

BROWNWOOD BULLETIN RECOMMENDS MR. CAMPE

The following letter was received by the Free Press from the city Editor of the Brownwood Bulletin, commending Mr. Turner E. Campe to the people of Haskell County who have accepted the position of Secretary of the Haskell County Fair Association. The letter is self-explanatory and is quite a boost for Mr. Campe.

Brownwood, Texas, June 18.
Editor Free Press, Haskell, Texas.
Dear Sir: I am informed that Mr. Turner E. Campe of this city has accepted the position of Secretary of the Haskell County Fair Association. If this is true I want to congratulate all the people of Haskell county for Mr. Campe is a most worthy man and gentleman in every sense of the word. He is a hard and willing worker at all times, and always loyal to the locality in which he lives. Mr. Campe has no knowledge, whatever of this being written, as he would no doubt object to it. The best that the people of Haskell can do for him will be none too good. He is worthy and deserving.

Very truly,
Henry C. Fuller,
City Editor, Brownwood Bulletin,

"If I Were Only Rich--"

Have you ever said, "If I were only rich," because you wanted to help those less fortunate than you?

You do not have to be rich to help others. Richness that counts is the kind that is made up of tolerance, sympathy and a real desire to help others.

If you want to be rich get the Chiropractic idea and then begin to give it to others. Realize that thousands of people need Chiropractic but they have not met a person such as you who has told them how it can restore them to health.

Tell your friends who are sick to try Chiropractic. Help those you care for with this great idea—it will accomplish more than all the riches you might dispense. Take adjustments.

Money to loan on farms at 7 1/2 and 8 per cent, for 5 years or 10 years, with liberal options to pay the loan off before it becomes due. I also make a 20 year loan on the Amortization plan at 7 1/2 and 8 per cent interest and you pay interest and a small amount of the principal once each year, and this pays the loan off, both principal and interest in 20 years. Also give the option to pay this 20 year loan at any interest paying date. No red tape and no extra cost. Come in and let me explain these loans to you. You will like them and I can save you money.

HER FATAL CHARM

"Then there is a woman in the case; who is she?"
"Y-you!" (Sobbing.)

ANNA'S RIDE IN THE PIG CRATE

By ADDIE CRAVER

SAM had been playing the same ugly trick on her for quite a while. Sam was turning out like other husbands; they all sneaked off on illicit meanderings after they had been married a short while. Why, that very evening she had found in Sam's second-best coat pocket a letter reading:
"Dear Sam—Come over as soon as you can now. Everything is ready and we can fix things all up. The piece of woodland is all settled for and I carried the money to the bank this morning. I am all ready to fly the coop."
"JANETTE."
So! Janette's husband had been dead six months—she and Sam had renewed their friendship of former days and had made practical plans for an elopement! So that was what he had been up to!

Sam was putting that second-best suit on. He had told her he was going to take his father's pig crate and hay-caps home. These articles he had loaded on the truck.
With a last woful glance at the dismantled pantry, and the dismantled love nest of fulfilled dreams, Anna ran swiftly to the back of the truck and climbed in. Lifting the haycaps from the end of the pig crate, she crawled into it and drew the caps back into place just in time to escape Sam's observation.

"Evidently," she sensed, with a pang of angry hurt, "he didn't look for me."
Sam's father lived beyond Janette's farm, so Anna found herself free from discovery in her humiliating position. Sam stopped in front of Janette's, as Anna had felt sure he would. Through an unobserved crack in the side of the crate Anna saw Janette emerge from the house, make a few confidential remarks to Sam, and then lead him down the lane back of the house and on into the woods.

Anna crept out of the "pig sedan" and took the driver's seat. It was lucky she could run the truck, and still luckier there was another way home that passed no houses. The return of the truck could remain a mystery. If she felt any interest she did not show it when Sam returned.

He stood in puzzled irresolution for a moment, shifting from one foot to the other. Finally he blurted out his inquiry:
"Who brought the truck home?"
Anna turned in perfectly registered astonishment. "Why—why—I thought you did!"

Sam dropped on the sugar bucket and voiced his bewilderment.
"No one saw it go by—it—must have come the other way. Someone has played a trick on us!"
"Well," replied Anna cheerfully, "you will have the pleasure of taking another trip"—adding to herself, "I wonder what he thinks I will think about the pig crate's still being in the truck."

