THIRTY-NINTH YEAR

HASKELL STUDENTS LEAVE FOR COLLEGES

A few weeks ago a representative of our Texas daily papers was talking to a group of local business men and made the remark that Haskell had the spot light of publicity focused on her oftener within the last two years than ever before. This is because Haskell has developed greatly within the last two or three years, and private business nor corporation in the town has made more marked progress than has the Haskell schools. The statement is not original when we tell us what your schools and colleges are and we will know what your town is. Haskell is at this time known as a school town—and in comparison to a few years ago when a very small minority of the High School students went away to college, last year two or three years the majority of the largest classes ever graduated from the local High School have taken themselves of the opportunities offered by the large numbers of colleges and universities that dot plain and hill side of every locality of the state of Texas, with a few going to universities out of the state. The leaving Haskell boys and girls will be their courses of study this year

Bridge West of Rule Threatened By High Water

Only by the co-operation of the citizens of Rule was the bridge across the Brazos west of town saved from serious damage last Friday. The heavy rains that fell over this section Thursday night brought the river down on a rise that threatened to wash out the trestle at the east end of the bridge. About 5 p. m. the news reached town and in a very few minutes the stores were closed and practically all the citizenship was at the river filling bags of sand and placing them against the trestle to prevent further washing. The work continued until after night fall. Approximately 1800 bags of earth were placed in the river.

PREMIUM CATALOGS ARE OFF THE PRESS

The 1925 Premium Catalogue is off the press and in a day or so will go to every patron on the several rural routes out of the Haskell postoffice, as well as Star Routes. Those who exhibited with the Fair last season will also receive copies and those who do not get one early next week call at the office of the Manager, back rooms, Pierson building, and they will find them displayed in a handy place where each one interested can help themselves. Take all the copies you need but please do not waste them as they cost money and the supply is limited and those who might be more vitally interested will be disappointed if the supply is exhausted.

GRANDSTAND AT PARK IS BEING ENLARGED

At a called session of the Board of Directors of the Haskell County Fair Association held at the Haskell National Bank Wednesday afternoon, it was decided to extend the grandstand fifty feet south and the present bleachers fifty feet north.

This improvement has been in mind since last season since so many were turned away during the races and with the splendid program of automobile races and interest being expressed in adjoining counties and towns in Haskell county the Board has taken this action with the main purpose of pleasing the patrons of the Fair.

Automobile Show Being Considered For Fair This Year

If plans in the making can be carried out about 14 spaces will be available for an automobile show. Prices on tents or securing them reasonably is going to be the main drawback. Announcement will be made and prices of space be ready at an early date so that all dealers can secure exhibits. If this department should suggest a building at a later date the 1926 Haskell County Fair might present such a plan and hold an annual auto show.

NEW SHOE SHOP OPENS FOR BUSINESS HERE

C. Wheatley of Knox City recently moved his family to the city and opened an Electric Shoe Shop on Depot street in the building with the Haskell Marble Works. Mr. Wheatley is an experienced shoe repair man and he is permanently located in Haskell. He was in the same occupation a number of years in Knox City and comes to Haskell well recommended.

HEAVIEST RAIN IN YEARS FELL LAST WEEK

Beginning last Thursday morning and continuing for about 24 hours at intervals one of the greatest down pours of the entire year at any one place was experienced in Haskell. According to Judge P. D. Sanders who is our Governmental rain reporter for Haskell, 5.00 inches of rain fell here during the precipitation. Prospects are that the month of September will report a heavy rainfall this year with an additional rain fall during the remainder of the month. The rain was general over the county, some sections reporting less rain than fell in Haskell but others report considerable more.

During September 1900 almost 12 inches of rain fell during the month and according to old-timers the streets were flooded and more water was reported on the streets than at the time of the rain last week.

Mr. Courtney Hunt made a business trip to Dallas this week.

HASKELL PIONEERS TO PARADE DURING FAIR

An interesting feature of the Fair will be the old settlers of Haskell in the parade the first day of the Fair. All old settlers who came to Haskell before the year 1886 are to take part in the parade. All citizens of Haskell who came before the year 1886 or during that year are asked to notify John Draper, chairman, Old Settlers Parade Committee.

SLIGHT BLAZE AT THE LAUNDRY WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Fire was discovered by one of the boys at the M. O. Lyles Garage in the Haskell Laundry building Wednesday night about 9:30 o'clock, which was found to be an ironing board which had caught fire in some manner. It was quickly extinguished, doing very little damage to the board and scorching a window casing slightly.

NOTED DRIVERS WILL BE HERE FOR RACES

Ralph De Palma, Eddie Lockhart, Red Shafer and Dick Calhoun will all be here when the racing program opens at the second annual Haskell County Fair October 2. This is the announcement of D. H. Jefferies, official representative of the American Automobile Association. Mr. Jefferies will conduct the races here during the Fair.

Mr. Jefferies advised officials of the Haskell County Fair Association that possibly 25 fast cars were entered for the race meet at Abilene during the West Texas Fair and he was most certain that the whole aggregation would enter for the two days race meet here, October 2 and 3.

With a field of 25 fast cars and the best drivers of the South entered, the speed events of this year's exposition promises to eclipse any that have gone before on the Haskell track.

So, all in all, the program carded for Friday and Saturday afternoons during the Fair ought to make some more racing history for the speed fans to gossip about around the stove this winter.

ATTENDS COTTON GROWERS CONVENTION

Rev. Ben F. Roberts returned Thursday of last week from Winters where he attended the Purebred Cotton Growers Association and reports a fine time. He says the greatest feature after viewing the many kinds of pure bred cotton was the cats. He says they had six fine fat calves barbecued and that the spread was immensely appetizing and as there was no one else from Haskell there he proceeded to help himself without restrictions. He looks much better since his return and has a smile of satisfaction upon his face.

Many people are not aware that the filming of thrill pictures is as fraught with perils as if the scene depicted had actually occurred in real life. The hospitals in Hollywood are constantly filled with actors and actresses who have been injured in the course of their work.

Recently William Welsh, a well known film star, was working under director Reeves Eason in the Walrol Studios in Hollywood and was portraying the part of a fireman. He was required to go into a blazing building to effect the rescue of the occupants. During the scene in the burning room the supports gave way and the blazing ceiling fell squarely on the actor.

