Utilities Company Buy Additional Power & Ice Plants

Announcement has been made of the recent purchase by the West Texas Utilities Company of the Menard Light & Ice plant from the local owner, for $21,000. The utilities company will take over the property November 1st. The light and power will be transmitted over a high line built into Menard from Ballinger by way of Paint Rock and Eden, at a cost estimated at around $150,000 and it is expected to be completed by November 1st. The West Texas Utilities Company also purchased the Mason Light & Power plant for $8,000 and will extend the high line to Mason from Menard. While it is announced that power and lights will be received over the new high line, an emergency plant will also be maintained at Menard to furnish light and power in case of a storm or any other cause interfering with the high line.

COUNTY CLUB BOY MAKES GOOD SHOWING

Herbert Hannsz, Haskell County Club Boy of the Cook Springs community, made a good showing at the Short Course recently held at the A. and M. College according to the information received by County Agent Trice. In the poultry judging contest held at the College in connection with the Short Course, 84 boys from various counties in the State competed. Herbert took twelfth place in the contest, making 316 points out of a possible 400. Reasons and placing were given and made on the following classes: White Leghorns, Bred Plymouth Rocks and Rhode Island Reds. On the White Leghorn class Herbert made 96 points out of a possible 100 and was the third high man on this individual class.

CAR OVERTURNS BUT NO ONE HURT

A Ford car driven by Claud Blain of Sayles was over turned near Plainview school house last Friday. The car was going at a fast clip when turning a corner and one of the casings flew off and it turned over in the ditch. The car was badly damaged but fortunately no one in the car was injured.

HEADLIGHT TEST STATIONS NAMED

The garages who are authorized to test and set headlights on automobiles for Haskell county are as follows: English Motor Company, and the Cash Filling Station of Haskell, The Universal Motor Company and the Rule Motor Company of Rule, Hudson and Steel of Rochester and Jim Homesley at Weinernt Garage. According to Reed Grandberry head of the Head-light division, the fee allowed by law to be paid to the test station is 25 cents and no more, and for this fee this service should be performed: the equipment inspected, head lights focused and tilted, if necessary. This is in accordance with the interpretation of the law of this department, and the Attorney General's Department. Any work necessary to place the head-light equipment in condition to be adjusted is not included in the 25 cent fee. Between stations there should be no difference in the focusing of a pair of headlamps or the tilting of the headlamps. All test stations have been inspected by this department as to condition of equipment and there should be no difference between stations as to approval of equipment. This department will protect the Texas motorists at all costs and at the same time will stand behind the test stations when they operate in accordance with the law. Anyone having a complaint to make about the operation of a test station should take the matter up immediately with the commissioner's court of this department, and if the complaint is well founded, action will be immediately taken. Grandbury added on the other hand that reports are reaching his department from all portions of the State to the effect that motorists are well pleased with their newly adjusted headlights and the treatment received in most of the testing stations. Test men report motorists returning to the testing stations of their own accord to comment on the test station and the new law.

The summer session of Simmons University will close August 19. There are thirty-six students who are candidates for graduation in this class, making over one hundred graduates from the institution for the year. The fall term of the university will begin September 16 and a record breaking attendance is expected.

NEW LUMBER YARD TO LOCATE HERE

H. H. Hardin with headquarters at Fort Worth is putting in a new stock of lumber in the old Guest Lumber Yard Sheds north of the square. They are making the necessary repairs and getting the sheds in trim and their stock of lumber is arriving daily. The Hardin Lumber Company is a strong corporation and have a number of yards in many towns in Texas. L. J. Isham of Chico will manage the new yards and Eugene English of Haskell will keep the books. Mr. Isham has already moved his family here and is now busily engaged in the yard and expects to be ready for business by September the first. Manager Isham stated that the Hardin Lumber yard would carry all kinds of lumber and building material and expected to do a good business when they get in line and acquainted with the trade.

FAMILIAR LANDMARK RAZED LAST WEEK

The old Whitman building which stood on the southwest corner of the square, was torn down last week and nothing remains now but the old concrete vault, which will probably be razed soon. This building stood on the site selected for the proposed new hotel and work is expected to start soon on its construction.

W. E. BLAND BRINGS IN SECOND BALE

The second bale of cotton of this season was brought in early Thursday morning of this week by W. E. Bland of the Center Point community, and was given by the Farmers Gin Company of this city. The bale weighed 545 pounds. Mr. Bland planted his cotton and fed very early in the spring and got them both through without injury by frost. He hoped to get the first bale this season and only missed his aim by a few days. It is reported that he will not place his cotton on the market today (Thursday).

MEANS FOR FIGHTING COTTON LEAF WORM

The cotton leaf worm has appeared in sections of Haskell county and means are being used to combat the pest. With continued dry weather and the excessive heat that has been experienced during the past few days no great amount of damage is being expected at the present, however, should showers fall in sections during the next few days the infestation may be expected to spread with resulting heavy damage.

The insect is easily controlled by dusting or spraying with arsenicals. Calcium arsenate, lead arsenate and Paris Green are poisons recommended for this purpose. Calcium arsenate is most easily obtained and will, perhaps, be cheaper. It should be applied at the rate of about four pounds to the acre. If the cotton growth is very rank, this should be increased somewhat.

Lead arsenate should be applied at about the same rate as calcium arsenate. This will make the lead arsenate treatment much more expensive than the calcium arsenate. The poisons may be applied with machinery or by the old pole and bag method.

