

A TRIP TO THE COUNTRY

By W. H. FREE.

Friday just afternoon the door of our sanctum opened and the smiling face of our county agent W. P. Trice shone in and with that welcome gesture which needeth not the power of words to convey its meaning said, "Come hither." Of course we obeyed and before we knew we were enroute out of Haskell going north by way of the Benjamin road to the country in that rattling good coupe that knows no bounds on the country highways.

We made our first stop at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Davis of the Dennis Chapel community. They are living happily on a home of their own with prosperous circumstances abounding. Mr. Davis just liked a few rows of feed being through plowing until it rains. He has a fair crop but a rain would be appreciated. The thing we had in view was to see the flock of Ruff Orpingtons that Mrs. Davis is breeding. She requested some time ago that Mr. Trice come out and help her select some specimens of her flock by which she might be able to raise the standard.

She began the season with about 65 laying hens and she has hatched more than 600 baby chicks and after selling off quite a number of friers she still has on her yards 450 youngsters that she looks good to the writer. She expects to select a large number of her best hens and mate them to some of the best males she can purchase from reliable breeders and bring her flock up to her expectations. She already has some real birds but of course her ambition is to reach the top. She likes the Orpingtons because they are a large breed and excellent layers. She has kept books on her poultry business and her flock has paid her $2400 per month up to the present date this year besides her large stock of young birds on the yard. We enjoyed our visit with Mr. and Mrs. Davis. We hope to have a number of show birds from this yard in the county fair this fall.

We drove from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Davis to O'Brien and had a short talk with Dr. R. L. Gray who is breeding some of the best Rhode Island Reds in the country and he says he has the best birds this year he has ever grown and expects to put a strong line in the show this year. Dr. Grey will be competition in the Red line for some one.

We made a stop at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Carney who were among the first settlers of Haskell county. They once lived in the city of Haskell and were engaged in business here. In the old files of the Free Press way back yonder we read the ads of Mr. Carney when he was selling goods here. He moved to the present site of his magnificent home a number of years ago and when the Orient Railroad was built they named the station which is now called O'Brien "Carney" but because there was no station along the route named for the builder of the road, Carney was changed to O'Brien in honor of Pat O'Brien the president of the road.

The Carney home is the best home in all that section and one of the best in the county. There are more vines, trees and shrubbery around this home than any home in West Texas. A beautiful artificial lake with a house in the center and a plank walk to it is one thing of attraction for this home. A beautiful row of Umbrella Chinias with their inviting shade and waving branches bounds these delightful grounds on the south. Grape vines with their luscious fruits are spread over a large area of the back yard and many dollars were realized from the sale of this fruit to those who are less fortunate and unable to grow them.

Flowers of nameless masses add to the lustre of beauty of the front yard where in are two large concrete tanks in which gold fish are bred and sold to people all over the west. In the lake above mentioned are game fish of large size and its no trouble to keep fish for the needs of the family from this lake. Much time is given to the keeping of this mansion by Mr. and Mrs. Carney and it is always a pleasure to the writer to visit this home and go through its rooms and see the new and beautiful fixtures that are constantly being installed. I believe this home has now about 41 electric light drops and some of the most expensive lights possible to obtain. Mr. Carney has a number of hives of bees and sells honey from his apiary. He has resources from many ways coming into his coffers and is not a one crop farmer.

He has 1,000 acres planted to cotton this year and most of it is very early and has grown bolls in large numbers already growing on the stalks. Although the weather is very dry at this time his crop was not suffering for want of moisture. He has plenty of feed and most of it is already matured and ready to harvest. He also has 10 or 12 rent houses in O'Brien and other towns which brings in a nice income. Mr. and Mrs. Carney have worked untriflingly for their success in life and are now fully enjoying the fruits of their labor. Space forbids going farther with this story but the half has not been told. Visit the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carney at your convenience and see the wonders that this home and grounds contains and you will be lost in the bewilderment of your vision and wonder if it's really true that the semi-desert of West Texas can be transformed into an oasis.

