Soviet Troops Storming Into White Russia In Gomel Sector

Germans Abandon Gateway To Heart Of Ukraine Area

Kiev Menaced From Three Sides By Reds

LONDON — (P) — The Moscow radio said Thursday that Soviet troops are storming into White Russia in the Gomel sector, shortly after a German announcement that Nazi forces have abandoned Pottava, gateway to the heart of the Ukraine.

The Moscow announcement, which quoted the newspaper Izvestia, official organ of the praesidium of the supreme council, was recorded by Reuters.

Kiev Menaced
Gomel, in the area where the new breakthrough was announced, is a rail center about midway between Kiev and Smolensk, within a bare 15 miles of the Dnieper River and within 150 miles of the old Polish border.

Pottava, a city of 90,000, lies on the Vorskla River in the fertile wheatlands of the Ukraine, and is a control center of a network of railroads radiating to Kharkov, Kiev, Kremenchug and Dnepropetrovsk.

The city was isolated Wednesday when Red Army forces stormed the town of Dikana, 15 miles to the north, and Golovach, six miles to the south.

Meanwhile, Kiev was menaced from three directions Thursday as Red Army forces continued to roll up victory after victory along the flaming 750-mile front from Demidov in the north to the Kuban bridgehead on the Black Sea.

Demidov, 42 miles northwest of Smolensk and 21 miles from the borders of White Russia, was stormed by the Russians Wednesday. Its capture, after two days of bitter fighting, elicited a special order of the day from Premier Joseph Stalin, who called the northern bastion "one of the strongest German defense centers."

More than 8,000 Nazi troops were killed in the struggle for Demidov, a Moscow communique declared, after the enemy had launched 12 counterattacks in vain attempts to hold the city.

On the Kiev salient, capture of the village of Lyeski, 18 miles north-east of the Ukraine capital, brought the church spires of the city within view of the advancing Russian forces.

On other sectors along the crumbling front, the Soviet forces were reported to have scored gains of 12 to 15 miles, winning back 884 hamlets and villages from the invaders.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA — (AP) — Allied sea and air power threw a blockade around Corsica Thursday, cutting off German troops fleeing from French and American troops closing in on Bastia, the enemy's last seaport. It appeared doubtful that the Germans would be able to hold out on the small island much longer under combined air, land and sea pressure.

CAIRO — (AP) — American Liberators bombed Maritza airdrome on Rhodes and Elevis airdrome at Athens, Greece, Wednesday, an air communique announced Thursday.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Allied forces in Southern Italy have taken Puzetta, on the highway between Salerno and Potenza, the British Broadcasting Corporation said Thursday in a dispatch from Allied headquarters.

Hale County Judge Scores Plans Of Counties To Refund Bond Issues In Keynote Address At Convention Here

West Texas county judges and commissioners were urged to purchase equipment and supplies only on competitive bids, to keep taxes low, and to be absolutely honest in all dealings by County Judge Frank R. Day of Hale County in his keynote address at their annual convention and war conference here Thursday.

Judge Day frowned on the plans of a number of counties to refund or refinance bonds under a recent state supreme court decision in a Cochran County case.

He said a good market had been developed for Texas bonds and that if bonds are recalled in five years, refunded or refinanced, that average investors will lose interest in Texas bonds and the market will disappear. He predicted that after the war is won new bond issues will be required in many counties.

Judge Day also suggested that the officials decline to respond to all requests of individuals or groups to appear before draft or rationing boards to champion causes, branding the practice "political suicide."

He did suggest, that good letters of recommendation be written for men desiring to get into the armed forces.

Uimer Says Debts Should Be Paid
M. C. Uimer, Midland banker and president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce also frowned on the bond refunding activities.

"The only way to pay debts is to work and save," Uimer told the convention. "There is a moral obligation to pay, and I think the debts should be paid in full."

He said the bonds were sold as noncallable and nonoptional issues and the contracts should be met.

Uimer said he faces "tomorrow with absolute faith and confidence that people of America will solve the problems as they arise."

"The things which made us great will make us greater if we continue our free democracy."

He said a conservative had been defined as someone who has something to conserve, and asserted "any one who regards highly our democratic form of government has something to conserve."

He pointed to the progress made by West Texas and said the great future will continue to go forward if all citizens cooperate and pull together.

Urges War Bond Purchases
The program of work and activities of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce were outlined briefly by the Midland banker, and stressed the need for the sale of War Bonds.

John H. Winters, executive director of the State Department of Public Welfare, discussed Texas welfare programs at the Thursday morning session.

Paul H. Appleby, under-secretary of agriculture, telegraphed from Washington that due to the press of business he was unable to come to Midland.

Australians Make Seaborne Landing Near Finschhafen

Remnants Of Garrison On Arundel Destroyed

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC — (P) — Gen Douglas MacArthur announced Thursday the seaborne landing of Australian troops above Finschhafen, enemy base 60 miles northeast of Lae on the New Guinea coast, and the destruction of remnants of a Japanese garrison on Arundel Island in the Solomons.

