PREPARING FOR CLOSE OF CITY SCHOOLS

Seniors and Juniors in city schools are being examined this week. The rest of the high school classes and all elementary school pupils will take examinations next week.

High school classes and examinations are in progress in the new school building. The new high school was entered Tuesday May 16. An entirely new spirit is manifest everywhere by reason of the changed conditions. Fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grade pupils have been transferred to the North Ward building and are immensely pleased over the change. The new building is practically bare of equipment.

The Senior Class play Monday evening formally opened the school commencement calendar, Friday evening Mrs. Hughes gives a home economics exhibit in the new domestic science rooms—comprising the three rooms to the east on the second floor. Her girls and Principal Lebo's agriculture boys have been immensely busy this week remodeling old tables and other furniture in lieu of new equipment. At the same hour on the same evening the School Board will give a "house warming" to the general school public. At this time, 8:30, Friday evening, May 19. It is hoped that everyone, old or young, interested in a better school and curious to see the interior of the new building will accept the Board's earnest invitation to gather with them there. On Saturday evening at 8:30 Mrs. Walden will give a music recital with the aid of her pupils.

Thursday evening, May 25, the preliminary contest in oratory will be held. A medal has been offered the winner in this contest by President O. E. Patterson and the School Board. Much interest centers in this contest. All orations must be original compositions. The entire Senior Class participates in this contest.

On Friday evening, May 26, Mrs. Hardy Grissom presents the grade pupils in an operetta and Miss Ellis offers her seventh grade graduating class. Board President Patterson presents the certificates of graduation.

Sunday, May 28, at eleven o'clock, at the new Christian church the basiliad, replete sermon will be delivered by Rev. Culwell. Other pastors and churches will assist with the program.

Monday evening, May 29, interschool contests will occur in debate, declamation, local history essay, and possibly in other lines. These are final contests in all cases, the preliminary contests having occurred sometime ago. The Knights of Pythias Cup will be awarded in debate, Judge Murchison's Cup in declamation and Editor Roberts' medal in local history. Except in the case of the medals individuals will win for an entire society rather than for the winner himself. The cups must be contested for and won by the same literary society three times in succession before becoming the permanent property of a group. The cups and medals are all of them simply magnificent.

Tuesday evening, May 30, at the new high school building the commencement address will be delivered to the graduating class by Supt. B. B. Cobb of Waco. Mr. Cobb is giving us a return engagement from last year at the earnest solicitation of the Senior Class and of many school patrons. He delivered a magnificent address last year, but because of a violent storm that arose at commencement hour few heard him. It is hoped that a full auditorium will hear him May 30. For the first time in a long while the school can accommodate commencement visitors and audiences in its own auditorium. Supt. Cobb's address will be preceded by the usual senior addresses, but a unique thing about it this time is that the central theme of civic improvement will run through all principal addresses. The graduating class of this year comprises many of the civic class members of last year, and the class as a whole is much interested in civic improvement. It is fitting that civic improvement should be the central theme of the addresses climaxing their school careers.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WANT BIG SHOWING AT PLAINVIEW

