

By Nanalee Nichols The war of wills is just about done ... and I think I've lost. Much as it pains me to admit it, I think I've been outwitted by a baby calf.

We have this bottle calf, as pretty a little white-trimmed hereford heifer as can be found. She is currently in residence under the back carport, where she has the company of about eight cats and two dogs.

In spite of our naming efforts, she has become known as simply "Baby".

There is a daily routine. I hang the bottle in a holder off the fence, and rush to open the pen gate, rush in with a shovel..scoop up, (and anyone who knows cattle knows how much solid deposit a bovine can leave), and rush out.

Meanwhile, Baby is chowing down on that big bottle with all her might.

She doesn't pause to breath, she simply empties that bottle. Why do I hurry so to get out of the pen? Because if I don't get out before she runs out of milk she attacks me. "Attack?" you ponder.

Yes. She promptly runs over and begins to suck on my leg. She can turn a pair of blue jeans into a slobbery, soaking wet mess in about three seconds.

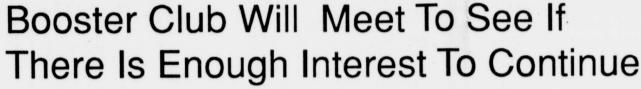

She chases me around the pen as I try to use the scoop. She butts at me, and persists in trying to get a grip on my pants leg.

It's extremely hard to get out of the pen gate with her attached to my leg.

To avoid this I rush around inside that pen just as fast as I possibly can.

But I swear, as that claf grows, she gets faster ... and faster at emptying that bottle.

And yesterday, I lost big time. I had almost made it .. I was just Booster Club will hold a meeting on Monday, September 10 at 7:00 p.m. in the homemaking room at Rivercrest High School.

55TH YEAR, No. 31

This first meeting is to determine if there is enough interest to continue the club for another year. If so, officers will be elected.

The need for this club is very important to the students of the school. The first year, money was raised to help when the football boys went to the play-offs. Two $250 scholarships were given that year, also.

Last year, money raised was given to the Athletic Fund to use as needed. Six $250 scholarships were awarded that time. These scholarships were given to graduating senior athletes

The Rebel-Rebelette Athletic which included football and basketball players and managers, cheerleaders and track participants. Sometimes these scholarships are the only help some students get to go to college. And every little bit helps!

There have been complaints in the past about effort only being put forth during the football season. There is a reason for that. Most of the people that showed up for the meetings were parents of football players. Usually, only six to ten parents made an effort to attend the meetings. Most had students at Rivercrest and most of them were from Talco. Out of a membership roster of 60, that's not too impressive. It was always these few people who did all thework. It was always hard to do much during basketball season because there were too many games during the week. It was hard enough to get things done for one night during football. Can you imagine trying to do something two or three nights a week?

Also complaints were made about not recognizing the junior high athletes. That goes back to the members attending the meetings. You can't expect the Rivercrest parents to do for all three campuses without the support of these students' parents.

If you are interested in the Booster Club meeting and can't make it, you may contact Judy Easley at 379-9195 or Jelu Binion at 632-4014. The athletes need your support.

about to duck out the gate with my nice, smelly scoopful. And Baby looked up, saw me leaving, and targeted in.

I swear, even though she had an inch or so left in that bottle, she left it and charged me.

And I swear, there was a look of deliberate mischief in her eyes as she didn't attempt to grab my pants leg..she simply took aim and butted the scoop .

Hmmm .... the best way to say it is that "debri" flew everywhere. In my face, down my front, all over.

I didn't really hurt her, honest. I used the flat of the shovel. Surely no one will blame me for whacking her on the backside with the shovel as she whirled around and went calmly back to her bottle?

Club Managers System, this should have been done in May of this year. If for some reason you have not done so, you need to reenroll immediately. Another stipulation of the program is that each club in Texas elect new officers and club managers each year. If your club has not done this, it should be taken care of immediately. When the new officers and managers have been elected, each club should submit a list of the newly elected officer and manager to our office. We have several clubs that we haven't received a list from and this is important to our records so please take care of this ASAP. All new club officers, county council members and club managers take office as of September

The success of each club is directly related to the involvement of the managers and officers. Whether you are a 4-H veteran or a first year member, you should rely on the leadership that these folks will provide. If you have questions feel free to call US.

