A. E. F. In Tunisia

The folks at home have been worrying about our men in Tunisia. From such scanty news as we had received, a disappointing inference had begun to build itself, that American forces were not measuring up to the occasion—that time after time our men were being saved from mil-setsbacks because the British carried the burden.

There was in this no implication of lack of courage or devotion. But laymen — and a lot of military people — have been worrying lest the Americans just did not possess the necessary training for the task that had been handed them. If this was true of the early contingents in Africa — presumably the best prepared — we wondered what would happen in Europe when even greener troops had to face the flower of the Reich's veteran fighters.

Secretary of War Stimson, has gone far toward setting our minds at rest. * * * The Americans did not plough through to the coast and "close the trap" on Rommel, says Stimson, because that was not their assignment. A relatively small contingent of four divisions — three infantry and one armored — was ordered to hold a 100-mile flank, pressing the Germans sufficiently to divert as much Axis armor as they could, so that General Montgomery's British Eighth Army could plough through the Mareth line and up the coast.

It is the troops who break through and capture territory, materiel and prisoners, to whom the headlines go. But like the halfback who makes the touchdowns, their success depends upon the self-effacing coordinated efforts of linemen and of other backs whom nobody except a few skilled experts ever notice.

The Italians are frank for once, when they say that the British Eighth Army is the greatest fighting unit in the world today. It and the British First Army deserve all the credit they have been given for their work in North Africa.

If General Eisenhower decided to use his best, most experienced men for the break-through, and to assign greener troops for the equally vital but technically less difficult holding operations, then he was showing excellent judgment.

Our men are less veteran than the British, for one reason, because England was in the war more than two years before we were. If the Fates are kind, our men never will have time to acquire as long experience in this war as the British have already. But we needn't worry about them. They will do what is given them to do.

What, No Sprouts?

From England comes official word that the Brussels sprout has been condemned to an ignominious death, for the duration, as a non-essential vegetable and, moreover, as a saboteur which wastes both land and manpower. The acreage heretofore used by sprouts is to be devoted to cabbage "or other green stuff."

Henceforth when the British housewife wants some vegetable to cook until all the vitamins and mineral salts go down the sink in boiling water, she will be limited pretty closely to cabbage.

Don't let anybody tell you that this war is not going to modify democratic institutions. Any English cook, deprived of sprouts, knows what this world has come to.

Call 'Em Cobras

A letter writer who is up on his zoology objects to calling U-boats rattlesnakes. The rattler, he points out, is the gentleman among snakes because he warns before he strikes, and seldom attacks except in what he considers self-defense.

The cobra, on the contrary, goes out of his way to strike without warning, as U-boats do.

It is easy to understand why most submarine progress has been made by the Germans. More civilized people shoot sitting birds only with regret.

Placing Responsibility

There seems to be a tendency in certain quarters to place responsibility upon the State Department for plans to bar the press from the coming United Nations Food Conference, and thereby to limit the public to what some "papa" thinks the kiddies can safely be told.

This is wrong. Whether the idea be as bad as we think, or perfectly proper, it is not the State Department's. It is the not the Office of War Information's. It is the President's.

Tokyo Warns Of Further Bombing Raids On Japan

By The Associated Press
Tokyo sounded a new alarm Thursday with the assertion that the United States was "making all kinds of preparations" to bomb Japan again, while in Washington Senator Chandler (D-Ky) of the Senate military committee warned that the Pacific conflict may continue for many years.

"It is suicide, in my opinion, to permit the Japs time to dig in in the South Pacific," Chandler asserted. Tokyo's forecast of a new American bombing assault on Japan came in a domestic broadcast, intercepted by U. S. government monitors, putting Japanese air-raid warnings on the alert.

"A raid similar to that of April 18 last year will be carried out," the broadcast said. Other developments: Australia — Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced that Dutch — manned U. S. planes bombed and machine-gunned two Japanese ships in the Arafura Sea. Other Allied fliers attacked the enemy in New Guinea, New Ireland and New Britain, and a single U. S. Flying Fortress fought off seven Japanese fighters and returned to base undamaged.

