

All Around the Town

by Mary Ann Sarchet

Several newsworthy items have failed to be included in the Briscoe County News. Even though these things have become "old" news, they are still worthy of mention, and we're sorry that we overlooked them when they were "new" news.

Sheriff's Deputy Don Fugett finished a course of training for peace officers at Wayland Baptist College recently as the highest-ranking student in the class. He posted a grade average of 99.

Randy Clay was recently elected a cheerleader at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview. He is in Los Angeles this week, cheering for the Hutcherson Flying Queens in their game in the finals of the national tournament.

Darrell Reynolds was recently named Most Valuable Player in the intramural basketball tournament at Wayland Baptist College.

Services Today For Mrs.

Florence Fogerson

Funeral services for Mrs. Florence Money Fogerson, 84, will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. today (Thursday, March 23) at the Silverton Church of Christ, of which she was a member. Officiating will be Ted Kingery, minister of the Silverton Church of Christ, and Earl Cantwell, minister of the Rock Creek Church of Christ.

Pallbearers will be Don Burson, H. M. Vaughn, Don Cornett, Onar Cornett, J. L. Self and Glen Lindsey. Burial will be in the Silverton Cemetery, with arrangements under the direction of the Moore-Rose Silverton Funeral Home.

Mrs. Fogerson died Tuesday at 8:15 a.m. at the Care Center in Tulsa, where she had resided for the past two years since suffering a stroke.

Prior to entering the nursing home, she had resided in Silverton for 64 years on the same corner where she came to live as a bride. The house was badly damaged in the 1957 tornado, but it was rebuilt on the same location. She continued to live at this location with her children, Ware and Sylvia Fogerson.

Mrs. Fogerson and her son operated Fogerson Grain Company for several years. Later they had a feed store and cream station on the south side of the square.

She was preceded in death by a grandson, Victor Fogerson, in 1953.

Survivors include her son, Ware, of Silverton; two grandchildren, Stanley Ware Fogerson of Silverton and Mrs. Jack (Diane) Mayfield of Gassville, Arkansas; and three great-grandchildren, Kristy and Penni Fogerson of Silverton and Elana Mayfield of Gassville, Arkansas.

MAUNDY THURSDAY

Amy Lynne and Matthew Hughes from Mineral Wells spent last week in the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Berton Hughes. They all spent the night in the home of Mrs. Hughes' brother, Gayle Renfro, and sister, Billie Overmyer, returning to Mineral Wells and Silverton on Saturday.

'78 Farm Program Sign-Up Lagging

To be able to participate in the 1978 farm program you must file an intention to participate by not later than May 1, 1978. The sign-up started March 1, and very few have filed to date.

Most of the slowness to sign up was probably because Normal Crop Acres (NCA) had not been established. By the time you read this, your NCA notices will be in the mail, and all producers who wish to participate this year need to come on in and file an intention.

Those in the county office are ready and waiting for you to appear, and urge you to do so at the earliest possible time.

Relay Teams Place In Track Meets

Both the Owlette 440 and 880 relay teams placed fourth in the track meet at Spur last Friday. Members of both these teams are Debbie Storie, Susan Payne, Linda Vaughn and Teressa Crosslin.

The mile relay team placed third. This team is composed of Debbie Storie, Susan Payne, Linda Vaughn and Twila Wood.

The Owlettes scored a total of 28 points in the meet.

Mark Brown scored one-half point for the Owls in their meet at Floydada last Friday by tying for sixth place in the long jump. This was the only score by the Owl team.

COMMUNITY EASTER CELEBRATION PLANNED

The churches of Silverton are planning an Easter celebration for the entire community. Sunrise services will begin Sunday at 6:30 a.m. at the Cactus Cove area of Lake Mackenzie.

All residents of the Silverton area are urged to share in this time of worship.

NEW BOOKLET IS AVAILABLE FROM SCS

The Soil Conservation Service has published a new booklet entitled "Short Duration Grazing" that should be of interest to livestock producers in Briscoe County.

It tells how more than 400 stockmen in Texas are improving their rangeland and increasing livestock production with short duration grazing.

Short duration grazing is a system of grassland management whereby a pasture is stocked heavier than normal for a short period of time, then given a long rest to allow the better plants to gain vigor, produce seed, and thicken the stand.

For a free copy, contact the Soil Conservation Service office in Silverton.