Under protection of warships and planes, the Australians went ashore against enemy opposition at dawn Wednesday six miles above peacetime mission headquarters and just below the Song River. At dusk on the previous day, Japanese bombers and fighters sought to attack ships involved in the operations but were intercepted between Lae and Finschhafen by P-40s which shot down four bombers and five fighters at a cost of one interceptor.

Jap Patrol Routed
Capture of Finschhafen on the Huan Peninsula, which is more suitable for ground action than any other territory previously attacked on New Guinea, would give MacArthur control of a gulf within easy overwater striking distance of Japanese-held New Britain and its stronghold of Rabaul.

On Arundel, directly west of New Georgia, American jungle troops destroyed enemy troops and reinforcements on the island's north shore and also on nearby Saga Karasa Island to move within artillery shelling distance of the Japanese garrison at Vila across Blackett Strait on Kolombangara. The Japanese guns imperiled Vila immediately opened fire.

Sixty miles northwest of Lae at Kaiapiit, which airborne Australians captured Sept. 18, headquarters disclosed that a Japanese patrol of 200 was encountered the night of the transport landings. The Aussies killed 120 of the enemy and routed the others.

Planes Are Active
Widespread air blows of the Allies augmented the latest ground operations. In the Madang sector northwest of Finschhafen, the already disrupted coastal supply road took a new pounding Tuesday which doubled the bridges destroyed to eight.

Across Dampier Strait from Finschhafen, Liberators dropped 60 tons of bombs on the airdrome at Cape Gloucester, New Britain, and other planes raided the airdrome at Gasmata.

In the New Ireland vicinity, reconnaissance bombers set a 5,000-ton enemy ship afire, sank a 1,500-tonner and bombed two other vessels.

Major Haley Aycock Visits Grandmother

Major Haley Aycock of the Army Air Forces who twice was wounded in the European war zone where he was a squadron commander, was in Midland Thursday visiting his grandmother, Mrs. J. A. Haley.

With the officer, who spent his childhood in Midland, were his wife and his mother, Mrs. Fred Conner of Fort Worth. He will be stationed in Fort Worth for a short time.

While stationed in England, his squadron flew large bombers on raids over enemy held territory. He wears the Purple Heart, Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with two Oak Leaf clusters.

French Fighting On Corsica Get Prize

ALGERS — (P) — French troops who landed on Corsica Sept. 14 to assist island patriots in ousting German occupation forces won a 10,000-franc prize as the first French unit to land on French metropolitan soil, Gen. Henri Giraud announced Thursday.

The announcement said that a person who preferred to remain anonymous had donated the sum last spring, Corsica, a French department, is considered a part of the motherland.

Midland received a light sprinkle of rain early Thursday, but it was too light to even register on the gauge. A few drops also fell about 11 p. m. Wednesday.

Rainfall here for 1943 totals less than 6.5 inches. Clouds hung over the city again Thursday.

Shattering Blows Against Enemy By All Possible Means Promised By King

OMAHA, NEB. — (P) — Shattering blows against the enemy "with all weapons that can be brought to bear, synchronized and coordinated with overwhelming assault," constitute the aim of the Navy, Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the U. S. Fleet, asserted Thursday.

He told the national convention of the American Legion that attacks recently carried out with great damage upon Japanese positions on the Marcus and Gilbert Islands in the South Pacific are only "the shape of things to come."

Stresses Coordination
King emphasized throughout his prepared address the importance of the Navy's swiftly growing air arm now striking hard at enemy bases, particularly in the Pacific.

"The Navy's strategy and tactics," he said, "have always revolved around those weapon-bearers which can hit the farthest and the hardest. In this present war these bearers are aircraft. This is thoroughly understood by all naval officers. Aimedness in the Navy is by no means the exclusive property of the Navy aviator."

But he laid great stress on the importance of close coordination of all branches in any engagement, asserting: "Unity and team work is the basis of the Navy's fighting doctrine. It is the Navy's aim to strike the enemy at any given point with all weapons that can be brought to bear, synchronized and coordinated in overwhelming assault."

King Awarded Medal
Stating that "the ultimate test of a military organization is its performance in combat, its discharge of the vital and sacred duty to defend its country against the enemy," he said naval aviation particularly "has met and its meeting this test. The record of Midway, the Solomons, the U-boat war in the Atlantic, bear witness."

The highlight of the closing session on the 25th annual Legion convention was the presentation of the Legion's distinguished service medal to Admiral King.

Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff, received a similar medal Monday, and addressed the convention.

West Texas C. Of C. Buys War Bonds Here

D. A. Bandeen, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, arrived in Midland early Thursday with a check for $10,000 for the purchase of War Bonds for the organization. The executive committee recently voted to purchase the bonds.

As Midland is the home of M. C. Uimer, president of the large organization, the purchase was made here so Midland would get the credit.

Bandeen also will address the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association war conference and convention while in Midland.

