Last week I spoke of a 'lucid fatigue' – I wish to refine that thought and mention what the poet calls a "blessed fatigue". Fatigue can be blessed because it sometimes tells you something valuable. It might tell you why it is that you are experiencing the symptom; it might tell you that it is an undesirable physiological state (and wrapped up in that are psychological and/or spiritual states), one that you'd just as soon exit, similar to how the rumble strips on the edge of a traffic lane tell you that you are headed for the ditch, and you'd just as soon get back in a lane.

It can also be a blessed fatigue if it causes you to cease activity and give yourself the relief, generally in the form of rest, that you require. That is, if you can read the signs, hear the still, small voice, and stop the manic hyperactivity that we all generally fall prey to, as if we were E.R. physicians on a 36-hour shift, and as if running on fumes, adrenaline, and stimulants was a normal way of functioning.

The voice which requests that we stop is not domineering, like the voice of the world. It is so subtle that it is easy to miss, and even easier to dismiss. But a blessed fatigue is an opportunity to actually see where you are on the highway, and whether that is the right direction to be traveling – or whether you should be traveling at this time, at all. If you pay attention, you might find that you have "been saved by a blessed fatigue."

COMPETED AT STATE: Ashlyn Akemon, Pavan Patel, Kash Long, and Raj Bhakta competed at the FFA State Dairy Cattle CDE.

Reynolds (from Page 1) of Charles and Joyce Gragg. She was raised in Shamrock, Texas, where she attended school, became a vital member of the community, raised her family and eventually left this earthly home to join our Lord on May 1st, 2023. She is preceded in death by her parents, her younger sister, Vickie Moore, and her first husband, Truman "Bud" Brashears, who passed from this life in 1993. She is survived by her loving husband of 23 years, Jesse Reynolds, of Shamrock, Texas, two brothers Ricky Don and Ronald of Shamrock, two sons and daughters-in-law Brad and Lori Brashears of Fort Morgan, Colorado and Todd and Mindy Brashears of Lubbock, Texas. In addition, she leaves behind five granddaughters, Bailey Brashears of London, Ontario, Canada; Maddie Davis and husband, Cody, of Fort Morgan, Colorado; Reagan Jimenez and husband, Eli, of Lubbock, Texas; Kinsey Brashears of Toronto, Canada and Presley Brashears of Ft. Worth, Texas. Maddie and Cody's two children, Em-eryn and Kaiser, are Dianne's great-grandchildren. Those who knew Dianne, know that in addition to her immediate family, she also loved and provided for many of the extended family as well, caring for Vickie's daughter, Jennifer, and her children, Tristen, Payten, Tansley, Lleyten and Denten, as if they were her own. She referred to the kids as her "grandkids" in every conversation and loved them with all her heart.

The adjective most often used to describe Dianne during her battle with illness later in life was "strong." She was, in fact, a strong woman later in life because she learned to be a strong woman early on from two matriarchs, who had great influence over her as a Christian woman, wife, mother and grandmother. Her mother, Joyce Gragg, was as close to a local legend as exists in Wheeler County. For decades, Joyce was a model of consistency, passion, persistence and love as she guided her family through the competitive trials of life... never wavering, never doubting. She expected greatness and demanded it from all her children, Dianne included.

Beginning with her days at Shamrock High School, with Joyce watching on, Dianne developed a reputation as a strong competitor. A member of the band, a twirler and star of the high school basketball team, she fought to be the best at whatever she attempted; a characteristic that would follow her throughout her life. She was a life-long athlete, competing for years in local volleyball leagues and traveled the state to compete in adult tennis tournaments. Her collection of trophies in these events was so extensive, it filled entire walls in the garage and barn at her home. She would eventually pass those skills on as she coached at the same school where she herself competed. As mother-in-law, LD Brashears provided a different type of role model, influencing Dianne in her walk with Jesus and encouraging her to pass that belief on to her children and beyond. During her children's formidable years, Dianne's presence and participation at the Church of Christ in Shamrock was machine-like. Sunday morning, Sunday evening and Wednesday night activities were not debatable within the family and the fifth row on the left side of the sanctuary was occupied if the door to the building was unlocked. LD's constant support and unwavering faith impacted not only Dianne but subsequent generations of family and community members. Dianne would become a strong Christian in large part due to LD's influence.