Sam started and staid quizzically, then turned on his heel with the remark: "I'll go tomorrow and take you with me."
Dawn showed at last, and Anna rose and dressed. She was glad to get out into the cool morning air. Sam appeared, his face broad with relieved suspense. It was evident he was glad it was about over.

"Ambitious this morning, eh? In a hurry to get the work done to go along with me?"
Anna hurried along, leaving Sam to take his supposition for granted, and prepared an early breakfast. The tension still held.
"The peewees are making a fine racket this morning. They tell the world their love, all right."
Anna replied oddly: "Yes, but their season is short; they are fickle; they soon make a change."
Sam eyed Anna questioningly; Anna's suspicions were roused! But he soon forgot her aloofness while driving the truck at high speed. In almost no time he stopped it at Janette's door. To Anna's amazement, Sam took a key from his pocket, unlocked the door, grabbed her bodily from the seat and stood her up, like a child, on the hall floor. Then he bade her follow him into the living room.

"Rather a surprising performance, eh?"
Anna wriggled, desiring to escape.
"Oh, don't feel so uneasy; you are in your own house—furniture and all. I've bought it—and here's the deed in your own name. Janette started for California last night. She went as soon as she paid for that piece of woodland her husband bought just before he died. She took me around the boundaries yesterday—while somebody swiped the truck on me. It's a valuable piece of timber; and the whole thing is yours, honey."

"And how was it paid for?"
Sam drew himself up proudly. "I got $2,500 for Dan—our registered bear I took to the fair; that, with what we had saved, paid for the place. Now, let's take the crate over to father's and then go home and prepare to move. You can pack the things right up."

Not for a long time did Sam know who swiped the truck, or that Anna took a ride in the pig crate. But she thought it wasn't so bad, after all, to have commandeered the conveyance of a $2,500 bartered and manured pig—when his price had been handed over to her in the shape of a beautiful home.

Musical News of the County

Rev. W. T. Priddy of Stamford closed a singing school at Weaver school house Wednesday night which according to Rev. Priddy has been a very interesting school. The attendance has not been so very large but the pupils have been in earnest and much good has been accomplished through this short term school. Rev. Priddy will begin another singing school at Post Monday night, June 30th, and it is expected to be greater in attendance because of the fact that the people are not so busy with their crops.

Methodist School Closed Monday
Prof. W. L. Mowery closed a singing school Monday night at the Methodist Church in this city in which a good interest has been manifested throughout. The attendance was not as large as was hoped for but the results are outstanding for those who attend. On a final test the pupils showed much improvement and are now fairly on the road to receiving a musical education.

Weinert School Closes Saturday
Chas. E. Sparks of Rhome, Texas, closed a school at Weinert Baptist Church last Saturday night in which a large class was taught the rudiments of music. Mr. Sparks only taught a ten nights school but the results were very visible in advancing the boys and girls in a musical way. Weinert has an organized singing class which meets every third Sunday afternoon at the Methodist Church and this school will help the singing wonderfully.

School to Begin at Midway
There will begin an 18 day school of Music at Midway four miles west of Haskell, Monday July 7th, which will be a day school taught by Prof. Lee Myers of the recent Vaughan Quartet which toured this country. Mr. Myers will have for his assistant his brother who is the Bass Singer for the John Tareyton College Quartet of Stephenville. This school of music will be in line with the great Vaughan System which is one of the greatest musical schools in the south. The methods taught will be the last word in this great study and you can in this school lay the foundation for a musical education. The price is going to be conservative with conditions in this country and the school will be nothing short of the best ever taught in the county. An effort will be put forth to make this an annual affair so that boys and girls may prepare to take in each term because they know for a surety that it will be.

Annual Convention at Jud
The West Side County Singing Convention met with the Jud Annual in an all day session last Sunday and a good time was reported by all who attended. Dinner was served at noon and the entire day was spent in singing. Many leaders were present and took part in the program and many special songs were rendered to the enjoyment of all. SAVE PRODUCTS FOR THE HASKELL COUNTY FAIR

The saying, "Time brings many changes" is indeed true, for now, as never before we have an opportunity to travel places, see and learn things, that only a few years ago we never dreamed of.

The automobile has done much to enable us to travel greater distances in a shorter length of time; so that, now a person can visit a friend in Munday or Knox City in as short a time as he could have made a three mile trip out from town and return in the buggy drawn by Old Dobbin.

