Submarines Get Five Japanese Ships

Land Units Wiped Out In Islands

By John H. Wiggins
WASHINGTON, (AP)—American fighting men steadily strengthened their grip on the Solomon Islands Friday as the battle of the Southwest Pacific brought destruction to five Japanese ships, eight airplanes and quantities of invasion supplies.

Indications that constant Allied battering was sapping enemy strength came in communiques from General MacArthur's Australian headquarters and from the Navy Department which told of lack of Japanese aircraft resistance in New Guinea and of only "periodic attacks" by small detachments of invaders in the Solomons.

U. S. submarines dealt a severe blow to Japan's supply lines by sinking five enemy ships including a light cruiser, and damaging three more. The newest sinkings reported by the Navy Thursday boosted the total of Japanese ships sunk or damaged by American undersea craft to 99 since Dec. 7, 1941.

Japan Attacks Less
Absence of Japanese attempts at interception were noted by General MacArthur's medium and attack bombers in a foray against enemy installations at Salamaua, Japanese New Guinea base, where numerous fires were started.

In the upper Solomons, two enemy seaplanes were damaged by the Allied bombers at Faisi, fuel dumps were destroyed at Buika and at Kieteta Japanese installations were blasted with "unknown results."

War Department Is Questioned On Draft Ages

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Chairman Reynolds (D-NC) of the Senate Military Affairs Committee declared Friday he would ask the War Department for a formal recommendation "as to the necessity" of drafting youths of 18 and 19 into the armed forces.

Reynolds told reporters he would be guided "by the decisions of our military leaders" in his consideration of a proposal introduced on Thursday by Senator Gurney (R-SD), to lower the minimum induction age from 20 to 18 and thus tap a reservoir of upwards of 2,000,000 men.

Gurney told the senate the United States should go into the younger brackets for soldiers with a view of giving them sufficient training, and adequate physical upbuilding to equip them to meet the enemy, particularly Germany, whose youth "Hitler trains almost from the time they are babes in arms."

Senator Bilbo (D-Miss) argued it was better to draft married men, for whose dependents he said congress "has provided generously" than to send "tender-age" youths into combat. He said married men had "a little more to fight for than boys still in school."

'Dos And Don'ts' For Christmas Gifts

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Christmas parcels for Sailors and Marines should be mailed early and kept small, the Navy said Friday.

Supplying a set of "Dos" and "Don'ts" the Navy said gifts should be mailed between Oct. 1 and Nov. 1, and labeled "Christmas Parcel" to get special attention.

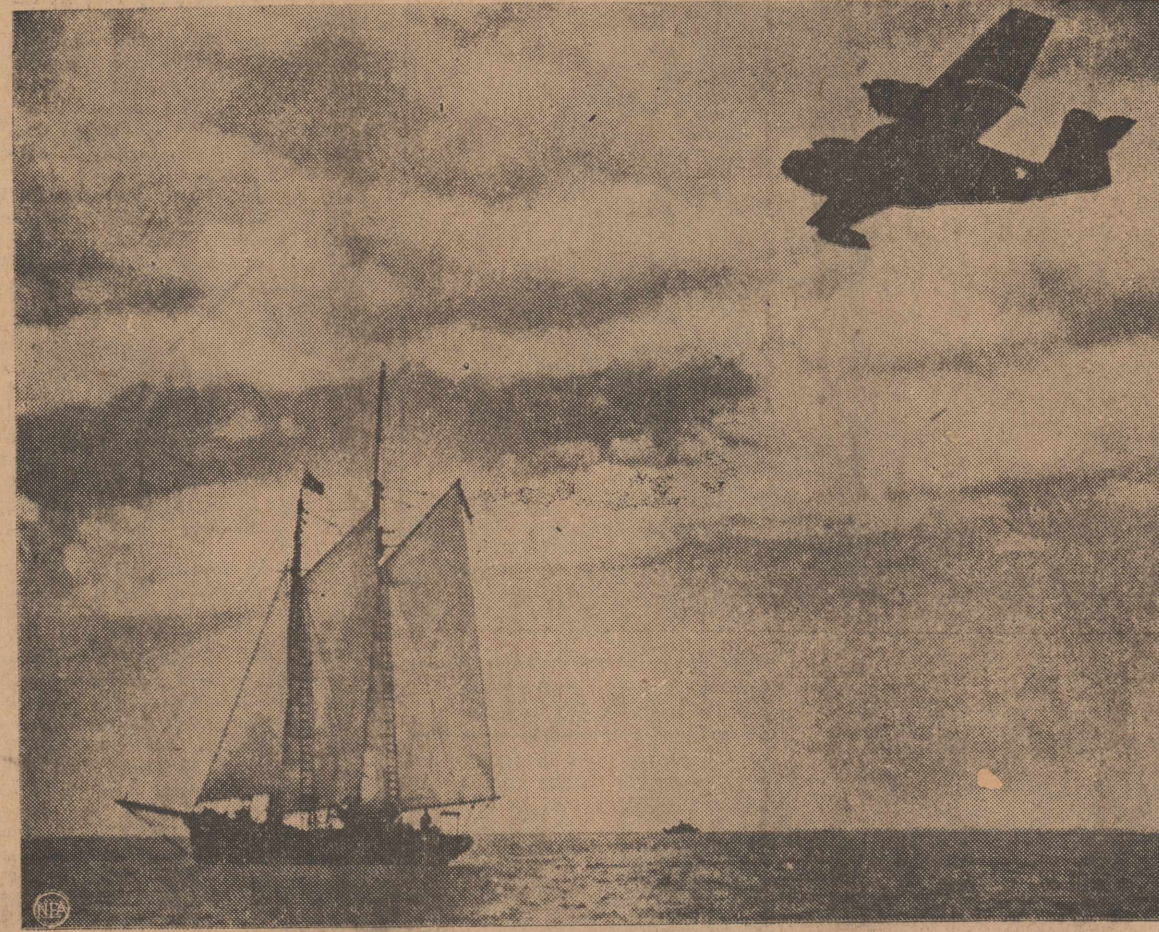

Articles should be easily portable, and useful in any climate, such as toilet kits, watches, notebooks, pipes, pens and photographs. Electrical apparatus "of doubtful value" and food should be avoided particularly, because it is apt to arrive in bad condition.

