Superintendent Ed R. Bentley received 225,608 votes, and S. M. N. Marrs 237,678 votes.

In the race for Congressman in the Seventeenth Congressional District Thos. W. Blanton defeated Oscar Calloway: Blanton receiving 30,279 votes to Calloway's 18,510.

In the county, Mayfield carried the county by a majority of 102 votes, receiving 1,381 to Ferguson's 1,279. Davidson defeated Col. Billie Mayfield for Lieutenant Governor in the county by a majority of two to one. Terrell's majority over Garrett for State Treasurer was practically two to one. Marrs defeated Bentley for State Superintendent by a majority of 77. In the race for County Judge, R. E. Lee was nominated by a majority of 37 votes, receiving 1357 votes to Kinnard's 1320. In the race for Commissioner of Prec. 1, M. J. Lain received 667 votes to J. S. Abar-nath's 609. The race for Public Weigher of Precinct 1, was closest of any in the county, Frank McCurley leading over Mart Clifton by a scant majority of three votes. These results are taken from the unofficial returns as received Saturday. The official count will be made Saturday and the recount may change the total number of votes in some races slightly.

The unofficial returns of the entire county by boxes appears below:

COTTON RECEIPTS 100 BALES PER DAY

Cotton receipts reached the high mark of 75 bales Wednesday of this week. According to Public Weigher, Jess Edwards, the daily receipts for this year are far in excess of any previous year. This is due to the extremely dry weather of the past few months, which has caused the cotton to mature earlier. Usually the cotton season hardly opens in this section before September 1st, but this year heaviest cotton receipts will probably be in September and October, a month earlier than usual.

Due to the increased acreage in cotton over the county this year, Public Weigher Edwards predicts that the yield, though short, will equal last year's production, if not in excess of this figure.

CAHILL BUILDING FINISHED THIS WEEK

According to T. C. Cahill, the new building under construction one block east of the square will be completed this week. Plasterers are busy on the interior of the building, and it is thought that the work can be finished within several days. Mr. Cahill states that he will move into his new quarters next week. The building will be used strictly as an office building, and when finished will be one of the most modern in the city.

D. Scott was in Stamford last Saturday and Sunday on business.

These returns are taken from first counts of election officers. Official returns from this primary will be made public Saturday.

Are you seeking ideas on how to prepare vegetables for the table, how to care for food in the home, how to bake bread and other appetizing foods in an efficient and economical manner. Is there some practical question about your corn or wheat or cotton or other crops, or about your poultry or livestock, to which you are seeking an answer? The answers to thousands of such questions and practical suggestions for doing thousands of things about the farm and home are contained in bulletins and circulars, which can be obtained upon application to Mr. T. CRAZY IDEAS THAT HAVE MEANT MUCH

Don't laugh at the man with the "crazy idea."

Forty-five years ago Thomas A. Edison laughed at himself because he had a "crazy idea." But he kept on and today in millions of homes the photograph plays.

Less than a score of years ago Langley was laughed to death because of his "crazy idea" that man could fly. The greatest mathematician of this country, Newcomb, demonstrated "conclusively (C)" that a heavier-than-air flying machine couldn't fly.

The world has been laughing for a hundred years at the "crazy idea" that women could, should, or would vote.

It was a "crazy idea" that two great nations, with a boundary line between them three thousand miles long, could, by treaty, do away with armed camps, forts, soldiers, ships of war on lakes. But Canada and the United States never have any use for the soldiers and the forts displaced by treaty.

Wireless was a "crazy idea." So was Bell's telephone and Morse's telegraph and Whitney's Cotton Gin.

Many have through Jesus Christ had "crazy ideas."

Don't laugh at the man with the idea which seems "crazy" just because it's new. If there had never been any new ideas we would still jail lunatics and debtors, burn men for witchcraft, and use pine knots for illumination. It's not so long since a Republic was a "crazy idea" in government.

Some day the man will be born whose "crazy idea" will end war, strikes, oppression, anarchy, crime, and fraud. He will be laughed at, as all leaders have been. But let us, you and me, be not among those who deride, merely because not yet has it been given to us to understand.

A real idea of progress, of human betterment, comes from God.

Don't laugh at it because you don't understand.—Exchange.