Only the quick action of William Haines playing the leading role and Director Eason saved Mr. Welsh from serious burns. This thrilling scene will appear with many others in the picture which will soon be shown at the Haskell Theatre.

Col. and Mrs. W. C. O'Bryan and son Sidney E. O'Bryan of Waco visited her niece, Madames T. A. Pinkerton and C. M. Kaigler last week and.

20,000 Free Passes To Carnival Three Days Preceding Fair

J. A. Schnecke, of the Pool & Schnecke Shows, has placed an order with the Free Press for 20,000 Free Passes which are to be distributed during the three days the carnival runs preceding the Haskell County Fair, in the Fair Park section of the big ground. Mr. Schnecke states his injured ankle might delay his arrival but he is going to make special effort to be on hand at Haskell during the week his shows play here. If he finds his injured member gives him too much trouble he will send Mr. Carlton to represent him 20,000 Free Passes to the big shows of the Pool & Schnecke organization means everybody and the cook will have a very busy time.

15 CASINGS STOLEN FROM LOCAL GARAGE

Tuesday night burglars entered the Bert Welsh Garage on North Main street and stole 15 Ford casings, and also attempted to rob the cash register but were unable to work the combination. The top was taken off and it was found on the floor but no money was taken of the small amount of change that was in it. It is not really known just what all was taken but the casings were first to be missed from the Garage. Entrance to the building was gained by prying up one of the front windows which broke the fastening and the window was raised and the loot was believed to have been taken out through the opening. No clew has been reported in regard to the identity of the burglars.

ARE YOU GOING TO THE SEYMOUR FAIR WITH US

Plans are under way for a representative number of Haskell business men to attend the Baylor County Fair at Seymour. This entertainment is set for September 24, 25 and 26th. J. Bailey Post will be pleased to have the name and how many you can take in your car. Haskell has assurance that Seymour plans to visit the Haskell Fair. It is up to Haskell folks to set the example. "Do Unto Others As You Would Have Them Do Unto You" will bring results every time. On to Seymour folks, strong and lively! See Mr. Post promptly. List your car and state how many you can carry. Everybody invited.

SPLENDID MUSIC PROGRAM DURING FAIR

One new feature of the Fair this year will be a high class musical program given at the grandstand Saturday night October 3rd, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The program will consist of three parts. The first part will be band music and community singing, the singing directed by Mr. Hamilton of Tennessee. This feature will last about 30 minutes, the entire audience singing together the much-loved folk and patriotic songs. With hundreds of voices raised in song, Stamford should be able to hear and applaud.

The second part of the program will be the contest singing. Several communities have signified their intention of competing for the fifty dollars in cash prizes, and with the excellent training these people have and are having from the class teachers, this part of the program will be fine.

The development of the rural class singing is so far ahead of what we do in small towns that we have in store a real treat.

The third part of the program will be furnished by a celebrated Stamps male quartet from Jacksonville Texas consisting of J. E. Wheeler First Tenor, J. E. Hamilton, Second Tenor, Lee Myres Bartone, R. B. Vaughn Bass. This quartet comes highly recommended to the committee and as such we feel it is one of the feature of the entire fair. These men give humorous songs and stunts as are given of Lyceum programs, and the high class singing, together with the entertainment will make of Saturday night one of the best night programs during the Fair.

JOINT BAND CONCERT AT ROCHESTER

Mr. Short, director of the Rochester band, was in Rule Sunday planning a joint band concert to be held at Rochester at 3 p. m. Sunday, September 20. He has invited the bands of Knox City, Peacock, Haskell and Rule to meet with Rochester musicians.

URGED TO BRING LIVESTOCK TO FAIR

J. D. Hughes manager of the Live Stock Department of the Haskell County Fair requests that all who have cattle, horses, hogs, pigs or any other live stock for the fair to be sure to have them on the ground before the opening date of the fair. He also wishes to confer or give any information regarding the exhibits in any way. Please see him or if not able to get an interview with him bring your stock to the fair and place them on exhibit in plenty of time to insure their entry. Liberal prizes are offered for the best secured. Be sure you are not like many who have failed to enter their stock and remark after the fair that "I had better stock at home than I saw at the fair." Bring them and give them the opportunity to win the prize. No doubt that has been a true statement many times. But do not let it happen with you. Bring your stock in the urgent request of Mr. Hughes.

NUMBER OF RACERS ASKING FOR BLANKS

Director of races and sports, Henry Alexander, of the Haskell County Fair, reports more than 125 entry blanks mailed to automobile drivers who expect to enter for the automobile races to be held here on October 2 and 3, when the Haskell County Fair is observing the Second Annual event, three days, October 1 to 3 inclusive. The Fair Management has already arranged for more than $2,000 in cash purses and no doubt the silver cup presented when the local track time is beaten, will be provided for as in the past. Dick Calhoun, who took this trophy last year is coming back this year and will probably lower the 77 second time he captured the silver cup on last year.

The recent rain has made the track absolutely one of the best in the state, stated Mr. Alexander, Saturday, and the work done on it recently was looked after just in time to have the rain pack it nicely. Dragging will be done this week and everything be in ship shape when the boys arrive to try the track out.

BAND CONTEST PLANS GOING FORWARD NICELY

The Board of Directors of the Haskell County Fair have given approval of the proposed Band Contest to be staged during the Haskell County Fair, October 1, 2, and 3. A committee has been named to go into a plan and report back promptly so that the necessary information can be given to the bands over this section of the country. If plans are completed there will be music galore during the Haskell County Fair, and don't you forget it, according to Chairman R. V. Robertson, of the committee named by President Hardy Grissom.

HASKELL MUSIC TEACHER ENTERS COLLEGE AT DENTON

Mr. Raymond P. Elliott who spent the summer in Haskell county teaching music schools left Wednesday for Denton to attend college where he will better prepare himself for work here next summer. Mr. Elliott had over three hundred pupils in his schools this year and hopes to have a greater number next year. He will come back in July and will be head of the four weeks normal to be taught in Haskell next year.

Free Vaudeville and Hippodrome Acts During Fair

During the three days of entertainment, of the Haskell County Fair, Oct. 1, 2 and 3, the fair management plans to entertain the children Thursday afternoon, in the grand stand section of the race track division, with vaudeville and Hippodrome acts, between the halves during the foot ball game between Stamford and Haskell.