Now, with the increase in the number of automobiles and the many other improved methods of travel we can be "neighbor" to more people than ever before, and the same being true with the surrounding counties in relation to Haskell that we should strive to bring about our influence in such a way that every man, woman and child in this county and surrounding counties will be present to enjoy the sights and to learn some of the many lessons that will be taught at the Haskell County Fair this fall.

We are indeed fortunate in having as Directors of the Haskell Fair Association, such men as now compose this body, for in only a few days time they brought about the concerted action which has transformed an un-sightly and mesquite grown track of ground into one of the best and most conveniently arranged fairground parks in Texas, which has practically completed a 5-8 mile race track and a large grandstand. The directors may be able to build the finest park and buildings in the State and yet the Fair will be a failure, literally speaking, if the producer fails to exhibit his produce. The location of the grounds and the arrangement of the buildings have much to do with the success of any fair, however, a fair cannot be a success without the proper display of all things produced in the county. We are, therefore, encouraging that every person who has cattle, horses, chickens, watermelons, cucumbers, oats, wheat, corn, peaches or any other product shown in a fair that is better than that being produced by some one else to be sure and take proper care of same now, that it may be exhibited at the Fair this fall. Many prizes will be offered, however, we feel that should a person fail to win a prize on his exhibit he will have been repaid for the effort he put forth in the advertisement he gets for his product and coupled with the fact that he gave some one else a chance to see and learn something new.

Keep a watch on your best products and save them to show at the fair; so that, when the fair ground gates close this fall we will be able to write on the record book of time that Haskell County had the best 1924 County Fair in the state of Texas.

but it did the work. It just seemed to cleanse the liver. Very soon I felt like new. When I found Black-Draught so easy to take and easy-acting, I began to use it in time and would not have sick headaches."

FROM THE FIELD

By W. M. FREE

Last Friday afternoon County Agent Trice made a trip to O'Brien on business and of course we went along. We were anxious to see the crops after the two weeks but found that favored us as grandiose during the first days of June. To our surprise the crops along the way in sections were much better than we expected. In fact very little of the crop was cut. From the last week several corn cobs in a field were found that were very clean and free from insects and grass and the quality was excellent. We saw and estimated about 100 bushels of corn in a field.

boys all congregated on the shady side and having a good time. An enterprising checker game was in progress on the gallery of the Post Office, with a crowd of spectators looking on. It was entirely too hot to play marbles, or other games where exposure of the body was demanded. T. H. Austin was on the job at his store peddling prunes. Dr. Gray was at his home taking a nap and M. W. Walker and U. V. Thomas were on the job visiting with and helping the doctor. Mr. Thomas is a very large man because of the size of his feet. The women were busy and very few were in town. We drove to Rochester and aroused Dan Dunn from his nap. He has two good clerks and it takes both of them to keep the flies off him while he sleeps. We called for a cold drink and at the jungle of crows on the marble he became wide awake and was very conversable during our stay in his drug store. We only had time to visit a few places in the city as County Agent Trice is always in a hurry. He has fought grasshoppers so much in the grasshopper district of the county that he is getting just like them. "Always on the Hop." We had a few peasant words with Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Carney and made a short stay at the Point Barber Shop and when Mr. Trice finished what business he had in the city we ranked up the line and started for home.

On this trip we only saw a few more of crops that were blighted or over-ripened with the sand and that was on the highway between Rochester and Rule. The farmers were very busy in the fields and the towns were left to the city inhabitants to keep up a household. We enjoyed this trip from start to finish and we were pleased to see the crops in such excellent condition and the farmers on the top rail of the fence after so much terrible hot weather and winds.

Saturday

We spent Saturday in Haskell and in the afternoon we had trouble getting through the streets because of the throngs of people in the city shopping. Saturday night we were driven to Weldon by Mike Watson and took in the closing of the singing school taught by Prof. Chas. E. Sparks of Rhome, Texas. This was an enjoyable affair, to see the many little boys and girls who had attended that school all lined up and singing with much energy. This has been our hope and prayer to see a singing school taught in every community in the county every year. Some day in the future we are going to have a great Normal School of music here in Haskell that our boys and girls may get a musical education at home. We have a big school of music to begin at Midway the first Monday in July which will last 18 days. The same thing will be taught in this school that you get in the big conservatories and the notes will not be in the way. Make some arrangements to go to this school. If you start and care to finish in music we have the plans and the conditions that you can go forward and complete your musical education at normal cost. We are going to maintain our school in this locality each year that the opportunity might be submitted to you. Don't let this school pass and you not enter and get your share of a musical education.