Burma — British headquarters said Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell's forces beat off a series of Japanese infiltration thrusts on the Anakan front, along the Bay of Bengal.

One enemy vessel, identified by Western Desert Air Force observers as a landing craft, was sunk in an aerial sweep over the Gulf of Tunis and three others, two of which were believed to be gasoline carriers, were left afloat.

Mateur Reported Threatened
(The German communique, broadcast by the Berlin radio and reported by The Associated Press, said that a superior Allied tank formation which had succeeded in breaking into German positions northeast of Medjez-El-Bab was intercepted by reserves and thrown back to its initial positions, with heavy losses.)

Fighting northeast of Medjez-El-Bab, where British troops have been threatening to break out on the Tunis plain, has been heavy and fierce, the Allied bulletin announced. The Allied forces were reported to have made some advance Wednesday, when the Germans launched the two strong counterattacks.

The Algiers radio said Thursday morning that the Allies now were threatening Mateur, a vital railway and highway junction. The Algiers radio has not always, however, been absolutely accurate in its announcements.

Voicing confidence in the patriotism of the miners, Mr. Roosevelt said he is sure they will return to their jobs when they realize the effect that stopping work would have on men at the fighting front. He gave no hint as to what action he would take if the miners do not meet his Saturday morning deadline. He has the power, however, to order government seizure and operation of the mines.

Senator Connally (D-Tex) declared meanwhile that Congress face the question of whether "a dictator" in the person of John L. Lewis should be permitted to "override the constitutional authority of government."

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of takpints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pain, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

City To Grant Tax Discounts

Citizens of Midland can effect a savings in their municipal taxes again this year by prompt payment. The City Council, by unanimous vote, Wednesday evening authorized discounts for payment of taxes in October, November and December. Payment of current taxes in October will entitle tax payers to a three per cent discount; payment in November to two per cent, and payment in December to one per cent. The system has proved an incentive for prompt payment of taxes and the council decided to continue it. Tax bills will be less this fall as the municipal tax rate has been reduced from $1.20 to $1 per $100 valuation.

Better Keep Your Pooch Under Control

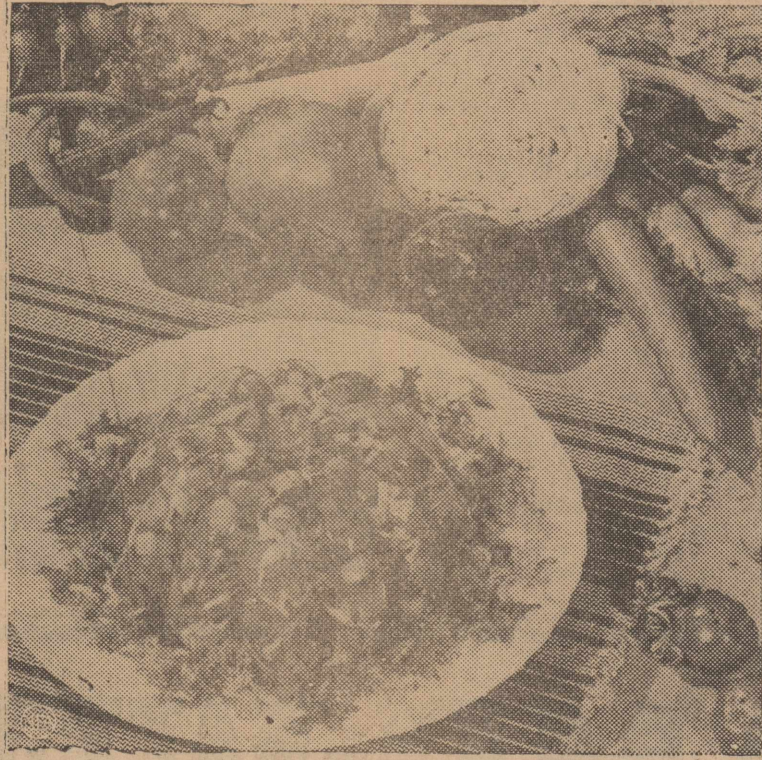

The City Council Wednesday evening authorized employment of a dog catcher and ordered enforcement of the dog ordinance. Complaints of damage to Victory gardens by dogs have reached all members of the council and they agreed that a dog catcher should be employed as quickly as possible. Now the task is to find a man who will be interested in the job. Applicants should see Police Chief Jack Ellington or City Secretary J. C. Hudman.

