Sales Taxes Not To Be Paid On Auto Rebates

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said today that Texans don't need to pay taxes on factory rebates offered for the purchase of new cars.

He also said car buyers who have mistakenly paid automobile sales tax on the rebate amount are entitled to a refund.

Bullock said the big three American automobile manufacturers are all currently offering some type of rebate to encourage the sale of new cars.

Bullock said rebates are cash discounts regardless of the method used to compute the amount or the method used to pass the rebate along to the consumer.

Rebates should be deducted from the price of a new car before the state's four percent motor vehicle sales tax is calculated.

If the sticker price is $7,500, for example, and the rebate is $500, the price of the car for tax purposes is $7,000, he said.

Information about tax refunds can be obtained through the Comptroller's Motor Vehicle Sales Tax office by calling toll-free, anywhere in Texas, 1-800-252-5555, extension 171.

Older Worker Week to be Observed

Older Worker Week is planned for March 8-14, according to the U. S. Department of Labor. Texas Farmers Union Green Thumb, Inc. is encouraging employers to recognize their older workers during this week.

Evidence that the older worker is a high-quality employee is mounting. According to a survey made recently among some of America's largest corporations, 84% of the personnel directors queried thought that older employees are more productive. Older workers were also more satisfied with their jobs than younger workers, according to the survey conducted by the Corporate Committee for Retirement Planning. Older workers were found to have better attendance and lower accident rates as well.

Green Thumb is a rural older worker employment program funded through the Department of Labor and is working to eliminate the unfounded prejudice against older workers.

Green Thumb directly hires nearly 1,000 workers 55 years of age and older, on a part-time basis. Green Thumb employees are placed in community jobs throughout the 107-county area in which the program operates. These workers not only demonstrate the value of accumulated experience and wisdom acquired with age, but also contribute services that their communities might not otherwise afford.

Green Thumb Director Diane Parrish urges both public and private employers to recognize their older employees during this Older Worker Week. "I've found that formal education and chronological age have nothing to do with one's ability," said Parrish. "During their years of work, they have learned a great deal, have gained invaluable experience and have come to appreciate and be proud of doing a good job. We should remember, especially during this week, that capability, not age, is the true measure of a worker's worth."

Green Thumb is an equal opportunity employer and is one resource for locating older job-seekers. For more information, employers may contact the Texas Employment Commission in their area or write to the Texas Green Thumb office at: P. O. Box 7898, Waco, Texas 76710; or call 817-776-4700.

Brooks Finds No Bounds In Building of Church

by Pauline Robillard for The North Richland Hills News

The name the pulpit committee recommended to the little NRH Baptist Mission Church was W. Hal Brooks.

The church, located at the corner of Glenview and Vance roads, thought no young man with his talent would stay long in a small church.

Brooks, a native of Silverton, Texas and the son of a farmer, grew up in Bonger where his family moved during World War II. At that time, he did not attend church, neither did his father.

"During my senior year," Dr. Brooks related, "some high school kids interested me in church. Shortly thereafter, I felt impressed to go into evangelistic work."

When he told his father of his decision, his father's comment was, "I would rather you do something else."

Brooks felt that he needed training in the religious field. He entered Oklahoma Baptist University in Shawnee, Oklahoma. In 1957, Dr. Brooks met and married his wife, Paula. By this time, he worked full-time in evangelism. He told her how hard the life of an evangelist was, but she insisted on going with him.

Dr. Brooks enrolled at Southwestern Seminary at Fort Worth in 1959.

He had been asked to supply (serve as pastor on Sundays when a church does not have a regular pastor) at the Union Bower Baptist Church in Irving.

After serving there two or three Sundays, he was asked by the church to become their full-time pastor. His heart was still set on evangelism, but he realized that he needed more training so he accepted the position.

It was at that church the NRH Baptist pulpit committee found him.

Dr. Brooks became pastor of the NRH Baptist Church on July 2, 1959.