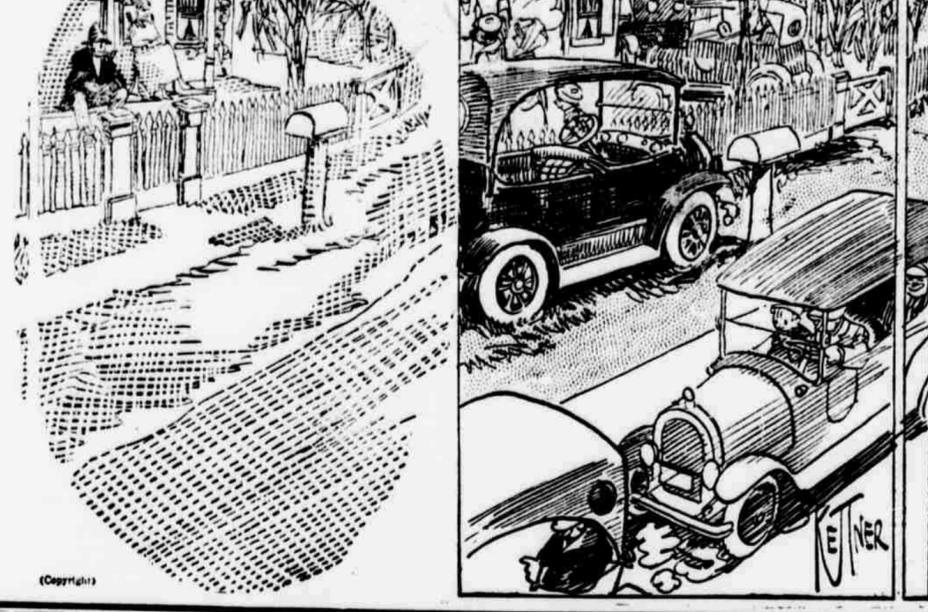

If you are a member of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and can make the trip to the Plainview meeting which opens in that city Monday you are requested to report to Mr. B. M. TEXAS EDITORS ENJOY HOSPITALITY OF DENTON IN THEIR 43RD ANNUAL MEET

The Forty Third Annual Convention of the Texas Press Association held at Denton last week was one of the best, if not the best, ever held in the history of the Association.

Denton proved herself a royal host. In that the meeting exceeded all previous meetings. And as one editor expressed it "the editors left Denton with some small change in their pockets." The first time this had ever occurred. And this was true, for the doors of Denton's barber shops, tailor shops and shoe shining parlors were wide open during the visitors stay in the city, and when this editor had "dolled" himself all up with a shave, haircut, shine and presser suit and asked the price of same he was informed the treats were on Denton and he was sorry the stay included only three days. Cheiving gum and cigars were also furnished free to all T. P. A. visitors.

We had always heard that Denton was a city that "did things" and the above mentioned courtesies was proof of this, however there were many other features of hospitality.

The meeting was very interesting from a business standpoint, but there were so many forms of entertainment provided by the Denton people, that we fear for once pleasure interfered with business.

Our first afternoon we were taken for a drive through Denton county's wheat fields, which was sufficient proof of the fine soil in that country. This was followed by a big barbecue at the experiment farm. The first evening's program ended at the splendid new C. I. A. auditorium which was formally opened to the public at that time.

Governor Pat M. Neff and Joe Taylor and John Knott of the Dallas News-staff, were features of the evening's entertainment.

Friday a splendid musical program was rendered by the C. I. A. orchestra and the visitors were afforded the biggest and best treat of the entire session when they were escorted by the young lady students through every C. I. A. building.

Texas has reason to be proud of Denton's colleges, where the finest young girls of the state, and many from other states are moulded into the most intelligent young people, both spiritually and morally.

Friday afternoon the ladies were entertained with a garden party in one of Denton's most beautiful homes, while the men were taken to the Acme brick plant where a "Dutch lunch" was served to guests who really enjoyed it.

We were hurried back again to the city and arrived just in time to feast our eyes on the largest procession of beautiful young ladies we ever expect to see in this life. Heaven may present a more beautiful scene, but we'll have to be shown. These young ladies were participants in the C. I. A. May Fete, which consisted of 1,300 student, and we shall not attempt to describe it, for Webster's vocabulary would be insufficient to render justice.

From this most beautiful number on the program we were rushed to Lowry Hall where President and Mrs. Braley of C. I. A., assisted by the Faculty and Denton people, tendered the visitors a royal reception for a few minutes previous to an announcement to "go this way", and we went right down in the dining room where plates for 530 were awaiting the guests—and these plates were not empty, either. After several short talks were given the privilege to sample the cooking taught by C. I. A., and those spring chickens raised at C. I. A. have a flavor all their own. During this delicious banquet, splendid music was rendered by the C. I. A. orchestra. From the dining room we were ushered to the fine Gymnasium, where dancing and swimming was enjoyed until a late hour. Saturday noon brought the meeting to a close with the election of officers and a decision of the next meeting place, which will be Galveston. At the close of the meeting the visitors and students repaired to the college grounds where a picture of the entire group was made.

When we first contemplated the trip to Denton, we wondered if it would be worth the effort, as the traffic was so uncertain, due to the heavy rains, but after we arrived we decided that nothing short of a flood itself could ever again induce us to miss going to Denton to a convention. Every man, woman and child extended the hand of welcome and we are assured that all Denton has to do in the future to get any kind of a convention, is just to ask for it; no persuasion will be necessary. For Denton is a real city, with real residents who know how to extend hospitality.

MUNDAY VOTES TO ISSUE BONDS FOR WATER SYSTEM

The sixty thousand dollar waterworks bond issue carried at Munday Tuesday of this week by a twenty-five to one majority vote.

Munday voted on a fifty thousand bond issue the early part of the year and it was carried without a vote against it but some mistake was made in the order of the election and the Attorney General would not approve it, hence the sixty thousand bond issue was ordered that the mains could be extended further in the northeast part of the town.