Salaries Of City Employees Studied

Salaries of city employees, and expenses and problems of a number of municipal departments were studied by the City Council at its meeting Wednesday evening. Members of the council will confer with department heads within a few days to determine exactly what adjustments are necessary in expenses of the departments. They also plan to visit city departments and study the work of each in order that future needs can be determined. Meanwhile, a budget is being drafted for the municipality.

Waste Is Treason Even In War Kitchens

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox
NEA Staff Writer

Jellied left-over meat, fowl, or left-over raw or cooked vegetables make substantial luncheon and supper dishes. They present food the second time in a new guise and with different flavors. That is why these recipes are important in the war kitchen where waste is a form of domestic disloyalty.

Jellied Meat Loaf (serves 4-6)

One envelope plain unflavored gelatin, 1/4 cup cold water, 2 bouillon cubes, 1 1/2 cups boiling water (or 1 1/2 cups boiling clear stock), 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 cup chopped meat, 1/2 cup chopped celery (or 1/2 cup diced left-over vegetables, or 1/4 cup each chopped celery and shredded raw carrot).

Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve bouillon cubes in boiling water, or use boiling clear stock. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add lemon juice. Cool, and when mixture begins to thicken, fold in chopped meat and chopped celery (or left-over vegetables or chopped celery and shredded raw carrot).

Turn into 1-quart mold or loaf pan that has been rinsed out in cold water first. Chill. When firm, unmold onto salad greens and serve with real mayonnaise.

Jellied Vegetable Salad (serves 4-6)

One envelope plain unflavored gelatin, 1/4 cup cold water, 1 cup hot water or vegetable liquid, 1/4 cup mild vinegar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 or 2 tablespoons sugar, dash of pepper, 1 tablespoon finely minced onion, 1 1/2 cups diced or shredded vegetables, cooked or raw.

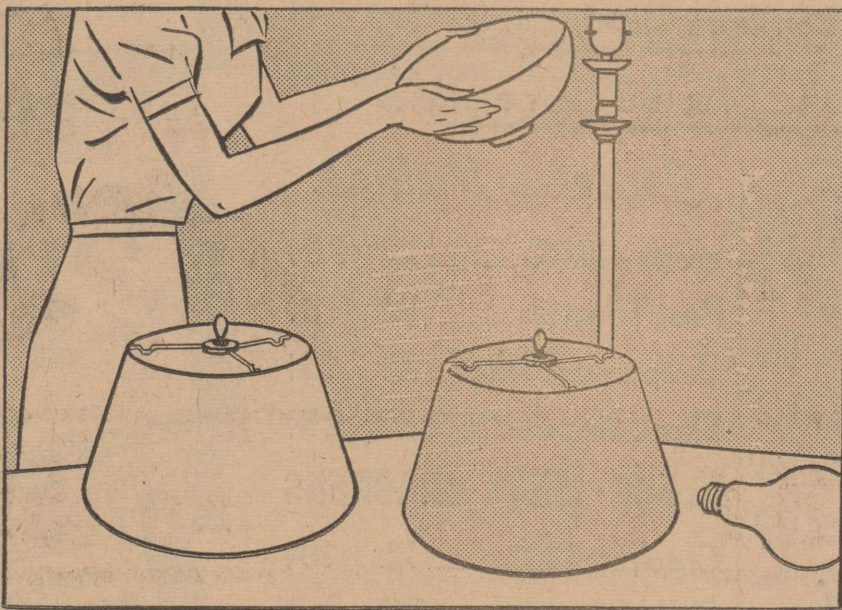

Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve in hot water or vegetable liquid. Add vinegar, lemon juice, salt, sugar, pepper and onion. Cool, and when mixture begins to thicken, fold in diced or shredded vegetables. Turn into molds that have been rinsed out in cold water first. Chill. When firm, unmold onto salad greens and serve with real mayonnaise or French dressing.

