All Around
The Town

BY MARY ANN SARCHET

You know you are in a small town when:

*The runway of the airport is terraced.

*The polka is more popular than disco on Saturday night.

*Third Street is on the edge of town.

*Every sport is played on dirt.

*The editor and publisher of the newspaper carry a camera at all times.

*You don't use your turn signal, because everyone knows where you're going.

*You are born on June 13, and your family receives gifts from the local merchants, because you are the first baby of the year.

*You speak to each dog you pass by name, and he wags at you as he passes.

*You dial a wrong number and talk for fifteen minutes anyway.

*You are run off Main Street by a combine.

*You can't walk for exercise because every car that passes you offers a ride.

*You get married and the local paper devotes a quarter page to the story.

*You drive into the ditch five miles out of town, and the word gets back before you do.

*The biggest business in town sells farm machinery.

*You write a check on the wrong bank and it covers it for you.

*The pickups on Main Street out-number the cars three to one.

*You miss a Sunday at church and receive a get-well card.

*Someone asks you how you feel, then listens to what you say.

Thank goodness for small towns... and the people who live in them.

Forbes Honored By Plainview Daily Herald

The Silverton Owls are idle this week as a result of the game with Jayton JV, which had been scheduled tonight, having been cancelled due to personnel shortage. The Owls will resume play next week, hosting New Life Christian School of Lubbock in the annual homecoming event.

Last week the Owls had one of their backs, Jim Forbes, recognized as Player of the Week by the Plainview Daily Herald.

Being in their first year of participation in six-man football, the Owls played Cotton Center, an established six-man power, in their last grid outing. Nothing seemed to point to a Silverton victory.

Realizing this problem, Coach Marvin Self made some big changes which produced a victory for the Owls. Running back Forbes benefitted from the changes to record his best day of the season, thus earning him the Plainview Daily Herald Player of the Week honors.

JIM FORBES

Forbes, a senior, rushed for 217 yards and scored four touchdowns to lead the Owls to a 38-23 victory. The win marked the first for the Owls since changing to the six-man format. The interesting fact behind Forbes' efforts is that they were accomplished behind an offensive line that was composed of three players with no previous starting experience.

"We changed the whole line with the exception of our starting center, and we moved him to end," explained Self on his new linemen. "They were the key to the game; they opened up the holes for Jim and he took advantage of it."

The Silverton running back carried the ball 26 times. "Jim ran the ball real well and also played an outstanding game on defense. He carried the ball an awful lot and not only made the touchdowns, but made some key runs to keep drives going. He is very confident and wants the ball in important situations," commented Self.

Forbes had touchdown runs of 44, 38, 15 and 10 yards and recorded his fourth straight 100-yard plus game of the season. Teammate Russell Simpson also enjoyed a productive night, rushing for 201 yards on 18 carries.

Coach Self is looking forward to the game next week, hoping that the injury problems will be behind his team and that they will record a second victory.

Reports

Amendment No. 3

AUSTIN — For years Texas agriculture had available a method by which it could promote its goods, thereby creating more jobs in the industry and related industries such as finance, trucking, railroading, storage, processing and exporting.

However, a court decision in 1975 determined that the refundable self-assessment program constituted a "tax" and since farm products in the hands of producers are exempt from taxation, the court declared the program unconstitutional.

On November 8th, Texas voters will have the final say as to whether producer organizations of commodities such as wheat, cotton, corn, grain sorghum, soybeans and others can assess refundable fees on their own producers in an effort to expand markets and sales of the products.

Those who favor the amendment say that it will help correct a problem which now finds 40 per cent of all crop land in Texas idle. They add that if new markets can be found and portions of this idle land can be put into production that in turn it will create thousands of new job opportunities in many industries throughout the state.

There would be no cost to the state. Assessments are made on the producers. Those who do not wish to participate can request a refund. Finally, it is the producers themselves who would vote on whether assessments should be levied.

Those who disagree with the proposal say that producers should not be required to contribute for promotion unless they want to contribute. They also say that since producer boards are quasi-governmental that they would be intervening in private enterprise and that the government does not promote other types of products.

George Custer was the youngest American man ever to make rank of General in the American army—he achieved that by age 23.

The child trusts him. He buys the child candy, takes the child to movies, gives the child his time when no one else will. He is the child's special friend.

The child does not want to lose his friend. The child will do anything to keep him. Besides, he is a grown-up; he knows what is right and what is wrong.

