Democratic Run-Off Election To Be Held In Texas Saturday

Communities With Holdouts Face Loss Of Participation In Boll Weevil Program

Communities along the eastern edge of the Caprock of the Texas South Plains face possible loss of participation in the joint producer-USDA funded Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program if holdouts in their area continue to thwart efforts to stop the weevil's migration onto the Plains.

In a strongly worded statement released recently in Lubbock by the steering committee of the boll weevil control program, steps were mapped out which would lead to the exclusion of communities where producers having significant amounts and locations of acreages refuse to participate.

Such action could possibly affect several area counties where pockets of holdouts exist. The statement was compiled by the Technical Advisory Committee of the control program and adopted by the steering committee. The advisory group is made up of representatives of Plains Cotton Growers, based in Lubbock, Plant Protection and Quarantine Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Texas Department of Agriculture, Texas Agriculture Extension Service, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas A&M University, Texas Tech University, and several representatives of the cotton and allied communities.

The steering committee is composed of 10 persons from the South Plains area.

The Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program was begun in 1964 along a 15-county area stretching from the upper South Plains southward and southwestward to the New Mexico line, along the Caprock. Its purpose is to use pest management concepts, including spraying and field scouting, to prevent the boll weevil from migrating westward from its overwintering areas along the Caprock.

Officials believe they have successfully prevented the establishment of overwintering infestations above the Caprock on the Texas High Plains and eastern New Mexico by treating infested fields along the Caprock. Cotton producers in this area voluntarily participate in the program which is administered by producers through Plains Cotton Growers and the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Plant Protection and Quarantine.

Producers refusing to participate give a number of reasons for holding out, this statement said. Many of them say they are fearful that treatments may open the door to bollworm infestations.

To overcome the threat of a bollworm problem, officials have adopted recommendations of the advisory committee that treatments for boll weevil control be delayed from August 25 to September 6. This has the effect of delaying the disruption of beneficial insect activity which keeps the bollworm in check.

A second step to counter the objection would be to continue the practice of providing for bollworm counts in the field along with weevil counts. During the fall, field scouts are customarily sent out to survey weevil infestations. This second measure includes survey of bollworm activity as well.

According to the statement, the steering committee aims to "make the best use of public and private funds which have been made available in good faith." The way to do this, the report concludes, is for treatment activities to be restricted to those areas in which there is "a reasonable chance that effectiveness can be maintained."

To accomplish this, the committee outlined in the statement the following procedures for dealing with the holdout problem:

—Contact will be made with present holdouts in efforts to persuade them to participate on a continuing basis. If this fails, an appropriate committee will consider and evaluate their cotton acreage and its location within the community. Should this acreage and location render impractical and ineffective the spraying of other cotton in that community, that community will be dropped from the program.

—If the community should be dropped, financial and agricultural leaders as well as news media in the area will be notified of this action.

—The community (a defined geographical area to be determined by the review committee) will be excluded for the remainder of the season or until such time that the appropriate committee may review a petition from the uncooperative growers requesting readmittance.

Provisions also were outlined in the statement for dealing with potential holdouts. When USDA and PCG personnel are notified by growers that they do not want their fields to be sprayed, efforts will be made to "persuade them to stay in the program. If this fails, the growers will be told that their request will be honored, but that their names cannot be held confidential when there are inquiries about holdouts."

USDA and PCG officials say the steering committee adopted the statement with no ill feelings or harassment intended, but simply to make the best use of tax money and private funds which have been made available to the Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program for its specific goals.

The recommendations of the statement take effect with the 1976 treatment program which already is being mapped out.

Officials said information about the statement can be obtained by calling or writing Plains Cotton Growers or USDA-Plant Protection and Quarantine, in Lubbock.

Freshmen Have Going-Away Party

The Freshman Class had a going-away party for Greg Blair in the home of the Bill Durhams on Wednesday of last week.

Hot dogs, chips and cokes were served, and the class played volleyball and ping pong. Thirty-three class members attended.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fisher of Morrisville, Missouri and their son, J. B. of Kansas City, Kansas, visited their niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lenard Crabb, and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Clark, jr. and Angie of South Plains from Sunday through Wednesday.