Tips on How to—

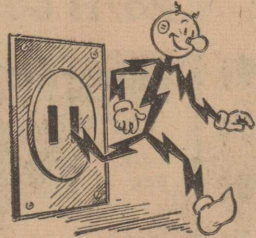

Improve Your Lighting

Replace Dark Shade Linings

You'll get better light if you replace lamp shades which have dark linings with shades having white or very light linings. You can reline the inside of dark parchment shades yourself, by rolling the shade around a large sheet of heavy white paper, and marking the outline. Trim and stick inside the shade with scotch tape.

Make Your Meat Go Far

New food combination for spring is this sweet potato hunk. When served with spares of corn and beef, cabbage wedges and bread, it makes a quick meal of low food points and

When spring whets appetites to a keen edge, sturdy "boiled" dinners and brown stews are the fare that's called for.

True to the times are dishes that extend meat and fresh vegetables, making old-fashioned-as-calloo combinations which everyone likes. If time is short, you can partly cook them the night before and finish simmering just before serving. Their leisurely cooking brings out the best in them.

Corned beef chunks between steaming wedges of cabbage, are delicious in a new combination with sweet potatoes. Good with them are squares of cornbread and a tossed green salad. And there's time left for spring sewing or gardening.

Try these spring combinations for good eating:

Corned Beef-Sweet Potato Dinner
4 pounds corned beef
Water
1 medium-sized cabbage
6 sweet potatoes
Cover corn beef with water and simmer 3 to 5 hours or until tender. Thirty minutes before the meat is done, add pared sweet potatoes. Fifteen minutes later, add quartered cabbage. When finished cooking, arrange on chop plate. Serves 6.

Corned Beef Casserole
6 cups cooked rice
2 cups chopped cooked corned beef
2 1/2 cups cooked tomatoes
1 cup water
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
Few grains pepper
Alternate layers of rice and corned beef in greased casserole. Combine tomatoes, water, onions, salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Pour over beef mixture; cover. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes. Serves 4.

Veal Stew
1 1/2 pounds veal breast, shank, flank, neck or shoulder
2 ounces salt pork
2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup cut celery
1 1/2 cups noodles
Cut salt pork in tiny pieces and fry in deep frying pan or pot roast kettle until crisp and brown. Cube veal and flour lightly. Brown pieces in the salt pork fat. When well browned, add salt and 2 cups water, and cover slowly. Cook very slowly for 1 1/2 hours. Add celery and noodles and continue to cook until noodles are tender. Serves 4.

Bacon Vegetable Chowder
4 slices bacon
1/4 cup onion, diced
1/2 cup raw potato cubes
1/2 cup sliced carrots
1 cup cooked tomatoes
1 bay leaf
2 cups water
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
Cut bacon into 1-inch lengths and brown with onion, potato and carrot for about 10 minutes in bottom of a soup kettle, stirring while browning. Add tomato, bay leaf and water. Cover and simmer about 25 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Blend flour and milk, add seasonings and combine with vegetables. Reheat and serve. Serves 4.

Make it your habit never to make an unkind remark about another girl or man. Be kind to everyone. Some people seem to be born with greater love for their fellow man than others, and as you possibly know "love attracts love." If people like you they will seek you, for yourself alone.

Send your problems to Betsy Beckham Bundy, who will advise on affairs of the heart.

Slapstick Musical Extravaganza Will Offer Plenty Of Laughs

A slapstick musical review at its best! That's the treat in store for personnel of the Midland AAF Bombardier School Friday night when Crazy Show, USO-Camp unit, plays two engagements at the bombardier school.

The title is the true goings-on at the show. Anything goes and the audience may expect to participate at any moment during the show. Crazy Show will feature an all-star cast of dancers, singers and comedians.

