Well folks, we woke up in a different world the other morning, didn't we?

From stifling, humid heat to chilly temperatures, the weather took one of those turns that take us by surprise.

Suddenly it isn't summer anymore, it's fall.

The same grass that was serene and brown is rich green after the rains...but the tree leaves are taking on a golden tint and the birds are falling.

It's a marker of the year, autumn.

It's strange how we mark our lives by seasons or events.

Upcoming events can become the sum total of the universe...an approaching holiday or family event, or a season can be a goal to aim for.

I suppose that this is due to human nature...we aren't content to drift, but must always be looking forward to the horizons.

We break our days into tiny pieces...getting up, meal times, entertainments in the evenings, going to bed.

Then we break the week into work days, counting down towards the weekend.

We break the months into a progression of events...school letting out, school resuming, family birthdays and anniversaries.

We break the seasons into holidays, and are always mentally trying to rush from one season to another.

We mark vacation as a special time, working hard in focussing on that.

Our lives we break into "when the kids are in school" or "when the kids are grown" or "when we are old enough to retire".

I suppose its a need to have goals...things to aim towards conquering, things to aim towards enjoying.

Each and every change, each and every event adds spice to the routine "soup" that is our life.

Like tastes, different folks have different desires on that spice...some like it mild and consistent, others like it spicy hot and always different!

People just need and crave a reason to work and to play that goes beyond mere survival.

It's normal, and I suspect very healthy.

Any road, it's one of the many little tricks most of us seem to use to make life a little more organized, enjoyable and purposeful.

Bike-A-Thon To Aid St. Jude Children's Hospital

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced recently that Rev. Bob Bush will coordinate the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels For Life" Bike-A-Thon in Bogata on October 13.

Founded by Danny Thomas in 1962, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is the largest childhood cancer research-treatment-education center in America. Although located in Memphis, TN, the hospital has a local impact because area doctors and hospitals can use, at no cost, treatments and procedures developed at St. Jude.

This year's Bike-A-Thon is dedicated to Brooke Simon, a 5-year old from Delcambre, LA, who developed Wilms Tumor in November, 1988. Following the removal of her left kidney, she has undergone radiation and chemotherapy. Though her prognosis is good, her fight still continues.

The Bogata Wheels For Life Bike-A-Thon is being sponsored by the Bogata United Methodist Church junior high youth group and the local Scout troop.

For information concerning the event, you may contact Bro. Bush at 632-5241.

Talco Open House Held

The Talco School held Open House Tuesday, September 18 with Principal Gary Wuest opening the meeting with a welcome and hopes for a good coming school year.

He stated that he wanted an "open door" policy at the Talco School and encouraged parents to visit or come by with any problem they might have.

There are presently 156 students at Talco and room for more. Wuest said he would like to see the numbers rise by using positive attitudes in students, teachers, parents and the community.

PTO President, Sue Wilson, was introduced and she reported 24 new parents had paid dues to bring the membership to 39. She expressed appreciation to those and encouraged everyone to participate in the PTO. Vice-president Kimberly Stansell was introduced, who explained the new point system that the Fall Festival will be accumulated on. She stated that all proceeds will be used to purchase new playground equipment for the children and asked that everyone support this year's Festival.

Mr. Wuest then announced that Talco School was one of the 10% of Texas schools to be able to apply for the Governor's Excellence Award. The children's TEAMS scores made this possible. It could mean $10,000 to $100,000 for the school if they should win. The teachers and other school employees spent several days answering five essay-type questions, working after school and Saturday to complete them by the deadline and Wuest reported that on September 17 the papers were mailed.

The program was then turned over to Mrs. Neva Oats, whose fourth and fifth graders sang and danced for the group. The fourth graders square danced to "Get Along Home Cindy", sung by Jason Brown and "Ole Susanna" sung by Jeremy Patterson. The seventh grade girls sang a medley of songs, ending in the School Song. Mrs. Oats thanked the PTO for the support of her class in the past and told the group of instruments, microphones, speakers and other things the PTO has provided for her classes.

