Red Army Drives On

By Eddy Gilmore
MOSCOW—(AP)—The Red Army's dogged drive through slush ice and mud toward Smolensk has made fresh headway in three directions and German attacks in an effort to control the Northern Donets river valley are slackening after their setbacks at the hands of the Soviet defenders, the Russians said Thursday.

The mid-day communique announced that additional villages were taken on the Smolensk front as Soviet troops broke through the outlying defenses of the city.

The Soviets' sharpest thrust appeared to be north of Dukhovshino, which is 32 miles northeast of the big German garrison city. In this sector the Red Army troops battled hand-to-hand with the Germans in an unidentified settlement which had been heavily fortified, after hurling grenades to clear their path.

Column Goes Forward
South of this sector a Russian column was reported moving toward the district center of Dorogobuzh, 13 miles below the Moscow-Yuazna-Smolensk railway and 50 miles east of Smolensk. The battle to take the city, which lies in a swampy area cut by the Dnieper River and many small streams, was considered now only a part of a large-scale offensive to control the upper Dnieper.

Fierce counterattacks, with heavy concentrations of heavy artillery, were beaten back in every effort to back up their infantry, were being mounted by the Germans, a dispatch to Red Star, the Army newspaper, said.

In the battle for the upper Donets River valley, the Germans have been beaten back in every effort to establish bases on the eastern bank from Belgorod to Chuguev, and, smarting under blows which have caused terrific destruction to material and manpower, have relaxed the intensity of their assaults.

Attack Thrown Back
In at least two sectors the invaders tried to surprise the Russians with flanking rushes. In one place 80 tanks, leading a truck column of infantry, were reported thrown back.

Fighting was going on for more bridgeheads in the Dnieper valley north of Dorogobuzh, Red Star said, but in other sectors the Germans had been driven far west of the waterway.

"The right bank of another river flowing in a southerly direction has been entirely cleared of the enemy," the newspaper declared.

Senate Approves Labor Union Bill

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Senate by a vote of 15 to 8 Thursday passed finally the amended Manford-Bridgers labor union regulation bill.

The measure now goes back to the House of Representatives with an amendment outlawing charges for work permits. The House must concur in this and other less important amendments before the bill is finally enacted and sent to the governor.

Indications were that the House would take up the bill Friday. Proponents of the bill in the Senate had argued for passage there without amendment, claiming that a labor lobby backed proposals to change the bill in the hope of gaining time and perhaps changing some House votes.

The measure passed the House by a 49 vote margin.

U. S. Liberators Attack Messina

CAIRO—(AP)—Liberator bombers of the Ninth United States Air Force attacked Messina, Sicily, by daylight Wednesday and left railroad yards in flames and other fires at the ferry terminal and in the vicinity of naval storage tanks, a United States communique said Thursday.

All of the bombers returned safely. It was said they were attacked by enemy fighters in engagements in which one fighter was destroyed and another probably destroyed.

Fire Damages Home Of W. C. Durham

Fire Wednesday afternoon damaged the home of W. C. Durham, 1301 West Kentucky Street.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started in a clothes closet. It spread rapidly into a bedroom.

No estimate of the loss was made by firemen.

American forces scored gains Thursday against the Germans in the Mehri Zebous area 12 miles south of Maknassy while other patrols scored gains in the Gafsa area, dispatches from the Tunisian front said.

Tax Bloc Is Being Formed

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Congressional activity captured most capital attention Thursday as heavy firing began on the House floor in the long-awaited tax abatement battle and legislative skirmishing continued on the post-war, salary, civilian supply, labor and farm fronts.

With the start of four-day debate in the House on current tax legislation, a bloc began forming on Capitol Hill to force a pay-as-you-go compromise that would abate a large portion, but not all, of one year's income taxes.

Rumpus Looms
On the other side of Congress, the administration's hand appeared to have been forced for an early declaration of the nation's post-war intentions, despite reported reluctance to stir the cauldron of Senate debate on the subject.

Both houses had a hand in a tax-to-go-measure measure that seemed headed for President Roosevelt's desk. Meeting his request for an increase in the national debt limit—to absorb sky-rocketing war costs—the bill carried a rider repealing his $25,000 salary limitation order.

Farm Bills Attacked

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown urged Congress Thursday to reject the stonily-backed Bankhead and Pace farm bills, saying they would add more than $3,750,000,000 to consumers' budgets and destroy the anti-inflation program.

Both bills have as their ultimate end the increase of farm income but, Brown wrote congressional leaders, they call for "so radical a change in the price of foods" as to mean "the end of stabilization of prices" and the end of "stabilization of wages as well."

Fight Promised
The price administrator's letter went to Senator Lucas (D-III), president pro tempore of the Senate who promised "the stiffest kind of a fight" if farm bloc leaders insist on calling for a Senate vote Thursday on the Pace bill to add farm labor costs to the crop parity formula.

Also receiving the letter were Senate Majority Leader Barkley of Kentucky, Speaker Rayburn of the House and House Majority Leader McCormack of Massachusetts.

The House has approved the Pace bill and both branches have approved the Bankhead bill, although in somewhat different versions, to stipulate that government benefit payments shall not be included in computing farm parity price ceilings.

Would Raise Prices
Taken together, Brown said, they would raise the retail price of food between 17 and 18 per cent increase the annual food budget of consumers by three and three quarters billion dollars and cost the government an additional one and one-quarter billion dollars a year.

"We must face the fact that radical change in the cost of food means radical change in the 'little steel formula' as well," Brown wrote. "If Congress requires the one, it must accept the responsibility for the other."

The little steel formula is the War Labor Board's yardstick for allowing a cost-of-living wage adjustment. It permits an increase of 15 per cent over the wage level of a particular group on January 1, 1941. Further increases are permissible if the board is convinced the 15 per cent does not correct manifest injustices.