Arken and Roberts, the boy and girl jitterbug dance team, are really rollicking in rhythm; Vivian Frances, the attractive acrobatic tapster, stops the show with her flash routines; and Lee Bartell, a real belle of the blues, is an exotic looking young thrush who puts over a song like a veteran, and particularly her very strong arrangements of "St. Louis Blues" and "Joseph, Joseph."

Non-Fiction Books Released At Library

Mrs. Rosita Hollar, Midland County librarian, has announced that several non-fiction books and a fiction book, "Fifth Seal" by Aldanov, are ready for release at the library. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Trigg, who have spent the last three months in Midland, left Wednesday for Waco, where Mr. Trigg, who is a U. S. engineer, has been transferred. They plan to stop at Childress to visit with Mrs. Trigg's mother.

Mrs. J. Homer Epley left Thursday for Atlanta where she will visit her son, Lt. Van B. Mitchel, and Mrs. Mitchel. From Atlanta she expects to go to Chattanooga, Tenn., where she will visit her sister, Mrs. J. O. Wallace.

SERIAL STORY

DARK JUNGLES

BY JOHN C. FLEMING & LOIS EBY

COPYRIGHT, 1943, NEA SERVICE, INC.

LILA'S PLOT

CHAPTER XXII
SUNSET was bathing the estancia clearing in a crimson mist when Lila, Barry and Renaldo came out of the jungle.

Barry's hand closed on Lila's arm. "Technicolor, uh?" he whispered. He stood watching the brilliant scene and Renaldo paused beside him.

"It's what gets you about jungle country," Barry said. "You never know what mad whim nature will be throwing next."

"No," Renaldo smiled. "You only know it will be sudden—and vigorous."

They moved on finally, and crossed the clearing. Allison greeted them from the veranda. In the sunset glow, she was a misty vision in her full-skirted evening gown of sheerest tulle.

"We're having a party!" cried Allison gaily. "A party?" said Barry. "What for?"

"It's Renaldo's birthday." Allison sent the Spaniard a mischievous smile. "Cook told me. She said father always had her bake a cake for him. So we're having one tonight."

The handsome Renaldo for once lost his savoir faire. He stuttered in his confusion. "You—you shouldn't have gone to that trouble!" But he was pleased.

"It's been a rather strenuous day," Lila began with controlled anger. "Couldn't we postpone—"

Renaldo looked sharply disappointed. Allison cried, "Oh, you can't postpone a birthday party!"

And Barry chimed in, "I think it'll be jolly."

Lila swept in to her room. If it weren't that she wanted Barry even more than she wanted to get her hands on that yellow-haired vixen! she thought savagely.

A shower took away some of the fatigue from her aching body, but she was still in no humor for a party.

It didn't help her mood, either, to have Allison offer to lend her an evening gown to make a change from the one she had been wearing each night.

"This will do nicely," she murmured, slipping the dark satin over her head. But she seethed furiously as she snapped it up and fastened her diamond clips at her ears and breast.

She was sick of the dress—almost as sick of it as she was of this place. Something must happen soon. She couldn't carry on this ridiculous masquerade much longer—not even for Barry Fielding.

If he thought more of this awful country and this blonde than he did of her, she would be glad to see him go.

But she went out to the living room looking tall and regal and serene.

SLIM, dark Renaldo, in spotless whites, was a handsome gallant, and Barry, with his broad shoulders, his clean-cut features, his engaging grin, looked the spirit of conviviality.

Over the shining, hand-hewn mahogany table they toasted Renaldo, the candlelight gleaming on their copper cups of wine.

"I wish for you many, many happy years on the plantation," Allison cried.

Renaldo's black eyes held a sudden gleam as they met Allison's across the table. His voice was low, vibrant with tense questioning.

"May I hope the same for you?" he said.

Barry glanced sharply at the girl. She ignored the significant tone and went on smiling warmly and blithely at Renaldo.

"Thank you," she murmured. "It's not exactly the way you welcomed me, is it, Barry?"

"It is not," said Barry. And the three of them laughed with deep amusement.

"In fact," Barry added, grinning, "Renaldo and I had a pact to get you on the next boat back."

"It wasn't nice of you," Allison declared. "I don't like trickery."