Wuest then introduced each teacher, teacher's aide and school secretary and dismissed the group to their child's classrooms, where work had been prepared for the parents to see.

The classes with the highest percentage of parents attending open house were to be treated to ice cream at lunch on the following day. These winners were kindergarten, fourth, fifth and eighth grades.

TALCO PRINCIPAL Gary Wuest welcomed parents to the Open House held September 18. Following Mr. Wuest's welcome, the fourth and seventh grade classes led by Mrs. Neva Oats presented a short program, PTO president and vice-president, Sue Wilson and Kim Stansell, encouraged parents to become PTO members. (Staff Photo by Nancy Brown)

The "Find the Fan" contest just got a little sweeter. Keye Lee of the Bogata News and Nancy Brown of the Talco Times are providing a ticket each week for a home football game to the fan who notices his or her picture in the paper and calls in to identify his or her self. The Rivercrest Athletic Booster Club is donating a spirit cushion to the same cause. It's fun and its easy. Every week a picture will be run with a fan circled. That fan can then call the Bogata News office at 652-5322 or Talco School at 379-3841 to claim their ticket and cushion. The ticket and the cushion can be claimed at the gate of the next home game.

Letter To The Editor:

Dear Editor:
Will the state championship banners come down? Now that the Rivercrest School Board has done away with the Rivercrest Rebellettes, will the championship banners be removed, also?

Twenty-five years ago this fall I entered Rivercrest as a member of the first ninth grade. In homemaking class we removed the name of Trojan from used warm-ups so that the new name of Rebelette could be sewed in its place. Now that name is gone. My other Rebelette team members and I disagree with that decision.

Why was the name changed? To be more stylish and modern is what we hear. It sounds like the Lady Rebels will be followers instead of the leaders. The Rebelettes were pioneers of girls' track back when regional in Waco was as far as you advanced. There was no state track organization for girls. The Rebelettes helped bring state level basketball competition to Northeast Texas. Many teams of the area felt that if you could beat the Rebelettes, you could be one of the final four at state. Many of the Lady Whatever teams of today were not here in those days. Now the Lady Rebels will be following those teams instead leading the way.

Who wanted the name change? On September 11 at the Rivercrest School Board Meeting a petition of more than 200 names was presented. Those people had said that they did not want the name change. Two board members, Kip Stansell and Tommy Corbell, listened to what these people wanted. They were the only ones to vote against the change.

Players come and go. Coaches come and go. Fans come and go. Now the Rebelettes have come and gone. Will the state championship banners come down, too? Sincerely, a fellow tax player, Margaret Brooks Foster Rt. 2, Box 2055 Mt. Pleasant, TX

Rebel Sports Report

Rebels Fumble To James Bowie, 28-8

By Keye Lee

Rivercrest's hopes were fumbled Friday night at Rebel Stadium in the hands of the James Bowie Pirates, 28-8.

In the first 7 1/2 minutes of the game, James Bowie was plagued with penalties, leaving them pointless.

The first possession for the Rebels came with 10:05 in the first quarter. Rebel quarterback Ronald Simmons fabricated a pass to fullback Shane Beers, good for seven yards around the right end. Two plays later, Simmons was sacked by Kevin Williams of James Bowie, forcing the Rebels to punt.

On James Bowie's next possession, Pirate quarterback Steve Allen dropped back to pass, but was intercepted by senior Scott Yancey for the Rebels.

The Rebel offense was turned back again, when Rebel quarterback Simmons was intercepted by JB's linebacker, Jon Minter, who ran in the endzone for the first touchdown of the evening. Even though the snap was bobbled, Jeff Smith managed to score the PAT, putting the Pirates on the board with 8 points.

The interception by the Pirates seemed to distract the Rebels somewhat, but pride took over as they played hard in the second quarter, gaining small yardage, but holding the Pirates scoreless until late in the first half.

With 2:27 left in the half, the Pirates scored once more, Rebel Shane Beers prevented the extra point attempt.

The first half ended with the Pirates in command, 14-0.

