Dr. Lawson is also a member of AACP, ISPOR, and TPA. He and his wife Rachel have one daughter Sara.

Knox County Now Has Three Point of Dispensing Sites

Earlier this month David Tackett, a Community Preparedness Trainer from the Texas Department of State Health Services visited Knox City. He met with various Knox County and surrounding City Officials, in order to train these individuals in the "Point of Dispensing Operations."

A program designed to establish a First Responders Team that will maintain order and dispense medications needed for a major health outbreak.

There are three POD sites in the Knox County area. One is in Knox City at the School, One in the Benjamin School as well as one in Munday School.

At each of these sites are two containers, containing vests for the team members to wear indicating who is apart of the management team, two-way radios, batteries flags to point individuals in the right direction of where to go in order to receive help and all kinds of other stuff. All the operational information and administrative supplies are in the containers as well.

After identifying the major public health threat, the objective of the First Responders Team is to activate and set up a Point of dispensing in about six to eight hours.

During that time, the medications that are needed to treat the major health threat will be in route to the POD site. In the same time it takes to set up the POD the medications should be arriving at the POD location.

At that time the first responders and the critical infrastructure personal are fully able to treat all major health scars from the Pandemic Influenza Pneumonic Plague and even Anthrax. The whole "Point of Dispensing" concept is the Healthcare industries part of Homeland Security.

"Homeland Security is a process of preparing communities for emergency situations, and these First Responders are now prepared if there is any major issues whether it is health or weather related," said Brad Helbert the former Executive Director of the Council of Governments, who was also present at the training session.

Our Knox County First Responders Team Barbara Rector, City Manager of Knox City; Olivia Del Hierro Gloria, Superintendent of Benjamin CISD Dwayne Berden City Administrator of Munday; Knox Co. Judge Travis Floyd; Ronnie Brown, Knox Co. EMS; Harry Stein, Knox City Police Chief, and Louis Baty, Knox City - O'Brien CISD Superintendent and Brad Helbert.

State Capital HIGHLIGHTS

Volunteers rush to San Angelo to assist in YFZ cases

Christ of Latter-day Saints, or the Mormon Church. In early April, state agencies entered the ranch near Eldorado in Schleicher County and took the children into custody after an anonymous caller said she had been beaten and sexually abused at the site.

"Overwhelmed court staff in Schleicher and Tom Green counties have been assisted by Carl Reynolds, executive director of the Texas Office of Court Administration, in what is being called the largest child-custody case in U.S. history," according to the report.

The Texas Supreme Court's Permanent Judicial Commission for Children, Youth and Families is engaged in the process, helping channel resources and train lawyers, child-protection social workers and other staff involved with courts handling child-protection cases.

The volunteers responded to an appeal by the Texas Access to Justice Commission and the State Bar of Texas for qualified family lawyers across Texas to volunteer their time to represent parents and children in the case.

Perry declares reelection plan

Texas voters aren't scheduled to elect a governor again until November 2010, but Gov. Rick Perry, said April 17 he plans to seek reelection.

Republican U.S. Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison, regarded as a strong potential candidate to be the next governor, said she is only focused on the present since it's kind of early to be declaring.

Lt. Gov. David Dewhurst, also a Republican and a potential candidate for governor, said he is working on the 2009 legislative session, which convenes in January. In 2000, then-Lt. Gov.

Perry took over as governor when then-Gov. George W. Bush became president. Perry was elected to a full term in 2002 and reelected in 2006.

Communities get tobacco money

Texas Comptroller Susan Combs announced her agency has distributed $92.3 million to Texas communities from the Tobacco Settlement Permanent Trust Account. The money, released April 16 to two cities, 159 counties and 135 hospital districts, is to help cover costs of indigent health care provided during 2007.

"This year the state is sending 12 percent more money to communities responsible for providing indigent care," Combs said. "This money comes from Texas' settlement with tobacco companies and will help communities offset the costs of providing medical care for those who cannot pay."

Since the first distribution of funds in April 2001, local entities have received nearly $430 million from the trust fund.

