Five Men Killed In Crash Near Here

Victims From Midland Base

Five airmen of the Midland Bombarrier School were killed about 3:40 p. m., Friday in the crash of a two-motored bomber on the Wolcott Ranch about 40 miles north of the Midland Army Air Field, the Public Relations Office at the Bombarrier School announced Saturday.

All members of the crew of the B-34 plane were killed in the accident. The ship burned, Army authorities said. It was on a routine flight.

A board of officers has been appointed to investigate the crash. The dead:

Capt. Samuel S. Revis of Midland, who is survived by his wife, Mrs. Orinne Revis, 1310 Ohio Street.

Flight Officer Samuel W. Thomas, son of Mrs. Maude B. Thomas of Post, Texas. His widow, Mrs. Beth Ann Thomas, resides in Odessa.

Flight Officer Robert L. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lee Williams, Paragould, Ark.

Pvt. Donald T. Beaulieu, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Beaulieu, St. Cloud, Minn.

Pvt. Wayne Maki, 21, son of Mrs. Emma Maki, Ironwood, Mich.

Funeral services for Captain Revis will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at Trinity Episcopal Church, with Chaplain C. C. Dollar officiating. The body will be forwarded by the Barrow Funeral Home to Tucson, Ariz., for burial.

Huge U. S. Force Hammers France

LONDON —(AP)— The greatest fleet of American heavy bombers ever sent out from Britain hammered Nazi-occupied France with a triple daylight assault late Saturday afternoon in a thundering windup to the most devastating week-long bombardment of Europe.

Returning airmen reported the bombardiers scored bullseye hits on the targets with 2,000-pound block-busters.

Flying Fortresses smashed through swarms of enemy planes to blast the U-boat base at St. Nazaire and military targets at Rennes while unescorted Liberators pounded the submarine base at La Pallice.

A communique issued jointly by Eighth U. S. Air Force headquarters and the British Air Ministry said 13 bombers were lost in the three-way assault.

The unescorted Liberators made a roundtrip of more than 600 miles to blast La Pallice, which is 310 miles below the Southern English coast on the Bay of Biscay near La Rochelle.

Rennes and St. Nazaire, the Flying Fortresses targets, lie 190 and 250 miles, respectively, south of England on the Brittany peninsula.

Clearing the way for this widespread attack, American, RAF, Dominion and other Allied fighters swept the coast of Northern France in swift strikes at advanced bases of the German air force.

It was the first outing for the four-engined heavyweights of the 8th U. S. Air Force since the raid on Emdein and Wilhelmshaven May 21, when they lost 12 bombers and downed 74 enemy planes.

Saturday's loss of 13 bombers was the second largest ever suffered by the American heavies.

Heavier Raids Promised

The newest sledge-hammer blows at Hitler's European fortress came at the end of an unprecedented week in which the RAF alone dumped nearly 5,000 tons of explosives on Germany's industrial Ruhr Valley, winding up the first year since its original 1,000-plane raid on Cologne, May 30, 1942.

Even this mounting record of devastation heaped upon Germany and Italy alike from England and North Africa was described as only "chickened" by Air Marshal Sir Arthur T. Harris, chief of the RAF bomber command, who declared that the "day is coming very quickly" when the American Air Force will be fighting with staggering power.

Italy Given Warning

The RAF rocked the Ruhr Valley, heart of the German war machine, with six of the war's heaviest blows during May, passing the 100,000-ton mark in the total weight of explosives hurled on Europe from the air since the war began.

Warning Italy to be prepared for the shock of heavier and more frequent aerial assaults on her mainland which will draw the present batterings of her outer bastion, Lord Sherwood, undersecretary for air, disclosed that 12,000 RAF crewmen took part in the recent Dortmund and Duesseldorf raids alone.

In a speech at Dumfries, Scotland, he predicted that as many as 36,000 crewmen eventually will participate in a single weeks raids on Germany.

Quarter Of A Million Americans Have Died In America's Seven Wars

By The Associated Press

A quarter of a million Americans have died on the battlefields and sea fronts of the seven wars in which this nation has been engaged.

A tally on this Memorial Day shows that the nation's battle dead total 13,641 in the current conflict. Latest reports of the Army account for 6,318. Navy casualty lists have reported 5,644 sailor dead, 1,601 Marines and 78 Coast Guardsmen.

A compilation by the National Geographic Society shows that three-fourths of all the men killed in battles to date died in the Civil War, 110,070 Union men and 74,524 Confederate soldiers.

The World War took 50,510 American lives in combat, the revolutionary War 4,044 men, the Mexican War 1,721 men, while 1,877 died in the War of 1812.

The lightest loss of life was in the Spanish-American War, 700,

Italian Mainland Is Blasted By Americans

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA —(P)— Fleets of Flying Fortresses and Liberators spread the pattern of ruin to new areas of the Italian mainland Friday and strong forces of lesser aircraft, pursued their relentless campaign to knock out the island-based air defenses of the exposed peninsula.

Almost 100 Fortresses, spanning the greatest distance yet in their offensive against Italy from North Africa, bombed the submarine base, shipbuilding center and industrial port of Leghorn, 160 miles north of Rome and left a great cloud of smoke wreathing the docks, ship-

(A Rome broadcast said King Victorio Emanuele visited the hardest hit quarters in Leghorn Saturday morning and also "betook himself afterward to a hospital where he stopped by the beds of the wounded.")

This was the first raid of the war against the home town of Count Galeazzo Ciano, former Italian foreign minister.

In a companion assault, a score of more of Liberators from the Middle East Air Force, flying in two waves, dropped 80 tons of bombs on the air base at Foggia, 80 miles east of Naples.

London sources said large units of the shore-bound Italian fleet may have been stationed at Leghorn, and observers said the attack was a timely demonstration of the vulnerability of the Italian fleet which apparently does not have a single refuge not exposed to Allied bombs.

Fleet Unprotected

(The fleet presumably was being held in reserve by Mussolini for the day when the Allies may begin an invasion. But already the RAF from British home bases has bombed the naval base of Spezia, only about 40 miles north of Leghorn. The blow at Leghorn, 450 miles from Tunis, showed that probably all Italy now is open to Allied air assault.)

Three supply ships were hit, but huge figures which spread thick clouds of billowing smoke so effectively blotted out the scene from the observers after a few minutes that no accurate report of the damage was immediately possible.

Leghorn is the home of the Ansaldo shipyards where many of Italy's submarines were built.

The Liberators which attacked Foggia, near the Adriatic side of the peninsula, claimed direct hits on several hangars at that important air base, and the destruction or damaging of at least 13 bombers on the ground.

One of the most effective raids on Sicily also was carried out by the RAF's big bombers from the desert which heaped new destruction on Augusta's oil installations and railway station.

American Marauders, Mitchells, Lightnings and Warhawks continued to keep Sicilian and Sardinian airfields under a cover of bombs.

Great Sea Battle May Be Imminent

LONDON —(AP)— London newspapers speculated in lively fashion Saturday on the prospects of European invasion, with one saying that "The greatest naval operation in history is imminent," while the Rome radio lugubriously declared that "Now the enemy has chosen Pantelleria, Sicily and Sardinia as his objectives."

The Italian broadcast, recorded by The Associated Press, expressed conviction that Italy was marked for an invasion attempt soon.

"All British and American war material at present is constantly flowing toward the Mediterranean area. The enemy has no alternative," it declared, adding that "it was contemplated" that a Russian attack in the Caucasus would be timed to coincide "with the Anglo-American offensive."

A military commentator of the Rome radio asserted that the invasion of Italy would be attempted with "thousands of barges full of Marines under an enormous air umbrella," but declared that even if the Allies succeeded in gaining an initial toe-hold, "they would soon come up against such a formidable force that they would soon be thrown back once more."

Invasion Barges Prepared

The naval correspondent of The London News Chronicle declared flatly "The greatest naval operation in history is imminent. It will be a landing of an Allied army on the continent of Europe. The navy is ready."