One Briscoe County race and two state races will appear on the ballot for the Democratic Run-off Saturday, June 5. Three voting places will be open in Silverton, at the P.C.A. community room, the Pioneer Room and the City Hall, and one in Quitaque, at the City Hall. Voting will be from 7:00 a.m. until 7:00 p.m. and the election results will be posted at the old pool hall building in Silverton as soon as they arrive in the office of County Clerk Bess McWilliams.

J. L. Williams and Bill Boling, both of Silverton, are in a run-off for the Democratic nomination for Sheriff of Briscoe County. There being no declared Republican or Independent candidate, the Democratic nominee usually is considered elected. Incumbent Sheriff Vinson Smith did not choose to seek re-election.

The state races will be between Newton and Sadler of the Railroad Commission, and between Dally and Phillips for an unexpired term on the Criminal Appeals Court.

Those eligible to vote in this election will be those (1) who meet residence requirements; (2) who have been registered to vote for at least 30 days; (3) who did not vote in the Republican primary on May 1. It is a class A misdemeanor under Texas law to vote in the primary elections of more than one political party.

If you did not vote at all May 1 and meet the registration and residence requirements, you may vote Saturday. You are also eligible to vote if you did vote in the Democratic Primary on May 1.

CARL DALLY
Judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals

"Carl Dally has been a commissioner-in-aid to the court of criminal appeals for half a decade. He has argued before the U.S. Supreme Court and has had extensive experience in both the criminal and civil branches of the law. His opponent is a man with no judicial or appellate experience in criminal cases. We urge Texas Democrats eligible to vote in the June 5 runoff to inform themselves of the qualifications of the candidates in this and all races. We urge them not to vote for a vaguely familiar name, but to vote for the best man. In the case of the runoff for the criminal appeals court, the best candidate is clearly Carl Dally."

AUSTIN AMERICAN-STATESMAN

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram calls Carl Dally "eminently qualified" and the Houston Chronicle says he is "uniquely suited" to serve on the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals. Dally is also endorsed by newspapers in Dallas, Lubbock, Corpus Christi, San Angelo, Tyler, Bryan, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Victoria and Wichita Falls.

Ask your lawyer, your district attorney, any judge, or informed friend about the candidates in this important race. Then vote for the best man.

Number Of Cattle In Area Feedlots Still On Decline

The number of cattle being fed in area feedlots is still on the decline, it was revealed today in the 1976 Fed Cattle Report compiled by the Agricultural Development Department of Southwestern Public Service Company. The report covers the 45,000 square mile area served by SPS, including 30 counties on the North and South Plains of Texas, four counties in Eastern New Mexico, three in the Oklahoma Panhandle and one county in Southwestern Kansas.

Fed cattle production for 1975 was down 19.6 percent with 3,280-

443 cattle fed compared to 4,082,142 in 1974. The peak year for number of cattle fed was 1973 when area feedlots fed 4,962,763 head. The 1975 figure represents a decline of 33.9 percent since 1973.

Feedlot capacity since 1974—the peak year—has also declined 5.1 percent while the number of feedlots with 1,000 head capacity and above has gone down from 191 in 1971 to 148 at the beginning of this year.

Sam Thomas, SPS Agricultural Development Manager, thinks that the long term future for the cattle feeding industry is bright. "The experiences of the past two years has had a strong similarity to the 1963-64 periods when the profit picture was so bad it appeared the cattle feeding development was dead. The more recent experience has been complicated by higher grain costs and feeder cattle, but the enthusiasm, dejection, despondency and elation that comes from the feed yards follows a very familiar pattern."

"I am in hopes that fed cattle numbers will increase at a 15 to 25 percent annual rate unless there is a compensatory reduction in fed cattle numbers in other areas," Thomas concluded.

You Can BANK on it!

Inflation, simply stated, means it takes more to buy less, and while the experience may be new to some, anyone over 60, or even 45, has been through it before. The one thing the over 45 generation knows is that nothing lasts forever. That holds true for inflation, recession and unemployment.

Since the turn of the century, we have had two major price inflation periods, not counting the present one, 1914-20 and 1938-48, during and after two World Wars. Prices doubled, but so did our money supply. The nation also has experienced one fairly long continued peacetime rise in prices, 1897-1914, when everything went up 40-50%.

The economist-historians say we also have had four periods of economic stability, 1882-92, 1903-1913, 1923-29 and 1948-1960, and since economic growth depends upon stable money, this nation experienced unprecedented industrial growth during each period.