"Neither do I," said Barry with sudden fervor. Allison's eyes met Lila's for the briefest instant, their laughter definitely mocking.

respectful distance from the Big House for a glimpse of the gala scene.

Barry smiled across at Lila. "With company like this, darling," he cried, "it won't matter if the quicksilver mines keep us down here for years!"

"No!" Lila echoed with a sharp laugh. She turned to Renaldo. "When will the chicle be ready to send to the coast?" she asked.

RENALDO turned to her, a gleam of proud satisfaction in his dark eyes. "In about three days," he said. "Then we shall begin packing the mules." Drawn out on the subject by her sudden show of interest, he began a description of the process of sending chicle to the States.

He strolled with her out onto the veranda still deep in his subject. When he had finished, he lit his pipe.

"Fascinating, isn't it?" he said. Lila blew a wreath of smoke and answered steadily. "No. It's completely boring to me."

The Spaniard stared at her till his lighted match burned his fingers. She regarded him with cynical humor, as she burst out in sudden venom. "I hate the whole stupid business! I hate this miserable excuse for existence down here!"

"Then why," Renaldo asked, "do you stay here?"

"Because Barry won't go home," she said. "And I won't go without him."

Renaldo's black eyes sharpened. "You're afraid of his attacks of fever perhaps?" he said softly.

She met his gaze for a long minute. Then she said bluntly, "I am afraid of Allison Topping."

With a glow of satisfaction she saw apprehension leap into the Spaniard's eyes. "I thought you might help me get Barry back to the States," she said quietly.

She felt easier. She had not misjudged the handsome Renaldo. He was in love with Allison. He would give a great deal to be rid of Barry at this moment.

"But Barry is determined to complete the mine negotiations with the Quiches," he frowned. "If the Quiches proved—too unfriendly," Lila murmured cryptically, "because of his first encounter with them, Barry would see he was only hurting the company's cause, and would go back with me."

"But I don't believe they will," Renaldo's low voice objected.

"Then surely—he could be given a strong impression of unfriendliness..." Her black eyes held the Spaniard hypnotically as she murmured on.

America's Card Authority
Can you see any problem in making three no trump on today's hand?

Several pairs of experts failed to make it in a recent good duplicate game.

For some reason, the experts evidently figured that West held a five-card club suit and was false-carding when he opened the deuce of clubs. They held off the club until the third round, decided that the heart suit would not break, and took the diamond finesse. As a result, they lost three clubs, a diamond and the ace of spades. Why take the unnecessary diamond finesse until you find out whether or not the heart suit will break? The safe play is to win the third club, then lead a small spade trick.

Of course East will return a club, but now if the heart suit breaks, you make five heart tricks, two diamonds, a club and a spade—nine tricks.

Once again I cannot help but say, count your tricks and the squeeze plays and end-plays will take care of themselves.

CLEVELAND —(P)—An AFL strike Thursday tied up Cleveland's mass transportation system, forcing uncounted thousands of war workers to thumb rides from friendly motorists or to walk to their jobs.

Not a street car or city bus could be seen on busy public square during the morning rush hour as the City Transit System's riders—averaging 1,315,000 fares daily—pulled their frequently-idle automobiles from garages and created traffic jams reminiscent of pre-rationing days.

This year they all bloomed at once and the bee-power problem is terrific.

Louisville Mixes Baseball Jargon With Derby Talk

LOUISVILLE—(AP)—The baseball bug busted into the conversation on racing in general and the derby in particular.

Just what a baseball bug was doing in the middle of all the street-packed hotel lobby and stream-courser horse hysteria in Derbyville Thursday will have to remain a major mystery.

"That Count Fleet," one reasoned, "is just like the Yankees used to be in their batting practices before a world series. The Count's a real fine horse, and everybody else in the race knows it. The Yankees were murderers' row in those days, a few years back, and every team they tangled with knew it."

"But when they took their cuts during batting practice, they always made sure the fellows on the other side were watching them. Then they put on their show. Every guy would step up and belt that apple out of the lot. By the time they finished, the other guys were shuddering."

