

All Around the Town

by Mary Ann Sarchet

The view from the wildcat being drilled by Dowling Petroleum on the Cogdell ranch is breathtaking. The location is near the edge of the caprock on the north side of the canyon.

Most people were already familiar with that view of the canyon, since the "narrows" used to be a popular place for hikers to go, but I hadn't seen it until recently. It amazed me to see how many different layers of the earth's surface are showing in the south side of the canyon wall.

Caliche was mined near the site for the improvement of the road to the location, and it is such a good road now that the Jarus Flowers family probably feels like it lives on the freeway.

Drilling is underway on this Cogdell wildcat and on the Dorothy Bomar No. 1 being drilled by Gunn Oil.

We understand that another wildcat has been staked on the Charlotte Etgen farm, which is near where the Jerry Millhollons and Doug Forbes live. Apparently another location has already been selected on the Cogdell ranch near where the wildcat is now being drilled.

In what I considered to be a surprise move, Marathon Oil Company has filed a completion report on the Pascal Garrison No. 1. The report indicates that the well was spudded December 18, drilling was completed March 17, and testing was completed March 17. The well pumped 1.7 barrels of 36 gravity oil and 17 barrels of water. Total depth was 8375 feet. We knew that there was a "Christmas tree" in this hole, and it seems to me that the completion report indicates a reluctance to plug the hole. The reason for this is not clear to anyone that I can find, unless it helps Marathon hold the lease.

Some people think maybe Marathon "made a mistake" and brought in a well here before they were "really ready to do so." This caused the price of leases to go up at a time when perhaps Marathon didn't have as many acres under lease as they had planned to get. If there's not a reason behind all that has gone on in the oil business, then Marathon certainly is good at playing a "cat and mice" game with our people. (Again, this could be their way of holding the lease.)

Gasoline is going up at the pump again, and even though this is distasteful to people at this season of summer vacations, an increase in prices could bring renewed interest in wildcatting. The oil glut did seem to make drilling prices a little more competitive, but it also reduced the amount of exploration being done everywhere. There have been lots of roughnecks out of work, and some of them have filtered through Briscoe County looking for work. They haven't been hiring at the rigs that are drilling here now like they did at first, because more of the workers are following the rigs to hold onto their jobs.

We keep hearing the rumor that more exploration is in the offing for the area below the caprock in Briscoe County. We have also heard the prediction that 1984 should be the big year for oil exploration here.

Can't say where these ideas come from—but sometimes these sources have contributed ideas that have proven to have merit.

Rural Infant Education Program Available In Silverton Area

This community is about to join others in a nine-county area which receives the services of a homebound teacher provided by Central Plains MH/MR for children from birth to three years of age.

Central Plains MH/MR recently received additional grant money for its Rural Infant Education Program (RIEP) and is able to reach new towns in the region it serves (Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Motley, Parmer and Swisher).

The children who are the special concern of the Rural Infant Education Program are those who need education and habilitation because they are physically and/or mentally handicapped or because they are high risk infants. They must be in the age range of newborn to three years of age and live in one of the nine counties served to receive help.

The program itself is geared to teach parents and their children in the following areas: daily living skills (such as dressing, feeding and toilet training); gross motor skills (physical abilities, like sitting alone, crawling, walking, etc.); fine motor skills (grasping and releasing objects, use of small muscles to manipulate objects); language (beginning with the development of cooing and babbling and learning to speak in sentences); cognitive skills (developing thinking skills and problem-solving skills); sensory training (training in developing the five senses), and many other areas, according to the child's needs.

Mrs. Pam Baker, the homebound teacher who will serve this area, explained the services also include a transdisciplinary assessment by a team of professionals working with the parents. Mrs. Baker said the team includes a speech pathologist, physical and occupational therapists, a physician, a social worker, a psychologist and an education specialist.

In explaining the focus of the program, Mrs. Baker said a high risk infant was one "born as a result of a problem or high risk pregnancy. Often the mother is under 17 years of age or over 35.

"Sometimes, too, there are problems with diabetes or high blood pressure in the mother, or a family history of inherited disorders. In some instances," the teacher continued, "there might have been a structural problem in the mother's pelvis, or the mother might have been very underweight or overweight. Sometimes a mother and child do not have the same RH blood factor and there are severe problems at birth. Then, of course, there are infections, additions or consumption of drugs, a history of previous miscarriages or stillbirths or unwanted pregnancies—all of these are high risk factors."

Those are some of the problems in a pregnancy that may bring a child to RIEP. Others are present at the birth itself. "If a child is premature or has a very low birthweight," continued Mrs. Baker, "there may be a slower than normal maturing process. We can help to stimulate the child to achieve his or her best. Sometimes, at birth, a child doesn't breathe at once and the deficiency of oxygen can injure it. Other conditions include breech births, the unusually large size of an infant or even an extremely long labor. Cesarean sections often mean some complications in the health of the infant."

Mrs. Baker also said that, during the first four weeks of life, a child may become one designated "high risk" because of serum bilirubin over 20 mg 100 ml or an exchange transfusion, a toxic mother, maternal diabetes, sucking or swallowing difficulties, failure to thrive, convulsions, cyanotic attacks or severe apneic spells (babies sometimes "forget" to breathe), PKU, abnormal neurological signs and severe illnesses and injuries.

Mrs. Baker noted that, during the postnatal period, a single parent or a very young mother (under 17 years of age) may have special problems with a newborn. Additionally, the premature child or a sick newborn who has had a long hospital stay, a child from a large family or from low socio-economic class, or one who suffers from physical or emotional abuse—all may benefit from the specialized educational techniques offered by the program.