We came back by the way of Rochester and reached home about 6 p. m. with the memories of many happy experiences. Mr. Trice is usually in such a hurry that we do not have time to see all the folks. He is so much interested in the crops, the fair terraces, bees, bugs, grasshoppers and about forty other things we know nothing about and when he gets to talking bugology to us we close up like a clam and wait until he runs down. He is on the job and knows his business but he is always in such a hurry. Thanks to Mr. Trice for the outing.

Room for One More

"I never go to church," said the aggressive millionaire to the quiet little priest as they sat on the deck of the mail steamer. "Would you like to know why?"

"It might be interesting," answered Father Tom.

"Well, I'll tell you why. There are so many hypocrites there."

"Oh, you needn't let that keep you away," said Father Tom, with a smile. "There is always room for one more."

The suspicion is gaining ground that the landlords are back of the movement to add another month to the calendar.

Father of Twenty-one Children Hears of New Protection Plan

For more than forty-six years James N. DeWitt has devoted his life to making good at his job and to being the proud father of one of the largest families south of the Mason-Dixon line.

There have been twenty-one little DeWitts and eighteen of them are still living, the oldest a son of forty-six and the youngest a toddler of just two.

DeWitt is a carpenter employed in the Louisville, Ky., coach yards of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, and his general foreman, John Marrella, who is shown in the above photograph with him, will tell you that no more competent artisan is carried on the roster. But the elderly worker is, above all, a family man, and it is with no little pride that he dis-

Dogs Are Disease Carriers
Houses where the heart is opened to the dog, may have the doors opened to many diseases, was the warning issued by Dr. Joannides of Minneapolis, Minn., at the recent meeting of the American Medical Association.

He stated that dogs may carry germs of tuberculosis, diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, smallpox and rabies.

They are particularly the only many host of the tape worm, and sides fleas, they often have ticks and lice.

Dr. Joannides advises those who go to make the dog a member of the family, with all the privileges of the house, to keep the animal clean and not allow him to come into contact with infected materials.

Ignorant of One Thing
Two friends were having an interesting meeting of their own. Both suffered domestic strife and now were comparing notes.

"Aren't women the limit?" growled the first. "We husbands don't have anything at all and our wives know everything."

"Well," said his companion in misanthropy, "there's one thing my wife admits she doesn't know."

"What on earth is that?"

"Why she married me."

Soon Felt Improvement

"The first time I took Cardui I was in an awful bad way," says Mrs. Ora Carlisle, R. F. D. 6, Troup, Texas. "I went fishing one day. A heavy storm came up and I got soaking wet in the rain. I was afflicted with awful smothering spells. I could not get my breath. My mother had some in the house that she was taking, so she immediately began giving it to me. In a few days I got all right. "Last fall I got run-down in health. I was weak and puny and I began to suffer. I would get so I could hardly walk. Having taken Cardui before, I went to the store for a bottle of it. Almost from the first dose I could feel an improvement.

"Cardui has helped me a lot and I am glad to recommend it. I don't feel like the same woman I was but I am. It is so simple to get and I'm sure it's Cardui that's made it put up."

TO BE OR NOT TO BE

Shall Haskell County stand still in road development and help build good roads with her taxes for others?

The District Chairman and General Chairmen looking after the Road Bond issue election details, set for August 15th, have been in conference several times of late and everything points to a successful outcome.

In a few days the work will be taken up with a program in hand that the committees hope to carry out in such manner as to reach every section of the county.

Plans for issuing a bulletin that can answer all questions possible to ask, as well as tell of the details many might like to know about, and in fact, help bring before the tax payers who will vote upon this bond issue every detail that might suggest to him or her that more should be known before the ballot is cast.

We all realize the matter of voting bonds for better roads is not so much a personal matter, now, as it was thought to have been in the past, it appears to us as well, to be a community matter. County, State and National, because it serves the neighbor as well as ourselves and links up state and nation in a manner that suggests setting aside any selfish attitude that might arise and thinking in bigger and broader terms because we are no longer just "so big" but how big?