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord

A Remarkable New Cord Tire at a Popular Price

Here is a big, sturdy, long-wearing new tire built to satisfy the buyer on every point of mileage, quality and price.

It is designed especially for the man who wants the essential advantages of cord tire performance at the lowest possible price.

It is designed to offer the buyer a quality product at a price even lower than he has formerly paid for a "long discount" tire. It has a different tread from the famous Goodyear All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and its selling price is substantially less.

This new tire is the Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord it is liberally oversize in all straight-side sizes, the 4 1/2-inch tire, for example, actually measuring nearly 5 inches.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, its foundation is genuine high-grade long-staple cotton.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, it embodies the efficient group-ply construction, a Goodyear patent.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, it is the product of an experienced company which has a world-wide reputation to safeguard.

Look at the prices of the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord, listed below.

Compare these prices with net prices you are asked to pay for "long-discount" tires of unknown reputation and value.

Pure Mebane Cotton Seed

No better cotton seed was ever brought to Haskell than the cotton that is being raised on the Pure Mebane Cotton Breeding Association farms in Haskell County. These seed are absolutely pure and is being ginned on separate gin stands in order to avoid the possibility of being mixed with off varieties. The wagons from the farms in the Association will all be painted gray as another precaution and for the purpose of distinguishing their cotton and cotton seed from the ordinary variety.

The fields have all been gone over by experts and the off brand stalks pulled out, to insure the purity of these seed. The farmers who are raising this cotton are more than satisfied with the yield as it is standing the drouth better than the ordinary varieties.

If you are interested in a better cotton for Haskell County, see Mr. P. M. Ross of the Mebane Cotton Breeding Association of Haskell and Lockhart, Texas, while he is here.

Haskell, Texas, Friday, Sept. 1, 1922

City schools have been bustling with activity this week in preparation for the opening of school Monday. All the school buildings have been thoroughly renovated and prepared for the current term. The faculty this year in the city schools is an excellent one, and much progress is expected. The new High School building has been fully equipped, and compares favorably with any in the state. Haskell schools rank among the best in Texas, and many out-of-town students have enrolled for the coming term.

With the gathering of the cotton crop going forward at full blast, business men report their volume of business increasing. Receipts of cotton at the local yards this week averaged over 75 bales per day, and the average for the next two months is estimated at 100 bales per day. Pessimists should stop and figure a little. 100 bales of cotton averaging 500 lbs. to the bale will net the farmer $10,500 at the current price of 21c per pound. Cottonseed from 100 bales at the current price of $30 per ton will swell the total to $12,000.00, the total value of one day's receipts on the local yard. These figures should help to lift the pall of gloom that has settled upon the "hard times" prophet.

Haskell boasts of having business men as progressive as any to be found, and the action of the business men on the west side of the square in providing a trading ground for the farmers bears out this statement. Free water, hitching posts, and other conveniences have been provided, and the premises are to be kept clean at all times. Haskell merchants are endeavoring to provide their customers from the rural districts every advantage possible. Trade in Haskell.

RESPONSIBILITY

Responsibility is the old acid that tests a man; it is the fire that proves him—if he is fashioned of lasting materials, responsibility makes him; if not, it breaks him. Fire causes steel to expand and become more durable; wood and celluloid and such flimsy materials can't stand fire.

Roger Babson, the statistical genius, tells a story in point. His little daughter has a cat that often gives birth to a litter of kittens. Across the street resides a lively fox terrier, who is an avowed enemy of the cat. When the dog chases the cat, one of two things always happens: If the cat has no kittens, she runs up the nearest tree; if she has kittens, it is the dog who must find a harbor of safety. Same cat, same dog, same back yard, both times. One time the cat has no responsibility, the other time she has. That realization of responsibility gives the cat her courage and initiative to do or die.

If a man fails, it is a safe bet that he fails because he can't stand prosperity—prosperity of responsibility, or prosperity of money. Some there are who never have great opportunity, and others who walk all over and around opportunity without recognizing it. Some wait for opportunity and some create opportunity. Of all the great successes, a majority belong to the last named class.

Elbert Hubbard said that opportunity gravitates to the man able to assume it. Just as water seeks its level. The principal reason some men never have big opportunities is that they never learn to make the most of small ones. Just like the fellow who never does any more than he is paid for is not liable ever to be paid for more than he does.

