Continuous Strafing Communication Lines Hinders Jap Advance

By The Associated Press
Australian jungle fighters were reported holding firmly Thursday amid a renewal of fighting in the New Guinea mountains, 32 miles from Port Moresby, while Allied warplanes strafed Japanese troops and blasted enemy supply bases.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Headquarters said casualties were suffered on both sides in clashes on the southern slope of the Owen Stanley Range, but there was no indication of any further Japanese advance.

Continuous aerial strafing of the enemy communication lines was reported greatly hindering the Japanese in the already difficult task of keeping their forward troops supplied.

A United Nations communiqué said Allied fighters made three sweeps over the key Japanese base at Buna, New Guinea, raking seven enemy barges with cannon and machine-gun fire and blasting supply dumps. Earlier, Allied bombers dropped one-ton bombs on the Buna airbase in a night assault, setting big fires.

In the China campaign, a Chinese Army spokesman reported a full in fighting along the entire front, broken only by minor skirmishes. The spokesman withheld comment on reports that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was gathering strength for a Chinese counter-offensive in the spring.

In London, the British announced officially that the French garrison at Tananarive, Madagascar capital, surrendered unconditionally Wednesday and British troops occupied the capital just a fortnight after their landing on the west coast in a move to eliminate the 1,000-mile-long island as an Axis base.

"Hereafter, when a man has had his orders from his local board to report for induction, the board cannot give him a release to enlist. Instructions to this effect have been received by the Midland County Selective Service Board, it has been announced.

"Any of the boys who wish to join any branch of the service should step lively, before they get their notices," said a member of the board.

A large number of men have been waiting to get their notices before starting to enlist but this has been stopped by orders from the national Selective Service headquarters.

Ask Ruling On Absentee Vote Rights

AUSTIN (AP)—Attorney General Gerald C. Mann will be asked to rule on the constitutional power of the Texas Secretary of State to administer the federal act granting voting privileges to members of the armed forces without requiring a poll tax.

Announcing that he would request an opinion from Mann, Secretary of State William J. Lawson said Wednesday that he felt the act "was in conflict with the state constitution" and that he was "constitutionally prohibited from administering the law."

Under the bill, any Texan in the armed forces who makes a request in writing to the Secretary of State can vote in the general election and in subsequent primary elections. The act limits this voting privilege to elections for president, vice president, United States senators and members of the national House of Representatives.

No Brief Filed Yet
Lawson pointed out to a press conference that since Texas has no registration system, for voters "there is no way to check the eligibility of those who want to vote except through our poll tax system."

Civilian Meat Consumption Is Restricted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Wickard announced Thursday that, beginning Oct. 1, civilian meat consumption during the last three months of this year would be restricted to approximately 79 per cent of the amount delivered by packers for civilian use during the last quarter of 1941.

Simultaneously, Wickard reiterated that citizens voluntarily should limit themselves to 2 1/2 pounds of meat a week per person, to permit a fair sharing of available supplies.

As Chairman of the War Production Board's Food Requirements Committee, Wickard disclosed that, to assure sufficient meat for Army, Navy, and Lend-Lease needs, the committee had ordered deliveries for civilian use curtailed on this basis:

Battle Of Training First Says Great Dutch General

"The battle of training never ceases and always has to be won before other battles are undertaken," said General L. H. van Oyen, commanding general of the Royal Netherlands Military Forces, speaking Thursday morning to the eighth and largest class of bombardiers to get their wings at the Midland Army Flying School. The class was composed of American and Dutch airmen.

"This is not a time for words, but for action, for deeds," continued General van Oyen. "Training is of the utmost importance for successful fighting, and you men have had perfect training here in the great school commanded by General Davies.

"I trust that you young bombardiers will have good luck. I hope you will hit the enemy with 500 pound bombs, yes, but with more that weigh 2,000 pounds."

Told Of MacArthur Visit
General van Oyen, in command of Dutch forces now in the United States training for service, told of his visit with General Douglas MacArthur, and of the great interest that General MacArthur had in hearing the least details of the battle of Java. He then related how the American general had advised him to train his men to the utmost before throwing them into the battle again.

The Dutch general praised the training facilities in Midland and in other points in the United States where his men are taking courses. He expressed a deep appreciation for the cooperation and help that has been afforded the Dutch in the (Continued on page two)

Must Go Back 40 Years For Metal Scrap

NEW YORK (AP)—The need for metal scrap Thursday was described as "truly critical" by steel men who said this country had stopped living on its metal "fat" and now must dip back 40 years for steel and iron junk.

The statements came as this nation's newspapers—more than 1,600 have pledged their help—assumed leadership in the drive to collect the scrap lying around American homes, farms, factories and buildings.

Steel men estimated they would need to pile up at least 17 million tons of scrap between now and Jan. 1, when war production is expected to reach its peak. Monthly consumption of scrap now is running at about 4 million tons, the greatest in history but still not enough.

Steel men and leaders of the newspaper drive, worried that sight of large piles of scrap in junk yards or elsewhere might give the impression that scrap was plentiful, pointed out:

"Those piles, even though unshipped to the mills for a while, mean only that industry knows where they are, will take them in as soon as transportation facilities allow, and can count ahead on how much scrap is known to be available."

Compromise Sought For Parity Price

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration leaders strove desperately Thursday to split the congressional farm bloc with a compromise on its demands for a higher agricultural parity price level in legislation to give President Roosevelt broad controls over the cost of living.

Beaten back already in the House by passage of the bill late Wednesday with an amendment moving parity upward by the inclusion of farm labor costs as a factor, leaders scheduled a hurried conference Thursday with farm bloc members in an attempt to head off similar action in the Senate.

As they met, the situation shaped up like this:

1. An unofficial poll showed 40 of the 96 Senators committed to support the principle of an upward parity revision, with 22 against, 19 undecided, eight declining to comment and seven not reached.
2. Senator Thomas D-Okla.) co-author of the amendment, declared (Continued on Page 2)

Drive Germans From Fortified Zones In Sharp Counter Blows

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
Bolstered by shell-fire from Volga River gunboats, Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's Red armies were reported to have driven the Germans from a series of fortified points in Stalingrad Thursday, rolled up a four-day toll of more than 13,000 Nazis killed, and struck a sharp counter blow northwest of the Volga metropolises.

Hitler's Field Headquarters again stressed the fury of the battle, declaring in a terse, noncommittal bulletin: "Stee fighting in Stalingrad is continuing with undiminished bitterness."

Significantly, the Nazi communique made no claim of fresh gains in the bloody house-to-house fighting, despite the reported arrival of strong German reinforcements.

"The Nazi communique noted 'strong Soviet counter-attacks' army tanks were reported destroyed."

Acute Farm Labor Shortage May Get Federal Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Apparently convinced that government officials intend to do nothing about a farm labor shortage, members of the House Agriculture Committee Thursday were reported on the verge of drafting legislation to deal with the problem.

Before taking any such action, though, Chairman Fulmer (D-SC) said the committee would seek the opinion Friday of Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service Director, and possibly later that of Paul V. McNutt, War Manpower Commission head.

"It may be that General Hershey will have some recommendations," Fulmer said. At any rate, we want to hear his views and try to get an idea of the manpower needs for the Armed Forces."

What form any proposed legislation would take was highly uncertain. Fulmer himself has advocated payment of higher prices to farmers for their products to enable them to compete in the labor market with war factories. Some form of government subsidy might be necessary to bring this about, he conceded.