WILL VOTE ON INCREASING ROAD TAX

On Saturday June 3rd, the voters in Commissioners Precinct No. 4, will be given an opportunity to vote on the question of increasing their road tax 15 cents on the 100 dollars valuation.

The Commissioners' Court ordered an election on the above date at a recent meeting of the Court on a petition signed by a number of the qualified voters in Precinct No. 4.

This amount, should it carry, will give the commissioners in that precinct a nice sum in addition to the present amount received for road and bridge purposes and those who are boosting the proposition are very optimistic that the proposition will carry—and especially if the matter is properly explained to the voters before election time.

Mrs. J. W. Todd of Longview and Miss Della Tenyson of Dallas are here this week visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tenyson.

The second one must be filed not more than 12 nor less than eight days prior to the election, and the third one not more than ten days after the election.

COWDEN HALL AT SIMMONS COLLEGE BURNED SUNDAY

Cowden Hall, men's dormitory at Simmons College, was entirely destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon at 2:40 o'clock, a total loss of between forty and fifty thousand dollars being suffered. The building was only partially covered by insurance, about eleven thousand dollars being carried.

The men's dormitory was erected in 1907 in memory of Mr. Billie Cowden, of Midland, by his children. The total cost at that time was twenty-eight thousand dollars. Improvements had been made since that time, nearly doubling the expenditure on its construction. The fire Sunday was caused by a flaw in the water heater. The heater is located in the basement, and the flames were in the walls when the fire was discovered on the second floor by Mrs. A. E. Chandler. Valiant attempts were made on the part of the students rooming there to extinguish the flames with fire extinguishers, but the fire had gained too much headway.—Abilene Reporter.

FIRE BURNS OIL MILL SEEDHOUSE AT HAMLIN

About midnight Saturday night the big seed storage house at the Hamlin Cotton Seed Oil Mill was found to be on fire and soon the whole structure was a roaring furnace. It is estimated to be around $175,000.00. This means the building, the seed, which would have run the mill about two months longer, a big lot of seed products that had been stored, machinery, etc. Besides the oil mill loss there were several railway cars to burn and one or two loaded with seed products. The wind during the fire was fortunately from the northeast and this helped to save the main mill, but to save the mill there was some very heroic work done by fire fighters.

From reports the mill will continue to operate and all damages will be repaired in due time for the next crop of seed.—Hamlin Herald.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Faint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. . . I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists.

A sweeping verdict for QUALITY and Mrs. W. H. Murchison Honored With Dinner by Magazine Club Executive Board

On Tuesday evening May 9th, at the library, the Executive Board of the Magazine Club gave a dinner honoring Mrs. W. H. Murchison, Mrs. C. L. Lewis and Mrs. Ernest Grissom. The dinner was a cordial welcome to them. They were then ushered into the library, where a merry conversation ensued. Miss Lois Killingsworth in a very clever way announced "Dinner was ready" and all immediately repaired to the dining room which was beautifully decorated with American Beauty roses, and each table had vases of these roses as centerpieces. The color scheme was tried out in the menu.

The delicious dinner was prepared by the girls of the morning D. E. Class: Virginia Allen, Carrie Bess Culwell, Ida Fox, Velma Hamilton, Madeline Lucille Lamkin, Bernice Mask, Maye Morgan, Marguerite McCollum, Sula Mae Ratliff, Lynda Robertson, Georgia Smith, Edna Solomon, Lillian Smith, Gholsion Carr, under the supervision of Mrs. A. M. Hughes.

Mrs. Ernest Grissom, the new president, was toastmistress for the evening. A little sunshine powder had been placed on each plate. Mrs. Grissom asked each one to take this sunshine powder before partaking of the goodies on the plate, which would not only be a benefit to our health, but an incentive to make each one happy the entire evening.

Mrs. F. T. Sanders in her talented way toasted the honoree, Mrs. Murchison. She reviewed the achievements of the wonderful and far-reaching work accomplished by the Club during Mrs. Murchison's term of office, and closed by saying:

"Here's to the one who has served so lovingly, so graciously, so generously, so efficiently.

"Here's to the one who has spent lavishly of her time, her strength, her money, and her love.

"Here's to the one to whom we will ever look back to her reign as one fraught with the greatest achieved, not only in the Club, but the history of Haskell.

"Here's to the dear little wife, mother, and home-maker; we love you more and more each day.