Those attending the Automobile races Friday and Saturday afternoon, will also be entertained in the same manner, but with different acts and stunts, as will all programs be changed for each performance in the evening.

Doc Hollands, official announcer and fun maker, this season, will be in charge of this amusement section and promises all new acts and stunts and jokes. The stage has been made ten feet wider on his request and fair patrons will miss some real treats if they miss Doc Holland and his fun makers this year, according to the program now in the making.

FORMER HASKELL LADY MAKES VISIT TO EUROPE

We received a clipping from the News-Tribune of Waco, Texas, giving an account of Mrs. T. E. Bowman and her daughter, who live in that city, making a trip to Europe. Mrs. Bowman formerly lived in Haskell and is a sister of Mrs. B. M. Whiteaker of this city. The clipping gives a brief account of the trip and we are sure that our readers will appreciate the story:

"Mrs. T. E. Bowman and daughter, Miss Eldona Bowman of 1105 North Eleventh street, have returned from a two months' trip to Europe. They went as delegates to the World Federation of Education, which met in Edinburgh, Scotland. Their ship was delayed a week in carrying 145 returned immigrants back to Europe from the United States, so they missed the federation, and without stopping at the British Isles, they went on to the continent.

"France, Belgium, Spain and Portugal were visited, and on the return trip the Canary Islands and Cuba. In Belgium the Wacoans noted particularly the magnificent botanical gardens and the rapid rebuilding going on in that country since the war. Wood is not used at all, brick and stone material taking its place. At Rome, they saw the spot where Joan of Arc was burned. This historic city was the seat of the English government when that nation was dominated by France.

"The Canary Islands are mountainous according to Mrs. Bowman and her daughter, but terraced in such fashion that gardens and towns are found up to the top of the mountains, with a city sometimes located on the very top of a peak. In the back yard of one magnificent rock home on Santa Cruz de la Palma they found an American touch in the tropical banana garden—a patch of roasting ears and peas. Geraniums in this same yard were waist-high and unusually vivid in color.

"On the island of Tenerife in the Canary group the Wacoans obtained hand-stenciled Tenerife beads in patterns of blocks and flowers, each bead in the unique shape of a tiny vase. Las Palmas was another Canary Island visited.

"Cuba was pronounced the most beautiful place encountered on the trip by the tourists. The Brewery park, with its flowers and sunken garden is swarmed with people on Sundays and holidays because the nearby brewery distributes free beer at that time. Colea flowers of unbelievable size and height were objects of interest in the tropical gardens, as well as groves of coconut and date palms loaded with fruit.

"Mrs. Bowman and Miss Eldona were shown a Cuban olive tree 300 years old. The Cuban olive, they say, has juice and a pulp more like a grape than the olive most Americans know, that of the Cuban variety having a sweet taste."

Killing the Farmer's Friend

When an Iowa farmer complained that the pheasants were eating his corn the game department killed two of the birds, examined their crops, and found 200 cutworms—and no corn. Almost without exception, when the scientists investigate such cases they find the same result. The farmer owes his crop to a feathered police that keep down the bugs, insects and worms. With a continuing slaughter of every form of bird life, the insect loss will be heavier and farm work harder. The nation could train an army of riflemen in a comparatively short time, but it couldn't in a century restore the bird armies that are the farmers' allies in raising food to feed the country.

Since the country has settled up and the birds have been killed or migrated to save their lives and find peaceful quarters the insects have increased to an alarming degree and the destruction of various crops by the insects are the results. The sportsman with the shot gun, the boy with the target and air guns have waged relentless war on the birds which are the best friends the farmers have ever known to keep the crops free from destroyers. The birds chase down the first millers when they make their appearance and therefore kill the distraction in the bird. Don't kill the bird who is your best friend.

The Word "Daddy"

We wonder if the average Haskell man or woman really knows what the word "Daddy" means to the small child. To the baby "Daddy" is an ideal man, so skillful that he can do anything in any impossible game, so wise that he can build boats, and sing shots, and kites that soar high, so heroic that he can go out each morning into the big world and come back in the evening without a scratch. To the girl "Daddy" is the source of candy, dolls, and all toys, nice dresses and the teller of stories that delight her, the big strong man who catches her in his arms and almost squeezes her to death. He is her ideal of manhood beyond a doubt.

We see little manifestations of child like each day as we pass along and yet they are so common that we fail to realize as we should their great importance. So often the young life is bent in the wrong direction by failing to heed or correct the little ones as they are passing from infancy to grown-ups. The first examples and instructions given the child is longest remembered, let it be good or bad. "Daddy" and "Mother" is just about everything in child life, including at one end a playmate and at the other divine power and love.

Essay on Cows

The cow is a female quadruped with an alto voice and a countenance in which there is no guile. She collaborates with the pump in the production of a liquid called milk, provides the filler for hash, and at last is skinned by those she has benefited, as mortals commonly are.

The young cow is called a calf, and is used in the manufacture of chicken salad.

The cow's tail is mounted aft and has a universal joint. It is used to disturb marauding flies, and the tassel on the end has unique educational value. Persons who milk cows and come often in contact with the tassel have vocabularies of peculiar and impressive force.

The cow has two stomachs. The one on the ground floor is used as a warehouse and has no other function. When this one is filled the cow retires to a quiet place where her ill manners will occasion no comment and devotes herself to belching. The raw material thus conveyed for the second time to the interior of her face is pulverized and delivered to the auxiliary stomach, where it is converted into cow.

The male cow is called a bull and is lassoed along the Colorado, fought south of the Rio Grande, and shot in the vicinity of the Potomac.

A slice of cow is worth 8 cents in the cow, 14 cents in the hands of packers and $2.40 in a restaurant that specializes in atmosphere—Editor, Baltimore Sun.

Prayer meeting at 8 p. m. Wednesday. Our slogan, "Every Member of the Church Enlisted in the Sunday School; Every Member of the Sunday School attending the Preaching Services."

With as many churches as there are in Haskell every one ought to be able to find a place to serve. The religion of Jesus Christ is for all. There are only two forces in the world. God is seeking to make us fit for Him and His Kingdom, while at the same time the devil is doing his best to lead us in the other way. We are putting our influence and powers with one or the other of these forces. Will you stop just one minute and ask yourself the question, "Where is my talent and influence going?"