"Boat builders all over the country have for many months been constructing a great number of invasion barges," he continued, "America already has built many thousands of similar craft. The construction of millions more tons of small naval craft is under way."

In the Balkans, one possible invasion route, the Germans reported that "German, Croatian and Italian army formations are successfully fighting partisans in the Herzegovinan Mountains in bitter and bloody engagements."

Italian Fleet Believed Being Prepared For Developments

WASHINGTON —(P)— Failure of the Italian fleet even to defend the reopening of Allied communications lines through the Mediterranean aroused speculation Saturday over the possibility that the fleet might be employed at Hitler's direction to battle any Allied invasion thrust across the Mediterranean into Europe. Properly fought, the fleet could offer considerable resistance to a British-French-American invasion armada.

Two possible uses of the fleet, which may include as many as seven or eight battleships, were considered in informed quarters:

1. If the German high command has effective control of the force with its own officers in key spots, it might be employed at Hitler's direction to battle any Allied invasion thrust across the Mediterranean into Europe. Properly fought, the fleet could offer considerable resistance to a British-French-American invasion armada.

2. If Italians still have effective control of their navy, they may be holding it not so much for its fighting power as for its value as a force with which to bargain in case the Italians decide to try to make terms with the Allies.

Authorities here said that a battle probably would inspire the Italian officers and men to put forth more prodigious efforts in conflict than they have yet shown.

The exact makeup of the Italian naval force is a matter of speculation but there may be seven, at the outside eight, battleships capable of action.

In addition to their capital ships, the Italians are estimated to have about ten cruisers, 90 destroyers and 70 submarines.

Japanese Cargo Ship Is Bombed

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA —(P)— A Japanese cargo ship and six barges were bombed in the Banda Sea Friday, the high command announced.

Off Hansa Bay, New Guinea, a bomber scored two near misses, which often are damaging, in an attack on a 5,000-ton Japanese transport.

Liberators ranged a thousand miles west to Lombok, near Bali, as the Allies conducted the greatest number of sorties yet undertaken in the sector northwest of Australia.

Airdrome Bombed

The attack in the Banda Sea occurred off Boeroe Island. The cargo ship, of 1,000 tons, was towing the barges. Five hundred pound bombs fell damagingly near the boats and the entire flotilla was strafed.

On Dutch New Guinea, Timika's airdrome was bombed, the waterfront was raided at Nabire and aircraft were damaged on the ground at Babo.

GIRL FATALLY BURNED

DALLAS —(P)— Three-year-old Mary Ann Burnett, of Dallas, was burned fatally Saturday at the home of relatives at Kemp, Kaufman County.

Memorial Service Will Be Held At Cemetery Sunday

Services paying tribute to the veterans of past wars will be held Sunday at 6 p. m. at Fairview Cemetery by the Woods W. Lynch post, American Legion, Graves of the 78 veterans will be decorated with small American flags.

The ceremony will be conducted at the graveside of the first Midland man to lose his life in World War I, and the Midland Texas Defense Guard company will supply a firing squad and bugler for the service. Legion Post, Chairman C. W. Kerr will conduct the service.

Midland members of the Texas State Guard are requested to meet at the courthouse at 5:45 p. m., when they will go to the cemetery for the service. Legionnaires are urged to be at the cemetery at that time.

Merchants Urged To Display Flags Sunday

Midland merchants are urged by the Woods W. Lynch post, American Legion, to display their flags Sunday, Memorial Day, in tribute to the dead of this and other wars.

Flags flown from flag poles should be set at half mast until noon and at full mast from noon until dusk.

War Bulletins

LONDON —(AP)— Italian broadcasts recorded in London reflected rising tension over Allied invasion plans. One broadcast declared "the enemy intends to invade Italy with thousands of barges full of Marines under an enormous air umbrella."

CHUNGKING —(AP)— Japanese troops with aerial support have renewed their attack in Central Hup-hing Province, and "severe fighting is proceeding along the entire line," a Chinese high command communique announced Saturday. The Japanese attack was launched Friday morning "following adjustment of our central positions" in this region where the Japanese are striking in the direction of Chungking.

A U. S. BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND—(AP)— Flying Fortresses from this station laid a pattern of bombs on the St. Nazaire U-boat base Saturday, concentrating on lock gates of the basin into which newly-constructed submarines are launched.

Black Market Evils

There has been a surfeit of loose talk about the evils of those black markets which have grown up under rationing and price ceilings. Much of it has been on a highly moral plane, intended to appeal to our better nature. It has failed, at least partially, because the reasoning has gone over the heads of a people retained from infancy to assume that what they want they can buy, provided they have the money—and that it is nobody else's business what they choose to pay for it.

Also, the term "black market" has been used as an epithet without any generally understood limitations. Stealthily slaughtered, uninspected, sometimes tubercular beef is "black market." So is beef or any other commodity in excess of ration limitations. A retailer who sells an article half-a-cent above the ceiling price, because he paid the full retail ceiling in order to get his own supply, is a "black marketer."

All of these things are illegal, ethically wrong, and dangerous to the nation's welfare. They result in unfair distribution of inadequate supplies. They contribute to inflation.

Now—that's off our chest. Why else should we refuse to patronize the black market, aside from danger to our health and that of the community?

Because in so doing we are sabotaging our sons, brothers, husbands and friends in the armed forces—not in any vague, general, theoretical way, but directly and physically.

When meat is slaughtered illegally for the black market there are lost great quantities of strategic by-products which our men in the field need badly.

These include the raw materials for sutures, used in drawing together the edges of a wound; adrenalin, used to check hemorrhage and as a hypodermic injection to check pressure and stimulate the heart; insulin, necessary to diabetics; gelatin for military photographic film; hides for leather; rendering fats, from which glycerine for explosives could have been made; and tankage, fertilizer and bone meal needed to produce food crops for us, our allies and our fighting men.

Every person who, by purchasing illegally slaughtered meat, encourages this activity, contributes to sabotaging the war effort just as directly as though he helped to sink ships bringing industrial raw materials, drugs and food stuff from foreign ports.

Rubber Tires Bill

The so-called Rubber Tires Bill, introduced by Senator Ellender of Louisiana on behalf of himself and six other solons, is not very dramatic in its humdrum legal phrasing, but it is well worth reading beyond its innocuous formal description as "A bill to provide for the effective inspection, conservation, and distribution of motor-vehicle tires, and for other purposes."

That bill-drafting bromide "and for other purposes" usually is just an insurance clause, to make certain that slovenly titling shall not defeat the legislative intent. In this case, however, it is the heart, soul and body of the bill.

The "other purpose"—actually, the sole purpose for which the bill was drafted—is to drive all tire manufacturers, gasoline refiners, automobile makers and chain stores out of the tire selling and repairing business, under penalty of $5000 fine, a year in prison, or both.

The bill would direct the rubber administrator to provide that periodical inspections of tires shall be made "only by independent tire dealers"; that new, rebuilt, retreaded and recapped tires, and all casings and tubes and camelback for recapping and retreading, can be sold and delivered "only by and through independent tire dealers."

The rubber director is instructed to buy or requisition all repair, recapping and retreading equipment he finds in the shop of anybody who is not an "independent tire dealer" if, in his opinion, it is not needed to serve the area in which it is located.

The bill defines "independent tire dealer" with meticulous care, by inclusion and by exclusion so that there can be no misunderstanding.

The term applies only to dealers substantially all of whose business consists of selling or servicing "but not manufacturing" tires; automobiles or automotive equipment, selling gasoline and oil, or repairing, recapping or retreading tires.

This would specifically bar stores owned by tire manufacturers or oil companies or automotive manufacturers. It would bar chain stores except those confined to automotive business.

It would bar scores of thousands of country stores with gasoline pumps and tire service sidelines, which are the only agencies available to perhaps millions who live in rural areas.

The only exception made is in the case of mail order retailers and farm-co-operatives which were in the business before June 1, 1942.