By 1960, 202 additions had joined and there were 784 enrolled in Sunday School. By 1961, ground had been broken for a $96,000 nursery and educational building. The church held its first Bible conference.

Dr. Brooks and his wife have always encouraged work with children and youth groups. During prayer meeting time, Dr. Brooks often meets with children to pray.

New Heat Treatment Saving Lives Of "Hopeless" Cancer Victims

Cancer specialists are saving the lives of some terminal patients by heating their blood and giving them "artificial fevers."

The new technique was used on 104 patients labeled "hopeless" and believed to be on the brink of death. "They had failed to respond to other treatment and had only an estimated one to two months to live," said Dr. Leon C. Parks, clinical assistant professor of surgery at the University of Mississippi Medical Center, Jackson, Mississippi, who treated the hopeless cases.

"These patients suffered from a variety of cancers, among them cancer of the lung, kidney, breast, lymph glands, head, neck and gastrointestinal systems. After the heat treatment, combined with chemotherapy or radiation, 14 percent had complete remission—total disappearance of their tumors," Dr. Parks said.

Twelve percent had a 50 percent or more reduction in the disease. Another 25 percent showed a less dramatic improvement, but most of these lived on for one to three years, Dr. Parks said.

"These survival rates are striking," he declared. Almost certainly, he added, the treatment will be even more effective in patients whose cancer is less advanced.

With the new technique, a plastic tube is inserted in a patient's leg artery and vein. Blood is withdrawn from the artery, heated to 106.7 degrees Fahrenheit and pumped back into a vein. The treatment requires a 21-day stay in the hospital. "Eventually, we feel we can reduce that to about 10 days," Dr. Parks said. "All our life we've heard that fever can cause convulsions in infants and brain damage, but there are no noticeable side effects."

One patient, Mary Hogan, 47, a mother of two from Memphis, Tennessee, was found to have cancer of the ovary which had spread to the stomach, liver and colon last June and given a year to live. After two heat treatments combined with much lower than usual doses of radiation and chemotherapy, she is now cancer-free, Dr. Parks said. He added that "she will receive at least one more course of treatment."

"It's a miracle—you'd never know I was sick," Mrs. Hogan said. Dr. O. Howard Frazier, assistant professor of surgery at famed M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute in Houston, declared: "Initial results are encouraging. Legitimate investigators have seen complete remissions. We feel it (blood heating) will be an effective form of treatment."

Reaction To President Reagan's Address

Congressman Jack Hightower "I commend President Reagan for boldly accepting the challenge of convincing the American people and their elected representatives in Congress that achieving the combined goal of reducing federal spending and restoring the nation's economy is a burden that every American must bear. I pledge my continuing support to help achieve that goal because I believe America's future is at stake. I will do whatever I can to help assure that no one sector is asked to bear a disproportionate share of the burden."

"The President properly emphasized the truth that reduced taxes without reduced expenditures simply cannot work. The two are inseparable. I am grateful for that emphasis."

"The President's speech guaranteed that in the coming months, hotels in Washington will be busy. There can be no doubt that the approximately 2,000 trade associations headquartered in this area will send out the call for their members to plead their cause to the Congress. There is a constituency for every federal dollar spent and I anticipate that Congress will be hearing from most of them in the days ahead."

"Members of Congress may find it difficult, but we must learn to say 'no,' to explain the situation in clear terms to those who say, 'I want to reduce federal spending, but my special program is an exception.'"

"It is true there are exceptions. I support increased spend-

FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OF TEXAS FARMLAND

Foreign ownership of Texas farmland has been undergoing hearing the past week in the House of Representatives. I support retaining the safety net of federal assistance for those who truly are unable to support themselves and to provide education for their children. But I will continue to be conscious of the need to ferret out unproductive spending in every federal department and agency, and I will be doing that from the unique perspective of membership on the House Appropriations Committee."