AUSTIN—(AP)—A plan to smash the transportation blockade of West Texas sour crudes from war markets will be laid before Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes in Washington soon, by the Texas Railroad Commission and a large delegation of West Texas oil operators, an authoritative source disclosed Thursday.

Headed by one of the state's leading oil producers, the delegation will ask Ickes' concurrence and assistance in opening new transportation outlets from West Texas to crude shortage areas and in converting or constructing suitable equipment at pipeline terminal points to process sour crude.

American Planes Attack Japanese Base At Kahili

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Navy reported Thursday that heavy Army bombers and Navy torpedo planes attacked Japanese positions at Kahili, an enemy air base in the Northwestern Solomons. A fire was started by the raid, which occurred Wednesday.

Communicate No. 323 said: "South Pacific: (all dates east longitude)

War Bullelfins

CAIRO — (AP) — Frontline dispatches said American troops Wednesday won control of the last mountain ramparts overlooking the narrowing Axis corridor between Maknassy and the sea and pushed on toward Mezzouna under heavy Axis bombing attacks.

CAIRO—(AP)—Fighter-bombers, "Flying Can-openers," and Hurricanes, knocked out ten Axis tanks in forays over the Mareth Line positions Thursday, a communique said. Low-flying planes attacked Rommel's formations south of El Hamma, hitting tanks, armored cars, gun carriers and trucks.

MOSCOW — (AP) — In the Caucasus, the Russian command announced Thursday, Soviet troops are advancing through the icy Taman Peninsula swamps, pressing German remnants closer to the Kerch Strait and drawing a net around the Black Sea naval base at Novorossisk.

Rain Here Totals Four-Tenths Inch

More rain came to the Midland area Thursday in the form of a light drizzle, and ranchers, farmers and victory gardeners hoped for more moisture.

Clouds hung low and forecasters said showers are likely. Little change was predicted in the temperature.

The precipitation here Wednesday and Thursday totaled four-tenths of an inch.

From south and east of Midland and the San Angelo area came reports of good rains.

Mubo Hit In 44 US Raids

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA—(AP)—General MacArthur's "flying artillery" made 44 bombing and strafing runs over Japanese lines at Mubo Wednesday, firing 30,000 rounds from cannons and machineguns into enemy positions guarding the approaches to the Japanese New Guinea base at Salamaua, Allied headquarters announced Thursday.

Other Allied planes carried out day and night attacks on far-flung enemy bases in the islands above Australia, scoring hits on shipping and airdrome areas, and one bomber on a reconnaissance mission shot two Japanese fighter planes out of the air in a duel over Wewak, New Guinea, a communique declared.

The enemy's planes also were in the sky before daylight Wednesday, raiding Allied base at Oro Bay and Milne Bay in New Guinea with little effect, it was said.

A 5,000-ton merchant ship was reported hit by the Allied bombers near Kalmama, Dutch New Guinea, and two small coastal vessels were damaged off the Kai Islands where medium bombers also struck at enemy-occupied towns in low level attacks.

German U-Boat Base Crippled By Attacks

UNITED STATES EIGHTH BOMBER COMMAND HEADQUARTERS, ENGLAND—(AP)—The United States Flying Fortress-Liberator raid on the Vegesack submarine and shipbuilding yards last Thursday "has crippled that base for a considerable period," Brig. Gen. Newton Longfellow, chief of the Eighth Bomber Command, said Thursday.

Churchill Declares Allies Have Larger Fleets Than Before

LONDON—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill declared Thursday that the United Nations "have afloat substantially larger fleets than they had at the worst moment in the U-boat war and this improvement is continuing."

The statement was made in reply to a question in the House of Commons on shipping losses.

Rear Admiral Tufton Percy Beamish, Conservative, had asked the Prime Minister if he were aware of the recent German claim that U-boats sank more than 30 ships out of a 200,000-ton Atlantic convoy.

Artillery Battles In Mareth Sector

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA—(AP)—United States troops repulsed heavy Nazi armored attacks in the Gafsa sector and made local gains in the Maknassy area of the Central Tunisian front while the battle of the Mareth Line dwindled to artillery dueling after four days of bitter fighting, it was announced Thursday.

Military quarters said strong resistance and rigorous counterattacks by Field Marshal Edwin Rommel's forces prevented further major Allied gains for the time being and, in some cases, wiped out advances achieved a few days earlier.

Advices from the Southern Tunisian front late Wednesday night were that German counterattacks had largely wiped out the advances made by the British Eighth Army in driving a wedge into the upper end of the Mareth Line.

In sight of the battling ground troops, British and American light bombers hammered important Axis armored positions near the town of Mareth.

U. S. Planes Active
In the communique Thursday there was no mention of the task force which flanked Rommel's positions and was last reported eight miles from El Hamma, Axis air base at the rear of the fortifications and 20 miles west of Gafsa.

Field dispatches said United States troops won control of the last mountain chain overlooking the coastal plain and Axis supply routes between Maknassy and the Gulf of Gabes after beating back Axis armored forces in the region of El Guejar, itself 12 miles southeast of Gafsa on the road to Gabes.

American air forces bombed Axis troops and installations almost continuously in support of the forces of both Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., in the Gafsa sector and Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery in the south.

Flying Fortresses launched a heavy attack on Ferryville, near Bizerte, which is now one of the main Tunisian ports of entry for Axis supplies. Observers said heavy damage was done to the docks and bomb-set fires sent flames 500 feet into the air.

In the Gafsa sector American patrols carried out offensive operations with success, the war bulletin reported.

