Large Crowd Attends Silverton School Homecoming

A large crowd of former students, teachers and guests gathered in the Silverton School auditorium Saturday morning for the biennial homecoming program. The invocation and benediction were given by Ted Kingery, minister of the Silverton Church of Christ.

Girl Scouts presented the flags and led the group in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

The welcome was given by Superintendent David Cavitt, and classes were recognized by L. B. Garvin. Miss Anna Lee Anderson was the eldest graduate attending, having finished high school with the Class of 1917. She was also the teacher with the longest tenure with the Silverton School, forty-five years.

Ruth Ann Minyard Hatchett of Tacoma, Washington traveled furthest, 1800 miles, to attend.

The Class of 1963, celebrating its 25th year, had the largest group in attendance at the program.

Clifton Stodghill introduced the speaker, Robert Rhode of Lubbock, who presented comments on his memories of days in school in Silverton, and his thoughts on the values gained from living in a small town. He told about how he marveled at the "mother-network" in the small town that gave his mother the latest information on what he was doing around town before he could get home, and also told about a rather scary incident when he and a group of students smuggled some Bibles into the Soviet Union.

The 1988 Homecoming Queen, Lallie Haynes Patton, was presented by L. B. Garvin and escorted to the stage by Norma Teeple Vaughan. Mrs. Patton was a member of the SHS Class of 1932. She was chosen by the members of the Homecoming Committee, Norma and Bud Vaughan, Joy and Clifton Stodghill and LaRue and L. B. Garvin, as the one they considered most deserving of those who were nominated.

Mrs. O. C. Rampley took the podium to present certificates of appreciation to those who donated to the Future Business Leaders of America project to air condition the auditorium, and many of those present commented how nice it was not to "sweat and swelter" through the program as in years past.

Stodghill conducted the business meeting, and those elected by acclamation to serve on the committee for the next homecoming were Carol and Mary Davis, J. E. and Mary Jane Patton and Joe and Vaughnell Brannon.

The singing of the alma mater was led by the current SHS cheerleaders, and those attending were invited to remain for lunch at a sandwich bar in the cafeteria which was provided by the Briscoe County Activities Association.

Only 223 were registered at the program, but it was felt that more were actually in attendance. A number of class reunions were held around town on Friday and Saturday.

Church To Have Special Recognition

During the Sunday morning worship service August 21 at First United Methodist Church, two very special members are to be honored who joined the church in 1918.

They are Mabel Welch, who joined the church on August 18, 1918, and Bob Hill, who joined six days later on August 24, 1918.

Others to be honored are those who have been members of the congregation for fifty or more years. These include George and Agnes Seaney, 58 years; Willie Hill, 57 years; Eural Vaughan, 54 years; George Martin, 51 years; Frances Crass, 51 years, and Vance Childress, 50 years.

A covered-dish lunch is planned following the service, during which members and friends will have time to visit with and express appreciation to as many of these loyal church members as possible.

Jamaica Planned Sunday at Catholic Church

Jamaica begins at 10:00 a.m. Sunday and will continue until 5:00 p.m. at Our Lady of Loreto Catholic Church in Silverton.

There will be fun and games and good things to eat for those of all ages.

There will be a dunking board, The Lucky Number Game, volleyball, jailhouse, Bingo, dart game, Ball-in-the-Hole and an arts and crafts booth.

Everyone is invited to come and have a good time.

All of our meetings will be held on Mondays at 4:00 p.m. at the Scout Hut from now on.

The Big Birthday Party is over for this year. It's a busy time for us, trying to spruce up things. We painted the fireplugs. Lance and Zeb did a good job. Helping me with the flags were Barry Baird, Tommy Davis, Steven Jasper, Stan Gamble and Anthony Gamble. Helping at the Coke stand were Tommy Davis, Steven Jasper, Frank, jr., Braden Towe, Zeb Holt, Anthony Gamble, Jeff Smith, Stan Gamble. They also helped to pick up trash. I think they did a good service for the whole event.

We want to thank the Briscoe County Activities Association for sharing the Coke stand with us. Your help is appreciated. A thank-you to the Baptist Church for the ice.

Just because the barbecue is over, people don't need to stop cleaning and fixing up things. Why not keep Silverton in good shape all the time. Our town is a nice looking place if kept up and not let to run down. To me, a place that looks bad is showing other people that no one cares. If kept looking good, people feel better about the place where they live.