BAMBI-and Jenny. Thirteen year old Jenny Roach bottle feeds "Bambi" one of eight barbadoe sheep that she has at

Me and My Barbedoes

Jenny Roach, age 13 In the last year I have collected 8 exotic animals that are called barbedoes.

Yes barbedoes. I know you must be thinking"What in the world is a barbedoe." A barbedoe is a animal that is part sheep and part antelope. They are a lot like sheep but they don't have to bo sheered, they shed their wool in the summer and they bave hair like a deer underneath it. Then about fall they grow their wool back again.

Then when they have babies they sually have twins and usually, that is usually take both of them. But you know how my luck goes. My first set of twins were born and guess what, she didn't take one of them.

So when I got home from school we had to start bottle feeding him. For about a week he got to stay in the kitchen in a box, but then one night he took off and jumped out of the box but as soon as his feet hit the floor they went out from under him. So Mama said that the next morning he went out in the dog pen because we were afraid he was going to break a

So needless to say the next morning Poot got moved to the old dog pen and not by his own will.

We bottle fed him about a month and then put him on lamb food and started letting him in the back yard. But when it became dark back into the dog pen he went which he had got attached to at the time.

One day we let the other 5 barbedoes out in the back yard to eat the grass down. Poot saw the other barbedoes and back to the dog pen he went. He was scared to death of the other barbedoes. This went om for a few weeks and finally when his sister came up and wanted to play with him he didn't run. Finally he would stay with them instead of staying on the other side of the yard from them. So finally, we moved him out in the pasture. But guess wha? Every night he would slip through the fence and to the dog pen( which we called his apartment) and go to sleep, and then every morning he would go back out in the pasture and stay with them the rest of the day, until finally he got too big to go through the gate.

So now Poot, who's hair is white instead of black and brown, stays out in the pasture with the other babies. That have been born since then, and all eight of them arejust as happy as can be!

Editors Note: Many people have asked us about our new staff writer, Jenny Roach. Yes, Jenny really is only thirteen years old. She writes her columns with absolutely no help. Sometimes, her mother is a little disturbed when she reads her daughter's work! Jenny, in addition to writing, has spent this summer learning to run the computer and how to do darkroom work.

Last Days Of Halesboro School Remembered...

By Conrad M. Hobbs

turned out the light and closed the door for the last time at Halesboro School.....It was an occasion long overdue.

During the 1940's, World War II had started and had its impact on the nation. The population shifts from small communities to city-based aircraft industries, coastal shipyards, western copper mines and military bases had its impact. The nation had vigorously staggered back to its feet after a first round knockdown at Pearl Harbor. Men had gone off to war, families had moved to work in industries related to the war effort, and communities were changed forever.

The Halesboro community that once had its post office, stores, churches, school, telephone exchange, Masonic lodge and brewery was no exception. The Halesboro school that once offered an educational program from "primer" through the eleventh grade, was now down to 13 students in grades one through six. It seems that the once respected insti-tution of learning at Halesboro was painfully reflecting the demise of a culture that was to be no more ... another casualty of war.

In December, 1941, men went away to war with Pearl Harbor in their minds, and I officially started to Halesboro school. The school was in trouble from the first day I arrived to the very last day when we turned out the light.

Starting school in December was by design and not my idea. Leaders in the now diminishing community already feared losing the school because of rapid decline in student population. I was often allowed to visit school as a five-year old with my older sister. I was given a book so that if the school inspector came by, he would think I was a student. My parents and the teachers felt that I should start immediately after my sixth birthday in December, in order to help prop up the declining enrollment. Now, nobody asked me for my opinion at the time, but after a while, I was not too keen on the idea. My most noticable reaction to school was that I cried for weeks. School wasn'g much in my opinion and over the next few years, it turned out I was correct in my judgment.