Speaker Clayton's bill, to place surplus state money in a State Trust Fund to fully develop our state water needs, looks like it has an excellent chance to pass. This bill will be handled by the Constitutional Amendments Committee. I felt very honored to be assigned as Vice-Chairman of this Committee.

Questions And Answers About Property Taxation

Q: Why do we have a property tax? Who does the money go to and for what purpose?

A: The property or ad valorem tax is the primary source of local government revenue in Texas. Cities, counties, school districts and special taxing authorities such as municipal utility districts, junior college districts, etc., collect a property tax to pay for the operation of community services such as fire and police protection, street construction and repair, utilities, and public schools.

Q: Who controls the property tax?

A: The property tax is the only tax which is locally controlled, locally generated and locally collected. Locally elected and appointed officials—those most responsive to the needs of individual taxpayers—direct the property tax system in Texas.

Q: What steps or stages are involved in the property tax administration process?

A: There are four basic stages in the property tax process, which together take about 13 months to complete.

The first stage begins on January 1 of each year. This is the development of tax values by the tax assessor for the taxing jurisdiction and it usually continues through July. This stage includes the rendition period—the period during which you, the taxpayer, are responsible for asserting your rights.

The second stage in the tax process is the meeting of the board of equalization (BOE). The purpose of this board is to review the values which the tax assessor has listed for the property in the jurisdiction. Board members try to insure that values are accurate and that equal values have been set for the same kinds of property. The board of equalization process usually takes place in late July or August.

The third stage occurs when the jurisdiction's governing body (city council, school board, commissioners' court, etc.) meets to adopt a tax rate which will be applied to the values approved by the BOE, normally in late July or August.

The fourth stage in the tax process is tax collection, which usually begins in September or October and continues through the following January. January 31 is the deadline for paying taxes, and on February 1 taxes become delinquent. Property owners who have not paid their taxes before February 1 will find that penalty and interest charges have been added to their tax bills. (Several jurisdictions in Texas—particularly cities—have tax calendars which begin on April 1 or even July 1. Their tax cycle will not follow the dates outlined above.)

Q: Why should I render the value of my property to the tax assessor?

A: By law, property owners must render the value of their taxable property to each jurisdiction's tax assessor during the rendition period (January 1 to April 1 or 30 for most taxing entities). Apart from the legal requirement to render, there are three reasons why it is to the taxpayer's advantage to do so:

1. By filing a rendition, you will place into the record your opinion as to the value of your own property.

2. If you do not render your property, the tax assessor will do it for you, as the law states he must. He does this by making his own estimate as to the value.

3. Through rendering, you create a responsibility on the part of the tax assessor and board of equalization to notify you if they intend to increase the value of your property over the amount you have rendered.

Q: What if I disagree with the value the tax assessor places on my property?

A: If you have rendered your property, and if the assessor has disagreed with you by raising the value you rendered, he must notify you of the time and place of the board of equalization meetings for the taxing jurisdiction he represents. You then may appear before the board of equalization and explain why you believe the value assigned by the assessor is incorrect.

Q: Under what circumstances will the BOE make an adjustment in my taxable value?

A: First, if you can find and submit evidence to the BOE which indicates that the value assigned to your property exceeds local market values, then you would be entitled to a reduction in valuation. Second, if you can show that your property is being valued higher than similar properties in the jurisdiction, you should be entitled to a reduction in the value assigned even though the assessor's estimate did not exceed the actual market value.

Q: Aren't a number of exemptions available to help reduce my overall tax bill? When and how do I apply for them?

A: There are several exemptions available under state law to help provide you with tax relief. School districts must provide a $5,000 exemption from the market value of your residence homestead, and must provide an additional $10,000 exemption from market value to homeowners 65 and older and to those with total and permanent disabilities. Counties must offer a $3,000 residence homestead exemption from the assessed value for the portion of the county tax rate levied for flood control or farm-to-market roads. All jurisdictions must offer an exemption from assessed value of from $1,500 to $3,000 for qualifying disabled veterans.