Thomas McMullan, Coast Guardsman, Visits Here
Thomas McMullan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. H. McMullan, and a Midland high school graduate, is home on leave from New Orleans, where he is on duty as a Coast Guardsman. He is visiting with his parents and sister, Mrs. G. B. Hallman.

McMullan, 19, was working with Gulf as a sampler when he enlisted in the Coast Guard several weeks ago. He has been training at New Orleans, and is home for a short leave. He will be assigned to active duty on return to his post.

US Airmen Score Heavily In China Coast Provinces

CHUNGKING, China, (AP)—United States airmen scored direct hits on Japanese headquarters at Nanchang, probably sank seven steamers and damaged others in the Sing-tse-Hankow Channel and left a number of other craft in flames on Lake Poyang Wednesday in a devastating series of raids upon the enemy in Kiangsi and Hupeh Provinces, Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters announced Friday.

In other action over Kweilin, in coastal Chekiang Province, Chinese informants said "Sky Dragons" of the U. S. Army Air Forces shot down five Japanese planes Thursday in a spectacular air battle.

The raids were made in support of Chinese forces beating at the defenses of Nanchang, the main Japanese base in Kiangsi, and at Kiang-hwa, Chekiang capital and big air base from which American bombers could raid Japan. General Stilwell's war bulletin said that in all Wednesday's operations only one American plane was missing.

The Americans pounded on a fleet of 25 sailboats and heavy junks loaded with Japanese troops on Lake Poyang and left casualties among the wreckage of burning and smashed craft, the communique said.

Hankow, Port of the Yangtze and the biggest inland Chinese city held by the enemy, has been the target of previous heavy raids since the American Air Force went to work in China.

Fred Turner Brings In Record Load Of Scrap For War Work

Fred Turner, Jr., oil man, didn't say much about it, but Thursday afternoon he unloaded two big truck loads of scrap metal at the fast-growing scrap heap. He had some old binders and other pieces of machinery, stuff that was not useful otherwise, for a big tonnage of the very kind of scrap that will do the most good.

And, he is not through gathering, for Friday morning it was reported that he was still gathering and would have a lot more to deliver right away.

J. E. (Bob) Hill is reported making a silent campaign to round up a lot of scrap, and that most anytime he will be showing up with a big lot of it for the war time program.

Scrap has started moving from Midland in big shipments. Thursday saw carload of rubber and three big truck loads of metal go into market. Torch cutters have been busy in the city and on the farms and ranches cutting up the big stuff. The county campaign is going fine, but greater results are expected as the greater number of individuals become interested in taking an active part in the drive.

Midland Retail Stores To Observe Labor Day

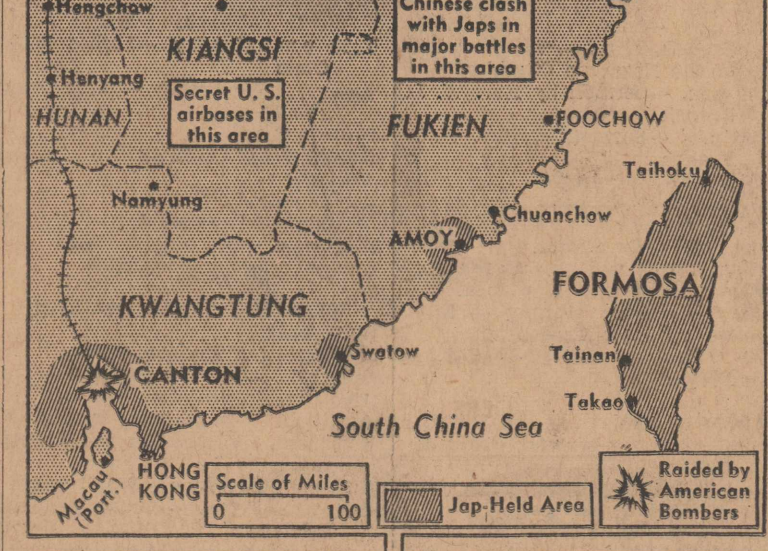

Retail stores of Midland will close all day Monday, September 7, in observance of Labor Day, it was announced by the chamber of commerce. Labor Day is one of the five holidays agreed upon for city-wide observance by retailers earlier this year. Midland banks also will observe the holiday as well as numerous oil companies.

Langford Promoted To MAFS Captaincy

Captain Langford came to the field on December 1, last year, to set up the sub-depot and has directed the development of the department.

Sales Tax To Be Favored In War Finance

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Urged by Secretary Morgenthau to take "bold action" toward providing non-inflationary war financing, the Senate Finance Committee weighed Friday a treasury-sponsored "spending" tax plan and proposals for a flat-rate levy on retail sales and services.

With more than a majority expressing opposition to the $650,000,000 additional revenue program laid before the group by Morgenthau, some committee members said the effect of the Treasury's new proposal had been to force a showdown between it and a sales tax.

Senator Byrd (D-W.Va.) said he believed Morgenthau had left no course open to the committee but to boost substantially the $6,271,000,000 yield in additional taxes provided by the House-approved revenue bill.

"From what the secretary says," Byrd told reporters, "there must be additional money raised beyond that provided in the House bill. As I see it, the sales tax is the only answer. Certainly, we can't impose such a ridiculously-involved spending tax as he has suggested. It would be easily possible for a man to pay more tax than his income under such a levy."