Shall we make next Sunday a better day than any that has gone before? This one thing I do, forgetting the things that are behind, I press forward. "I can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth me." You are always welcome to any or all of our services.

W. H. Albertson, Pastor.

To one who attended the annual meeting of the Haskell Baptist Association that convened with the Gillespie church, between Munday and Knox City, the 2nd, 3rd and 4th of September, it was very evident that they are not a feeble folk. Most Powerful Car of Its Size and Weight

—a One-Profit Value

THERE are (as you probably know) only two manufacturers who actually build their cars complete—make all their own bodies, engines, clutches, springs, gear sets, differentials, steering gears, axles, gray iron castings and drop forgings.

One of these is Ford—in the low priced field. The other is Studebaker in the fine car field. This one-profit principle of manufacture makes possible four great advantages.

1. It eliminates the extra profits and overhead that many other manufacturers have to pay and include in the purchase price to you. This keeps Studebaker prices low.
2. It enables us to build a better car because the vital parts are designed, engineered and manufactured complete by one organization. Being built as a unit—Studebaker cars function as a unit, with all of the advantages of unit over assembled construction.
3. It makes possible finer quality because Studebaker, being an independent manufacturer, with no subsidiary or allied companies to favor, is free to buy on the open market, demanding the finest materials at the lowest possible price. Studebaker purchasing agents are unrestricted in their search for quality and value. Studebaker designers and engineers are unhampered by outside interests.
4. And, finally, because of these one-profit savings, Studebaker is able to offer you a sturdier, more substantially built automobile. We pay a premium for the finest steel. We use hard wood in body construction. Plate glass in the windows. The finest grades of upholstery. Genuine full-size balloon tires. Unusually fine interior trim with no exposed tacks, and heavy hardware. Throughout the entire car—in hundreds of hidden places—you find the same high quality of materials and workmanship that you see out in the open.

The Standard Six Coach shown below is a splendid example of One-Profit value. It offers greater power than any other car of its size and weight, based upon the rating of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. And luxurious riding comfort made possible by the big balloon tires, resilient springs, comfortable cushions and ample roominess.

But the only way to judge this car is to see it—drive it! Feel the luxurious upholstery. Sit in the deep, soft, comfortable seats. Experience the surge of its tremendous power. And then compare it with other coaches.

The recent Studebaker price reduction and policy of "no yearly models" only serves to emphasize the logic of this reasoning.

If you seek a bargain in a quality car—by all means see this One-Profit Coach.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Health is a man's or a City's most valuable asset. Any sanitary equipment which will safeguard the health of Haskell, and at the same time assist in promoting public comfort should be adopted at once.

Sanitary homes and sanitary surroundings are made impossible by open outdoor toilets. When typhoid fever, dysentery, hook-worm, infantile diarrhoea and many other deadly diseases have been traced, the general finding has been that the germs which caused the disease germs from the germ-baring human waste deposits in privies, or else the water supply has become polluted by foul seepage from outside toilets.

There is a danger of our water supply becoming polluted, unhealthy and unsafe as long as it is exposed to seepage from germ-laden waste in open privies, cesspools and leaching pools.

Every citizen in the town of Haskell should be profoundly interested and do his part to help our town get a complete sewer system, which would mean sanitation as can be had no other way. Health which is to every one the thing most cherished, convenience, something we all like, and therefore, make Haskell a cleaner, better and happier place in which to live.

It only takes one-fiftieth of a second, they say, for a telephone message to travel across a continent, but the trouble is it sometimes takes 20 minutes to get central.

DO YOU WANT TO SEE REAL LIVE PRINCE?

Royalty at last is making an impression in the movies.

A real Prince of Royal blood is playing a small part in "Chickie," the first National screen adaptation of the recent newspaper serial by Elenore Meherin, which is the attraction this week at the Haskell theatre.

He is Prince Serge M-devani scion of the Braggatti dynasty which for several centuries ruled Georgia, a country which recently threw off the domain of Russia and became a republic. The Prince has been given a real screen test and may be expected to make his mark some day on the American screen.

Try This Out.

"One phase of radio reception which is generally overlooked and yet has a most important bearing on results," says Dr. Alfred N. Goldsmith, Chief Broadcast Engineer, of the Radio Corporation of America, "is the location of the loud speaker."

"It is astonishing how considerably radio music can be modified by changing the location of the loud speaker. A little experimentation along this line will generally produce worthwhile results. Especially is this true in summer, when the static background stands out loudly unless the sound volume is reduced. The loud speaker, located indoors, will give more volume but it will also focus attention on every little detail, static background included, no matter how faint it may be."

"On the other hand, if the loud speaker is brought out on the porch or on the lawn, little details of its voice are no longer discernible and only the main theme—music or speech—remains to attract attention of listeners."

Organized.
Sam, the negro driver of an ex team, saw a little lizard crawling up a tree. He flourished his long whip and very deftly snapped off the lizard's head. Further along the road, with skilled precision, he picked a horse off the fence with the same weapon. His skill as a marksman was next exhibited on a chipmunk that showed its head above the ground.

A white man said:
"Sam, take a crack at that," pointing to a hornet's nest.
Sam grinned and replied:
"No, sah, boss; them fellahs is awg-anized."

"Oh, mother, now you have given yourself away!"

A christmas classic that never grows old is the story of two youngsters comparing notes about Santa Claus.
"He came in through the window," said one, "and filled my stocking, sister's stocking and baby's stocking."
"He filled my stocking, too," replied the other, "and my brother's stocking; and then he must have got cold, for after he filled baby's stocking he climbed into bed with mamma."

"And these people, do you know them?"

MIDWAY REVIVAL SERVICES CLOSE SUNDAY

Rev. W. H. Albertson of Haskell closed a series of meetings at Midway School house last Sunday afternoon. He put his very best efforts in the meeting and much good will result from his faithful work. Most of the people of the Midway are members of the various churches. Therefore the conversions were not very many during the meeting but backsliders were reclaimed and a great spiritual awakening was experienced throughout the community.

Editor in Responsible Position

William Allen White, editor of the Emporia, Kansas, Gazette, Kansas City papers as public utilities.

"A newspaper," he says, "is affected with a public interest as much as the street car, the telephone, the gas or electric plant and all other utilities."

"An editor is really a trustee entitled to his profits, if they are clean and decent, to the fullest extent that he may make them, but not entitled to make his profits at the community's loss."

