Serve Cold Cuts For Summer

Sausages and cold cuts combine with victory garden vegetables for delicious ration economy.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NRA Staff Writer

Cold cuts and sausages, such as frankfurters, salami and bologna, are low in the ration point scale but high in protein and vitamin B value. With our victory gardens, as well as commercial gardens, at their peak, it is time to combine fresh vegetables and cold cuts.

Frankfurter Supper Salad (Serves 4)

One-half pound frankfurters, 2 cups cooked elbow macaroni, 1 cup chopped celery, 1/2 cup chopped radishes, 1/4 cup chopped green pepper, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, salt and pepper, 4 tomatoes, lettuce, whole radishes.

Simmer frankfurters in water 5 minutes; cool; cube. Combine frankfurters, macaroni, celery, chopped radishes, green pepper and mayonnaise; season with salt and pepper. Chill. Cut slice from tops of tomatoes; scoop out a little of center. Pile frankfurter mixture on tomatoes. Arrange tomatoes on lettuce; garnish with radishes.

Hot Liver Slices With Creamed Peas (Serves 4)

One pound liver sausage, 1 1/2 cups medium white sauce, 1 1/2 cups cooked peas, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 1/2 pounds cooked new potatoes in jackets.

Slice liver sausage; broil about 5 minutes, or until hot and browned. Combine white sauce, peas and Worcestershire sauce; heat. Arrange liver sausage slices around outside of serving plate; pour creamed peas on slices. Pile potatoes in center.

Victory Garden Salad Bowl (Serves 4-6)

One cup cooked peas, 1/2 cup chopped celery, 1/2 cup French dressing, 1/4 pound sliced cold meat (ham, liver sausage, bologna, salami, etc.), prepared mustard, 1 cup cottage cheese, 1 green pepper or 1/2 cup chopped chives or parsley, 1 cucumber, 2 carrots, lettuce, mayonnaise.

Combine peas and celery; marinate 15 minutes in French dressing. Spread cold meat slices with mustard; roll up; fasten with toothpicks. Combine cottage cheese and green pepper. Score cucumber; slice. Grate carrots. Arrange lettuce in salad bowl. On one side of bowl place meat rollups. In individual lettuce cups place cottage cheese; peas and celery; cucumber slices and carrot. Serve with mayonnaise.

MIND Your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

- Which of the three types of wording are correct on a wedding announcement: Mr. and Mrs. John Smith "have the honour of announcing," "have the honour to announce" or "announces"?
- In addressing wedding invitations is it correct to abbreviate the name of the state?
- May the name of the state be omitted when the invitation is addressed to someone in the same city?
- May an invitation to a church wedding be worded "request the pleasure of your company"?
- Are all formal invitations written in the third person?

What would you do if—

- You are a bride-to-be and your wedding is to be so small that you do not intend to send out engraved invitations—
- (a) Write personal notes to those you wish to attend?
- (b) Telephone those you wish to attend?

Answers

- All three are correct.
- No.
- Yes.
- No. It should be "request the honour of your presence."
- Yes.

Better "What Would You Do" solution—(a) seems a little more gracious.

Betsy Beckham Bundy's Advice To The Lovelorn

Q My sweetheart and I have been going together for over six months, and he always acts as if I were not with him when we go out together. He maintains an abandon that scarcely lets me know that I am along. He has never said one word about caring for me, but dates me often and I am very fond of him. Shall I continue to go with him, or find a more expressive one as my sweetheart?

A I think I would continue going with him. Actions speak very much louder than words. If he dates you frequently and takes you to the better shows, dances, etc., you should realize that he must like you, or he would not choose to go with you. It is quite all right for him to have an abandon. That probably is his way.

When he gets ready to declare his regard for you he will do so, and if you like him, I would suggest that you continue going with him.

Q I am a natural musician and play the piano very well, but when I try to take lessons from a teacher she always attempts to make me begin at the bottom, when I play all the popular numbers mostly by ear. Do you know of any place where I can get instruction, where I might advance, and yet not be placed back with the beginners?