Nazis Push Forward In Climactic Assault For 'City Of Stalin'

By Roger D. Greene
Associated Press War Editor
Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's armored columns, jolted by terrific Allied fire-power, were reported to have fallen back in the battle of Egypt Friday under another record breaking assault by British and American war planes.

A British communique said the main Axis forces had retreated slightly westward. On the Russian front, Nazi headquarters asserted that German troops had fought their way to the western suburbs of Stalingrad, and Tass, the official Soviet News Agency, acknowledged that fighting was in progress on "the immediate approaches" to the big Volga steel city.

Dispatches to Red Star said battles "without precedent in violence" were raging on the northern and southern approaches to the city as Gen. Fedor Von Bock threw 25 divisions or upwards of 375,000 troops into a climactic assault on the key "City of Stalin."

Attack Black Sea Coast
"The Hitlerites" tank columns, defeated in previous engagements, have been considerably replenished, Tass said.

German planes were reported attacking the city regularly in waves of 150 or more.

The Caucasus, Hitler's field headquarters said, German troops crossed the Kerch Strait between the Crimea and the Caucasus mainland and now are attacking Russian defenses on the Black Sea coast.

Against the steadily darkening plight of Russia's armies, the situation in Egypt was markedly improved.

British Exert Pressure
A bulletin from British Imperial GHQ said British forces exerted strong pressure on the enemy all day Thursday in the southern sector. (Continued on Page 6)

Midland Youth Is Killed In Action

Word reached Midland from the War Department Friday that Weldon Wallace (Pete) Ware, 22-year-old gunners mate in the Navy, had been killed in action. He enlisted in the Navy two years ago.

Ware, who was well known in Midland, was a brother of Mrs. Odell Ponder, Mrs. T. A. Devore, Mrs. Arlie Terrell and Morris Ware.

Last reports from him to relatives indicated he was on duty in the Pacific area.

WAR BULLETINS

ROME (From Italian Broadcasts) (AP)—The Italian High Command reported Friday many New Zealand soldiers were captured and that Allies lost a number of tanks in the Battle of Egypt Thursday.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—Two police officers were injured by a time bomb explosion outside the Randalstown police barracks during Thursday night as police pressed a roundup of suspected political agitators which resulted in 90 arrests before morning.

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—The flow of Australia's essential war requirements from the United States is gradually increasing, Prime Minister John Curtin said in a statement Friday.

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts) (AP)—DNB broadcast a report Friday that German troops had crossed the Kerch Straits between the Crimea and the Caucasus mainland last Tuesday and had pierced Russian defenses on the mainland coast.

LONDON (AP)—The Vichy radio reported Friday that a large number of merchant ships bearing huge fuel cargoes had arrived Thursday night at Gibraltar. The broadcaster said the British now had an "impressive force" assembled at that stronghold.

NEW YORK (AP)—The British radio broadcast a Stockholm report Friday saying the big Danish cellulose products factory at Valby, near Copenhagen, had been destroyed by an explosion attributed to sabotage.

THE WAR TODAY

By DeWitt MacKenzie
Wide World War Analyst
If one were asked to pick the most important international development of the past 24 hours, I think it would have to be Spanish Generalissimo Franco's removal of his brother-in-law, strongly pro-Nazi Ramon Serrano Suner, not only from the office of foreign minister, but from the presidency of the Palange, which is Spain's sole political party.

While this drastic and daring shake-up bears the marks of being in no small degree an internal affair, yet its potentialities in relation to the Allies and the Axis powers are vast. There is much that needs clarification in this greatly complicated situation, but we can at least say that Franco's action must cause heart-burnings in Berlin and is a matter of satisfaction to the United Nations.

Strengthen Spain's Neutrality
I think we may put it this way: By eliminating a powerful pro-Nazi influence from his cabinet and leadership of his party, Generalissimo Franco has whatever his underlying purpose—strengthened the neutrality of his country. From the Allied standpoint that is a gratifying sign of independence in the face of powerful Hitlerian efforts to make Spain a hewer of wood and a drawer of water for the Axis.

As a matter of fact, despite Suner's strong friendship for Nazism, the generalissimo himself has all along maintained his freedom of action, despite threats from the Axis powers. Franco's position has been extremely difficult and dangerous, especially with a German army sitting on his border in France. Still, he has dared greatly and has persisted in sticking to the middle course.

Spain Leans Toward Allies
Now Franco himself has taken over the leadership of Palange, and has placed in the foreign ministry Count Francisco Gomez Jordana, who long has been credited with being well disposed towards the Allies. While diplomatic observers aren't inclined to jump at broad conclusions, it's a fair assumption that Allied interests may profit.

As the Allied powers look this situation over speculatively, it strikes me that there must pass through their minds the hope—perhaps vague, but still there—that if this autumn's fighting should swing strongly in favor of the United Nations, Generalissimo Franco might lean in their direction.

What a Godsend it would be for the Allies if Franco should join them and thereby make Spain the continental gateway for that second front! However, that's merely a faint hope, but greater results are expected as the greater number of individuals become interested in taking an active part in the drive.

About Inflation

Perhaps one reason why the American people have not worried enough about inflation is because they have an exaggerated notion what it is.

The spectacular way to present the idea is by citing Germany's experience, culminating in 1923, when in December it would have taken 1,200,400,000 marks to buy what one mark—23.8 cents—bought in 1913.

Translated into American money, that would be equivalent to having to pay $132,044,000,000 (one hundred thirty-two billions, forty-four millions of dollars) for the loaf of baker's bread that costs 11 cents today.

We all know that there is not going to be such inflation as that in the United States. We are convinced that there will not even be inflation such that bread will cost $1000 a loaf, or a stamp to mail a letter $250, which is about where Germany was in July of 1922, before her notorious inflation really got its second wind and started running.