If spraying is to be done about one and a half pounds of either the calcium arsenate or lead arsenate should be used to 50 gallons of water.

Spraying with stock dips, or with mixtures of white arsenic and sal soda or arsenate of soda or any other soluble arsenical is apt to destroy the plant growth and is not recommended.

W. P. Trice, County Agent.

ANNUAL HARP SINGERS WILL MEET AT COURT HOUSE

Don't forget that the Sacred Harp singers will meet at the court house in Haskell in all day session the fifth Sunday August the 30th at 10 o'clock in the morning. Also requested to bring your song book. A great day is expected and the older people will enjoy hearing once more the songs of their youthful days.

REVIVAL IN PROGRESS AT BAPTIST CHURCH

The revival is now in progress at the First Baptist church in this city. The pastor, Rev. W. H. Albertson is doing the preaching and Virgil Reynolds a noted pianist and singer is conducting the song services. Much interest is being manifested and Rev. Albertson is an able preacher and his sermons are forceful and inspiring. A great meeting is looked forward to before the close of the services. Good attendance is reported and the song services are great. Everyone is urged to attend the remaining days of the revival and help make the meeting of greater service in the vineyard of the Master.

FIRST BALE OF 1925 COTTON BROUGHT IN BY A. A. GREEN; MERCHANTS GIVE PREMIUM

Big Flow of Water Halts Work in New City Well

H. J. Hambleton, superintendent of the local water works, has been confronted with a real problem the last few days in completing the new city water well. Streams of water have been struck that filled the well so fast that work in the bottom was impossible. Two pumps were installed and run continually in an effort to keep the water low enough to allow the crew of workmen to continue with the digging, but it was found necessary to install larger equipment and this was being done the first of the week. Mr. Hambleton states that the new well when completed will supply plenty of water to more than care for present demands. He expects to finish the well without any further trouble as soon as additional pumping machinery can be installed.

Last week A. A. Green ginned what was termed Haskell's first bale of cotton for 1925. The bale was ginned by the Haskell Electric Gin, the weight given as 347 pounds, and was purchased by Courtney Hunt at 23 3/8c per pound. The seed sold for $12.45 and a premium passed among the business houses netted $15.50 and was presented Mr. Green by Mr. Parish.

It has been generally agreed that hereafter the season's first bale, to be duly considered as such, and to warrant any premium or undue attention from the business interests must be a full size bale, not less than 450 pounds at best. And, must be a picked bale as well. Haskell welcomes the first bale of the season realizing it is the thermometer of commerce in this section. Business "peps" up and merchants tighten up their belts and take a hitch in their suspenders, getting ready for the season's drive. Business picks up and activity in all lines takes a new lease on life.

Livestock Exhibits From Rule to be Blue Ribbon Bets

That the Rule community will take off some prize money and hand-some blue ribbons this season at the Haskell County Fair, Oct. 1, 2 and 3, seems evident. B. L. Jackson, of Rule states he has some fine pigs, hogs and draft horses he will bring over. Perhaps some other entries he does not want to discuss just now, but prize winners, all raised in Haskell County, at that. Mr. Jackson is also a Superintendent in the Live Stock Division and wants his section to loom big in the events to be offered and from what he tells the Fair Management he is going to be much in evidence and the fellow who wins over his stuff will know he has been in a real, honest-to-goodness contest for honors and all he happens to win will be deserved from every standpoint. Mr. Jackson discussed additional pens for hogs and sheep and stalls for horses and mules, while discussing the exhibits for his department. He said much interest was looked for from Rule this year during the Fair and he hoped good weather would prevail so Haskell County could show what can be raised, bred and produced in this county. Regardless as to the money awards or ribbons, Mr. Jackson thinks the educational feature offered by a County Fair is worth every dollar it costs all interested, whether visitor or exhibitor. "I'm pretty busy and will be during the Fair dates, but I'll manage to be with you folks somehow," he stated as he started off for home.

W. G. POPE EXHIBITS 56-LB. WATERMELON

W. G. Pope, who resides north of town, brought in what is said to be one of the finest watermelons produced in this section in some time. While it weighs 56 pounds and some heavier have been produced in the county, the shape and color of the melon renders it as near a prize winner as the rules governing seem to demand. Mr. Pope states he wanted to save the melon for the 1925 fair but it seems there is no plan to follow to assure this. He had a splendid offer for the seed and will probably watch other melons now growing on his place with the hope of having other nice ones to show at the Fair. The variety of the melon shown here is given as Triumph.

MAY ORGANIZE IZAAK WALTON CLUB HERE

Ex-sheriff Edgar T. Neal of San Saba County, accompanied by Mrs. Neal was in the city last Friday with a view of organizing a local chapter of the Isaac Walton Club of America. Mr. Neal is with the State Game Commission of Texas at the present time. The Isaac Walton Clubs are being organized all over Texas for the purpose of better protecting the game of the state.

On account of being on the eve of the bond election, it was impossible for Mr. Neal to get a gathering of the sportsmen of Haskell together, but they expect to return to Haskell at a later date for the purpose of perfecting the organization.