It said that "from Northern Tunisia there is nothing to report." (An Algiers broadcast recorded in London by Reuters earlier said that the British First Army had made a slight advance in Northern Tunisia.)

Scotland Bombed By Nazi Raiders

LONDON—(AP)—Scotland, troubled by heavy German raids since the spring of 1941 and only once previously this year the target for a small-scale attack, felt the sting of German reprisal assaults early today when enemy bombers flew through severe anti-aircraft fire on the southeast coast and dropped incendiary bombs inland.

The last raid on Scotland was Feb. 19 when a few planes caused slight damage.

Damage Is Heavy
British fighters and anti-aircraft defenses shot down five of an estimated 25 German planes that participated in the attack on Scotland and a raid over northern England that caused a small number of casualties.

Considerable damage was done to private dwellings in one north-east English coastal town, but there were no casualties because occupants were in shelters.

The heaviest enemy raid Wednesday was on a town in Southeast England, where at least 12 were killed. Additional victims were being dug out of the debris.

At Dallas, where floodstage is 28 feet, the Trinity had risen to 29.5 feet this morning, and the weather bureau predicted it would continue to rise at a moderate rate and probably not exceed 32 feet. The Dallas area has received 2.86 inches of rain. Fort Worth had 2.88.

The heaviest rainfall of the year—77 of an inch—was reported in the Laredo area and was expected to restore a supply of grasses for livestock subsistence and refill their water supply.

Quirks Of Pseudo-Saboteurs

Eleven out of every 12 cases of sabotage reported to the Federal Bureau of Investigation turns out to be not direct sabotage, but the results of carelessness, industrial accidents, or even petty revenge of a workman against his boss—not an attempt to wreck the war effort.

While FBI authorities caution that this large percentage of false alarms should in no way cause plant guards and others to relax vigilance against saboteurs, some of the cases of pseudo-sabotage have their curious quirks.

For instance, there was the case of the janitor in a large eastern plant engaged in the manufacture of highly confidential instruments. In the wastepaper basket of the drafting room, this janitor found what appeared to be a delayed action arson device.

It was a bundle of matches bound with adhesive tape. One match, partly burned, extended from the bundle. It was obvious that the one match was intended to ignite the other matches, thus starting a really hot fire.

The FBI was called in and, during the investigation, it was discovered that the under sides of the metal stools used by draftsmen were blackened and contained traces of the adhesive tape. Finally one of the draftsmen explained and confessed. It was common gag in this drafting room to fasten these match bundles to seats of the stools, then ignite the lead match and walk away. The sudden flaring of the matches gave the victim a realistic hot seat and everybody laughed. This in a room where invaluable tracings and blueprints were kept, any of which would ignite readily.

Twenty-three planes in an aircraft plant were apparently sabotaged by placing glass in the fluid of the hydraulic brake system. These bits of glass, which would have chewed through the rubber tube connections, were extracted in the crime laboratory of the FBI headquarters in Washington, and on examination it was found that all the pieces had curved surfaces, the glass being of a special heat-resistant composition.

Investigation was then directed to all possible sources of such glass in this plant. It centered finally on a "flow meter" used in testing the brakes. On opening the chamber of the meter, the missing pieces of the glass test valve were discovered and the cause of the accident explained. During a night shift, one of the valves had broken and fallen into the chamber.

The operator had neglected to remove the broken glass and had merely inserted a new valve and gone on about his business. A simple case of carelessness, but the effect was the same as sabotage.

War Loan Names Are Nifties

The Treasury had decided officially to call the next war bond drive "The Second War Loan," but while they were trying to pick a name, suggestions were asked for and they got some dandies.

Victory in Forty-Three, Drive to Survive, Four Freedoms Fund, the Knockout Loan, the Exit Axis Loan, and Bust the Bums Bonds.

Three suggestions which weren't even given a second thought were the Globalloan, Fourth Term Fund and New Deal Retirement Fund.

Trade Names

When England was forced to concentrate industry by forcing producers of civilian goods to convert to war material, she safeguarded valuable trade names. The products of converted factories are made for them by unconverted plants, so that as little as possible shall be lost.

When Governor Tugwell took jurisdiction over imports to Puerto Rico because of shipping shortages, he promptly eliminated trade names and labels and substituted his own brand marks, which mean nothing as to the content of the package. Thus manufacturers were deprived of the fruits of their initiative within Tugwell's jurisdiction.

In England winning the war comes first.

Co-operation Needed

Eastern motorists have an opportunity to save everybody in the country, themselves included, from much future grief.

If they justify the confidence placed in them by OPA Administrator Brown, and limit their driving to what is really essential, there will be no necessity for reimposing the onerous and expensive checking system that Brown has discarded.

If on the other hand, they try to get away with everything possible, the OPA can be expected to feel that policing is necessary—not alone to gasoline usage in the east, but as to all critical situations everywhere.

Nov., 1942: Casablanca—shell blew up landing boat just as he started to board it.

Gen. George S. Patton Jr., "old blood and guts" of the armored force, has come off the bench to lead into action at the head of American forces in Tunisia. The hell-for-leather general who helped build our tank divisions in Georgia, Louisiana and California and led the invasion of Morocco is back in action — to shove the Germans into the sea. In World War I he quit cavalry to learn tanks. Cavalrymanlike, he leads advancing troops with stentorian cussing and impetuosity that inspire. Born in California and privately wealthy, he finished at West Point in 1909. At 57 he's still athletic, an expert swimmer, swimmer, runner, a two-handed six-gun shooter and hand-to-hand fighter. In the early 1930's he sailed to Hawaii and back in a 40-foot schooner with his wife, son, and one sailor. He believes it takes more guts than machines to win wars.

