

Farm Bill To See Action In House Soon

The farm bill is now scheduled to begin its journey through the House of Representatives in Washington on Friday, July 15, but the real "action" will be carried over until the following week.

The bill reported by the House Ag Committee has been given an open rule, and if all goes according to plan general debate will take place in the House on the 15th. But the offering of amendments and voting probably will not come before July 19, according to word received by Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

The cotton section of the bill under consideration calls for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan level equal to the smaller of (1) 85 percent of the four-year average U. S. spot market price for cotton or (2) 90 percent of a price equivalent to the adjusted average Liverpool Cotton Outlook "A" index during the first two weeks of October preceding the required loan announcement on November 1 each year. The loan level for 1978, the first year of the program, would be 51.1 cents for Strict Low Middling 1-1-16 inch cotton.

The bill stipulates a target price at 110 percent of the loan, which for 1978 would figure 56.1 cents per pound.

A farm measure already passed by the Senate sets the loan by the same formula and at the same 1978 level as the House. But the Senate bill would set the target price at the cost of production as determined by the Secretary. For 1978 the Senate proposed target figure would be 51.1 cents, five cents below the price called for in the House bill. This and other differences between the House and Senate versions will be ironed out in a House-Senate Conference Committee after the House takes final action.

Under both bills farmers would be paid the difference between market price and the target price on production from the farm allotment, as is done under current law.

The Senate measure would set cotton allotments at a percentage (not less than 90 percent nor more than 100 percent) of each year's planted acreage. The percentage factor would be determined by dividing the acreage calculated by the Secretary as needed to supply domestic and export markets by his estimated U. S. acreage for harvest.

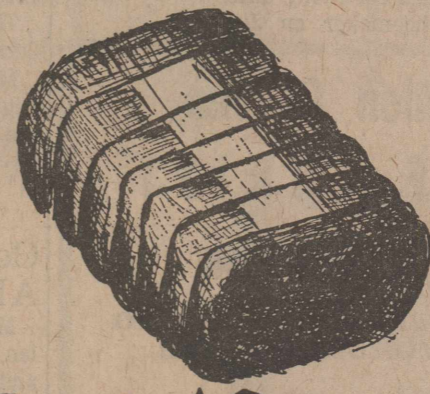

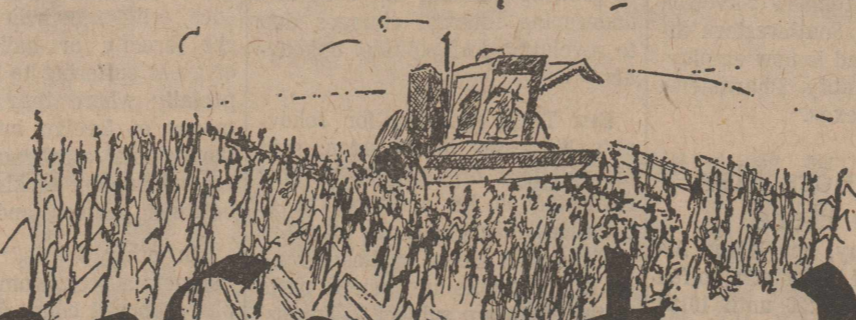

The House Ag Committee measure as it will be offered by Committee Chairman Tom Foley of Washington proposes no change in the current system which sets cotton allotments on historical plantings. But the House Cotton Subcommittee, chaired by David Bowen of Mississippi, has held hearings and reported a bill to base cotton allotments on current year plantings as does the Senate bill, but without the 90 percent minimum "factor".

The Bowen bill will be offered as a committee amendment by Chairman Foley.

"It now appears that the cotton section of the House bill, which is essentially what has been

Family Monopolizes Silverton Valedictory

When Susan Grabbe was named valedictorian for this year's Silverton High School graduating class, she became the sixth child of Mr. and Mrs. Warner Grabbe of Silverton to earn that honor.

The first Grabbe child to be picked for the top honor was graduated from SHS in 1956. Ina Lou, now Mrs. Edward Lain of Silverton, is a 1960 graduate of Ambassador College in Pasadena, California, and now assists her husband in the piano tuning business.

Carson Grabbe, who finished SHS with top honors in 1958, is currently a programmer in the data processing department at Pasadena's Ambassador College.

Susan's brother, Lester, the 1964 valedictorian for SHS, is an assistant professor at Ambassador College in Brickwood, England, where he teaches classical literature, Hebrew and Greek. He received his Ph.D from the University of California at Claremont in 1975.

Orlin, who led the class of 1966 at SHS, was graduated from Ambassador College and the University of California at Berkeley. He is presently doing graduate work at Harvard.