STATE FIRE DEPT. EXHIBIT FOR FAIR

Manager F. N. Clifford has been advised by J. J. Timmins State Fire Marshal, that an exhibit from the State Fire Insurance Commission will be prepared for the Haskell County Fair Oct. 1, 2 and 3, in line with request for same. This exhibit will be placed in the Educational Department under Prof. H. D. Neff, to be used in connection with the work now being carried on in the public schools here in teaching Fire Prevention. Haskell enjoys a reduction in the Fire Insurance key rate due to this subject being taught and by getting the teachings into practice further reductions will be awarded as local conditions improve and the Fire Marshal's inspections show improvements in business and residence sections relative to keeping trash, paper, etc. about the homes and the boxes and packing cases and sweepings kept about the stores in the rear of the buildings. It takes effort to reduce the key rate, stated Mr. Clifford, but just a little carelessness will send the rate upward and some time must lapse before it can be brought down again.

FAIR DIRECTORS FOR 1925 ARE NAMED

(By F. N. Clifford.)

The premium list and catalogue of the Haskell County Fair for the 1925 season has been turned over to the printers and every possible effort will be made to rush the issue off the press for an early distribution. The portion ready covers the rules and regulations. A number of changes have been made and premiums increased and better rulings and other details arranged for in keeping with the demands of the exhibitors and in line with the standards set by fairs over the country. The idea is to make the Premium list complete and correct as well, and each season changes will be made until no possible objection nor correction will be found necessary.

The association elected all the officers who served during the organization period and but a few changes in the board of directors. These changes being necessary because of the members moving from Haskell.

POLTRY AUTHORITY SECURED FOR FAIR

The management of the Haskell County Fair has been fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Burton of Arlington, Texas, as a judge of the 1925 poultry show. Mr. Burton has been a prominent name in premium lists and entry lists for many seasons and the probability of some close competition and extremely fine exhibits this season, is looked for.

It is a fact that Mr. Burton will judge the show and also an attraction among poultry fanciers who know his reputation for judging the show on the day, Oct. 2, Friday, Mr. Burton, if an audience is available, is expected to discuss or lecture on poultry.

One of the compilers of the Standard on poultry, he is expected to discuss any point in the show and will present valuable points to his audience whereby some of the stock and judging your own poultry yard, will be.

Entries must be registered in by Oct. 1st, first day of the Fair, judged the second day, the day, and not be removed from the show before 9 p. m. Saturday night of the show.

A Visit With the Club Boys With Popular County Agent, W. P. Trice

(By W. M. Free.)

We are always glad to get away from the daily grind of the office and the perplexing noise of the city and to the quietude in the country where the meditations taste again the sweet morsels of our childhood days on the farm, where the meadows with their coat of emerald green unfold their beauty in richest profusion, where the sombre earth is transformed into mossy beds of wild flowers which pour out their sweet scented fragrance into the balmy air, where cotton king of the south land asserts dominion over the broad acres of Texas with blossoms reflecting the crimson of the setting sun, where the maize and kafir bow their well-filled heads to the passing breeze casting upward their gold and silver spire, mingling their resplendent glory in nature's wonderful charms. With this picture before us we left the office last Thursday afternoon with county agent W. P. Trice for a brief visit with a number of his club boys in the north western portion of the county. We made a brief stop at the progressive city of Rule. The reason we say progressive city is because Rule has made as much progress as any West Texas city during the year and is still stepping out with a number of new residences on main street being erected. Hundreds of new buildings have been built in Rule this year both business houses and residences and the Theatre is now putting a new brick building in the heart of the city. Every way you turn you see the evidence of progress. The next stop we made was with Herbert Hamns, a real club boy, who is in the club for the help and instruction it affords and results are visible. He has just returned from attending the A & M short course and was highly delighted with the work of the college and says he was greatly benefited through the instruction received. He has promised to write us a short story of what he saw and heard. He has more than 300 young Black Leghorn chickens which he has raised from 65 hens of this breed. He does his own incubating and looks after his own flock in person and leaves nothing undone that would impede his success. He has had good luck in hatching and raising his chicks and he will have a line of show stuff in the Haskell county Fair both as a club boy and for general prizes.

We could not resist the temptation to stop at the home of our old friend J. W. Driskill near Red Top church who for a number of years has lived in Haskell county and succeeded in farming. He and Mrs. Driskill had just finished sowing their turnip seed and he had washed his hands and was churning when we drove up and he seemed highly pleased to see us because he knew he could put the churning off as long as we remained. He reports a good crop and has a large orchard and plenty of peaches. His melon patch was doing nicely and he is looking forward to a feasting on blackeyed peas and sweet potatoes. It was there that Mr. Trice got the watermelon which was carried to three fairs last year, Abilene, Dallas and Waco. It was a good melon and added much to Haskell county's exhibits.

We made our next stop with Virgil Sonnemaker who is another real club boy and knows the worth of the club boys' organization. He has about 225 head of the Black Leghorn Chickens and he is so closely associated with them he almost knows each chick by name. He breeds incubates and rears his own chicks. He also has a Numbered Plymouth Rocks, but says another year he is going to the one breed of his choice and make them worth while. He will be in the club's line up at the county fair this fall and will have a line of birds in the general exhibits.

We encountered T. M. Mitchell a dandy good farmer on our way who was heading maize and it was mighty good. He has headed out 20 wagon loads and is just getting under way. He will have to head his maize twice this year because of the irregularity of the heads ripening. His cotton is fine and he has had no rain since the 7th of June but is in fine spirits and will make a good crop of feed and cotton. Tom Looks on the bright side of life and makes use of his opportunities, does not complain at the things he can not help.