WAR BULLETINS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy announced Thursday that the United States destroyer Jarvis had disappeared in the Southwest Pacific without leaving a trace and that the auxiliary transport Little had been sunk during recent operations in the Solomons.

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts) (AP)—A special German communique reported Thursday that Nazi submarines had sunk three destroyers, an auxiliary cruiser and five transports in an attack on an Allied convoy between Spitzbergen and Iceland.

VICHY (AP)—British occupation of Tananarive, capital of Madagascar, was announced officially Thursday by the French government which said Governor General Armand Annet had reported with regret that stubborn resistance by his troops had failed to halt the British advance.

NEW YORK (AP)—A Berlin broadcast containing the tacit admission of the extent of patriot resistance in old Yugoslavia declared Thursday that in two weeks ending Sept. 8 Axis occupation forces killed 3,000 persons and captured 4,000 more in the mountainous Bosnia district.

That quarrel between Herr Hitler and the commander-in-chief of his now-or-never offensive against the Caucasus, Field Marshal Fedor Von Bock, may prove literally to be the decisive battle of the war.

The basic strategy of the vital Caucasian campaign is said to be involved in this historic argument, which is reported to have resulted in Von Bock being relieved of his command. The point at issue is described as this:

Von Bock, who ranks as one of the outstanding generals of our time, wanted to concentrate on the Caucasus, and not attack Stalingrad at the same time. He maintained that an assault against the great industrial city on the Volga would be too costly in casualties. Not that the cold-blooded Von Bock ever gave a damn about the lives of his men for their own sakes, but because he badly needed this fresh young man-power for his main show.

Von Bock Sulk

COME ALL OUT FOR GOD: Choose ye this day whom ye will serve.—Josh. 24:15.

Metal Need Is Urgent

An urgent personal responsibility to collect metal scrap, and to start it toward the mills, rests upon every loyal American today.

The fate of our nation, the security of our own futures, the very lives of our sons, husbands and brothers in uniform, depend upon the response which we make to the government's pressing demand for every pound of scrap metal we can dig out of our homes, our offices, our factories, our farms.

This is no idle exaggeration. If anything, it is understatement. The responsibility is not general—the business of everybody which nobody needs to look after. It is specific and individual.

Unless there is made available seventeen million tons of iron and steel scrap in the next few weeks, some steel mill are going to have to close down this coming winter.

The steel that they will not be able to make can not, obviously, be used for ships, for airplanes, for tanks, for guns, for shells, for bombs, for any of the weapons which our soldiers and sailors and Marines need to fight the Germans and the Japanese.

For lack of those weapons, battles easily can be lost—even, God forbid, the war itself. For lack of those weapons, beyond any doubt at all, lives would be sacrificed.

The need for steel scrap originally may have been slightly theoretical—to save money, to save transportation, to facilitate steel-making.

Now there is nothing theoretical about it. We simply do not possess some of the alloying metals which are already in scrap and can be re-used.

We simply do not possess the ships with which to service our overseas armies and, at the same time, to bring in tin and copper and other metals from abroad.

The government does not ask you to go to extremes. You are not asked to offer metal equipment which you need or have good reason to believe that you will need within a few months.

Neither is there any pretense that you can make much money out of selling your scrap. The amount around the average home isn't worth marketing commercially, unless for pocket money for the children.

This is purely and simply a patriotic duty, which must be performed at once because the scrap for this winter's use has to be in the yards, for sorting and grading, before winter comes.

And this is important—don't be fooled by the fact that there are piles of scrap already in junkyards, automobile graveyards, and such places. This is being turned over fast.

Time is required for sorting and grading. The yard must coordinate its shipments with a national scheme to conserve transportation. Some lag is inevitable. But the scrap in the yards all is inventoried and on call as it is needed, and your scrap is needed to keep up the supply.

Uncle Sam Tunes-In Monta Lacey, Young Midland Patrolman

Uncle Sam reached out and grabbed him a Midland policeman Wednesday and the city will be losing a fine young patrolman and radioman next Sunday.

Monta Lacey, said by his fellow officers to be a "radio bug", handler of the two-way radio system for the city police department, has been called to report to Cocoratan Field, Florida, to take special study and prepare as a junior instructor in the radio communications service.

After a few days in Florida he will go to another field school for an intensive course in radio instruction, and then will be assigned as a teacher in one of Uncle Sam's schools.

Lacey has been studying radio by correspondence for quite a while, and working constantly at it on his own and with the police department, and has had no idea of government service.

He likes the police work best, and hopes someday to return to it.

But with calls out for men he made an inquiry, and by return mail got a questionnaire . . . and when he sent that in here came that telegram. And . . . Sunday he will go.

The "boys" at the station were strutting him around Wednesday afternoon after that telegram came . . . for he has been a popular youngster with the force . . . and they are betting that the 24-year-old policeman will see rapid advancement with Uncle Sam.

Lacey has lived here since 1938, moving from the Tarzan community where he spent much of his life. Mrs. Lacey and their baby daughter, Little Miss Dorothy Gail, will remain in Midland until Monta gets his assignment.

that he and others of similar views could not accept a compromise proposed by Senators Reed (R-Kan.) and Tydings (D-Md.).

An authoritative source, declining to be quoted by name, said the administration was supporting this compromise, which would not disturb the present basis for computing parity, but would direct President Roosevelt to take into account farm labor costs in modifying price ceilings to correct "gross inequities."

This same source said that if the parity revision were included in any bill sent to the White House, President Roosevelt would veto it and could be expected then to take the initiative in fixing farm prices, as he threatened to do if Congress did not act before Oct. 1.

Predict Passage Amendment Hailing the House action and predicting victory for the parity amendment in the Senate, the leaders of four national farm organizations declared in a statement that "should the President veto the present legislation he must accept responsibility for the future food and fibre supply of the nation."

Thus far the whole congressional controversy over the anti-inflation measure has centered on the proposed change in the parity standard. Based usually on 1909-14 farm prices, this standard is calculated to equalize the amount farmers pay for the things they buy with the amount they receive for what they sell.

The legislation would direct the President to stabilize prices, wages and salaries at Sept. 15 levels, so far as practical, but he could not order any ceiling placed on a farm commodity where the price of that article had not reached parity.

The allowance proposed, the secretary declared, was entirely adequate for good nutrition, assuming the 2 1/2 pound limit was observed.

"It is necessary that individuals hold their consumption at this figure whether they eat at home or in public eating places," Wickard said. "Public eating places in some sections may prefer some such device as a meatless day.

Individual households may use any method the family prefers in effecting the limitation, he explained. However, if there are invalids, aged persons, young children, or vegetarians in the home—none of whom would normally consume 2 1/2 pounds of meat a week—the housewife should reduce her purchases accordingly, Wickard declared.

Service Demands Up In actual operation, he predicted, the over-all 21 per cent statistical cut in civilian meat supplies probably would not be as great since adjustments will be made when necessary to allow for changes in distribution patterns and wartime food requirements.

As evidence of the increasing Army, Navy and Lend-Lease needs, Wickard said estimated requirements have climbed 500,000,000 pounds since the 6,000,000,000-pound forecast made by the committee three weeks ago.

The total demand for meat is 27,500,000,000 pounds, against a supply of 24,000,000,000 he added.