A pre-Easter dinner was held in the P.C.A. community room for the Assembly of God Church. Those enjoying the dinner were Brother and Sister Lemy Pike, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Booth, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Lambright, Rodney, Kevin and Kyle, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Hill. Sylvia Hill took food from the dinner and ate with Mrs. Jennie Fisher.

These decorated eggs are part of the collection of 1300 decorated by Mrs. E. W. (Pinky) Godfrey, jr. of Houston. Her collection of Easter eggs will be shown in her hometown, Memphis, Texas, Saturday and Sunday, April 1-2, in the town's community center. The show is being sponsored by the Atalantean Club of Memphis.

GOSPEL MEETING CONTINUES TO MARCH 24

A gospel meeting began at the Silverton Church of Christ Sunday and will continue through March 24. Guest speaker is Bobby Key of Miami, Oklahoma.

Services are being held at 7:30 p.m. each weekday, with the Friday night service having been designated as Youth Night. Refreshments and fellowship will be enjoyed after the service.

This morning (Thursday) at 7:00 o'clock a men's breakfast will be served.

Ted Kingery, minister of the local church, has issued a cordial invitation to residents to attend any or all of these special meetings.

APRIL 7 IS CIRCUS

DAY IN TULSA

Wendall Patterson, president of Tulsa Lions Club, today warned area residents "don't be alarmed if you see a herd of elephants on April 7, 1978."

"It'll be circus day in Tulsa," he explained. "We're bringing the Carson & Barnes Five Ring Wild Animal Circus here on behalf of our local and area service projects."

"We decided to sponsor the circus because we feel there are thousands of children, and young-hearted adults, who will welcome an opportunity to see America's greatest wild animal circus. Remember, the circus is the only form of entertainment that has never been censored. It is good, wholesome family fun," he added.

"Also, we want to stress the fact that the Lions Club receives a higher percentage of all tickets sold by us in advance of circus day, so we will certainly appreciate the public's assistance in our circus project, by their purchasing tickets for their families early from one of our members."

District 5-B All-Stars Shine In Classic

The three players from District 5-B who were selected to take part in the East-West High School All-Star Basketball game preceding the finals of the Tenth Annual National Women's Invitational Tournament in the Amarillo Civic Center Saturday night showed the competitiveness of play in this district.

The District 5-B participants were Karen Schulte of Nazareth, who led the scoring on the West team with 20 points, Sherice Price of Valley High, who scored a big 10 points and the winning basket, and Linda Vaughn of Silverton, who added four points, played for the East team.

With the West on the verge of breaking a long drought, Sherice Price took an in-bounds pass, dashed to the top of the key and fired a high-arching jumper that seemed to take forever to fall . . . and when it did, it swished cleanly at the buzzer.

Price's long-range bomb lifted the East to a pulsating 58-57 victory over the West in the Eighth Girls' Basketball Game. And it extended the East's series lead to 6-2 by virtue of a fourth-straight win.

No one among the nearly 2,000 spectators left early.

It was the most competitive quality game in the series, with the East grabbing a nine-point lead after one period only to see the West charge back to lead by seven points early in the third period.

But the game boiled down to the final ten seconds, as is so often the case when you match squads of quality players.

The West appeared to take a safe lead, 57-56, eight seconds from the end. The East quickly advanced the ball past mid-court and called time with three seconds left.

Linda Vaughn inbounded the ball to Price, the West's guards didn't come out and she drove for the top of the free-throw circle. She fired with one second showing, and it went through at the buzzer. "I couldn't believe it!" said Price, "I guess it was the biggest shot I ever made."

"I wasn't even supposed to shoot. I was supposed to feed Linda breaking by, and she was supposed to take the last shot, but they didn't come up on us. I was a little off balance when I shot, but I was hoping."

So were her teammates. "What was I thinking?" asked Follett guard Cindy Skeen. "Somebody better make it . . . and fast!"

Among those Price shot over was Canyon's 5-11 two-time all-state tournament post guard Sharon Brown, named the games most valuable defensive player.

"I was hoping he'd (West coach Eddie Gipson) let us play pressure, because I'm used to that," said Brown, who helped Canyon win back-to-back state titles.

"But it didn't matter; she shot from a long way out. It looked good. I'll remember that last shot for sure when I think about this game."