A There are few instructors in music who will recognize playing by ear. They think that you must begin at the start, so that you may learn to read music like the beginners do.

If you care to grow in your music, why not find a musician who will instruct you in your way, if possible.

Q I wish to make some needlepoint pieces for my antique chairs, and I should like to know if needlepoint making is difficult and where I might get matching pieces.

A Needlepoint making is as simple as anything can be, but it requires time to complete a piece. If you will have a piece at hand all the time, you will soon have your set completed. If you will select a background that is not black, it will be much easier on your eyes and you can work on it in your spare time in the evening. One cannot work on black background at night without injury to the eyes.

You might shop around for the matching pieces.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages of urine, smarting and burning, sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for D. an's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get D. an's Pills.

War Won't Ruin Attendance For Musical Events

PHILADELPHIA — (P) — The war will not knock out music, if the Philadelphia Orchestra's experience last season is any kind of barometer.

In spite of travel difficulties, the cancellation of the traditional Philadelphia tour, added wartime expenses and all the rest, Eugene Ormandy's orchestra lost only $8,974.46 net. This in a field where deficits have run more than a hundred thousand.

Orchestra officials estimate that if the orchestra could have made its tour, income would have gone up $100,000, and that after expense was taken out, there would have been profit enough from this operation to cover even this small loss.

Not that the operating loss was quite so small. Actually this totaled $67,073.10. But long ago a good big endowment fund was set up, and income from that source plus an outright gift toward current expenses of $1,000, took care of a little more than $58,000 of the operating loss.

The Petrillo recording ban was another hurdle last season. Nobody knows how much it cost the orchestra to be prohibited from making new recordings, but the guess is several thousand dollars. Luckily, the Philadelphia Orchestra has a large list of steady-selling recordings as a back log.

Attendance Good
The attendance picture is just as good. On the face of the figures, audiences dropped from 390,000 to 320,000, which is a substantial loss. The catch is that in the 1941-42 season the orchestra toured, and the number of concerts was 137. This year it played only 116 concerts.

This makes the net loss of attendance exactly 91 percent a concept, a figure that could almost be explained in this town of long distances and large suburban area by adding up the chauffeur-driven old ladies who now are not physically equal to trekking to the Academy of Music by train, bus or subway.

Stuffed Home Grown Tomatoes

Fresh home-grown tomatoes are stuffed with grated American cheese, onions, green pepper and whole wheat breadcrumbs.

By Gaynor Maddox
NEA Staff Writer

Garden fresh vegetables, plus cheese sauce, can provide high nutrition, deliciously, for summertime meals.

If you use commercially graded American cheese, a 4-ounce canister equals one cup in a recipe. If you grate your own, it will not be so fine, and 4 ounces will, therefore, measure well over a cup. Remember the measuring difference between commercially and home ground cheese in computing food values of your recipes.

Different kinds of cheese call for different "keeping" techniques. Don't leave your canister of American-style grated cheese in the refrigerator, for it collects dampness there and becomes lumpy. Be sure to keep the perforated top closed, too, for the same reason. Natural Swiss cheese and American cheddar, on the other hand, should be put in the refrigerator, though it is better to buy them in small quantities because the delicatessen or grocery store has better cheese storage facilities than you have.

Vegetables Au Gratin
Two and one-half cups cheese sauce, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 2 cups cooked vegetables, 12 stuffed olives, sliced; 1/4 cup buttered bread crumbs.

To make cheese sauce, melt 3 tablespoons fat and blend in 4 tablespoons flour and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Add 2 cups milk and cook until thickened. Stir in 1 cup American-style grated cheese. Add parsley. Arrange cooked vegetables alternately with the sauce, in individual greased casseroles. Sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in hot oven (400 deg. F.) from 10 to 20 minutes, or until crumbs are brown. Combine carrots, peas and green beans; cut corn, lima beans and celery, green beans, broccoli and mushrooms.

Tomatoes With Cheese
Six ripe, firm tomatoes, 1 cup bread crumbs, 1/2 cup American-style grated cheese, 2 tablespoons minced green pepper, 2 tablespoons minced onion.