For the first few years at Halesboro, there were enough students for two teachers. Ms. Smith and Ms. Roberts were two kindly women, who were competent in their field and brave beyond belief. Their job was to educate students at about eight learning levels in two classrooms, build fires, sweep floors, supervise recess, counsel troubled, crying students and plead for materials and a signed voucher for their pay. They probably had their greatest lack of success in the latter, and soon moved on to greener pastures or, at least, to paved roads. Older students moved on to other schools in Deport or mostly Bogata.

On a warm day in May, 1947, we Most, however, just moved somewhere and, as we who were left would observe, must have taken the basketball, the softballs and the bats with them.

I was recognized as a student with a great deal of potential in about the fourth grade, since I could read on about the second grade level and do our column addition and subtraction. Our teacher at this time had actually been to college and knew about things like that, but by that time we were down to one teacher and she lived at our house. But, alas, she too tired of the endless duties, muddy roads and crying children and moved away. Things got sticky around Halesboro school about this time. My intellect told me that my dad was my best source of learning. We were down to a few ragged books, two broken seesaws, three swings with no seats swinging from bois 'd arc posts, and the weeds on the school ground were growing about as fast as I was. There had not been a hot lunch served in Halesboro school since the 30's. Lunches were brought to school wrapped in "The Deport Times". If one wanted a drink of water and didn't care for the added enrichment of mosquito larva, then a mason jar of water was added to the old booksack. The REA had touched the school alon gwith the rest of the community and a light bulb swung from the ceil-

Wheat Variety Selection Is An Important Decision

The planting of wheat in the Red River Valley area is just around the corner. The time of planting depends on the intended use of the crop. If one has plans to graze their wheat, then the seed should be in the ground by the end of September. However, if the crop is to be grown only for grain, then planting should be delayed until October.

It would appear thet the 1990-91 wheat crop will not be a profitable enterprise. But, then what's new about that? All of the agricultural economists are in agreement that very little profit can be anticipated from theupcoming crop. So, one needs to put a pencil to the budget prior to putting the seed in the ground.

It makes sense to graze wheat in order to increase the profit picture for wheat. However, not all operators are ing, and the school had a radio/phonograph that worked for perhaps a year. Nevertheless, the school was in trouble.

We got a new teacher in about 1946. She was another brave soul armed with determination, if not certification, and she was at least 18 years old. By this time, the number of students was down to about 14 or 15, and we had learned about all there was to know. On ething we did notice during the last couple of years at Halesboro was that recess became longer and longer and the teacher stayed inside the building with her head on her desk. Someone even observed that she cried at times. I had finally stopped crying by about the fifth grade.

Playground equipment had gotten down to a very soft softball obtained by students' saving of Masterpiece seals from notebook paper and a 12 pound bat that my father carved from a hickory tree. The softball lasted about a month and I'm sure the bat continues to exist in someone's fence. I'm also sure we still managed to have a few books and at times were activly in pursuit of learning, but rumors persisted about the imminence of consolidation with Deport and/or Bogata schools. The new teacher married during the last few months of existence of ease resistance, resistance to the Hessian Fly and on and on.

Coker 9877 and Pioneer 2548 were the two top varieties in the Lamar County wheat variety result demonstration last year. Their yeild was 64 and 63 bushels. The demonstration was planted on land farmed by Dwain Jantz of the Maxey Community located nortwest of Paris.

Coker 9877 is a new variety that was released last year and had very good disease resistace to all tha major diseases except powdery mildew. Pioneer 2548 has been out about three years and has been one of the top yeilding varities in the Lamar County result demonstration plantings for the past three years. Pioneer 2548 had the school, but she didn't move away Instead she and her husband moved into an old house directly across from the school and set up housekeeping, and oftentimes on very cold days, her young husband would come over to the school and held classes. This was my first experience with a male "teacher". I remember that he would sit near the large stove in the corne so that his cigarette ash could I flipped into the ash dump. Little did I realize that the future for me held another male teacher, the late G.W. Seay, at Bogata Elementary School. Things were going to be quite different to say the least. It's hard to remember in much detail very much about schooling at Bogata. I noticed that Mr. Seay probably concurred with this statement, since he awarded me with two "D's" on my first six weeks report card at Bogata.