If you're one of those who doesn't care, maybe it is time to sell out and find another run-down town in which to live. I will do my share to help out if you need something done. Call me and we will plan something to make Silverton look better.

Also, I would like to paint some more pictures on some store walls, but I need paint to do it with, so if your club or organization would like to help, call me. Keep Silverton alive by working together. I will, Boy Scouts will. Will you?

Appointments Being Made For Mammography Test

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $50.00. The unit accepts cash, check, VISA, MasterCard and American Express.

BRIAN McGAVOCK HONORED AT PARTY

A swimming party August 11 celebrated the birthday of Brian McGavock.

Twenty-one guests enjoyed the evening at the Silverton Pool. Brenda Boling was the lifeguard.

Games and swimming were hosted by Brian's grandparents, E. H. and Glenda McGavock.

GARLIC OIL
With Parsley and Chlorophyll

Garlic contains potassium, phosphorous, a significant amount of B and C vitamins, as well as calcium and protein. It's generally accepted that garlic acts as a diuretic, stimulant, expectorant, and sweat promoter. For centuries, it has been a common European remedy for colds, coughs and sore throats. European physicians have reported that garlic has two outstanding medical properties. One is that it tends to open up blood vessels and reduce blood pressure in hypertensive patients. The other property is antibiotic, and several researchers have found that garlic in large amounts can be effective against bacteria that may be resistant to other antibiotics. The addition of parsley and chlorophyll helps remove the aroma of this natural herb wonder, leaving no after-taste or bad breath. Contains no preservatives, no artificial color or flavor, no sugar and no starch.

THIS IS THE BACK OF ANY CHECK

All Payee Endorsements MUST be contained in this area on the back of ALL checks.

This also includes ALL rubber stamps, handwriting, cash register generated information, etc.

NOTE: Rubber stamps from grocery stores, or any other retail stores must also restrict their information to this area.

IT'S MONEY IN YOUR HANDS!

The Federal Reserve Board has adopted endorsement standards for all financial institutions effective September 1, 1988. This will enable these institutions to more readily identify the depository institution (the institution where the item is deposited by the customer) to which the returned check or notice must be sent.

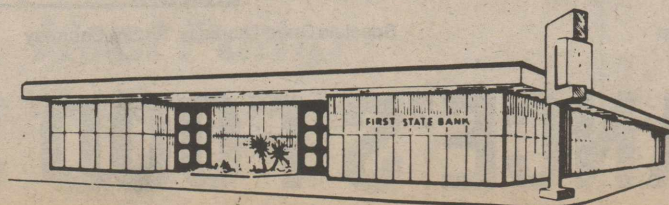

The area from the trailing edge of the check to 1.5 inches from the trailing edge is reserved for the depository institution's customer signature or endorsement stamp. (See illustration.) Does your endorsement stamp comply with these standards? The remainder of the check is reserved for the endorsement of the depository institution and subsequent collecting financial institutions.

You should benefit from the faster return of checks if you protect the legibility of the depository institution's endorsement. Failure to follow these endorsement standards could result in your incurring a financial loss.

PULLING TOGETHER

We all have to wear many hats in a rural community in order to get things done. The successful Briscoe County Celebration and its related events is evidence of what can be accomplished when we all work together for a common goal.

Community development experts tell us that the key ingredient in progressive communities is the "sense of community" or common thread that pulls everyone together. People who work together for the good of all, rather than for their own individual recognition, are critical in building a strong community.

I recently participated in a technical course on "Revitalizing Rural Texas" during our state Extension conference in College Station. I had the opportunity to hear outstanding speakers from a chamber of commerce, the Texas Department of Commerce, the Small Business Development Center, Small Business Administration, Technology Business Development Division, and Extension specialists in economic development, business management and tourism development.

The bottom line is that there is no ONE PERFECT solution for revitalizing rural communities. It requires a combination of work to start new business or attract industry, develop the tourism potential, support and improve existing businesses, and improve the looks of a community and its services. One area alone will not be adequate.

Strong leadership is also necessary. We are fortunate in Briscoe County to have a number of hard-working, dedicated, community-minded, unselfish community leaders, but we need more. Leadership development is a critical issue in the county. The Extension Family Community Leadership team is working to address this need.