In other news, Combs said local law enforcement agencies and schools may apply for block grants of up to $40,000 to help enforce state laws prohibiting sale or distribution of tobacco products to minors. The application deadline for schools is May 1. The deadline for police departments, sheriffs, constables and district attorneys to apply for grants is May 9. "Texas minors illegally buy or smoke 67.6 million packs of cigarettes each year," Combs said. "These grants help our communities enforce the law and educate violators about the risks of teen smoking."

Metal purchases are reportable

It is legal to recycle metals, but theft of pipe, tubing, fittings and wire made of copper and other valuable metals is on the increase.

Businesses that pay cash for metal are required by law to report their purchases and file paper reports. But now, there is an easier way to file the report.

Purchases may be reported electronically by using the new "Metal Recycling Entity Registration" link on the Texas Department of Public Safety home page, txdps.state.tx.us.

Corridor ad spending is noted

Advertising helped stimulate interest in public forums the Texas Department of Transportation hosted across the state on the proposed trans-Texas corridor projects.

Chris Lippincott of TxDOT said $590,064 has been spent on TV ads, $60,000 on Internet banner ads and $154,766.77 on newspaper ads for a total of $804,830.77.

ON THE EDGE OF COMMON SENSE

Cell Phone Overcharge

The Deputy Sheriff looked at the coordinates on his GPS and the Verizon customer's complaint sheet again. He was in the exact spot, but it was an empty field.

This story began a year and a half ago according to John. Technology had swept through the valley and drawn JG into its zephyr. The telephone company modernized his irrigation system by incorporating cellular phones. With a call to a cell phone attached to his sprinkler he could give instructions to turn it off when the wind blew, turn it on after fixing a gear box and by doing so, he could save lots of gas and time.

In addition, the sprinkler could call JG's monitor cell phone to report a problem like a break in the line or frozen pipes. The programmer put a nice lady's voice as the inter-lucator between JG's monitor cell and the one on the sprinkler. She sounded like a cross between Tokyo Rose and C3-PO!

Valley Sprinkler even donated used cell phones to JG out of the goodness of their heart and agreed to bill him annually since the calls were so few. When JG received his second annual bill he was astounded! It was over three hundred dollars! Someone had been calling his monitor cell phone. Not once or twice, but two pages worth! He had no memory of so many calls. Fortunately, the number of the caller was listed right on the bill, over and over and over!

In an angrious mood he punched in the number. A lady answered. JG introduced himself and immediately began castigating her, "I do not appreciate your constant calls to my private line," he said, you are costing me hundreds of dollars and I don't like it!" He thought it best to avoid trying to explain the sprinkler cell phone connection.

"Oh, oh, oh! Dear Lord, I don't believe this! Please don't hang up; I'm in Colorado Springs! (100 miles away). Your phone has been calling me for a year. Late at night, in the early spring and late fall. I've called back over and over only to get this crazy computer woman's voice asking me to enter my code!" She sounded horrified. "I've been crazy with this harassment. I've called the District Attorney, the Sheriff's Office, Verizon, even Art Bell! She raged on hysterically until she broke into tears. JG assured her it would never happen again.

Turns out that on cold nights the sprinkler phone would call JG to give him a freeze-warning shut-down alert. It happened so often that he just turned his phone off after dark. But, it was programmed to call a secondary number if one was available. And, it turns out that the used cell phone had never been cleared properly and it faithfully put the sprinkler through to the nice lady in Colorado Springs, time after time after time, driving her bananas.

JG quickly hung up and found the delete button on his phone. The beleaguered woman didn't press charges, and to this day the Deputy still drives by the empty field now and then secretly hoping to spot a UFO!

Dr. Finley Hosts Another Physician Assistant

Dr. Finley Pictured above with Gabriel Petty, Angela Hager.

Munday, Texas- Gabriel Petty, a Physician Assistant student enrolled at the University of North Texas Health Science Center in Ft. Worth, is completing 160 hours of clinical training under the guidance of preceptor, Dr. Kevin Finley at the Munday Clinic beginning April 7th, 2008.