Cities do not have constitutional authority to offer a general homestead exemption, but cities, counties, school districts and special taxing districts may offer optional homestead exemptions to those who are elderly or disabled. You should check with your local assessors to see if optional over-65 or disability exemptions are available in your area.

Q: I have heard that the elderly are entitled to a tax freeze. Is this true?

A: Resident homeowners who are 65 or older are entitled to a freeze on the amount of their SCHOOL taxes. If you qualify for the over-65 homestead exemption, your school district tax bill on your house and yard cannot increase as long as you apply for the exemption each year. While your property may increase in value through the years, the taxes which you owe in any one year cannot be greater than the amount you owed in 1979 or in the first year you qualified for this exemption, whichever is later.

Q: How do I apply for my exemptions?

A: Exemption applications must be filed with each local tax office on an annual basis. To insure that you do not lose any tax relief to which you may be entitled, it is to your advantage to file before the local rendition period ends on April 1 or April 30. While you may be able to file later under a recent Attorney General's opinion, the burden and expense of proving an equitable reason for the application being late will fall on you, the taxpayer.

Q: I own agricultural land.

first, Dr. Brooks has insisted that the church keep itself on a firm financial basis. "It would be better," he said, "if people did the same thing."

In his own family, Paula, whom he speaks of as "my wife, best friend and critic" has been helpful in improving his sermons and ministry. While their two children, Mark and Kris, were young she stayed home. She was active in the church, serving as pianist, youth director and other capacities.

When the children were grown, she took a temporary job as a drama teacher during an emergency when a teacher was needed.

Her interest in drama and communications was renewed. She is now an Assistant Superintendent of Communications with the Birdville Independent School System.

Dr. Brooks speaks at and leads revivals. He has traveled a great deal. One of his most appreciated trips was one to the Holy Land, a trip made possible as a gift from one of the church families.

In March of this year, Dr. Brooks will visit China and a Baptist Church in Peking.

An event Dr. Brooks is looking forward to this year is the 25th anniversary of the establishing of a full church. It will take place in May of this year.

There were 47 original charter members in 1956.

This is Dr. Brooks' 22nd year with the NRH Baptist Church.

Day and night, horn flies pierce hides and extract blood. Often 500 to 1,000 live on an unprotected animal. In 24 hours, entomologists estimate 600 horn flies bite an animal 4,200 to 13,800 times. Daily blood loss and harassment may cut milk production as much as 20% according to the USDA, and reduce weight gains on growing cattle as much as 1/2 lb per head daily.

Don't let bloodsucking horn flies torment your grazing cattle

Start feeding MoorMan's IGR before the fly season starts

It's easy to stop horn flies before they develop wings, thanks to the insect growth regulator in MoorMan's IGR products for grazing cattle.

IGR passes through their digestive tracts to manure. There it stops horn fly development in the harmless pupal state. They never mature into adult flies that torment cattle, suck blood, cause cattle to waste energy or grazing time.

This amazing insect growth regulator is available exclusively in MoorMan's IGR mineral products. It's the selective pesticide methoprene (Altosid*).

*Trademark of Zeecon Corp. U.S. Patents 3,904,622 and 3,912,815.

Potential IGR benefits from stopping horn flies

These are for an average horn-fly season and population in the U.S., with IGR fed continuously for 150 days—starting before horn flies appear.

Cows and calves: $7 to $10 of IGR can save as much as 40 to 50 lbs weaning weight per calf.

Stocker cattle: $4 to $6 of IGR can save up to 75 lbs weight gain per head.

Dairy cows: $8 to $10 of IGR can save as much as 750 lbs milk per cow.

For about 5¢ per head daily, you can stop horn flies and supply your grazing cattle a scientific combination of base and trace minerals, plus vitamins A and D.