Assured that such fears are silly, we dismiss warnings as the academic nightmares of overworked economists, and refuse to be worried.

A bird in the hand, we love to say, is worth two in the bush. Let's eat, drink and be merry, and let tomorrow take care of itself.

Unfortunately, inflation does not have to get to the one trillion, two hundred billion stage in order to do incalculable harm. At the two-to-one stage it can work hardship. At the four-to-one it can wipe out the savings of a provident lifetime. At eight-to-one it could ruin the American economy and put this nation through the wringer of effective bankruptcy.

Inflation may sound academic, but really it isn't. Inflation means merely that money has lost some of its value. It won't buy as much, in the way of useful goods, as it did or should.

Inflation means that the value of money is going down. We buy enough insurance and put enough in the bank to finance old age. Money loses value. Then we can't live on our savings.

We buy gilt-edge bonds, and save for a home of our own. When we sell the bonds, we collect their face value. But they will pay for only half a house, if money has lost half of its value.

That is all inflation is. The German fiasco merely illustrates how far inflation can go. We're not safe, merely because we know inflation never will go as far in this country.

Assistance From Mexico

Arrangements between the two governments will make available a supply of Mexican workers to relieve a farm labor shortage which has been worrying our cotton and sugar beet farmers.

The safeguards thrown around the arrangement would seem to be ample. Mexicans will be brought in only when domestic workers cannot be obtained. They will stay only so long as the need lasts. The must be paid the prevailing wage scale, so that they will not lower existing labor standards.

The result will be help for our farmers, money for the Mexicans, and the saving of cotton and sugar beets that American consumers need.

Ingenuity At Work

Gasoline companies, anxious for continued sales, are demonstrating that the old profit motive still has its virtues.

One corporation has worked out a scheme supposed to save 40 per cent of gasoline by cutting out half the cylinder. Another has a tire-saving method about ready for publicizing. Neither may work, or both may prove successful. That isn't the point. The point is that whenever we get into trouble somebody, hoping to make an honest dollar, gets busy and finds a way out.

That always has been the American way. Incidentally, it is the capitalistic way. It has done pretty well for the country.

Reform—Or Food

Rexford Guy Tagwell is not endearing himself to his Puerto Rican constituents by insistence upon using available cargo space to take rum barrels empty to the island and full to the mainland. The territory wants food, which is short. Tagwell wants money for his reform program, and can get it only by selling rum.

We suggest to Rex that reform works best on a full stomach.

The Army, the Navy and the Marines are doing everything they can to see that Japan's military plans are carried out—on a stretcher.

Hitting the high spots has a habit of giving folks an awful jolt.

We often discover, too late, the one good reason why some men get into office—they get the most votes.

After all, you can believe about half of what you hear—if you want to be that foolish.

Walking is good for the complexion, says a physical expert. Yet some of the ladies insist on phoning for theirs.

We hope the American flyers will make the Japs' Zero planes just that.

us, where did you get all this inside, private information?"

Well, sir, I never saw Sam so mad since Lem Martin's dog chased the cat into the pickle barrel. And I guess I never saw a man crawfish out of a place fast as that fellow did.

Thinking it over afterwards, I came to the conclusion that Sam's got the real system for handling folks who throw facts and figures around free and easy like.

For instance, I've noticed there's some pretty fancy fact and figure jugglin' done by some of those who oppose the right enjoyed by millions of decent people to drink a friendly glass of beer when they want to.

Lately I've been asking these folks the same kind of questions that Sam asked that rumor-mongerin' stranger. Try it yourself, next time you hear anybody making derogatory remarks—whether it's against the war effort... or just against beer.

Miss Amabel Bengé, Lt. Jack Hogan Exchange Wedding Vows Thursday

Miss Amabel Bengé, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bengé of Tulsa, Okla., became the bride of Lt. Jack E. Hogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hogan of Muskogee, Okla., in a double ring ceremony at the home of Mrs. Susie G. Noble, 1211 West III., Thursday evening, with the Rev. Hubert Hopper performing the ceremony.

Wedding Note

The wedding vows were exchanged before an improvised altar which was the living room mantle banked with clematis and honeysuckle and centered with a bouquet of white asters and delphinium. Silver candelabra with tall lighted tapers were placed at either end of the mantle.

Bridal music during the ceremony was furnished by Miss Charlotte Kinsley who played traditional wedding music. Miss Marilyn Sidwell sang a solo, "I Love You Truly."

The bride, who entered on the arm of her father, was lovely in a turquoise two-piece wool dress trimmed in chintzes with matching turban and wine accessories. For flowers she wore a corsage of gardenias and carried a prayer book. Miss Mary Lee Russell of Tulsa, Okla., served as maid-of-honor and wore a beige wool dress trimmed in gold and brown accessories completed her ensemble.

Ralph Hogan, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

Mrs. Bengé, mother of the bride, wore a rose beige crepe frock with navy accessories and corsage of gardenias.

Mrs. Hogan, mother of the groom was attired in a black faille silk suit with rose lace blouse and black accessories. Her flowers also were of gardenias which she wore in a corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony an informal reception was held. The bride's table was laid with a hand-made Irish lace cloth and was centered with a two-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom standing underneath a wedding bell. Tall white tapers burning in candelabra were at either end of the table. Punch was served from the buffet.

The wedding cake was cut by the bride assisted by the groom. Afterwards Miss Mary Lee Russell presided. Miss Cordelia Taylor poured the punch.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Central High School of Tulsa. The bride is a member of Beta Sigma Phi and Taj Maun sororities. The groom received his wings as a second lieutenant Thursday at the Midland Army Flying School graduation exercises. He received his basic training at Kelly and Ellington Fields.

The couple will make their home in Midland while Lt. Hogan is stationed at MAFS as a flying instructor.

