Requiem To A Radio

It's astonishing just how many memories can come attached to a small black box!

But my first radio has finally ceased to function...and even so I cannot throw it out...it's been with me too long.

That little radio was a fifteenth birthday present from my older brother, Hugh.

It was, at that time, state-of-the-art. About the size of a bar of soap, the Sony transistor radio had a black leather cover with a carrying strap. At the time it was by far and away the smallest, most efficient kind of product on the market. Of course it was straight AM...FM was virtually unavailable.

It was the envy of many of my friends and it went everywhere with me.

That radio was as much a part of my teenage years as anything I owned.

On it we heard music largely forgotten...The Beatles, Rolling Stones and Herman's Hermits.

Motown and folk music came rolling out of the single pierced metal speaker.

By today's standards the sound was horrible...but back then it was super.

That radio travelled in my purse. It was sneaked out in study hall and played very low. (At the time we thought we had our teachers fooled, but I seriously doubt that now).

We took it along to lakeside picnics, to parties and just cruising around.

After I grew up it went away to college with me. The sound of my favorite station was a comfort at night.

When I married the radio still went along everywhere we did. It played many a long hour at the pasture during hay baling season. It went along on vacation with us.

John Denver's odes to mountains and nature poured out of it, and Linda Ronstadt grieved over lost lovers.

Somewhere along the way we purchased a new stereo system, and later cassette tapes and high class sound systems in vehicles.

So that little radio was relegated to part time work. It snapped on my belt as I worked in the yard or when we did chores such as painting. The cover was spattered with paint, and the plastic was beginning to turn a peculiar color.

But still, when we moved to the country, the radio brought in weather reports and news upstairs to guests or when Thomas worked on the books.

Yesterday he told me it had given up the ghost.

The switch doesn't work anymore.

But it has an honored place in that closet section reserved for "things there is no reason to keep, but that I can't bear to part with".

Times have changed. Music has changed, technology has changed. But my affection for that little transistor radio continues.

And I hope it's transistors rest in peace, somewhere in up radio heaven!

Open House At Talco Masonic Lodge

Talco Masonic Lodge No. 1134 has joined 940 Masonic Lodges across Texas in scheduling a statewide Public Open House between 2 and 5 p.m. Sunday, March 10, at the lodge in Talco.

Dan L. Henson, Master of Talco Masonic Lodge, said an open invitation is extended to anyone interested in learning more about Masonry and what Masons do.

Fred E. Allen of Mt. Pleasant, Grand Mster of the 180,000 member Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas, has defined the intent of the showcase open house event as being "to put Masonry on display so anyone interested can see for themselves what Masons do and have a better understanding of what Masonry is all about."

Printed cards will give brief explanations of more significant points of interest about the lodge room, including the more prominent symbols and equipment utilized in Masonry to teach Masonic philosophy. The best known are the square and compasses, which identify members of the fraternity, together with other tools of the medieval stonemasons, builders of the great Gothic cathedrals.

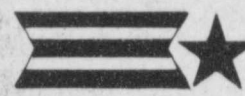

Other Masonic related organizations are also invited to participate in the Open House program to provide insight into their particular organizations.

Henson cited the event as a first in Texas in which various Masonic and Masonic related groups join together in public display of their respective regalia and symbols in a blend of colorful pageantry open to everyone. Masons collectively provide over $2 million a day and thousands of man hours of service donated to worthy causes, including over $750 million each year for charitable activities.

He further pointed out, that while Masons do not solicit members, men of good character may ask to become members.

Members of Talco Masonic Lodge will be on hand to answer any questions that you may have during the Open House.

Bogata Homecoming Is April 13!!!

"Music...Music...Music". That's the theme that this year's homecoming committee has selected for the 1991 Bogata School Homecoming. The entire program will be on Saturday evening, April 13, in the Bogata Gymnasium.

In addition to the usual fellowship, visiting and annual class reunions, the Pike family has enlisted the aid of Tim Wood to produce and direct a very special musical tribute to honor special guests and ex-students.

This extravaganza will be a homecoming to remember. Numerous exes have already been enlisted to give all in attendance, a night to remember in music, song and dance.