"I didn't think they'd get off a last shot," said West forward Karen Schulte, named the game's outstanding offensive player. "We played her (Price) in district though, and I knew she was a good shooter," said the Nazareth forward who helped her team win back-to-back state cage crowns.

In halftime ceremonies, Kress' Jan Street was named basketball queen. River Road's Mindee Johnson was the first runner-up and Texline's Debbie Bolk was second runner-up.

Vaughn Named To All-State Team

Jackie Vaughn, 6-7 center for the Silverton Owls, has been named to the All-State Basketball Team which was announced recently by the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches.

Vaughn, a senior, has received numerous honors including many all-tournament awards, and was named to the All-District team, the All-Regional Tournament team and received honorable mention on the All-State Tournament team.

Farmers Face New Boll Weevil Threat

Steps to help cotton farmers protect their fields against new threats from the boll weevil will be explained at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Friday, March 31, at the Community Center in Quitaque.

The continuing war against the costly insect has been spearheaded in this area for 14 years by the Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program, said Earnest Kiker, Briscoe County Extension Agent. This season cotton producers must look at some new strategies to help make their weevil control effort more effective, he stressed.

The Boll Weevil Technical Advisory Committee met February 23 in Lubbock to map out ways to cope with changing conditions which are threatening the success of the control program.

Plains Cotton Growers and the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Plant Protection and Quarantine Office will report at the Quitaque Community Center meeting on the status of the program and ideas to restore its effectiveness.

An entomologist from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will discuss weevil management practices, Kiker said. The entomologist will emphasize early season control methods and the best planting dates for this area to help curb the weevils.

Cotton farmers interested in the future of their boll weevil control program in Briscoe County should be sure to attend the meeting, the Extension Agent said.

If unable to attend that meeting, Kiker noted, cotton farmers should attend one of the following sessions:

Tuesday, March 28, 7:30 p.m., Community Room, Citizens National Bank, Crosbyton; Wednesday, March 29, 7:30 p.m., Community Center, Fluvanna; Tuesday, April 4, 7:30 p.m., District Courthouse, Post. 12-2tc means that cattle will have to be taken off of acres intended for set-aside not later than March 31, 1978.

It has also been announced that eligible cover on set-aside acres include, legumes, all small grains, grain sorghums, sweet sorghums, grasses including sudan, and old stubble of the above stated crops provided there is enough residue to prevent wind and water erosion. Corn will not be eligible cover and cotton stalks will not qualify. Small grains and any grain sorghum on set-aside will not be allowed to mature. These crops will either have to be clipped down or destroyed with a stubble mulch type operation before maturity. Watch for further guide lines concerning tillage operation to prevent a crop from maturing on set-aside.

Here are some of the things which can cause land to be ineligible for set-aside:

1. Land which is designated as set-aside under any other program.
2. Land for which a prevented planting, low yield, or deficiency payment is made for this calendar year.
3. Turn rows
6. Wet low-lying areas
7. Droughty knobs
8. Small and irregular shaped fields (not less than five acres and at least two chains wide.)
9. Strips in skiprow planting patterns.

For further information concerning set-aside, come to the county office and inquire.

Observing Easter

"Jesus said, I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die." John 11:25.

Easter, the day on which we celebrate the resurrection of our Lord, should find us worshipping Him in His Church. He is alive! His presence fills the sanctuary! All things are made new. It is the time of beginning again. Attend church and join your neighbors in singing praises to God for His Glory and Power and Love; and some of this Resurrection Joy and Power will come to you.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

There's No Such Thing As A Cheap Lunch

Ranking high among the myths of history is the myth that cheap food is always economical.

Ours is a land of plenty. Some people eat better than others and sometimes distribution is imperfect, but there's usually more than enough food to go around. Thus Americans have not only been blessed by the world's most bountiful supply of food, but they also spend a smaller portion of their income for food than do the people in almost every other nation of the world.

In this climate of plenty, no reasonable person would suggest that food should become expensive, but some very reasonable people have warned that food may in time become too cheap. In many countries of the world, food has been pegged so low in price that those who produce it have lost either the incentive or the resources to continue. There is good reason for believing that perhaps this time is approaching in America.

American agriculture is now showing the strains of a decade during which, many farmers believe, the nation placed the expediency of keeping food prices down ahead of the well-being and even the survival of those who produce that food. It is a clear and sobering fact that farmers are simply fed up with cheap food — and there are many reasons why.