Child pornographers can destroy precious moments of childhood.

When a camera is held by a pornographer, the child will be haunted by the experience for the remainder of his life.

According to the Texas Department of Human Resources, studies show that a majority of those who are sexually abused as children will become child molesters as adults. The wreckage of the life of a sexually abused child is devastating and society pays the price.

Anyone from a stranger to a close friend or family member can be a sexual abuser of children. The Crime Stoppers Advisory Council for the month of November is concentrating its efforts on the prevention and apprehension of child pornographers in Texas.

Parents, family members and friends are encouraged to become informed on ways to prevent children from becoming involved with child pornographers and sexual abusers, and learn to recognize the symptoms of a child under a pornographer's influence.

Persons with information on child pornographers are asked to call their local Crime Stoppers program or the toll-free Texas Crime Stopper's hotline at 1-800-252-TIPS anytime, day or night.

MR. AND MRS. LOYD MIZE

Former Residents Celebrate Anniversary

Loyd and Elbia Mize of Noble, Oklahoma celebrated fifty years of marriage with a buffet luncheon and reception Sunday, October 2, at the Cleveland County Fair Building there.

The celebration was hosted by the couple's children and grandchildren. The luncheon was held at noon and a reception began at 2:00 p.m. Members of her family who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey McJimsey, Silverton; Mrs. Vicki Perry, Mr. and Mrs. George McJimsey and family, Amarillo; Mrs. Helen Strickland, Lubbock, and Mrs. Roxanna Schofield, San Antonio.

Mize met the former Elbia McJimsey in Holdenville, Oklahoma, where she was visiting relatives. Four years later, Mize showed up in Silverton where Miss McJimsey resided. He took a job here and courted his future wife for the next eight months. They were married here October 7, 1933, in the home of R. E. Douglas, officiating minister.

Mrs. Mize recalls that the two of them chopped cotton the day before their wedding to earn the money to buy their wedding clothes.

The couple lived in Silverton for the next four years, then moved to Holdenville, where Mize farmed for six years. In 1944, the family moved to Norman.

Mize worked for a number of Norman business firms, then took a job with the University of Oklahoma Golf Course. He retired from OU in 1972.

Mrs. Mize reared the couple's seven children. She enjoys reading and gardening. Her husband is an avid fisherman.

The pair's children are Mrs. Cenith Smith, Lexington, Oklahoma; Mrs. Myrtle Coates, Mrs. Laveda Hensley and Frank Mize, all of Noble, Oklahoma; Mrs. Vivian Lairson, Davis, Oklahoma and Leroy Mize and Jerry Mize, both of Norman, Oklahoma. Mr. and Mrs. Mize also have 17 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Ted Hester was transported to the Amarillo Emergency Receiving Center Friday by the Silverton Volunteer Ambulance Service, after he had suffered a heart attack here. The ambulance transferred him to St. Anthony's Hospital, where he had open heart surgery and two by-passes later that same day. He is reported to be recovering well and is now in Room 285.

E. H. (Lefty) Vaughn underwent surgery at Central Plains Hospital in Plainview early last week.

Extension Club Enjoys Program On Stitchery

The Progressive Extension Homemakers met Monday, September 26, for their regular meeting with Dorothy Martin as hostess. Janet Hunt presented a program on stitchery, including crewel, needlepoint, counted cross stitch, punch point and other forms of creative stitchery.

After club members were served refreshments, president Sue Martin conducted the business meeting. Members decided to sponsor the Halloween Carnival. It will be held this year in the newly-remodeled show barn. It is hoped that all clubs and organizations will take part by having booths.

If you are planning to participate and need information, call Sue Martin at 823-2354 or 847-2585, or Ramona Martin at 847-2260.

Present at the meeting were Beverly Minyard, Pat McWaters, Dorothy Martin, Ramona Martin, Bena Hester, Roy Reed, Debbie Weeks, Vicki Bean, Terry Harney, Sue Martin, Marsha Brunson, Judy Gill, Jon Etta Ziegler, Tisa Whitfill and Kathy Kingery. Guests for the meeting were Janet Hunt and Marsha Green.

Extension Homemakers Convene In Lubbock

Lubbock gave a breezy welcome to some 850 Texas Extension Homemakers who arrived in the city on Tuesday, September 20, to attend the 57th annual TEHA convention at the Civic Center. Tuesday's activities included tours and entertainment. During the evening program, a number of door prizes, donated by District 2 Homemakers, were given. Briscoe County gave a wooden towel rack purchased from Leslie Meier, local craftsman.