Cut tops off tomatoes, scoop out some of the pulp. Salt tomatoes lightly inside. Mix pulp with bread crumbs and cheese, green pepper and onion. Fill tomatoes. Put in a greased baking dish and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 30 minutes. Serve with cheese sauce.

We, the Women

BY RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

The Axis may start the tales about the high percentage of immorality among our women in military service, as Mrs. Roosevelt recently suggested, but Mrs. Smith, American, passes them on.

There are several reasons why Mrs. Smith may be eager to discredit the girls in uniform. Maybe she leads a dull, boring life herself and is irked by the glamor that attaches itself to women in uniform. They are doing something new and exciting and she is sitting around doing what she has always done, and so she is just plain jealous.

Or perhaps Mrs. Smith's husband is in service and she can't be near him. If she is the type who spends her life wondering what he is up to, she is almost sure to be suspicious of the women who work with him. She falls easily for any talk about uniformed women, and enjoys repeating it.

No one is naive enough to suppose that every girl in military service has high standards. There are too many girls from too many types of environment to make any such thing possible.

Better Than Most
But they are a superior lot, and as a group they are probably as well-behaved as any group of young women in the country.

The big morality problem today isn't a problem concerned with women in service—but with scatter-brained high school girls who are crazy over uniforms, and hang around on street corners waiting to be picked up.

Let's worry about them and let the women in uniform look after themselves. They are old enough to. And they are doing an important enough job so that they shouldn't be hampered by a lot of ugly, malicious gossip.

They deserve praise—not a slap in the face.

The unit of Persian currency is the rial.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Estes have received word from their son, Bill Estes who now is in Africa, stating that he now is at a rest camp on the Mediterranean. SOLUTION
CHAPTER XXVI
I TURNED my neck cautiously. It would be sore for a week. And to think I was going to have the big-handed ape for a grandson-in-law!

Watson had collapsed on the davenport, his head between his hands. Suddenly he lifted his head and looked at me warily, a new suspicion hardening his eyes. "Where's the proof—have you any proof of this?"

I nodded emphatically. "I'll show it to you," I admitted grudgingly. "First, though, you'd better get rid of that poisoned cocktail. Throw it in the fireplace."

He started to rise, then settled back in his seat and looked at me shamefacedly. "It isn't poisoned. I was just bluffing."

It was my turn to glare at him. After a moment I snapped, "Hand it here, then. I need it."

He got up and handed me the drink and stood there watching me drink it, still with that shamed little boy look on his face. "I guess there isn't anything I can say to you," he ventured at last. "You'll never forgive me."

I set the cocktail glass down and looked up at him, six feet of dominant, stubborn, humbled manhood. Michael had been big. I like big men. I sighed.

"Did you mean what you said about marrying Kathy?"

He stared at me. "Do you think I'd have taken a chance on killing you to clear her if I didn't mean it?"

I felt my neck. I guess he meant it all right. "It would be awkward not speaking, wouldn't it, if you're going to be in the family?" I said thoughtfully. "I suppose I'll have to forgive you—on one condition."

"What's that?"

"That you let me handle this affair from now on."

But that took a bit of arguing when he learned my plan. He said hotly that it was inhuman to let Kathy stay in jail when I could—

"Oh, rot," I broke in impatiently. "I'll won't hurt Kathy. And it may take some of the arrangement out of her. You'll thank me for that one of these days—if you marry her."

He grinned then, a slow wicked grin, made a sudden lunge, picked me up bodily and hugged me tight.

OVER Clint's shoulder I saw the living room door open. George Baker stood on the threshold.

It occurred to me then that Clint and I had rather overlooked George in our little scheme.

George came in trying to wipe consternation from his face. "I brought the lawyer, Mrs. Kraik. I thought there were some things you'd better tell him before he sees Kathy."

It was that smug outraged look on his face that gave me the idea. I simply had to save Kathy from being grateful to him the rest of her life.

"It's no use, George. Kathy won't see the lawyer—unless you release her from her engagement."

"I can't—I told her that yesterday. How would it look?"