Lieutenant Donald A. Baccus, American fighter pilot, and an instructor at the Victoria, Texas, fighter pilot school, spoke next, bringing a message of cooperation and confidence from the men who will back up and be backed up by the bombardiers.

Faith Basis of Victory "Faith in one another is the first essential of the air teams," said Lieutenant Baccus. "We of the fighter pilot force have absolute confidence in you bombardiers, and we are training hard to merit the full confidence of you men. You are specialists in your field, and we are in ours, and we two must and will work together. My visit here has given me the utmost confidence in your ability." He described briefly the training program which the pilot must take.

The Post Theatre was crowded for the graduation program. Even all standing room was taken, as the officers of the field surrendered themselves to the hundreds of members of the families of the bombardiers. As the program closed, the audience stood and sang the Royal Netherlands National Anthem and The Star-Spangled Banner, both accompanied by music by the post band.

General Davies awarded the diplomas, and Colonel John K. Brown awarded the Wines, and the oath of the bombardier was administered by Lieutenant Carl W. Allen. Captain David Koolstra called the names of the Dutch cadets, Chaplain Theodore Schoone gave the opening and closing prayers. Music was directed by Master Sergeant Thomas Marsell, and an accordion solo was played by Private Dominic Bisciglia.

Nazis Teach World Has Two Parts, Both German
 (By) — A 15-year-old Russian boy who escaped from a German military school at Kharkov told a reporter for "Red Star" that a new German system of Geography is being taught Soviet youths.

The boy said the Germans have divided the world into two parts—lands belonging to Germany and lands that will belong to Germany. The latter included what Nazi teachers referred to as "harmful America."

Odessa, the boy reported, has been renamed "Antonovsk."

Russian youths from conquered territory are recruited for the schools which hope to train them for duty on the front, destroying mines, or in Africa.

Java Is Home—

man to leave, going to Australia as the Japanese overran the last Dutch stronghold. He arrived in the United States in May. He is commander-in-chief of all Dutch forces in the United States, where many units are in training for the return to Java, and is stationed at Jackson, Miss.

It was General Douglas MacArthur who encouraged the Dutch to come to the United States. "The last talk I had with your General MacArthur was in Melbourne," said General van Oyen, "and his advice was never to take another man into battle without having him 100 per cent trained. That is why the Dutch government and I are so glad that we have this opportunity to bring hundreds of our student airmen to the United States training centers. We wish to thank General Davies for his cordial cooperation and wonderful help."

"We deeply appreciate the privilege of training our men in the Midland Bombardier School, the greatest school of its kind in the world," continued General van Oyen.

Oyen. "This is the largest and best equipped and best conducted bombardier school of the world. From here our boys will go back with the finest of preparation, as General MacArthur advised."

Then the Dutch commander, whose entire adult life has been devoted to the Dutch Army and Air Forces, and whose family today is in Java, sought a word to express his appreciation and that of his men for the hospitality shown by Midland and Jackson and other American communities. "We appreciate our stay here very, very much," he said. "And Queen Wilhelmina desires that all of you know that she and all Dutchmen everywhere appreciate not only the great training schools that you have opened to us, but the cordial welcome you have shown and the many fine things you have done for us."

The word from Queen Wilhelmina has been direct, for during her recent visit in the United States, General van Oyen was in charge of her party. He had last seen her in 1934 when she had sent him back to Java and general-in-command of the Royal Dutch Air Forces of the Indies.

SERIAL STORY OF BRIGHTNESS GONE

BY HOLLY WATTERSON

THE STORY: Martin Corby, selfishly ambitious medical student, is engaged to a student nurse, Candace Bech, step-cousin of his roommate, Peter Frasier. Peter is also in love with Candace, though she is not aware of it. Nor does either of them know that Martin is seeing more and more of Faith Harshorne, daughter of the wealthy board chairman of Good Samaritan Hospital, where both Martin and Peter hope to receive internic appointments.

WIDENING RIFT
 CHAPTER XIII

AS the end of the term neared and things crowded up they managed, Candace and Martin, fewer and fewer times together.

"This coming week looks pretty foul" he would say. "I don't think I'll be able to see you." But even so, an occasional last-minute disappointment couldn't be avoided, apparently.

Candace was determined not to mind. She would warn herself lightly, "This is only the beginning, gal, only the beginning. It's a sad life, being a doctor's wife."

Martin seemed to stand up under it less well. He had periods of fierce dejection, he was moody and morose. He showed the bad state of his nerves in various small ways. Candace thought of his reaction to the teasing about the hospital appointments, for one thing. Though his marks had always been good, Peter had been an honor man all through school and his were much better. Any priority in the appointments might have been expected to fall to him; yet it had not, Martin's had come through a full two weeks before Peter's had.

Peter, too, was studying hard, yet it did not appear to tell on him. Candace wondered a little about that. It was, she supposed, due to the difference in temperament in the two. Certainly Martin was mentally as keen, she thought loyally, but he was apt to neglect things and then try to correct them in sudden periods of application. Peter, on the other hand, was conscientiously regular in his studies and so did not suffer the feeling of guilt that she, she guessed, one of the causes of Martin's outbursts.

She caught her thoughts up short, suffering a sense of guilt. Their worst trouble, she felt, was in being separated so that it was a problem even to see each other. If they could work in the same hospital at least! Certainly occasional glimpses, snatched moments, would be better than nothing at all.

Though she had said nothing of it to Martin, she had been trying, ever since the boys' appointments were made definite, to obtain a transfer to Good Samaritan. Good

Samaritan was a fashionable hospital, catering to wealthy patients, and there was a little more to getting in there, it appeared, than simply being a good nurse.

The transfer of a nurse in training was a rare thing, but Candace was learning for the first time the advantages of having had the right schools, of knowing the right people, and she was making shameless use of them all to be near Martin.

IN May, when she had almost given up hope, the transfer came through, to be effective almost immediately.

She came away from her interview with Miss Maher—the Duchess, as the girls always referred to the head—feeling almost giddy with happiness. She had made a deliberate effort to keep from running and shouting aloud; her pace along the corridor of the nurses' home was almost a run anyway. She dashed into her room and slammed the door behind her and leaned against it, panting.

Evelyn Gates was there, sitting on her bed and putting buttons in a fresh uniform. She looked up curiously. "What's up?"

Candace was glad of Gates. She had felt she must burst if she didn't tell someone. Without Gates to spill it out to she was afraid that the temptation to phone Martin and tell him immediately might prove too much for her; and she didn't want to do that, she wanted to save that news for his birthday anniversary, due the next week. It was sheer good luck that the transfer had come just present to him. Her marvelous present.

"Gates, it's come through," she said breathlessly. "The transfer, I mean."

Gates looked up smiling. "I'm glad. I know how much you wanted it." She didn't know why, though.

"How much I wanted it?" Candace repeated happily. "Oh, Gates, you couldn't know." She had guessed, one of the causes of Martin's outbursts.

She caught her thoughts up short, suffering a sense of guilt. Their worst trouble, she felt, was in being separated so that it was a problem even to see each other. If they could work in the same hospital at least! Certainly occasional glimpses, snatched moments, would be better than nothing at all.

Though she had said nothing of it to Martin, she had been trying, ever since the boys' appointments were made definite, to obtain a transfer to Good Samaritan. Good

Samaritan was a fashionable hospital, catering to wealthy patients, and there was a little more to getting in there, it appeared, than simply being a good nurse.