We called on Edwin Lot the 13 year old son of A. Lott of near Cook Springs who is another club boy of the true blue type. He planted three acres of maize and had just headed it and had it piled up in the field and was grading it when we arrived making three grades of the lot and was putting it into sacks to weigh his first selection. He will be in the fair with his maize and chickens. He had just begun in the poultry business. He purchased some eggs of the English White Leghorns and had twenty chicks to hatch and reared fifteen from the lot ten pullets and five cockerels. He takes a great pride in them and his father is encouraging him in his work. His eyes just sparkled when he was explaining to Mr. Trice how he had done his work this year. Although his maize had not had any rain since June the 7th, yet he has fair maize and an excellent grade is being selected by this energetic boy. Mr. Trice has a number of club boys over the county who will enter the fair with different products and poultry of various breeds. He was late getting lined up and getting the boys to work but he hopes next year to get all his plans made and enlist quite a number of boys in the club work. We only had a brief stay with each boy but it was an enjoyable trip to us. We thank Mr. Trice for the trip and we gained a wonderful amount of real inspiration from these enthusiastic boys.

Henry Bought the Boats.
The shipping board has accepted Henry Ford's bid for 200 vessels, and it is announced that the great manufacturer will proceed to scrap the majority of them and rehabilitate and utilize the rest. Mr. Ford's bid of $1,700,000 for vessels that cost probably $200,000,000 seems a small one, but as most of them are worthless for navigation and must be scrapped at heavy expense, it may be that he will not reap an excessive profit from the transaction. Probably in addition to the purchase price Mr. Ford will make a further outlay of many millions upon the ships before he begins to realize a profit. Had not these ships been sold to Mr. Ford who was the highest bidder, the federal government either would have been put to the expense of taking care of them until they were utterly worthless or destroying them without realizing a penny.

Murder a Safe Business in The United States.
"In London in 1922," said Chief Magistrate McAdoo of New York, "fifteen murders were committed. Only two went unsolved and only one trial resulted in an acquittal."

But in the United States it is probably true that not more than 1 per cent of murderers pay the extreme penalty.

Chicago is the city which leads the murder record in civilized times. In 1921, according to the Chicago Crime Commission, there were 225 defendants in murder cases. More than three-quarters paid no penalty of any kind. Only six received the death penalty. About one fifth went to the penitentiary. In 1922 about 62 per cent got off about one-third went to the penitentiary. Out of every 100 only one paid the death penalty.

The Bar Association reports that during 1921 there were 260 murders in New York County. In 1921 there were three convictions of murder in the first degree.

SAME FINE STUDEBAKERS

Prices Reduced—Quality Maintained

THESE low prices are not for new cars built to sell at new prices.
They are for Studebaker cars identical with those which have been in tremendous demand at higher prices during the past eleven months.

They are for Studebaker cars so well built of such high quality materials that net profits during the past six months have averaged only $140.64 per car. The rest of the money the public paid went into making a car with scores of thousands of miles of excess transportation.

These earnings are a triumph for the one-profit basis of manufacture. No manufacturer on a less efficient basis could have made a dollar selling cars of Studebaker quality at Studebaker prices.

Studebaker is the only one-profit car in the fine car field. Only Ford and Studebaker make for all their cars all bodies, all engines, all gear sets, clutches, springs, differentials, axles, steering gears, gray iron castings and drop forgings.

Thus we save and pass on to purchasers profits which many other manufacturers must pay to outside parts and body makers.

No "yearly models" makes sales jump
Thus we were able last January to reduce prices already low.

Then we announced that Studebaker would have no more "yearly models" to artificially depreciate cars in the hands of owners.

Sales instantly started to soar and have forced the vast Studebaker plants to maintain peak production throughout the summer, in the face of declining production for the industry in general.

To one-profit savings we thus add savings due to long continued peak production. These savings we share with customers in the price reduction announced August 1st.

We still use genuine leather, mohair upholstery,

Don't Let Your Wife See This

According to scientific investigation the ingredients of man, plus water, are as follows:

- Fat enough for seven bars of soap.
- Iron enough for a medium-sized nail.
- Sugar enough to fill a shaker.
- Lime enough to whitewash a chicken coop.
- Phosphorous enough to make 2,200 match tips.
- Magnesium enough for a dose of magnesia.
- Potassium enough to explode a toy cannon.
- Sulphur enough to rid a dog of fleas.

This whole collection is worth ninety-eight cents, and that in a day when things are three times as high as they used to be.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hammer and children were Haskell visitors Saturday. Mr. Hammer moved from Jones county to Haskell county last fall and he now owns the W. H. His older feed is doing fine and he will make a good yield.

Gose in the last session of study of the Women of the Bible, which has been the study course this year. The lessons from time to time have been very helpful and educational, as depicting the characteristics of bible women, some good, some bad, some weak, some strong, caused a decision that even so are the women of today. DEATHS