J. Ogden Armour says he doesn't want to know how a man does a thing, but that he has done it. He doesn't hire a man to do a certain work and then tell them how to do it. Their success depends upon their ability to get results—to shoulder and carry gracefully responsibility.

"It's not the storms you encounter at sea, but did you bring the ship safely into port?"

The world loves a man who can stand responsibility, and loving him showers him with richest blessings.—Wm. J. Wyatt's "Twilight Reflections."

HASKELL SCHOOLS

Supt. M. H. Brasher is well prepared for successful public school administration, both from academic and professional preparation and from more than twenty years experience as superintendent of some of the best schools systems in Texas and New Mexico.

Mr. Brasher is a graduate of the Sam Houston Normal College, Huntsville, Texas. A graduate also of the Texas Christian University and he has also had two years of work in State University, having enough work there to give him his Master Arts degree if his work had been properly arranged.

Mr. Brasher is not much of a doer; he has spent twenty-three years with three of the best school systems in the Southwest.

He was for ten years (1910) principal of the Boy's Department and superintendent of the Texas School for the Blind Austin, Texas, the largest school of its kind in the United States. By his organization and well arranged system, he made this school one of the best in the United States.

From Austin he went to Roswell, N. M., as Superintendent of the Roswell City Schools. During the six years he was Superintendent of the Roswell Schools, these schools were developed into the best system of schools, not only in New Mexico, but in the Southwest. The High School enrollment was increased over 200 per cent, the grade enrollment 100 per cent, and the best High School building in New Mexico was erected.

From Roswell, New Mexico, Mr. Brasher went to the Big Springs City Schools. During the six years Mr. Brasher was Superintendent of the Big Springs Schools, the units of affiliation were increased from practically nothing to twenty-four (24) units; the Big Springs Schools was placed on the All Southern List of Accredited High Schools, which meant that the graduates from this High School could enter any College or University of the Southwest without examination, and most of the Colleges of the East, North and West. Only a very few High schools of Texas are on the list.

During this time, Big Springs erected one of the very best High school buildings in Texas. In fact, when he resigned the Superintendency of the Big Springs Schools, they were considered the best school system in West Texas, between Fort Worth and El Paso.

Mr. Brasher is preeminently a school builder and if the people of Haskell will give him the proper backing, he will make the Haskell Schools the best in West Texas. This would be the best thing that could ever happen to Haskell and would be worth thousands of dollars each year to Haskell.

The following news editorial will indicate Mr. Brasher's standing as a school man and an educator:

(From Roswell Morning News.)

While we are talking about educational matters, it is timely to note that next Tuesday morning Marcellus H. Brasher will fade away from the lifeless air of the best old town. He goes to Big Springs, which is in Texas, and will put in the summer organizing the school system there.

In passing it is well to be just to Brasher. The little shining dynamo came to Roswell when the school system needed just such a man. He electrified it, so to speak. He proved himself an organizer with a captain's commission. That was just what we needed in our educational machine. Everything was ripe for his coming, and the shaking up that he administered was good for all of us—and for the schools. Indeed and in truth he made this the best school system in the entire Southwest, based properly, planned rightly, symmetrical throughout. He got results—we could fill this page with the things he did—all of them tending to make the schools better and to serve the people.

As an organizer in school work, we have never seen the equal of that same Brasher. His judgment of teachers comes pretty near being infallible. He put the profession in Roswell upon a very high plane and kept it there. He inspired a team spirit that moved things. A tireless worker himself every teacher under him was compelled to work the same way. There were no drones in his staff, and no favorites. All the teachers looked alike to him. If they couldn't produce the results, they had to go.

Even those who did not like him have always been compelled to admit his purity of purpose, and the fact that his steady effort was to serve the people through the schools. They admit that he came when we needed him, and that he was able to do a great work. Now that he is going, they can acknowledge these things without disloyalty either to his predecessor or his successor. His influence will live for many a long day, and the good he did so far overbalanced his mistakes that most people have forgotten that he ever made any.

If the people of Big Springs will give him a chance and the backing up that he deserves, he will make good there.

(From Big Springs Herald.)