As a nation, we have overcome and taken advantage of our setbacks, and we will continue to do so. One strength of our economy is its banking system, which is among the strongest in the world. Your bank provides the loans that build the businesses that generate the income that pays the salaries that pay the bills that keep in dusty moving.

JON NEWTON

Texas Railroad Commission

The Railroad Commission is one of the most powerful regulatory and conservation agencies in America. Two candidates are in the June 5th Democratic runoff election:

JERRY SADLER, 68, who entered politics in the 1930's, was defeated as Land Commissioner in 1970 after an official reprimand from the Texas House for refusal to cooperate in an investigation . . . bad absentee record in public office . . . investigated by a grand jury for using a state employee to run his private motel . . . sued for civil tax fraud by the IRS . . . In 1969 the Dallas Times Herald declared "Sadler has made Texas government a universal target of ridicule and derision," and in 1976 the San Angelo Standard echoed, "Under Sadler, the Railroad Commission just might become the laughing stock he once made of the General Land Office."

JON NEWTON, 34, three-term House member with solid record of public service . . . authored the law regulating strip mining . . . fought for a Public Utility Commission . . . serves on Interstate Oil Compact Commission, Mining Council of Texas, Governor's Energy Advisory Council, House Energy Resources Committee (vice chairman) . . . endorsed by major newspapers throughout Texas . . . described by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal as "the resident expert on energy matters in the State Legislature" . . . in the first Democratic primary his Bee County neighbors gave him an 85% majority over his seven opponents.

Eternal Vigil...

Salt air, the beating of heavy waves, and rains . . . these are just a few of the elements that a ship must face constantly. With all of these things, it is little wonder that the crew must be alert, looking for rust and other damage. New paint to protect the ship must be applied regularly.

An individual faces many things in this world, that would rust and corrupt his life, therefore it is good to begin each week with a renewing of spirit, that can be obtained only through worship in the Lord's house.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

NOTICE OF HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation offered an opportunity for a public hearing to be requested by publication on April 22 and May 6, 1976, of a notice reporting the proposed construction of F.M. Road 3365, extending from State Highway 86 at a point 2.0 miles east of Silverton, North a distance of 4.8 miles, in Briscoe County.

No requests for a public hearing were received; therefore, the District Office of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, at Childress, Texas, has submitted all of the engineering data and information received in connection with the development of this project for approval of the proposed route and design by the Administration of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

The proposed project consists of construction of a 20-foot asphalt surface, with a minimum of 100 feet of right of way being required. There are no relocations or displacements involved.

Maps, drawings showing geometric design, environmental studies, and all other available data concerning the development of this project may be inspected and copied at the office of Everett H. Monroe, Engineering Technician at Clarendon, Texas.

Dear Charlotte,

It's 10 o'clock, do you know where your children are? These familiar, thought-provoking words are heard by most of us each night from Channel 4 TV. What are your reactions to this question? I have often felt smug, reassured, grateful, thankful, and blessed. I have answered in my heart and audibly, "Yes, I do this night, this week, this month, this year." I pray that I can always say "Yes"—especially when I remember Vietnam, traffic statistics, juvenile problems.

However, with the gift???? of daylight saving and the end of the school year, my reaction has been one of irritation. When I hear, "Do you know where your children are?" I want to snap, "I surely do, because I know where they've been."

Evidence in the kitchen: freezer door open, 6 dirty glasses on the drain, remnants of 4 peanut butter sandwiches (after dinner), tops of jelly and peanut butter jars, 3 cabinet doors open, 2 1/2 pairs of tennis shoes (always one missing), 5 socks (ditto). Evidence in bathroom: 2 faucets steadily dripping, 4 wet towels for 2 children, water-filled bathtub with 6 bath cloths and 3 floating bars of soap (On Sunday morning in Church in close proximity with my son's ears, instead of praying, I wonder, Why 3 bars of soap?) Evidence in hall: 2 chlorine soaked bathing suits, one baseball glove, 2 Barbie dolls, half-eaten apple, an empty potato chip sack, two popsicle sticks, a puddle of red, unidentifiable goo, and a frog in a jar! Some give-away, tell-tale signs in bedroom: dirty shirts, broken crayons, Post Toasties, scattered toys, unopened books, a blaring television, a record player that won't hush, and over-night guests that have insomnia.

Yes, I know where my children are — very much at home.

Gratefully,
HB