"The Executive Board especially has been made to feel that it was a real honor to be an officer in the club, for you, our president, have showered us with honors on every occasion.

"Here's to the one of whom I have not heard a single criticism.

"Here's to one we love—Mrs. Murchison."

Mrs. Murchison in her charming way responded:

"If love is blind then I am persuaded that my friend is in love with me, for not half she has said really has happened, and if it did happen it was because I had the assistance of fifty women as loyal and as true as she.

"I have worked, but they have worked with me; I have dreamed, but they have furnished the vision. I may have been president when these things were accomplished, but the Fifty have accomplished them.

"In unity has been our strength; in unity alone will strength be preserved.

"So here's to the same continuous, inseparable loyal unity; to the faithful Fifty; to the club that has led the way in the best for the best town in Texas—the Magazine Club."

Mrs. J. F. Posey in her original way, toasted Mr. Murchison, expressing a deep appreciation of the Executive Board for his loyal support to the Club the entire year, of their admiration for him, whose highest ideals and impulses are portrayed in the climax of his brilliant oratory.

And saying the bigness of his spirit was manifested by his interest in our boys and girls, naming him the true friend of the Magazine Club.

Mr. Murchison responded in his usual eloquent and sincere way, going back to the days of his boyhood, relating many things of interest, closing by saying he appreciated the spirit of the women of the Magazine Club, who always look forward and really brought things to pass.

Mrs. Chas. Conner, in her toast to the new president, Mrs. Grissom, prophesied because of the efficiency and enthusiasm of her, the club would far surpass any of its past achievements. In responding Mrs. Grissom told a clever joke on herself.

Mrs. C. L. Lewis, in an especially pleasing and clever way, toasted Mr. Ernest Grissom, husband of the new president. He responded by saying his response would come by Radio.

Mrs. A. M. Hughes gave a toast to our Club Husbands, saying:

"I once read the definition of a good husband, which said that he is one who makes possible his wife's expectations. With us this evening are concrete illustrations of this definition. Without you many of the things in Haskell of which we rightfully feel proud could not have been accomplished. To us you are courageous, loyal, gentle, and possess the true spirit of western hospitality:

"So here's to the ones who never fail to help us when in need.

The ones who give us all they have.

Nor show the slightest greed; The ones who know our virtues best.

Nor seek our faults to view. Who really think that we're all right.

And they are our Club Husbands." Mrs. Patterson and Mary Ella Pace rendered beautiful piano and violin solos. Their music was delightful, especially enjoyed by everyone, for it was indeed a rare treat to hear music by such accomplished musicians.

As a climax to this very enjoyable occasion, Mrs. Montgomery and Mrs. H. S. Post each told a funny story, which caused an uproar of laughter. Then bidding good night to each other, all departed for their homes, with many pleasant memories of the evening.

The hostesses were Mesdames R. R. English, F. T. Sanders, Charles Conner, O. E. Patterson, J. U. Fields, J. F. Posey, R. J. Reynolds, Ernest Grissom, R. C. Montgomery, H. M. Smith, H. S. Post, Arthur Hughes, C. L. Lewis.

The guests were Messrs. J. U. Fields, F. T. Sanders, R. R. English, R. J. Reynolds, Charles Conner, H. M. Smith, H. S. Post, J. F. Posey, R. C. Montgomery, O. E. Patterson, Ernest Grissom, Arthur Hughes, C. L. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Murchison, the guests of honor.

CROWN NO LONGER A SYMBOL

Germany's New Stamp Issues Bear Pictures of Workingmen Instead of Royalty.

The substitution of figures of workmen for crowned heads on the new postage stamps being issued by the German government have considerable political significance, in the opinion of the Boston News Bureau. They "speak emphatically for the radical change in public opinion," and "argue rather convincingly of a continued strengthening of democratic sentiment." As the Boston daily explains:

The stamps are in three series of six designs, one having the figure of a smith, the other a miner, and the third of a farmer. The first series, with a value of 60 pfennig (dark violet) and 80 pfennig (red), show smiths of different ages at the anvil; the next in value 100 pfennig (green) and 120 pfennig (ultramarine), show miners with pick, chisel or handbar; the last in value 150 pfennig (orange) and 190 pfennig (blue-green), carrying farmers mowing grain and binding sheaves.

The 120 pfennig stamp will be the unit for foreign postage. The 60 and 120 pfennig stamps have now been issued. The other stamps will not be issued immediately, as the government has a supply of old stamps to be exhausted.