If interested in the movement, pro or con, for or against, it will be an easy matter to get in touch with some one at each trade center in the county, a neighbor or community chairman who will be glad to discuss such details as might be vital to you.

There are many vital points to be considered, each in turn being of value to you because your ballot is going to speak for you and you and I want to cast an intelligent ballot, at best, whether we do so to please our neighbor or not. This is not a personal matter, not so you and I can stand in the way of developments our community needs, but a matter that demands our best thought, careful investigation and honest consideration from every angle.

If you want the information that will place the facts before you, should you be in doubt on any point, do not hesitate to ask some one you feel sure has the facts. This is your county, your home community, and you want to lend a hand in developments because they mean much to you and yours and you as a parent and property owner do not care to leave a record behind for those that will follow you in caring for the Old Homestead that might be pointed to with the reference "If Dad had only thought twice and consulted those who knew more about it, such and such would have been different for us."

Listen, daddy, "If the doctor could have reached our child, my wife, my mother, sooner, and not gotten stuck in the mud, it would be different today." "If, and you as a fair-minded citizen of Haskell County will hear that IF for years to come and it won't be like music from the radio either Neighbor, but a ringing that will not come to any harmony.

Go into this election with a mind free from any malice or forethought. Learn facts and details and weigh your action. You are settling a matter that means much to you and yours. Don't be led by one who might have selfish reasons or desires his purposes. Hear more than one, talk to many, and get first hand information. You owe it to yourself, in addition to your community duty.

Watch the press, read any mail sent you, from any source, and try to attend the meetings that are planned over the county and take an interest in the whole movement, no matter as to what side you are on or how you cast your ballot.

The date, remember, is August 15th, Saturday.

COOPERATION

Co-operation is the working together of all for the good of each. Co-operation in Haskell is the working together of every individual for the benefit of Haskell.

Every merchant, every professional man, every employer and employee and every man, woman and child in Haskell is or ought to be interested in their city and get behind and push every project for the betterment of this community.

We do not all think along the same lines and there may be things started that we personally do not approve, but others believe and we should all be broad enough to know that we are not always right, but others may know a little better.

I cannot spare the time: This is a book answer of a great many merchants when approached on the question of a booster trip or to attend a conference looking to the development of a better and greater city. What would happen if this merchant was called away a day or two on urgent business, he would go and his business would not suffer while he is away, as every business man has an assistant who is competent to take care of the business for a few days. Again suppose that this business man should lose a few dollars by being away, giving a few hours time of even two days, how much more would he make by helping his city to be better, by promoting more business in the future, by helping to increase the population and thereby increasing home trade and property values.

Your business will grow and prosper in proportion to the improvements in your locality your property values improve as your city develops, your enjoyment and better living conditions enlarge as your city grows and improvements extend.

Every hour you give to advertising your city, to improve living conditions, to promote civic enterprise means better business, better homes and better moral conditions.

Your city needs you, your neighbor needs you, your county needs you and you individually are responsible for the growth and proper development of your community. This means every merchant and resident in Haskell.

We now have a good roads election to put over and next the great Haskell County Fair, make sure that when these have passed you can say I have done my share.

ADOPT AS YOUR SLOGAN, GROWTH, PROSPERITY AND HAPPINESS MY TIME IS YOURS C. T. SCOTT

BACK THE HOME TEAM BOYS

There are a lot of us who cant close up shop and take an extended vacation this summer, or any other summer for that matter, but there are a great many other things we can do to pass the time away at home and come out in the fall looking pretty well after all. One of these things to go to make life worth living is the great American game of baseball. Haskell has a splendid team, composed of home boys who are playing mostly for the love of the game.