"George! She'll have to tell everything to save her own neck. And she won't unless you release her."

"Everything—?" George looked at me uncertainly. He was willing. I waited for him to sit down.

"There's something you still don't know about that elopement of Derek's and Kathy's, George." It wasn't hard for me to look ashamed. I really was. "Walter and I found them that time and brought her back home—but we didn't find them until the next day. . . . you understand."

Well, that did it. George departed. I had seen no need to tell him that the night Derek had spent with Kathy he had been too busy dosing her with bicarbonate of soda for an acute attack of indigestion to make love to her. It was a very sick girl and a very frightened boy Walter and I had found in that hotel room.

DEPUTY SHAW looked at me somberly when the day came that I could tell him the truth. "You know there are a number of things I could do, Mrs. Kraik. A number of things that in the line of duty I should do."

"Yes—you could put me in jail for suppressing evidence, for helping a murderer escape the penalty for his crime. But now that she is dead—" I crushed the telegram from Will Grady in my hand, "Are you going to?"

"Damn it, no!"

So he took the little black shawl with the bullet hole in one corner to the sheriff, the sheriff gave a statement to the press, and that was that.

For it was Margaret who killed Derek. Margaret who took the incriminating wallet and money and ring from his body and buried them in the woods that night; Margaret, still wearing the shawl, who blundered into me on the path in the dark; Margaret who tried to take her own life by drinking the sleeping medicine.

Four Margaret, who has been so torn between divided loyalties that she temporarily lost all reason. Margaret, whose fear of what Derek might do to Kathy was balanced on the same side of the scales as her fear of what the law might do to Derek. Margaret, the faithful, who could not bear the thought that harm or the threat of harm should come to any of the Kraiks, and Margaret who dreaded to see the wild, tempestuous Derek become a shifty, aunted thing. To her deranged and clouded mind, there must have appeared only one solution. She'd seen the gun in my desk drawer that day when she moved my letter files. She carried it under her black shawl when she went out to tell Derek goodby. She shot him through the heart when he bent to kiss her.

God rest her poor old soul!

Geologists Describe Senator H. M. Kilgore's Bill As Communistic

The Kilgore bill in the United States Senate was described as "communistic, impractical, and unnecessary and destructive to individual initiative and private enterprise," in a resolution approved by the West Texas Geological Society.

The resolution, drafted by John I. Moore, P. F. Brown and K. F. Ferguson late Wednesday and approved by the society, was sent to all members of the Senate military affairs committee and its sub-committee which now is studying the bill.

Text of Resolution
The resolution said: "At a called meeting of the West Texas Geological Society at Midland, Texas, on June 23, 1943, the Society, numbering 220 members, went on record as unanimously opposed to Senate Bill No. 702 (and H. R. 2100) now pending before Senate committee of military affairs.

"We urgently request that you vote against these bills which we regard as highly communistic, impractical, and unnecessary and destructive to individual initiative and private enterprise.

"Kindly advise your attitude on these bills so that our society can be advised at once.

"West Texas Geological Society, 'F. H. Wilcox, President."

Proposes Mobilization
At a meeting Tuesday night, the geologists voted to oppose the bill and Wilcox was instructed to appoint a committee to draft the resolution. The bill proposes establishment of an office of scientific and technical mobilization and was introduced by Senator Harley M. Kilgore of West Virginia. Copies of the resolution also will be sent to Texas senators and to the congressman from this district.

The bill would establish a government bureau with an initial appropriation of $200,000,000 to coordinate and control all technical personnel and activities not only in time of war but in peacetime.

whenever he comes east. On his last trip to New York, he lost no time in taking advantage of his opponent's error on the hand shown today.

When the king of hearts held the first trick, West continued with the queen and then made the mistake of shifting to a club. Howard won with the king and cashed the ace of trumps. When West played the nine, Howard cashed the ace of clubs and then led his heart jack.

Now West was helpless. He must either lead a club, giving Howard a ruff and a much-needed discard, or make the diamond play. He chose the latter, and Howard let it ride to his queen of diamonds, picked up the trumps and discarded his other diamond on the ten of hearts.