The bill is, of course, the newest version of the drive against chain stores, and must stand or fall on that basis. Its sponsors include, besides Senator Ellender, Senators Capper of Kansas, Maloney of Connecticut, Mead of New York, Murray of Montana, Stewart of Tennessee and Taft of Ohio.

Day of Remembering

THIS day we set a sacred wreath
On our heroic dead;
How richly from their dust beneath
Have we inherited!

Courage and honor, faith and pride
They gave, and gallant youth,
To leave the land for which they died
Victorious in truth.

Let us fulfill the promise made
In all we act and plan;
Never forget the price they paid—
Pearl Harbor, Wake, Bataan!

Their blood enriched the Solomons,
Reddened the Coral Sea,
So that their sons and their sons' sons
Might stand forever free.

This sky beneath whose dream they sleep,
This land their faith kept pure,
With equal faith and love we keep
Unspotted and secure.

By these broad acres let us swear,
By our brave golden dead,
To rid the world of want and fear,
To give men breath and bread.

By these green hills our fathers trod,
These valleys they adored,
O let us lift our songs to God,
For freedom's flashing sword!

By Liberty's eternal star
We pledge our soldier slain,
By all we have and all we are
They have not died in vain.

This day from all days set apart,
This solemn day of days,
When pride and grief within the heart
Contend with prayer and praise—

This day in this grim year of grace,
Beyond all days and years,
Finds us undaunted as we face
The darkness and its fears.

They dared the worst, our valiant dead;
We cannot compromise,
But follow where their valor led,
Redeem their sacrifice.

Until the peace their courage made,
The peace they could not see,
Completes their victory.

From dreams that blazed, hopes that burned
Their glory and our sorrow—
Build them the monument they earned:
The better world tomorrow!

Private Advances To Commandant Of Cadets

SAN ANGELO—(AP)—You've heard the story about the messenger boy who entered Washington's fabulous Pentagon building and came out three weeks later a lieutenant colonel. Goodfellow Field, Army Air Forces basic flying school, has a better one because it is true.

Japs Make Claims Of Superior Battleship

By The Associated Press
The Berlin radio, broadcasting a report from Tokyo, said Saturday that Japanese newspapers were giving front page display to pictures of a new battleship.

"Foreign naval experts, after having seen the pictures, declared the new Japanese battleship was doubtless superior to United States battleships of the Iowa type," according to the broadcast-report recorded by The Associated Press.

New Plan For Allied Cooperation Proposed

LONDON—(AP)—Advocates of closer cooperation with Soviet Russia Saturday urged that the Allies begin building immediately upon a new foundation of inter-Allied understanding which they said that Joseph Stalin had provided in a letter explaining the dissolution of the Comintern.

Stalin's letter was sent to Harold King, Reuters Moscow correspondent, in answer to King's query as to the Soviet view of the order's effect on international relations.

In his reply Stalin saw "our immediate results: the organization of a common onslaught against Hitlerism; the exposure as a lie the oft-repeated Nazi charge that Russia sought to 'bolshelize' the world and also that Communists within the labor movements in countries in the United Nations bloc are working against the war effort; clearance of the way to future organization of a companionship of nations based upon their equality."

Nazis May Use Plan Of Cautious Defense

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A strategy of cautious defense, aimed at exhausting the Allies before they can achieve a decisive victory, was put forward Saturday as Germany's only hope to avoid unconditional surrender—but with the belief expressed that the German high command is psychologically incapable of such a war.

Writing in the authoritative and semi-official Infantry Journal, Dr. Herbert Rosinski, native of Germany and a former civilian expert on the German naval staff, advanced both suggestions in an analysis of German strategy since the beginning of the war.

Butter Price To Be Reduced Five Cents Per Pound

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Breasting a tide of criticism over the handling of food problems, the Office of Price Administration announced Saturday night its subsidy on butter will go into effect next Tuesday at the rate of 5 cents a pound.

Retail prices beginning June 10 will reflect the cut, which amounts to about 10 per cent, OPA said, explaining the lag between the subsidy payments and the cut in retail prices is due to the fact that the subsidy will apply only to newly-produced butter.

At the same time, OPA said the promised 10 per cent subsidy rollback in meat and coffee prices will follow shortly. It was understood from other sources that the meat program probably will be announced in a week or 10 days.

OPA's announcement came as criticism in Congress and out, of the handling of food problems and prices raised the prospect that James F. Byrnes, the new war mobilization director, will have to cope with it quickly.

Among the things Byrnes likely will settle are:

1. The extent to which subsidies may be used.
2. Whether food matters should be concentrated under the Agriculture Department or whether all price-fixing that affects farm products should remain a joint question for OPA and Food Administrator Chester C. Davis.

OPA officials said the "rollback" program has been approved by Byrnes, and that it is assured of going ahead in spite of opposition from some congressional sources and Davis.

Coal Negotiations Dropped For Weekend

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Soft coal operators and the United Mine Workers suspended their negotiations Saturday night for the weekend, leaving unanswered the question of extending the truce in the industry which expires next Monday midnight.

Most observers felt that as long as collective bargaining continued on the portal-to-portal (underground travel) pay issue there would be no interruption of work.

Dallas Man Is Named Veterans' Commander

Allies Have Superior Power In Pacific Area

AUCKLAND, NEW ZEALAND—(AP)—The Allies have superiority in forces of all classes in the South Pacific, Rear Admiral T. S. Wilkinson, deputy commander, told a press conference Saturday.

He said the campaign against the Japanese is "going well."

Eisenhower Says Allies Are Ready For More Battles

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said in a broadcast Saturday night that his team of American, British and French forces was ready for any further task and was determined to fight in concert with other Allied forces until "we shall have brought the last army of Germany, Italy and Japan to its inevitable Tunisia."

He ridiculed German propaganda efforts aimed at splitting the Allies as "snarls and whimpers of helpless rage."

"This team is bound together by indestructible devotion to a common cause," the Allied commander in North Africa said in a British program called "All Africa Calling Europe."

"We have wilted the enemy's morale, for in this theater one of the best and proudest of his armies has been utterly destroyed," the American chief of staff said.

This he described as one of the intangible but "transcendently important" results of the African triumph.

"The most important intangible," he said, was the high degree of proficiency gained in Allied teamwork.

"This demonstration of unity on the battlefield of unity in adversity as well as in victory, is sorely puzzling the Axis today," General Eisenhower said. "Our solidarity terrified them because they had complacently counted on divided counsels and inter-family quarrels that have been characteristic of Allied campaigns of former wars."

Redistribution Of Populations Urged

HOT SPRINGS, Va.—(AP)—Redistribution of populations through organized emigration was proposed Saturday by the French delegation to the United Nations food conference as one of three vital measures necessary to achieve a sound world economy after the war.

The other two basic measures of postwar reconstruction were described by delegation chairman Herve Alphand as:

1. A policy of full employment in the great industrial nations.
2. A credit policy planned to foster reconstruction of ruined economies and the development of backward regions.

Post-War Building Boom Is Predicted

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A post-war building boom was predicted Saturday by the Commerce Department.

Western Lea County Pool Opened By Maljamar Outpost

HOBBES, N. M.—Opening of a new area three miles southeast of the Maljamar pool in Western Lea County and staking of a wildcat test three miles west of the West Eunice pool in the same county headed off activity this week in Southeast New Mexico.

The new wildcat is Skelly Oil Company No. 1-T State, C SE section 10-21s-34e. Cellar and pits have been dug at the proposed 4,000-foot test.

Maljamar Oil & Gas Company No. 2 Cheesman, C NW NW section 22-18s-32e, assured Western Lea a new productive spot when it logged broken shows of oil in lime from 4,648 to 4,675 feet. It is drilling below 4,710 feet in line, carrying 1,500 feet of oil in the hole.