"Unless he can give the public some valuable thing—information, guidance or entertainment—he has no right to his profits."

He concludes that "a newspaper is certainly a public utility."

Rocking the Baby.

Get up and rock the baby;
Rock it yourself, see Pete;
Well, half of it's yours, see Nellie;
And the other half's yours, see Pete.
Now the rest of the story I hate to tell
But Nellie got up and rocked her half
And Pete let the other half yell.

Weak In Back and Sides

"Before the birth of my little girl," says Mrs. Lena Stancil, of E. F. D. 2, Matthews, Mo., "I was so weak in my back and sides I could not go about. I was too weak to stand up or do any work. I felt like my back was coming in two. I lost weight. I didn't eat anything much and was so restless I couldn't sleep nights. My mother used to take so I sent to get it. I improved after my first bottle. Cardui is certainly a great help for nervousness and weak back. I took six bottles of Cardui and by then I was well and strong. Just did fine from then on. Cardui helped me so much."

Thousands of weak, suffering women have taken Cardui, knowing that it had helped their mothers or their friends, and soon gained strength and got rid of their pains.

Radio Saving to Every Rescue Made Through It at Sea

Health Exerciser by Wireless Help Overcomes Minor Physical Defects and Harmful Habits

New York, N. Y.—When they speak of the radio saving lives, the mind at once pictures the stranded ship at sea flashing the "SOS" call into the listening broadcast, and the next morning the rescue ship appears on the horizon.

"This is not the most important life-saving service of the radio," said Robert Lyon Cor, second vice-president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. "For every life saved at sea in this dramatic way, fifty can be saved on shore by radio health exercises."

"We, who are in the insurance business, know why people die. They don't die because of storms at sea; they die in the greatest numbers, long before their time, because of little tumor poisons and indigestions. Physical stress will largely offset the harmful effect of the minor ailments which lead to serious illness. This is why the Metropolitan has added the radio to pamphlet distribution, nursing care and advertiser campaigns for helping people to keep themselves fit."

Fans Enjoy Exercise

Arthur Bagley, former Y. M. C. A. director, who started his exercises at 1:45 every morning except Sunday and is on the air for a full hour, has received thousands of letters from exercise fans in the Eastern Seaboard States declaring that they are enjoying the exercises and gradually getting the stiffness out of their muscles. The tower health exercises are broadcast through stations WEAJ, New York; WCAP, Washington, and WEEL, Boston. High up in the Metropolitan tower overlooking the city of New York, Bagley stands in front of his microphone with the windows wide open and performs the exercises as he calls out the directions to the largest health class ever organized. Beside him Fred Harnett at the piano leads the musical rhythm, which guides leader and student students alike. It is a cheerful and friendly way in which to add several years to the span of your life. "Those who are underweight can build themselves up with the proper diet and exercise," Bagley declares; "those who are overweight can get rid of burdensome extra

"SUPER SPEED" RACE A REAL THRILL

To those who like auto speed racing—and who in this age of speed crazes does not?—there is a real thrill in when "Super Speed," a new Harry J. Brown production starring Reed Howes, is shown for one day at the Haskell Theatre next Friday.

For Super Speed takes its name from the big speed race which is its climax. Reed Howes considered one of the youngest and handsomest stars on the screen, proves once more that he is not afraid of danger. He drives a racing car to final victory, against terrific odds. At one stage he is forced from one side of the road to the other by the villain, who hopes in this way to put him out of the race entirely. But he fools the crook by suddenly bringing his car to a dead stop, thus throwing the villain off the track. In doing this however, the boy strikes his head against the rim of the hood, and so dazed that for a little while it looks as tho he would lose out entirely. He gradually his head clear, and by superhuman effort he drives on and faster, faster, crazily at first, then more control, until at the top of the hill which marks the final dash, head is clear and he joins the pack cars re-entered for the final two laps. It is a close race—but the boy wins.

The cast supporting young Howes includes such well-known names as Fred Harris, Sheldon Lewis, Clary, George Williams, and Max Turner.

Simple Method of Reviving Drowning or Those Overcome by Carbon Monoxide

Could Can Put It Into Practice — Knowledge That May Prevent Fatal Ending to Accidents

New York, N. Y.—Every summer many deaths from drowning could be averted with a wider knowledge of the proper method of artificial respiration, according to health authorities. Numerous deaths from electric shock and gas poison also could be prevented.

A few minutes' delay may prove fatal and yet the method of inducing respiration for victims of any of the three kinds of more or less common accidents is so simple that a child can learn to use it successfully.

A pamphlet, issued by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company Industrial Hygiene section, explains the method. The colorless and odorless carbon monoxide, given off from the exhaust of an automobile and also present in the artificial gas commonly used for heating and lighting, is continually taking victims, all of whom could be saved by quick action, if found in time.

Artificial Respiration

The prone pressure method of giving artificial respiration is as follows: "When the victim is out of the water or free from electrical contact or out of the poisonous atmosphere, if breathing has stopped, follow these instructions even if the victim appears to be dead:

"Quickly feel with your fingers in his mouth and throat and remove any obstruction to breathing. If the mouth is tight shut, pay no attention to it until later.

"Lay the patient on his belly, one arm extended directly overhead, the other bent at elbow and with face to one side resting on the hand or forearm, so that the nose and mouth are free for breathing.

"Kneel straddling the patient's hips, with knees just below his

"While counting 'one, two,' and with arms held straight, swing forward slowly so that the weight of your body is gradually, but not violently, brought to bear on the patient. This act should take from two to three seconds.

"While counting 'three' swing backward so as to remove the pres-

One Patient Creditor

They were making a drive to raise funds for an addition to the African Baptist church. Two colored sisters called on old Uncle Berry, an aged negro, who lived on the outskirts of the village, and explained the purpose of their visit and asked the aged darkey to give something toward the cause.

"Lawsey, sisters, I sho would like to help you all long," he said, "but I jest ain't got it. Why, I see the hardest time to keep payin' a little somethin' on what I already owes."

Get a Broader Viewpoint

Because our country is so large, we are often inclined to narrow our views regarding its various activities to the more immediate sections in which we live. Californians may think their state is a leader in road work, New Yorkers that they have the only modern buildings and Florida that it has the principal recreation resorts.

