by Mary Ann Sarchet

The public barbecue will cost about $3,000 this year, and this presents a dilemma for the sponsoring organization, the Silverton Young Farmers.

They are still planning to have the barbecue, but their question is this: do the people of Silverton want to donate the money to serve the barbecue free again this year, or has the time come for a charge to be made for plates at the barbecue?

They would appreciate it very much if you would express your opinion on this question to one of the Silverton Young Farmers.

People who left things at the rodeo arena after the consignment sale are asked please to pick them up. Rodeo time is approaching again, and the Silverton Young Farmers will be working to get the rodeo grounds ready again soon. Please cooperate by doing this soon.

Several friends and I have been talking recently about organizing a "weighing" club in order to help encourage weight loss and maintenance. There is a scale available for this use, and what I am wondering now is whether there would be enough interest to try to do this.

Our idea is to weigh and keep a record of our weights every week, to exchange our best weight-loss hints, and to stimulate weight loss with contests and challenges to one another.

If you are interested in being a part of a group like this, please call me at 823-2333 and tell me what day and time you would be interested in attending. It would have to meet every week to be effective.

"Golden Years of Country Music" To Be Presented In Silverton

"The Golden Years of Country Music" is coming to Silverton.

The country music road show, a production of South Plains College, Levelland, will be performed at 8:30 p.m. May 22, 1979 on the Briscoe County Courthouse Square.

"Golden Years" features about 40 songs spanning 50 years of country music history.

Songs include "Will There Be Any Freight Trains in Heaven" by Jimmie Rodgers, known as the father of modern country music; "Mule Skinner Blues" by Bill Monroe, father of bluegrass; "Wabash Cannon Ball," "Smoke, Smoke, Smoke," "Your Cheatin' Heart," "Folsom Prison Blues" and "Amanda," among many others.

Country and bluegrass artists represented in the show include Hank Williams, Elvis Presley, Johnny Cash, Platt and Scruggs, Waylon Jennings, Dolly Parton and many others.

The music in "Golden Years" should sound pretty much like the original recordings, if John Hartin and crew have anything to say about it.

"We worked primarily from original recordings arranging all the songs and cast members listened to tapes of the originals," said Hartin, vocalist and electric guitarist in the show. Hartin also is director of a two-year program in country and bluegrass music at SPC. "We are trying to come as close as we can to the original sound."

"We think every artist we recognize in the show has made a definite impact on the business," said Hartin, who also has been a professional guitarist for a number of years.

"Golden Years," along with the music has a story to tell.

"There's a story developing in the fact that country music has left the hills and is being recognized in metropolitan areas," said Hartin.

"Certain things were happening in Kentucky with the bluegrass in the 30's and 40's; at the same time a completely different type of country music was followed in Texas by the Carter Family, who did a lot of recording and broadcasting down at Del Rio. They had a big 50,000 watt station that was heard all over the country," he added.

The show goes on to recognize people who stuck with country music at a difficult time.

"People who really deserve some recognition for their contributions are artists who stayed with country music in the 40's and 50's," said Hartin, "especially in the mid-50's when Presley and Ricky Vinson and these guys were getting popular. The country music thing, record sales just almost died. And guys like Ernest Tubbs, Hank Snow and Roy Acuff kept the Grand Ole Opry movement alive. . . . They were doing shows in schoolhouses, kind of keeping the interest alive," he said.

In the 60's, musicians like Johnny Cash and Merle Haggard made their play for fame. "They all had a completely unique style and were tremendously successful," said Hartin.

"Willie Nelson and Waylon Jennings symbolize the outlaw movement, moving away from Nashville and bringing the music back to where it started, in Texas," he noted.

"Golden Years" will feature faculty and students from SPC's country and bluegrass music program and students from the speech and drama department as well. Featured instruments will include fiddles, acoustic, electric and pedal steel guitars, mandolin, banjo, auto harp, piano and drums. There will be no admission charged, and in event of bad weather the show will be held in the Silverton School Auditorium.

A stitch in time OR Elias Howe was a SEW-SEW inventor.

When Howe invented the sewing machine in 1846, he really got needed. Some tailors said a machine could never replace hand work, or so it seemed. But a few followed the thread of Howe's thinking. An automatic stitcher worked faster and more consistently, and the results were highly profitable.

TERMITE SWARMING SEASON
Spring is the time when many homeowners discover they have termites. This is the time when winged forms appear and swarm.