Nation's Freight Structure Scored

WASHINGTON —(P)—The nation's freight rate structure as now constituted, says the Tennessee Valley Authority, does not promote nation-wide freedom of trade and equality of economic opportunity.

In a report transmitted to Congress by President Roosevelt Thursday, TVA declared that rail freight rate handicaps "act as a slow poison in such Southern and Western industries as lack the sheer power to avoid having the poison administered."

Before the war, the East, or official territory as it is designated in the freight-rate structure, had 64 per cent of the national income and 76 per cent of the income from manufacturing.

Upon this premise, the survey said:

"The real question is whether the chances for winning the full-employment high-prosperity objective will be better if this concentration continues or even increases, or if the ground is prepared so that the South and West may contribute much more liberally to the production gains that they have been able to contribute to what has already been achieved."

It later was found, opened and rifled.

Money and several other valuables were still there.

Missing—a new pair of silk hose, Richardson's badge. It was No. 13.

Germans Fire Upon Italian Soldiers

WITH UNITED STATES FORCES IN CENTRAL TUNISIA —(P)—Forty Italian soldiers who came forward to surrender to an American force near Maknassy Thursday were fired upon immediately by a German unit on their right.

"I am unable to give an exact result of this action or the number of prisoners taken by us from this group," an American officer said, "but I can say we regard this firing on Italian troops by Germans as highly significant."

In the last three days in the Maknassy-El Guetiar area, more than 1,000 Italians and only a few Germans have been captured in heavy fighting.

"Wednesday bombers of the northwest African air forces attacked the docks at Ferryville (near Bizerte)," the communique said.

"Hits were observed all over the dock area and large fires were started."

Explosives burst among grounded planes in the attacks on Axis air fields and light bombers attacked enemy troops and vehicles south-east of American-held El Guetiar, the communique said.

No Reason For Gloom
Field Marshal Erwin Rommel had unleashed an unexpectedly powerful series of counterattacks in Southern Tunisia in a desperate effort to hold the Mareth Line against threatened encirclement and was reported to have largely cancelled the gains made by British frontal attacks.

(In London a British military commentator, taking a more optimistic view of the Tunisian operations, emphasized the setback announced Wednesday in the Mareth Line was "no reason for gloom."

"We must remember," he said, "that the enemy has been working for months to strengthen the Mareth Line. It took us nine days to get through at El Alamein and I don't think we need to weep over this retreat."

Attacks Heartening
(One of the main factors which should hearten the Allies, he said, was the fact that simultaneous converging attacks by American forces and the British Eighth Army had forced Field Marshal Rommel to split his armor into four units.)

(These units are: 1. On the Maknassy road; 2. On the El Guetiar road; 3. Southwest of El Hamma west of the Mareth Line; and 4. In the Mareth Line position.)

Report Of Midland DAR Given At State Convention

Mrs. James H. Goodman represented the Lieut. William Brewer Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution in Midland at the official presentation and dedication of a collection of early textbooks and Texana to the Southwest Texas State Teachers College in San Marcos last week.

Mrs. Goodman, appointed as delegate by Mrs. Jack Wilkinson, Midland's regent, also represented Midland at the state convention in Austin. She reported five new members had been added to the Midland chapter during 1942, and gave highlights of the chapter's work during the year.

Red Cross Work Done

One of the outstanding features of the report was that members had contributed 1037 hours to the American Red Cross. Announcement was made of the awarding of the history contest medal to Buddy Davidson, and presentation of an award to Kathryn Hanks, who won the good citizenship pilgrimage contest.

At the convention a $100 War Bond was given to the winner of the state pilgrimage contest instead of the usual trip to Washington. Miss Mamadine Rose of Mexia was the winner.

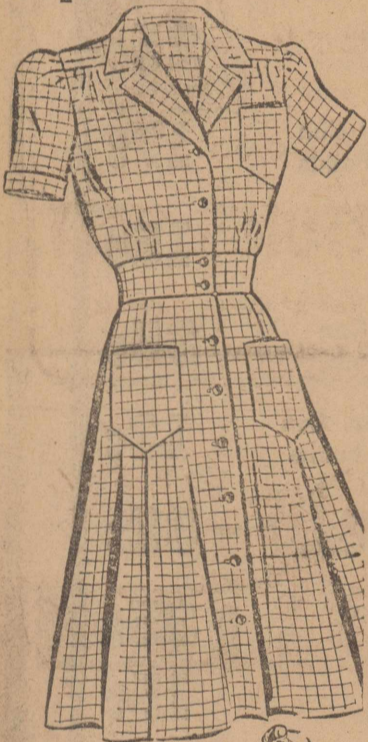

Seventy-five chapters in Texas were represented by 4,291 members. Mrs. Frederick Brewster Ingram of Dallas was elected state regent.

Never put damp laundry into the laundry hamper if you would avoid damage by mildew—which is difficult to remove if it does not actually destroy the garment. Dry damp clothes completely before storing if it is not convenient to launder them immediately.

A fruit salad dessert is easier to manage than cakes and pastries. Try this: Grapefruit sections, seeded white grapes, chopped English walnuts, marshmallow cubes on lettuce. Add mayonnaise or French dressing made with lemon juice.

The War Today — British Setback At Mareth Line Is Not Alarming

By DeWitt MacKenzie

General Montgomery's setback on the Mareth Line in Southern Tunisia at the hands of his old rival, Marshal Rommel, isn't anything to lose sleep over, and he owes no apologies to anybody.

The surprising thing isn't that Montgomery's hard-hitting veterans of the desert were partly dislodged by a fierce counter-attack at the coastal end of the Mareth Line, but that they drove a hole into this Nazi defense in so short a time. These Mareth fortifications, which are known as the "Magnot Line of the Desert" because of their great strength, are ten miles deep and were heavily manned with Axis troops. In fact, this was the strongest point in the entire line.