Now testing the Tubb horizon: of the Permian after finding all lower horizons barren. R. Olsen Oil Company of Oklahoma City and Atlantic Refining Company No. 1 Langle (Justis), deep wildcat east of Jal in Southeastern Lea, is swabbing one barrel of fluid hourly, of which part is oil and the rest sediment and drilling water. Zone being tested is from 4,900 to 4,990 feet, through 120 gun-perforations in 7-inch casing. A 1,000 gallon acid treatment has been given the Tubb zone. The well located in the C SE SE section 11-25s-37e, went to total depth of 9,592 feet in granite and has been tested from the bottom upward.

New locations include Johnny Coekburn No. 17-B Pearl Miller C NW SW section 25-17s-32e, in the Maljamar pool of Lea; The Texas Company No. 3-B W. H. Rhodes, C NE SE section 28-26s-37e, in the Rhodes pool of extreme Southeastern Lea; John H. Fiedel No. 2 Crier, C NW SE section 30-16s-31e, in the Square Lake pool of Eddy County, and Premier Petroleum Corporation No. 1-F Parks, C NE SW section 3-17s-30e, also in the Square Lake pool.

In the Grayburg-Jackson pool of Eddy, Grayburg Oil Company No. 2-B Keely, C SE SW section 24-17s-29e, flowed 338 barrels of oil per day through 2-inch tubing swung at 2,858 feet after acidizing with 4,000 gallons in pay lime from 2,920 to 2,985 feet, the total depth. Oil tested 38.3 gravity.

Although geographically part of North America, Atsu actually is in the eastern hemisphere.

Increased Refinery Output Recommended

AUSTIN—(AP)—Authorization of increased refinery output was recommended Saturday to forestall further gasoline shortages, characterized by Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson said that he had been informed there is "no gasoline for sale in quantities anywhere in the mid-continent area."

Geologists Hear Dr. Krynine Talk At Meeting Here

Sixty members of the West Texas Geological Society attended a meeting Friday night in the county courtroom at which Dr. Paul D. Krynine, assistant professor of petrology and sedimentation at the Pennsylvania State College, spoke on "Diastrophism and the Evolution of Sedimentary Rocks." He was introduced by Fred Wilcox, president of the society.

Dr. Krynine demonstrated his thesis Saturday morning in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer, employing a series of thin-sections of oil sands of several of the larger United States fields.

According to Dr. Krynine, the mode of formation of the earth's crust depends upon the interplay of physical and chemical processes which control respectively the appearance (texture) and the composition (mineralogy) of each rock type.

These processes have been fairly well understood for igneous (intrusive and volcanic) rocks. In the realm of sedimentary rocks, which cover 70 per cent of the surface of the continents, however, only the physical (textural) factors have been so far properly built into a coherent scheme.

By the use of lantern slides, he showed that during the successive diastrophic (tectonic and orogenic) stages which follow each other during the life history of a continent two sets of conditions are likely to control the character of the sedimentary rocks formed during each stage.

The tectonic and geomorphic processes which shape the successive stages of the development of a landmass also control on a broad regional scale the sediments related to each diastrophic stage. Such differentiation is most easily studied in medium-grained clastics (sandstones).

These processes operate: (1) directly by controlling both relief and topography within source area and basin of deposition; and also by controlling depth and intensity of metamorphism and igneous activity which shape the material to be brought into the region of erosion; and (2) indirectly by influencing climate through topography.

The following tectonic stages and their corresponding "sandstones" seem to be well defined in the central part of the Appalachian Trough, and their counterparts appear also to be present in the Alpine, Himalayan regions and other geosynclinal regions, including in parts the Gulf Coast and West Coast.

Penetration (or early geosynclinal) stages: Cyclic deposition on fluctuating flat surface after much weathering, characterized by highly stable minerals (quartz, tourmaline, zircon) which form first cycle quartzites and quartzose sandstones.

Post-geosynclinal orogenic stage: Uplift (frequently by faulting) after folding and magmatic intrusion of geosyncline. Typical sediments: arkoses and similar first-cycle, fresh clastics from deep-seated high-rank sources characterized by feldspar and other unstable minerals.

Local Complications: These types may be complicated locally by large scale glaciation or volcanism. The orogenic stage is much less well marked or may even be entirely absent on stable continental platforms and regions of epicontinental deposition.

As a result of this concept, a logical classification of sediments is evolved. This classification, similar in appearance to the accepted classification of igneous rocks, also is somewhat similar to the periodic table of elements, since it shows the periodic recurrence, during different physical and chemical stages, of similar textural or mineralogical types.

In the practical field the petrographic differences between the so-called "old" oil fields (Pennsylvania and Oklahoma) and "young" oil fields (California and the Gulf Coast) may be put on a scientific rather than an empirical basis, with later possibilities of a more methodical control of exploration and production work.

During his visit to the Permian Basin, Dr. Krynine was escorted to Permian outcrops in the Guadalupe Mountains of Southeast New Mexico by Drs. Bruce Harlison of the Amerada Petroleum Corporation, R. V. Hollingsworth of the Shell Oil Company, Inc., and E. Russell Lloyd, consulting geologist. They visited Rocky Arroyo, Dark Canyon and Walnut Canyon, progressing to the mouth of the Carlisbad Caverns.

Eastern Winkler Deep Strike To Run Oil String

By Frank Gardner, Oil Editor. Stanolind Oil & Gas Company and Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 W. D. Blue estate, discovery well of the Wheeler-Ellenburger pool in extreme Eastern Winkler County, Saturday appeared to have penetrated to the water level and was circulating pending running of Schlumberger electrical log.

The name "Wheeler-Ellenburger" has been recommended to the Texas Railroad Commission by the field nomenclature committee of the West Texas Geological Society. The old Wheeler Ranch is a landmark in that part of the county.

Amon G. Carter No. C-2 Pure-J. B. Walton, opener of the Key-stone-Ordovician pool in North Central Winkler, cleaned up fishing job and now is repairing engine preparatory to drilling ahead below 9,600 feet in search of additional Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, pay.

Latest reports, by counties:

Andrews County: Union Oil Company of California No. 1 J. S. Biles, Northwestern Andrews wildcat 4 3/4 miles northwest of the Fullerton deep Permian pool, is drilling below 3,843 feet in anhydrite.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 36 University-Andrews, one-half mile south and east extension to the Embar-Permian pool of Southern Andrews, was reacidized with 2,000 gallons and flowed 116 barrels of clean oil in eight hours through 1 1/4-inch choke on a 2-inch tubing, with gas-oil ratio of 581-1. It is bottomed at 6,245 feet in Clear Fork, lower Permian, lime.

Seeking Ellenburger production in the Embar pool, Phillips No. 39 University-Andrews is drilling at 7,895 feet in Ellenburger dolomite topped at 7,710 feet, and the firm's No. 34 University-Andrews has passed 6,485 feet in Permian lime.

Skelly Oil Company No. 1-K University, Southern Andrews deep wildcat, recovered 133 feet of mud-water with a sulphur odor when a one-hour drillstem test was run from 7,300-45 feet, and now is drilling ahead.

Humble Oil & Refining Company

No. 1 Crews & Mast, scheduled 8,500-foot wildcat three miles west and slightly north of the Means pool in Northern Andrews, is drilling at 3,665 feet in anhydrite.

A deep try in Northwestern Andrews, Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-20-38 B. B. Ralph estate, is drilling at 6,785 feet in lime.

Crane County: Magnolia No. 21 P. J. Lea, scheduled 8,000-foot Ordovician test on the southeast edge of the Sand Hills Permian pool of Western Crane, is drilling at 6,044 feet in lime.

Magnolia No. 2 D. K. Glenn, southwest offset to the discovery well of the McKee Ordovician pool in Southwestern Crane, is drilling lime past 4,100 feet.

Gaines County: Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 6 R. W. Robertson, proposed 8,500-foot test on the east side of the Seminole pool in Central Gaines, is drilling in lime at 4,950 feet.

Magnolia and Atlantic No. 1-459 Havemyer & Jenny, one-half mile south outpost to the one-well Russell deep Permian pool of North-western Gaines, is drilling plug from 8 5/8-inch casing cemented on bottom at 2,974 feet in anhydrite.