"Sometimes neighbors or relatives see poor mother-child interaction, know of a history of psychiatric illness in one or both parents or see a child with injuries or severe illnesses. Sometimes they just note the peculiar appearance of a child and think, 'Isn't that too bad. I wish there was something I could do,'" Mrs. Baker said. "That's why the Rural Infant Education Program was begun. We can come and help families get adequate medical care or counseling and training for that very special child who is important to all of us."

Mrs. Baker urges anyone interested in the program to contact the Mental Health Office nearest his home (Tulia at 995-3720) or write to the Rural Infant Education Program at 214 W. 11th in Plainview, Texas 79072.

They arrived at the lake on Thursday of last week. At the same time, 50,000 fish were sent to White River Lake.

Mrs. J. W. Lyon, sr. of Quitaque, mother of Briscoe County Attorney J. W. Lyon, jr., has been quite ill in the hospital at Tulia for several days.

FOR FATHER'S DAY NOTHING SATISFIES LIKE BEEF

Beef for Father's Day is more than just a tradition—it's an institution.

Over 70 years ago, Mrs. John Dodd of Spokane, Washington, expressed a desire to set aside a day for honoring fathers. And in 1953, Mrs. Thomas C. Currier of Grand Junction, Colorado, urged her local CowBelle chapter (the women's auxiliary of the National Cattlemen's Assn.) to begin promoting beef as an ideal Father's Day dish.

Together, these women have created an institution—Beef for Father's Day. While attempts had often been made to secure recognition for fathers, it wasn't until 1924 that Father's Day emerged as a national holiday as the result of a recommendation presented by Calvin Coolidge. Its position among national holidays was confirmed by the signing of a Father's Day bill by Richard M. Nixon in 1972.

In 1955, the CowBelles extended their Beef for Father's Day program nationally and in 1962 joined efforts with the National Live Stock and Meat Board's Beef Industry Council.

The two groups work with retailers and various national and local cattlemen's organizations to establish good-tasting, nutritious beef as the food to serve dad on his special day. In fact, beef has been endorsed as the official Father's Day entree by the Father's Day Council.

According to Mrs. Sarah Childs of Lake Placid, Florida, this year's chairman of the CowBelles' Beef for Father's Day campaign, serving beef on special occasions is a natural. "Fathers and families want something special to celebrate this special day," says Childs. "We've found that nothing satisfies like beef—especially on Father's Day. When it comes to serving something special for Father's Day, beef more than fills the bill."

Luncheon Held In Tullia Recently

The March of Time Study Club held its regular May meeting in Tullia on Thursday, May 13. The members traveled together and met in private session at K-Bob's Restaurant for their annual president's luncheon honoring Luree Burson, president of the club. The membership presented her with a silk corsage made with the club's colors of blue and white. As president, her theme for the year has been "Honoring The Pleasures of Our Fifty Years."

March of Time Study Club was organized in 1930 and became federated with The Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in 1931.

"Pleasures in Art" was the topic of the meeting and Jewell Lyon led the group in a devotional and closed with a prayer before the luncheon. Following the meal, the club went for a tour of the Kenneth Wyatt Studio.

The studio is an enjoyable and inspiring study within itself. Mrs. Wyatt was hostess to the club and led them throughout the contemporary western style home studio and grounds. The entire surrounding, even to the very small detail, gives strong feeling of an "artist-author in residence". Kenneth Wyatt's paintings, books, collections, sculpture, architecture and landscaping have a close continuity of unified artistry and talent.

Following the tour, the March of Time Study Club enjoyed an antique hunt and refreshment hour. The club's community and civic projects were discussed and plans for the fiftieth anniversary meeting on June 14. In addition to the board members, L. B. Garvin, Ray Teeple, Stanley Fogerson, Don Burson and Joe Mercer, the chief appraiser, Carlye Hill, was also present.

The meeting was called to order by the president, L. B. Garvin, and the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The board adopted a 1983 budget of $75,000 and approved the bills which were presented.

The motion was made by Stan Fogerson and seconded by Joe Mercer to purchase a new IBM typewriter for the office.

Mrs. Hill reported on work being done in the office at the present time. Extra help has been required in order to bring the Briscoe County delinquent tax roll up to date. There has been a tremendous amount of book work and research involved in this project. Letters are being prepared this week asking some of the taxpayers for their help in correcting these records.

Reappraisal notices have been mailed out to all taxpayers whose property values have increased $1,000 or more over last year's value. Mrs. Hill reported that the Board of Review will meet July 1 in the tax office from 9:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m.

Briscoe County Extension Agent

Do your family a favor—make a will. You provide for them in life, but many fail to provide for their family after their death.

A will makes estate-settling less painful for survivors. Without a will property is distributed according to the state laws of descent and distribution and may not be the way you would choose to have it divided.

A will also allows you to name an executor to help in settling an estate. It generally costs more money to die without a will than it does if there is one, because of extra attorney fees.

Trusts allow people to take advantage of tax savings and to provide for flexible arrangements for minor children.

Because of the changes in the tax laws due to the Economic Recovery Act, you may need to update an existing will.

The public is invited to a program of up-to-date information on wills and trusts Thursday, June 17, at 8:00 p.m. at the First National Bank in Quitaque.

Take advantage of this FREE information. You can't "take it with you," but you can decide what to do with "it."