IGR's full-time action keeps horn-fly numbers from ever building up. They have not developed resistance, as with organic phosphorus feed-through products, in customers' 5-season IGR use. It stops development of horn flies resistant to sprays and dusts. IGR does not harm fish, wildlife, etc.

You have a choice of four IGR products to feed free-choice to your grazing beef cattle:

- MoorMan's IGR Minerals* comes in loose, processed form.
- MoorMan's IGR Mineral Block.
- MoorMan's Special Phos IGR Minerals—high in phosphorus and in loose, processed form.
- MoorMan's Hi-Mag* IGR Minerals—high in magnesium and in loose, processed form.

Get details from our representative on IGR products and on our Wind-Vane Feeder, ideal for feeding IGR.

Reasons to order IGR now:
(1) Have it on hand to begin feeding before the fly season.
(2) Preseason discount.

A: A countywide appraisal district, which becomes fully operational in 1982, will be responsible for conducting property appraisals and providing values to each taxing jurisdiction in the county. This means that each taxing jurisdiction which levies taxes on your property will place the same value on it. Your local elected officials, however, will continue to set the tax rate, just as in the past.

Q: What advantages are there to central appraisal?

A: Under the old tax laws, each jurisdiction which levied a property tax did its own appraising. This meant that your property was valued by several different assessors, each of whom may have assigned a different value. With the countywide appraisal district, the expense of separate appraisals, and the confusion of separate and sometimes different values, will be ended.

There are other advantages to the taxpayer under the new system. First, you will have to appear before only one body, the county appraisal review board, to contest your values, rather than appealing to each board of equalization separately as under the old system.

You will have to turn to only one office for any questions regarding your property values, renditions, and for filing all exemptions and productivity value applications.

Additionally, under the new system, you will have more clearly defined appeal rights if you disagree with the value placed on your property.

Q: Doesn't the new Property Tax Code provide a form of initiative and referendum?

A: Yes. Beginning in 1982, if the tax rate adopted by a particular local government exceeds the maximum tax rate calculated under the truth-in-taxation law by more than five percent, the voters may, by petition, call an election to roll back the tax rate to a five percent increase.

The tax rate calculated for truth-in-taxation purposes, in essence, is a rate which would produce the same amount of operating revenue that the particular jurisdiction levied in the prior year. Any increase in values due to revaluation or change in the assessment ratio automatically triggers a proportional change downward in the tax rate for truth-in-taxation purposes.

To give an illustration, if a school district were to revalue all property with a resulting average increase in value of 100 percent, the tax rate could be cut in half and the same total revenue as last year still be produced.

Q: I was told that my house must this year be assessed at 100 percent of its value because of the new Property Tax Code. Won't this cause an increase in my taxes?

A: For many years, after jurisdictions determined the full value of all property, many then elected to tax that property on a percentage of its value. The problem with so-called fractional assessment, however, was that many taxpayers did not know the true value on which their property was being assessed. For example, if a jurisdiction formerly had a 50 percent assessment ratio and a tax rate of $1, the total taxes on a $50,000 home would have been $250. With elimination of assessment ratios in 1981, the jurisdiction could cut its tax rate to 50¢ per $100 valuation and the total tax on the $50,000 house used in our example would still be $250. Elimination of the assessment ratio will result in no local tax increase if jurisdictions which formerly used a ratio adjust their tax rate downward to the extent that the assessment ratio increased to reach 100 percent.

Q: Where can I turn for additional information on my property taxes?

A: You may contact your local tax assessors; or, if you are a resident of one of approximately 30 counties which implemented their countywide appraisal districts in 1981 under local in-

WHEN WILL LAST FREEZE HIT?

Farmers as well as gardeners get the urge to plant spring crops just as soon as there are a few days of warm weather. But there's still plenty of time for freezing temperatures over much of Texas, according to data compiled by the National Weather Service at Texas A&M University.