The third quarter was more of the same until with just under 3:00 left in the third quarter, Pirate quarterback Steve Allen handed the ball to teammate Jeff Smith for an up-the-middle run, good for six points, with the extra point tacked on. The Rebels now trailed by 21 points.

In the middle of the fourth quarter, the Rebels were on the move when disaster struck again.

After three unsuccessful attempts for a first down, the Rebels were faced with a fourth and four, for a first from the Pirates 15-yard line.

On the fourth down attempt, Rebel Simmons was sacked and the Pirates took over on downs.

The next series found the Pirates fumbling the ball on a second down and Clint Burns recovering for the Rebels.

On second down and nine, Simmons gave the ball to back John Smith for the scoring drive, with 8:32 left in the contest, the Rebels were on the board with six points. The two-point conversion from quarterback Simmons called on another one of his backs, Shane Beers, for another successful plunge into enemy endzone, which extended their score to eight points.

The Pirates went on to post one more touchdown on the legs of Jeff Smith and the point after was good. The score was 28-8 in favor of the visitors.

The Rebels were unable to post any more points in the contest, but they denied the Pirates from crossing into their endzone again.

Coach Green remarked "They are still building character and it is still hard on the seniors, but we will get there."

Rats & Mice Are Moving Indoors

With the arrival of the first cold front this past weekend, rats and mice will be increasing their efforts to find a sheltered place. The wet spring and early summer should have served to keep numbers to these rodents down as rainy spells such as received this year generally affect rats.

Nevertheless, one can be assured that rats and mice will be a problem this winter. Now is a good time to rat proof houses and other buildings before the migration get underway in a big way. Remember, rats and mice do not know you have a $100,000 home, so look for possible entrances to your home. Do not forget to check for holes inside the garage and the screened ventilation openings in the attic. There screens do deteriorate over time and provide an entrance for the roof rat.

Once you have made the building as rat and mouse proof as possible, then you will want to consider the use of rodenticides. If you have not used one recently, you will be pleased to know that there are some newer chemical rodenticides on the market today, safer to use and pose very little danger to pets.

One of the new products, Trounce, is made of bromethalin, a revolutionary chemical that makes it the fastest and cheapest way to fight mice and rats.

Food Column To Begin... Cooks Needed!

Jerri Bankhead of Cunningham will be doing a Cooking column featuring area cooks, starting next week.

The column will be on cooks who do everything from fancy fare to plain home cooking, and will include young, cooks, as well as older cooks, men as well as women.

Mrs. Bankhead, who lives in Cunningham, will be conducting interviews, and would very much like for people who know someone worth a column to contact her. These cooks need to be located in the Bogata, Blossom, Deport, Talco, Pattonville, Cunningham, Cuthand, Wilkerson or Fulbright area, or anywhere in between, so there should certainly be plenty to choose from.

To turn in the name of a good cook who would provide an interesting article, call her at 652-6032, or call the Bogata News at 632-5322, or Deport Times at 652-4205, or Talco Times at 379-4445 or Liz Irwin in Blossom at 982-5829.

Let's help make this a creative, interesting column for you, the reader. After all, we all know that the best cooks in the world are right here in this corner of the state!

The Amazon River has 1,100 tributary streams.

Highway Department Says "No" To Political Signs On Right-Of-Way

Politician campaign signs may be beautiful to candidates and their supporters, but they're litter to the highway department. The highway beautification act prohibits most campaign signs within sight of the main lanes of any federally funded highway in Texas. Safety rules ban the signs from all highway rights-of-way in the state.

Campaign signs, like any advertisement, can be posted on private property if they are licensed and permitted under current billboard guidelines. However, most campaign signs don't qualify.

Signs are allowed on private property along farm to market roads and other state-funded roadways as long as they can't be seen from federally funded roads and don't violate local laws against such signs.

"We have two very legitimate concerns regarding these campaign signs," said highway department Engineer-Director Arnold Oliver. "Safety concerns and litter control laws dictate that we keep the rights-of-way free of clutter, whether it's for political candidates, real estate companies or anyone displaying advertising on the highways."