It is interesting that the government takes official cognizance of the depreciated mark, since the 120 pfennig stamp equals 30 cents gold, pre-war parity. That a larger depreciation is not recognized is undoubtedly due to the greater value of the mark in Germany than outside.

In any case the stamps are noteworthy as indicating the passing of the crowned head as a symbol of Germany.

NOT AS BAD AS IT SOUNDED

Woman Was Unduly Alarmed at Gruesome Story Which She Overheard in the Street Car.

A Columbus woman in a trip on an interurban car recently sat behind two women who were holding an animated conversation, the Indianapolis News relates. She paid no attention to the talk until a part of a sentence reached her ear, through the noise of the car—"In an awful fix, with both legs disjointed." The woman was impressed with this tale of suffering and while she was considering it another bit of the conversation was wafted to her ears over the roar of the wheels—"and one foot nearly off." This was positively distressing, and the woman moved uneasily in her seat, stretching both feet to assure herself they were in proper condition. Buzz, buzz, went the voices, and then—"a hand all mashed." By this time the woman was having horrible visions of a mangled body. "A wretch," she said to herself, and to add to her horror the train made a sudden terrible lurch which sent her heart to her mouth, figuratively speaking. A smooth place in the road enabled her to hear the rest of the gruesome tale: "It would cost us much to send it to a doll hospital, so I'm just going to buy her a new one."

English Food Importations.

A large part of the north of England is a busy hive of industry, containing such manufacturing centers as Nottingham, Sheffield, Leeds, Bradford, Manchester, and many other places where large populations are concentrated. The north country calls for great importations of food stuffs, the bulk of which comes from this side of the Atlantic and is landed at Liverpool or carried on to Manchester by the ship canal. One of these imports is flour, of which in 1919 there were landed at Liverpool 669,000 sacks, and at Manchester 419,000 sacks, making a total of 1,088,000 sacks. The flour is contained in bags of 140 pounds weight each, and two bags make what is known as a sack, which is, therefore, equal to 280 pounds. The imports at Liverpool and Manchester, were, therefore, equal to 304,640,000 pounds.

Wireless Aids Jewelers.

Fifteen hundred small wireless outfits have been installed in Paris jewelry, watch and clock stores to enable the jewelers to catch the correct Greenwich meridian time as it is sent daily at ten o'clock by the Eiffel tower. Formerly the exact time had to be obtained from the observatory by telephone.

The installation is simplicity itself. The outfit, about nine inches in diameter, is hung on a nail in the wall. A copper wire runs down to the cellar or along a water or gas pipe serves as a "ground wire," while the removal of the bulb from a nearby electric light and the insertion of a contact plug take the place of antennae. It can be done in five minutes.

Goat's Milk.

According to the annual report of the California development board, the only goat milk condenser in the world is located at Pescadero, San Mateo county, California, where a herd of 8,000 milk goats is maintained by the Widemann goat milk laboratories. The demand for tinned milk for tuberculous patients is said to far exceed the supply, goat milk having been found a particularly valuable nutrient for consumptives. The number of milk goats in California has increased 50 per cent in the last two years. A large farm at Cool, El Dorado county, was recently stocked, and the production is to be used exclusively for the manufacture of goat milk cheese.

Teachers Entertained

Mesdames J. A. Couch, O. E. Patterson, R. V. Robertson and F. T. Sanders were hostesses to the Haskell Teachers May 11, at the home of Mrs. Couch.

Promptly at eight o'clock the guests were greeted at the door by Messrs. Patterson and Couch and ushered into the beautiful home which had been made into a veritable fairyland of roses with game tables here and there.

With such charming hostesses, lovely surroundings, and many interesting games of "forty-two" the teachers were made to forget reports for more than two hours.

The hostess, assisted by Misses Galen and Ruth Robertson and Maurine Couch, served a refreshing ice course and angel food cake with a beautiful rose as a favor to the following guests: Misses Ellis, Davis, Hassie Davis, Riddle, Sherrill, Hyde, Smedley, Long, Lively, Smith, Hambleton, Langford and Collins; Mesdames Minatra, Hughes, Lebo, Patterson, Cox and Biko; Messrs. Couch, Sanders, Cox, Robertson, Hughes, Patterson, Lebo, Kuhn and Minatra.