The table below shows the last freeze dates for the Panhandle and South Plains. "Early" represents a 90 percent chance for a the date indicated. "Average" freeze (32 degrees F.) later than represents a 50-50 chance of a freeze after the date indicated while "late" indicates only a 10 percent chance of a freeze occurring after the date shown.

PANHANDLE

Early-9 in 10 years-April 6
Average-5 in 10 years-April 22
Late-1 in 10 years-May 6

SOUTH PLAINS

Early-9 in 10 years-March 27
Average-5 in 10 years-April 11
Late-1 in 10 years-April 25

Due to a generally milder winter season so far, the "odds" are good for an "early" spring. In other words, chances of a freeze later than the "average" date listed above will likely be slim.

So, farmers and gardeners will want to keep that date in mind when planting warm-season crops that could suffer freeze damage if planted too early.

tergovernmental contract, you may also contact the district's chief appraiser. All tax offices have copies of a State Property Tax Board pamphlet titled "Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities" which contains information about the property tax system and gives advice on how to appeal the values placed on your property.

If the tax office has run out of pamphlets, you may obtain a single copy free by writing the State Property Tax Board, P. O. Box 15900, Austin, Texas 78761.

UGHTS AND OUGHT NOTS

Someone has written, "It is well to put off until tomorrow what you ought not to do at all."

Deciding on oughts and ought not is easy. When Paul thought he ought he did it (Acts 26:9-10), but, of course, though very conscientious, he at that point in his life was wrongly persecuting Jesus.

We ought to pursue oughts that rest on truth, and we ought to allow scriptural ought not to discipline our conduct.

To ignore an ought may well damage conscience. To go ahead and do an ought not is likewise dangerous.

You ought to be willing to look up the following oughts and ought not.

Oughts: Ephesians 5:28; 1 Thessalonians 4:1; Hebrews 2:1; Hebrews 5:12; James 4:15; Luke 18:1; Acts 5:29; Acts 20:35; Romans 15:1.

Ought not: James 3:10; 1 Timothy 5:13; Acts 17:29; 2 Samuel 13:12; Genesis 34:7.

A $100 FACTORY REBATE

Install Gas Air Conditioning now, and you'll not only be cool the first day this spring . . . you'll save a cool $100! Buy before May 1st and you'll receive a $100 rebate direct from the factory . . . plus you can defer monthly payments until May, too. But $100 and deferred payments are not the only reasons for installing Gas Air Conditioning.

Gas Air Conditioning Systems are very energy efficient. They now use less gas energy because the constantly burning gas pilot has been replaced with a new pilotless ignition system. Pilotless ignition saves gas, and saving gas will save you money.

Gas Air Conditioning is also very dependable. It's built to last and last with no loss of cooling capacity. Hand-crafted of sturdy stainless steel components, Gas Air Conditioning has fewer moving parts and no compressor to wear out or break down. That means less wear and lower maintenance costs. And to prove its dependability, Gas Air Conditioning gives you the longest warranty — the 10-year "No Sweat" limited warranty — twice as long as all others.

Gas Air Conditioning. It's energy efficient. It's designed to lower maintenance costs, to lower operating costs. Gas Air Conditioning will save energy and that will save you money. And when you combine Gas Air Conditioning with adequate conservation measures, like caulking, insulation, storm doors and windows, you'll save even more.

But don't wait too long. The $100 rebate ends May 1, 1981. Call now for a free home cooling survey and cost estimate. There's no obligation.

Manufacturer's limited warranty covers all defects in material and workmanship on the sealed refrigeration unit for ten years from date of installation of the air conditioner when it is installed in a single-family residence. All other parts are warranted for one year from date of installation.

PLACIDITY

"Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee. Because he trusteth in thee." Isaiah 26:3

"The peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus." Phillipians 4:7

God has never promised life without trouble nor progress without striving. He has, however, promised that amid the tumult and strife He would give us an inner peace if we let Him live in our hearts.

Learn about this unusual peace offered to all freely.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