The writer dropped out to the park the other day and was given the surprise of his young life. Our boys were playing a bunch of old stagers from Stamford many of them old and experienced ball players. Boys we beat them 12 to 5. Frank Clift our own home boy, seventeen years old struck out about eight or ten of them. The other boys did as well in their various places. Good clean game, full of snap and thrillers from the start. Yet only a hand full of people were there. The grand stand ought to have been full. The teams deserve better patronage than it is getting. One of our county officers who lives in a smaller town in Haskell county, was present and expressed great surprise that we were not backing our team. He said, "We back our boys and go out to the games." That's what we ought to do while we are resting at home this summer.

THANKS TO COUNTY AGENT W. P. TRICE

The Free Press is grateful to County Agent W. P. Trice for a nice sample of honey left in the office Monday. Mr. Trice has been experimenting with bees and finds beyond a doubt that they are profitable in the production of honey in Haskell county. After sampling the honey produced by the bees of Mr. Trice in this experiment we are frank to say that we never tasted honey with a better flavor than the Haskell county product. Mr. Trice has made bees a study and he as our county agent will help any who need his advice and assistance along this line. Let's raise more of the things we consume in Haskell county. Ask yourself the question, Why not?

HASKELL FAMILY MAKE TOUR OF ROCKIES

Uncle Tom Lemons with his wife and son T. J. Jr. returned last Saturday from an extended tour of the great divide of the Rockies. Uncle Tom says this was the best trip in all his life besides the other things he enjoyed he met his brother, J. H. Lemmons, whom he had not seen for 35 years. And he states that his brother is four years older than himself but that he looks much younger. He is an old prospector of Eagle Colorado and has lived many years in that beautiful climate. In telling of the trip Uncle Tom brought through with his story, bringing out many things of interest, because he could not recall them off the bat. But we will give a few of the most interesting things he mentioned.

The party drove from Haskell to Pueblo, Colo., then 250 miles up the Arkansas River and crossed the Tennessee pass and then back to Eagle where they visited the brother-in-law, Tom. They made a tour of the New York Mountains near Eagle. In ascending the steep side of this mountain they found the snow at 12,000 feet could make a man as fat as they could make a thin one on the summit. While up there Uncle Tom says that he ate snow from a drift that has been there summer and winter for thirty-five years and of course for years and years before. From Eagle they went to various towns and sites on the great divide and many pleasant and queer things were encountered. They visited Pike's peak, the wind cave and other noted things while there. Uncle Tom says the dripping water in Wind Cave turns to stone and that all kinds of figures have been formed in this cave through the process of time. He saw people from every country of the globe and cars were there from every state in the union and Canada. He says while in the vicinity of the New York Mountains that they made a fire each morning and slept under four con-

HOGG MEETING IN PROGRESS AT MUNDAY THIS WEEK

The Will Hogg meeting in Munday continues to draw large crowds. The big new community auditorium is the pride of the entire community. It is the result of prayers and gifts of the people of Munday and surrounding country. Rev. S. J. T. Williams opened the Hogg campaign last Sunday morning at 11 a. m. Jeff Wall and his family arrived in time for the evening service. Evangelist Will Hogg came Monday morning and preached at 9:30 a. m. All the stores of the town including the Drug Stores and Restaurants close promptly at the sounding of the fire whistle. The big auditorium has seating capacity for almost the whole population of Munday. Rev. S. J. T. Williams has promised to fill the auditorium to overflowing next Friday night. Mr. Williams said Monday night "I am expecting the Flying Squadron and not less than 200 people from Haskell on Friday night." Haskell's newly organized Squadron is proud to go on their first visit to the meeting in Munday. The Hogg community will be special guests at the meeting Friday night also. Jeff Wall has a choir of 100 voices that challenge the whole country for singing. Cars can be seen wearing this sign "Ride this car to the Hogg meeting Munday, Texas." Special cars are run from town to the Auditorium each morning at 9:30. Munday people send an invitation to all the surrounding communities to come to the meeting.

HASKELL BARBER AND PARTY RETURN FROM VACATION

Otta Johnson and wife, Ira Johnson and Miss Mammie Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Mack Perdue returned Friday morning from a vacation trip to the mountains of New Mexico. They went by the way of Littlefield, Texas, where they spent the first night and from there they went on into New Mexico, going from place to place and spending about 20 days seeing the sights of the great mountain section of the state where the cool climate and pure air is sought by those who are used to sweltering in the burning sands of Texas.