If West had cashed his three hearts immediately, the contract could have been defeated.

World's Smallest Air Force To End First Year July 4

FOURTEENTH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS — (AP) — The United States Army 14th Air Force, the world's smallest air force operating in the largest territory — will wind up its first year July 4 — a year of thrilling achievements which have surprised everyone, especially the Japanese in China, Burma and Indo-China.

The birthday will be the occasion for celebration throughout the theater of operations — by Chinese as well as Americans. Chennault To Speak
An address by the 14th's colorful commander, Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault and fireworks are on the July 4 program.

Under Chennault's brilliant guidance, the 14th not only succeeded in fulfilling its first year's mission of keeping the Japanese at bay until reinforcements arrived, but lashed out offensively in close cooperation with Chinese ground forces.

The most dramatic demonstration of an offensive came recently when American bomber-fighters attacked the Japanese in the Ichang area, enabling the Chinese to recapture important positions. As important as the effect of the Americans' bombs and bullets was the effect on Chinese morale.

Aided Chinese Drive
The Chinese saw nothing but Japanese planes overhead. When the American planes came, the Chinese cheered and smashed forward.

The 14th's exploits have equalled — in some respects surpassed — those of the much publicized American volunteer group which preceded it, Chennault also headed that outfit.

"Sky High" Is Next USO Show Booked At Bombardier School

The personnel of Midland Army Air Field will meet another group of stars when the latest USO Camp Show, "Sky High," plays the Post Service Club Wednesday, July 7. Produced in New York, the show boasts of several of the biggest names in vaudeville and the musical comedy stage.

One of the featured acts will be Hector and his group of trained dogs, Hector, in addition to being tops in the field as a trainer, is also a dancer, contortionist, and acrobat. He and his brilliant canines have played every variety theater in this country and in Europe. Last season they were one of the big hits of Ed Wynn's Broadway show, "Fugh, Town, Laugh!"

Arthur and Morton Havel, with their song writing act; Duke McHale, tap dancer; Lewis and Ames, comedy team; Ballard and Rae, the "slap happy" inebriates; and the Six Debutones completes the all-star cast of this musical revue recruited from the Broadway big time.

T. & P. Is Installing New Track Near Here

Forty miles of new 112-pound steel track is being installed on the T. & P. Railroad west of Midland, between Bounce and Mertz, replacing 90-pound rails.

Rails which will be used between Bounce and Odessa have arrived and the remainder are expected soon.

Only one construction gang was at work Thursday, but three others are expected to arrive within a few days to expedite the work. About 35 men are now at work.

One of the gangs which will come here soon is said to be composed of high school students who choose railroad work for the summer months. An experienced Mexican foreman is in charge of this group, and an athletic coach is a member of the party.

Transportation To Be Provided Youths

All 17-year-olds who do not have transportation to the special program at the Midland Army Air Field Sunday will be taken to the bombardier school by army truck. All 17-year-olds are to be at the field by 8:30 a. m. Sunday for the start of the special program arranged for them.

Mighty Allied Air Arm Subjected Europe To Unparalleled Design Of Destruction During Month Of June

LONDON — (AP) — Striking from three directions, the mighty air arms of the American and British allies subjected Axis Europe to a design of destruction unparalleled in all history during the month of June, and for the enemy the worst was still to come.

During the month, Allied aerial power reached out in rising fury from bases in Britain, in North-west Africa and in the Middle East — with American and British fliers cooperating smoothly to keep the offensive going virtually around the clock.

Ruhr Heavily Pounded
These accomplishments stood out: 1. The unconditional surrender of the Italian fortress island of Pantelleria on June 11, first island ever conquered by air power alone; the subsequent capitulation of Lampedusa, Linosa and Lampedusa, and the pattern of destruction spread over Italy, Sicily and Sardinia.

2. The great destruction wrought by the RAF in its city-by-city bombing of the Ruhr Valley, to whose concentrated industries Hitler looks for replenishment of his war machine.