Nazis Scuttle 30 Vessels In Berths In Attempt To Render Harbor Useless To Allies On Occupation Of Naples

American Troops Gain 15 Miles In Sweep In Central And Southern Sectors Of Italy

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA — (P) — Allied headquarters announced advances of 10 to 15 miles in central and southern sectors of Italy Thursday in a forward sweep which was gradually forcing Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring to uncover the inland approaches to smoke-smothered, dynamite-shattered Naples.

Victorious French soldiers and American rangers pressed the Germans back farther into the northeast corner of Corsica while Allied air forces bomb and machine gun Nazi ships seeking to remove escaping Nazis from the evacuated port of Bastia.

Allied soldiers were within sight and sound of the systematic wrecking of Naples by German demolition squads.

30 Ships Scuttled
As the sound of frequent explosions from the smoking city rolled over the hills toward the Americans and British, Allied headquarters announced that the Germans had scuttled at least 30 ships at Naples and blocked practically every berth along the docks.

Aerial photographs also showed a large industrial area north of the docks had been wrecked by bombings and the railroad yards demolished.

"The extent to which this is going to indicate the enemy is determined to make the big port, one of the largest and best peace-time harbors in Europe, completely useless to Allied troops when they occupy it," the announcement stated.

In the inland sweep British and Americans swung the right of their line forward toward the Adriatic, with Salerno serving somewhat as a hinge, and straightened out several deep mountain bulges.

Three Towns Taken
They advanced 10 miles north-west of Potenza, 15 miles north of Sala Consilina and 10 miles west of Mottola which is north of Taranto, capturing the towns of Acerno, Avigliano and Ghiosa.

Acerno is 12 miles east and slightly north of Salerno and six miles north of Campagna, reported captured Wednesday.

Avigliano is 50 miles east of Salerno and about eight miles north-west of Potenza, also reported captured Wednesday.

Ghiosa is 25 miles northwest of Taranto and 14 miles inland from the Gulf of Taranto.

Japs Driven Off In Raids Against Guadalcanal Base

WASHINGTON — (P) — Shooting down two enemy bombers, American fighter planes drove off a Japanese bombing raid on Guadalcanal, the Navy reported Thursday.

The enemy raiding group, largest reported over the island in the Central Solomons in many weeks, was composed of "12 or 16 enemy bombers."

Only light material damage and a few casualties resulted before the Japanese were driven off the morning of September 21, Solomon time.

The Navy reported also another raid by six Japanese planes which dropped bombs near the air strip on Guadalcanal. Only light damage was caused and no casualties were suffered in that raid on September 20, Solomon time.

The two raids raised to five the number of attacks by Japanese planes in the Guadalcanal area since September 13.

Solving Some Problems

Something new in the way of questionnaire surveys is the one made by a large aircraft corporation which queried its employees on some of their inmost thoughts. The results are most interesting. To the question, "Do you think the top management of the company is competent, sincere, interested in you?" the answers were far in the affirmative. And when asked, "What is the most serious problem this company and its employees must overcome to make the greatest possible contribution to victory?" employees listed shortage of materials, absenteeism, and inadequacy of trained personnel as the chief problems.

Other questions were: "What do you think can accomplish most toward building 'morale'—the will to work to win—among employees?" "How do you feel about possible enemy attacks on this plant?" "There are all brands of foremen; what do you think of yours?" "Do you think the majority of your fellow employees are competent, sincere, doing their best?" "If you were hired within the past year were you courteously treated by the personnel office, the plant police, your fellow workers? Were you placed on the job for which best fitted? Is the personnel department aiding you?" "Are you receiving enough gasoline for necessary driving to and from work?" There were many more questions of a similarly pertinent nature.

The answers were most gratifying to the company. They showed a staff of employees for the most part well pleased with company policy and procedure, and fully conscious of the problems of war production in their plant. Aside from this, however, the survey is most significant. The very fact that it was made shows cognizance on the part of modern industrial management of the problems that beset the war worker. The effort expended in this survey shows most convincingly that industry is anxious to enlist the wholehearted aid of its employees in creating better understanding and in solving mutual problems.

First Things First

There is a growing awareness today, among people of all occupations, of the necessity to preserve the American system of freedom of enterprise, if democracy is to survive after the war. More and more, as business undergoes the necessary wartime restrictions, Americans are coming to understand that the prime requisite for post-war reconstruction is the lifting of these restrictions when the need for them is ended.

Just Peace

The Swedish bishops, foreseeing collapse of the Axis, have made a joint radio plea for a just peace rather than one of vengeance. In that, on general principles, we join. But— A just, unvengeful peace can—and must—be a hard peace. We should not punish just to salve our own lacerated feelings—but we must punish and restrain, however painful to our present enemies or even to our friends and ourselves, to prevent or defer future wars. One reason we are fighting now is that Germany, in 1918, didn't learn the penalty for starting a World War. Whatever may be the reason for World War III, it must not be that.

VOICE FROM THE FRONT

From Al Duckett, Detroit Times. U. S. Treasury Department

State Comptroller Sheppard Urges County Officials To Equalize Taxes

State Comptroller George H. Sheppard Wednesday night urged members of the West Texas County Judges' and Commissioners' Association to equalize taxes on a uniform basis according to the constitution and laws of the State of Texas.