To show the narrowness of such views, consider the road question alone. The Southern states, which have been advertised as having bad roads, are rapidly forging to the front in the construction of new paved motor roads. Reports from the highway departments of 16 southern states show that under their direction, a total of $170,000,000 is available for new roads this year.

Including the construction work under way by counties and townships, the sums being spent in the South this year for road improvement will aggregate approximately $400,000,000. In the new construction, the asphaltic types of pavement predominate and their mileage this year will outstrip any year heretofore, on account of their practicability for all types of hard-surfacing.

As it is with roads, so it is with other lines of activity. The whole country is growing. We should all know more about its resources and realize that its development is not confined to any one favored section.

RULES GOVERNING THE POULTRY DEPARTMENT OF THE HASKELL COUNTY FAIR, AND AWARDS

Poultry Department

The Haskell County Fair will be held this year October 1, 2 and 3 (Thursday, Friday and Saturday). The directors have left nothing undone which would give the county a better poultry show. Mr. Walter Burton of Arlington, a man that is known wherever good poultry is raised and a licensed judge, will place the awards, and at the same time will explain the exhibitors. This feature should be of a great benefit to all who are interested and indirectly will work toward bringing much pure bred stock to the county. Each year we must advance or slip back and in bringing Judge Burton to you this fall we are not only preparing for bigger and better shows each coming year but are doing every thing that can be done along an educational line to further the poultry interests in Haskell county.

The show will be cooped as before in exhibition coops furnished free of charge. All birds will be well attended by experienced men and women who are gladly offering their service to help push forward. Feed will be furnished by Mr. Ben Roberts for the Abex line. SCHOOL NEWS

On Wednesday morning of each week the High School students meet in the auditorium at which time a program of some kind is rendered. The program given this week was especially worth while as four members of the school board were present. "America, the Beautiful," led by Mr. Flewharty, was sung, after which Bro. Hardy was called on to pray. Mr. Neff then introduced Miss Ware, the expression teacher, who gave two numbers which were kindly received by all. A quartette, composed of Ernest Wright, Howard Wright, Hugh Anderson and Ella May Free rendered two numbers which were also enjoyed. Mr. Burwell Cox, president of the Board, made an inspiring talk, assuring both students and teachers that the Haskell City School Board is standing back of them in every way possible. Mr. J. P. Couch, Mr. R. V. Robertson and Mr. Oscar Oates were then called on and each made a very encouraging speech. Those of the members were present in 48 percent but are expected to be present on the next visit of the Board, as we hope will be soon.

Credits are to be given in Expression to those students passing from a teacher elected by the School Board, and who teaches in the High School building. Just how much credit to be granted has not been decided, but this will be done in a few days. This is truly a wonderful opportunity, and one that should appeal to every student.

The first football game of the season will be played Friday afternoon at four o'clock between Haskell and Aspermont. This is bound to be an interesting game, and everyone having the interests of the school at heart should come out and help the boys win. Your support means a great deal to them. The admission price is only twenty-five cents.

This class promises to be among the best with their enthusiastic sponsor, and with the efforts of the entire class. We are sure they shall long be remembered.

The officers elected are as follows: President, Rae Eastland; Vice President, Mary Sherrill; Secy. Treas. Anita Grissom; Reporter, Lewis Pearsey; Chronicler, I. B. Bagwell Jr.

Roasting Ears from South Plains
We are indeed grateful to our old friend Sam Sears formerly of Haskell county but now of Terry county on the South Plains who remembered us with a fine lot of roasting ears grown on his fertile farm in that section. This seems a long way for a fellow to send a present to his friends, but knowing Mr. Sears as we do, the distance is never too great or the night too dark for him to render a kindness or assistance to a friend and when they came to us and we had feasted upon this delicious corn we were made to realize more fully the worth of a friend although many miles away. We thank Mr. Sears very much.

Baby Dies.
The little two months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tucker died Sunday August 30th at 3 o'clock. Funeral services were held at 4 o'clock at the First Baptist church, after which remains were laid to rest in the Cemetery.
There are no words or thoughts that bring surcease of sorrow or palliate grief that sits enthroned in the hearts of loved ones. We can only pray that grace abundant be those whose hearts have sustained the deepest wounds and whose grief is heaviest.

QUALITY AT LOW COST

Firestone

will ALWAYS give Most Miles per Dollar

No matter where crude rubber prices may go—Firestone advantages in securing raw material, in manufacturing and distribution are always active to make good the pledge of Most Miles per Dollar.

Racing drivers—hill-climbing and endurance record holders—taxicab, motor truck and bus operators—and hundreds of thousands of car owners—are daily emphasizing the unheard-of mileage and service delivered by Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords.

Gum-Dipping is one of the biggest factors in tire performance and long mileage, making Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords the most economical tires ever offered motorists.

The cord from the fabric mills is first delivered to a separate plant where it is treated in a solution of gum, which insulates every fiber of every cord. This protects against internal friction and heat, giving the sidewalls greater flexibility and additional strength.

Prove Firestone's many superiorities for yourself. If you have never had the safety, comfort and economy of these serviceable, long-mileage tires—go to the nearest Firestone Dealer—for Firestone only builds Gum-Dipped Cords.

BUILD... HASKELL

"Mail Order Perilists"

When you get your copy of the M. W. Catalogue this past week, you were handed out in the usual manner by the United States Post Office. Surely you must have been interested. Perhaps you got a copy of the M. W. Catalogue, quite a shipment of these came in during the past week, a little ahead of the M. W. Catalogue.

The Chamber of Commerce, the City Development and the Merchants Association, might cry, speak and moan, talk whither, "Buy at Home" without reward so long as this "Mail Order Perilists" continues to grow up people. Wait a minute, Mr. and Mail Order Patron, we have just don't jump at conclusions, we are going to deal with you, alone, as long as you go to the railroad station stand in the United States Post Office lobby, and see merchandise in one line of wares get merchandise direct from wholesalers that is bought from their neighbors, you are not entirely to blame, we say. Because the merchant they're saying: You simply can't beat the fine workmanship, the smart style and the wonderful linings and trimmings M. Born & Company puts into its made to measure clothes—and you can't beat the price.