The transfer of a nurse in training was a rare thing, but Candace was learning for the first time the advantages of having had the right schools, of knowing the right people, and she was making shameless use of them all to be near Martin.

IN May, when she had almost given up hope, the transfer came through, to be effective almost immediately.

She came away from her interview with Miss Maher—the Duchess, as the girls always referred to the head—feeling almost giddy with happiness. She had made a deliberate effort to keep from running and shouting aloud; her pace along the corridor of the nurses' home was almost a run anyway. She dashed into her room and slammed the door behind her and leaned against it, panting.

Evelyn Gates was there, sitting on her bed and putting buttons in a fresh uniform. She looked up curiously. "What's up?"

Candace was glad of Gates. She had felt she must burst if she didn't tell someone. Without Gates to spill it out to she was afraid that the temptation to phone Martin and tell him immediately might prove too much for her; and she didn't want to do that, she wanted to save that news for his birthday anniversary, due the next week. It was sheer good luck that the transfer had come just present to him. Her marvelous present.

"Gates, it's come through," she said breathlessly. "The transfer, I mean."

Gates looked up smiling. "I'm glad. I know how much you wanted it." She didn't know why, though.

"How much I wanted it?" Candace repeated happily. "Oh, Gates, you couldn't know." She had guessed, one of the causes of Martin's outbursts.

the head with that emotion business, too."

Candace's smile slowly faded. "What do you mean, Gates?"

Gates rose from the bed like a spring uncoiling. Elaborately casual, she hitched her bathrobe more securely around her and walked over to her dresser and busied herself with brushing her hair. That way, her own face was hidden but she could steal glances at Candace's in the mirror.

"I hope you won't think I've been prying, but I can't help seeing letters that you have on top your dresser waiting to be mailed. I've seen those that you have addressed to that doctor all the time. It's my guess this transfer you want so badly is connected with him."

The title "doctor" on the letters addressed to Martin had started as a joke; but she surely had such a short time to go he had a right to it, Candace had felt proudly, and had continued the practice. She said quietly to Gates, "Yes?"

GATES thought bitterly, I've done it now, I've certainly stuck my neck out. . . . She said, trying to hide her dismay under an air of insolence, "Hasn't anybody ever told you that doctors don't marry nurses? Oh, it happens once in a while, sure. Doctors are exposed to nurses and every once in a while a weak one succumbs. It's sort of an industrial disease. But the incidence, as they say of diseases, is not very high."

She plunged on desperately. "At least don't ever chase a man. Any man. If any transferring has to be done, let him do it. That way he won't get tired as quick, and even if he does you at least still have your pride—"

Candace thought, shocked, so that's how it appears to an outsider. . . . Suppose such an idea should ever occur to Martin?

Her stony expression frightened Gates. She said flippantly, "Well, come on, chop me down, I rate it. But I mean well, honest I do. My intentions are good."

Candace relaxed. Of course such an idea would never occur to Martin. . . . She was ashamed of even the momentary doubt. Gates would never understand about herself and Martin, nor did Candace care to explain. She had a feeling of distaste that Gates had ever dared touch the subject at all. She said gently, "It isn't the way you think it is, Gates. It's all right, really."

There was a tap at the door and a girl poked her head in. "Phone call for Bech," she said.

Overseas Mail Must Be Ready By November 1

Wide World Features
WASHINGTON.—Here are the Post Office Department's recommendations for Christmas mail to service men outside the United States:

1. Parcels, letters and cards should be mailed between Oct. 1 and Nov. 1—the sooner the better, regardless of where you live or where the article is going. Delivery cannot be guaranteed if it is post-marked after Nov. 1.
2. Gift packages should be marked "Christmas Parcel."
3. Parcels should not exceed 11 pounds in weight or 18 inches in length or 42 inches in length and girth combined. If possible, hold them to six pounds and the size of a shoebox.
4. Don't send food (except hard candies) or clothing. Service men have plenty of both. Don't send anything inflammable like matches or lighter fluid. Don't send intoxicants.
5. Wrap packages substantially but fix them so they may be easily opened for censorship inspection. Be sure that smaller packages, inside the big package, are tightly packed.
6. Postage must be fully prepaid. Consult your post office for Parcel Post rates. Better insure packages.
7. Such messages as "Merry Christmas," "Do Not Open Until Christmas," etc., are permitted if they do not interfere with the address.
8. Don't send cash gifts. Use money orders. Some countries have a law against importing foreign money, but money orders may be cashed anywhere.

The War Today—

defense, and Nazi casualties strewed the approaches to the city like autumn leaves.

Now for the purposes of careful analysis we must make allowance for the possibility that the report of a Hitler-Von Bock feud isn't true. But even if the story is apocryphal, we can get ahead with our study, because the fact still remains that the siege of Stalingrad has thrown the calculations of the entire Nazi campaign out of kilter. Obviously this was undertaken at Hitler's order, since he is the master gangster and makes all important decisions. At the same time it's easy to believe that a soldier of Von Bock's caliber would oppose such a risky experiment.

Political Vs. Military
Looking at the position Thursday, as the Russians still continue to throw back the invaders from Premier Stalin's proud namesake city, I'm afraid we have to say that the infallible Hitler's intuition has failed him at the crucial moment. We must give Von Bock the best. At the same time, I believe we must recognize that the two men approached the problem from different viewpoints—Hitler from that of political strategy and his captain solely from the military angle.

It's not difficult to see the workings of the two minds. Von Bock, every inch the expert soldier from the soles of his polished boots to the crown of his Prussian bullet-head, saw only that the outcome of the war likely depended on Germany's ability to break into the oil-bearing Caucasus and the strategic Middle East this year, and in the process annihilate Red Marshal Timoshenko's armies of the south.

Influence Japan
One cannot doubt that Hitler also saw it was imperative to conquer the Caucasus and the Middle East, for his other operations indicate this. However, as time went on and the Russian resistance became menacing, Hitler developed a new scheme to secure help.

He saw the political value of the capture of the city which is the apple of the communist leader's eye.

Most of all he wanted to influence Japan to attack Russia from the rear. The capture of Stalingrad might turn the trick. So one of the greatest gamblers of all time took another long chance. He bet the gods of war that he could take Stalingrad without missing stride on the march into the Caucasus and Middle East.

But not even Hitler can guess right all the time. We need to see the outcome of the next month of fighting, but the indications now are that military history will say he threw away his chances of winning the war when he forced Von Bock to embark on what probably has been the costliest siege ever undertaken.

Milk Is Needed For Tuberculosis Cases

Milk is needed for seven authentic cases of tuberculosis in Midland, Miss Josephine Skeen, junior field worker with the State Department of Public Welfare, said Thursday. These cases, she explained, are in advanced stages and are not admissible to the state sanatorium.

These persons, all Mexicans, require rest and proper diet, one of the items of which is milk, said. Due to their illness and loss of income, these people are unable to purchase milk for themselves.

Any organization or persons who would like to sponsor one quart of milk a day to any of these cases is requested to call Miss Skeen, telephone 159.

Authorities on tuberculosis pointed out this is a worthwhile charity for the help of persons who are seriously ill and they hope Midland citizens will respond to the appeal.