Hi! The Bulls-Eye

The guy just about hit the bulls-eye. There are going to be nine or ten other horses in the $75,000 scramble Saturday, but only one of them has ever beaten the Count in the 17 starts of his career. This was Gold Show last summer, and that was regarded as an accident.

Generally the second-money complex still was all over the place as Louisville began to get dressed for its big party, despite the wartime atmosphere.

Meantime, the stables of all Derby candidates reported "present and accounted for" at the dawn patrol Thursday, although two—Twosies and Bankrupt—still were on the doubtful list, and one other—Burnt Cork—was given the ha-ha.

Manuel Ortiz Wins Over Lupe Cordoza

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Manuel Ortiz, the little brown symphony from El Centro, still was world's bantam-weight king Thursday and you won't hear even a feeble protest from the corner of one Lupe Cordoza.

Lupe tried Manny again here Wednesday night and if he wasn't convinced the first time they met, when Cordoza lost because of a badly cut eye, he would be a very recalcitrant young fellow if he didn't admit it Thursday.

The California Mexican climbed on Cordoza from the opening bell and knocked him out in one minute and seven seconds of the sixth round.

Congressmen Warn Pacific War May Go On For Years Unless More Help Is Sent To Area

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Fresh warnings from lawmakers that the Pacific war may continue many more years—or "forever"—sparked a new attempt Thursday to prod Congress toward action bolstering American striking power against the Japanese.

While Chairman Reynolds (D-NC) of the Senate military committee observed that a tightening Nipponese grip on conquered islands is "extremely grave," Senator Chandler (D-Ky) broadcast an appeal to citizens to "use your influence with your representatives in government to make them in some way aware of the danger which the country faces from the Pacific."

Reynolds declared that the Japanese digging-in process is "making a Tokyo of every island they've captured."

"I have no criticism of the Army or Navy," he said, "and I depend upon the general staff to run the war. But we're not going to get firmly entrenched Japs out of those islands by bombing alone. It will take men, planes and ships."

In a radio broadcast Wednesday night, Chandler expressed fear that both government and military leaders failed to recognize "the seriousness of the Japanese menace."

"It is suicide, in my opinion," he said, "to permit the Japs time to dig in in the South Pacific."

Midland May Get New Air Line

The possibility of Midland actively participating in a vast expansion of postwar aviation feeder air lines service was forecast in the April 15 issue of American Aviation.

The magazine described plans of the Civil Aeronautics Authority to link the country with feeder lines totaling approximately 67,000 miles.

Included in a group of applications now being studied by the CAA, American Aviation said, is the application of the Wichita Falls Air Transport Company for establishment of an air line through Wichita Falls from Midland to Oklahoma City, serving five other Texas and Oklahoma cities.

The application was filed with the Civil Aeronautics Authority prior to the war by Fletcher Armstrong, owner of the Wichita Falls Air Transport Company and for years a leading advocate of aviation expansion in North Texas.

The need long has been felt, Armstrong explained, for feeder air line service for West Texas and North Texas to connect communities with the great trans-continental routes.

Eight Acquitted Of Charges At Abilene

ABILENE — (AP) — After deliberating 20 minutes a federal district court jury Wednesday acquitted eight men on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the construction of Avenger Field at Sweetwater.

Those exonerated were Joe B. Plosser, Charles A. Prince, A. E. Herbeck, all of Sweetwater; A. E. Leavere, Charles A. Campbell and N. K. Marshall, all of Los Angeles; Elton Taylor of Big Spring, and E. T. Nelson of Los Angeles.

Victor J. Nelson and Robert Young, who had pleaded guilty and who testified for the government, were fined $2,500 and $500 respectively. Each was given a year in which to pay his fine. Both men are Los Angeles residents.

Colonel Blair Named Commander At Kelly

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — Lieut. Col. Paul S. Blair, 42, operations officer at Kelly Field since January, 1941, has been named commandant of the field, it was announced Thursday. He succeeds Lieut. Col. A. G. Greig, who was killed Saturday when his plane crashed near the field.