MODEL TAILOR SHOP

in one line can save through his buying channels the profits his neighbor-merchant would make if he bought locally from him, he has no just right to expect that neighbor-merchant to buy from him the wares he offers, not in that particular merchant's line or stock. You as a consumer, seeing this example feel justified in sending your money away and saving what you can because you feel that if Jones is not good enough for Smith to trade with, he is not good enough for you to trade with.

However, in either instance, your practice or that of Mr. Merchant, are both wrong. You'll never profit in the long run because, when you buy out of town you are lowering the commercial activities of your town and your son or your neighbor's son or your husband or your neighbor's husband will sooner or later be out of work as a clerk if you keep up the practice.

Mr. Merchant, how can your neighbor-merchant pay his clerks if you reduce his selling power and take advantage of him by buying direct those goods or wares you do buy carried by him because you save his profit, justly his, as yours in your line of business is yours? He might lay-off a clerk or two that is trading with you, you can't always sometimes tell. That clerk will have to leave Haskell to find employment. A family might be caused to move, for all you know and apparently care. Had you thought of that?

When the rural citizen steps into the freight station to get his cotton seed, or perhaps a freight shipment he has ordered, he finds about him, boxes addressed to Jones in the dry goods business that contain hardware and other goods handled by Smith who is in that particular line. He promptly decides, that if Smith is not good enough for Jones to do business with he can't trade there either and as these merchants know each other well, he'll play safe and not trade with either of them. Can you doubt that?

You as a Mail Order Buyer, set the example, because you do not trade with your neighbor-merchant and permit him to live as you wish to live, by commercialism.

It seems to us, if your neighbor-merchant is not good enough for you to trade with he is not good enough to associate with and little good to the town somebody ought to move.

When shipments of rugs, are unloaded at the confectionery, when the express and freight wagons unload stoves at the dry goods store, and various other crates and boxes showing wares not carried by the said merchant are unloaded at his store or home for his personal use and are purchased because he can deal with wholesalers to save, as we see it, the profit justly due the merchant carrying these respective lines there is no good reason for any or either of these merchants to cry down Mail Order Houses and feel hurt because the people as a whole buy direct and attempt to save a profit. Haskell merchants are justly entitled to like charity, as we are told, begins at home, just the same applies in practices that will check this mail order buying, begin at home.

After all, if the mail order buying will check everything in the transaction it will be found that there has been no real profit.

The postage and the stationery, the money order and the C. O. D. charge, transportation charges, and additional ones if you are not pleased and send the goods back, and the wait, and the class of wares, will all total, with any fair minded checking up, very little and often not any better than a local purchase, if as good in the end.

Don't let the penny blind you. Money is not all. If Haskell dies as a trade center because of Mail Order practices, who suffers? You or me, or both?

These practices as we see them, are not proper, not fair, not square shooting at all. Haskell will stand still and the Mail Order houses build larger plants, but Haskell gain nothing. The local merchant pays the taxes, so do you as a property owner. You want your property to gain in value if you keep Haskell development down you endanger your property because Haskell is no longer a trade center and property values are lowered and you suffer along with the others. Live and let live please: live and let live please.

chancing, fair dealing and square shooting, in all lines, will bring the results you seek, you won't profit by the Mail Order route in the long run, no more than the man who tastes booze and enjoys it for a while, the habit will kill him in the end. Keep up the mail order practices and you will kill Haskell in the end. Merchant patronize merchant, citizen patronize merchant, merchant employ local people where ever they fit in, and in the end, BUILD HASKELL.

President Coolidge Again Asks For Golden Rule Observance

President Coolidge, in a letter to Near East Relief, endorses plans for the third observance of Golden Rule Sunday on December 4.

In giving his endorsement the President acknowledged the receipt of reports showing that last year fifty countries observed the day and that sixty-five are expected to participate this year. The President aided in this observance. The purpose of the day is to promote international good will, in general, and specifically to focus attention upon the needs of war and famine orphans in the Near East. On Golden Rule Sunday people are asked to serve the menu of a Near East Relief orphanage in their homes and then to contribute as their means permit to relief work among the children.

The President's letter follows: "The reports of the observance of International Golden Rule Sunday last year in fifty countries, and its far-reaching results in the training of orphans in the Near East have been of great interest to me. This expression of brotherhood inevitably has a beneficial influence upon those who give as well as those who receive.

"As practical help is the best expression of friendship, I feel that the aid which we may give out of our prosperity to those impoverished by war may be of the utmost value in the promotion of international good will. The consistent observance of Golden Rule Sunday cannot but help to bring about the application of the Golden Rule itself to the misunderstandings of nations and of individuals.

"I earnestly hope that the voluntary observance of this day may become increasingly prevalent in the homes of America and throughout the world."

SACRED CHORAL CLUB HAS GREAT MEETING

One of the largest congregations ever assembled in Haskell for the purpose of enjoying a song service were in attendance at the Sacred Choral Club last Sunday afternoon, when the large auditorium of the First Christian Church of this city was filled to overflowing. An excellent program was arranged and those who took an active part in the program received much applause from the vast throng who heard them. The house was called to order by the Chairman, W. M. Free, who sang two songs after which H. D. Neff Superintendent of the Haskell Schools offered a word of prayer. A number of class songs were rendered by different leaders after which the real program had been previously arranged began. The first part was given to Raymond Elliott who has been teaching music schools in Haskell county this summer. He has taught more than 300 pupils in the county this year and these pupils were expected to be there and render some special songs, but the roads leading into town were in such bad condition and the weather so unsettled and threatening that only a few were able to get here and take part in the singing. However four songs were rendered by those present, directed by Mr. Elliott which were very pleasing and entertaining. The expression and the quality of voice was evident of the excellent training these pupils have had in their school work.

The J. L. Wright quartet which consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Wright and their two sons Howard and Ernest was called to the floor and a beautiful and appropriate solo was rendered by Mrs. D. Neff who is teaching a large piano and music class in the city gave a piano solo which was a delightful treat to all. Next the Baize Bros. of Stamford gave a quartet and as soon as they had finished they were called back and gave another which was enjoyed, receiving much applause. Miss Ella Mae Free gave a solo which was warmly applauded, followed by a reading by Miss Stella Mae Coburn which was joyfully received. Manley Branch and Miss Free sang, "Mother Is Waiting For Me" as a duet which was enjoyed very much by all who love the name of Mother. After a class song Raymond Elliott sang a solo which he dedicated to his pupils in Haskell County which found its way to the hearts of all and was appreciated very much by his pupils. F. W. Tidwell of Abilene brought a pleasant surprise when he was called on to direct a class song. He arranged a splendid quartet by calling Mrs. Tidwell, Earnest Wright and Roy Hooten of Anson to the floor and gave an excellent number which was enjoyed very much.