"The burden is on you officials," he told them at the open forum in the Civic Auditorium. The discussion's theme was "War Time Economy and Efficiency in County Government."

Sheppard said his first duty was to collect revenues for the state and his second duty is to protect taxpayers. He asserted he favors a reduction in bonded indebtedness as rapidly as possible to relieve taxpayers, and also that he favors protection of resources of the state.

"People don't complain if every one is treated equally," he continued. Sheppard asserted the state ad valorem tax law calls for 100 per cent valuations and then asserted that if all property taxes were based on at least 50 percent valuation, Texas would have a tax valuation of 10 billion dollars rather than four billion dollars.

Millions Do Not Contribute
"Millions of people do not contribute one cent to the support of county and state governments," he added. "Eliminate special privileges. Let every citizen pay his part. Practice economy every way possible. Treat all fairly and alike and they'll have no kick coming. Let's preserve our democratic form of government."

Judge John V. Lyles of Clay County, who presided at the forum, said judges and commissioners are going to have to follow the constitution and laws of the State of Texas, as the citizens still believe in fair and equal treatment.

Judge Lyles asserted that nine-tenths of county offices are over-staffed. He urged all officials to study state laws concerning county offices and to demand that they be followed 100 percent.

"Then the taxpayers will back you," he told the judges and commissioners. "All Can Economize"

Judge Gilbert Smith of Anson, president of the association, opened the forum and presented Judge Lyles who said every county regardless of its tax rate can effect economies.

Judge M. O. Goodpasture of Memphis asserted tax rates could be reduced if citizens quit asking "so much."

"If citizens get value received, they don't mind paying taxes," he added. R. L. Miller of Midland complimented the West Texas officials on the fair treatment they provide taxpayers and said cooperation is essential in the building of the great West Texas empire.

Judge Charles Roberts of Andrews related his experiences and said no WPA or PWA funds came to his county.

Judge A. S. Ware of Bryan, president of the County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas, said the operations of county governments affect every citizen of the county and citizens have not shown proper interest in their county's affairs. He asserted county governments give the kinds of administrations that taxpayers demand.

Over 200 Guardsmen To Take Part In Maneuvers Near Odessa Saturday

More than 200 members of the First and 34th Battalions, Texas State Guard, will take part in a maneuver Saturday night and Sunday about 12 miles west of Odessa when mock battle conditions will be staged and problems worked out. Plans for the event were made at a meeting of officers of the two battalions at Odessa this week.

Planes and motorized column will be utilized in the bi-battalion maneuver, and officers from the Midland Army Air Field will serve as umpires. Two members of the state adjutant general's staff will have charge of the practice event.

One company of guardsmen will be designated the enemy in the practice event, and will have planes and cars at its disposal. Flour sack bombs will be used, and each guardsman will be equipped with five flour hand grenades. The planes will attempt to bomb the cars and enemy concentrations out of the maneuver, and actual battle conditions will be developed.

The guardsmen will leave Odessa for the maneuver area at 7 p. m. Saturday. Members of units in Midland, Monahans, Grandfalls, Wink, Kermit, Odessa, Crane, McCamey Andrews and Brownfield are expected to participate. The First Battalion is under the command of Major Ben Meek of Kermit and the 34th is commanded by Major Joe Pyron of Odessa.

Members of Midland Company E, 34th Battalion, attending the meeting at Odessa were Captain James H. Goodman, First Lt. Henry C. Hannafor, and Second Lt. S. Ross Carr.

The guardsmen will prepare the Saturday night meal and breakfast and lunch on Sunday at the maneuver area.

Special equipment for use on the maneuver will be issued to members of the Midland unit at the regular meeting at 7:30 p. m. Thursday. Plans for the company's part in the event also will be made.

From where I sit...

"Jeep Nerves"—that's what Dan O'Neill calls the jumpy way some folks react to the strain of wartime living.

Not that Dan blames 'em. When you work 12 hours a day and travel in crowded busses—live in trailers and put up with inconveniences—it's only natural to get tense and irritable.