Help Soldier Morale; Just Invite Him Home

DALLAS. (P)—If you want to help the morale of soldiers, sailors, and marines, invite them into your homes, members of the Youth Synod of Texas Presbyterian Churches were advised.

Miss Anna Thielz of the Wartime Emergency Commission of the Presbyterian Churches for Camp Wolters told the group at its opening session that a man in the armed forces like nothing better than to get back into a home atmosphere, even if only for a few hours.

The vegetable "squash" gives its name to the sport of the same name.

"Get Garden Seeds In Ground" Says Miss Alpha Lynn

Check over the garden seed you have on hand, says Miss Alpha Lynn, county home demonstration agent, and get them in the ground now for fall and winter vegetables. Though the supply of garden vegetable seed is scarce on the local markets, there are still some available in the feed stores and at the nurseries, and a few in the grocery stores. Select turnips, rutabagas, beets, lettuce (both head and leaf), collards, cabbage, radishes, stringless greenpod and pinto beans, field peas, onions, kale, Swiss chard and spinach. There is time yet to order the list of "greens" where they are not found locally, states Miss Lynn.

In preparing for planting, all weeds should be removed from the plot—not plowed under. Next, apply barnyard manure, plowing it into the soil four or five inches. Break up any clods as small as possible so that everything will be ready for planting when the first rain comes.

Carrots, cabbage, turnips, broccoli and beets are vegetables which will light frost and may be planted as late as September 15. Collards, kale, onions, rape and rutabagas will withstand heavy frost and also may be planted up to September 15.

Spinach will not tolerate the heat of late summer, nor can it stand "wet feet." Wait until the weather cools—from October 1 to 15—then sow the seed on top of a ridge or bed which is well drained.

Cabbage and lettuce planted from seed in September should be thinned in October or early November when the plants are about three inches high, and a spacing of 12 inches allowed.

With the coming of freezes in West Texas prepare a frame garden about six by 20 feet in which greens, lettuce, beets, onions and carrots can be grown.

Roughly, half the material used to make steel is scrap.

If 1 1/2 million tons (2,500,000,000 lbs.) of scrap were collected from farms, this would provide the scrap necessary to make:

a More than twice as many battleships as there are in the whole world today, or b Enough 2000-pound bombs to drop 3 per minute from Flying Fortress bombers incessantly for over 3 years, or c Enough 100-pound bombs to drop one every second of every minute of every hour of every day for over 3 years.

AUTOMOBILES (containing on the average, 1500 pounds of steel)—

If used with an equivalent amount of pig iron one automobile will make more than—

16 17-mm. guns, or

27 20-mm. aircraft guns (cannon), or

30 .50 cal. machine guns, or

1 1/2 16-inch Navy shells, or

3 2,000-pound aerial bombs.

Pursuit plane=255 pounds (One tire uses 17 1/2 pounds. Self-sealing tank—177 pounds.)

Gas mask=1.11 pounds

Gun carriage for 37-mm. gun=61.1 pounds.

Gun carriage for 57-mm. gun=82.1 pounds.

2 1/2-ton army truck=446 pounds.

Motorcycle=10.7 pounds

Pair of hip boots=2.62 pounds

absorbing cushions and machine gun insulation for 500 tanks (or it could be used to make 1,500,000 gas masks and 500,000 army raincoats).

180 tons of rubber previously used for pencil erasers will make over 200,000 army gas masks.

Rubber previously used for garden hose will provide for tires on carriages of 8,500 "75's" and 6,800 37-mm. anti-aircraft guns, and 600 pontoons for army bridges.

3. COPPER AND BRASS

(The following items will provide amount of scrap copper equivalent to copper used in opposite military items.)

Will Double Number Women In War Effort

WASHINGTON, (P)—Secretary Stimson has reported the War Department intends to meet a growing manpower shortage by possibly doubling the number of women war workers in army arsenals, depots and office jobs.

About 300,000 women already are working on guns, planes and tanks and filling clerical and supervisory posts, and Stimson told his press conference as many more could be absorbed.

The War Department, he said, has adopted a policy of using women employees in all capacities for which they are qualified or may become so by training.

"As far as practicable, women will be employed in preference to men of war service age or capabilities," he explained. "However, this policy will not limit the employment of qualified men who are ineligible

Japs Give Reasons For Refusing Safety Of Red Cross Ship

TOKYO, (From Japanese Broadcasts)—(AP)—Domei said Friday the government refused the American Red Cross permission for a chartered neutral ship to bring supplies to American war prisoners because "Japan could not permit free and uninhibited American collection of information in areas of war operations as such a voyage would render possible."

The News Agency said the Tokyo government had advised the American Red Cross that Japan "is giving American war prisoners and internees fair treatment in accord with the principle of international law. Hence the government does not recognize any special need for additional comfort and relief."

Domei said the government had no objection to American use of a second diplomatic exchange ship for sending of supplies to prisoners, and that negotiations to this end were expected to materialize soon.

Meanwhile, in a West Coast port with every foot of space packed with supplies for American prisoners in the Orient, the neutral relief ship Kanagaura remained at anchor.

At Pacific headquarters of the Red Cross there was no official comment on Tokyo broadcasts that Japan had refused passage of the Red Cross ship into Oriental waters.

One executive said it still was hoped the Japanese attitude would change. Anyhow, he said, the ship will remain under charter to the Red Cross until either she sails on her voyage of mercy or there is no hope of safe conduct guarantee being given.

OPA Moves To Stop Evasion Of Meat Price Ceilings

WASHINGTON, (AP)—In a move designed "to prevent the evasion of existing and forthcoming price regulations," the Office of Price Administration shortly will place the entire meat industry, except for retailers, under unified licensing control.

Announcement of the licensing program last night followed the beginning of court action against approximately 115 meat packers and wholesalers to compel compliance with price regulations.

Alleging "up-grading" or "plain and simply overcharging," OPA began filing injunction suits in 18 cities throughout the country, and said additional actions would be filed in other cities as the investigation continued.