Also significant were the two American Liberator raids last week on Axis airfields near Athens and Salonika, an aerial pointer toward a possible Balkan invasion route, and inauguration by the RAF of a bombing shuttle service between Britain and Africa with an important raid on both the outboard and homeland trips.

New Bomb Record
Reliable estimates placed the RAF's June bomb deluge delivered from homeland bases at a record 13,500 tons, topping by some 1,000 tons the May record of 12,500 tons. A great proportion of this June destruction was spread upon the Ruhr in nine major attacks.

The U. S. Eighth Air Force, while carrying out only seven bombing missions embracing a dozen targets as compared with nine raids and 19 targets in May, was reliably understood to have greatly increased its bomb tonnage per raid by turning out in double the strength of only a few weeks before. More than 200 planes, for instance, were sent on the Wilhelmshaven - Cuxhaven raid June 11.

GRASS FIRE EXTINGUISHED
Firemen were called to South Marlenfeld Street Thursday morning to extinguish a grass fire near the Midland Steam Laundry.

S. S. Stinson is confined to his home by illness.

Gene Krupa Facing Sentence To Prison

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — A mandatory prison sentence of from one to six years hangs over the head of Gene Krupa, 34, drum-beating leader of a nationally known band.

Wednesday a juvenile court jury convicted Krupa of using a minor in his valet and property man, John Pateanos, 20, to transport narcotics. Under the California act which the jury found Krupa had violated, probation is barred specifically.

Krupa's attorney said he will ask a new trial for the dance band leader and that if it is denied he will appeal to a higher court.

Oil Man's Divorce Suit Is Recessed

LITTLE ROCK, ARK. — (AP) — The divorce suit of Arthur A. Cameron, 42, wealthy Texas and Indiana oil operator, against June Knight will be resumed July 13 when the blond 20-year-old former actress undergoes cross-examination.

Jam In Congress Leaves Agencies Short Of Funds

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A log jam of money bills in Congress left President Roosevelt without a nickel of emergency funds Thursday for the first time in three years and forced many war agencies to operate temporarily on the cuff.

Although both Senate and House were agreed that the executive should start off the new fiscal year with at least $89,000,000 for emergency purposes, a deadlock over withholding salaries of three federal workers blocked passage of the bill making the sum available.

The measure was one of half a dozen major bills left stranded when Congress adjourned overnight after a futile attempt to shove them through before the 1943-44 fiscal year ended at midnight Wednesday. The only big bill cleared was a $71,500,000,000 win-the-war Army supply measure.

Tied up in the other legislation were 1944 funds for the Departments of Agriculture and Interior, the Federal Security Agency and a group of other departments including the Office of Price Administration, the Office of War Information and the War Production Board.

Except for the urgent deficiency bill carrying the President's money, all the other measures have provisions validating any obligation incurred after June 30 provided the obligation was in accordance with limitations in each bill.

Government Accepts Big Bend Park Area From State Of Texas

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Big Bend National Park has been accepted from the State of Texas by Secretary of the Interior Ickes and set aside as a public park for the benefit and enjoyment of the people.

Secretary Ickes' acceptance of the tract came a few days after the eighth anniversary of the congressional act of June 20, 1935, authorizing establishment of Big Bend National Park.

The action designated 710,311 acres of land acquired by the state as "necessary for recreational purposes," with the understanding that the state parks board will acquire additional tracts totaling 15,236 acres as soon as possible.

Major League Clubs Present Good War Relief Programs Before Sparsely-Settled Bleachers

The major leagues scored 100 per cent for entertainment on the first of their two war relief days Wednesday, but they failed to get more than a bare passing grade at the box office.

cities drew 134,578 fans who paid $147,391 into the treasury of National War Relief, Inc., and this might seem like a lot of people and a lot of money except that games for Army and Navy relief in the same cities last year netted $289,412 or approximately twice as much.

when clubs were permitted to pick their own rivals and choose their own dates, the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants played each other and wrote out checks for $60,000 in Brooklyn and $73,000 in the Polo Grounds.