Cardinals Need Only One Win To Cinch Pennant

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
ST. LOUIS (AP)—The pennant-bound St. Louis Cardinals Thursday are 24 hours closer to hitting the jackpot—the National League championship, their first since 1934. Even illness or a replacement in the lineup failed to check or stop these amazing Cardinals, who Wednesday night, registered their 103rd victory of the campaign to equal the New York Giants' mark of 1912. The league record is held by the Chicago Cubs at 116 in 1906.

Behind the superb two-hit pitching of rookie righthander Johnny Beazley, a marvelous 23-year-old youngster, the Cardinals smothered the Cincinnati Reds, 4 to 2, and tear into them again Thursday, doggedly determined to triumph and sweep on to the championship. If the Cardinals win the next two of the remaining three games, they can't miss regardless of what Brooklyn does. They've regained their lead of 2 1/2 games.

Billy Southworth, manager of the Red Birds, selected big Morton Cooper, ace right hander, to face Cincinnati. Cooper will be seeking his 22nd victory and his ninth straight. He will be opposed by Ray Starr, with a record of 15 games won, 12 lost.

Beazley and Ray Sanders, a rookie first baseman, thrilled the top-coated crowd of 26,514 with their achievements Wednesday night. Southworth was forced to replace Johnny Hopp, ill with a cold, at first base and Sanders, a rookie first sacker, filled in for him with marvelous success. He smashed a triple to score two of the three runs registered in the third inning and fielded faultlessly.

Jimmy Watson, playing right end for the Midland Bulldogs, is expected to play an important part in any passing attack the Bulldogs might unleash against Austin High School in El Paso Friday night.

Shreveport Wins Texas Flag, Will Play Nashville

SHREVEPORT (AP)—Shreveport's battling sports, who came from behind in a breathless surge that blasted Beaumont's Texas League pennant hopes, are heading for Nashville and a crack at the baseball championship of Dixie.

The Sports defeated the Exporters 4-0 Wednesday night to take the seventh and deciding game in the Texas League Shaughnessy play-off. It was the third straight night Shreveport had held Beaumont scoreless.

Meanwhile Nashville's Vols were downing Little Rock in four straight games to win the Southern Association title, and the seven-game Dixie Series will open Friday night at Nashville.

It's the first time for Shreveport to hold the Texas League championship since 1919 but Nashville has often been in the Dixie Series. In fact, this is the fourth consecutive year for the Vols who will be seeking their third straight championship over the Texas League entry.

Nashville Won Last Year
The slugging boys from Tennessee swept over Dallas in four straight last year and beat Houston four games to one in 1940.

The last time the Texas League took the Dixie Series was in 1939 when Fort Worth beat Nashville out in seven games.

Secretary Milton Price of the Texas League announced the Dixie Series schedule as follows:
Friday night, 8 o'clock, at Nashville.
Saturday, off day.
Sunday afternoon, 3 o'clock, at Nashville.
Monday, off day.
Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights, 8:15 o'clock, at Shreveport.

If more games are needed the two clubs will decide when they will be played but they will be at Nashville.

Name Umpires
Price announced that the umpires would be Dussy Boggs and Mill Steingrabe of the Texas League and Paul Blackard and Red Jones of the Southern Association.

Shreveport clinched the best-attended Texas League Shaughnessy play-off since 1939 by beating Beaumont out after the Exporters had taken the first two games and the fourth.

Price said that around 95,000 saw the 20 games in the play-off between Fort Worth and Shreveport, Beaumont and San Antonio and Beaumont and Shreveport. In 1939 there was a total of 107,000.

Both Shreveport and Nashville finished second in their respective leagues over the full season route.

'Victory' Hungry Bulldogs Are Out To Win First Game

Eighteen "Victory" hungry Midland Bulldogs under the direction of Coaches Gene McCollum and G. B. Rush left Thursday morning for El Paso and their second game of the season Friday night with Austin High School.

If you had been near the Bulldogs' practice field Wednesday you would have noted the change in spirit of the players and even the coaches were able to smile now and then. Earlier in the week, the Bulldogs were a glum sort of lot after many opportunities missed in their first game of the season. But that's past now and they seemed a determined group of boys Wednesday.

Reserves May See Action
The Bulldogs expect to practice Thursday night at the Ysleta football field if the necessary arrangements can be made and then go on into El Paso Thursday night. A short unlimbering session may be held Friday to get rid of "travel-legs."

Although the Bulldogs played their first game without a substitution, there was a strong likelihood that some reserves would see action against Austin High. A number of the boys from the second team were seeing action on the first eleven this week.

Starting Lineup
Coach McCollum's probable starting lineup will be Jimmy Watson and Charles Kelly at ends; J. T. Robinson and Buddy Davidson, tackles; John Guy McMillen and Red Roy, guards; Jack Taylor, center; Ivan Hall and Billy Joe Stickeney, halfbacks; Bill Richards, fullback; and Marsball Whitmore, quarterback.

Other boys who will make the trip are Mal Kiewell, Junior Bird, Cooper Daugherty, Ralph Vertrees, Jack Dyson, James Moore, and L. C. Netherlin.

One Hundred Games Not Good Enough To Win National Pennant This Year

By The Associated Press
In 65 years the National League, the oldest baseball organization in the world, has had only one season in which winning 100 games was not sufficient to win the pennant—until this year.

The Brooklyn Dodgers won their 100th game Wednesday and it didn't move them even one wisp closer to the championship. That's why the St. Louis Cardinals, with 103 already in the bag, are making preparations to face the New York Yankees in the World Series opening next Wednesday.

The Dodgers reached the 100 victory mark last year on the last day of the season. It was the occasion for a lot of whoop-la because the Dodgers, in all their years in the senior circuit, never had won that many games before. But winning a hundred this year didn't mean a thing.

St. Louis Wins, Too
The Dodgers' 6-0 triumph over the Phils didn't save them from imminent elimination in the furious National League pennant fight because the Cardinals also triumphed in a night game against Cincinnati, 4-2.

This made it possible for the Cardinals to clinch the pennant Thursday if they win again from the Reds and the Dodgers lose to the Boston Braves.

The Cardinals came from behind Wednesday night to down the Reds, who scored both their runs in the first inning on a walk, an error, a wild pitch and a single. After the first frame Cincinnati made only one hit—a total of two for the game off Rookie Jimmy Beazley as he attained his 20th triumph of the season.

How Either Can Win
This reduced the Cardinals' combination to any two St. Louis victories, or Dodger defeats, or one of each, to take the World Series to the banks of the Mississippi for the first time since 1934. Even though the Dodgers remained 2 1/2 games behind the lead by winning Wednesday, they can do no better than if St. Louis wins one of its remaining three games.

While the National League squabble was continuing unabated the New York Yankees secured with their sixth American League championship in seven years, trimmed the Washington Senators, 4-1, on the five-hit hurling of big Ernie Bonham.

This closed the Yanks' home season and left them with only one game, at Boston Sunday, to play before they enter the World Series next Wednesday.

No other games were scheduled in the major leagues Wednesday.

NEW YORK.—On behalf of West Coast fans, Col. Russ Newland takes issue with this corner's recent non-inclusion of Cander Heeg as the year's outstanding athlete. . . Russ points out that Cornelius (Dutch) Warmerdam, the pole vault champ, is the only man ever to clear 15 feet officially . . . and he's done it 14 times this year and 26 times in all since April, 1940 . . . We're still inclined to rate Heeg's jumping at various difficult distances above Connie's consistency at one feat . . . However, we agree that Warmerdam is in line for the Sullivan Memorial award, which he almost won last year . . . He's a standout among American athletes and there's no question about his qualifying as a sportsman, leader, etc. The secretary will cast one affirmative vote.