Each individual needs to be dedicated to working with others within their community and in cooperation with all residents of the county to analyze our strengths and capitalize on them and minimize our weaknesses.

Those who can only look at change in a negative way or from the selfish standpoint of how it will affect them individually rather than what is good for the majority can do great harm to any community development efforts.

Let's keep up the cooperation we had in promoting the County Celebration and channel this energy and enthusiasm into other community improvement efforts.

For additional community economic development information, call the County Extension Office of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at 823-2131, Ext. 12 or come by the office in the courthouse basement.

Owls Have Scrimmages Coming Up

Silverton's Owls will be scrimmaging at Cotton Center at 5:00 p.m. Friday. Next week, there will be a scrimmage with Whitehall here.

There are two scrimmages here Thursday, with Amherst being matched with Groom at 4:00 p.m., followed by Miami and Lazbuddie at 6:00 p.m.

Saturday, the Junior Varsity Owls will scrimmage McLean JV at 10:00 a.m. at Lefors.

Coach Jack Shely says he has shoes for those junior high players who ordered them and some extra pair if anyone else wants them (sizes limited). Cost is $42.00 a pair. The shoes will be going back next week.

"Last year was just outstanding," Coach Shely said. "This year, though, we must be able to keep our concentration and our progress going. If so, we will do very well again."

The Owls return six players who started on offense last season while four players return who saw action on defense last year.

Leading the way is quarterback Kendal Minyard, a 5-10 junior, who received honorable mention when the all-district team was selected a year ago. He'll be pushed for signal-calling duties by Kirk Couch, a 5-7 125-pound sophomore. Minyard doubles as a cornerback while Couch also plays safety.

Handling the ball-carrying chores will be the talented Neal Edwards, a 6-1 165-pound senior, who was a second-team all-state selection in 1987. Edwards gained more than 1,600 yards last year and Coach Shely has high hopes for him this season.

Another capable runner is sophomore Bradley Brunson, a 6-2 190-pounder. Also looking to contribute will be Wayne Henderson, a 5-9 165-pound sophomore and Will Rowell, a 5-7 145-pound senior. A couple of other options are Gabe Patino, a 5-7 155-pound senior and Emmie Garcia, a 5-8 160-pound senior.

The Owls are also expected to be strong through the air. The passing game is paced by Jamie Frizzell, a 6-1 160-pound senior, who was named second-team all-state linebacker last year.

Frizzell pulled in 36 passes for 520 yards last year and will be tough to stop again this season.

Another imposing target is junior end Jon Pigg, a 6-7 230-pound player who doubles as a defensive end. Others ready to pull duty as receivers include Bryan Ramsey, a 5-8 140-pound junior; Peter Martinez, a 6-4 210-pound sophomore; Frank Lowrey, a 6-3 180-pound junior and Rhett Montague, a 5-10 150-pound senior. A year ago, Lowrey started at defensive end.

The front line should be anchored by Brad West, a 6-1 185-pound senior. He'll get help from Denny Hill, a 5-9 150-pound junior. Others to watch up front include Santos Segura, 5-6 195-pound senior, Teddy Hubbard, a 5-11 150-pound junior and Robby Weak, a 5-10 260-pound sophomore.

"We have plenty of size, strength and experience on offense," Coach Shely said. "But our lack of speed and experience on defense could prove to be a weakness."

Silverton will get a quick opening-week test when the Owls begin the regular season against Amherst on the road.

Class Of 1926 Has Reunion Here

The SHS Class of 1926 had its reunion in the Pioneer Room of First State Bank August 13, 1988, with Jettie Stevenson Hardcastle as hostess.

There were 17 in this class. Five, True Burson, Earl Gammon, Gladys Olive, Inetha Montague Cantwell and Arthur Thomas, are deceased. Seven attended the reunion.

Iris Crawford Burson was valedictorian of the class. Inetha Montague Cantwell was salutatorian and Edwin Crass was high-point boy.

Kathleen Smithee Green read two letters from classmates who were unable to attend. Eloise Morgan Patton of Wichita Falls is still teaching music with her sister, Marguerite. Ione Baldwin Willis of Bridgeport had knee surgery and couldn't be at the reunion.