If winged termites are seen outdoors, usually there is no problem, since this is a natural occurrence. But if they are found indoors, usually on a window sill, chances are good that an infestation has established in your home.

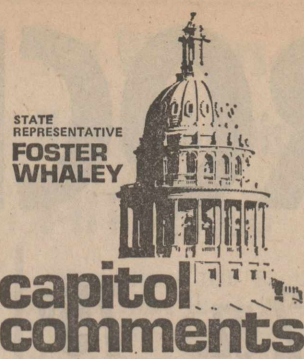

Termites can cause extensive damage to wooden parts of your home, so take precautions.

Quite often termites and certain ants swarm at the same time and it's important to be able to tell the difference between these two insects. Carpenter ants swarm in the spring-time and can cause some structural damage to wood. However, termites are much more destructive and require different control measures. Termites have a broad waist—ants have a narrow, constricted waist; termite wings are the same size and shape—winged ants have a front and back pair of wings of different lengths and shape; termites have straight antennae (feelers on their heads)—ants have elbowed antennae.

Termites may be attracted to your house by dead tree limbs, stumps, old lumber and other sources of termite food. These should be removed. If soil is above the point where wood or brick meets the foundation, termites have easy access to your home. Anywhere that wood meets dirt (siding, wooden steps) is a potential spot for termite entry into the home.

Termites also have the ability to build mud tunnels over non-wooden structures to reach a food source. These tunnels (about 1/4-inch wide) may extend several feet up concrete surfaces. On a slab home, these may be seen on foundation concrete between soil and brick. On homes built above the ground, these tunnels can be found on piers or pipes that go from soil to structure. The bath trap in homes built on a slab is another source of entry. Plumbing in this situation has contact with soil under the slab, and termite tunnels may be found in this area.

Although a thorough inspection is best done by a professional, a homeowner can make a quick check for termite infestations. If termites or damage is found, contact a local pest control company. This is one insect pest that should not be handled by a "do-it-yourselfer." Commercial pest control companies have the necessary equipment and experience to effectively rid a home of termites.

Two gasohol bills have passed both the House and Senate in the Texas Legislature. HB 1803, by Rockdale Rep. Dan Kubiak, passed the House by a vote of 104-23. This bill would provide for loans to individuals and corporations for the production of alcohol. These loans would be made through the Texas Industrial Commission.

Fifteen million dollars was provided in the form of a 10-year loan. A group of individuals could obtain up to a half million dollar loan, while an individual would be limited to a $25 thousand loan.

HB 1986, by Somerville Rep. Bill Keese, passed by a vote of 127-1. This bill cleared any legal aspects pertaining to the production of alcohol in Texas.

In recent testimony presented before the House Agriculture Committee, we learned that Brazil now produces close to half of the country's fuel needs in the form of alcohol. Brazil's goal is to supply its entire fuel need for moving vehicles within the next five years.

I supported these bills and I also supported the addition of $120 thousand to the budget of the Experiment Station for research on the production of alcohol as a fuel.

The price of gasoline has now escalated to a figure that makes production of gasohol feasible. As the price of gasoline continues to rise, the production of alcohol will look even better.

Presently we have thousands of acres of land standing idle because of government programs. Production of alcohol from these acres would greatly lessen our dependence on oil from the Middle East.

Considering our dependence on oil from that part of the world and the powder keg situation we have in that area, this gasohol legislation could prove to be the most important legislation we pass this session.

I'm always glad to hear your comments on this or any other legislation before the House of Representatives.

When choosing a hay crop, select one that is productive and adapted to this area.

Alfalfa, clover and other legumes contain a higher percentage of protein, minerals and vitamins than grasses. They also contain more cellular contents and are digested easier and faster.

Grasses, however, produce higher forage yields and more total digestible nutrients per acre than legumes. Also, insect and disease damage is less on grasses. Perennial grass stands are easier to maintain than legumes. And there are many areas where productive legumes aren't adapted.

When selecting a hay crop, producers should also consider length of growing season, winter temperatures, available moisture, soil condition and animals intended to consume the hay.

Warm-season annuals and perennials prefer climatic conditions favorable for growing, harvesting and curing good quality hay. Small grains, ryegrass and other cool-season annuals make good quality hay when spring climatic conditions favor harvest and curing. They should be used primarily for hay made from excess growth when the species matures, weather permitting.