A Big Birthday Dinner

S. A. Hughes celebrated his 69th birthday last Sunday. It was one of the most enjoyable occasions that the writer has attended in a long while. The dinner was one of such varieties, and prepared so excellently well that none of us could have added the least suggestion to have made the spread more elaborate or more palatable. The birthday cake was prepared by Mrs. Hughes and placed in the center of the table lighted with assorted tapers and its beauty and quality is not to be compared with the modern science of cake-making. It was just the very unexcelled fancy for the occasion. Those present were: Leon Gilliam and family, Roy English and family, W. E. Kirkpatrick and family, Arthur Hughes and wife—these were the sons and sons-in-law, daughters and daughters-in-law, and grandchildren. Other guests were "Poppy" Woods, Miss Cleo King, Mr. and Mrs. McHenry Seal and family and little Miss Andra Gayle Roberts. We all had a great social hour together after dinner.

Uncle Sam is finding that his European relations are mostly poor ones.

You can get four million Russian rubles for one American dollar. That sounds like a lot of money, but money's the cheapest thing in Soviet Russia just now.

One of our greatest scientists tells us that there will be but little poverty 100 years hence. The relief is coming so timely too late, therefore we can't purchase over his announcement.

The thing that would be the most restful to the tired business man just now is more business.

It's to be hoped that our participation in European affairs doesn't reach the extent of loaning money to Lenin.

It seems to be human nature for a person to spend a dollar in order to get some trifling thing thrown in free of charge.

Dad staying while the other members of the family go away on a vacation is a case of taxation without representation.

Straw hat prices are due for a drop, says a news item. However, it fails to mention whether the drop will come before midsummer.

When a girl begins telling a man she likes to smell the smoke from his pipe he might as well begin to look around for houses to rent. He's lost, that's all.

Russia wants a loan of several billion dollars as a condition of her agreement to the Allied proposals, but when it comes to loaning real money to Russia a wildcat oil or mining investment looks like a gilt edge investment, by comparison.

GIRL ASTOUNDS SCIENTISTS

Miss Eugenie Dennis, seventeen, of Atchison, Kans., has shown marvelous psychic powers. This remarkable high school girl has displayed almost unconsciously her powers, which she has had since she was two years of age, in a number of ways.

She has astonished friends by telling them of a murder, an accident and other dramatic occurrences at the very moments of their happenings although she was many miles away from the scene. Miss Dennis has also found a wedding ring for a girl friend when the latter had lost it quite some distance away. Sitting in a chair in the parlor of the Dennis home, this wonderful girl pointed out the spot where the ring had been lost. The ring had been dropped in a room of the friend's home. Miss Dennis told the exact place where the piece of jewelry had been dropped and that if the searcher did not hasten the ring would be gone as a servant was about to sweep the room and would find the ring. This incident is only one of the many that have occurred through the medium of the girl with the "psychic eyes."

Eugenie was born in Leavenworth, Kan., and it is said that the queer gift of psychic powers runs in the family. Her grandmother Gabbert on her mother's side had the same powers, but she thought it a sin to practice them.

The Society for Psychical Research will make a laboratory test of the girl, who is a "regular girl" and is very much liked in her home town.

HEAVY FLOODS HAVE CHECKED TEXAS CROPS

Unseasonable weather and continued rainfall have delayed all crops for three to five weeks, says the Texas Industrial Congress, in a statement issued Wednesday of this week. The eastern two-thirds of the State has had excessive rains, which have done much damage to early planted corn, cotton and other crops, in many cases making it necessary for them to be replanted. The western portion of the state and the Panhandle have had good rains, which have put the ranges in fine shape, supplied abundant stock water, improved the prospects for a good wheat yield and made conditions very favorable for row crops.

The statement brings out the fact that much damage to corn in the central, north and east parts of the State has resulted from heavy rains that have washed the uplands and overflowed the bottoms. A large part of the early planted crop will have to be replanted, but with the abundant subsoil moisture now in the ground, and with dry, sunshiny weather, conditions are favorable for an increased acreage. Under present conditions corn that is planted before June 15 will make a crop.

Wheat and oats have been benefited by the rains, which have caused the heads to fill out and the yield of these grains promises well. So far there have been no reports received by the congress of any rust or insect damage.

The outlook for a normal cotton crop is very discouraging, according to the congress. The crop is late and except in South Texas much of it, perhaps 25 per cent, has not yet been planted. In some sections of South Texas replanting was necessary in April because of the late freeze in March. Excessive rains and floods have destroyed a great part of the crop in the lowlands. Good seed for replanting is scarce and high-priced, and the boll weevil has already made its appearance in various sections. Continued dry weather and sunshine is needed for both cotton and corn.