SAYS KARNAK OFFERS HEALTH TO MILLIONS

Thousands of People Throughout the State are Now Praising the Sensational New Medicine For Benefits Received From Its Use.

Thousands of prominent people throughout the State are now praising the sensational new medicine Karnak. The demand for the preparation has exceeded all previous records and as new tests of its powers are made, hundreds more are daily adding their endorsements to the thousands already given it.

In explaining the phenomenal success of the medicine, Mr. H. C. Thornburn, President of Standard Drug Products, Inc., recently said: "Before we secured the distribution rights for Karnak in this country we knew that it was a wonderful health-builder and were convinced that it would restore millions of people to the joys of health. Now the public has proved this for itself and people everywhere flock to the drug stores to get it and report benefits from its use that far surpass even their fondest hopes.

"You can tell after the first few doses of Karnak that you are being benefited in a natural, substantial way. These substantial benefits form the fundamental reason for the medicine's unprecedented success."

Mr. Thornburn briefly quoted M. Andre's theories on health and right living as follows: "Your health is an unnatural condition. Nature is always working to restore us and with the proper assistance will succeed. Millions of people drag through life feeling well only half the time, or weak, sick and miserable day after day with hardly enough strength to keep up, and not knowing where to turn for relief. They are victims of auto-intoxication and malnutrition. The vital organs are failing to do their work. The system is being poisoned with impurities that tear down the health, waste the strength and irritate the nerves. The vitality is being destroyed and their lives needlessly shortened.

"To all such people Karnak has proved a blessing. M. Andre's aim was to perform a medicine that would embody all the corrective forces of Nature itself. How well he succeeded is shown by the thousands who are praising the new medicine everywhere it has been introduced.

"It is not unusual for people to say that Karnak has relieved them of troubles that had defied all other treatments for years. That is because Karnak helps the entire system regain its lost vitality, strength and resiliency and enables nature to reassert itself."

amendment and making an appropriation to pay the expenses thereof. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: Section 1. Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas shall be amended so as to hereafter read as follows: Section 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public money to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever, provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent or disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors, who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1910, and to their widows, in indigent circumstances and who have been bona fide residents of this State since January 1, 1910, and who were married to such soldiers or sailors prior to January 1, 1910, and to indigent and disabled soldiers who under the special laws of the State of Texas during the war between the States served in organizations for the protection of the frontier against Indian raiders or Mexican marauders and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia of the State of Texas who were in active service during the war between the States and to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances and who were married to such soldiers prior to January 1, 1910, provided that the word "widow" in the preceding lines of this Section shall not apply to women born since the year 1861, and all soldiers and sailors and widows of soldiers and sailors eligible under the above condition shall be entitled to be placed upon the pension rolls and participate in the distribution of the pension fund of this State under any existing law or laws hereafter passed by the Legislature, and also to grant aid for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law, provided the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together, in the home. There is hereby levied in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas a State ad valorem tax on property of seven ($7.00) cents on the one hundred ($100) dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate herein levied, and provided further that the provisions of this Section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity. Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified voters of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1924, at which all voters shall have printed or written on their ballots: "For amendment of Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows who have been a resident of this State since January 1, 1910," and "Against amendment to Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution, authorizing the Legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers and their widows." Big-Six appearance is attractive, distinctive, and in good taste. Its performance, acceleration, flexibility and dependability are known and respected the world over. No car, regardless of price, surpasses it in quality or completeness of equipment. If a smaller manufacturer or assembler were to build the Big-Six—of equal quality and workmanship—his price would be $3,500 — perhaps more. But Big-Six overhead is distributed over six times as many units as are built by any Big-Six competitor, hence Big-Six cost and selling price are surprisingly low. Don't buy blindfolded. COAST TO COAST AIR MAIL

The progress of the postal service may be inferred from the fact that Postmaster General New announced that, beginning July 1, daily air-mail service will be maintained between New York and San Francisco. Letters mailed in New York will be delivered in San Francisco 25 hours later. It is believed that in a few months the transit time will be decreased to 24 hours. Train service at the present time requires 67 hours. Letters sent by this route will have to bear special air-mail stamps which will be distributed among the principal postoffices of the country. These stamps will be in denominations of 8, 16 and 24 cents. The postoffice supplements the public school system and in fact is itself one of our greatest sources of education.

