Briscoe Election Attracts Interest In Other Counties

In heavy voting Briscoe County, precincts one and three turned out to condemn cloud seeding by a vote of 430 to three, a margin of 143 to one.

Citizens for Natural Weather in Bailey, Swisher and Lamb counties have already turned in petitions calling similar elections in those counties. Date set by commissioners' Courts for elections in Lamb, Swisher and Randall counties is August 20.

Castro, Parmer and Floyd county committees are continuing work to complete petitions which require signatures of at least 10% of the qualified voters in the areas affected by cloud seeding.

Lloyd Kurtz, threasurer for the district-wide Citizens for Natural Weather, said the first election at the Senior Citizens Community in Briscoe County has created "Even more fervent interest in the program to call elections on

Cosby referred to a quote by Frank Moore, president of Plains weather improvement association, seeding clouds out of Plainview, who said, following the Briscoe County elections, "If they don't want us, then we don't want to be there."

Cosby said he was glad Mr. Moore feels as he does, "because I'm confident that the great majority of the people in this area do not want him messing with our weather."

Castro county CFNA committees are expected to file their petitions sometime this week, aiming for elections in August.

Bailey County has already filed petitions and elections are expected to be set soon.

Ross Lumsden, of Littlefield feels his county will be overwhelmingly against cloud seeding. "We turned in over 1,250 names on our petitions and we only needed 900." Lumsden said, "and I think the voting will be just as spirited against cloud seeding."

Co-chairman for the district-wide effort of CFNA, Nolon Henson of Happy, said his group has planned an advertising campaign to "use newspaper, radio, television and every other method possible to encourage a massive public effort against cloud seeding."

Thirty-four 4-H record books, including those submitted by Thomas Perkins and James Jarrett, were named the best in their respective divisions in district level competition during record book udging in Lubbock last week.

The winning books now will be forwarded to Texas A&M University for state judging.

Perkins' record book was submitted for his Poultry Project, and Jarrett submitted his record ern portion of the county as soon book for judging in Rabbit Production.

In District 2 record book judging, South Plains 4-H youths place their records of achievement on water is made anywhere in the line. Records include project summaries, information detailing their activities, experiences and leadership development, a money will be a donation to the er passes directly to the source of narrative about their 4-H experience, photos and other pertinent information.

The books now will be forwarded to Texas A&M to compete at the state level against the best books from 13 other districts of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Senior 4-H members are competing for scholarship plaques, government bonds, a trip to a self-emptying feature. A bay the National 4-H Congress in November and other awards.

Also judged were junior record books. Blue, red and white ribbons were awarded for these entries.

The 4-H program in Texas is administered by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Record book competition is "the critical measurement" of achievements for members over the years, according to Billy C. Gunter and Catherine B. Crawford, district extension agents at Lubbock.

Records reveal their consistency in achieving goals, their experience in 4-H projects and activities, their experiences in leadership development, and their growth and development in personal, community and civic responsibilities.

Other senior 4-H'ers from Briscoe County did well also. They were Jo Jarrett, second in Citizenship; Rebecca Reid, third in Home Environment; Susan Payne, third in Horse; Earl Jarrett, third in Field Crops and James Alan Patton, third in Swine.

The junior 4-H'ers also did well. They were Melinda Sutton, blue ribbon in Foods and Nutrition; Kimberly Fitzgerald, red ribbon in Horse, and Walter Perkins,

The final talley in Friday's election was 430 against weather modification as compared with three votes for hail suppression.

In Precinct One, all 107 voters casting ballots were against the question. In Precinct Three, 311 voters were against weather modification and two voted for the issue. Absentee balloting was 12-1 against changing the weather.

County Clerk Bess McWilliams called the turnout a "very heavy election.'

"We've had a lot more interest in this than in a lot of others," she said. "Even in the presidential primary election, only 430 people voted in Precinct Three, but there were 313 people voting from there in this special election, and for a special election that's not bad."

Election results will be certified by the Briscoe County Commissioners at their next meeting and will then be forwarded to the Texas Water Development Board.

That agency must decide, after a series of similar elections across the South Plains, whether two regional hail suppression companies who've had to fight just to maintain their existence for the past seven years will be allowed to continue their efforts anywhere on the South Plains.

County voters' decision to end modification operations in the two southern precincts will be legally binding unless a future election favors the project.

Frank Moore of Plainview, president of Plains Weather Improvement Association, seemed almost unconcerned when told of the election's outcome late Friday.

He was quoted in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal as saying 'Frankly, I don't care if they vote every day in Silverton. They' re not in our target area, and we don't have to fly up there to affect the weather in our target area all that much. They can vote all they want to, and really we just don't care."

Asked if his company was concerned about upcoming elections in other counties, Moore reportedly replied, "If they don't want us, then we don't want to be there. We don't affect the weather there so we're not concerned about them voting every day th ere. That's their business, not ours. Portions of Swisher, Castro, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Lubbock and Hockley counties will still be included within PWIA target or op-! erational areas.