Hay harvested from excess growth in perennial pastures, such as Coastal bermudagrass, is often the most economical; however, the pasture must be divided into two sections, allowing one to remain vacant until grass is 14 to 18 inches high for cutting.

The L. O. A. Junior Study Club will sponsor Silverton's first Country Arts & Crafts Fair on the day of the parade and barbecue from 10:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. It will be held on the courthouse lawn.

"We would like to urge everyone to start making plans now to have a booth," said Mrs. Wayne Nance, L. O. A. president. "There are usually 1,000 to 1,500 people in town for the parade and barbecue. This will be an excellent opportunity for you to make some extra money and display your hobbies, goods, or art works."

If you would like to reserve a space, call 823-2496. Now is the time to start work on it.

"Let's all put out a big community effort to make this a big success and a day we'll all remember," Mrs. Nance added. "Wouldn't it be fun to have the courthouse square filled with booths?"

Governor Clements has designated the month of May as Older Texans Month in honor of senior citizens.

In their later years many people experience one or more health problems that are related to their present or past nutritional status. The individual who has had a lifetime of poor eating habits is not likely to be as healthy as the one who has enjoyed the benefits of a good diet. You are what you eat!

Nutritional needs of the older adult differ a little from the needs of younger adults, except in energy, or calorie requirements due to reduced physical activity. Older adults still need the recommended servings from the four food groups; four servings from the bread and cereals group, two from the milk group, two from the meat group and four from the fruit and vegetable group, especially one rich in vitamin C and one rich in vitamin A.

With increased food prices and decreased income, it becomes a problem to insure adequate nutrition for senior citizens. Adding to the problem may be a loss of appetite, difficulties in shopping for and preparing food in small amounts, and lack of enthusiasm for food because of eating alone.

Senior citizens can learn how to substitute lower cost foods with adequate nutrients for more expensive foods. For example, beans, peas, eggs, poultry and fish can be substituted for more expensive meats.

They can prepare foods in large amounts, but divide into small portions and freeze for later meals.

I have two publications in my office concerning nutrition for older adults which you may receive free by calling my office, 823-2343, or by coming by the office. One is "Nutritional Needs of Older Adults" and the other is "Meal Planning for Older Adults."

Double S & H Green Stamps On Wednesdays

Double up, America.

Two can ride cheaper than one.

If you drive to work by yourself, you're spending twice as much money on commuting as you should.

That's too much.

Cut it in half. Take a friend.

Not only will your daily commute cost you half as much, but that monotonous trip will be a lot more pleasant.

Let's double up. Carpools are a great way to get where we're going. Faster and cheaper.

Autry Polley Signs With PSU

All-District 3-AAAA running back Autry Polley of Palo Duro High School is among four football recruits who have signed to play football for Panhandle State University at Goodwell, Oklahoma, according to an announcement by PSU grid mentor Don Cortez last week.

Polley, who finished third in loop rushing with 882 yards for a 4.1 yards-per-carry average, brings to 54 the number who have signed letters of intent to play football at PSU.

"He's a real player," said Cortez of Polley. "He ranks with our top recruits and I expect him to give a good fight for a starting position."

Polley also garnered second-team District 3-AAAA honors as a defensive end, but will be used strictly on offense, according to Cortez.

Polley is a former Silverton resident. His mother, Erma Polley, spoke to the Briscoe County News about her son early this week. "We would like to thank all the Silverton citizens who were thinking about helping Autry with his schooling," she said. "He is receiving a full athletic scholarship, and he won't be needing your help now. He really shouldn't have asked for help, but he was getting desperate because he was afraid he wouldn't be getting a scholarship. Thank you for your friendship and interest in us."

Next Week Set Aside For Mailbox Improvement

May 21-26 is "Mailbox Improvement Week," and Postmaster Fred A. Strange is urging all local customers to paint and repair unkept or damaged mail receptacles.

"Customers should be sure their boxes provide adequate protection to the mail and are easily reached by their carrier to help speed collection and delivery of their mail," Postmaster Strange said.

The Postmaster recalled that a man named Ira F. Collins was among the first to show interest in improving the appearance and security of the mailbox.

On April 29, 1903, he filed an application with the U. S. Patent Office for a two-part, cylindrical mail receptacle. It consisted of a detachable scoop with a weather-proof outer casing, and a metal flag that could be raised to indicate when mail was to be collected.