The commercial potato crop in the Brazos and Colorado valleys is reported almost, if not entirely, destroyed by floods. Seventy-five per cent of the peach crop is a failure, but strawberries have made good yields in East and South Texas and the blackberry crop promises to be unusually large. Tomatoes and other truck crops have sustained no great damage from unfavorable weather conditions and the yields promise well.

FACT AND FICTION

That European economic conference at Genoa seems to have developed into a Russian conference.

This wireless stuff may be carried to such an extent that even a man's thoughts won't be private.

People who are weighed in the balance and found wanting are always howling about the scales being out of order.

The fellow who makes a bluff at doing things generally succeeds only in making everybody else tired.

To have a woman consider you a person of fine judgment you only need to remark to her how pretty her children are.

A New Jersey jury awarded a woman six cents for the alienation of her husband's affections. Bet he feels cheap now.

A man from Genoa once proved the world is round and now a group of men in that city are proving that it is "flat."

JONES COUNTY VOTE ON ROAD CONSTRUCTION BONDS
At a meeting of the Commissioner's Court of Jones County, held at Anson, the county seat, Tuesday, an order was issued for a road bond election in a defined district covering Leuders, Avoca, Stamford and several smaller places, date being set for June 24. The fined district comprehends practically all commissioner's precinct No. 2 and the amount of the bond issue to be voted is four hundred thousand dollars. The calling of the election is due mainly to the very serious conditions of the roads because of the continued rains. The several hundred property paying taxpayers signed petitions asking for the bond election. The petition calls for thirty year bonds, and designates an interest rate of 5 1/2 per cent.

"The Gleaners"

The Gleaners Class of the Methodist Sunday School met in business session May 7th. The president in the chair. The meeting opened with a prayer by Mrs. Gose.

We decided to have a contest in our class. We divided sides Louise Kaigler and Lena Ethel Hill being chosen as the captains. The ones on Louise's side are as follows: Mary Kimbrough, Ruby Herring, Velma Hambleton, Emma Lee Martin, Mary Nell Wilson, Helen Caldwell, Carrie Bess Culwell, and Mattie Payne. The ones in Lena Ethel's side are Mattie Letha Pippen, Edith Jones, Maidee Watson, Lorine Morgan, Josie Kimbrough, Dessie Kennedy, Ethel Cook, Eilon Gordon, and Willie Cowart. The colors are blue and green.

Today was the time for election of new officers but we did not have time to elect them.

We also selected a motto, which was "All for Christ" and we hope that each girl will try to live up to this. Let us all start off the contest with all, and more, being present next Sunday, May 21st.

In the afternoon the class met and took Mrs. Kaigler and her daughter, Patsy Doris, some very beautiful flowers.

We are proud of our class, as there is no one in it who is not a christian. There were two converts during the meeting, those being May Leflar and Eilon Gordon.

Everyone is always welcome to visit or join our class.

RADIO

PROGRESS OF RADIO THROUGH THE YEARS

Wireless Research Began Long Ago, But Development Has Been Swift Lately.

Wireless research started many years ago, as far back even as 1827. Even the radio telephone is not a recent perfection; rather it is that introduction to the layman of the human voice and music has suddenly popularized something that wireless men had thought a pastime or amusement. Here is the chronological record of wireless:

1827—It was found that the magnetic discharge from a leyden jar would magnetize a steel needle.

1831—Electro-magnetic induction was discovered between two entirely separate circuits by Michael Faraday.

1837—Cooke and Wheatstone of London, England, and Morse of the United States take out first patent for electric telegraph.

1858—K. A. Steinheil of Munich suggested that a system of wireless telegraphy could be established after his discovery of the use of the earth return.

1840—Joseph Henry (U. S. A.) produced the first high-frequency electric oscillations, and stated that the condenser discharge is oscillatory.

1842—Wireless experiments were made by S. F. B. Morse by electric conduction through water across Washington canal and across wide rivers.

1843—A wireless system for transatlantic communication was suggested.

1845—Water was used as a conducting medium in wireless experiments across a wide river.

1849—Intelligible signals were actually sent across a river 4,500 feet wide in India, but the cost was found prohibitive for commercial use.

1867—The electric waves that are now utilized in wireless telegraphy and telephony were predicted in an distance of 60 miles by radio signals.

1901—Radio communication started with five islands in the Hawaiian group. The first British ship is fitted with the wireless telegraph.

1902—Radiograph signals received aboard vessels at sea at 1,500 statute miles. Signals received from a distance of 2,000 miles.