M. H. Brasher completed his term as Superintendent of the Big Springs Schools July 1st, but our people should not soon forget the great work he has accomplished during his six years as superintendent of these schools. Due to his whole hearted and untiring efforts a great work was accomplished and our schools placed in the very first rank. He had an uphill task in awakening our people to the need of a new High School building and the united cooperation of our people in building up a good system of schools. He never stopped boosting our schools one minute during the entire time. The majority of our people appreciate the wonderful work he has accomplished and acknowledge that only thru such leadership as his would it have been possible to have made the Big Springs schools take rank with the best schools in the state.

All must admit that he is a great organizer, an untiring worker, and education has lost a most valuable worker on his retirement. Mr. Brasher on account of the nervous and physical strain he has suffered due to his long years in the profession has decided to take up another line, life insurance, and will continue to make his home here.

While he is not connected with our schools, we can depend upon it that he will continue to be a real booster for them and will render Mr. Flaniken our new Superintendent, and and every assistance within his power.

TRADING GROUND FOR FARMERS ON WEST SIDE

The business men on the west side of the square this week cleared the vacant lots back of their building and converted this block into a trading ground to be used by the farmers. Hitching posts and other conveniences have been provided on the lot, and the farmers this week have been taking advantage of the facilities provided by the business men. Free water is also furnished the farmers on this block, and a man employed to keep the premises clean at all times.

WORK WILL BE RESUMED ON SEWER EXTENSIONS

Work will be resumed on the sewer extension which is being extended to the north part of the city Monday. Work on this extension was suspended several weeks ago due to the illness of Supt. Hambleton, who has charge of the work. Mr. Hambleton stated this week that the work could be finished in a week or ten days.

FACT AND FICTION

Women are not athletic as a rule, but nearly all of them will jump at conclusions.

The Johnstown in the Prohibition desert proved to be only a mirage after all.

One of the main troubles of the hangings, it seems, are to be more expensive.

If the Soviet government of Russia would print more school books and less money the future of that vast country would be much brighter.

As we understood it Congress thought it would be better for Uncle Sam to lose money at Muscle Shoals than for Henry Ford to make some there.

Now comes an Indian chief suing for divorce because his squaw chased him with a knife. Civilization has certainly played the dickens with the red race.

Seniority rights have been so much in public print lately that an Oklahoma Indian who has served several jail sentences for bootlegging, notified the sheriff the other day when he was released that he expected his "seniority rights" to be unimpaired by his present freedom.

FARMERS PAYING $1.50 PER HUNDRED FOR COTTON PICKING

Farmers in this section are paying from 1.00 to $1.50 per hundred for cotton picking, with plenty of pickers to be had. Most of the farmers seem anxious to finish gathering the cotton crop before the fall rains, and it is expected that most of the cotton crop can be gathered within the next month or six weeks.

GOD OF WEALTH

Japanese Deity Whose Favor Naturally Is Sought.

Worshippers at His Shrine, However, Are Comparatively Few Considering His Reputed Powers.

Japan's "Seven Gods of Good Luck" are a clan of deities from which philosophy, religion and superstition have borrowed much of their origin.

They are a queer set of deities, swept together from many incongruous sources—Japanese Shintoism, Chinese Taoism, Indian Buddhism and Brahmanism. Orientalists all, but cosmopolitan Orientalists.

They comprise, to give them their full names, Ebisu, Daikoku, Benten, Faburapaju, Bushamon, Jurjin and Hotel.

A full discussion of their origin and attributes would doubtless reveal how slender a basis the modern popularity of these divinities has been reared on. Their union in one group is the result of nothing more recondite than popular ignorance and confusion of ideas. They themselves never chose to be thus united. They reign in an ideal state, for they have no king or even spokesman among them. Collectively they command perennial, perpetual and everlasting interest. Individually they celebrate their own festivals and each can boast of an entirely different group in his train of devotees.

On Daikoku's birthday a few of his disciples will worship at his shrine at Azabu and in Osaka. It seems so strange to say "a few" for of all the gods in the cycle of Japanese mythology, in this material age, Daikoku, the god of wealth, should find greatest favor! But perhaps he has not proved himself to be gracious to suppliants! Perhaps efficacious influences have not been felt in result of worship at his shrines—or is it that even he, the god of wealth, has failed to live up to the extravagant standard our present-day civilization has set as a basis to contentment?