Effective Sept. 8, OPA will automatically license all packers, wholesalers and custom slaughterers, and make the license a required condition for selling any meat product subject to price regulation. Dressed hogs, beef, veal and lamb carcasses, and almost all wholesale and retail cuts except mutton, now are subject to such regulation.

Retailers were excluded from the order because they already are licensed under the general maximum price regulation.

OPA said it had received complaints from all parts of the country that price regulations were being ignored by packers and whole-

CHAPTER XIII

AUNT FAYE had money! But Aunt Faye wasn't the kind of a person who went around assuming other people's responsibilities. It made Enid sick with humiliation to think of having to ask her for a loan... but there was nothing else to do.

Mrs. Luxon didn't make it easy for Enid either. "Haven't you any money at all?" she asked incredulously.

Enid flushed with her guilty secret. If her aunt knew that she had squandered her entire savings in a hair-brained escape from a man who had been nothing but a really she would never help her.

"Pop only gets a small check from a benefit fund now that he isn't able to work any more," she explained lamely, "and I make $20 a week. That doesn't go very far. Please, Aunt Faye, I'll pay it back. Every cent of it."

"How much will you need?" "I—I don't know. Perhaps a couple of hundred dollars."

Grudgingly Faye Luxon wrote her a check for that amount.

"Mom—and Pop, if he lives, must never know about this," Enid thought wretchedly. She felt that she had brought dishonor upon them by having to borrow money. They had always been poor, Pop had never made big wages, but they'd always been independent and proud. They'd never accepted nor expected help from anyone.

She wished again futilely that she hadn't spent her savings so foolishly, that she had never rented the apartment in Arlington. And there her thoughts halted curiously confused.

No, she decided after a moment, she didn't really regret what she had done, not even now, while her face still burned with humiliation. For if she hadn't rented the apartment she'd never have met Hank Holliday, never have known that the kind of a man she had dreamed about really existed.

It was the first time she had thought of the doctor since she had gone home and found the telegram from Letty. And even in the midst of her troubles the thought of him magically warmed her heart. It was with lighter steps that she went back to the hospital office and made the necessary arrangements for her father's care.

When she went back upstairs, she found the family in consultation outside the private room where they had moved Pop. Letty was worrying about her babies left in the casual ward.

She didn't realize that she had fallen asleep, until someone shook her rather roughly back to and round up their scattered family. Aunt Faye said she was dead on her feet, and that she'd have to go home, too, and get some sleep.

Enid told them all to go. She said she'd stay at the hospital and if Pop took a turn for the worse she'd let them know.

Tom lingered after the others had gone. He waited until a passing nurse disappeared into a room and then he slipped his arms around Enid and kissed her quickly.

She pulled away from him. "Don't, Tom, please not now."

He thought she was tired and embarrassed. He had no way of knowing that the alarm in her eyes and the flush that pinked her cheeks was caused by a startling and quickly suppressed memory of another man's kiss.

"Sorry, babe, I guess I shouldn't have done that, now. Listen, I hate to leave when the old man's so bad. But I ought to be at work in the morning. I'll come back up next Sunday. That all right?"

She nodded. "Yes, Tom. And if Pop—gets better, I'll go back with you then. I'll have to be at the office next week."

He went down the corridor swinging his shoulders, and looked back before he made the turn and waved at her.

The blood rushed to her face again. It was as if everything Tom did was designed to torture her with a mixture of shame—and longing. In just such a manner Hank Holliday had walked down another corridor and had turned at his door and waved gaily at her.

Her throat grew achingly dry and hot. This was the last precious week of her vacation. The last week... and she wouldn't be seeing Hank, or going places with him. A mist clouded her eyes.

She turned slowly and went into her father's room.

She sat down in a chair in a corner of the room, out of the way, and watched the nurses move softly on their rubber-soled shoes about her father's bed. Every little while a white-coated intern would come in and check the charts and feel her father's pulse, and perhaps give some low-level instruction to the nurse in attendance. The room was dim and quiet, the only sound the labored monotony of her father's painful breathing.

Enid wished there was something she could do to help. It was terrible just to sit helplessly by and watch.

She didn't realize that she had fallen asleep, until someone shook her rather roughly back to consciousness. "Here, wake up," a man's voice was saying. "You mustn't moan like that."

Enid stared at the man bending over her. He had a ridiculous little fair mustache, blue eyes that crinkled at the outer corners, and smooth, blond hair. She straightened in her chair and put out her hands to him.

"Hank—oh, Hank. I'm so glad you're here."

Then she blinked in dismay. It wasn't Hank. It was one of the internes who had been with her father. She saw that, now, that she was fully awake. Her face burned with her confusion.

The young doctor looked at her curiously. "You must have been dreaming."

"I—I guess I was."

He helped her out of the chair, and led her out of the room, steadying her with a hand on her arm. "You're worn out," he said kindly. "Go down to the kitchen at the end of the hall and tell them to fix you some hot coffee."

"My father—" Enid began anxiously.

"He's resting easier now. I believe he has a chance to pull through."

She gave a little sob of relief. He patted her shoulder. "There now, be a good girl. Run along and get your coffee."

It was cruel, Enid thought, as she turned blindly toward the room he indicated, that this strange doctor should look so much like Hank.

There was a nurse in the serving kitchen when Enid entered. She looked up inquisitively.

"One of the doctors—the young one with the mustache—sent me in here to get a cup of coffee," Enid explained.

The nurse nodded. "That's Dr. Kingsley."

She told Enid to sit down, and busied herself at a hot plate measuring water and coffee into a percolator.

Enid watched the fragrant brown liquid bubble up into the glass top of the coffee maker, and tried to get herself in hand. It was about time, she told herself firmly, that she forget this foolishness about Hank Holliday. Time, indeed, when she began to imagine that every strange man with a mustache looked like him.