The coaches claim it not only develops balance and skill but has its carry-over in military values to hand-to-hand encounters at night . . . We also hear soldiers in Texas are trying out blindfolded boxing. . . Next, we suppose will be practice in mud-wrestling for landing parties, but we hope they draw the line at a commission for Rosie the razzling bear.

Risking whatever reputation we gained last week, here's how this dept. sees some of this week's grid games: Friday—Temple over Georgetown, and Georgia over Jacksonville Naval Air Station; Saturday: The four Navy pre-flight schools over Harvard, Penn, North-western and Oregon. William and Mary over Navy, Fordham over Purdue. Notre Dame over Wisconsin. Southern California over Tulane. Texas Aggies over Louisiana State . . . Our guess is that Georgia and W & M will have the toughest games.

A. E. Cameron, chairman of the druggists division of the retailers group of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, announced Thursday that Midland druggists had agreed to discontinue all curb service and limit deliveries to emergency prescriptions for the duration.

The action, he explained, was necessitated by the lack of manpower to handle the special services. He said druggists have been unable to obtain sufficient employees to maintain the services.

Come On, Boys

DePaul University air cadette Mary Ellen Powers' lapel button lures men to Chicago air corps recruiting station.

And One Wonders Just What Fury Dutchmen Have Stored Up To Hand Out To Those Japs

Well, one wonders if he could have made it
If you were a colonel, or not a colonel, and suddenly found yourself with not a soldier, not a plane, and looked out your front window to see two Jap jeeps rolling up to your office, and looked out your back door to see two Japs driving off in your own car . . . well, what would have done . . . ?

He . . . Colonel J. J. Zomer . . . the back door, scooted for a native but crawled in and out among the huts until he came to a clearing . . . and ran for his life.
A few days later he arrived at Java headquarters . . . "and, of course, they wanted to know why we didn't hold that outpost!" he laughed. Well, he did have some things to laugh over, for when the situation had become hopeless he had destroyed everything except his office . . . and the contents of it were destroyed!

A Dutch Army career man, Colonel Zomer was here with General L. H. van Oyen to attend the graduation of Dutch and American bombardiers at the Midland Army Flying School.

And, one wonders if we could have the Colonel's cheerful, his hopeful, his determined outlook if he had gone through all that man has weathered in the past few months . . . months that have carried just so many years of experience.

For Colonel Zomer was one of these hundreds of Dutch who didn't wait for the enemy to get to their front door . . . they went to Singapore to try to help stem the tide. He went through all that terrific fighting, and escaped that last fateful day . . . to fight another day on one of the Dutch East Indies Islands . . . and still another . . . and on and on. Then, on orders of General van Oyen, he went to Australia to set up a training school for Dutch fliers. Later he came to America . . . and is now in command of the training school at Jackson, the pilot training center for the Dutchmen in America, as well as headquarters for all Dutch forces in the United States.

And . . . we wonder just what skilled fury that Colonel and his men will carry back to those Japanese invaders . . . at some soon day . . . for there is a glint in his eye . . . when you name the word "Jap" . . . and there is a smile with the glint!

Temple's March Against Austin Tops Grid Card

By Harold V. Ratliff
Associated Press Sports Editor
The powers of Texas schoolboy football slug it out from Pahruland to Gulf this week-end but headline of the glittering array of attractive games is Temple's march against Austin's Maroons.

The Wildcats, back with another fine team which must be rated among the top six until some foe shows championship meets a latter in an Austin outfit potentially greater than the 1941 eleven that went to the quarter-finals.

This game is set for Friday night at Austin.

There are two conference games on the schedule marking the start of championship play, with Amos Carter Riverside opening defense of its title in the Fort Worth district against Fort Worth Tech and Tyler doing the same in District 11 against Athens.

Humble Oil Will Broadcast Games

Four of the season's opening football games played by Southwest Conference teams will be broadcast by the Humble Oil and Refining Company this week-end, as this company again resumes the broadcasts which have been a feature of the football season for the past seven years.

Starting Friday afternoon, Humble will broadcast direct from Los Angeles the game between T. C. U. and U. C. L. A. This game starts at 6:00 p.m. Central War Time and the broadcast will begin at 5:50 p.m. over the Texas State Network including KRLL, Midland; KGKL, San Angelo, and KBST, Big Spring. Texas Aggies over Louisiana State . . .

Our guess is that Georgia and W & M will have the toughest games.

Public Debt Jumps Due To Certificates

WASHINGTON (AP)—After declining $732,908,874.94 in four business days, the public debt jumped $1,529,619,600.32 overnight to a new high of $87,793,286,043.09. The fluctuation represented book-keeping adjustments rather than an uneven pace in receipts and expenditures, although revenues were higher in the past two weeks because of a third quarter income tax payments.

The sudden upswing was due to the placing on the books $1,500,000,000 of Treasury certificates sold last week.

The Irony In Lesson On Gasoline Rations

After arriving Wynn had to help the driver unload 90 drums of gasoline at 3:30 a. m. on a dock.

Sausage 'N' Squash Are Good, B' Gawsh!

Acorn squash and pure pork sausage baked to a rich, nutty brown look like giant nuts with their rich hearts exposed. In step with the approaching nutting season, they're equally adventurous and thrifty.

To make a whole meal with the pictured dish, add buttered green beans and whole onions. Or onions baked in tomato sauce. Or add buttered beets, with baked apples for dessert.

Following is the recipe with others for fall sausage tastes:

Sausage-Stuffed Squash
Select acorn squashes. Wash and split lengthwise. Remove seeds. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake split-side-down in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 minutes. Turn. Fill center with bulk pork sausage and continue baking 30 to 40 minutes.

Variation: In each seasoned squash half lay a peeled apple half, sprinkle with sugar, place in baking pan, and add a little water. Cover and bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 45 minutes. Form 1-pound bulk pork sausage into balls, brown in a frying pan, and place one in each piece of squash on the apple; return to oven and bake 30 minutes longer. Serves 6.

Sausage Roll, Stuffed
2 pounds bulk pork sausage
2 cups diced raw apples
2 cups bread crumbs
2 small onions, diced
Pat the sausage into a flat rectangular shape about 1/2 inch thick. Mix the apples, onions and bread crumbs and spread this over the meat. Roll like a jelly roll, tucking the edges in. Place in a baking dish and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until done, about 45 minutes.

Sausage Skillet
1 pound bulk pork sausage
2 tablespoons diced onion
2 cups cooked rice
1 1/2 cups cooked tomatoes
2 tablespoons catsup
Pan-fry sausage and onion until brown. Pour off drippings. Add hot cooked rice, tomatoes and catsup. Blend. Cover and cook slowly 10 minutes.

Sausage Jumbles
1 1/3 pounds fresh pork sausage
2 large onions
3 tomatoes
12 slices bacon
Form the sausage into patties one inch thick. Brown and place thin slice of onion and a slice of tomato on each meat patty. Cross two strips of bacon and wrap around each prepared sausage patty. Fasten bacon slices with a toothpick. Bake uncovered at 350 degrees F. for one hour.