Those attending were Iris Crawford Burson, Zelda Brown Dudley, R. C. and Kathleen Smithee Green of Turkey, Bob Hill, Edwin Crass of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Baxter of Lockney and Miriam Crass Jewell of Plainview. She was in the Class of 1925. Bonnie Burson Brooks of Grandfalls, Class of 1924, also attended. She and her two brothers lived with the Shelby Haynes and Jno. Burson families for several years.

Iris Mae Fox Graham of Amarillo was in the 1924 class at Lockney and came to Silverton in 1925 and worked for Judge Wright and Art Frieze.

Others attending were Earl Cantwell, Mr. and Mrs. Covey (Pauline Buchanan) Nash of Donie, Mr. and Mrs. Blanton Garrison of Amarillo, Bertha Mae Stevenson Allard and Jettie Stevenson Hardcastle.

Grace was given by Edwin Crass and a moment of silent prayer was held for those deceased.

The SHS Class of 1944 assembled Saturday in the school's board room with the following in attendance: Anna (Bean) Rambo, Hale Center; Cecil Seaney, Kent; Avanel (Wilson) Kuykendall, Pasadena, Texas; D. L. Young, Lubbock.

Also, Buck Hardin, Esdell Hutsell, J. C. Fowler, Doyle Stephens, Rex Holt, all of Silverton.

Correspondence was read and discussed from those who were unable to be there. Due to illness, two members, Norlan and Doris (Holt) Dudley were absent and were missed by everyone.

A short skit was performed by two "former???" English teachers. The class enjoyed visiting and reminiscing there until joining Carlyn (Wimberly) Montgomery of Amarillo at The Steak House in Tulia.

SOLDIER

I was that which others did not want to be.

I went where others feared to go, and did what others failed to do.

I asked nothing from those who gave nothing and reluctantly accepted the thought of eternal loneliness . . . should I fail.

I have seen the face of terror; felt the stinging cold of fear; and enjoyed the sweet taste of a moment's love.

I have cried, pained and hoped . . . but most of all, I have lived times others would say were best forgotten.

At least someday I will be able to say that I was proud of what I was . . . a soldier.

PTA Update

PTA was able to help the school spiff up for the homecoming. Members painted the elementary playground's new fence cleverly constructed by Ronnie Miller, our new ag instructor, and Jack Shely. We were able to move dirt and spread it under the swings and other low places. We also hauled off the old broken boat and truck cab. Replacements for the boat and truck are still being sought and any suggestions can be directed to Cindy Comer, 847-2833, or Sheila Reagan, 823-2537.

We appreciate Rex Johnson who said "yes!" without hesitation when asked if we could use his front-end loader. Thanks also to Terry Sperry for many hours operating it. It was generous of Gerald Smith to trust us with his trailer. We also appreciate other community members standing by in case they were needed.

We give Anthony Kingery special recognition for going far above and beyond the call of duty. He took on the tedious task of paint removal from the hair and body of a two-year-old and did not elicit so much as a whimper.

Floyd, Motley, Dickens and Briscoe counties.

"I'm running for this highly important position because I'm sick and tired of criminals running loose in our area who should be behind bars," West said.

"When a person is convicted of a crime I want him behind bars for the length of their sentence and not to be let loose on some technicality or fancy plea bargain deal.

"If elected district attorney, the saying 'law and order' won't be an empty slogan; because if they do the crime, and are convicted, I'll see they do the time in jail," West said.

He pledged to pinpoint the drug traffic saying, "as district attorney, the four counties I represent will be cleansed of drugs. Whether it be manufacturing, selling, or abusing any controlled illegal substance," he added.

West, who is a Democrat, pointed out the voters will have to take a few seconds longer to write-in his name, adding "but for a job this important I'm confident they will take that time to select the right person, someone like myself who will slam the jail door on the criminals."

A native of Lubbock, West is a 1967 graduate of Texas Tech University and received his law degree from Baylor University in 1969. He has been in private practice of law in Lubbock and Silverton since that time. He became Briscoe County Attorney in 1987.

He has two children, a son, Greg, 17, and a daughter, Catharin, 13.

West has been admitted to practice law in U. S. District Court in the Northern District of Texas and is a member of the State Bar of Texas, the American College of Legal Medicine, the Texas Trial Lawyers Association as well as the Texas Criminal Lawyers Association, and the National Sheriff's Association.