Daikoku is a Hindu and a Buddhist. The word "Daikoku" means "great blackness," and when he first came to Japan he was a god of physique and frightful aspect with a face as black as night. Since his naturalization Daikoku has thrown off some of his native characteristics and has adopted a new mode of living, the chief of his models being Okukikushinomokoto, a famous god in the mythology of Japan.

In the old records this god was represented carrying a large bag on his shoulders. As there is a similarity, in this material age, Daikoku, the Japanese people somehow mixed up the two characters and molded them into one perfect deity who combines the good points of both. Makhabu (Sanskrit) was the original name by which he was known in India, where he was feared as god of destruction. His immigration to Japan has changed his incarnation to that of wealth and plenty.

He stands or sits on three bales of rice, having in one hand the usudenokozuchi or the lucky hammer from which he can produce anything in the world he chooses to, from a palace down to gold or silver, man or beast! He carries on his back a bag full of treasures of all sorts, while rats are his earthly messengers and oftentimes he is represented with one on either side of him, waiting to do his bidding.

Daikoku is generally coupled with Ebisu, the god of tradesmen. Though they are of totally different birth, race, religion, etc., they have been linked together and one seldom sees the one without the other in close propinquity. Although Daikoku is not a god to whose shrine worshippers flock, his popularity is told by the number of metallic images of his divinity which are bought and carried as amulets by people seeking wealth.

Shall we test this jovial little man's powers? Go to his shrine and beseech him to command a shower of gold, or carry his image in our pocket and see if we find it gold-lined by night?

We are snobs—all of us—of one kind or another. "We don't care for money," say some haughtily, having none. "I don't know how to spend my money," complains a millionaire. It's Daikoku's turn to speak and if he but could he would strip the world of its snobism and no doubt reveal a race of human beings all alike in their allegiance to him, the god of wealth!

Described.

"What sort of a fellow is he?"
"Well, were you ever driving along a busy street and held up for several minutes by a man who had discovered that somebody was about to vacate a parking space?"

"Yes."
"And were you forced to stay there until the other man cranked up his car and arranged his bundles and finally started up?"

"Yes."
"And then compelled to wait still longer until the hog had maneuvered his vehicle in and out several times in order to squeeze his car into the vacant spot?"

"Yes."
"Well, the chances are it was the fellow you just asked about."

BANQUET GIVEN LOCAL BAND BOYS BY CHAS. H. PARSONS

The local band boys were royally entertained last Friday night by the Haskell Theatre and the American Cafe. Right after the band concert in front of the picture show, the boys were taken in to the show and after the show all adjourned to the American Cafe where a splendid spread was awaiting them.

The first course consisted of fried chicken, chicken-fried steak, cream potatoes, cream gravy, potato and combination salad and head lettuce, ice tea, pineapple sherbert and Lady Baltimore cake, every bit of which was prepared in the kitchen.

After short talks by Jno. Deaper, T. C. Cahill, Henry Alexander, Lee Humphreys and Henry Smith, the crowd departed, declaring Mr. Parsons a royal entertainer as well as a man that knows how to turn out some good eats.

Those that enjoyed the feast were: Lee Humphreys, John Draper, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith, and Miss Ella Staley, Fred Mauldin, Guy Mayes, W. E. Lavender, C. D. Bailey, Kermit Thompson, Othello Anderson, Threese Cahill, Roy Killingsworth, Don and Henry Donohoo, Harry Lee, Olen Dotson, Tom Holland, Cecil Lancaster, A. J. Smith Jr., Chas. M. Conner, T. C. To Whom it May Concern:

This is to certify that the undersigned farmers of Haskell County have this year planted our entire cotton crop with seed furnished us by the Mebane Cotton Breeding Association of Lockhart, Texas, paying $2.75 per bushel for same. We have as good crop as can be found in this section. Cotton is close jointed and has big bolls and is standing the drouth splendidly.

We are well pleased with our crops and believe we have made money by planting these seed. The company is now having the fields gone over by their men who are pulling up all off type plants.

Our cotton has withstood the drouth fine and is maturing better than other cotton around ours. Our cotton is a five-lock boll, and is as fine as could be expected.