Howard County: W. S. Guthrie of Corsicana No. 1 Mrs. Pauline Allen, deep Permian discovery one mile northeast of Vincent in extreme Northeastern Howard, is on potential gage. On last test it pumped 7 1/2 barrels of oil hourly without lowering fluid. The well is bottomed at 4,096 feet in Clear Fork lime and has been acidized in pay zone from 4,028-91 feet.

Pecos County: Plans to acidize with 2,000 gallons at 5,400 feet in Culbertson & Irwin, Inc., of Midland No. 1 R. G. Heiner, five-eighths of a mile southwest outpost to the Heiner Ellenburger pool in Northern Pecos, were scrapped and the well is drilling ahead at 5,445 feet in dolomite. It will be taken to 5,500 feet before acid is administered. The well topped the Ellenburger at 5,029 feet.

107 feet high to the discovery. Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 1 Douglas Oil Company et al, Ordovician test on the west flank of the Yates shallow Permian pool in Eastern Pecos, is shut down for engine repairs at 8,383 feet in fossiliferous lime and shale of the Simpson, middle Ordovician.

Phillips No. 1 Adams C. Price, the Permian Basin's deepest active wildcat, is drilling at 11,334 feet in black shale. It is in the southeast central part of the county, 29 miles southeast of Fort Stockton.

Reagan County: Humble No. 1-B Sawyer Cattle Company of Texas, deep wildcat 12 miles east of Stiles in East Central Reagan, is drilling at 9,625 feet in broken lime and shale. It presumably still is in the Strawn, lower Pennsylvanian, topped at 9,330 feet.

In the Barnhart Ellenburger pool of extreme Southeastern Reagan, Amerada No. 1-RQ University is drilling at 9,075 feet in dolomite; its No. 1 University unit is preparing to run 5 1/2-inch casing at 9,139 feet in dolomite, and its No. 1 M. C. Johnson has drilled to 6,469 feet in shale. Skelly No. 1-L University, in the same pool, is drilling below 7,500 feet in shale and lime.

Ward County: Shell No. 3 Sealy-Smith Foundation, Ellenburger test in the Monahans pool of Northeastern Ward, is drilling in lower Pennsylvanian lime at 7,243 feet.

Winkler County: Stanolind and Shell No. 1 Blue, Wheeler-Ellenburger pool opener, is circulating, bottomed at 10,678 feet in dolomite. Operators plan to run 6 1/2-inch casing, then probably will set and cement 5 1/2-inch casing. Core from 10,662-72 feet returned three feet of brown, crystalline dolomite with fine fracturing, staining of dead oil and a strong sulphur odor. Four feet more of core was cut but has not yet been pulled. Ellenburger was topped at 10,493 feet.

Beth Carter, WAAC

BATTLE STATION CHAPTER XVIII

OVER her meal, Beth assigned new duties. He took from his pocket the American forces' tactical plan.

"Our problem in tactics was worked out long ago," he said. "Yes, I know."

"The problem now is one of logistics. You're right about every man helping—even the chaplain'll be out there, encouraging the men. We've got to get employments fixed in a hurry—more employments, than we had yesterday by a whole lot. This island has only two defenses from an air attack: anti-aircraft artillery and barrage balloons. We don't have a fighter plane, or, for that matter, an airplane of any sort here. They'll be here in time, but not in time to save us unless we figure out a way to survive the blasting we're undoubtedly going to get sometime soon."

"Can guns and balloons win for us?" Beth asked. "I don't know what Washington has to say on that subject, but I think they can. Look what they did for London and a hundred other English cities! If they're good enough for a Britain battered by hundreds of raiders in a single night, we ought to be able to figure out a way to make them good enough for us against a raid of perhaps 20 planes."

"What do you want me to do, Beth?"

"Just this: I want you to stay in headquarters, right on the end of that field telephone. You know what the tactical plan is. You may have to wait hours, but when the proper moment comes, I'll be depending on you to give the order that will put everything we have into the fight. Do you think you can do that?"

"It's a tremendous responsibility," Beth said. "Everything will depend on you."

"I'll do my best," she said. "That will be enough."

SHE turned her head and looked past him at the concrete wall which was designed to protect headquarters against bombs. She knew that it was thick but she also knew that it was not thick enough to withstand a direct hit. It was up to the Coast Artillery to see that no direct hits came. This nerve center of a future American offensive in the Pacific must come through. It must continue its work toward the day when victory could be advanced with one mighty thrust at Japan's heart.

"Where will you be?" she asked. It was not a doubting question, or a critical one. It was simply that she wanted to know—for, whether he knew it or not, her heart would be with him.

He did not answer for a moment. Then he made the longest speech she had ever heard him make.

"Out here in the war zone everybody does what he can. I'm responsible for everything that goes on here. I can never delegate authority but I can never delegate responsibility."

"I'm going out and make my way from emplacement to emplacement, from foxhole to foxhole, from gun to gun, from balloon bed to balloon bed."

"If some place a man is needed right then to help lift a gun into place, I'm going to be that man. If somewhere else a man is needed to swing a pick or hoist a shovel for five minutes, I'm going to swing that pick or hoist that shovel. I'm going out there and do everything I can to make sure we are prepared the best we can be."

He left her. She did not mind his going, even though she wanted to talk to him. She knew how he felt. She had that feeling now, too. They were all one army, and whether they wrestled with training problems at Fort Des Moines or supply problems in Algiers or problems of bombs and bullets in some remote battleground like this, they were all fighting for the same cause and the same flag.

BETH finished her coffee. She smiled to herself. Then she said one sentence aloud, musing, "I won't let you down, Uncle," she promised.

She balanced herself on the crutches that had been given to her. The pain was still in her ankle but it was nullified by an excitement and an exhilaration in her soul. She went clumsily toward the major's office but no one noticed her clumsiness.

She sat down in Major Brit Jackson's chair, at his desk. She laid the tactical plan he had given her atop the desk. She pulled the field telephone close and then placed a test call over it. She was reassured by the knowledge that she was connected directly with the island switchboard, and that the phones from every major area on the island, were plugged in so that she could talk to all of them simultaneously.

She sat, at first tensely, then little by little relaxing. The hours passed. She did not want them to hasten by. She wanted every one to be long enough so that a mountain of work could be done. For it must be done.

Finally the message she was waiting for came.

Colonel Louis R. Dougherty, Now Prisoner Of Japs, Is Ranked Among Texas' Outstanding Heroes Of War

Among Texas' ranking heroes, now a prisoner of the Japanese, is Colonel Louis R. Dougherty, of Midland who was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for exceptionally meritorious service at Fort Stotsen, P. I.

The Field Artillery officers' medal was delivered to his son, Second Lt. William E. Dougherty, last December 3 at Fort Sill, Okla., as the colonel at that time was listed in War Department records merely as "missing in action on Bataan."

Colonel Dougherty, whose parents were General and Mrs. W. E. Dougherty, is a native of Texas. He was born at Calvert, Texas, January 14, 1894, but in Army records lists Midland as his home.

His wife resides here and for the duration is keeping open the home of her son, Lt. Dougherty, who was assistant chief geologist in the West Texas-New Mexico division of the Fumble Oil and Refining company here.

Lt. Dougherty, only child of Colonel and Mrs. Dougherty, enlisted in the Field Artillery here July 13, 1942, and was assigned to Fort Sill where his father trained. At that time his father was listed as missing in action, and the son hoped in some manner to be able to fill his shoes. He now is the intelligence officer of the Officer Candidate School at Fort Sill. His determination to serve his country in the best possible manner resulted in his advancement through the ranks to the station he now holds.

Mrs. Dougherty received word through the War Department last February that her husband was a prisoner of the Japanese and was being held on the island of Formosa. A message picked up by a listening post prior to that time said that he was well. She has in her possession a transcribed record of the messages. No further word has been received.

Attended West Point

Col. Dougherty had been in the Philippines since 1939 and was serving as commander of the Provisional Field Artillery Brigade, Philippine Division. He last visited in Midland in July, 1939, on his way to the Philippine Islands.