If you are old enough to remember or were a part of the USO shows during World Wars I and II, if you jitterbugged or waltzed, if you patted your foot to those crazy songs of the 50's, then you will have an evening of entertainment to behold on April 13.

A large portion of the musical salute will be a beautiful patriotic presentation by a large chorus of ex-students and residents, both former and current.

Special lighting and scenery will be utilized in this night to remember.

Details of the upcoming additions to the homecoming will appear each week between now and April 13.

See you in Bogata on April 13 for "Music...Music...Music."

Country Cooking

By Gerrie Bankhead

Country Cooking is coming from the kitchen of Loveta McMurray of Cunningham. Although she is 90 years old, she is still very active and on the go. She was born in Atoka, Oklahoma in 1900. Her family moved around the country a great deal until she was 18 and then moved to Cunningham. She married Grover McMurray on March 17, 1922. They made Bonham and then Waco their home until his death, and she then moved to San Antonio where she spent 11 years. In 1982 she returned to Cunningham and has made this her home since then. She loves Cunningham and this is her home. She is a member of the Abundant Life Church in Pattonville. Though she never had any children, she helped raise seven of her nieces and nephews.

Loveta attends church three times a week and does not want to miss if she can possibly catch a ride. She says she's not old, she has just been here for a long time! Staying on the go makes her feel young at heart.

Loveta loves to cook. She loves to give prepared foods and gifts to people. The two cakes shown were to be given to Larry James and Kenneth Gifford, just because they help her get around a lot. She loves to have friends in to eat with her, and enjoys dinners and suppers at her church. The Cheese Cornbread recipe she is sharing is one that is requested for every dinner at church. Loveta puts more red pepper in it than the recipe calls for, because everyone tells her to make it hot. Loveta has made this recipe for over 20 years and does not remember where she got it.

Crochet is another hobby of Loveta's. She is always making an afghan, pillow, basket or etc. to give to friends and family. Arthritis slows her down some, but she can still make an afghan in 3 to 4 weeks. She does not usually go by a pattern, just picks it up and gets with it. She has made seven crocheted bedspreads and doesn't have one for herself. She has also made five crocheted tablecloths and doesn't own one for herself, either. She likes to crochet collars for women, just name it and she makes it. Recently, she crocheted the ringbearer's pillow for my daughter's wedding.

Loveta is also sharing the banana nut loaf recipe with our readers. We hope you enjoy her recipes.

Last week I received the Wisconsin Soup recipe, requested a few weeks ago. Thanks to Juanita Sparks for finding it for us. I'm also sharing two recipes sent by Mrs. R.W. Weisinger for her party mix and party cheese balls.

We hope you enjoy the recipes this week. If you have a feature suggestion, please call 652-6032 or write to Rt. 1, Box 67A, Deport.

TAX TIPS

from Mark Bower CPA
S CORPORATION - ADVANTAGES

AND QUALIFICATIONS

An S corporation election should be considered by every closely-held corporate business. The election itself is not difficult to make, and it is not generally a taxable event. If the requirements are met, the S status may be used permanently or temporarily, as conditions dictate.

The main benefit of the election is that the corporation does not generally pay federal income tax on its net income. Rather, the income flows through to its shareholders who report their share of income on their personal income tax returns.

In general, a corporation will qualify to elect S corporation status if the corporation is a domestic corporation, has only one class of stock, and has no more than 35 shareholders. Additionally, the shareholders can only be individuals, estates and certain trusts. Individual shareholders must be citizens or residents of the U.S.

If limited liability or other business reasons dictate the corporate form beneficial in the following circumstances:

1. If the business is expected to incur large losses and/or credits which may be larger utilized by the shareholders than the corporation. (This is an important consideration in the start-up years of a business when losses are common.)
2. If the corporation has little reason to accumulate cash, but increased salaries to its shareholders would exceed reasonable compensation for services by the shareholders.
3. If the business is anticipating a large inflow of cash which it intends to distribute.
4. If the corporation tax rates are higher than individual tax rates.

The S election may be terminated at any time. However, there is a five-year waiting period before the election may be made again.

Call our office for more information or for assistance with these and other required tax filings.

The high cost of flying kites

Flying kites near power lines comes at the cost of your child's safety.

Make sure you never have to pay that price by reminding your children not to fly kites near power lines.