1903—King Edward receives a radio message from President Roosevelt. High-power stations were ordered by the Italian government. First transatlantic radio message sent. Telegraphic news service for ships at sea is started. Marconi knighted in Russia.

1904—The first press message was sent across the sea.

1905—Patent suit started in New York between the Marconi and De Forest company.

Patent for horizontal directional aerial is taken out. This was a great step forward in long-distance work.

1906—International conference is held in Berlin, at which most of the countries of the world are represented.

1907—The use of steel disks for producing notes were successfully tested.

Radio stations in Ireland and Nova Scotia were opened for limited public service.

1908—Radio stations opened for unlimited public service between Great Britain and Canada.

1909—Steamship in collision with another off the coast of Florida succeeds in calling assistance by radio.

1910—Marconi receives messages 6,700 miles while on board ship going to South America.

Spanish radio company formed.

1911—Canadian government leased radio stations for 20 years.

1912—Radio distress signals from the Titanic bring assistance and save lives of 700 passengers.

1913—Tests were made between the Eiffel tower in France and the station at Washington. During the trip into Central Asia an explorer received his longitude and time signals from a distant radio station.

1914—Marconi and radio officials start test of wireless telephone between vessels of the Italian fleet. The test was continued between vessels on the high seas and voices were heard with clarity at a distance of 44 miles.

One day radio telephone communication was kept up constantly for 12 hours. Great Britain declared war address before the Royal Society in London, England.

1850—The sending of an electric current through earth was systematically studied by John Trowbridge of Harvard. It was found that signaling might be carried on over large distances between places not connected by wires.

1855—It was found that telephonic speech could be conveyed by induction over a space of quarter mile. This experiment took place in England.

1880—Electric waves were suggested as being particularly suitable for the sending of signals through fogs.

1892—An instrument for the detection of electro-magnetic waves was discovered which was given the name of a "coherer."

1894—A scientist of Berlin signaled through three miles of water.

1895—High frequency waves excite curiosity of Senator Marconi.

1896—First patent for practical wireless transmitting system is taken out in London by Marconi. Afterward, successful signaling was carried out over distances as great as one and one-quarter miles. Sir William Preece of the British postoffice system interested his cohorts in Marconi's wireless experiments.

1897—Marconi establishes communication between points four miles distant. Balloons were used to suspend antennae.

Marconi demonstrates his wireless system before the king of Italy, communicating with two Italian warships nine miles distant.

The first Marconi station is erected on the Isle of Wight and experiments conducted over a distance of 14 miles.

Near the end of the year the first floating wireless station was successfully operated.

1898—The first paid marconigram was sent from the Isle of Wight station.

1899—Reports made on lighthouse accident by radio. First French gunboat is fitted with radio apparatus. In Vienna communication between two balloons is established. New York Herald receives radio report of international yacht races. The British war office introduces Marconi apparatus into the South African battlefield.

1899—German vessel communicates a upon Germany August 4 and all private radio telegraphy and telephony suspended.

1915—Radio communication between America and Japan is completed. The stations were located at San Francisco and Tokyo with a relay station at Honolulu.

The American Telephone and Telegraph company succeeded in radio telephoning from Arlington station at Washington to Hawaii, a distance of nearly 5,000 miles.

Secretary Daniels of the United States navy transmitted telephonic messages from Washington to the Brooklyn navy yards.

1916—President Wilson and the mikado of Japan exchange messages over the new transpacific radio service, which is formally opened.

1917—Senator Marconi visits the United States and aids greatly in recruiting for radio operators for the United States army.

1918—Wireless telephony progressed rapidly, being used to a great extent in the equipment of airplanes.

Several new long range stations were erected in the United States, it being claimed for one built at Annapolis, Md., that it was capable of communication at 4,000 miles. The United States government also opened a high-power station at Bordeaux.

In September of this year radio signals sent from a point 12,000 miles away were received in Sydney, Australia.

1919—With the exception of the three transatlantic flights—that of the U. S. NC-4, and the British flights of Alcock and Brown and the dirigible R-34, in which radio communication played an important part in keeping the ships of the air on their courses—no very great progress was made in radio telegraphy, although radio telephony was being pushed along quietly.

Restrictions upon amateur receiving and sending were lifted by the American government.

1920—This was the year of the radio telephone, more attention probably being paid to this branch of radio than to its older brother, telegraphy. Several broadcasting stations were opened.

1921—This year was another radio telephonic year. It was marked by the opening of numerous broadcasting stations.