Theirs had been the most casual sort of friendship. She'd probably see him once more—when she returned the key of the apartment to him—and that would be the end of it.

Forty-eight hours away from him had restored the sanity of her mind, if not her heart.

Rebels Rebel To Batter Buffs All Over The Pasture

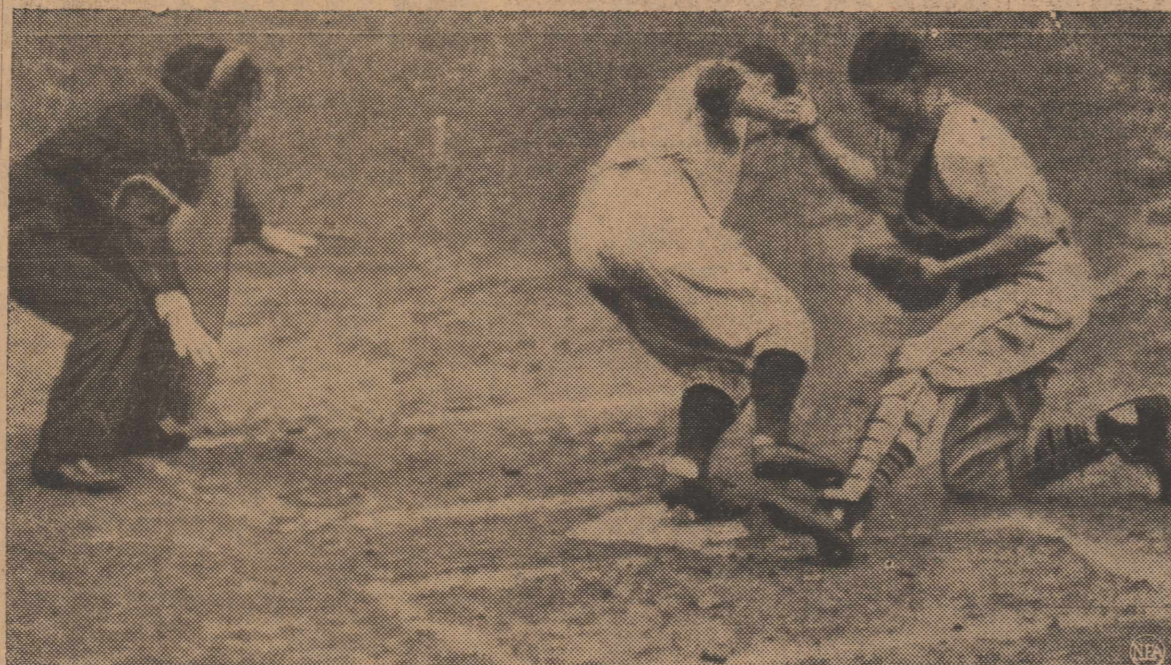

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The last-place Dallas Rebels proved Thursday night they were still in the Texas League by walloping the amazed Houston Buffs all over Rebel Field and taking both ends of a double bill, 8-4 and 3-2.

The twin loss knocked the Buffs out of a tie with San Antonio for fourth place and jeopardizes their chance of participating in the Shaugnessy playoffs.

In the only other game of the night the Cats nosed out San Antonio at Fort Worth 4-3 behind the seven-hit pitching of Claud Horton.

The Beaumont at Oklahoma City and Shreveport at Tulsa games were postponed.

Not only did Houston suffer a double reverse, but first baseman Jake Suytar wrenched his arm so severely in a collision at first base with Rabbit Rigby that he may be out of the lineup for the rest of the season.

Buddy Hassett is safe in square-dance action as Cleveland Indians beat New York, 6-5, in final appearance at Yankee Stadium. Jimmy Hegan is first baseman's partner on rain-soaked ground at plate. Hassett scores on Joe DiMaggio's rap to Lou Bourdeau. Square-dance caller is Bill Summers.

Big Buck Newsom Starts Pay-Off In Blanking Big Johnny Vander Meer

By Judson Bailey
Associated Press Sports Writer
When the Brooklyn Dodgers bought big Buck Newsom last Monday for a price now understood to have been $25,000, plus a minor league pitcher, they said they would be satisfied if the veteran won three games for them in the stretch drive for the National League pennant.

On that basis the Showboat's debut for the Dodgers Thursday at Cincinnati was worth $8,333.33 and Newsom, with his rare ability for a grand gesture, provided a performance to meet the value.

He shut out the Cincinnati Reds 2-0 on four scattered hits and struck out eight men in an almost airtight hurling duel with Johnny Vander Meer, who himself fanned eight and allowed only four safeties before being removed for a pinchhitter in the last of the eighth inning.

However, Vandy had one wild spot, and it cost him an unearned run and eventually defeat.

The victory, closing Brooklyn's last Western swing, kept the Dodgers 4 1/2 games ahead of the St. Louis Cardinals, who crushed the New York Giants 7-0 behind the four-hit hurling of Lefty Howard Pollet.

Philadelphia's night game at Pittsburgh was postponed.

In the American League the speeding Boston Red Sox gained half a game on the idle New York Yankees by smothering the Detroit Tigers 2-0 on four-hit hurling by Bill Butland, who now has won six in a row.

The Washington Senators turned the tables on the Chicago White Sox and swept a doubleheader 3-2 and 14-0, getting the stupendous sum of 20 hits off Thornton Lee and Ed Weiland in the second game.

DALLAS (AP)—Youths who forsake educational opportunities for the temporary easy money of war time will be handicapped later when the emphasis is upon properly trained men and women, the Youth Synod of Texas Presbyterian Churches was warned Thursday.

In asking youth to continue higher education Dr. Monroe G. Everett, president of Trinity University, San Antonio, declared at the Synod's closing session that "Yours will be greater responsibilities and greater demands, both of which will require better-trained persons than the preceding generation."