Wednesday morning Mrs. Julia Gill of New Home led convention delegates in singing as they entered the auditorium. At 9:00 a.m. the board members formed a processional and took their places on stage as the TEHA song, "Ever Onward," was played. An honor guard from Reese Air Force Base presented the colors, and homemakers recited the pledges to the American and Texas flags. The invocation and devotional was given by Mrs. Alice Lowrie of Lubbock. The welcome was by District 2 Director Nell Finney of Tulia. Dr. Elizabeth Haley, Dean of the College of Home Economics at Texas Tech University, greeted the visitors. Dr. Stephen Jorgensen, associate dean of Home Economics at TTU, spoke on "The American Family of Tomorrow." He assured the audience that marriage is alive and well in America, and marriage and children remain popular. Some think another baby boom may come in the 1990s. He listed several problems that would face the family of the future, including (1) 30% of Texas adults are functionally illiterate; (2) Child abuse increases; (3) Adolescent pregnancy; (4) Dual-earner families produces high-level stress; (5) Alcohol and drug abuse; (6) Aging of population—more old people, less young. Homemakers will need to seek solutions to these problems.

The keynote address was "Changing and Feeling Good," given by Tony Brigmon, Goodwill Ambassador for Southwest Airlines. His speech was supported by several songs which he wrote and sang. Four points he made were (1) You get what you expect, not what you want; (2) Music influences you more than you know; (3) Stress can be your worst enemy or your best friend;

(4) Improvement is possible. He gave several pointers and amusing stories to show how to make stressful situations work for everyone—and local clubwomen have already put some of his ideas to the test.

At noon Wednesday a luncheon was served in the banquet hall and Lynn County Homemakers presented an Umbrella Style Show. There was a model and an umbrella to represent each month of the year.

During the afternoon session, President Elna Richards presided and reports were given from TEHA contributions and Pennies For Friendship. The Certified Volunteer Unit program was explained, and the Messenger editor gave a report.

In the evening, Jim Percell, Chemical People Project Coordinator, spoke and showed a film. He stated that multi-drug use is epidemic, where a generation ago most users stuck to one drug. The problem of drug abuse cannot be solved by the police and government, but must be acted upon by the people who care—the volunteers. The best weapon in the war on drugs is parents and families. He believes that it is important for parents to be at home with their children. He said "Ozzie and Harriet were there." A film, "The Chemical People," will be shown over public television on November 2 and 9. This will be shown on KTXT in Lubbock. A commercial television station in Amarillo will show it. (Watch for later advertisement.) It was suggested that town meetings be organized to view this program and to get involved in a taskforce afterward to deal with the drug problem in the local community. No community is immune, no matter how small it may be.

The final day of the convention got underway with educational workshops on Health, Membership, Young Homemakers, Legislative, Family Life, and International Understanding, featuring a number of excellent speakers and panelists. Each county received a packet of material, which is to be kept in the Extension office in each county, for use by all Extension homemaker clubs and other clubs desiring to use it.

Thursday afternoon the final business session convened for the purpose of conducting business and giving reports. Among these was a report on the six state TEHA scholarship winners. These went to 4-H girls in five districts. Next year there will be another state scholarship added. This was the original purpose for organizing TEHA. Individual districts give additional 4-H scholarships.

The convention closed with a banquet on Thursday evening. The tables were colorfully decorated with denim circles, centered with small cotton bales tied with red bandanas. Each guest received a denim napkin ring as a place favor. Most guests also wore cotton-boll corsages, made by District 2 women. Briscoe County homemakers assisted in decorating tables for the banquet. Briscoe Cooperative Gin and Silverton Gin, Inc. were among the gins which donated money to purchase the cotton bales. Southwestern Extension Homemakers Club was very pleased to have 70% of its members in attendance at the convention. Mrs. Theta Holt and Mrs. Frances Kellum attended one day. Attending the entire convention were Mrs. Florene Fitzgerald, Mrs. Syble Teeple, Mrs. Lois Ziegler, Mrs. Polly Jarrett and Mrs. Lanita Cantwell. All returned anxious to plan a good program of Extension work for 1984.

Extension clubs are open to all homemakers, regardless of race, color, sex or national origin. Briscoe County has two Extension clubs, Southwestern and Progressive. If you are interested in joining one of these clubs, or in organizing another club, contact Extension Agent Lynda Fogerson for more information. The goal of these clubs is "Reaching People and Training Leaders."