There was no celebration, no grand finale, no crying or cheering, we just turned out the light, locked the door and walked home in 1947.

Those who walked home that day included John Charles Trussell, Eu Fay Trussell, Sarah Lou Womac John Hobbs, Charles Hobbs, Celia May Pope, Edward Vaughan, Cecil Wright, Virgil Ray Crump, Yvonne Armstrong, Conrad Hobbs, Margaret Humphrey and Mary Humphrey.

light septoria leaf blotch this past year, but no problem with leaf rust. Yield of other varieties included in the demonstratin are as follows: Saluda-53; Florida 302-51; Caldwell 47; Florida 303-45; Coker 9733-38; Pioneer 2555-36 and Pioneer 2551-34.

Pioneer 2551 is a perfect example of how a top variety one year "loses" its resistance to a disease such as leaf rust. In the 1988-89 season pioneer 2551 was the top yeilding variety with hardly any leaf rust problem. But in the 1989-90 season the variety had no resistance to lead rust. This just goes to prove that a producer should not plant his entire acreage to one variety situated to where they can make this work. Consider grazing for the other person rather than ionvesting a "ton" of money in stocker calves this fall. Just as there have been a reduction in the number of producers, there are also fewer seed companies, chemical comp[anies and about every type of agricultural service buisiness supporting the producer. This is the sign of the time. For instance, Pioneer Hi-Bred International just announced that they were going out of the hard red winter wheat breeding buisiness and were donating their breeding stocks to Kansas State University. No mention was made of their soft wheat breeding phase.

So, there will be fewer varieties from which to choose as a result of this action by Pioneer and by Coker Seed Company a few years back.

Most wheat acreage in the country and area is of the soft red winter wheat variety. As a general rule higher yeilds are made on the soft than on the hard varieties. We are even seeing more of a shift to soft in North Central Texas.

There are no "best" variety. The tenture of a variety is short-lived and plant breeders are constantly up grading their research techniques to infuse genes into plant material that will result in varieties that have disFormer Talco Resident Featured In "Profile"

Evie Smith of Talco has sent us an article on her daughter.

The article appeared in the Artesia, California paper, and is a director's profile. It says that Billie Thornton is also known by her friends as "Jitter". She has been an active member of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce for over 5 years. She was born and raised in a small, I mean small, town in North East Texas. Her family was in the oil business.

Well, kind of, her father who was mayor of their fine city was also a well pumper for Humble Oil. She spent her childhood years in the midst of oil wells, but never had one to call her own. She did however strike it rich in 1955 when she wed Bobby Thornton, and her swept her away (3 days later) to beautiful sunny Southern California, where Bob was seeking a career as a mop jockey. The career fizzled after a few years, but not their committment to each other or California, they've had both for thirty-five years. Billie and Bob have two married children, Terry and Kathy, and two grandchildren, Josh and Misti Thornton. Both Billie and Bob are licensed masonry contractors and co-own Pioneer Masonry and Artesia Masonry. Both businesses located in Artesia, are family oper-

Billie is an active member of the Board of Directors for the Chamber of Commerce, and has been involved as chairperson or volunteer on many of our projects. IShe most recently was our hostess and driving force behind our very successful installation banquet in February. You will see her most often toting her guns and collecting bail while traveling with our roving jail during Pione Days. She keeps herself busy r ning their business office (with the aid of their daughter) and contributes most of her spare time working on Chamber activities. What little time she has to herself she likes to camp, fish, refinish antique furniture and is quite handy in all forms of handcrafts.

Son of Talco Woman Featured In Article

Bob Whitney, son of Grace Whit- Ok.; Ottawa III., and Rockford, III, ney of Talco, has been featured in a and many more commendations and long article in the "Signature" section of the Irving News.

The article features a number of pictures, one in color of Bob with an antique Coke machine, and then others in black and white of Bob, his wife Sharlene, and children Monica, Robert Arthur III and Dannielle.

The article concentrates to a great extent on Bob's work with AMBUCS, a service organization dedicated to Southwest and American Airlines promoting Americanism, Character and brotherhood.