West has served as a deacon in the First Presbyterian Church and is a member of the Texas District and County Attorneys Association's legislative committee.

He also is a member of the Texas Tech Red Raider Club and the Texas Tech Century Club and of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association as well as an exporter of hybrid grain sorghum. 33-1tc

Training To Explain State's New Pesticide Law

Educational programs to acquaint agricultural employers and laborers with provisions of the state's new Agricultural Hazard Communication Act are being conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Commonly referred to as the "Right-to-Know Act," the measure was enacted by the legislature in 1987 to promote the safe use of pesticides and protect the health of farm workers, farmers and farming communities, explained Bob Robinson, South Plains District Extension director.

Proposed regulations of the provision have been drafted by the Texas Department of Agriculture. The law requires the TDA to develop and conduct training programs in selected counties, based on population, and the Extension Service to conduct training in all other counties.

TDA has designated 21 counties in which it will conduct training. Among these are Castro, Dawson, Floyd, Gaines, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock and Terry.

In other counties of the High Plains, Rolling Plains and Panhandle, the Extension Service is conducting programs to inform employers of their responsibilities, and to emphasize to workers safety and health aspects of working in fields and areas where pesticides are used to produce agricultural commodities.

The law applies to agricultural employers who:

- *Hire migrant or seasonal workers with a gross annual payroll of $15,000 or more, and who annually use or store 55 gallons or 500 pounds of any pesticide; or
- *Hire permanent agricultural workers with a gross annual

Chairmen Appointed For Cattlemen's
Roundup For Crippled Children

Two hundred thirty volunteer area chairmen statewide have been appointed for the 29th annual Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children, according to James Alexander of Abilene, CRCC general chairman. Aubrey Stokes of San Angelo serves as general co-chairman.

The Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children is a vital fundraiser which benefits the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene and San Angelo.

Chairman for Silverton is Johnnie Burson.

"Sales of livestock are converted to dollars which provide out-patient treatments for the increasing number of individuals who will be treated at the Rehab Center facilities," explains Shelley V. Smith, WTRC president/executive director.

payroll of $50,000 or more, and who annually use or store 55 gallons or 500 pounds of any pesticide.

Employers in these categories must provide relevant crop sheets for the commodity being grown, and ensure that these are read aloud to each farm laborer, in the most understood language, at least once each growing season.

Crop sheets are regional documents which list the pesticides used on that crop in that region; the time of year in which they are used; re-entry intervals, or the time which must elapse following pesticide application before workers can re-enter a field; and health effects and precautions which should be exercised by the worker.

In addition, employers covered by the law must maintain a workplace chemical list which records information about pesticides used or stored in the workplace, and a material safety data sheet (MSDS) for each pesticide purchased. These documents are to be made available to workers, or their representatives, on request.

dates include Haskell Sale, September 24; Cattle Sale, September 26 at Abilene Auction; Horse Sale, October 1, Abilene Auction; Coleman Sale, October 5; Stephenville Sale, October 5; Junction Sheep and Goat Sale, October 10; San Saba Sale, October 13, and Brownwood Sale, October 26.

"Ranchers whose sale calendars do not correspond with Round-Up sales may make a pledge and then respond as soon as they can," adds Alexander. "Some stockmen cut out an animal or more throughout the year and ask their local auctions to send the sale proceeds to the Rehab Center."

Persons wishing to make a donation of livestock or cash, or those needing to arrange for transportation of animals should contact Burson or call the nearest WTRC facility.

Since its establishment 35 years ago, West Texas Rehab Center always has focused on treatment of the individual rather than just the handicap. Trained, licensed professionals provide physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech/language therapy, audiology, orthotics, education, diagnostic clinics, social services and work evaluations. Patients are admitted by referral, and are treated without charge except for braces and hearing aids.

SOCIAL SECURITY IN BRISCOE COUNTY
BY TERRY J. CLEMENTS

The Social Security Administration encourages blind and disabled people receiving benefits to work despite their impairments. There are various work incentive provisions to help them become self-supporting. This column describes one of the supplemental security income (SSI) incentives. We call it a PASS—short for "plan for achieving self-support."