Soon, county commissioners in eight other South Plains counties will set dates for similar elections. Tenative dates call for most of those elections to be conducted in mid-August.

Results of Friday's election in Briscoe County will take effect immediately, rather than after PWIA's current permit expires October 31, because the precincts are within operational areas, not target areas.

Mass Mail-In Protest Set

Panhandle wheat farmers, angered over bankrupt prices and what they term "inadequate and totally ineffective" four-year farm legislation which will come out of Congress the first of August, are forming a mass mail-in protest set for August 8. The protest group is also urging similar action statewide and nationally by all farmers of all commodities.

They are being coordinated by the leadership of the Gray-Roberts Farmers Union and will fill individual boxes with wheat, accompanied by a protest letter for mailing on the same day to President Carter, Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland, and key members of Congress.

"Farmers are being forced out of business by the thousands because we have produced too much, and the government told us to produce it from fence row to fence row!" commented Fred Vanderburg of Pampa, chairman of the area protest. "So we're shipping a ton of this cheap stuff to them. are mad.'

Prices for wheat have dropped the price being received two years ago, due to surpluses before harvest of around a billion bushels, with predictions for the end of this market year calling for a two billion bushel carryover. US-DA estimates the cost to produce a bushel of wheat between three and four dollars a bushel.

The Panhandle farmers have been collecting their boxes of wheat in a barn near Pampa and plan to place them all in the mail on August 8, possibly driving a convoy of tractors into town for delivery to the post office.

The Pampa protestors also announced today that they are urgmg every farmer both statewide and nationally to join in their cause by mailing one or several boxes of the commodity that they produce to Washington on the

"If they received thousands of boxes of wheat and milo, cotton and corn, they might realize what they are doing to farmers," said Sheridan Harnly, president of Gray-Roberts Farmers Union and a farmer's wife. "There is absolutely nothing we can do in a market influenced by a government that is trying to fight inflation at the expense of the farmer. Well, inflation is real on the farm too, and it's killing us! This effort of protest is only a beginning. We'll take what steps are necessary to make the public aware that we cannot continue to feed people if we can't make decent living."

Lynn Frizzell, another volunteer fireman, attended the school under the sponsorship of the City of Silverton.

Firemen can choose their course at the school from a list including Firefighting, Fire Prevention, Fire Department Officer Training, Fire Department Pump Maintenance, Specialized Fire Protection, and Disaster Rescue Training.

Fireman Kingery was sponsored by Briscoe County Farm Bureau and Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies by contributing toward the cost of the school. Since volunteer firemen are interested in attending this school to help do a better job of fire fighting and fire prevention, 100 County Farm Bureaus and the Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies in the statewide program have sponsored 100 firemen at the school.

"The Farm Bureau Insurance Companies believe volunteer fire departments have been very effective in reducing the amount of loss involved by fire in rural areas," said President Carrol G. Chaloupka of Dalhart. "It is our hope in sponsoring this program that the fireman will help the Silverton Volunteer Department to better serve the residents of Briscoe County."

Learn to read your electric meter. It will let you determine how many kilowatt hours you use in a given period of time . . . an hour, a day, a month or a year. That's how electricity is measured — by kilowatt hours used.

Your residential electric meter will have either 5 or 4 dials while you're buying?

Electric meters are easily read from right to left as you look at the meter. If the pointer on a dial is between two numbers, write down the smaller number. When the pointer is directly on a number such as one (1) (see center dial above) then read it as 1 if the pointer on the next dial immediately to the right has passed zero (0). However, read it as zero (0) if the pointer on that dial to the right has not reached zero.

The dials above read (from left to right): 9-3-1-1-5. If, however, the pointer on the second dial from the right above was between 9 and zero then the center dial would read as a zero.

Now let's read the same meter 24 hours later

This later reading is 9-3-1-3-8. Subtracting the first reading, 93115, from the new reading of 93138 — the answer is 23. Thus you would have used 23 kilowatt hours in the 24 hour period.

Now you can become a METER MAID and watch your meter like a miser if you choose. WE HAVE A BOOKLET CALLED "MANAGING YOUR ELECTRIC BILL" plus other WISE USE TIPS booklets that help keep you from wasting electricity and so help lower your cost. Any of these booklets are free for the asking at your Public Service office . . . come by and see us.

CARD OF THANKS

Many thanks to everyone who came to help put out the grass fire. A special thanks to both the Silverton and Quitaque fire departments. Don Burson

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Debbie Gilmore would like to thank everyone who brought food, ice, coffee pot, paper plates, paper cups and the ladies who cleaned house and furnished transportation on Monday, July 18. We would also like to thank the ones who called or sent

The reason thank-you cards haven't been mailed to each individual is because I, Viola, let the list of names get lost while moving and we haven't received a copy form the girls' parents in Colorado.

Thank you one and all. Viola Wadlow and family Odelia Stidham and Lance

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank everyone for the memorials, flowers, cards, food, telephone calls and every expression of your sympathy at the deaths of T. V.'s mother and sister a week apart. Your friendship is appreciated more than you will ever know.