They visited the old city of Santa Fe and the museum of that city where there are piled high hundreds of antique things which are not seen elsewhere. They also visited the old cathedral which was erected in 1591. Despite its age, according to Mr. Johnson, it is in a wonderful state of repair. They also visited Las Vegas where the Montezuma College is located on the summit of a mountain. It is the oldest college in New Mexico. They spent a while at the Elephant Butte dam which is among the largest irrigation plants in the world and part of three states get water from this dam for irrigation. They spent a few days at Reodos Springs which seems to be a great resort for rheumatism. It is said to be more than 7,000 feet above sea level and borders on the great fruit belt of New Mexico.

D. 1925, which is as follows:

On this, the 3rd day of July, A. D. 1925, the Commissioners' Court of Haskell County, Texas, convened in Special Session, at the regular meeting place thereof in the Court house at Haskell, Texas, all members of the Court, to-wit:

DODGE BROTHERS COMMERCIAL CAR

So trim and businesslike in appearance that frequently it pays a substantial part of its own way in advertising value alone.

J. F. KENNEDY Haskell, Texas

How this One-Profit Coach is built by Studebaker on the sturdy STANDARD SIX CHASSIS

SUPERFICIALLY other coaches may resemble this Studebaker Standard Six, but the resemblance will not stand analysis.

Only two cars are made on a one-profit basis—Ford in the lowest price field and Studebaker in the fine car field. Only in these two cases are all bodies, engines, clutches, gear-sets, springs, differentials, steering gear and axles designed, engineered and manufactured by one company.

Contrast this with the average car, where the extra profits of many outside parts and body makers must be included in the purchase price.

These profits are part of the production cost of the car—the same as the steel and wood of the body. They do not buy materials nor workmanship—they do not make any car one whit better.

Studebaker has achieved one-profit manufacture through years of far-sighted management and through sacrifice on the part of stockholders. Earnings which might have been distributed have been retained in the business to build one of the largest gray iron foundries in the world, to erect stamping mills, forges, etc., to purchase the finest labor-saving machinery, to construct enormous body-building plants.

As a result, resources totaling one hundred million dollars are concentrated upon the production of one-profit automobiles such as this Standard Six Coach.

What does it mean to you? To you, as an automobile buyer, this means:

1. A Lower Price.

2. A Better Car.

A LOWER PRICE, because Studebaker does not need to pile its profit upon the profits of outside parts manufacturers and body builders.

A BETTER CAR, because it is a thoroughly coordinated, harmonious unit. Every part designed, engineered and manufactured under one management, to work more efficiently with every other part.

A better car because Studebaker can afford to use finer upholstery, better steel, higher grades of lumber, more painstaking workmanship in hundreds of unseen places.

Scores of thousands of miles of excess transportation are built into every Studebaker. When the car which looked like an equal value while it was new, is breaking up, the Studebaker is breaking in.

That is why in Arizona—out where desert heat and rugged mountain trails test automobiles to the utmost—Studebaker sells double its normal proportion of cars. Every county in Arizona which has bought an automobile for its sheriff has bought a Studebaker.

This coach is not a one year car. As a splendid example of the facts stated above, we offer the Standard Six Coach. To appreciate this car you must see it and ride in it. We urge you to do so immediately. It is called a coach, but is in reality a roomy five-passenger coupe.

It is a car that will give you faithful economical service. It is built to yield dependable, comfortable transportation for years and years.

Buy now—no more "yearly models" This is the time of the year when men have hesitated to purchase an automobile, fearing that the car they bought in July would be made obsolete artificially by the announcement of new yearly models in August or September. Studebaker has discontinued the custom of presenting yearly models. Instead, Studebakers will be kept up to the minute in body styles and chassis design regardless of the calendar.

Come in NOW—and see this sturdy, dependable, one-profit Coach.