High Winds, Wall Of Dirt Roll Through Area

Lynn Payne, Jack McFall, Riley Harris and Danny Perkins were pictured with the first bale of cotton that was ginned at Harris Gin last week for Carol Davis. The cotton was harvested north of town from a field that had been damaged by hail and the early freeze. —Briscoe County News Photo

A wall of dirt pushed by high winds and accompanied by .35 of an inch of moisture moved through Silverton late Sunday afternoon. One utility pole east of the Bill Hardin home was blown down and several were blown down in the rural area.

Even though little moisture accompanied the storm, there was enough to dampen the dust a little. Rainfall was heavier in the southwest part of the county.

Sunday's rainfall brought the 1983 total to date to 12.80 inches, as recorded by Fred Strange. This shows that the city is lagging badly behind in the norms, the annual measurement usually being around 20.50 inches.

Some of the eastern part of Briscoe County is much drier than Silverton. Quitaque recorded only about half an inch of rainfall during September. Mrs. Allen Kellum reported to the Briscoe County News last week that they haven't received enough moisture even to sprout the volunteer wheat. Many farmers in the western portion of the county have planted and have their wheat up, but are needing rain on it.

Meanwhile farmers have crops that are suffering the effects of the early freeze, which occurred about 2:00 a.m. on September 21, when the temperature recorded by Fred Strange dropped below 31 degrees. The lowest temperatures were in low lying areas, but crop damage can be found everywhere. Some of the crops also had received a hail before that time.

The amount of damage will vary because of the variation in planting dates last spring. Some cotton was almost to the point where defoliation was being planned, so it saved a spray bill for those farmers (if the crop was completely killed) but much of the later cotton will suffer a reduction in yield. Those lower set bolls which were open, or near maturity, can be counted on to make cotton.

If the bolls have gotten soft and mushy then severe damage has occurred. It takes a few days for the full impact of damage to show up, but there are fields where leaves have turned black and dropped off. The cotton crop may have been nipped about 20% by the early freeze.

Milo damage also varied from completely killed plants to moderate leaf kill. Late fields of milo were completely killed and need to be watched if producers are intending to graze such forage. They will need to wait until the prussic acid levels diminish. More mature fields will suffer reduced grain weight. A stress like this hurts the test weights at harvest.

The corn harvest is just about finished, and this is good, because the high winds would have taken a toll on the corn had it still been standing in the field.

Soybeans are another crop that is highly sensitive to severe weather changes. Most beans are fairly well into pod fill and hopefully will retain enough foliage to complete bean formation.

Many garden plants were completely ruined by the freeze, and landscape plants will require moisture to guarantee healthy plants for next spring.

Some utility poles were blown over in the windstorm that hit Briscoe County Sunday afternoon. This pole was located east of the Bill Hardin home.

Cats will refuse water if it's too warm or too cold. The best kind is tap water allowed to stand at room temperature. Remember to refresh it often.

Curry Motor Freight Sold To Central

Adding to the largest intra-state freight system in the country, Central Freight Lines of Waco recently announced the purchase of Curry Motor Freight, a company headquartered in Amarillo which serves Silverton.

Forty of the 500 persons employed by Curry work at the Lubbock terminal.

The sale is subject to Interstate Commission approval because both lines carry freight initiated by a Maryland freight company.

With common operating points in Austin and San Antonio, Curry works basically a West Texas area and Central Freight works the East Texas region.

Curry Motor Freight has roots in Tulia. It was established many years ago by the late A. F. Curry of Tulia. As it grew, it was sold to other concerns which continued to use the Curry name.

Mrs. Jean Martin of Inadell visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brooks a few days recently. She left to return home on Monday morning of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sarchet were in Amarillo Friday to have a toe she had broken the night before set.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

One of England's most gifted and respected men admitted that when he was a college student he was so wayward and unruly his family unanimously predicted he would go to the bad. Many joined in talking him down. He determined he would be as bad as everyone predicted. He would live up or down to their expectation. One night, in the wee hours, he crept unsteadily to his bedroom. A hallway door opened, and his grandmother stood there with a lighted candle. Hand lovingly on his shoulder she said just five words. "John, I believe in you." And there in the darkness of his room he made up his mind that his life was going to change. It did. With someone to believe in him, he came to believe in himself.