Under a PASS, a disabled or blind person can set aside income and/or resources over a specified period of time for a work goal such as vocational training, education, purchasing work-related equipment, or starting a business. The income and/or resources set aside do not count in determining the person's eligibility or payment amount. Working blind or disabled people who otherwise would not be eligible for SSI may be able to receive payments if they have a PASS.

A vocational counselor, social worker, employer, or Social Security representative, among others, may help a person develop a plan for achieving self-support. The plan must include a feasible work goal, a specific savings or spending plan, and the intended time frame for carrying out the goal. It also must provide for a clearly identifiable accounting of the funds that are set aside.

We will evaluate the plan and determine if it is acceptable. We'll also help put the plan in writing. The person must then follow the plan but can negotiate revisions as needed.

It is important to note that, as earnings rise, an SSI recipient who does not now need a PASS may need one next month to remain eligible or increase his or her payment amount.

Anyone who wants more information about plans for achieving self-support should call any Social Security office. Social Security also has a leaflet available that describes the various work incentive provisions. It's called "Benefits For Disabled People Who Return To Work." For more information or to file a claim call 293-9623.

Reporters on the trail of a story hate to hear "no comment."

But "no comment" was the big story August 3 at a public hearing in Lubbock on environmental concerns related to boll weevil control and eradication efforts. The High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program, now in its 25th year, drew not a single adverse comment. "To us," program officials say, "that means we must be doing something right."

The U. S. Department of Agriculture's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) called the hearing to receive public comment in the process of preparing a court-ordered environmental impact statement on a proposed federal-state-industry eradication program spanning the U. S. Cotton Belt. A similar hearing was held August 1 in Montgomery, Alabama, and another August 5 in Phoenix, Arizona.

Only six statements were presented at the lightly attended Lubbock hearing, all of them lauding the High Plains program as a boon to area cotton production and the High Plains economy while posing no threat to environmental safety. In contrast, a USDA source reported, the Alabama hearing produced 25 witnesses, five of whom testified in opposition to the spray program that started last year in 21 south Alabama counties.

It was in Alabama that two environmental groups and two north Alabama cotton growers last April filed for an injunction against the eradication program, alleging, among other things, misuse of chemicals. The suit was settled in July, with the judge allowing the program to continue under an agreement that USDA would prepare an environmental impact statement for all U. S. programs, that specified safety procedures would be followed, advance notice of sprayings would be published, and producers would re-vote on the program before May 1989.

The High Plains program has retained a high level of public acceptance, producer Jarrell Edwards of Borden County told the Lubbock hearing judge, through "intense training, management, spraying selectivity and close attention to sensitive areas." Edwards is chairman of the Boll Weevil Steering Committee, a committee of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the organization that has conducted the High Plains program from the beginning.

He pointed out that the chemical used in the program, ultra-low volume malathion, is a low toxicity, non-persistent insecticide with no long-range adverse effects on any desirable species. On management he said control zone fields are precisely mapped to shape and scale and sprayed only after two surveys confirm the level of infestations.

In addition, Edwards continued, contractor and pilots receive detailed briefings on a daily basis, every field is flagged and watched during chemical applications, aircraft are calibrated and checked for leaks after every load, and "pilots guilty of chemical misuse are dismissed on the spot."

Despite its success in protecting High Plains cotton production since 1964, the program does have one weakness, Edwards admitted.

Because of in-migration from outside the control zone, it cannot be expected to achieve eradication and must be repeated year after year.

Therefore, he assured, the APHIS long-term plan to include the High Plains in a beltwide eradication effort "has our full support."

New rules are out by which USDA will play the high-stakes "game" of determining who's eligible for farm program payments in 1989 and who isn't. The new rules were published in a 28-page final notice in the August 5 Federal Register.

But the game can't start until Washington officials explain the complex rules to state and district officials, district officials explain them to county officials, and county officials notify producers that it's time to play. The latter, says Norvell Breedlove, Compliance Chief for USDA's Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), won't happen before at least mid-October.

Already in the works is the first draft of the handbook ASCS will use in rule interpretations. Next in the process is an informational meeting set August 17-18-19 in San Francisco for state ASCS committees, executive directors, other key state-level personnel and district directors.

Training sessions will reach the county level in Texas August

Miticide To Receive Temporary Clearance

The Environmental Protection Agency intends to provide a Section 18 temporary clearance for the use of the chemical "Supracide" on corn for mite control, the Texas Corn Growers Association has learned.