Lentils With Sausage
1 pound dried lentils (2 1/2 cups)
1 tablespoon salt
3/4 cup minced onion
3 tablespoons diced celery
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1/2 clove garlic
1 1/2 pounds bulk pork sausage
Wash lentils; soak overnight in cold water to cover. Drain, and cook, uncovered, in 2 quarts boiling water to which salt, onion, celery and pepper have been added, for 1 hour, or until tender. Drain. Rub baking pan with garlic, and grease or oil lightly. Place lentils in pan; arrange 6 sausage patties over top, and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for an hour or until sausage is browned and cooked through.

Eighteen Americans Rescued In Atlantic

NEW YORK (AP)—The Herald-Tribune, in a copyrighted dispatch from a West African port, says that 18 men from a torpedoed American freighter have been saved after having spent 32 days at sea subsisting only on concentrated foods. It was a "trick of fate," the dispatch said, for the Norwegian vessel which made the rescue had changed its course by coincidence and came across the lifeboat in which 19 men had started out. One had died after a few days at sea. "Our captain was suspicious," The Herald-Tribune's correspondent, John O'Reilly, aboard the rescue vessel said. Submarines use life boats for decoys. But, as we circled off our course we could see men in the drifting boat. Pitiful cries emanated from the craft.

"How long have you been adrift?" our captain shouted.
"Thirty two days," a voice from the lifeboat replied.
The captain of the torpedoed ship was first brought over side. He immediately made for the bridge, formally announced his name and the name of his ship.
"I am happy to have you aboard," the Norwegian skipper replied.

Junkman's Role Is Vital In Nation's Steel Scrap Hunt

By Hudson Phillips
NEW YORK (AP)—Wait a minute before you get sore at the junkman for not coming around for your 25 pounds of scrap or not giving you the price you thought it was worth. Maybe the sight of scrap piled high in his yard discouraged you from realizing fully that there was a real and serious shortage.

Maybe the junkman would have good answers to your wondering. If you don't know the answers or don't understand them and therefore stop collecting scrap, the war job suffers. Because the junkman is doing important work in the war, the government is taking the trouble to set public thinking straight about the role he's playing. Prefer Spearhead Drive

More than ever he'll be valuable in the next three weeks as American newspapers spearhead scrap collections for the mills which are producing 5 million tons less steel than they should because of scrap lack.

More than 1,400 newspapers are in the drive which officially runs from Sept. 28 to Oct. 17, but in some states already is under way.

The War Production Board warned in the week that there is an "exceptional job" of iron and steel scrap collection this fall the country's blast furnaces would have to cut down steel output this winter.

You may dump your scrap—anything from old lawnmowers to iron pots—in the town's square collection bin, but eventually it will move to the mills through the junkman who buys it.

On the subject of junkman's prices, the Institute of Scrap Iron and Steel says: "Figuring his various expenses, the junkman can't afford to pay more than $9 a ton for the best scrap."

The price the mills pay him varies from $13 to $20 a ton, depending on the location. It costs him from $5 cents to $5 a ton to move it to the mills. It costs him from $3.50 to $4.50 a ton to prepare it before it moves.

The WPB considers the junkman's so important that now it gives him an award of merit—similar to the Army-Navy merit award for outstanding jobs by industrial plants—when he fills certain requirements which include:

Delivering to the mills tonnage of scrap 33 1/3 per cent greater than his monthly average in the first six months of 1942.

This is the answer Donald Nelson, WPB chief, gives to critics of the junkman:

Only the junkman has the experience and equipment to do the right job of sorting, grading, preparing, packing and accumulating scrap in lots large enough to be shipped efficiently to the mills.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney
America's Card Authority
All national tournament events are not won by experienced partnerships. Bridge has become so standardized that we often find new partnerships carrying away a title, as for example, Mrs. Faye Lasarow of Miami, Fla., and Dr. William V. Kirk of Eagle Lake, Maine, winners of the Goddard pair event.

I thought they bid today's hand very well, and Mrs. Lasarow certainly played it well to give her side a top score. Dummy won the first trick with the queen of diamonds. A heart was led and the finesse of the queen won. Most South players concentrated on trying to set up the hearts. Some made the contract and some went down one. But Mrs. Lasarow decided to try out a second resource as well. She cashed the ace and king of spades and led a third round.

Note that if the spades broke four-two, the game was still safe if the hearts were split three-three with the king in the East hand. If the heart split were bad, then playing for the spades might be the only chance. But the spades broke and West continued diamonds. Mrs. Lasarow held off one round, then won the next. A low club to the ace put dummy in 11 cash two long spades, and then a squeeze against East developed in hearts and clubs. Declarer won the rest to score five-odd.

Netherlands Show Bitterness To German Invaders

BERN, Switzerland. (AP)—Bitterness against the German conquerors is increasing in the Netherlands and, heartened by hopes of an eventual Allied invasion, the Dutch are committing almost daily acts of sabotage, according to a correspondent of the Basler National Zeitung.

The invasion threat, he said, compelled the Germans to strengthen their coast fortifications and to transfer many of their troops in the Eastern Netherlands provinces to coast stations.

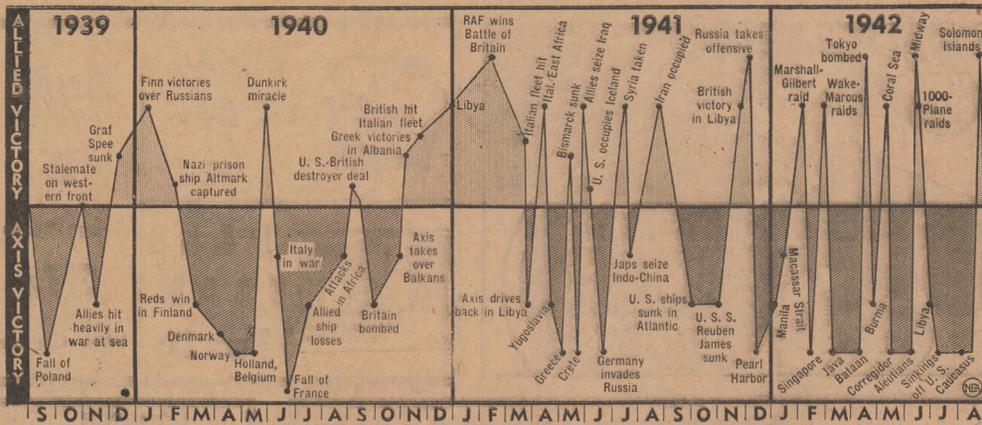

He wrote that almost daily acts of sabotage occur—German road signs are destroyed, tires on German cars are slashed, trains of war supplies and food for Germany have been derailed and telephone lines have been cut. Bombing attacks have been carried out against German officers and soldiers who venture singly into the blacked out streets at night.

He said that sabotage in factories working for Germany always was considerable but now it had been stepped up in an effort to force the Germans to withdraw contracts and leave many Dutch factories idle.

In reprisal many Dutch workers had been taken to Germany to work under strict supervision and in cities there is scarcely a young worker to be seen.

In addition, the Nazis in their reprisals have arrested a thousand

Vote Salvage Mixed With Metal Campaign

VINCENNES, Ind. (AP)—Candidates Wayne Combs (state representative) and Gerrel Powell

(county recorder) have hit upon an ingratiating method of campaigning this year.

Conserving tires, they travel together around the countryside, calling on farmers for scrap metal. "We don't bore the farmers with our stories of how badly we need the votes," Combs said. "We tell 'em how badly Uncle Sam needs their scrap metal."