Nazis In Peril
Montgomery's tactics here were almost identical with those he employed when he broke Rommel's line at El Alamein in Egypt and precipitated the Axis rout which finally wound up in Tunisia.

The line at El Alamein wasn't a patch on the Mareth Line for strength. Yet Montgomery was something like a week in turning the trick, and there was hard fighting during that period. Thus there not only is no occasion for alarm at Wednesday's development, but it would have been more than passing strange if Rommel didn't counter-attack.

Marshal Rommel, while still full of ideas and fight, remains in a tight spot. And his troubles aren't by any means centered in Montgomery, for our General Patton's fast moving columns, which are operating from Gafsa as a base, are thrusting perilously close to the coast and are threatening to cut Rommel's communications with Nazi General Von Arnim to the north.

Once-Idle Freight Car Factory Turns Out 30-Ton Tanks

HAMMOND, IND. — Army tanks ready for battle and rolling Thursday from the railway gun mount assembly lines of Hammond's principal war plant of 1917-18—a ghost of broken windows and pigeon roosts for the last decade.

And if the Army should run short of tank drivers, it might pick up some among the boys who have been wheeling armored monsters over highways in test runs before Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Company turns its new product over to the Army for shipment to a battle zone.

The tanks are streamlined 30-ton General Shermans which have been showing the Axis in North Africa that war is what the man for whom the tanks are named said it was.

The factory was built back in 1907 for making freight cars and later gun mounts for use in the last war. It was just an empty shell between 1930 and 1940. Then a contract for British tanks started it humming again.

In the Middle Ages men's shoes were often more fancy than women's; many were decorated with precious stones.

| 6 tablespoons sugar | 1 slightly beaten egg |
| 6 tablespoons flour | 2 teaspoons vanilla |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt | 1 package orange-flavored gelatin* |
| 1 cup Pet Milk | 1 1/2 cups boiling water. |
| 1 cup water | |
| 1 tablespoon butter | |

Mix together sugar, flour and salt. Stir in 1/2 cup milk diluted with 1/2 cup water. Add butter. Put over boiling water. Stir and cook 20 minutes after water again comes to a boil. Remove from heat, stir into slightly beaten egg. Return to heat, stir and cook 2 minutes. Add vanilla. Cover and cool thoroughly, stirring occasionally. Rub with vegetable oil a mold holding about 5 cups. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Cool, then divide into 2 equal portions. Stir 1/4 cup milk into one portion and let stand at room temperature. To other portion stir in 1/4 cup water. Chill until syrupy, then pour in bottom of oiled mold and continue chilling until firm. Chill gelatin-milk mixture until it begins to thicken, then whip with rotary egg beater until light and fluffy. Put on top of clear gelatin mixture. Chill until firm, then cover with cold custard mixture. Chill thoroughly. Turn out and serve at once. Garnish with sliced oranges if desired. Serves 6.

*Strawberry, cherry, raspberry or lemon-flavored gelatin may also be used.

Hard Work Demands Plain Energy Food

The hard work "that never hurt anyone" can make us very tired. Physical fatigue calls for physical relaxation. Nervous fatigue calls for some not-too-vigorous exercise as well as the rest period. A hot drink of bouillon about 15 minutes before eating will relax and stimulate you—and prepare your digestive system for the meal to follow.

Hard work demands plenty of food to supply energy, but keep the foods simple and stick to the kinds that are easily digested. A serving of meat and a baked potato, two vegetables—not overcooked—or one vegetable and a salad, wholegrain bread with butter or fortified margarine, and a simple dessert will make a perfect dinner.

If nervous fatigue has not been routed before sitting down to eat, make the meal very light, eating fewer foods but a bit more of each to satisfy your energy needs. For example, substitute a cream soup for the meat, have a larger potato and eat one vegetable. Finish off with some simple cookies and a cup of tea. You will avoid digestive upsets and sleep better, with a consequent lessening of nervous fatigue.

Gingerbread Cobbler

Three apples, chopped; 1/2 cup raisins, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons hot water. Combine apples, raisins, butter and hot water, and put some in the bottom of each custard cup. Pour the following batter over the top and bake in a moderately hot oven of 350 degrees F. for 45 minutes or until done.

One-half cup shortening, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1 egg, well beaten, 2 cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup New Orleans molasses, 1/2 cup hot water.

Cream shortening and brown sugar. Add egg and beat well. Combine dry ingredients. Combine molasses and water. Add flour mixture, alternately with molasses mixture, a small amount at a time and beat after each addition. Pour batter over raisins and apples.

When done, invert on individual serving dishes and serve warm or cold, with or without whipped evaporated milk.

PROTECT RUGS

Make your precious rugs last longer by using protection cups under the legs of your heaviest furniture. If marking has already occurred, try steaming gently with a hot iron over a damp cloth. After the pile has been "brought up" with the steaming, brush the fibres gently in the direction the pile seems naturally to lay.

Here's Simple Way To Figure "Best Buys" In Rationed Canned Foods

WASHINGTON—There are many ways of figuring out which canned foods are the best "buys" in points. But, in case you want a formula that won't involve too much mathematics, here you are. To find out, for example, which would be cheaper in point value, a No. 2 or No. 2 1/2 can of cherries try this: A No. 2 can of cherries weighs 21 ounces and is worth 14 points. The 2 1/2 can weighs 30 ounces and costs 21 points. Find the point price of an ounce for each can and compare them. Obviously the one worth the fewest points per ounce is cheaper in proportion.

This is how it works: Divide 14 (point cost of a No. 2 can) by 21 (number of ounces). This comes to .66 points per ounce in a No. 2 can.