Being a strong Christian and a strong competitor would serve her well throughout her life as she faced no shortage of trials that would test her more than what most people should be allowed in a single lifetime. When her sister Vickie was seriously injured in a car accident in 1977 leaving her paralyzed, her daughter Jennifer came to live with Dianne and her family. When her husband Bud was diagnosed with stage four cancer in the early 80's, she realized the responsibility for providing for Brad, Todd and Jennifer was about to fall squarely on her shoulders. She responded by getting her teaching degree from West Texas College, driving to Canyon almost every day for four years. She completed that degree in the spring of 1986 and began a career in teaching English, coaching tennis and eventually would earn a master's degree in library science from her beloved Texas Tech University. She was a strong leader for her family and a strong advocate for education. This path in life led her to influence hundreds of students over her career who still consider her a great role model.

Growing up in a time and place where women weren't expected to be strong, she broke the mold and modeled the characteristics she learned from Joyce and LD and passed those on to her five granddaughters. Bailey, Maddie, Reagan, Kinsey and Presley are each fiercely independent, highly educated, strongly opinionated, and equipped to navigate the world which lies before them. They are a reflection of Dianne and her beliefs. Watching her battling a debilitating illness for 15 years taught them the true meaning of strength; and what it means to face life and its challenges as a fearless, confident, God-fearing woman. The true legacy Dianne leaves behind is not in records, trophies, degrees or even her beautiful quilts. It is her heart for Jesus and never-give-up attitude that has inspired so many around her.

She is clothed with strength and dignity, and she laughs without fear of the future. When she speaks, her words are wise, and she gives instructions with kindness. She carefully watches everything in her household and suffers nothing from laziness. Her children stand and bless her. Her husband praises her: "There are many virtuous and capable women in the world, but you surpass them all!" Charm is deceptive, and beauty does not last; but a woman who fears the LORD will be greatly praised. Reward her for all she has done. Let her deeds publicly declare her praise. - Proverbs 31: 25-31

TEXAS COMMISSION ON ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY
NOTICE OF RECEIPT OF APPLICATION AND INTENT TO OBTAIN AIR PERMIT (NORI) RENEWAL

PERMIT NUMBER 54341L002

APPLICATION. Ingram Concrete, LLC, has applied to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) for renewal of Air Quality Permit Number 54341L002, which would authorize continued operation of a Concrete Batch Plant located at 1313 West Oklahoma Avenue, Wheeler, Wheeler County, Texas 79096. This link to an electronic map of the site or facility's general location is provided as a public courtesy and not part of the application or notice. For exact location, refer to application. <https://gisweb.tceq.texas.gov/LocationMapper/?marker=-100.2949,35.44411&level=13>. The existing facility is authorized to emit the following air contaminants: particulate matter including particulate matter with diameters of 10 microns or less and 2.5 microns or less.

This application was submitted to the TCEQ on April 20, 2023. The application will be available for viewing and copying at the TCEQ central office, TCEQ Amarillo regional office, and the Wheeler Public Library, 306 South Canadian Street, Wheeler, Wheeler County, Texas beginning the first day of publication of this notice. The facility's compliance file, if any exists, is available for public review in the Amarillo regional office of the TCEQ.

The executive director has determined the application is administratively complete and will conduct a technical review of the application. Information in the application indicates that this permit renewal would not result in an increase in allowable emissions and would not result in the emission of an air contaminant not previously emitted. The TCEQ may act on this application without seeking further public comment or providing an opportunity for a contested case hearing if certain criteria are met.

PUBLIC COMMENT. You may submit public comments to the Office of the Chief Clerk at the address below. The TCEQ will consider all public comments in developing a final decision on the application and the executive director will prepare a response those comments. Issues such as property values, noise, traffic safety, and zoning are outside of the TCEQ's jurisdiction to address in the permit process.