Sen. Phil Gramm told TCGA that the EPA had notified his office that the miticide would receive the Section 18 this week, said Carl King, TCGA president. King said TCGA requested the Section 18 through the Texas Department of Agriculture, and TDA's request to EPA is imminent.

"We are pleased the corn producers in our region will be able to use this chemical for mite control," said King, who met with EPA officials in Washington recently to discuss the potential for mite problems on the High Plains. "In the event hot, dry weather persists in the area, the miticide can be sprayed to help contain major mite infestations which normally occur under these conditions."

King noted that TCGA reques-

29. In the interim, Washington and state officials will collaborate on any perceived need for handbook revisions. Texas county meetings are scheduled first in San Antonio on August 29 and will start in Lubbock the week of September 12.

Also in the planning stage are informational meetings for producers, to be conducted by USDA, industry leaders and National Cotton Council (NCC) staff. Some 14 meeting sites, including Lubbock, are under consideration. They are expected to begin in late August or early September, contingent on availability of USDA personnel.

The new regulations are designed to tighten application of the $50,000 per-person limit as mandated in a section of the Budget Reconciliation Act passed by Congress late last year. USDA's original rules, published in early April, drew a wide range of comment from all manner of interested parties, including the NCC and Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

The final version reflects USDA's favorable response to much of the criticism, notes PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson. Most PCG objections, Johnson points out, revolved around the proposed criteria for judging an individual or other entity's contribution to an operation as proof of the "actively engaged in farming" status required for payment eligibility. In that regard, he says, the rules as now written are a decided improvement over the first proposal.

Specifically, Johnson calls attention to the new rules' provision for more equitable treatment of joint landowners, cash-lease tenants, members of entities who contribute labor and/or management, sharecroppers and providers of equipment.

Other changes industry leaders like include a new requirement that USDA give prior notice before any reduction or denial of producer payments, and a 60-day time limit on ASCS payment eligibility determinations.

ted the Section 18 for the Ciba-Giegy produced chemical in the wake of DuPont informing the EPA that it would halt production of "Azodrin" next year. The termination of Azodrin production was a major reason for the lack of EPA approval for an Azodrin Section 18.

TCGA received Section 18 clearance on Azodrin for six straight years before the EPA turned down its request in 1987 and again this year. The EPA claimed that Azodrin was a threat to the safety of migratory birds. King noted, however, that TDA has never received a complaint of Azodrin-related bird kills.

"Azodrin is currently cleared for use on cotton, peanuts and sugar cane," said King. "We saw no reason why the miticide couldn't be cleared for use on corn like these other commodities."

King praised Sen. Gramm, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, and Reps. Beau Boulter, Larry Combest and Charles Stenholm for their support of TCGA's efforts in obtaining EPA clearance for an effective miticide.

"Sen. Gramm went out of his way to help TCGA obtain a Section 18 for Azodrin," said King. "He deserves our thanks for consistently and personally handling this matter over the last year. He took the lead on this issue, and we are appreciative of all the Texas Delegation that helped us."

Dr. Pat Morrison and Dr. Tom Archer, entomologists for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, have also devoted much time to the miticide problem. "The Texas Corn Producers Board will continue to fund research efforts by these men and others to help us obtain a better miticide to be somewhat of a substitute to Azodrin," said King.

"No miticide is as good as Azodrin, but Supracide is as close as we could come to obtaining effective mite control for this year."

Summer Vacation Soon Will Be Over

Major Vernon Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, wants to remind everyone that the summer vacation will soon be over, and thousands of youngsters will be starting back to school, many of those for the first time.

So, once again, everyone will be seeing those big yellow school buses back on the streets and highways. The Texas Department of Public Safety wants to remind you that Texas law prohibits the passing of a stopped school bus that is loading or unloading passengers when the lights are flashing. If you are in doubt—stop—those few moments you lose may mean a lifetime to some youngster. None of us want to be responsible for the death or injury of a young child, so remember to slow down in the school zones in the mornings and again in the afternoons.

THE PROFESSIONAL PHOTOGRAPHER gives careful thought and study to lighting his subject. Contrasts must be right and reflections must be right to achieve the best effects.

Individuals' lives reflect how they think and what they believe. Our lives count most, when we attend church regularly and walk in the light of the Lord.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