Johnny Temple, a friend, talked Whitney into joing the organizations back in 1972.

This culminated 15 years later when Bob was elected as president of the national AMBUCS organization.

He is known as Irving's Mr. AM-BUC, and even his license tag reads AMBUC

The article mentions the numerous plaques, certificates and honors that have beenbestowed on him. He has keys to the cities of Edmond, citations.

Whitney founded Irving Vending Service, a full-line company that installs and maintains vending machines in cafeterias and office break rooms.

It has concentrated on Bob's philosophy that in order to compete, service is the key.

Such businesses as Xerox, GTE are among his customers.

He still makes time for his family, the article continues.

Sharlene recently took on several part-time positions, one at Mazon and Associates and another with the Kim Dawson Agency.

All three children are in colletge this year.

They are members of Plymouth Park Baptist Church, and Bob serves as director of the Sunday school department and on the missions committee

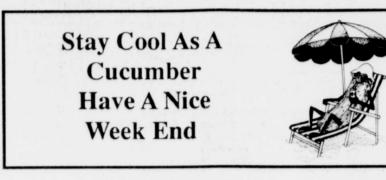

They love to ski, and consider themselves a very close family.

Reasons For Rules! Hunting season is here. While most hunters are safe, careful and observe game laws, there are some who do not. And it's a good time for those who don't pay attention to safety or laws to think about a few things. For some reason, there are those hunters who think game laws are stupid, or unreasonable, or simply don't apply to them.

Game laws are made so that birds and animalswill have a chance to remain just that...game instead of endangered species that cannot be hunted. While it may be easy to think that "I'll just take a little more than the limit" won't do any harm, what happens when hundreds of people think that? Obviously, game population goes down.

Hunting from vehicles, spotlighting, using illegal ammunition, all are laws made for the purpose of keeping hunting a sport instead of a slaughter, or for the safety of those huting or in the area in which hunting may be going on.

One of the most common infractions is hunting from roads and firing guns from vehicles. This is not only illegal, but every year results in livestock being injured or killed, or even more devastating, results in the injury or death of a human.

Yet another problemis trespassing. Some people apparently don't realise that they don't have the right to hunt on other people's land without specific permission.

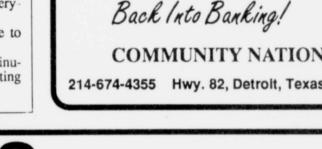

Landowners pay for land in order that they can use it as they see fit..not to provide a hunting place for unauthorized people.

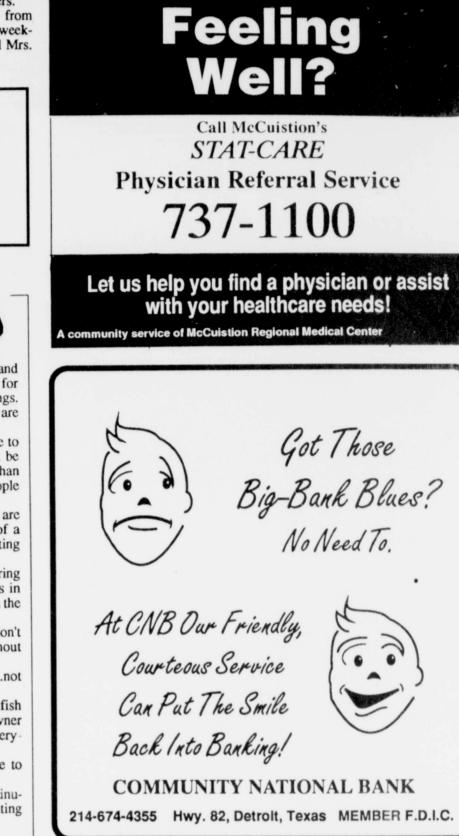

Fishing is a major problem to landowners, as some fishermen fish without permission. It's wise to remember that just because a landowner gave one person permission, that doesn't mean it's wide open for everyone!

Laws aren't passed to harass hunters, or fishers..laws are made to protect, conserve and regulate sensibly.

This season, remember, abide by the rules. It will result in a continuation of enough game for future sport ... and in much safer hunting conditions!