Four Photographers Killed During Filming Of Picture Now At Yucca

Four photographers died, seven were wounded and six captured in order that the motion picture "Desert Victory," a sensational record of the battle of Africa, might be made.

The film which shows Rommel's rout by Montgomery's British Eighth Army, was taken during the historic 80-day, 1,400-mile battle while the fighting was hottest. This moving record of General Montgomery's famed "Desert Rats" unfolds its thrilling story starting Thursday at the Yucca Theater.

Critics who have seen the picture, a 20th Century-Fox release, describe it as the finest full length war picture ever made. Complete in every detail, it shows the progress of the battle-scarred veterans from the time they left the El Alamein line until they marched triumphantly into Tripoli.

"Desert Victory" is a factual yet inspiring day-by-day account of the entire 1,400 mile campaign across the desert—the campaign that cracked Rommel's once proud Afrika Korps.

Labeling Rayburn the "chief apologist for the bungling policies of the Washington bureaucrats and of the labor coddling policy of the administration," Smith in a statement Wednesday said:

"Rayburn's indirect praise of organized labor's war effort by minimizing the mass disloyalty displayed by the striking unions leads one to believe that he flirts with the vice presidency."

Rayburn, said Smith, "makes coquettish glances at the 11,000,000 labor votes even while more than 500,000 of them bear the brand of disloyalty to our armed and fighting forces by reason of their participation in war strikes."

Lieutenant Governor Scores Rayburn Talk

AUSTIN — The people of Texas have become aroused over "the government's pursuit of a mild and trucking policy toward striking labor" Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith asserted in criticizing the address by speaker of the national House Sam Rayburn before the Texas Legislature.

Labeling Rayburn the "chief apologist for the bungling policies of the Washington bureaucrats and of the labor coddling policy of the administration," Smith in a statement Wednesday said:

"Rayburn's indirect praise of organized labor's war effort by minimizing the mass disloyalty displayed by the striking unions leads one to believe that he flirts with the vice presidency."

Rayburn, said Smith, "makes coquettish glances at the 11,000,000 labor votes even while more than 500,000 of them bear the brand of disloyalty to our armed and fighting forces by reason of their participation in war strikes."

Germans In Tunisia Dosed With Pamphlets

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA — (AP) — German troops in Tunisia are being showered with pamphlets citing captured Nazi documents asserting Field Marshal Erwin Rommel and his staff left Africa several weeks ago, it was announced Thursday.

The pamphlets tell the Germans they have been left behind to die and call on them to take this "last chance" of saving their lives by surrendering.

Wool Men To Discuss New Purchase Program

KERRVILLE — (AP) — Texas ranchmen, warehouse operators, wool dealers, and others associated with the production of wool will have Friday to discuss the government's wool purchase program, in effect since midnight last Saturday.

The meeting was called by Horace Fawcett of Del Rio, president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, for all persons interested in wool production. It will begin at 10 a.m.

Japs Building Large Airfields In China

CHUNGKING — (AP) — The Japanese are building a new naval base and two large airfields in China, a spokesman for the Chinese army told a press conference Thursday.

The invaders, alarmed at the increasing menace to their shipping by Allied submarines, he said, have begun construction of a naval base at a recently-occupied island northeast of Foochow. He said that the Japanese were using Q-boats—ships disguised as fishing trawlers and ready for quick action against unsuspecting prey.

RETAIL SALES UP
AUSTIN — (AP) — Texas independent retail stores boosted their sales three per cent in March over February and 22 per cent above March, 1942, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research said.

Immigration into Panama has been made more difficult by a recent decree increasing residence and in-transit fees.

American P-40 Pilots Dropping Heavy Bombs

U. S. FIGHTER BASE, NORTH-EASTERN INDIA — (AP) — American pilots, flying P-40 fighter planes, have been plastering Japanese targets in Burma with 1,000-pound bombs—500 pounds heavier than any bombs ever carried before in P-40s.

Col. John E. Barr, 34, of San Antonio, Texas, the group executive officer, conceived the idea and proved it workable.

French Groups Will Attend Food Session