A study of First and Second Corinthians makes it clear that the Corinthian church had many glaring, grievous problems, but in spite of this Paul wrote, "Our hope for you is unshaken" (2 Cor. 1:7, RSV). The repentant congregation then became a "comfort" to Titus (2 Cor. 7:6-16) and to the exhilarated Paul who wrote, "I rejoice that in everything I am of good courage concerning you."

Undoubtedly there is someone you are going to meet today who needs a vote of confidence. Is your ballot ready?

"'Tis not a lip, or eye, we beauty call, but the joint force and full result of all."
Alexander Pope

Mrs. Opal Grabbe and Steven Lain, along with Susan Edwards and Nolan of Amarillo returned Friday after attending the eight-day Annual Festival of the World Wide Church of God in Rapid City, South Dakota. They were able to do some sightseeing along the way. They visited the outdoor zoo in Colorado Springs, the U. S. Mint and The Museum of Natural History in Denver, the Boot Hill Gold Mine, the famous Fort Laramie in Wyoming. In South Dakota, they saw the Black Forest, the Badlands, Bear Country, the historic town of Deadwood, the Reptile Gardens, the fantastic Mount Rushmore and the Berglum Story concerning its construction.

inflation fighting ideas

NEWS OF PROGRESS

Here's a fact on food costs that's easy to swallow: In the past 30 years, the percent of disposable personal income the average American family spends on food has dropped by nearly 25 percent.

A good deal of the credit for the cost reduction goes to the American farmer and his use of innovative farming methods and manners.

A lot of assistance comes from crop protection chemicals. According to one scientist, Norman Borlaug, winner of the Nobel Prize for his work in agricultural engineering, without these chemicals, up to half the U.S. food crop could be lost every year.

One important protector is an herbicide called 2,4-D. It has been used widely and safely for more than 35 years to selectively control broad-leaved weeds in crops, rangeland and pastures. Recently, the United States Department of Agriculture studied the safety of this chemical. It found that if an average 175-pound worker applied the chemical for 30 days a year for 30 years, he would absorb and excrete about a gram of the herbicide, about half the weight of a dime. This is several hundred times less than the acceptable daily intake total for the same person and period, as established by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

How much you have to pay for food—and how much food there is available could depend in part on how much herbicides American farmers use. Fortunately, a government report shows one popular herbicide is safe to apply.

Crop protection chemicals help our economy in another way: grain and produce exports contribute $32 billion to our balance of trade. That fights inflation, too.

SOCIAL SECURITY IN BRISCOE COUNTY BY TERRY J. CLEMENTS

The benefit formula under the Social Security program was designed to replace a higher proportion of a low-income worker's average wages than that of a high-income worker's average wages. While the actual dollar amount of the benefits received by the low-income worker was less than that received by the high-income worker, the ratio of benefits to wages was higher. The purpose of this provision was basically social in nature. The rationale was social adequacy—a recognition that people who were employed at low wages throughout their working lives probably had greater needs than did other workers.

However, it has been agreed that "weighting" of the benefit formula has provided "Windfalls" to some people for whom this provision was never intended to apply. Many individuals who worked for a number of years in employment not covered by Social Security became eligible for relatively high benefits after working only a few years in covered employment. Although they were "low-income" workers for Social Security purposes and were receiving payments in high proportion to their average earnings, they were reaping the benefits of the social adequacy aspect of Social Security that was not intended.

To overcome this, a modified benefit formula has been enacted. It will take effect after 1985 and apply to workers who are eligible for both of the following:

*A pension based on employment not covered by Social Security and,

*Social Security retirement or disability benefits.

The formula generally will not apply to railroad employees, workers with at least 30 years of Social Security coverage, or to Federal employees or employees of nonprofit organizations who become newly covered under Social Security on January 1, 1984.

After a five-year phase-in period, a factor of 40 percent (instead of the current 90 per-

CARDS OF THANKS

Thanks so very much to the greatest EMT crew and a special thanks to those of that crew that came to my aid when I was sick. Also to those who took me to the hospital and stayed so long.

Thanks also for the phone calls, visits, prayers, flowers and gifts.

May God bless each of you.
Love,
Mary Grantham

I would like to thank Katy Robison, owner of Heads & Heels, for helping me in the Miss Floyd County Pageant.

Thanks again,
Donna Tomlin

We would like to thank the Silverton Volunteer Ambulance Service for its quick response to our call for help and its service to me enroute to the hospital.

Thanks to Helen Strange for calling the ambulance for us.

Thanks, too, for the cards and every expression of your concern.

Lena Rhea and family