Col. Dougherty attended West Point, and in 1909 was appointed as a second lieutenant, Field Artillery, U. S. A. He has been in the service since that time. He is a graduate of the Battery Officers School, Fort Sill; Advanced Field Artillery Course, Fort Sill; Commanding General Staff School, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas; and of the Army War College, Washington, D. C.

His father, General Dougherty, retired from the U. S. Army in 1904 while commanding officer at Governor's Island. The General died in 1915.

Col. and Mrs. Dougherty, the former Miss Benton of San Antonio, were married in San Antonio January 31, 1912.

Served At Texas A And M

During World War I, Col. Dougherty was an instructor, serving as field instructor of artillery of the militia of Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa. He also served as an instructor at Battle Creek, Michigan. The colonel had his sailing orders with a regiment at Fort Knox, Kentucky, when the Armistice was signed.

Immediately following the war he spent three and a half years as an instructor at Texas A and M College, serving a part of the time as professor of military science and tactics. He has had several assignments with the 16th Field Artillery at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

An outstanding and capable Field Artillery officer whose daring deeds and outstanding leadership won for him much acclaim in the Pacific theatre of operations, Col. Dougherty has served at numerous posts in the Southwest and throughout the nation. Mrs. Dougherty said she would not attempt to even estimate the number of places in which she and the colonel have lived.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Board No. 12 in the final session of the Masters individual tournament was the subject of much discussion. What should be West's opening bid? Some very fine players opened the hand at one spade. At several tables, East responded with one no trump, and West then bid four spades.

At one or two tables they passed one spade and let West play it there. Only one or two players opened the bidding at two spades. Personally, I like the two-bid because it brings definite responses.

With two aces, the response is four no trump; with king-queen and a king, or three kings, the response is three no trump; with one ace, that ace is bid.

With a six-card spade suit, West has a right to feel that he will not lose more than two trump tricks. Of course, he could be off the heart finesse and off two diamond tricks. One pair actually made six spades on the hand, but had bid only one.

The opening bid lead was a heart, right into declarer's ace-queen. Declarer then cashed out the diamonds and ruffed a diamond. Next he led a small spade. South played the jack and the ace won. Now declarer led the ten of spades, and north made the mistake of putting on the king, dropping his partner's queen. The opponents made only one trump trick.

Organization Of New Government Unit Completed

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The government's new and powerful Office of War Mobilization headed by James F. Byrnes completed preliminary organization Saturday and is expected to hold its initial policy meeting with President Roosevelt the middle of next week.

This conference between the Chief Executive and the six-man economic high command is expected to canvass all factors reported to be impeding the fight against inflation and possibly outline some fresh control policies or revitalize current ones.

It will be the first of many meetings to be held from time to time in the White House cabinet room in a streamlining of the home front directive and administrative set-up.

The two top men in the new organization took the oath in separate White House ceremonies Saturday.

Under the previous law, Ford said, these sections had been held vague and indefinite by the high courts and the tightened provisions of the new law promises more successful prosecution.

Worst Of Flood On Mississippi Apparently Over

By The Associated Press THE crest of the mighty Mississippi rolled ponderously into the nation's southlands Saturday and apparently the worst of the flood was over.

Below Cairo, Ill., a much broader channel and more massive levees are expected to tame the unruly waters.

At Beardstown, Ill., the flooded Illinois stood several feet above the town's level of 29 feet. Levees still were holding the falling waters.

At Cape Girardeau, Mo., the Mississippi dropped to 41.6 feet, a nine-inch fall in 24 hours.

Still far out of its banks upstream, the Arkansas sent its 33.78 foot Pine Bluff, Ark., crest surging downstream between massive Mississippi River type levees which were expected to hold firmly. Previous record level was 33 feet, set in 1935.

At Beardstown, Ill., the flooded Illinois stood several feet above the town's level of 29 feet. Levees still were holding the falling waters.

The country war boards have been instructed to look around for machinery not being used now, or expected to be put into service this summer. Their findings will be submitted to state headquarters with recommendations for acquiring specific pieces and the state war board chairman then is to proceed with the purchase.

Owners will be paid ceiling prices or "fair appraisal" values if no ceilings have been established, and the equipment will be resold to farmers who need it.

NEWKIRK, Okla. —(AP)—When Frank Harpole, of Des Moines, returned to Newkirk after a 25-year absence, friends led him to a local cemetery to show him his own grave. Harpole left here in 1918 and a short time later a body found beside the railroad tracks was identified as his. He had not corresponded with friends here.

Dodgers Lose To Reds But Retain Shaky Loop Lead

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Lonnie Frey, who used to labor for the Brooklyn Dodgers without getting too many laughs out of it, had a great big chuckle at the expense of the Bums Saturday.

Now serving the Cincinnati Reds, the veteran second-sacker broke up a ball game Saturday by belling a single with the bases loaded in the 11th inning to give the Reds a 5 to 4 victory.

What made it especially funny for Frey — aside from the fact it nullified a ninth-inning three-run Brooklyn rally that tied the score — was that the defeat left the Dodgers with only a shaky half-game hold on first place in the National League. The win boosted the Reds into fourth place.

The score: R H E
 Brooklyn ... 000 010 003 00—4 9 0
 Cincinnati 000 130 000 01—5 11 0
 Newsom, Webber, Macon, and Owen; Start, Shoun and Mueller.

Sits This One Out

Whitey Kurowski, on the verge of grabbing Arky Vaughan's foul, in the second inning at Ebbets Field, skidded on soft turf and Cardinal third baseman missed what would have been an easy out. Walker Cooper couldn't get there in time. Neither could the Red Birds in nine innings as Ruben Melton of the Dodgers shackled champs, 5-2.

Sports Bomber

Sports Standings:
 It's still the 2052nd Ordnance company on top is the enlisted men's softball league standings. However, they lost their unblemished record this week when the Mess Company turned in the upset of the week. . . . The 491st is in second place with seven wins and two losses followed by the flashy-clad 83rd Base Headquarters with six wins and three losses. The batting averages run high this week because they are based upon the two games played since the league reorganized. . . . Gallagher of the Mess company and Olson of the 951st Guard Squadron are hitting at a 750 clip. . . . Barclay of the MP's and Cassalino of the 83rd Bombardier Training Group are tied for second with 667 percent. There were only two home runs credited this week, indicating the excellent fielding play of the league. Henry of the 83rd Base Headquarters and Willoughby of the Mess company each have a circuit clout to their record.

Looking Ahead
 Lt. Marvin S. Keen, director of the physical training at the bombardier college, is planning to stage a tennis tourney for the officers and enlisted men in the near future. The remaining two tennis courts are being resurfaced with asphalt and will be in playing condition soon. The best cadet close-order drill team will be awarded a gold-medal on the last Saturday before graduation when the drill will be staged. Gold medals will also be presented to the cadet showing the finest physical fitness and to the student bombardier showing the best time in the mile run each week. Also winners in boxing, wrestling and track events.

Sports Briefs:
 Gas masks are now being used by enlisted men in physical training drill and in double-time running. Cadets have used them in drill calisthenics and the officers will soon start wearing their masks while exercising. Cadets are now being given boxing and wrestling lessons under expert instructors.

Personalities:
 Sgt. John Charles Rike of Los Angeles, outfielder for the 83rd Bombardier Training Group, is a veteran of over 15 years of softball playing. Competing in West Coast leagues, he finds the speed and spirit of the squad play here in keeping with the finest. Sgt. Rike has seen action in only one game but is back in shape now and is looking forward to the 30-odd games that still remain to be played in the league.

National Football Loop Sets Meeting

CHICAGO — (AP) — The National Football League's second meeting of the year has been called for June 19 and 20 primarily to approve the new schedule and draft an additional 200 collegians, but there's an outside chance one or more petitions for club franchises will be presented then, too.