LONE STAR SCHOOL CLOSURES AFTER SUCCESSFUL TERM

The Lone Star school closed Saturday night after two nights and one day of good entertainment that wholly repaid the pupils for all the hard work done this year.

Thursday night the regular school program was enjoyed by all who attended. This program, consisting of readings, dialogues, drills and ending with a short sketch entitled "The Obstinate Family," was given entirely by the teachers of the school.

Friday there was an old time school basket picnic on Lake Creek in Mr. Cantrell's pasture. The dinner, which was spread in the cool shade of a hackberry tree, was highly complimentary to the cooking of the good housewives of the Lone Star community. In the afternoon there was a ball game with Weimer in which we are glad to say Lone Star was victorious.

On Saturday night the young people of the school and community, with the help of the teachers, presented the play, "Lone Star." "Lone Star" is one of Oliver P. Parker's newest plays and deals with the problem of changing the big Texas ranch into a modern stock farm; a problem that is being worked out at this very time on the Texas plains farther west of us and a problem that at one time confronted the ranch owners of this country.

The play was viewed with enthusiasm by quite a few of the people of Lone Star and surrounding communities. Many of the enthusiastic spectators cannot compliment the play and players too highly. It is the united opinion of all those who saw it that the play is the best that has been presented at Lone Star or in the surrounding country for a long time. This is the closing of the second successful term of school for the teachers at Lone Star and it is with a feeling of regret to say that they will not be in the work here next year.

The Lone Star school has made considerable progress in the past two years. Two years ago we had an old barn-like building school house that was a disgrace to our community. Today we have a nice new four-room brick building that is recognized to be the best rural school building in Haskell county. The only thing lacking now to make Lone Star the best rural schools and the first rural community in Haskell county is for the Lone Star people to get behind their community with determination and push till it stands head in every way.

Killing Courtesy The following is a story told by H. J. Byron and retold by Harry Furness, of a catermonger who thought he would enjoy his holiday taking a walk through the West End. "Yes, Mr. Byron, I dress myself up stiff, and goes up Regency street. I was a lookin' at some photographs in a shop window when a swell bloke wid a lydy on his arm gives me a shove and sends my 'ead clean through that 'ere window. Did I cuss and swear? Did I use bad language? No, I remembered w'ere I was, so with the blood all a-streamin' down my face, I rose my 'at graceful an' says, 'I beg your pardin'. That's all I say. I beg your pardin'. I crushed 'im with bleedin'!"—Argonaut.

Experienced "I see ye advertise for a tailor," began a Scot, applying to a London firm. "A ladies' tailor. This is a ladies' tailoring establishment." "I ken that." "Which is a particular line, my man. Many a tailor, and a good tailor, fails there. Now have you ever had any experience at dressmaking?" "No, but I've worked on kilts."

PRODUCE INFERTILE EGGS

Everyone having male birds in the poultry yard should remove them now without further delay, and produce only infertile eggs. By getting rid of all surplus male birds, you are not preventing loss by fertile egg production, but you are saving the extra amount of food they consume. Infertile eggs will not produce baby chicks. Neither do they decay. If they are not kept in a cool place they will dry up and deteriorate. They are much better for table use than fertile eggs. The rooster makes the egg fertile. The fertile egg makes the blood ring.

Do you know that about 5 per cent of the eggs produced during the warm weather months are a total loss? That amounts to about $15,000,000 over the United States.

You can save the 15,000,000 lbs. now lost from blood rings by separating the male bird from your flock when the hatching season is over.

According to the 1920 census report of the U. S. Department of Agriculture there were about 64,970,000 dozen eggs produced in Texas. Five per cent of that year amounted to 3,248,500 dozen. Estimating the average value of these eggs at 20 cents a dozen, that loss was about $649,750. This would more than pay the salary, one year.

of every public school teacher (both rural and city) in the county (the largest number of school children in the state. Don't you think it will pay to produce infertile eggs?