Bounce Back From Stress

Helpful Hints From Experts

Ten Steps To "Cool" Warm Weather

By Peter Hanson, M.D.

The kids are bored, the grass needs mowing, the barbecue hasn't been cleaned in weeks, and it's 90 degrees in the shade. Brace yourself for warm weather stress.

All year long we look toward warm weather for fun and relaxation, only to find that our jobs and families are just as demanding as during the rest of the year. And more and more, with dual-income families becoming more prevalent, it's difficult for families to arrange the traditional two-week vacation.

So we end up relying on weekends to provide us with what little relaxation we can capture. Like me, though, you've probably found that warm weather provides little relief from chore-filled weekends. In a national survey recently commissioned by Hilton Hotels Corporation, nearly 90 percent of the 1,000 respondents reported returning to work Monday morning feeling just as tired as when they left the previous Friday. On average, we spend 14 hours each weekend on chores such as cleaning, cooking, doing laundry and making household repairs, instead of relaxing.

An Endless Treadmill

The key to enjoyment is to take time out for yourself. When an endless treadmill of chores threatens your leisure time, periodically get away and remove yourself from everyday obligations. I often recommend occasional weekend breaks to my patients, especially during the summer, to help relieve stress. They're not as expensive as longer vacations and provide a great opportunity to spend time with family and friends.

The Ten-Step Weekend Process

Recognizing that people are taking shorter vacations, many airlines and hotels offer affordable weekend packages, such as Hilton's BounceBack Weekend, that can be extended into the week for a mini-vacation. Weekend getaways are also much easier to plan than longer vacations because they usually don't involve extensive travel arrangements.

Try using my list of ten action tips to make your weekends more enjoyable and less stressful.

• Don't save all the mowing, gardening or laundry for the weekend. Conquer chores one at a time and do some during the week so your weekends will be more relaxing.

• Plan occasional getaways. Warm weather months are the best time of year to enjoy the outdoors, and the more you enjoy yourself, the more relaxed you'll be.

• Extend weekend getaways. Weekends that start on Thursday or end on Tuesday avoid the crowds and give you more time with family or friends. Take advantage of hotels that extend their special weekend rates to weekdays.

• Budget getaways appropriately. Mini-vacations don't have to break the bank if you travel within a few hours from home and take advantage of packages or special prices.

• Pamper yourself. Even if you can't get away, plan time to relax by enjoying your favorite activities: go to the beach, play golf, or just lounge in the sun.

• Spend time with family and friends. By removing yourself from your daily routine, you'll be happier for it and the time you spend with your family will encourage bonding.

• Don't forget romance. Rekindle the flame. Surprise your spouse with an evening of dinner and dancing or a romantic stroll on the beach or in the park.

• Eat well. If your schedule won't permit much more than fast or frozen foods during the workweek, plan some healthy meals on the weekends.

• Exercise. Take advantage of warm weather and sports. Swim, jog, walk, ride your bike. When traveling, use the health facilities of your hotel. You'll be ready to conquer the world!

• Challenge your mind. Mental fitness is as important as physical fitness. Dig in and attempt a difficult crossword puzzle, or choose a subject that interests you and become an expert.

QUIT

Helpful Tips and Ideas To Help You or a Loved One Quit Smoking

You: A Good Example To Your Children?

How can you tell your son or daughter not to start smoking if you still smoke?

Your children are less likely to start smoking if you stop smoking.

The answer is, you can't. What you should do is to set an example by setting a date to quit. Tell your children the date, perhaps making it a special day such as your birthday or your anniversary. Sure, quitting isn't easy, but it's not impossible either. Over three million Americans quit every year. Just make sure you know what to expect and understand that withdrawal symptoms are temporary. They usually last only one to two weeks.

As part of your program, your doctor may prescribe a medication that's been shown effective in helping people quit smoking. The medication, in gum form, is available by doctor's prescription only. It releases small amounts of nicotine into the mouth to help you overcome nicotine withdrawal symptoms.

Finally, realize that most successful ex-smokers quit for good only after several attempts. You may be one of those who can quit on your first try. If you're not, don't give up. Try again.