Eighty-Year-Old Golfer Competes In Tri-State Senior Tournament

he wouldn't lose; more than likely he would win.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK—(AP)—Just to start something, what was the fastest nine-inning baseball game ever played? . . . The major league record stands at 51 minutes by the Giants and Phillies in 1919, but we've just come across a game played by Mobile and Atlanta on Sept. 19, 1910, which was finished in exactly 32 minutes.

Here's his proposition to Ben: "If you shoot under your age, you win; if I shoot under my age, I win."

Elmer is 80. Elmer, you see, is 80 and it's not uncommon for the Plainview, Texas, golfer to card under that figure.

Winn is participating in the ninth annual tri-state senior tournament here. This event was started because the "older boys"—they don't like to be called fossils—decided the youngsters had too much vinegar for them.

They held the affair in the hot season and in the middle of the week so as to "enjoy resting in the shade" and to escape the week-end parties.

Winn has been in eight of the nine tournaments. He wasn't feeling up to it last year but says he's stored up some vinegar for the present tournament, placing the minimum age at 50.

A break in health in 1927 caused Winn, a retired business man, to turn to golf. "I started hitting a few balls—then looking for them," he grinned. "The activity improved my health and eyesight. Now I play every day, never stopping under 18 holes."

Due to the caddy shortage this year, Winn carried his own bag.

"But toting your clubs is just part of the exercise one can obtain from a good game of golf," he said.

H. E. Winter of Marshalltown, Iowa, visiting his daughter here, entered the tournament. He crowds Winn for the age trophy, boasting 79. Seven others are over 70. They will get special prizes regardless of their cards.

Bombardier's Value Known By Cage Star

As the speedy forward of a championship college basketball team, Cadet Joseph F. Tubbs of Rochester, N. Y., was the leading scorer. He knew that when the ball was passed to him under the basket, success or failure of the play depended upon him.

Now in training at the Midland Bombardier School, Cadet Tubbs is learning that the success or failure of the entire bombing mission depends upon the bombardier.

For in the very short space of 25 seconds he can either blast an enemy target to bits or miss it completely. Under the watchful eye of bombing experts, Cadet Tubbs is being taught how to hit the target squarely in the center.

Worked For Airline. A former student at St. Michaels College in Toronto, Canada, Cadet Tubbs played on both the varsity football and basketball teams.

Having been long interested in commercial aviation he affiliated with the American Airlines. Starting out as a dispatch agent, the future Axis-buster made flight reports and weather clearances.

Following this he went into operations work, checking flight plans and reservations. Three years later Cadet Tubbs was transferred into the sales division.

When the war is over, Cadet Tubbs hopes to return to the airlines in the freight control section.

Two Pitching Feats For Colts' Cuban Ace

RICHMOND, Va. —(AP)—One of the top pitchers in the class B Piedmont League is Julio Acosta, the Cuban ace, who toils for the Richmond Colts.

Acosta has accomplished two outstanding feats this season. He came within one strikeout of matching Johnny Vander Meer's old Piedmont record for strikeouts when he fanned 19 Vander Meer, now with the Cincinnati Reds, struck out 20 in a game when he hurled for the Durham, N. C., Bulls.

Acosta has turned in a no-hit, no-run performance, and it was against the league-leading Portsmouth Cubs, too. The only flaw in Acosta's performance was that he walked one player.

MEYER JOINS WAACS. CHICAGO —(AP)—Geraldine Meyer, known to golfers throughout the country as secretary to Ed Dudley, president of the Professional Golfers Association of America, joined the WAACS Thursday.

NEXT FOR COUNT FLEET. CHICAGO —(AP)—Count Fleet, that speedy brown thoroughbred, is scheduled to make his next start in the Arlington Classic at Arlington Park, July 24.

Two's Too Many

Golfer Couldn't Take Second Broken Window

NEW YORK —(AP)—"Suppose someone was in that room when that ball crashed through the window?" an infuriated woman asked Jack Hamel, Jackson Heights, golfer, who had just hit his best shot of the day.

Apologetic, Hamel offered to pay for the window with the provisions that the ball be returned. Accepting the apologies and thanking Hamel for so promptly paying the cost, the woman promised to deliver the ball by her young son.