OPPORTUNITY FOR A CONTESTED CASE HEARING. You may request a contested case hearing if you are a person who may be affected by emissions of air contaminants from the facility. If requesting a contested case hearing, you must submit the following: (1) your name (or for a group or association, an official representative), mailing address, daytime phone number; (2) applicant's name and permit number; (3) the statement "[I/we] request a contested case hearing;" (4) a specific description of how you would be adversely affected by the application and air emissions from the facility in a way not common to the general public; (5) the location and distance of your property relative to the facility; (6) a description of how you use the property which may be impacted by the facility; and (7) a list of all disputed issues of fact that you submit during the comment period. If the request is made by a group or association, one or more members who have standing to request a hearing must be identified by name and physical address. The interests the group or association seeks to protect must also be identified. You may also submit your proposed adjustments to the application/permit which would satisfy your concerns.

The deadline to submit a request for a contested case hearing is 15 days after newspaper notice is published. If a request is timely filed, the deadline for requesting a contested case hearing will be extended to 30 days after mailing of the response to comments.

If any requests for a contested case hearing are timely filed, the Executive Director will forward the application and any requests for a contested case hearing to the Commissioners for their consideration at a scheduled Commission meeting. Unless the application is directly referred to a contested case hearing, the executive director will mail the response to comments along with notification of Commission meeting to everyone who submitted comments or is on the mailing list for this application. The Commission may only grant a request for a contested case hearing on issues the requestor submitted in their timely comments that were not subsequently withdrawn. If a hearing is granted, the subject of a hearing will be limited to disputed issues of fact or mixed questions of fact and law relating to relevant and material air quality concerns submitted during the comment period. Issues such as property values, noise, traffic safety, and zoning are outside of the Commission's jurisdiction to address in this proceeding.

MAILING LIST. In addition to submitting public comments, you may ask to be placed on a mailing list for this application by sending a request to the Office of the Chief Clerk at the address below. Those on the mailing list will receive copies of future public notices (if any) mailed by the Office of the Chief Clerk for this application.

AGENCY CONTACTS AND INFORMATION. Public comments and requests must be submitted either electronically at www14.tceq.texas.gov/epic/eComment/, or in writing to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality, Office of the Chief Clerk, MC-105, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711-3087. Please be aware that any contact information you provide, including your name, phone number, email address and physical address will become part of the agency's public record.

The moisture was appreciated, but it was still plenty dusty mowing the lawn.

Thursday was my mission to get the inspection stickers on both vehicles. I went to the tax office before getting the vehicle inspected.
— cwe —
Since the Rave 4 was parked closest to the courthouse I removed the old sticker, placed the new one on the windshield and left all the paper work in the vehicle so it could be taken to the house.
— cwe —
I then replaced the sticker on the Taurus.
— cwe —
At 5 Margaret came over and said I brought you your sticker. Of course the question was "What sticker?"
— cwe —
It seems I got in her vehicle instead of Barbara's, removed her inspection sticker and replaced it with the one for the Rave 4.
— cwe —
Both vehicles are white van types and were parked next to each other.
— cwe —
Fortunately, Margaret's sticker was not destroyed when it was removed and I had laid her sticker down on the paperwork I left.
She had to remove Barbara's sticker and replace hers.
— cwe —
Our "other daughter", Liz Jackson, came Friday evening; we went out to eat and of course played cards.
— cwe —
Saturday afternoon Jennifer took Seth, two friends and Grandma Bebe to a "Break Room" to celebrate Seth birthday. Greg and I went to watch. Dishes, bottles, pictures, phones, vases, etc are in the room for participants to break with bats, hammers, crowbars, sledge hammers, etc.
— cwe —
On Saturday, William Thomas came to visit and play cards.
— cwe —
Jennifer came Monday to celebrate Seth's birthday at school and at Wheeler. She is spending the week to be here for getting Seth's drivers' permit and the Prom.
— cwe —
The "Graduation Edition" is next week. If you have something for that edition, Please email.