In addition to the teaching support that Mr. Petty will be receiving from Dr. Finley, the Knox County Hospital Administer Stephen Kuehler, will provide housing for Mr. Petty while he is completing his training in the community.

Gabriel is originally from Houston, Texas. He completed his undergraduate degree (BS) at Austin College in Sherman Texas, majoring in Biochemistry.

While each student who completes clinical training in a rural community may not return to this community as a practitioner, word of mouth from a positive experience goes a long way to hosting future students and compiling a list of perspective health providers for a community's long term plans for meeting the health needs of its population. Travis Floyd, Knox County Judge agrees, explaining

"Knox County is thankful that Big Country AHEC has provided us with a win/win/win situation in the Medical Student Placement Program.

We get an opportunity to share the experiences of living and working as a small rural community, and hopefully make a positive impression on the student so that they might want to return.

The student gains knowledge of working in a rural environment and gains additional enlightenment by working side by side with a physician. And of course the medical facility wins by having an additional person to assist in all aspects of the work involved.

This is a great program and I'm glad to be a part of it." Mr. Petty will be the last student Dr. Finley hosts until the fall of 2008

Meeting the health needs of rural communities continues to be a focus of Area Health Education Center (AHEC) programs in Texas.

Providing the opportunity for students in health professions programs to complete clinical training in rural areas not only gives the student a glimpse of what rural medicine entails but also allows the community the opportunity to recruit health professionals for the long-term future.

Lynn Hogan, Community Based Education Coordinator for the Big Country AHEC visited the student at the Munday Clinic before taking Dr. Finley and Mr. Petty for lunch at Matis. "Mr. Petty was really enjoying his learning experience and was anxious to be a part of the community while completing his rotation" Seeing first hand what a great community the student is participating in, just confirms my purpose as the CBE.

The West Texas clinics and hospitals that AHEC serves by introducing the community to a future practitioner, and the opportunity for the student to continue the learning process in a rural setting enhance the situation for both the community and the student".

Community based education experiences like these are the result of a partnership between communities, community health professionals, health professions training schools and the Big Country Area Health Education Center (AHEC).

Big Country AHEC's mission is to address the health care provider shortage and improve health care access in the North and West Central Texas through education and development of the health care workforce.

Goals include introducing school aged youth to health careers, providing rural clinical training for students in the health professions, supporting existing health care professionals via continuing education and promoting healthy living.

The Big Country AHEC is a service of Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center Office of Rural and Community Health and the West Central Texas Council of Governments. For further information about the Big Country AHEC please contact Kelly Cheek at kcheek@wctcog.org or 325-793-8484.

Thornberry Says Time Running Out For New Bill

Washington, DC — the rules of the game,” noted Congressman Mac Thornberry. Congressman Thornberry. “We are fortunate to have good Texas representation on the Conference Committee, but time is clearly running out for any of the new or controversial aspects of the various Farm Bill proposals to be resolved.” “I would like to be optimistic that between now and April 25 this will get settled,” concluded Thornberry. “But too often this Congress what could be a good bipartisan bill has been sacrificed to satisfy the Majority’s appetite for more taxes or some partisan agenda.”

Whether you made a phone call, made a donation in Mary Rocha’s memory, sent flowers, sent a card, brought something by or simply stopped by to give us a hug, we would like to say “Thank You” from the bottom of our hearts!
A special “Thank You” to Deacon Ben Vasquez for making Mary’s service so beautiful, to all the ladies who prepared and served the meal and to all the staff at the funeral home.
Thank You and May God Bless You All!