Little Irene Elizabeth Robertson Dies

No visit of the death angel to the Vontress community has given the people of that section a greater shock or deeper distress than when little Irene Elizabeth Robertson, 4 years of age, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Roberts was called home Tuesday afternoon August 18th at 3 o'clock. She was the daughter of Burr Robertson, who lived near Cottonwood for a number of years and moved to Colorado several years ago. The mother of the little girl passed away three years and eight months ago. This sweet little child was loved by her grandparents and other members of the family with a love that knew no bounds. She was a very lovely child, with grace in her movements and the light of Heaven in her eyes. So sweet and lovable was she in disposition that it was always a joy to meet her and earth seemed a purer and holier realm when she was near. The beauty of her face and form gladdened the eyes, and the sweetness of her voice fell as a song of beauty upon the ear. Such a child was little Irene Elizabeth, a favorite wherever she was known and a special pet of friends and neighbors who knew her well. Her illness was very brief but during that time everything was done for her that human hands and medical skill could render, but to no avail. She grew gradually worse until the end came. This writer is constrained to believe that earth has no sorrow comparable to that which tears the hearts of stricken parents and loved ones as they stand beside the snow white coffin and gaze at the marble form of a precious darling. It is like stealing the hours of morning from a summer day, or robbing the year of radiant spring when the destroyer stills the voice of childhood and calls the light of childhood from the home. At such a time grief cannot find palliation nor can there be surcease of sorrow, but there is consolation in the precious promises of Him who is too good to be unkind or too wise to make a mistake. Sweet little Irene has passed on and her absence tears the hearts of those who loved her so dearly, but we know that she lives in a fairer realm where sorrow cometh not and death cannot enter. As the delicate flowers are housed against the unfriendly elements as the storming approaches, even this beautiful child has been gathered into the great house of our Lord, where safe from all that harms she forever joins her cherub voice to the angelic choir that sings the songs of redeeming grace around the great white throne. The funeral was conducted by Rev. I. N. Alvir at the Methodist church in this city at 10:30 Wednesday morning, after which all that was mortal of this lovely child was given burial in beautiful Willow Cemetery of this city. Sweet indeed is the memory of this beautiful child, who like the flowers of May come to smile awhile and blush awhile and then go away. She was making her home with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Roberts. Her father was unable to get here for the funeral. He had just left a few days before her death for his home in Colorado and could not be reached by wire in time. A large number of relatives and friends attended the funeral and a beautiful floral offering was laid on her grave by loving friends.

HASKELL THEATRE PRESENTS ATTRACTIVE APPEARANCE

Patrons of the Haskell Theatre were delightfully surprised Saturday when they attended this popular playhouse. Manager McNeese closed the theatre all last week in order to make a number of changes and improvements for the comfort of his patrons, and how well he succeeded can best be judged by the many compliments that he is receiving daily.
New lighting effects, both on the front and interior have been installed and the entire front lobby canged. More seats have been added and an automatic ticket machine installed in the box office.
With these changes and additions the theatre is one of which any town could well be proud, and Mr. McNeese is succeeding in his efforts to give his patrons entertainment that can not be excelled.

Thanks to Mr. Cook

We are indeed thankful to Mr. J. A. Cook, of Weinert for a large sack of snap-eyed peas which he brought us Monday. Mr. Cook is one of those good farmers who does not fail to provide vegetables for his family and we are so glad that he was mindful of his friends also in bringing us this lot of peas. Words cannot be found to fully speak our appreciation to our friends for their kindness.

His word is his bond! A "personal guarantee" means very little to you unless you know the man who makes it. Ninety per cent of the things bought for your home are selected by the lady member of the firm. She is the purchasing agent. Most men admit that she is a capable buyer, and the reason is this: She must be shown — convinced by proof — that an article is what she needs and is worth the price! For that reason, she sees the advantage of dealing with a local merchant — a man whose "personal guarantee of satisfaction" means just what it says. She knows that what he advertises in this paper is entitled to her consideration. Because she has confidence in her neighbor — the local dealer — she can safely invest the family funds in what he guarantees. Read the Ads in this Paper and save yourself money by trading at home

BUILD... HASKELL

We understand, from reliable sources, that in spite of the sandy soil and clay which in this community there is a prevalence of unsanitary conditions about houses, and business houses, as well as the bringing on contagious diseases, affecting the entire population to the detriment and fatal results that usually attend.

While we have the Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development, and while many might feel inclined to take action from these bodies before any action is taken to protect the community in this direction, we must not overlook the fact that the City Government will have or should have a City Health Officer whose duty is or should be, to look after such matters, call a survey generally ward off such calamities, and the period of such conditions as prevail will soon spread far and wide, and the growth of our city be retarded, regardless of the fact that a few deaths occurred or that a few cases prevailed during this time.

In addition, the first light touch, if should be the case, of a disease means quarantine and public action means seed planted that will in the season after season, with the slight opportunity, that will spread and grow or later Haskell be known for dreaded diseases that prevail each year in turn.

When you sign Haskell on a hotel register, anywhere, would you care to tell the people who follow your register or who might note the name and as they usually do, remember that you live in a filthy town? That disease will spread as well as could easily be the case if we are not careful to make a very prompt, clean lots and out areas and drain low lands and keep them clean.

When Haskell, Texas, ought registered with pleasure, most of us do this, however, are we being careful to see that this condition continues to continue for some time to come? Ask yourself, don't wait for the day to come to you as a member of the sanitary survey committee and your own drain from the house, tub or kitchen zinc is unbearable. Is it a menace to your health and safety? Are you sure such is not the case today and look at your drain hole yard. Is it sanitary?

Suggest him be kept handy. Use regularly, spread in and about the pipes and in the holes. Keep an eye on these places or you will find them filthy and smell and become hot beds within a time and your intentions are good, over-carelessness and lack of attention.

At this point, shall Haskell healthily or enter the unsanitary? This is of vital interest. Every other business man, in the section, no matter how thick drains from his hydrant or wash tub, whether connected with the sewer or not forms a part of this sanitary as large as unit as the sewer who drain in the back cannot reach the sewerage for reasons.