Then divide 21 (point price of a No. 2 1/2 can) by 30 (number of ounces in No. 2 1/2 can). This comes to .70 points per ounce in a No. 2 1/2 can.

Therefore it is relatively cheaper in point value to buy the smaller can, which only costs .66 points per

LAUNDRY

Better take care of that iron and ironing cord. Looks as though laundries may start simplifying their services in localities where manpower is short. Already in some cities it takes two or three weeks to get back a clean shirt from the laundry. Now, officials feel that the next step may be that laundry will come back damp, ready to be ironed. Shirts may be exempted from this since it's not every little housewife who can wrestle with collars and cuffs.

Roman soldiers wore heavy hobnailed sandals during their campaigns.

DRIVE OUT BOWEL WORMS

Roundworms can cause real trouble inside you or your child! Watch for warning signs: fidgeting, "icky" appetite, itchy nose or seat. If you even suspect roundworms, get Jayne's Vermifuge today! JAYNE'S is America's leading proprietary worm medicine; used by millions for over a century. Acts gently, yet drives out roundworms. Be sure you get JAYNE'S VERMIFUGE!

Kate Smith swaps stories with Mr. Angell of Erieau, Ont.

THE Thomas Angells of Erieau, Ont., have a son in Canada's Royal Air Force. One day they decided to make him a birthday cake.

Mr. Angell writes: "When my wife went to get her regular baking powder, it was minus. Then she remembered a can of Calumet put away. She tried it.

"When I came home that night she said, 'Tom, you just lift that cake. Feel how light it is!'"

"All the boys thought the cake was grand. Calumet will be in our cupboard from now on!"

"I KNOW just what you mean, Mr. Angell," Kate Smith writes back. "Because I've noticed myself how light-as-a-cloud all Calumet cakes feel.

"Of course the reason is Calumet's famous Double-Action. That's what makes every Calumet cake batter so extra fine and each cake so airy!"

"Here's a new meat-stretching recipe I've enjoyed a lot lately. Will you give it to Mrs. Angell with my regards? And lots of luck to you and your brave son."

CHAPTER XXII

ED-BRYAN, pilot friend of Jimmy Carr and Pat Friday, came to Pat on the quiet this morning about 10 o'clock.

"Miss Pat," said he, "I'm a little worried."

"Are you, Ed? Why?"

"Well, you know how it is. When it's going to be one whale of a big storm, everything's quiet and rosy for several hours just preceding."

"Oh . . . I see . . . Yes, Ed, it is awfully still. I—I haven't been in the weather office so I don't know what the barometer reading is, but anyway I think we—"

"I wasn't talking about the weather."

"No?"

"It may or may not storm, for the glider train flight. But I was talking about that Stuart dame."

"Oh, I see, Ed, has she acted up again?" Pat was mildly alarmed.

"No'm, she hasn't. That's just the trouble. I worry about her being so quiet."

"But—maybe she's just ashamed of herself."

Ed snorted. "Huhh!"

"Maybe we helped her see it our way. Jimmy's way. I mean."

"I been sticking close to her, under cover like. She stands around and smokes and stares off at nothing too much. It ain't healthy. For us."

"Ed, be nice to her. Invite her to lunch, and invite me and Jimmy too. Will you? We got out of all the reception committee doings, because we're planning the air train. But Jimmy and I have to eat somewhere!"

"You figure if she's with company she'll behave better?" Ed asked.

"Yes! Wouldn't you mop, too, just left alone? If you were in her shoes? And besides—Lorraine can't—she isn't real—like we think. Jimmy wouldn't have loved her."

Big Ed Bryan looked intently at Pat. His lips worked in and out in half-comic way. "Hmp!"

he grunted again. "You get me mixed up sometimes. Sounds like you're actually standing up for her!"

"I am, Ed."

"Why?"

She didn't answer that. But after a long pause she looked directly at him. Ed began nodding, and he spoke his new wisdom in low, respectful tone.

"Miss Pat, you been telling Stuart this was all impersonal with you. But it ain't, is it? It's so doggone personal it hurts!"

Pat murmured, "Yes, Ed."

"Truth is, you're sold on the captain, yourself."

Pat bit her lip, to keep it from trembling. "But you aren't going to say anything, are you?" she pleaded.

"Nope."

"You—you said you loved a girl. In Atlanta."

Ed nodded. His heavy-featured face was a dark study now.

"Then maybe you know how it is. Yes, I do love Jimmy Carr. I know it. And you know it now. Aiming—and Lorraine Stuart know it all along."

Again Ed nodded. "She would, Miss Pat," said he, softly. "She don't miss many tricks."

"But it—it's still impersonal. All of this I can tend strictly to business. And if Lorraine is—"

"You could fight back," Ed suggested. "You're pretty as she is. Prettier. And smarter. You could take and—"

"No."

ED paused, considering her. "Hmmm," he sounded.

"Jimmy chose Lorraine. He loves her, he loves her very devotedly I'm sure. If I love him myself, then my cue is to help him find happiness. Ed. Not confuse him. Not make him do something he'd probably regret a little later. It sounds nice, I suppose, to say a girl had a right to go out and fight for her man. And believe me, that's what I'd like to do. But Ed—I don't love him that way. I love him more. More! Don't you understand?"

She had become a little vehement with it. Ed blinked, avoiding her eyes.

"Yes'm," said he, in his southern manner. "I reckon I do understand what you say. But do you know one thing? You could be mistaken."

Pat waited, and finally asked, "How do you mean, Ed?"

Ed smiled, kindly. "I have been around. Police work. Detective. Before I had taken to flying airplanes for Uncle Sam. And, Miss Pat, a feller doing that learns to read behind people's eyes."