Commissioner Elmer Layden Saturday named Chicago as the site of the encore meeting to the April gathering, at which time members teams were unable to agree on a schedule.

The names of college players graduating between June and October are being compiled by Layden's office for the draft session, the second held this year.

Big Mixup Seen In Texas Grid Tilts This Fall

By Harold V. Radliff
 DALLAS — (AP) — Question: If a star football player from Rice should be sent to Texas Christian University to train with the Marines, would he play for the Horned Frogs? If so, would he play against the school for which he had given his all for a couple of years?

Such points are being raised as reports indicate Rice and Texas will lose most of their experienced gridlers because they are not to be designated as Marine war colleges. The upshot is that Baylor, which was not expected to participate in Southwest Conference athletics this year, may be given a new lease, and Texas Christian and Southern Methodist will become the top teams, replacing defending champion Texas and highly-ranked Rice.

Texas Christian, Southern Methodist and Baylor are expected to be designated, meaning some of the star football players from Rice and Texas are likely to turn up at T. C. U., S. M. U., and Baylor.

Texas would lose seven veterans and Rice would see 10 of 12 letter-men depart.

Regarding the question of whether these men would play football if sent to Marine schools, two of those who would be affected gave these answers:

Bill Blackburn, Rice center: "I will play football at any school assigned, conference or nonconference, against Rice or anyone else. I believe that is the attitude of all Rice players."

Jackie Field, Texas backfield ace: "That's a pretty hard question. Naturally, I would like to play football but playing against Texas is something else. I suppose I'll do what the other fellows do and probably we'll get together and talk it over."

Bombardier Class To Be Graduated Here Thursday

This year's eighth class of "Hell from Heaven Men" will be graduated at the Midland Bombardier School Thursday.

Dr. T. O. Walton, president of Texas A. and M., will be speaker for the exercises, which will mark the completion of 12 weeks of intensive training here for the bombardiers. Graduation will be held in the post theater, starting at 9 a.m.

Among those receiving silver bombardier wings will be a group of Dutch officers and men, who were sent here from the Royal Netherlands Military Flying School at Jackson, Miss.

According to word received by Col. John P. Kenny, commanding officer, Col. C. Giebel, acting commanding officer of the RNMF, will fly here to attend the graduation ceremonies. Accompanying him will be Commander H. L. A. Vander Kroef, commandant of the Jackson Detachment; Lt. Commander Ebenbroodspot; Lt. H. Cruetzberg, and 10 other officers and men.

Training Is Thorough
 During their course here, the bombardiers who will graduate Thursday have received training that is unmatched in thoroughness. They have learned not only how to drop bombs, but also how to recognize their targets, how to operate and maintain their super-accurate bombsights, how to fuse and load their bombs. They have studied the "probability of error," the briefing of their objectives. They have studied gunnery, camouflage detection and navigation. They have studied the art of bombing from the ground up and the sky down.

They are being graduated with a background of bombing experience equal to forty actual combat missions. From Midland, many of the bombardiers will continue their aerial schooling at navigation schools. Others will be assigned to operational training units where they will join pilots and navigators and gunners to form the hard-hitting aerial combat teams. Some will remain at bombardier schools as instructors for future lords of the bombsight.

Colonel Kenny will award diplomas to the graduates at the ceremonies Thursday, and bombardier wings will be presented by Col. John D. Ryan, director of training.

What men have done
 can still be done,
AND SHALL BE DONE TODAY

Sad, yet proud, Uncle Sam thinks of all the soldier dead of wars gone by. The faces of the men who fought in the Mexican War, the Civil War, the Spanish-American War and World War I pass in review. And on this Memorial Day, soldiers of World War II are added to that parade of heroes.

Americans everywhere feel sadness for the lives lost, but only pride when they think of the justice of the cause for which these soldiers died, and for which they die today. Liberty is the name of that cause. In the past we have recognized the basic truth of Daniel Webster's words, "God grants liberty only to those who love it and are always ready to guard and defend it." Today we are asked to defend that cause once more. And we will succeed, for what men have done can still be done, AND SHALL BE DONE TODAY.

491st Bombardier Training Sqd. Pvt. Allen Kimler of the 491st upon returning from his furlough, announced his recent marriage to Miss Irene Johnson of St. Louis, Missouri. The nuptial event took place in the parsonage of Rev. O. T. Piety, also of St. Louis. After the ceremony, the newlyweds visited Private Kimler's parents in Illinois. Mrs. Kimler will join her husband at a later date.

Pvts. Alvin Tillman, Luther Hart and Milton Meinhardt, all of whom drove their cars back from furlough in a party, reported a difficult time in getting back to the field. They were once stranded by flood waters in Oklahoma and unable to leave their cars.

Sgt. Pat Murphy, the "Charles Atlas" of the 491st and recent winner of the post track meet shotput event, challenges all comers in heaving the ball.

A real westerner is Corp. U. L. Moss who hails from Oklahoma. Corp. Moss loves cattle ranching so much that he keeps up-to-date on all ranching activities. He recently became the proud owner of a new colt which is a descendant of a famous line of racing horses.

83rd Bombardier Training Group: Along with the approach of summer, the group area has a new spick and span appearance with a freshly painted green fence. The erection and painting of the new fence which outlines the entire squadron was carried out under the supervision of Pfc. Orin Carpenter. The day room also is spruced up with the addition of a new pool table, radio and several attractive pieces of furniture.

The 83rd Group has a new adjutant in the person of Capt. Vernon W. Henderson, former squadron commander of the 486th squadron. The commanding personnel of the group now includes Capt. Harry S. Baker, commanding officer; Capt. Vernon Henderson, adjutant; and Lt. Hamilton Hering, supply officer.

The group is anticipating the coming gas alerts with a period devoted each day to the working of the gas mask. It is getting to be a customary rather than unusual sight to see the soldiers and officers carrying on their duties as usual with the "man from Mars" appearance.

The group baseball team has hit the victory road in its softball battles. They defeated the highly touted 83rd Base Headquarters Thursday night. The ball club under Coach Carrigan and the winning battery of Corp. Gronck and Sgt. Zemanek is making an impressive comeback with two straight victories.

Young Mother Holds Down Several Jobs

HILL FIELD, UTAH—A woman can be a housewife, the mother of two young boys, a farmerette and an airplane-engine instructor. Mrs. Sylvia Stewart of Clinton, Utah, who works at the Ogden air depot, proves it.

She was the first woman accepted for training at the Pratt and Whitney engineering service school at East Hartford, Conn. She has a pair of husky sons, Larry, 11, and Ronald, 7 and helps her husband, a corporal of Utah quartermaster depot guards, operate their 40-acre farm.

"It's hard, I'll admit," she said, "but organization seems to be the solution. My husband and I both have war jobs, yet we manage to carry on pretty much as usual."

The willowy blond says that at the Connecticut training plant, men students seemed to resent her at first but soon "they began to relax."

"By the time the course was finished, we were all the best of friends," she said, "and when I left, they presented me with an instructor's and officials of the school and inscribed: 'To the blond Bomber.'"

Newest Women's Organization Is Tennessee WOOP

WATTS BAR, TENN.—(P)—Now come the WOOPS.

That's the Tennessee Valley Authority's name for its Women Officers of Public Safety, the answer to the problem of replacing property guards gone off to war.

Like their sisters in the strictly military WAACS and WAVES, these girls wear uniforms and are taught close order military drill.

Unlike the others, however, they bear arms—and are taught to use them. They also learn to work with sentry dogs and to apply the seizure techniques of judo (modified jiu jitsu).

TVA's safety officers' training school went co-ed with the enrollment of the first class of 22 women. These former stenographers (some gave up TVA desk jobs for the opportunity), teachers, nurses, housewives and clerks for two weeks daily get an 8 a.m.-to-5 p.m., dose of all things a TVA policeman must know.

Two more hours, 9 to 11 p. m., are assigned to home work in the dormitories, where the student officers are housed.

Upon graduation they don trimly tailored olive green uniforms, Sam Browne belts, overseas type caps—and take their posts.