High price. During the late 1960s there was a little-noted recession in American agriculture. Burdened with surpluses, the farm economy declined while the general economy sparkled around it. Food was a bargain. Near the end of that decade, though, the true cost came into focus. It was dear indeed: A great many American farmers had gone out of business.

As the decade ended, however, farm prices were inching upward. The surviving farmers could see better days ahead. Exports soared early in the '70s, eating into the price-depressing commodity surpluses. Supply came into balance with demand. For the first time in years, commodity buyers had to compete for what was available. Farmers started to share in the national prosperity, and the number of farms stabilized for the first time in more than 40 years.

It seemed almost too good to last, and it was. Food prices at the supermarkets increased substantially because of increases in farm commodity prices, increases in the cost of processing, packaging, and transporting food, and because of the general inflation which increased the price of everything. A nationwide meat boycott was attempted, with organizers lashing out at "high food costs" and demanding a 20 percent reduction. This reaction stunned agriculture. A majority of the American public rejected the boycott, but the scars remained. Somehow the hurt to the American farmer was worse than any drought, pestilence, or hardship of the past.

Farmers were still reeling when the U.S. government startled the world with an export embargo against the farmers' soybean crop, 40 percent of which had been produced for the export market. But it was only the beginning. In 1974, the U.S. government noted rises in the price of wheat and corn, so it put a sales moratorium on those crops, thereby frustrating overseas buyers. Then our government cancelled a series of trade agreements involving farm commodities, and at the same time urged farmers to expand their operations and bring back into production the millions of acres idled during the years of surplus.

For American agriculture, the worst was still to come. To compensate for higher prices, especially higher food prices, consumers demanded higher incomes. Inflation rippled through the national economy, hitting farmers with a wave of rising costs for everything they needed to buy in order to stay in business. Costs of some inputs doubled. Finally, in 1977, with commodity surpluses increasing, the farm prices of major commodities skidded backward toward levels of the '60s.

And so the '70s, a decade that began for the American farmer in the green spring of confidence, with a promise of long-delayed prosperity, had produced instead a harvest of surpluses, depressed farm prices, an inflated economy, and an uncertain future.

True cost. It would seem that any nation as committed to family farms as ours must take note of the plight and morale of its farmers. In particular we must look askance at the expediency of cheap food. If some good farmers go out of business, and if many surviving farmers become discouraged, then food could become expensive indeed, because too few, if any, farmers will have either the resources or the desire to produce it.

Farmers have good reason to be restless and worried. They also have reason for apprehension regarding the commitment of our nation, its consumers, and its leaders to a healthy agriculture. If some farmers seem militant, it's because they want everyone to realize that cheap food is frequently political but it is never economical. Farmers want the people of America never again to forget that there's no such thing as a cheap lunch.

FmHA HOME WEATHERIZING LOAN SERVICE AVAILABLE TO MORE PUBLIC UTILITIES:

Eligible rural homeowners can now contact participating public utilities, in addition to rural electric cooperative associations, to apply for U.S. Department of Agriculture home weatherization loans, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Alex Mercure said today.

The weatherizing loan program was introduced last year by USDA's Farmers Home Administration and the National Rural Electric Cooperatives Association. The FmHA program serves low and moderate-income homeowners through any participating electric, gas, or water system.

As USDA's rural credit agency, FmHA administers a $4.3 billion-a-year credit program for rural housing in the countryside and in towns with populations up to 10,000 or up to 20,000 if the towns are outside a standard metropolitan statistical area.

Eligible homeowners unable to obtain credit except through FmHA may arrange to have insulation and other weatherizing improvements financed through participating utilities. Borrowers may repay such home-repair loans by installments added to their monthly utility service bills. The individual homeowner's loan limit is $1,500 in all states except Alaska, where the limit is $3,000. The maximum repayment term is five years. Loans will bear the prevailing FmHA rural housing interest rate which presently is eight percent.

Loans may include funds to pay utility organizations for costs of providing technical service to homeowners on weatherproofing of their homes, and for inspection services to assure that work is completed satisfactorily. Those service charges will be limited to $25, plus one percent of the total cost of improvement.