A quartet was arranged by W. M. Free with his daughter Ella Mae, Manley Branch and G. M. Williams taking part in the song followed by a male quartet by Manley Branch, Earnest, Howard and J. L. Wright. J. H. Herring president of the West Side convention sang "In The Sweet By and By" as a closing song and the congregation was dismissed by Rev. Ben Hardy. There were numerous leaders present from all parts of the county and songs were led by Manley Branch, Roy Hooten of Anson, H. G. Hammer of Howard and others. We had a number of singers from our neighboring towns including J. W. Clark of Sager-ton who is one of Haskell County's best bass singers. Also Rev. Hardy, Forrester and Harvey Haskell Ministers were present at the program.

The club will meet again next Sunday afternoon at the same church. Everyone is invited to come. A splendid program will be given and you will be entertained. Don't forget the date.

HASKELL BUSINESS CONCERN MAKING ENVIABLE RECORD

Jones & Sons, tanners of this city, have made an enviable record since they embarked in business just a few years ago. They are not only supplying the demands of the home trade but are reaching out to other parts of the state, doing work in their line that has been going out of the state in the past. Besides many other kinds of tinner's supplies they are furnishing at home and abroad they have made and delivered the large suction elbows, drums and various tin pipes to the following gins: Moran Gin Company, Moran, Texas; Harrison & Sons, Stamford, Texas; Lisle Gin Co., Rule; Cranston-Williamson Gin Co., Weimert; Cranston-Williamson Gin Co., Anson; Swift Gin Co., Haskell; Duncan Gin Co., Haskell; Harrison-Spurlock, Haskell; Haskell Electric Gin. Not a single piece of all these supplies has been returned for correction nor a word of grievance been heard but satisfaction in every instance has been reported, and many compliments have been received by Jones & Sons for their excellent work and the promise of further patronage when anything should be needed in their line.

When Jones & Sons first entered the tin shop business, they took possession of the shop one morning and that night a disastrous fire destroyed the building and all its contents, on which no insurance was carried. But in a very short time a new building was erected and new machinery installed and with unconquerable energy the business has made wonderful progress since the day it was established. They have been conservative at all times but aggressive. Since the day they began work in Haskell the Free Press has carried a small ad for Jones & Sons each week which has been a message of greeting to their patrons, telling of their equipment and their appreciation of the patronage they were getting—just a heart to heart talk to their friends.

OUT WEEDS AND CLEAN UP IN GENERAL BEFORE FAIR

With only two more weeks left before the opening of the Haskell County Fair, every citizen in Haskell should begin to plan for the entertainment of several thousand visitors who will be in our city October 1, 2, 3.

These two weeks should be devoted to a clean up campaign. In order to take full advantage of these three days, we should have the city looking spick and span. Let's cut the weeds on and around our property; clear away the rubbish stacked high along the side of certain business buildings and remove the August dust from our windows.

And—it would not be amiss to "light up" the old town for the occasion. The merchants should co-operate by adding an awning light in front of their business for the three days. This could be done at little expense and think of the added attraction of fifty lights around the square.

Let's make Haskell attractive to the visitors during the Fair.

HASKELL CITIZEN EXHIBITS LARGE SUNFLOWER

R. H. Davis, who is well known in the city was exhibiting a very large sunflower head on the streets Saturday afternoon. The diameter of this mammoth sunflower measuring more than sixteen inches. Mr. Davis avows that this sunflower grew in his garden and he gave as a witness his neighbor John Odell who has vouched for Mr. Davis in many similar statements and in each instance the truth and veracity of Mr. Davis was established beyond question.

JUST A REMINDER WHEN EXHIBITS ARE ARRANGED

Manager F. N. Clifford of the Haskell County Fair asks that exhibitors remember the statement made recently that because you don't find just what you have to exhibit in the catalogue, bring it in anyway and submit it to the Department or Division Director in charge and if it can be entered this will be done. Agricultural exhibits will find the new rules and regulations easier and re-arranged in keeping with the larger fairs. However, the new regulations and score card is fair and gives a wider range in preparing exhibits. If you have a vegetable, product of any kind or class, not shown in the book listings or on card, bring them and ask about it, the director might be able to arrange it satisfactory to all.

HASKELL GETS FLOODSTY FROM BIG RAIN LAST WEEK

In the Star-Telegram of Monday, September 14th, appeared cuts made from actual photographs of the Haskell square and side streets giving a graphic account of the flooded condition of the city which was caused by a near cloud-burst Thursday afternoon Sept. 10th, and also stating that large fish were caught in the streets of the city after the water had subsided. This caused quite a bit of comment when the Fort Worth papers were received from the mails Monday morning. On the postoffice corner a number of the old-timers were congregated and the story refreshed their memory of other days when the rains came and the floods descended. It was during the Galveston flood, Sept. 8, 1900, says J. L. Baldwin, and Henry Post, that the square of Haskell was covered with water and boats were put into action and the water was deep enough that these boats were driven all around the square and the longest fish caught in the streets at that time according to Mr. Baldwin, was eight and a half inches in length. Mr. Post remembers distinctly the flooded square and the boat rides but says he never was much at fishing and knew nothing of the number and size of the fish caught in the streets of Haskell at that time. On June 11, 1909 is another time which the old-timers call to mind, and according to J. E. Steenson and others the water around the Valley Depot was swimming to a horse (this was one of the old ways to measure the depth of water), and just south of the freight building not a hundred feet away the railroad track was washed out during this deluge and many business houses and residences in the city were flooded.

According to W. T. Hudson, who has been here many years, about 15 years ago during a hard dash of rain, he found a fish floundering on the ground at his home that had fell on the building and bounded to the ground from the roof. He is confident that the fish came down from the cloud during the rain. Other fish stories and big rains were mentioned, and all go to prove that Haskell is one of the greatest towns in Texas and is possessed with more wonderful resources than most cities. Come to Haskell where something is always happening that give both joy and thrills.

At the request of the contestants in our Ford Coupe Trade Extension Campaign the closing of the Contest has been extended until