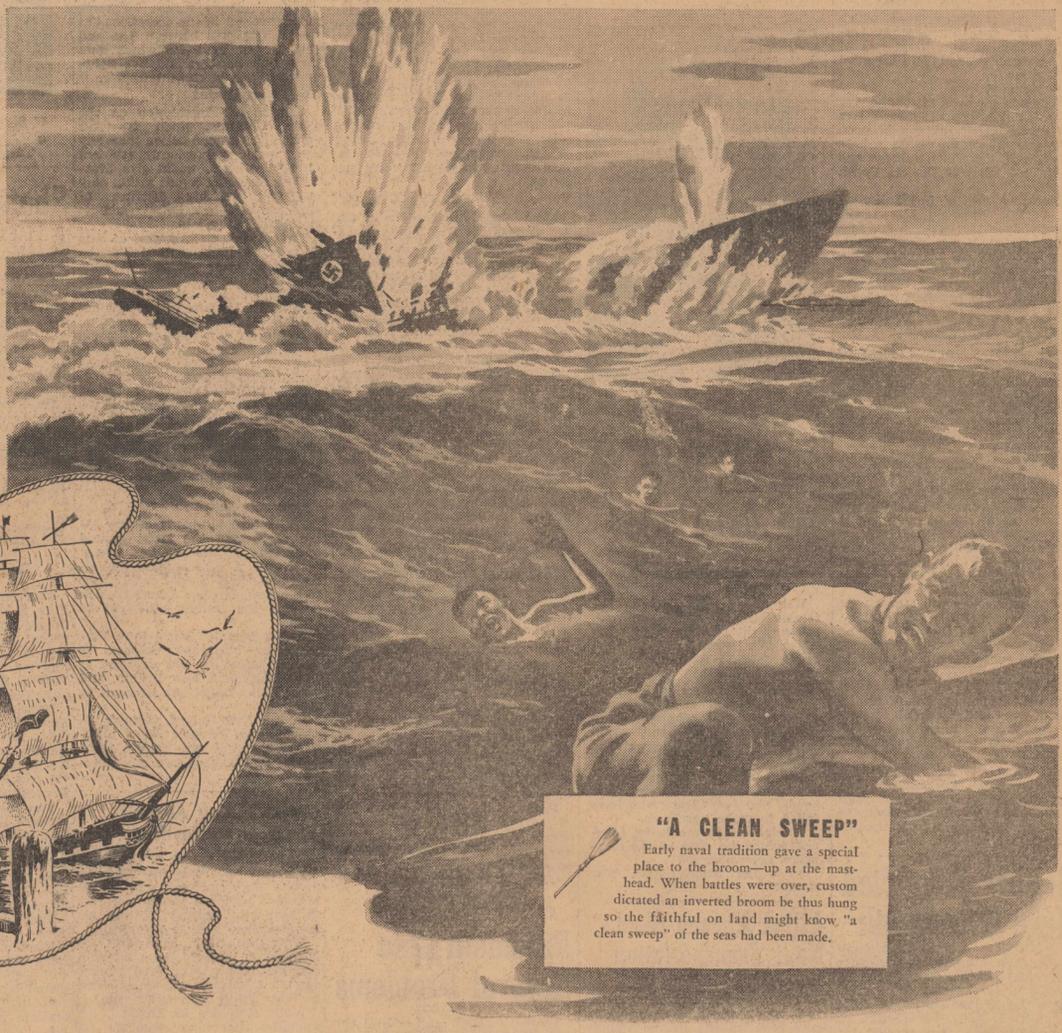

"Folks must learn to relax," says Dan, "and take it easy." And Dan thinks he has the formula. Soon as he's through at the shop he comes straight home, picks out the comfortable chair and pours himself a tall, cool glass of beer. Then he sips it—slowly and appreciatively—like good beer should be enjoyed.

And by the time that glass of beer is gone, Dan says his disposition is as good as new... and the day's work seems well worth tackling again tomorrow. It's a real effective formula. I know; I've tried it!

The Broom is at the Mast

"A CLEAN SWEEP"
Early naval tradition gave a special place to the broom—up at the mast-head. When battles were over, custom dictated an inverted broom be thus hung so the faithful on land might know, "a clean sweep" of the seas had been made.

Through the daring and perfection of our armed forces, the seas surrounding coffee producing areas have been swept clean of Axis U-boats. Thus it is possible once again to enjoy unrestricted use of the world's most delicious beverage.

Salvage Frame-Up

NOTED artist and decorator Peter Hunt worked out the swell idea for recreating something old and discarded into something new and useful. The smart cheese tray pictured above was just an old oval picture frame, salvaged from the attic junk pile. Hunt cut a piece of plywood to fit the whole back and fastened it in securely. Finishing it with quick-drying lacquer, he painted the whole tray coral (mix equal parts of Chinese Red and white) and decorated the edge with a black wavy stripe accented with white dots.

Course For Vocational Agriculture Teachers Starts Here

A graduate course in agricultural education for teachers of vocational agriculture in the Midland district was inaugurated here Wednesday afternoon in the V. A. room at the high school. Teachers from this district will meet once each week for 12 weeks and the classes will be under the direction of Ray Chappelle, professor of vocational agriculture at Texas Tech.

W. E. Williams of Alpine, area supervisor of vocational agriculture work, opened the meeting Wednesday with a discussion of the program for this year. Outlines of a new food production war training program were given the group. Courses under this new program which will be stressed by the teachers this year include farm machinery repair; production, conservation and processing of food for family use; home vegetable gardening, and increased farm production. Williams said that $25,000 has been set aside for operation of the course in this area.

Chappelle is being assisted in conducting the extension course for teachers by T. L. Leach, itinerant teacher trainer at Texas Tech. Vocational agriculture teachers here for the first class Wednesday were Harlan Howell, Midland; R. K. McCoy of Stanton; H. M. Carter of Sterling City; Judge Rhea of Knott; Harold Ward of Grandfalls; E. G. Caudle of Big Lake, and Marvin Scott of Garden City.