"Until Collins came along," Postmaster Strange said, "many makeshift receptacles—including tin cans nailed to trees—were used as mailboxes, particularly after rural mail service began in 1896."

Today, he said, a variety of approved commercial mailbox designs are available for use with decorative posts, and those who prefer a custom-made mailbox may check with the Silverton Post Office to make sure it meets specifications and requirements.

During Mailbox Improvement Week, residents should examine their mailboxes to determine whether they have been damaged by weather or vandalism, and should make any necessary repairs or improvements.

GOD
HEART

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Man's first reactions to another is based on outward appearances, and only time will help him to know the heart of another. God knows, immediately, every attitude of the heart, whether it is good or bad.

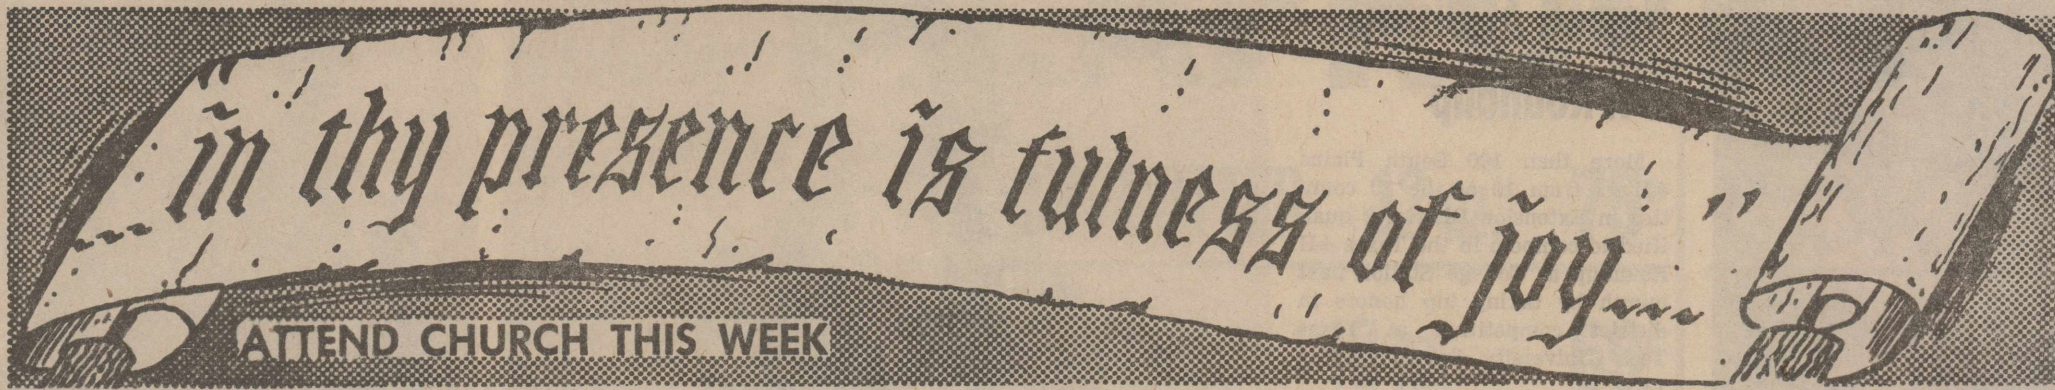

"Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God."

There are many rewards for those that follow the Lord. "Let the heart of them rejoice that seek the Lord."