Shouts stopped Hamel as he reached the top of his backswing on the sixth tee. "Ah! Here comes my ball, throw it over son."

"I don't have it," the lad said. "Mama says you broke two panes. The top window was down and the bottom window was up. You owe her for another pane of glass."

"Well, tell her to keep the ball," Hamel retorted, "I'll buy a new one."

ROANOKE, VA. —(AP)—There's one thing they forgot when they constructed the softball park here—hitting posts, and Mark Cowen, who is in charge, now knows that it was a mistake.

Earl (Bullet) Bradshaw, who pitches for the Norfolk and Western team, arrived at the park by horseback the other night, hitched his "rag" to the bleachers and chirped, "Let's go, boys, I don't need a warmup after that."

He didn't, either, because he tossed a three-hitter.

Monahans School May Lose Coach To Service Soon

MONAHANS — The Monahans public school system may lose its first coach to the armed services shortly.

Head Coach Roger F. Cundiff has been accepted by the Navy as a lieutenant (jg), and is expecting his call to duty at any time.

Prospects Are Dim. The system has four mentors. They include, in addition to Cundiff, Milton McCleskey, high school assistant; Johnny Auten, "B" squad; and Laird Meadows, junior squad. None of the other three expects to enter service soon, it was reported.

Prospects for the Monahans Green Wave for next season are none too bright, Cundiff said. Although about 30 boys were out for spring practice, good material is expected to be scarce when Grid Taps are issued this fall at Sealy Field. Only three lettermen will return.

A shortage of backs worries the mentors. Haskell Simms, letterman back, probably will play next fall, but he will be the only member of last year's backfield squad reporting for the 1943 team.

Geod Old Days. Carroll Estes, letterman lineman, will likely be shifted from the center slot to the blocking back position. Jim Ed Holbrook, tackle last season, then will be the only ex-

American League Managers Select Players For Annual All-Star Game

CHICAGO —(AP)— An American all-star team heavily laden with New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians was created Thursday from nominations submitted by the eight managers for the 10th annual game with the National League stars July 13 in Philadelphia's Shibe Park.

The Yankees and Indians each placed six players on the 25 man squad, which will be directed by Manager Joe McCarthy of New York, leaving 13 spots for men from the other six clubs.

Four Senators Named. Those were taken by four Washington Senators, three Boston Red Sox, two St. Louis Browns and two Detroit Tigers, and one each from the Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago White Sox.

Thirteen members of the American League team which beat the Nationals last year in the New York Polo Grounds, 3 to 1, placed again, including New York Catcher Bill Dickey, nominated for the positioned man in the line—if a line can be scraped up.

There is no truth to the reports that there are more coaches left in school than there are players, Cundiff said. He's sure he will be able to put at least one full team on the field this fall.

The Green Wave last season won seven and lost two games. Cundiff says that last season may be called "the good old days" by fans this fall.

10th straight time—he's been named for all of them—and Yankee Second Baseman Joe Gordon, for the fifth time. Dickey did not play last year because of injuries.

These were the manager's selections for 1943:

Pitchers — Spurgeon Chandler and Ernie Bonham, New York; Tex Hughson and Oscar Judd, Boston; Emil Leonard, Washington; Harold Newhouser, Detroit; James Bagby and Al Smith, Cleveland.

Catchers — Bill Dickey, New York; Buddy Rosar, Cleveland; and Jake Early, Washington.

Froelich Is Trainer. Infielders — Ken Keltner and Lou Boudreau, Cleveland; Rudy York, Detroit; Joe Gordon, New York; Vernon Stephens, St. Louis; Dick Siebert, Philadelphia; Luke Appling, Chicago; and Bobby Doerr, Boston.

Outfielders — Charley Keller and John Lindell, New York; Chet Laabs, St. Louis; George Case and Bob Johnson, Washington, and Jeff Heath, Cleveland.

Coaches will be Lena Blackburne of Philadelphia and Art Fletcher of New York. Dave Keefe of Philadelphia was selected as pitcher and catcher for batting practice, Eddie Froelich of the Yankees was designated as trainer.