From every vantage point about the shipyard the thousands of safety-helmeted workers listen in silence to the dedicatory address . . . The champagne bottle crashes on the bow, the band strikes up a martial air, a great cheer surges up from the crowd as the sleek ship slides down the ways . . .

MASS assembly lines, plus sustained energy and determination are rolling ships off the ways these days in an endless procession that is motion only to the Axis.

Oil and ships are close partners in today's battle for the supremacy of the seas. From stem to stern, from crow's nest to keel, petroleum serves in many ways. As fuel and lubricant for the mighty engines, as a base for non-corrosive greases for deck machinery, as an essential ingredient of marine paints and rust preventives, and as lubricants for the launching ways, petroleum and its products work for victory.

Humble-Penola Launching Lubricants serve at one of the most critical moments of a ship's life. They have smoothed the ways for a great many of the fighting and merchant vessels that form our bridge of ships to the global battle fronts.

Launching Lubricants are only a part of the long list of Humble's petroleum war products, a list that includes 100-octane aviation gasoline, Toluene for T.N.T., Aviation engine oils and stratosphere greases, rust preventives, Navy fuels and lubricants, and soon will include synthetic rubber for military uses. Humble's war products are the result of the same ceaseless research and engineering skill that give you Esso, 997 and Velvet Motor Oil for your car and which holds bright promise for even better petroleum products for the days of peace that are to come.

HUMBLE PRODUCTS FOR THE MACHINES OF WAR: Asphalt, Aviation Gasolines and Aviation Engine Oils, Camouflage Paints, Diesel Fuels, Engine Oils, Univis Instrument Oils, Marine Paints, Navy Symbol Lubricants, Recoil Oils, Rust-Ban Protective Coatings, Stratosphere Greases, Toluene, Torpedo Greases, Waxes, Waterproof Lubricants, and soon, Synthetic Rubber for military uses. FOR THE MACHINES OF INDUSTRY: Automotive Lubricants, Cutting Fluids, Cleaners, Diesel Fuels, Gasolines, Industrial Lubricants, Launching Lubricants, Motor Oils, Paints, Petroleum Solvents, Quenching Oils, Rust Preventives, Waxes. FOR YOUR CAR: Products and service to help you care for your car for your country.

Pilot Who Flew On Ploesti Raid Visits Midland

Capt. Royden Lebrecht, 24, of Denison saw his daughter, Royanna, in McCamey for the first time Wednesday after he arrived in Midland in the Liberator "Squaw." He was met here by his wife and they drove to McCamey where she has been residing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Guyton.

The "Squaw" remained at the Midland Army Air Field for motor repairs. It has been on 71 European raids and is one of the most colorful ships ever to land at the air field. Bullet holes are outlined with yellow paint and size of bullets which hit the ship are indicated by red marks. Approximately 2,000 signatures are on the plane.

Citations received by members of its crew also are painted on the ship.

The crew of Lebrecht's original ship, "The Yankee Doodle Dandy," was organized a year ago at Tucson, Ariz., and in this plane made the attack on Ploesti. The "Yankee Doodle Dandy" still is in action in the Middle East, but the crew was shifted to the "Squaw" for the home flight. The "Squaw" also made the raid on Ploesti.

Lebrecht said the planes on the Ploesti raid were in the air 15 hours. His squadron lost eight planes over the target and lost five. The group, led by Col. John (Killer) Kane, sent 41 planes over Ploesti and lost 23.

Previously Lebrecht's squadron had flown on its missions without loss. Lebrecht took part in 35 missions, including attacks in Greece, Crete, Italy and Sicily.

The parishioners voted that no vestryman could succeed himself. Immediately following the parish meeting in the county courtroom, the vestrymen convened and elected officers.

The Rev. Robert J. Snell presided at the session.

The vestry will meet Sunday afternoon with Bishop E. C. Seaman of the North Texas Diocese to discuss plans for obtaining a resident minister for the church.

Clinging-Vine Wives Learn To Stand Alone

By RUTH MILLETT

A Navy officer who is again living with his wife after more than a year of being away from her says he doesn't see why the "experts" think there is going to be a problem created when servicemen come home to find that their clinging-vine wives have turned into self-sufficient, capable human beings.

He says he came home to find just such a situation—and he thinks it is wonderful.

But let him tell it: "My wife used to say, just as I was ready to go to bed, 'Honey, I don't believe I put the car in the garage,' and sure enough she hadn't. So I would have to do it for her. She drives it into the garage when she is through with it now—after having had to go out in the dark alone a few times while I was gone.

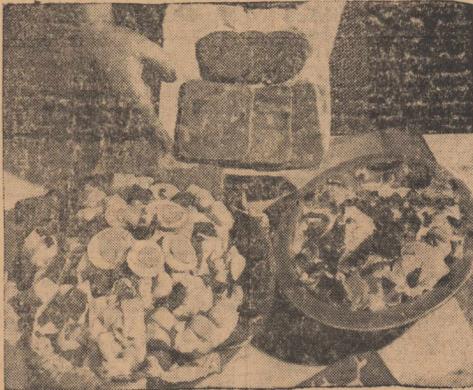

Check Book Is Straight "And her check book is no longer a hopeless mess. She learned how to keep it, as soon as I was available to straighten it out for her every few weeks.