Healthily Haskell in keeping with sickness, health, wealth and means more than pages of manufactured to cover up any and unhealthy conditions installed in a community, or like any or most uncomplimentary incidents, community or perhaps some time to over come.

Every citizen of Haskell stand by or guard, as it were, to keep sanitary. Keep tin cans well so they will not hold water of mosquitoes and other insects carefully or place in a box and have them removed from property with as little delay as necessary. Do not permit old things to sour and rot where they might be taken up. Have it promptly. Watch drainage even a shower, see that place drains promptly. Look for house. Does water stand anywhere where you sleep? Is the place where water stands and breeds insects. Does the water under the house? Are mosquitoes and flies and permitting your ice box to hole beneath your home and where the flies and come from and why the musty no matter how you have a look just to convince. Notice where you throw water, dish water, any way, how it drains off or does it flow and the ground turn you noticed this?

See that grass and weeds are burned, or hauled away. Remove the tin cans and cans now. When you open a kitchen, turn the can over several holes in the bottom, a minute to do this, and if rain falls before you can have the empty cans hauled away water went stand in them and breed insects that will be dangerous to you and yours. Have a selfish look at this if you will, if you must, because after all the desire for sanitary, safe and sane conditions is simply a selfishness, first for self and family, then for neighbor and community, and then, perhaps, town pride. The house wife has a place in this army of sanitary works. Will she fall her home town? BUILD HASKELL.

Frequent Bilious Attacks

"I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month," says Mr. J. P. Novins, of Lawrenceburg, Ky. "I would get nauseated, I would have dizziness and couldn't work. I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief.

"A neighbor told me of

and I began to see. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything. It seemed to loosen up my bowels and made me feel a few more. I went to the doctor and he gave me a prescription, but he told me I could do better with Black-Draught than with any other medicine.

Black-Draught is a cathartic that is gentle and safe. It is the best medicine for biliousness, constipation, headache, dizziness, indigestion, and all the ailments that result from a disordered liver. It is sold by all druggists.

Radio Set for the Dead.

Radio caskets for the dead doubtless will become fashionable if Earn H. Kimball, of California, has any luck with his. Kimball, a venerable rancher of the San Bernado Valley, has made for himself at a cost of $1000 a casket with radio attachment by which he hopes to keep in touch with the world of the living during his long sleep under ground.

Tuned to the proper wave length, the casket radio will receive all the news, speeches and concerts broadcasted by a Los Angeles station. By wireless, orators will tell the dead man in his grave what political tickets to vote. Salvationists will try to sell him a registered piano or tell him that evaporated milk mixed with fruit juice will make a fine summer drink. Opera stars will thrill arias for him and vaudeville comedians sing jazz songs and crack jokes for his benefit. Baseball scores, Babe Ruth's last home run, the winners at Latonia will all be announced to him.

Didn't Want to Hear.

We read the other day the story of one of the world's greatest inventors, almost totally deaf, who was told that a simple operation would restore the hearing which he had lost fifty years before. The day was set for the operation. When the day came he sent word to the specialist not to come. His reason: "My deafness has shut me off from the noise of the world and I have been able to think, uninterrupted. I have much to think out before I die, and do not want to have to begin over."

Restored hearing would, in all probability have brought near-pandemonium into the life of the man. It was Thomas A. Edison.

Federal-Aid Roads.

The construction of Federal-aid roads throughout the country keeps abreast with the constantly increasing requirements of the automobile industry and motor transportation. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 9445 miles of such roads were brought to completion. An additional 4587 miles is reported as completed but has not been finally inspected and accepted.

The outstanding result of the year's work has been the larger mileage of continuous highway routes made available. In practically every state gaps in through routes have been closed and many extensions made. All of the construction has been on the designated 175,000 mile Federal-aid highway system which is to serve as the main road system of the country.

At the beginning of the fiscal year 35,452 miles had been completed with Federal aid, and the year's work brings the total to more than 46,000 miles in service. The need has been great, the work done to meet the need has been great—and the cost has been great.

Where the Rainfall Averages 26 Feet A Year.

Though clouds are fairly well scattered over the earth, they have both favorite haunts and places which they shun, and they mark the regions where they gather as obviously as a cartographer colors his maps. The greens of fields and meadows, forests and jungles show in crescendo their favor, and the bluffs of steppes and the places they rarely visit or pass wholly by.

The favorite gathering place of clouds in all the world is the southern slope of the Himalayas, and the track of the monsoon which blows the loaded water carriers there from the Indian Ocean is their most congested roadway. The spot that seems above all others to attract them is the region above a little village in Assam—Cherrapunji, between the Bay of Bengal and the Himalayas foothills.

More than thirty-eight feet (458 in.) of rain falls there in an average year, and in exceptional years more than seventy-five feet (905 inches) has fallen. This latter amount would be enough, without loss, to reach by the end of the year to the sixth or seventh floor of an ordinary office building.

Going Back to the Farm.