PROUD POSSESSION

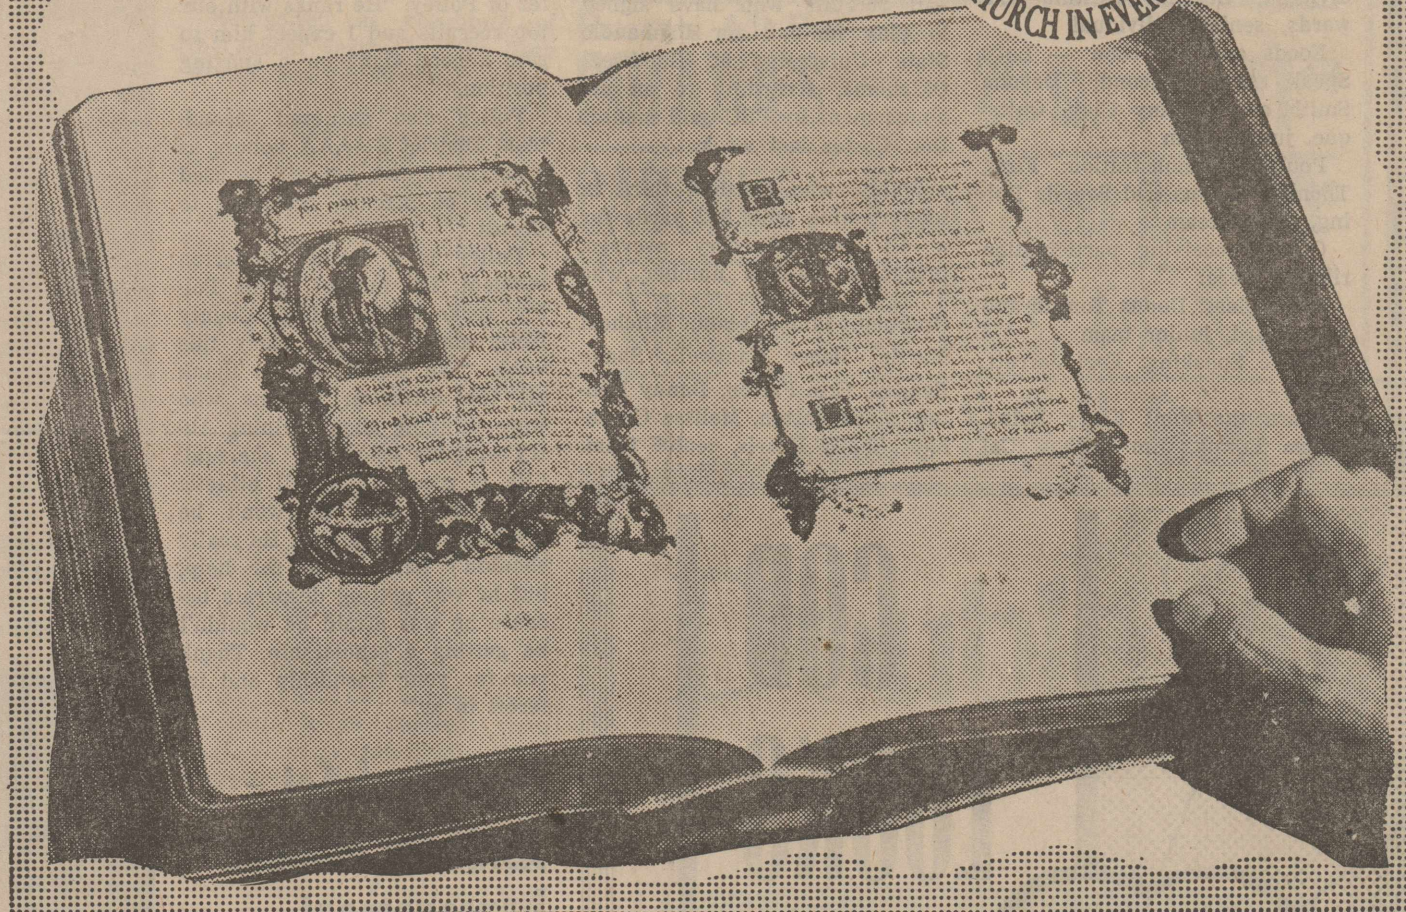

The craftsmanship and artistry that has gone into the production of many bibles does humbly honor God's word. This work is a reflection of men's appreciation and love for God. Many commit God's word to memory and their heart.

"I wait for the Lord, my soul doth wait and in his word do I hope."

Attend Church and study God's word.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. OR how DO you COVER A Wagon? The wild, wild West. Land of hope and opportunity to thousands of courageous settlers. But, if it weren't for the dollars of thousands more Americans taking stock in their country, there might never have been a West to go west to.

You see, money raised from the sale of government securities helped us purchase the Louisiana Territory from the French. Other securities helped buy the states of California, Nevada, Utah, western Colorado and most of New Mexico and Arizona from Mexico. Even settlement of the Oregon Territory was made possible through the issuance of United States securities.

Today, you can still take stock in your country's growth by buying U. S. Savings Bonds. Just sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. There's no easier, safer way to save or help your country. After all, U. S. Savings Bonds are still a great way for you to go West. Or East, North and South.

New U Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.