"Not only that, but the other night a storm came up and she waked me up and said, 'John, get up and put down the windows.' But this time she put them down herself and never even disturbed me. When I asked her about it the next morning, she confessed she never thought of waking me up. She has been doing things like that for herself for a whole year, and just went ahead as a matter of course.

"And we don't have any more of those time-wasting, 'What do you think I ought to do about this?' discussions, involving matters I know nothing about. A year on her own has taught my wife how to make her own decisions."

It sounds as if the Navy officer has something there. Why should a husband be upset to find out that his clinging-vine can stand on her own two feet?

Laundry Service Costs Salesman $600 In Bonds

HOUSTON —(AP)— Laundry service cost a married manufacturing salesman from New York $600 here Wednesday — but he shelled out without a murmur.

Unable to get his socks and shirts laundered at a downtown hotel, he told his troubles to Mrs. Howard Levy, chairman of a war bond booth in the lobby.

"Well, why don't you buy a $100 bond and let me wash your socks?" asked Mrs. Levy.

bond and I'll wash and iron your five shirts," chimed another bond saleswoman at the booth.

The two women put out the laundry and Harris County moved $600 nearer its bond quota.

UNLOCKING ADVENTURE

By Charles Courtney
COPYRIGHT, 1943, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Charles Courtney is the world's highest paid legal Jimmie Valentine. This is the true story of his many adventures unlocking safes around the earth and under the sea.

CHAPTER XXII
DURING the winter I had no word from Sir Basil Zaharoff and told myself that the affair was finished, but when he telephoned me from London early in 1934, I was glad to hear his voice. Next day I sailed on the Europa for England.

In London I met the executive board of the salvaging company. The company was in difficulties with the British Admiralty over the ownership of the gold, so a committee, of which I was a member, was appointed to meet the Admiralty and try to find some grounds of co-operation.

While these debates were going on, Sir Basil introduced me to a French banker, M. Maubeuge, a member of a syndicate that had recently made a deal with the Soviet government for the Russian crown jewels. Some of the chests in which they were stored could not be opened, and Sir Basil had recommended me to unlock them.

Back to London I went with the French banker who arranged my credentials at the Russian embassy. The next day we took a train from Croton airport. After 12 days the chests were opened and M. Maubeuge had looked in his bank the massively set rubies, diamonds, and emeralds, some of them almost as big as pullets' eggs. Commissar Kazoff, who had been assigned as my translator, showed me the Kremlin. He took me to the palace in which—its exact location was a secret—was Stalin's office. We went up the flight of marble steps, down long bare halls filled with alert soldiers, then through section after section of high-ceilinged offices, with men everywhere but not a girl secretary in sight.

Finally we passed through several ante-rooms and were ushered into Stalin's own office, an enormous room with a polished floor that looked as long as a hayfield between us and the stolid man who rose from the desk at the other end.

STALIN was a plain utilitarian figure in soft, black, high boots, riding breeches, and a white tunic with a band of red embroidery around the thick neck. Studying him, I doubted if there was a flabby ounce of flesh on his body.

Stalin's little eyes sized me up. Almost before I spoke a word, I felt that he had picked my brains. With Comrade Kazoff acting as interpreter, he spent about 20 minutes asking me about the diving equipment we used in salvaging. The adventures of treasure hunting under the sea meant nothing to this man who was never without danger at his elbow, but information that he might sometime use he pigeonholed in his avaricious brain.

In one of the museums I wandered into a dusty side room which was full of odds and ends that had not been hung. On the floor in the corner lay a pile of metal that looked like the bottom of a junkman's heap. To a piece of it was tied a dirty tag labeled "Catherine II." The chain was made of 98 links, each link a padlock with its own tiny key.

As I looked down at that rusty iron, I had never wanted anything so much. "Twenty dollars, American money," Kazoff told me. "Come back for them tomorrow, and you will have their history in English."

THE next morning I found the locks dusted and spread out on a table in an empty office. A massive warded padlock measuring eight inches by four by four weighed about 10 pounds. It was of fine forged iron with a tubular key cleverly flattened so it could be worn comfortably around the neck. On a typed sheet I read that this was the famous padlock of Ivan the Terrible.

In the first year of his reign, the czar, who was then an able and amiable ruler, held a beauty contest among the young Russian noblewomen and selected as his bride Anastasia Zakharina, with whom he fell violently in love. As he spent much of his time away from home fighting the Tartars, he was tormented with jealous concern about the czarina's fidelity. Before setting out again for the front, he converted a wing of the palace into a three-room retreat with a single entrance and engaged the most prominent locksmith in Russia to make a special padlock for the door.

Even before the lock was blessed by the Metropolitan of the Church, to make sure that there would be no duplicate key, Ivan ordered the smith's head cut off (such were the hazards that locksmiths faced in those days). Then he locked the czarina in her apartment, hung the key around his neck, and went off to the wars.