"Behind people's eyes?"

"Yep." He was rocking on his heels now, a little. "Now you take you—come right out clean and admitted how you felt. And I respect that. I'll hold it sacred between us, see. But the captain, he ain't like you."

"How do you mean? Isn't Jimmy—he's as honest as he can be?"

"Oh, honest! Sure he is. He's so honest with everybody that it sometimes hurts. With everybody, that is, but himself."

"Ed, what do you mean?"

Ed sighed heavily. "Now you take a fellow like him—he gets wrapped up in flying, and being an Army captain, and he sort of forces his personal life down, ma'am. He don't give it enough thought. He figures everything centers around winning this war."

"Well—well, of course, Ed!"

"Yes'm. But you know one thing? If I was you I wouldn't give up."

"The big man and the small girl looked at each other intently for several seconds. Finally Pat felt her chin begin to tremble, and a mistiness came into her eyes."

Ed turned away, almost self-consciously. "I'll go git him and Miss Stuart and meet you here by lunchtime," he said. "Yes'm."

Pat watched him go. He walked heavily. There was something solid and friendly and good about Ed Bryan. He held an odd sort of wisdom, she knew.

"Maybe I ought to listen to him!" something sang within her.

"Maybe Jimmy and I—Jimmy and I—maybe Jimmy really could be made to—"

Her eyes were bright again, and the chin had stopped shaking. For almost 10 minutes she stood there thinking of a great many things. Of Lorraine, and Jimmy, and herself. Of trivial words, which might have carried deep import if she could have read them properly.

"After all, he really did call me back from Elmira! Made Ed bring me to Phoenix. Had me be the flight passenger again. . . . And he—he's been so very nice, at every turn. He had some candy for me once, too. And he—teases me, but never Lorraine. Maybe he—"

The singing within her had become a symphony now. That old nebulous hope, which she had stifled, was rising again persistent and strong.

Adirondack championship. He made the most out of the hand shown today, when one of his opponents slipped just a little.

While North had good support in diamonds, he wisely bid two clubs. This filled the hole in Behm's hand and allowed him to get into a game contract in no trumps.

West opened the deuce of hearts, which South won with the ten. A low diamond was played to dummy's jack. East discarded a heart.

The queen of spades was led from dummy. East covered and South won with the ace.

A small diamond was played to the queen, then the nine of spades was played, which East won with the jack. A heart was returned.

East cashed the rest of the diamonds. South discarded the jack of clubs on the last diamond. Now he cashed two spades, and West was squeezed. He could not hold the king and queen of clubs and also the king of hearts. Six was made.

If East had played a club instead of a heart when he won the spade trick, West would not have been squeezed.

Tax Collector Now See Hands Of Labor

DENVER—(AP)—Lester W. Law, cashier at the department of internal revenue, says a great change has come over American hands in one year. Law is so busy he sees, usually, only the hands of the person who shows his income tax payment through the bars of his window.

"Up to this year those hands have been soft hands, washed hands, limp hands, manicured hands," says Law.

"This year they were different. They were grimy hands, soiled, horny and with oil and grease in the knuckles. Frequently there was a finger or two missing, or a big bump or with a gash across the knuckles."

"They were the hands of labor."

Close Shave Leaves Barber Speechless

SEATTLE—(P)—For once, a barber was speechless. A soldier-edited newspaper from a Pacific outpost told this story: At a dance for soldiers, Pvt. Tony (the barber) Lembo sought the young woman who had promised him the next dance. Finding her in conversation with another man, he slapped his rival on the back, and prepared to sweep onto the floor with the feminine charmer. Tony almost swooned when the other man turned around. It was Maj. Gen. Rapp Brush.

Japs Claim Raid On Allied Field

By The Associated Press
A Berlin broadcast heard Thursday by the Associated Press in New York quoted a Japanese headquarters announcement as saying that Japanese planes raided an Allied air field near Chittagong, in Eastern India, Tuesday and set fire to four planes on the ground and destroyed 11 others. (A British communique reported Wednesday that enemy aircraft made a brief attack on an airfield in Southern Bengal, causing slight damage and a few casualties.)

Permits Needed To Slaughter Animals

Midland County farmers who slaughter meat for sale were urged Thursday to obtain slaughter permits before Thursday, April 1. Individual permits will be issued by the County USDA War Board at the Midland AAA office, W. E. Pigg, board chairman, said.

Under the new meat management program announced recently by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, any person who slaughters animals for the delivery of meat must, in all instances, obtain a permit to slaughter. Farmers who slaughter animals only for home use need not obtain permits, but a permit is required if they deliver any of the meat to others. All slaughterers also must keep complete records of all livestock slaughtered.

Pigg said that anyone who buys and sells cattle, hogs and sheep and keeps them for less than 30 days is considered a dealer and is required to obtain a permit from the county war board. He also is required to keep a complete record of his livestock purchases and sales, including the date he bought meat animals, their weight, the prices paid for them, to whom he sold them, and the price received. Farmers are not required to obtain dealer permits but they are asked to keep records of their purchases and sales.

Training Camp Briefs

By The Associated Press

CAPE GIRARDEAU, MO.—Battery problems plaguing Manager Luke Sewell of the Browns appear to be solving themselves with the imminent arrival of Catcher Frankie Hayes and Wednesday's performance by Brown pitchers, who tossed them hard enough to show their rapid approach to competitive form.

CAIRO, ILL.—Outfielder Harry Walker and Manager Billy Southworth of the St. Louis Cardinals came to terms via telephone Wednesday, splitting the difference in salary demands.