FmHA Administrator Gordon Cavanaugh said utility organizations may enter agreements with FmHA state directors to provide the weatherizing service with FmHA credit. FmHA will reimburse the utility for any payments made to contractors for completed jobs. The utilities will relay homeowners' installment payments back to FmHA.

The moderate-income ceiling that affects eligibility for FmHA rural housing credit is an adjusted annual family income of $15,600 in all states or territories except Alaska ($23,400) and Hawaii and Guam ($18,500). A family's adjusted income is determined by deducting from their gross salary income or net business income an amount equal to five percent plus an additional $300 deduction for each minor in the home.

Mr. Cavanaugh said FmHA home improvement loans for weatherizing purposes will continue to be available directly from FmHA county offices in all areas, although homeowners may find it more convenient to be served through utility systems.

The Cost Cutter

Less Irrigation Cost — Lower Harvest Costs Because of Lower Moisture — Less Drying Cost

Pioneer® brand 3780 can cut your costs to improve corn profits in four ways —

- ★ Less Irrigation Cost — 3780 needs less total water than commonly grown corns because it grows off fast. And because of its early water use, 3780 uses early-season rainfall more efficiently than other corns or crops.
- ★ Less Harvest & Hauling Cost — Fast drydown with good standability and ear retention lets 3780 dry in the field — you harvest and haul less moisture from the field.
- ★ Less Dockage — Less water hauled from the field means less dockage or drying expense.
- ★ Lower Potential Weather and Insect Loss — Because of its rapid growth feature and fast drydown, 3780 is ready for harvest well ahead of commonly grown corns. Fewer days in the field mean less exposure to potential bad weather and late-season insect problems.

MORE NET INCOME PER ACRE

High Plains farmers have consistently found 3780 producing more net income per acre than competitive corns of later maturity . . . even though the green weight of later maturing corns may have been more.

With 3780, you don't take big cuts in yield like you might expect. In fact, in 96 tests under many conditions in the past four years, 3780 has averaged 7,817 pounds per acre. Few farmers will boast of a higher four-year-average, dry-corn yield than this.

Yields like you'd expect from corn with input costs similar to grain sorghum . . . that adds up to more net income per acre.

3780 — 96 High Plains tests — 4-year average — 7,817 lbs./A.
Here's How 3780 Performed For 5 Area Farmers in 1977

Helmuth Quebe — Plainview
Planting date: April 11
Harvest date: August 20
Results: 8,200 lbs./A. at 15.0% moisture; pre-water plus three waterings; outyielded later maturing competitive corn by 600 lbs./A.
His comment: "I like 3780 because of its early maturity."

R. E. Lance — Hereford
Planting date: April 20
Harvest date: September 25
Results: 6,500 lbs./A. at 19% moisture; watered 3 times.
His comment: "3780 did as good as I thought it would."

Don Ott — Dimmitt
Planting date: April 27
Harvest date: September 10
Results: 8,590 lbs./A. at 19% moisture; watered 5 times.
His comment: "3780 had a very good yield for a fast maturing variety."

Vernon Jackson — Stratford
Planting time: April 7
Harvest date: August 5
Results: 8,680 lbs./A. at 16.5% moisture; watered 5 times. Popular competitive variety in same field planted earlier, received 1 additional watering, yielded less, and was harvested 12 days later at 24.5% moisture.

J. L. Francis — Kress
Planting date: June 2
Harvest date: October 20
Results: 7,100 lbs./A. at 14% moisture; watered 5 times.
His comment: "My 3780 was planted after a hail and I was really satisfied with the results."

Sorghum Farmer's Corn

3780 yields well with management similar to sorghum. And since it reaches peak water demand 4 to 6 weeks earlier than sorghum and up to 2 weeks earlier than later maturing corn hybrids, it can take advantage of early-season rainfall and avoid later-season water shortages. We wish to thank Brother Royce for coming out and having prayer at our house for Erva Pruitt. We thank everyone for their prayers for her and for us on our trip.

CARD OF THANKS
We would like to thank the Silvertown Young Homemakers, Silvertown Young Farmers and the City Hall for their help and cooperation in conducting the blood drive Tuesday. Thanks, also, to the 55 persons who gave blood and to those who volunteered to give blood who could not do so for various reasons.
There will be a blood drive in Quitaque next Wednesday at the Community Center, and if anyone would like to give blood at that time it can be given for a specific person or designated for the Silvertown blood pool.