Lake Erie was the last of the Great Lakes to be discovered by white men, yet it is the second farthest west.

There's A War Now—Ducks On The Wing May Take A Fling

CHICAGO (AP)—In Northern woodlands the wild ducks are breaking up housekeeping with the healthiest prospect in years of reaching Miami or wherever they're planning to spend the winter.

This fall a greater number of birds will wing over a lesser number of hunters equipped with enough ammunition but not enough time, tires or gasoline.

The ducks can thank the war for this break.

The Zenak Walton League estimates well over 100,000,000 birds will lam it South the next few months. This would be 30,000,000 more than last season and three times as many as in 1935. Good weather conditions for breeding are responsible for the big flocks.

Though figures are unavailable, the League guesses that 500,000 hunters are using Uncle Sam's guns this season to blast at another kind of fowl. Of these, probably 50,000 are duck hunters.

Then there are untold thousands who won't have time to leave their defense work.

The smarter ducks—the ones that hunters swear went to high school—will lay out a route along our coasts. There, wartime regulations prevent civilians from going out in any kind of boat with a firearm.

Jarrin John' May Be Out On Account Injury
DENVER (AP)—It's no military secret but it is definitely bad news for the Western Army Football All-Stars—Jarrin John'. Kimbrough may not be able to start in Sunday's game with the Chicago Cardinals.

Whether he is able to play at all depends on how well a severe rib injury mends. Wiping him out of the lineup is like taking Whit Wyatt away from the Brooklyn Dodgers or Sammy Baugh from the Washington Redskins, who beat the Army Eleven at Los Angeles last Sunday.

Big John, twice All-America full-back from Texas A&M and Haskell, Texas, was top kick for the Army boys in that game, speeding 53 yards for their solo touchdown.

Major Wallace Wade, the team's laconic coach from Duke, disclosed Friday that the injured rib was the price the 210-pound giant with the unadorned smile paid for his stellar work.

Cooksey Boys, Once Midland Residents, In Army Air Force

The three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cooksey, who lived in Midland several years before moving to Lubbock, are now in the Army Air Force. A. B. junior joined the service Wednesday at Glendale, Cal., where he has been working in a plane factory. A. B. senior said here Thursday while on a business trip to Midland.

Melvin and Dudley, older sons, received their wings in the Air Force several weeks ago and both are pursuit pilots and stationed in the Gulf of Mexico-Panama Canal areas on active duty.

The three boys attended Midland schools, and later went to Texas Tech and other colleges. All have been active in flying for several years. Melvin and Dudley have been in the Army Air Force for a year, during which time they have completed work in three of the Army air schools.

tor of the 35-mile El Alamein front, 80 miles west of Alexandria.

Allied light bombers broke their previous day's record of sorties against enemy concentrations. No enemy dive-bombers operated over the battle area.

The communiqué indicated that U. S. Army and RAF fliers, coupled with Allied ground forces, had won at least the first phase of the new five-day struggle by compelling Rommel to draw in his steel-tipped horns.

Rommel Draws Up Supplies
Dispatches from the front said the Axis chief had moved up vast supplies for his offensive—including a 10-day supply of gasoline for his armored columns—and that Allied planes now were keeping the supply dumps under an almost incessant hail of bombs.

Italy's high command gave a conflicting version of the battle, asserting that "encounters by armored elements have resulted to our advantage" and making no mention of an Axis retreat.

"The enemy lost a number of tanks," the Italian command said. "Numerous New Zealanders have been taken prisoner."

Masses of German infantry and tank reinforcements were also reported pouring into the assault on Stalingrad, and Soviet dispatches said the Germans had a superiority of two to three to one in some sectors.

Nazis Gain In Caucasus
Marshal Semson Timoshenko's forces north of Stalingrad were said to have broken into Nazi positions and "wiped out two companies of Hitlerites in a fierce engagement."

In the Western Caucasus, the Russians conceded that Nazi troops had captured a strategic height in the battle for Novorossisk. Soviet naval base on the Black Sea, but declared that elsewhere in that region the Red armies were holding firmly.

Deep in the Central Caucasus, other German forces which crossed the Terek River in the Mozdok area, 50 miles northwest of the Grozny oil fields, were declared to have been wiped out.

Announcement at Fort Sheridan, Ill., that footballs are available at the Post gym carries the significant note: "They can be assigned for one day only." A recent arrival at Camp Bowie, Texas, is Pvt. Guy D. Purious, a crack amateur boxer. With that name he ought to do all right in the weekly camp bouts.

Injured Wrist May Handicap Schroeder
NEW YORK (AP)—Not at his best because of a sprained tendon in his racket wrist, Ted Schroeder of Glendale, Calif., probably was in some slight danger of meeting defeat in his quarter-final match against Alejo Russell of the Argentine in the National Tennis Championship Friday.

Ted, top seeded, has not been too impressive up to this point. He was carried to four strenuous sets by unseeded James Evert of Chicago in their match three days ago.

Russell is a more finished player than Evert. Some think he is a better man than little Pancho Segura of Ecuador, even though Pancho has stolen most of the thunder.

In the southeastern Solomons, the Marines bolstered positions won from the Japanese a month ago, the Navy said, but small enemy detachments which succeeded in landing there were "being sought out and engaged."

Stop Landing Operations
American land-based aircraft, operating from the Guadalcanal base, inflicted several hits on ships engaged in landing operations, the Navy added, but the extent of damage was unknown.

Japanese aircraft operations, which the Navy termed "periodic," included a raid by 18 bombers accompanied by fighters on the American Guadalcanal installations, three enemy bombers and five fighters were shot down. Damage to the American positions was reported as "minor."

In addition, an enemy tanker or seaplane tender was bombed by a flying fortress off Santa Isabel Island and left in flames.