The census figures showing that 352,000 laborers went from the cities to the farms during 1924, while the drift from the farm to the city was materially curbed, is significant of a change that is taking place in population currents. The war exercised a powerful influence in uprooting rural families and sending them into the towns and cities where war industries needed their services. For a time after the war there was still need for these people in the cities for the performance of reconstruction work. But both of those periods have definitely passed, and the probability is that cities generally will not grow as fast in the next ten years as they have within the last ten years. If that be the case, development of the country and city will be more evenly divided. The back-to-the-farm movement is coming about, it seems, not so much in response to the appeals of various organizations that have prompted that end, but as a result of economic developments. Referring to owners of farms who have returned to their holdings, the department of agriculture finds that many of them found it impossible to live in the cities, where living is high, on the rentals from their farms, while others found their expectations of life and labor in the cities unfulfilled.

An Unanswered Challenge.

An old colored preacher owned a mule which had an efficient pair of heels and a loud but unmusical voice. One Sunday morning while the preacher was earnestly exhorting, the mule persisted in putting his head in at the window and braying loudly. Finally the preacher said: "Breddern and sistern, is dere one among you all who knows how to keep dat mule quiet?" "Pahson," replied a man, "if you-all will jess tie a stone to dat mule's tail he sho' will keep quiet." "Breddern and sistern," responded the preacher, "let him who is without sin tie de de fust stone."

145 Eggs Per Year Is the Normal Production of the Average Hen

The Texas farmer who is not getting 145 eggs a year from each of his leg-horn pullets is not getting all he can normally expect. Fifteen years of study of poultry data by Prof. A. G. Phillips has convinced him that this figure is as near normal egg production as can be arrived at this time, he told pupils of the Radio Farm School of the Blue Valley Creamery Institute.

Ordinarily September is the lowest month in point of egg production and April the highest, said Prof. Phillips who is one of the leading poultry experts in America. The following daily egg production from a flock of 100 pullets for each of the twelve months: October 20, November 40, December 30, January 35, February 45, March 55, April 65, May 50, June 50, July 40, August 25, September 15.

And here is his explanation of the figures:

"Pullets seldom lay every day and all pullets do not lay at the same time except possibly in the spring. Pullets that do lay do not lay on the same day. In October many pullets will not commence laying in the first of the month but the number will increase as the month goes on. We consider a day the normal average to expect from this flock in October. November is usually a comfortable month and the production will be doubled and 40 eggs per day produced for that month. In December we usually have a severe cold snap which caused a material cut in production. Therefore 30 eggs per day is considered the normal figure. January should average around 35 eggs a day, and this should jump to 45 in February because the approaching spring generally results in the pullets eating more and therefore increasing production.

"April is the high month of production for pullets under an artificial lighting schedule. In March the birds will endeavor to reach this peak by producing 55 eggs a day. For April we estimate 65 eggs a day. After the peak to the town's wealth. By and by some man gathers enough of these floating home town dollars, builds another home or makes an addition to his store and so values increase, benefiting everyone. Spent out of town the dollar has gone forever.

There are some folks who buy their spools of cotton and now and then a yard or two of goods at home, but when they want to buy a fur coat or a piano they get out the mail order catalogue or go out of town. They use the home town merchants to fill their petty needs but when he has a chance to make a reasonable profit they forget him. It's scarcely fair, is it? And if it is, it isn't very sensible. We are all working together to make the home town brighter and better and the property of everyone, our own included, more valuable.

NEW SCORE CARD ARRANGED FOR SCHOOL
AND COMMUNITY EXHIBITS AT THE FAIR

In presenting the new score card for school exhibits this year, the Agricultural Department of the Haskell County Fair wishes to thank especially the communities that responded so loyally last year with their exhibits. These districts deserved a great deal of credit for their efforts in assembling and displaying their products and they got it. From the standpoint of progressiveness and thrift they head the list of Haskell county school districts.

To those communities which have neglected to grasp this opportunity, we would say that you are turling down an excellent chance to compete with your products in the open forum and educate your children as well as yourselves in community progress and thrift.

A County Fair is not an institution just to entertain some, you are part and parcel of it. This fair is here to stay. How long is your community going to remain in the background? Let's all get in this year and make this the very best fair we have ever had.

This score card is being published in advance of the catalogue for the purpose of getting before you a list of the products you must have in your exhibit. It appears here just as it will in the catalogue. If you are interested in seeing your community represented in the Agricultural Building, then clip this score card and hand it to your school trustee, or better still go to work on it yourself and let's load the old building down this year with a bounteous display of farm products. All inquiries with reference to this department should be directed to Roy W. Neal, Director, Agricultural Dept.

Art and Textile, Mesdames R. V. Robertson and M. L. Lewis; Education, Prof. H. D. Neff; Old Relics Mrs. Henry Post; Parades, J. Bailey Post; Races and Sports, Henry Alexander; Publicity and Information Department, S. A. Roberts. Directors will have the following Superintendents: Beef Cattle, Earl Atchison; Dairy Cattle, T. A. Pinkerton; Draft Horses, Paul Frierson; Swine, Sheep and Goats, B. L. Jackson; Poultry, J. C. Crawford; Agricultural, W. G. Pope; Community Exhibits, P. S. Young; Publicity and Information, W. M. Free.

The Community Singing Department and contests this year will have several changes and suitable cash prizes be awarded. The rules and regulations and general outline is now in the hands of Mrs. Hardy Grissom, and committee, and will be published at an early date, as well as be included in the catalogue so that every one interested might have full details.