In 1969, Crockett became the fifth member of the family to be named valedictorian at SHS. He was graduated from the University of Texas in 1973 with a master's in physics and is completing his Ph.D in physics at the California Institute of Technology.

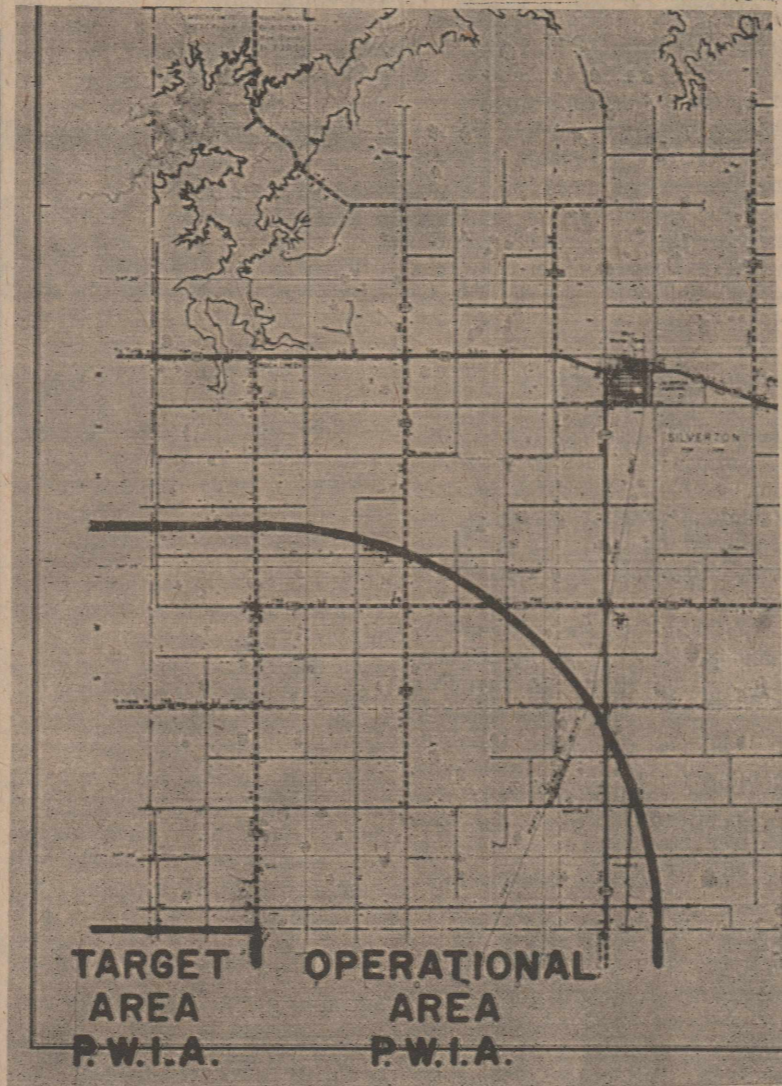

For the past 32 years, Mr. and Mrs. Grabbe have had a child in the Silverton school system and the couple is not through yet.

Ronda, 16, is a junior at SHS, an honor roll student and a candidate to follow in the footsteps of her brothers and sisters.

proposed by a unified cotton industry, including the Bowen allotment proposal," says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, "may have fairly smooth sailing."

Feed grain and wheat price support levels however are expected to be controversial, and a final House vote may not come until July 19 or later.

Cloud Seeding Reportedly Taking Place Outside The Operational Zone

There have been reports of cloud seeding being done in areas outside of the "operational zone" in Briscoe County. The operational zone is defined as eight miles outside of the target area. None of Briscoe County is included in the target area.

If you are not sure whether you are in the operational zone you can determine this by using the following method. On a general highway map of Briscoe County, find the southwest corner of Briscoe County; measure eight miles north along the Briscoe-Swisher County line to determine the northwest point. Then find Highway 378 at the Briscoe-Floyd County line and measure eight miles east along the county line to determine the eastern point. From the northwest point, measure a straight line east to Highway 378 and then circle to east point on the Briscoe-Floyd County line. This gives the operational zone in Briscoe County. A large part of election precinct 3 and a small part of election precinct 1 are included in the operational zone.

If you observe these planes over you or can give a location and exact time you see them, and can testify to their cloud seeding out of the operational area, call 847-2524 or 823-2028 and give this information.

If a plane is seeding at night you will see an orange or red spray of material out each wing tip. In the daylight you will see a spray of what seems to be ice or white material.

The bill passed by the Legislature and identified as Senate Bill 632 gives the planes permission to observe clouds outside the operational area but not to seed these clouds.