God's Promises

By Jim Reid, Pastor O'Brien Baptist Church
Most of this school year I have watched my son lug his backpack to and from school. I mean he actually has to lean forward to balance the load! I've asked him why he feels it is necessary to carry all his books to every class. His response was, “so I won't forget my book for each class and get in trouble.” I thought what a burden, but I can't seem to convince him to change. He is twelve and has gained all knowledge. I'm sure you understand. I really am concerned about the weight of that burden he carries around all day. Why does he do it; because he fears trying to do it a different way? He only trusts what he can understand. Suddenly the Lord spoke to me so clearly, saying, “Many strive to carry their burdens in exactly the same way.” We would rather carry them on our back all day every day instead of giving them to the Lord; even when He tells us to give them to Him. How do I know this? Listen to His Word, “Cast your burden upon the Lord, and He will sustain you; He will never allow the righteous to be shaken.” (Psalm 55: 22 NASB). The Lord also speaks to us, “Cease striving and know that I am God.” (Psalm 46: 10a NASB). Must we have complete understanding before we will give up and give to God the burdens that bring so much confusion and despair? Do we bear under these burdens even to the point of hopelessness? Of course not! God does not intend for us to live that way, or for us to choose a direction that leads to destruction. He will speak to you and speak clearly that you cast your burdens upon the Lord today; he has the power to resolve all the issues in your life. Trust in the Lord who loves you so much. Let Him sustain you through all your trials and circumstances. Trust His love today and prove Him to be God. He will provide all your needs and remove all your fears.

Variety Plot Field Day

By Adam Bonner - CEA/AG.

Texas AgriLife Extension Service in cooperation with AgriPro Wheat has established a variety trial on Kenneth Baker's farm at Brushy Cemetery. There will be a field day on May 1 at 1:00 P.M. to view the plots and discuss the performance of the different varieties and how we can incorporate these into our own programs. There will also be 2 CEU's offered along with the program. Directions: Plots are on 222 South of Munday approximately two miles North of where FM 1720 joins 222. Plots will be on the East side of the road. If you have any questions call the Haskell County Extension Office at (940) 864-2658 or the Knox County Extension Office at (940) 459-2651.

Educational programs of the Texas AgriLife Extension Service are open to all citizens without regard to race, color, sex, disability, religion, age, or national origin. Individuals with disabilities who require an auxiliary aid, service or accommodation in order to participate in a meeting or program are encouraged to contact the Knox County Extension office at (940)459-2651.

Knox City Minutes

Knox County Judge Travis Floyd called a regular session on March 10, 2008.

The court agreed to contract with JP Environmental Recycling LLC for the recycling of crushed concrete. In the matter of the contract with the Appraisal District, it was unanimous to sign the contract.

The motion to go into Executive Session to discuss Personnel passed five to zero.

Commissioner McCown made the motion to hire Harold Shahan and Dale Bloxham for the Road Hand positions and this was also unanimous. All financial statements were approved for February 2008.

THANK YOU! THANK YOU!

For your love, generosity and caring heart. I pray God's blessing on you every day! Estelle Skiles

NURTURING AND ATTACHMENT

Parents today have a lot on their plates. Juggling the demands of work, home and other responsibilities leaves many parents feeling like they do not have nearly enough time with their children.

But even small acts of kindness, protection, and caring - a hug, a kiss, or a smile - make a big difference to children. Research shows time and again that babies who receive affection and nurturing from their parents have the best chance of developing into children, teens, and adults who are happy, healthy, competent, have better academic grades, more positive peer interactions and an increased ability to cope with stress.

Brain development in infants is positively affected when parents work to understand and meet their basic needs for love and affection. Neglectful and abusive parenting can have a negative effect on brain development.

Research shows that a lack of contact or interaction with a parent can change the infant's body chemistry, resulting in a reduction in the growth hormones essential for brain and heart development. The ability to feel remorse and empathy are built on experience. Children who lack early emotional attachments or who grow up fearful and expecting to be hurt will have a difficult time relating to peers.

As children grow, nurturing by parents remains important for healthy physical and emotional development.

While physical contact becomes less important, listening and talking become more vital to the relationship. Parents nurture their older children by being involved and interested in the child's school and other activities, aware of the child or teen's interests and friends, and willing to advocate for the child.

When parents spend time and energy discovering and paying attention to their children's needs, they are rewarded with positive, open and trusting relationships with their children. Parents who develop the ability to respond sensitively to the needs of their child, no matter what age, will find parenting easier and more enjoyable.