FRENCH LICK, IND.—The Chicago White Sox have had only one batting drill, but Manager Jimmy Dykes already is so enthused he's named the first three men in the batting order —Rookie Outfielder Thurman Tucker, who batted .345 for Fort Worth, followed by Outfielder Wally Moses and Second Baseman Don Kolloway.

BLOOMINGTON, IND.—Ray Starr, the Cincinnati Reds' rubber-armed pitcher, says of Bill Miller: "The muscle magician is supposed to be the most relaxed man in the world and he says all good hitters must be relaxed at all times. But I'd rather see him coming to bat with the bases loaded than that big Mize (Johnny) of the Giants."

EVANSVILLE, IND.—Pleased with the result of the Detroit Tigers' first intra-squad contest, Manager Steve O'Neill ordered more conditioning drills for Thursday to prepare the club for its opening exhibition game with the Chicago White Sox here Saturday. Rudy York and young Dick Wakefield were the batting stars of Wednesday's game, the former smashing a long homer and the latter a 380-foot triple.

LAFAYETTE, IND.—The Cleveland Indians had their first intra-squad game Wednesday, a team captained by Ken Keltner defeating a club led by Buddy Rosar, 7 to 1, in seven innings.

Today's Guest Star

Tommy Fitzgerald, Louisville Courier-Journal: "Judging from early reports via dog sled from the northern baseball camps, hip burns this spring won't come from sliding but from sitting on the clubhouse radiator."

Cardinals Return To Sandlot

War forces St. Louis Cardinals back to simple life where loose boards in fence save walking to the gate. Whitey Kurovski and Harry Gumbert lead world champions through hole and onto practice lot at Cairo, Illinois.

Shoes Are Biggest Worry For 6 Foot 8-Inch Pitcher For Cleveland Team

LAFAYETTE, IND.—(P)—Coach Burt Shotton, known affectionately among the Cleveland Indians as "Burt the Squirt" called out to the pitcher's mound: "Okay, Big Mike, that's enough for today."

Manager Lou Boudreau, struggling for a looping fly ball, made the catch and shouted: "Twice around the field Mike, and then you can go in."

Big Mike Nymick, all 6 feet 8 inches of him, steamed around the Purdue University baseball park in his 14-inch, size 17 shoes and then headed for the field house.

"I'm really in a spot," Nymick said. "I ordered three pairs of specially built baseball shoes. Now they don't know whether they can fill the bill. I've only got this pair and another torn-up pair down at Baltimore, and I may have to make them last."

Baseball Big Shot
The biggest man in baseball—until the Washington Senators came with 7 foot Dick Ahrens, also a pitcher—Nymick thinks that a bad wrist which impeded his speed ball delivery the last two years at Indianapolis, Wilkes-Barre and Baltimore, is all right now. "I tried to get in the Marines three years ago," Nymick grunted as he tugged off his huge shoes. "The fellow filled out my papers before he took a look at me and then waved me away. 'Six-six is our limit, Mike,' he told me. And my draft board has called me up two times, but they told me if I were fighting on foreign soil and wore out my shoes I'd just be out of luck. I told them I could fight a Jap or a Nazi as well as anyone else but they won't take me."

Famous Firsts
The Yankees claim that they're setting a baseball record by having the first spring training camp where the players wear hats and overcoats in the hotel lobby . . . and since the oil ran out, Joe McCarthy has stopped boasting about his nifty penthouse suite with a view of the ocean . . . But they'll have to go a long way to equal the opening of the White Sox camp. When Mrs. Grace Comiskey, the club's boss, arrived just after a flood, she demanded a glass-bottom boat so she could see the practice field.

Unanswered Question
After reading in this column about the Newark, N. J., bowler who peevishly rolled a second ball while one pin still was tottering, Pvt. B. W. Slagle, base hospital, Daniel Field, Ga., writes: "I don't care how it was scored, what I want to know is did the pin boy throw the hot-head out on his ear for double-balling him?"

The New Del Monte, Calif., Navy Pre-Flight School will have varsity athletic teams in all sports, but will limit travel to a 250-mile radius . . . Lieut. Mitchell J. Championship Tilt To Be Played At Post Gym Friday
The 814th and the 486th Bombardier Training Squadrons of the Midland AAF Bombardier College will collide in the play-off finals of the enlisted men's basketball league Friday night at the Post Service Club gym.

The winner will be awarded the Col. John P. Kenny basketball title trophy. Both squadrons earned their way into the tournament finals with impressive triumphs registered last night at the Post Gym over the 491st and 83rd Air Base organizations.

The 814th, once again led by the sparkling exhibition of Pvt. Harvey Pierce who tossed 17 markers through the net, turned the tables on the "giant-killing" 491st by a margin of 41 to 36. Pvs. Ike Dubow and Bill Wallace turned in 11 and nine tallies respectively for the 491st.

Diminutive Pvt. Hogan totaled 14 points to lead the 486th victory over the 83rd by a 37 to 30 count. Staff Sgt. Bergin Tatum of the 83rd poured it on for a total of 19 points to lead his teammates in scoring.

Friday night's championship game will be called at 8:45 p.m. Arrangements are underway by the Physical Training Department and Special Services Officer Major Russell B. Brown to accommodate one of the largest turnouts of the season for the championship tilt.

Olmo is in good shape, having played a double-header in Puerto Rico every Sunday throughout the winter.

Olmo Establishes Traveling Record
BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y.—Luis Olmo, Brooklyn outfielder, establishes his club's first record of 1943 before he starts.

Olmo covered more mileage than any other Dodger to reach the training camp. Coming from Arco, Puerto Rico, he flew from San Juan to Miami, moved to New York by train, set out for Bear Mountain by ferry to Weehawken.

Grant's game of 234 gave him a three-game total of 639, the high score of the contest. Sgt. George Seybold had a series total of 606.