Don Thomas and children, Jeff and Amy, of Wichita, Kansas visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Thomas, and brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Woods and daughters, during the fourth of July holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Berton Hughes attended a reunion of the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Renfro in the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hall in Memphis. A picnic was held in honor of their brother, Gayle Renfro.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Renfro, Mrs. Billie L. Overmyer and Gayle Renfro, all of Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Berton Hughes and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hall. All the children were there except one son, R. L. Renfro of Fort Worth. Special guests and cousins of the group were Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Hall of Lakeview.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Tiffin and her parents and grandparents spent last week vacationing in the mountains of New Mexico.

About Beef's Share Of The Dollar

"Cattlemen would have received $53 more per head for each animal slaughtered in recent months, had we maintained our traditional share of consumer net disposable income," says O. J. Barron, a Spur, Texas, rancher who serves as national chairman of the Beef Development Taskforce (BDT).

"Consumers spent only 2.20% of net income for beef during the first quarter of 1977—lowest in 29 years," he says, upon analyzing figures just released by the USDA. "This is cause for alarm!"

The 29-year average is 2.52% spent for beef. "When it dropped to 2.27% during the last quarter of 1976—a record low up until then—we thought it might be a quirk," Barron adds. "But the downward trend seems to be continuing."

A drop of 0.32% sounds rather small, he explains. But when applied to $311 billion of net disposable income during the first quarter, it boils down to a drop of $558 million at the farm level or $53 less for each animal slaughtered.

Several factors account for the percentage drop, according to Barron: food fads, the vegetarian movement, charges that beef is bad for your health, inflation and an over supply of beef.

"If we are going to regain our share of the consumer dollar—and hopefully increase it—we must have an aggressive program of research, consumer education, promotion and market development," says the BDT chairman. "That's what the Beef Research and Information Program is all about—a self-help program to increase markets and increase profits for cattlemen."

Producers will vote on this program, July 5-15, at their county ASCS office. "Over 300,000 producers registered in the U. S.," concludes Barron, "and we are urging every one of them to return and vote 'Yes'. It can stabilize our industry and make things a whole lot better."

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lenderman, Her sister Carrie, and her brother, Joe spent the fourth of July traveling in the Northern part of New Mexico.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mack Walker and other relatives here over the Fourth of July holiday were Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Walker of Plano; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Quittman of South Hampton, Pennsylvania; Mrs. Jimmy Walker and Sunny, Breckenridge, and Miss Cindy Walker of Amarillo.

Silverton Woman Quit Teaching For Politics

A pert 27 and single, she's hardly what one would expect of a retired teacher.

Roy Ann Bomar of Silverton taught elementary school in Hereford before deciding she didn't like it and became involved in Panhandle politics—a step that led her to Washington, D. C., and a job as a congressional aide at $15,750 a year.

Miss Bomar laughs easily as she refers to herself as a retired school teacher. She said she became involved in Rep. Jack Hightower's 1974 campaign that resulted in his election as the representative from the 13th Congressional District of Texas and has never gone back to teaching.

"I knew Lee McMurtry (Hightower's Amarillo representative) and I didn't like teaching, so I went to work initial as a secretary for Lee in the Amarillo office," Miss Bomar said.

A 1972 graduate of West Texas State University, Miss Bomar said she has had little difficulty in adjusting to life in the nation's capital.

"It's very nice," she said. "It's like any other city except that you meet so many people from other areas."

Living on Capitol Hill near the Cannon Congressional Office Building in which she works, Miss Bomar does not face the hours of commuting most residents of large cities are forced to live with.

"It's like a small town," she said of the Capitol Hill area. "The people are friendly and outgoing."

She points out that most live in apartments, like she does, or in charming old row houses that pre-date the turn of the century. She said there are no high rise apartments nor any of the stark modern architecture that is found in many densely populated areas.

The Capitol Hill area boasts one of the few farmer's markets in the metropolitan Washington area as well as being within walking distance of the Capitol Building. Thanks to careful landscaping, the areas around the Capitol are filled with the fragrance of blossoming trees and flowers throughout the spring and summer and well into fall.

Miss Bomar moved to Washington after a year as secretary for McMurtry in Amarillo. She said that while much of her work still consists of secretarial chores, she does some case work helping out constituents with problems with the federal government.

"It's very interesting," she said. "You learn a lot about people and government. You also learn a lot about federal agencies."

Miss Bomar said her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Bomar, who ranch near Silverton, worry about her being so far away from home like most parents, but are happy that she's enjoying herself.

"It's a lot more fun than teaching," she said.