You are hereby commanded to summon Wesley Gregg, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 38th Judicial District, but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest District to said 38th Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Haskell County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Haskell, on the Second Monday in November A. D. 1922, the same being the 13th day of November A. D. 1922, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 11th day of October, A. D. 1921 in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 2774, wherein Willie Gregg is Plaintiff, and Wesley Gregg is Defendant, and said petition alleging that plaintiff and defendant were lawfully married to each other on the 11th day of April A. That defendant cursed and abused plaintiff and drove her away from home and would not permit her to return, plaintiff says that defendant's action toward her generally was of such a nature that it rendered their living

KANRED WHEAT BRINGS FARMERS $64 PER FARM

Farmers who grew Kanred wheat in a test with other well established varieties made an average of 7.2 bushels more per acre on Kanred wheat than on the other varieties. These farmers grew an average of 95 acres of wheat other than Kanred. The difference of 7.2 bushels per acre on 95 acres equals 684 bushels. It is, therefore, plain, according to their own test, on their own farms, that if they had of had their entire crop planted to Kanred they would have been $684 better off today. Furthermore, the average test on Kanred was 1 3/4 pounds better than the average of the other varieties. On the fourteen farms considered Kanred had an average test of 59 1/2. The other wheats grown on these same farms had an average test of 57 3/4. The average yield for Kanred is 16 6-10 bushels. This is the average for 874 acres on fourteen different farms. The average yields of other varieties on these same farms was 11.4 bushels for an acreage of 1239 acres, the difference being 7.2 bushels less.

Kanred Beats Turkey Red

In order to be entirely fair in comparing Kanred with other varieties it is well to notice a comparison of two hard winter varieties. On five farms where Kanred and Turkey Red were both grown the Kanred averaged 23.8 bushels and the Turkey Red averaged 13 bushels, or 10.8 bushels less than Kanred. Kanred tested 60 1-2 and Turkey Red tested 59 1-3. There was 281 acres of Kanred and 484 acres of Turkey Red on the five farms. These men lost about 11 bushels per acre by not having their entire crop in Kanred. Farmers who grew two varieties of wheat on the same conditions may figure out their loss this year according to the yield they made from the varieties grown.

Do Not Expect Too Much

In this article and in previous articles the figures on yields and tests have been given as reported in writing by the growers themselves. It is not hearsay and for that reason much confidence is placed in reported yields. However, wheat growers should not expect in the future such large increase over other varieties as we have had this year. The average increase in other states over large areas, the past few years, has run about 3 to 4 bushels more per acre. The writer never has claimed more than four bushels increase on the average yet this year the increase is nearly double that figure. This very favorable increase is probably due to the unusually hard conditions under which the wheat crop was made, for it is known that Kanred is resistant both to drought and rust and that it stands more freely than other wheats. That probably explains its remarkable showing this year. The other varieties could not stand the unfavorable season this past year.

Next year conditions may be favorable and if so other varieties will not suffer and may therefore approach Kanred wheat in yield closer than during the past season. Growers should not gamble on 7 to 10 bushels extra per acre from Kanred, but it does seem reasonable to expect about 3 or 4 bushels more per acre. That is its history and record.

STATE FAIR PREMIUMS AND RULES GOVERNING

Containing full rules governing exhibits of every description, together with such data of interest, the premium list of the 1922 State Fair of Texas, October 6-15, has been mailed to exhibitors of last year's record. Copies may be secured by applying to the secretary's office, State Fair of Texas, Dallas.

From the viewpoint of the farmer, poultryman and stock raiser, this year's fair is declared will be especially attractive. There is a full list of premiums, and the several scholarships offered in Texas schools for winners in the boys' and girls' agricultural club department, are again to be contested for.

No less than thirty premiums for individual agricultural, live stock and like exhibits are listed.

It is announced that a full and complete radio exhibit will feature this year's fair. Arrangements have been made to have a broadcasting station installed during the progress of the fair and for two weeks prior to the opening. Geo. W. Goodwin has been named as superintendent of the radio department. One of these announcements is that a special showing of amateur apparatus will be made, for the particular benefit of radio enthusiasts from outside Dallas. Moving to Haskell.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 6c per bottle.

Card of Thanks.

We take this method of thanking our many friends for their kindness shown us during the illness and death of our infant baby. Most especially do we thank Bro. Walthall for the good talk rendered. Also for the sweet flowers. May God's richest blessings rest upon each and every one of you is our prayers. F. J. Gilliland and wife. W. D. Gilliland and family.