There are several minor details to be worked out as yet but by the time the catalogue is completed it is thought every item of interest and necessary for the conducting of each department and the various contests, will be clearly stated and every effort made to avoid misunderstandings.

success all would like to have it be. Judges of reputation will look after each department, and handsome ribbons and cash prizes will be awarded in return. Each director will be supplied record books for the purpose of entering all exhibits and awards. The poultry department will place paper tags on the winners this season and save the ribbons from loss and damage. Ribbons and lists of awards will be sent from the Manager's office following the fair. No awards in cash will be made until all reports are in and the Secretary-Treasurer has completed his report and issued the checks. These will be mailed as promptly as work in hand permits. Avoid visits to the offices of these respective officers because they will have all they can do to take care of the work in hand and nothing will be gained by your visit. We cannot make a special case out of any exhibitor's transaction so please don't ask it.

Appeals from rulings or awards as might be questioned after the judges have completed their work, must be made in writing and time be given to the subject. The ruling in these cases will also be in writing and intended parties directly interested. It will do no good to appeal in person to officers or manager.

The desire is not to appear hard-boiled in any matter in connection with this fair, but there are hundreds of little, and many large details that just a few men are attempting to handle and other matters arising from causes unexpected or arising out of an unusual condition must be given careful and proper attention and hasty action means mistakes and some one made angry or innocently ruled against, all of which the fair officers and management desires to avoid.

This season, the amusements have been changed. The platform in front of the grand stand is to be made larger to permit the new acts being staged properly. The band stand will probably be moved to a better location and a roof erected over it to protect the musicians. More stalls for live stock, additional pens for pigs, sheep and goats, etc. are to be added. The fences are to be generally inspected and repaired and the new ground added this year, together with the entire acreage be thoroughly grubbed and cleaned.

The race program is going to be especially of interest this season. Mr. Henry Alexander, director of races and sports is planning for two days of motorcycle races with purses that will prove attractive. The rules laid down in this department compels these racers to do their level best and no demonstrations will be permitted. Automobile races will be staged one day, and these are governed by the A. A. A. and these are governed by the A. A. A. These races will be maintained as to these races being the real thing. Official judges will stage all races under rules that govern such events.

In brief the 1925 event of the second annual Haskell County Fair, Oct. 1, 2 and 3, is going to be bigger and better, because of last season's successes and experiences, and the co-operation of every patron, director superintendent or helper anywhere about the grounds is earnestly solicited by the management.

There will be fun for all, never fear. The carnival this year is larger than last season's and the additional ground purchased since last season offers a better midway and layout for this portion of the show. In fact everything points to a successful affair, and weather permitting, Haskell county folks are going to have the time of their lives.

To our rural patrons we are especially appreciative and if their co-operation is extended we feel sure the entertainment to be staged this year will again prove worthy of the efforts of those who have labored in the past and will again make special effort to present an entertainment worth while.

MIDWAY
By Velma Frierson
The health of this community is very good at this writing. The crops of this community are looking pretty good but if this hot weather lasts many more days they will be burned up again.

A. A. Frierson is home from the Temple Sanitarium and is getting along nicely. Several from this community attended the Baptist meeting at Pinkerton last week.

We extend a glad welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Owen principal of our school another year, and hope the community will put forth a special effort to make this term of school a success.

Mr. Ernest Wright of this community will direct the choir singing at the meeting beginning at 8:00 o'clock sometime this week. Mr. Arthur Moser and family returned home last week from a visit to relatives and friends in South Texas.

Rev. J. W. Read of Rochester will begin revival services at Roberts School house Friday night before the 4th Sunday in August. Rev. V. A. Duncan will do the preaching assisted by Bro. Read. A great meeting is anticipated.

Revival Meeting Begins at Weinert Saturday. Elder J. T. Strickland of Fort Worth will begin a series of meetings at Weinert Saturday night before the fourth Sunday in August. Elder Strickland held the meeting last year for the Church of Christ at that place and he expects a large congregation to hear him. He is a Bible scholar and is a gifted speaker. A great meeting is predicted.

Miss Elva Cox of the Postoffice department is taking her vacation this week she will visit with relatives in different parts of the state and may take a trip to Colorado before her vacation ends.

Farmers Should Plan Now For Next Year's Crop. Haskell county has many good farmers and among these can be found some of the other class or those that would be termed poor. A trip through the county on any of the roads would reveal both types. What makes the difference when only a turn row separates the two fields? On one side there is a good crop and on the other there is practically no crop. Did the weather make the difference? No, both have received the same rains. Why then did the maize in one field make and that in the other fail? The preparation of the land, the crops grown the year before, the conservation of moisture and the thickness in the row, we think, had something to do with the difference in the two crops, since both were on the same type of land.

Practically every day in the year we have an opportunity to learn some thing new about the farming game. Are we taking advantage of that opportunity? Had we ever thought of seeing why our neighbor made better crops? Plans should be started now for the 1926 crop for without making some improvement each year we are losing in progress. Weeds turned under before going to seed will save many chops of the hoe the coming year, as well as give the land a chance to hold the moisture for the next crop.

MUSIC SCHOOL AT HOWARD TO CLOSE SATURDAY. The Howard Music School taught by Elliott Bros. of Cleburne Texas will close Saturday. This is the second 18 day school for these teachers in Haskell county this summer and they will begin another school at New Mid which lasts 18 days Monday morning August the 24. They will give the program for the school at Howard next Friday afternoon from 2:30 to 3:30 which will be one of the best programs rendered by the school. All the pupils of Elliott Bros. where they have taught this year are invited to come and bring their concert books. This has been the largest school in attendance ever taught in Haskell county.