Community Worship Planned Sunday

WOMEN NEEDED TO HELP AT COMMUNITY CENTER

Women are needed to help clean windows, walls, and floors at the new Senior Citizens Community Center beginning at 8:30 a.m. Friday, July 8.

Work on the building is nearing completion, with carpet and side-walks being installed this week.

Ask Bob Bullock

Dear Mr. Bullock:

I read somewhere that the Texas Legislature passed a law exempting from the sales tax goods sold at fund-raising events sponsored by churches and other non-profit organizations. Would you please explain the new law?

You are referring to Senate Bill 382 sponsored by my friend Senator Max Sherman of Amarillo. That bill, by the way, already has been signed into law and is now in effect.

It allows religious, educational, charitable and other non-profit, tax-exempt organizations to hold one tax-free sale or auction each calendar year.

Please note that such groups are allowed only one tax-free sale a year. If they hold more, they must collect the sales tax. The one tax-free sale may not exceed 24 hours.

I know that a lot of churches and charitable organizations depend heavily on sales to raise money and, hopefully, this law will make it easier on them by cutting through some of the red tape.

The group saw "Texas" Saturday night and enjoyed Sunday afternoon together before the Cliff Walkers and Quittmans left for Big Bend, Carlsbad and other points of interest in Texas.

ARE HUMAN RIGHTS IN JEOPARDY?

There is growing concern that human rights are threatened in a growing number of countries undergoing internal changes due to revolution and political upheavals.

Rex Tiffin speaking for Jehovah's Witnesses in Silverton, said his religious organization is now restricted in its activities in 47 countries throughout the world.

Tiffin said recent studies revealed many people in various parts of the earth are subject to harassment and persecution due to race, religion, national origin and political affiliation.

The New York Times, Sunday, March 13, 1977, reported the following: "The State Department, in reports made public today, has informed Congress that, with the exception of Western European nations and a few others, human rights are being violated in varying degrees by most of the 82 countries that receive security assistance. . . . The reports are expected to be criticized, both by countries concerned, and by human rights groups that may find some reports overly kind.

United Nations Position
Tiffin observed that in 1962 the General Assembly of the United Nations requested the Commission of Human Rights to prepare a declaration against religious intolerance. He said, "At the same time, it requested a declaration against racial discrimination."

Originally the Assembly requested a "Declaration on the Elimination of All Forms of Religious Intolerance." But the current title is different. It reads "Elimination of all Forms of Intolerance Based on Religion or Belief." Tiffin said, "some might interpret this to cast religion or belief in the role of the one causing intolerance that needs elimination." Religion Threatened?

moon at Plainview. Mr. Klein is stationed at Fort Hood and had to report for duty Tuesday morning. The couple will make their home at Fort Hood.

Tiffin referred to the preamble of the document where it states "the disregard and infringement of human rights and fundamental freedoms, in particular of the right to freedom of thought, conscience, religion or belief, have brought directly or indirectly, wars of great suffering to mankind, especially where they serve as a means of foreign interference in the internal affairs of other States and amount to kindling hatred between peoples and nations."

"In other words," Tiffin said, "numerous compromise paragraphs proposed come down hard on religion. It declares that 'freedom of religion and belief should not pursue any ideology or practice contrary to the goals of world peace, social justice, friendship between peoples and States.' He added that "if a country chose to declare that freedom of religion was being abused, causing a threat to world peace, it could call upon this paragraph to back up restrictions on that religious freedom."

Delicate Balance

In discussing the problem of balance on the subject, Tiffin said member nations in the U. N. are concerned about past and present abuses created by religious intolerance. He mentioned Northern Ireland-Catholics against Protestants; Middle East-Jews against Moslems; Cyprus-Greek Orthodox against Moslems; Philippines-Moslems against Catholics.

"In Ethiopia the Moslems of Eritrea are at war with Coptic Catholics," Tiffin observed. "In Lebanon, the people came through a tragic, religiously-inspired war between those professing Christianity and Islam. The record of that war speaks for itself. In contrast, the 1,800 Jehovah's Witnesses there have been completely neutral toward both the religious and political aspects of the conflict.

"Being neutral is too idealistic for some people," Mr. Tiffin concluded, "but it is the only course for us in today's divided world."

ELECTRICITY-IT DOES SO MUCH GOOD

An Added Touch of Beauty

Robert Louis Stevenson said:

"The world is so full of a number of things, I'm sure we should all be as happy as kings."

God's world is filled with loveliness, but we need to add our own touch of beauty, so that we might be builders of a better world with Him.

Each of us was given talents which would enable us to contribute to the world and mankind something great and lasting and beneficial. May each of us use these talents to the Glory of God.

Add a touch of beauty to your life this week by attending church.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