MUCH INTEREST BEING MANIFESTED IN FOOT BALL GAME

Much interest is being manifested in the first football game of the season, which will be played at the ball park next Tuesday, September 5th, when the High School team will oppose a local team composed of former High School players for the first honors of the season. This has been a custom for the past several years, in order to stimulate early practice and football training, and the games have always been hotly contested.

This year, however, interest in football has become stronger than ever before, and the High School team began daily practice Monday of this week in preparation for the game with the locals. The local team will be composed of former letter men of the High School, many of whom were stars on the football team in past years. Among those from whom the team will be chosen are: Frank Kimbrough, Abdon F. Holt, Hill Oates, Othello Anderson, Gaines Post, Roy Killingsworth, Jno. Draper, Ed Sprules, Henry Smith, Roy Ratliff, Kormit Thornton, Jno. Pave, Thom. Morrison, Bailey Post, Marvin Poteet, Jack Kirkpatrick, and Jno. L. McCollum.

The game will be played at the baseball park, and proceeds will be used in helping to provide equipment for the High School football team.

SCHOOL NOTES

Over one hundred and fifty High School pupils have registered this week and secured their books and are ready for regular school work Monday morning. In a majority of schools practically the first week is taken up in organizing. With us the organizing is done before the beginning of school and a week is practically saved the schools. By making the schedule out and having the pupils register before school opens, all conflicts and its attendant confusion are done away with.

The High School will open up Monday with about one hundred and seventy-five pupils, the largest enrollment for the first day in the history of the Haskell High School.

The Senior class of the Haskell High School will start out with an enrollment of about 35 pupils. This is the largest enrollment in the history of the Haskell High School.

The Junior class will start off with about 35 pupils, which also the largest Junior class the Haskell High School has ever had.

In the next few months there will be other pupils that will enter these classes, as well as the other classes.

Parents are urged to see that their children get right down to hard work from the very beginning of school. They should see that quiet rooms are provided for them to study in at home. They should see that all their children in High School study from two to three hours at home each day and the grade children from one to two hours at home. Parents should take enough interest in their children to supervise their home study. If they will do this, their children will usually make good at school.

School children should rarely indulge in social pleasures, or should rarely go to picture shows, and that should be on Friday or Saturday nights. School children need from nine to ten hours sleep each night. After they prepare their home school work, which is absolutely necessary if they succeed in their school work, they have no time for anything more.

If you think your child is not doing well in school, go to your teacher at once and see what you can do to assist the teacher. You both must pull together if a success is made in this great work.

The Superintendent is here to advise you and help you with your children in any way that he can. If you need his advise or help do not fail to call him.

Practically all of the Senior class of the Rochester High school have entered the Haskell High school. There are also quite a number of pupils from other places and the rural schools that are entering. We are glad to have these fine boys and girls and we will do all we can to assist them in making their school work a success and a pleasure to them.

It is our purpose to make the Haskell High School serve all the smaller places of this section of West Texas. We would like for them to come from a radius of 50 to 100 miles.

Do not forget to attend the School Rally Program Wednesday, September 6th, 2 p. m. at the High School building. We will have a short interesting program.

Miss Bettie Castle of Abilene and Mrs. M. H. Brasher will give a joint recital for the benefit of the schools, Friday September 8th, 8:30 p. m. at the Christian church. A small admission of 15 and 25 cents will be charged at the door. This will be a fine program and the money will go to the schools. So do not fail to come.

The Parent-Teachers' Association will have their first regular meeting next Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. This is a very important meeting and every member and every prospective member are urged to be present.

Every mother and lady that are interested in the schools should be a member of this great organization. The Haskell Schools are going to need the help of all mothers.

The Parent-Teachers' Association will map out a big program for the benefit of the schools this coming year. They are morally and spiritually right in behind the schools. They are going to do their part to make the Haskell schools the best schools in West Texas. They are proud of their schools and they want to make them better. So every mother is urged to join the she may not be able to attend all the meetings.

COTTON BRINGING GOOD PRICE ON LOCAL MARKET

Local cotton buyers are paying the top price, 22c per pound for cotton this week, and farmers are taking advantage of the excellent market in this city for their product. Due to the transportation situation, very little cotton is being shipped, but buyers are offering the top price for the fleecy staple nevertheless. Cottonseed is bringing 60c per ton on the local market, which is several dollars per ton higher than the price offered in neighboring towns.