For Good Taste In Vegetables Go Easy On Water And Cooking

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX, NEA Service Writer

Keep the youngsters healthy with plenty of fresh vegetables every day. Cook them in very little water and for only a short time to save all their nutrients. And make them taste good.

Sweet And Sour Carrots (Serves 5)

Eighteen whole carrots, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, salt and pepper to taste, 1 tablespoon sugar, 3 to 5 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 cup hot water.

Pare whole carrots and cook in rapidly boiling salted water until tender. Make a sauce by melting the butter and adding the flour and seasoning; blend well. Add sugar, stir till dissolved. Add lemon juice and gradually add water, stirring constantly until smooth. Cook until slightly thickened, about 10 minutes, stirring frequently. To serve, pour sauce over the whole hot carrots and serve at once.

Beets And Greens (Serves 4 to 6)

Three to 4 heads of salad greens (any combination), salt and pepper to taste, 1 tablespoon sugar, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 small onion, 4 tablespoons butter or other shortening, 2 cups cooked sliced beets, 1 whole lemon, cut in wedges, 2 hard-cooked eggs.

Wash the salad greens and chop rather fine. Drain slightly; salt, cover and cook in the amount of water clinging to leaves. Season with pepper, sugar and lemon juice. Cook onion, sliced, in butter or shortening, in a large frying pan and pack cooked greens over onion. Top with a layer of sliced beets. Heat thoroughly, then invert onto a serving dish and serve hot. Note: Use more mature greens for this recipe. Save the tender ones for crisp salads.

Hitler Admits Two Classes Of Germans

MOSCOW, (AP)—A new racial policy, dividing the vaguely defined Nordic race into "full-valued" and "devalued" elements has been outlined by Adolf Hitler, the official Soviet news agency Tass reported in dispatches from Stockholm.

The division into first class and second class Nordics has become necessary because Nordics living on the periphery of Germany have allowed themselves to become debased by inferior foreign elements, Tass asserted, quoting a curious secret document which it said had been circulated among German authorities in the occupied Scandinavian countries and the Netherlands.

The failure of Nordics who live on the "contaminated periphery of the German racial center" to resist effectively "the decline of their racial standards" establishes their unfitness to be classed as Nordics of the first order, the document said.

Fins, Mongols, Slavs, Celts, Gauls and Anglo-Saxons have contributed to this chaos, it was said, and Germans inhabiting Germany are the sole examples of the "healthy Aryan nucleus."

Texas Dive-Bombers Decorated For Work

DALLAS, (AP)—Two Texas Navy dive bomber pilots have been cited for meritorious and distinguished service in the Coral Sea battle from May 4 to 8, and thus join the distinguished company of 23 officers and men who fought in this action, the Eighth Naval District has announced.

Both the Texans are lieutenant (junior grade). They are Harry B. Bass, U. S. N., of Beaumont, and Clem B. Connally, U. S. N. R., of route 2, Waco.

Bass, who is 25, received a Gold Star in lieu of a second Navy Cross which was awarded him for gallantry in the Lexington's engagements at Bougainville and at Lea and Salamaua.

Hill County Hiway Opens Traffic Jam

HILLSBORO, (AP)—One of the bottlenecks on the north-south Texas traffic for years in Hill County is a thing of the past. A stretch of 10.3 miles of new concrete road for highways 81 and 77 south from the Hillsboro city limits to a point near the Hill-McLennan county line has been opened.

The project cost $500,000. The new road replaces a high-center, narrow and bumpy asphalt road.

"The Bite" Has A Different Meaning In Fight Racket

By HARRY GRAYSON, NEA Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK.—When it was announced that Sgt. Joe Louis and Pvt. Billy Conn would box at Yankee Stadium, Oct. 12, with the entire receipts above actual expenses going to Army Emergency Relief, the War Department had not the slightest conception of what the term "the bite" means in the fight racket.

But after several days with Mike Jacobs and the managers of Sgt. Louis and Pvt. Conn, Army officers acting in the interest of the fund can now give a clear definition of the beak-buster's expression "the bite."

For, after anticipating a 100 per cent fund show, War Boxing, Inc., the sports writers' board named to promote the show, finds that it has to pay $59,805.50, which Louis claims he owes Promoter Jacobs, and an additional $41,146.03, to which extent the champion says he is in debt to one of his managers, John Roxborough. That's a total of $100,951.53.

Conn Is Different

In addition to that, War Boxing, Inc., has to pay Jacobs $34,500, which he asserts is owed him by Conn, $2500 of which the challenger obtained as recently as Sept. 9. "That swells the 'purses' of a supposedly 100 per cent benefit to $135,451.53.

There were occasions when it appeared as though the whole thing would be called off. Louis said he would be foolish to risk the championship, his lone asset, for nothing. There was no such talk when he took on Buddy Baer and Abe Simon, but obviously Conn is something else again.

At one stage, Louis offered to meet Conn in a non-title bout free, gratis and for nothing, but no one made the slightest attempt to figure out how that would be possible. Perhaps he distinguished non-compounds of stainless steel since Jan. 1.

Scrap has been collected from many sources throughout the system. An old sugar mill was scrapped, leavings from the system's own iron foundry have been carefully collected and saved. Worn out farm machinery, old horseshoes and other available types of metal have gone into the collection.

New York's Buildings Go Into Scrap Heap

NEW YORK (AP)—Preliminary steps to demolish some of New York's outmoded or vacant buildings—including a $5,000,000 structure—to obtain scrap metal—have been taken by Park Commissioner Robert Moses and the newly established federal salvage agency, War Materials, Inc.

missioned officer would have Conn come in above the weight.

Training Costs

No Army officers and the sports writers did not give in without an argument, but finally were broken down by an imposing array of vouchers and checks presented by the creditors.

It was pointed out to Louis that the tax on $100,951.53 would be 72 per cent, but Jacobs and Roxborough took the position that this would not have to be paid for some time. Louis already has been given a moratorium to the extent of $117,000 until after the war on his 1941 income tax.

Army officers were given an additional lesson in the meaning of "the bite" when Jacobs estimated that the cost of three weeks' training by the two gladiators and their aides would approximate $75,000.

The fight will gross plenty, of course. There will be a rich contribution to Army Emergency Relief, but there is bound to be criticism of Jacobs and Roxborough sharing $35,451.53 of the proceeds of what was cut out to be a 100 per cent war fund show.

It was originally announced that Sgt. Louis and Pvt. Conn were just a couple of good soldiers carrying out the orders of the War Department, but then the Army had no idea of how loosely money is tossed around in the fight dodge, in which the boys are old and expert hands at putting on "the bite."

Gas Station Man Out Of Business In No Time At All

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—"Gasoline rationing will put us out of business," Robert Zarda, service station operator for 14 years, was telling the station owner recently. "There was quite a commotion just then. All at once he discovered that he was already out of business."

An automobile out of control ripped away the piers which supported his driveway canopy, knocked loose two gasoline pumps, setting one afire, and ripped out air lines, signs and other miscellaneous equipment.

Priorities prevent replacements.

Police Textbook Now Available In Austin

AUSTIN (AP)—Local Texas officers who want to read up on their duties as war reserve police now have an official book to study.

Home Garrison, Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety, said a supply of the textbooks had been received by the department and were ready for distribution on application.