Classroom work includes lectures on laws of arrests, searches and seizures, fire prevention, basic state and federal laws relationships with other protection agencies the TVA badge, pass and identification system and a number of other subjects.

Pet Duck Dislikes First Dip In Water

PUEBLO, COLO.—(P)—Alex, a duck owned by Miss Winifred Wood, was hatched by a hen that dropped dead soon after. Then Alex got so large Miss Wood decided he should be in the city park lake.

She launched him and he paddled toward the other ducks. Miss Wood started for her car, a half-block away, and as she opened the car door Alex flew in and settled himself on the seat. It seems that Alex is a peculiar duck—he didn't like the water.

Suit-able Reward Is Received For Heroism

PENNINGTON GAP, VA.—(P)—Fred Akers, strolling past a residence suddenly looked skyward. He saw an 18-month-old child hurtling from a second-story rooftop toward the earth and concrete. Akers caught the tot in his arms. The child's grandfather called Akers into the John Gibson store and gave him a pair of pants.

Howard Motion To Be Heard Early Next Week

Date for a hearing on a motion for new trial by Shirley Howard, convicted in district court last week of the murder of J. A. Whittenton, probably will be set early next week, Judge Cecil C. Collins said Saturday.

Howard was sentenced to 45 years in prison by a district court jury last week, and his attorneys filed a motion for a new trial Friday.

Divorces affect more than 100,000 children in the United States every year.

Food Is Replacing War As Number One Conversation Topic

By Ruth Millett
Food is fast replacing the war as America's number one conversational topic.

The men do almost as much talking about it as the women.

When civilians aren't discussing point values and how far their points go, they are talking about Victory Gardens, or home canning or how limited restaurant menus are becoming. Or else they are talking about how much food costs.

You can't even sit down to a company meal these days without having the menu discussed in terms of points, and many a dinner guest exclaims on sight of the meat dish, "My dear you shouldn't have spent so many points."

Even the weather, good old conversational stand-by, is now just an introduction to the food topic. Sometime comments that it looks like rain, and everybody either decides that rain is just what they want or don't want for their Victory Gardens.

talk is that it is so different from the funny thing about all this the way we used to talk about food. In the days before rationing we talked of the food we liked and the food our families wouldn't eat.

Now we talk about the food we can GET. Even conversationally we aren't turning up our noses at ever mean by saying our families any kind of food. What did we wouldn't eat this and wouldn't eat that? Now they eat what is on the table and wouldn't dream of complaining.

The bright side of the picture is we don't have to worry about finding something to talk about no matter whom we entertain these days. There is always "food."

Glorifying The Apron

A jumper frock is a very practical garment for marketing and other family chores when you don't want to "dress up" yet don't want to look dowdy.

Just how decorative a jumper frock can be is demonstrated by the new one modeled by screen actress Ann Savage in the photo at left. It's of cotton, printed with tiny green and yellow fish who are gaily riding green and purple waves. The short-sleeved blouse is of sheer white cotton.

War Wives Should Keep Their Homes Going Although Husbands Are Abroad

War Ration Book 3 Applications Are Distributed

The majority of Midland residents received application forms for War Ration Book No. 2 through the mails last week from the district OPA office. Persons who failed to receive them may obtain them at the post office.

The cards should be filled out at once, but must not be mailed before June 1, it was announced. They should be mailed before June 10.

Book No. 3, which is a replacement book, will be distributed by mail beginning late in June, and it is necessary to fill out and mail the applications to get the books.

The application card has an identification stub, which is to be torn off and kept by the applicant until the ration book is received. The address given on the application is the address to which the books will be mailed. The head of the family should sign the card.

Require Regular Postage
Spaces for four names of members of the family are provided on the face of the card, and additional spaces are available on the reverse side. The cards are pre-addressed to the OPA mailing center, and require regular letter postage.

Information concerning a ruling on the card which says certain persons may not apply for the books will be released by the local War Price and Rationing Board next week, it was announced. The board has written for an interpretation of the rule, which says that persons in the armed services and institutions of involuntary confinement such as insane asylums and prisons may not apply or be included in an application for the ration book.

War wives with husbands out of the country who have managed to go right on living in the homes their husbands left them in seem to agree that it is worth the struggle for any wife who can do it.

Their husbands write often how pleased they are that they can think of their wives and children in their own home, among their friends.

And the wives, themselves, feel that it is a good thing to go on living in a house they shared with their husbands, instead of being uprooted.

There is some feeling of security for them just in going on with life as nearly as possible as it used to be.

Of course, a woman pays a price for keeping up her own house, instead of moving in with her family or sharing a house with another war wife.

Price Isn't Too High
She is often lonely. If the children get sick, she must shoulder all the responsibility for them. Running a house without a husband as a handy man isn't too easy.

But most wives who have managed to go on living in their own homes while their husbands are away think the price isn't too high. Before she decides to put her furniture in storage and move in with relatives or friends, a war wife ought to talk to some wife who has hung on to her home.

Because of all wives who have had to give up their husbands for the duration the wives who have "stayed put" seem to be the most content.

Former Midland Resident Dies In Louisiana Crash

First Lt. Glyn Edward Stephens, 23, who formerly was stationed at the Midland Army Air Field, was killed when a Barksdale Field medium bomber crashed and burned in making a take-off from Selman Field at Monroe, La., Thursday night. Four other men also were killed and another was seriously injured.

The plane, piloted by Lieutenant Stephens, apparently struck telephone wires after taking off and crashed on a railroad right of way.

Lieutenant Stephens left Midland in September, 1942, for Barksdale Field, after having been stationed here about five months.

Funeral services will be held at Leesville, La., at 3 p. m. Monday, friends here have been advised. Lieutenant Stephens was well known in Midland.

He was a guest here three weeks ago of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Oles and Mr. and Mrs. Watson LaForce. His home was in Leesdale, La.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Q—I am a youth of 17. I want to stop school and go in business and my parents will not permit it. I have reached the Junior year and I see no reason why I should continue.

A—I am interested in getting started in business. Do you not think it is alright for me to quit school?

Q—I am 16 and am considered beautiful. I want to go to the beauty pageant at Atlantic City, New Jersey, but my mother does not encourage me in this. I could win a prize, then get in the movies. I have won all the beauty contests in our little town, and I think I should win larger ones. Will you advise me?

—Beautiful.
A—If you are only 16, I would advise that you concentrate on advancement in your studies, and let the "beauty" take care of itself. Many girls' lives have been totally wrecked by winning the highest prizes in national beauty contests. Try winning a prize for some mental achievement. I think your mother is right in not desiring you to go into national beauty contests. Get your education, advance mentally, and your opportunities will come. Beauty is fine to possess, if you have the mentality to guide it.

Q—I am on the verge of quitting my husband. He never wants to go with me anywhere, and I like to go every time we are invited. He says that it is foolish to fly around all the time, but every other couple in town flies around that way, so why should we stay home?

I have one child, and she is six years of age. I have a very good woman to leave her with, anytime I wish to go, so there is no reason at all for our not going. Can you help me?

Gad About
A—Possibly your husband is tired at night. Maybe he works hard. A woman who has a maid to do all the work at home and take care of her only child naturally would seldom be tired. I would advise you to go out when your husband will go with you and to stay at home when he wishes to stay.

Furthermore a child needs more care than being left in the hands of servants two-thirds of the time. A mother's guidance and love and companionship is needed by the child. A child raised by servants has missed much that can never be recalled.

Concentrate on your home and home interests, and try and make your home-life happy. You could do much in your home that is not being done, when you are gadding about continually.

Memorial Day

Memorial Day is dedicated to the soldiers of America — who fought in the past for the country that we are again struggling to preserve. But it is appropriate that this year—1943—in the midst of another great battle for the things Americans hold dear—we pay tribute to those living heroes who are right now doing their share, and more, to carry on the tradition of their forefathers. To honor men of our community who serve in Europe, in Asia, in Africa, in camps here in America. We salute you!