Nevil Shed And Steve Trednick Visit With Benjamin Students

The students at Benjamin High School were in for a rare treat Tuesday April 15th. Nevil Shed revisited the old stomping ground where his former coach and mentor, Don Haskins, began his legendary career. Steve Trednick, another of Haskin's former players, accompanied him.

The two former Texas Western Players delivered an inspirational speech for the students' teachers and a few other former players of Benjamin, Texas.

Mr. Shed and Mr. Tednick could clearly feel the history and comradeship as they reminisced of Coach Haskin's voice booming off the walls a 2 A.M., driving his team with winning motivation. Benjamin resident, Charles Griffith recalled his sophomore year at Benjamin in 1956 with fond memories of Haskin's determination and enthusiasm.

Everyone had a better understanding of the accomplishment Coach Don Haskins had made with his winning attitude. Steve Trednick and Nevil Shed shared in some of the same excitement as Coach Haskins. When they told Benjamin students the message, in which they too, could become champions, as long as they have the right attitude and made the right decisions urging the students to strive to be their best.

Watch out for more champions coming from Benjamin, Texas in the future. Quite possibly another famous person or two has already walked the hallways of this little school

We have had a pretty good week. Several windy days that is sure taking the moisture out of the ground, but at least we were storm free all week. A little of that type of weather goes a long way!

About our Ill

Jonnie Williams spent a few days in the Knox Co. Hospital but was released Thurs. and is doing better. She had a bout with pneumonia. Bobby Hudson also spent a few days in the hospital - also in Knox City - and he too is home now continuing to recuperate.

Misty Meisen spent several days last week in a Lubbock Hospital. She was hospitalized with what was thought to be heart problems but after all sorts of tests it was determined it was not her heart but some sort of stomach problem. She is on some medication is feeling much better.

Deann Lamb spent a couple of days in a Wichita Falls hospital last week and had some minor surgery but was able to come to the Munday Nursing Center after a couple of days and is doing fine.

I extended sympathy to the family of Reba Redder of Munday who passed away last week. Reba was a friend to everyone and will be greatly missed by many.

Great Speaker at School

Benjamin students, school personnel (and anyone else who were able to be there) got a treat Tues. morning when 2 of the legendary Don Haskin's basketball players came to town and to the school for a little time to reminisce and reflect on their lives, times and relationships with this well known former Benjamin coach.

Nevil Shed And Steve Frednik played on Haskin's at Texas Western College. Shed was a member of the 1966 NCAA National Championship team. This story is portrayed in the movie "Glory Road". Haskins was coach here in the early 60's and is remembered by many. Shed and Frednick were houseguests of Wyman and Sylinda Meinzer. Wyman graciously showed them around town and the area.

Here N There

Jim Bob Conner, Charlie & Madelyn of Slaton were visitors in the home of his grandparents, Bobby and Philomae Roberson;

Chris Stroop & grandson, Dakota McDonald of Midland visited her mom, Lorene Powers several days last week.

Micky and Linda Jackson of Munday visited his aunt and cousin Jonnie Williams and Mary Bohannon Friday.

Jessica Moorhouse of Tarleton State in Stephenville spent the weekend with her parents, Debbie and Mike & Will. Liz & Taylor Herring of Munday were here Sat. evening dinner guest of Mike and Debbie.

Weekend guests of Gloria West were her children, Cathy Tomlison Denton, Robert Clower of Electra and Betty Parker and Chelsea of Aspermont.

Sidney and Lexie Mendoza of Seymour were weekend guests of the grandmother, Jane Gideon.

Weekend guests of Roger and Betty Bohannon were her sister and niece, Marilyn Fisk and Debbie Stephenson of Clyde. Marilyn will be having colon surgery Monday. We hope all goes well for her.

Our new postal clerk here is Mindy Hudgens. She has had all the training etc. & is ready to work!

She will be working Sat. mornings for the postmaster and on days when she is away. We congratulate Mindy.