The fighting dragged on. Anastasia was with child. When her time came the imperial physician pled with her through the door. She and the servants begged the czarina to let them break the lock, offered to pay with their lives when Ivan should return, but she refused. The girl bore Ivan's heir with not even a midwife or a serving maid to attend her. On his return the czar found both the czarina and the young prince critically ill. When they died Ivan so tortured himself with remorse that he became the mad tyrant of his histories.

RAF Ruined Nazi Plans For Attack On British Isles

LONDON—(AP)—The gigantic air attack that Germany hurled at London three years ago this month definitely was the preliminary step toward invasion of Britain, it was disclosed Thursday.

Twenty-five hundred barges massed in ports across the English Channel and the North Sea were to have carried Hitler's invasion hordes to the shores of England as the climax of a five-week program culminating in mid-September.

The planned preliminary steps were to have been the knocking out of the RAF and then the bombing of London to shatter the will and ability of the British people to resist.

This information, obtained from sources which may not be specified, presented a broader picture of events that occurred during those dark days than it was possible to give then or since.

The daring and tireless pilots of the RAF carried the major burden of throwing this enemy invasion program awry—the men who long ago were immortalized by the words of Winston Churchill: "Never in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to so few." The RAF then was out-numbered four to one by the German air force's 3,450 planes.

Besides courage, the RAF's big assets were a radio location system, an efficient operational system, and the Germans' sequence of mistakes. The Germans counted on dive-bombing, but evasive tactics which saved the Stukas in Spain failed to work in Britain. Without armor, the Nazi bombers were forced into high altitude pattern bombing by daylight, a system in which they didn't believe.

RAF Beaufighters Hit Jap Communications

NEW DELHI, INDIA—(AP)—Plying through the difficult conditions of the declining monsoon, RAF Beaufighters destroyed and damaged a number of locomotives, sampans and trucks in a new series of blows at Japanese communications in Burma, it was announced Thursday.

The principal attacks were in the Katha district, along the Irrawaddy and on Cheduba Island along the coast.

day worth a bid, when most people would pass it originally.

In playing and making her contract, Mrs. Wagar also followed expert practice in preferring to play for a three-trump break, rather than two-two. Dummy's ace took the club opening and the jack of spades was led. If a low spade had been led and the queen hit, South put in the eight-spade. It held and the queen drew the last trump. Now the ace of hearts and two diamonds were all the defenders could get.

The ace of spades won and a heart was led. West ducked and dummy's ten won. A low spade was led, East played low and South put in the eight-spade. It held and the queen drew the last trump. Now the ace of hearts and two diamonds were all the defenders could get.

Briton Who Saw Big Nazi West Wall Says It Can Be Crumbled

LONDON—(AP)—The House of Commons was told Wednesday by a man who saw Hitler's vaunted west wall from the inside that it is doubtless very strong, but not so strong that Allied invaders couldn't break through.

Naval Commander R. M. Prior, a Briton who escaped after being captured at Dieppe and finally reached safety by way of Spain after nine months of wandering in France, declared:

"In my view it could be assaulted and breached by a determined assault, well organized."

Prior walked through France disguised as a French workman after dropping from a German hospital train. He said that during his flight he had opportunity for a close inspection of part of the wall.

Officers Prepared To Arrest Thomas

HOUSTON—(AP)—If R. J. Thomas wants to test a new law prohibiting soliciting union memberships without an organizer's card issued by the Texas secretary of state, Texas officials apparently are ready to meet him half way.

Attorney General Gerald Mann obtained in Austin a temporary order restraining Thomas, president of the United Automobile Workers union (CIO), from violating the law.

Sheriff Neal Polk of Harris County said at Houston that Thomas would be arrested if he asked anyone at a rally of oil workers and others at Pelly, Texas, Thursday night to join the oil workers union. Assistant District Attorney W. K. Richardson said Harris County prosecutors were ready to press such a case.

Carrier And Land Based Planes Team Up In Isle Attacks

PEARL HARBOR, T. H.—(AP)—For the first time in the Pacific war, carrier planes and heavy land-based bombers have teamed up in a smashing offensive against Japanese island possessions.

This was disclosed by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz in amplified reports on operations the night of Sept. 18 and throughout the day Sept. 19 against enemy installations in the Gilbert Islands area.

Land-based planes from both the South Pacific and Central Pacific joined with carrier planes in making more than 200 sorties over a 500-square-mile area against islands near the equator about 2,500 statute miles southwest of Hawaii.

In a communique Wednesday, Admiral Nimitz also disclosed that these attacks took in Makin and Apamama Islands as well as Tarawa and Nauru as reported earlier.

Wheeler Measure To Block Father Draft Moves Toward Shelf

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Despite last-ditch protests by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont), administration leaders Thursday charted toward a shelf his measure to block the draft of fathers.

Fortified by the Army general staff's assertion that 7,700,000 men must be in uniform by Dec. 31 to insure victory, opponents of the Wheeler measure appeared confident they could either smother the bill when it comes up next Tuesday or bang it back to the military affairs committee, there to languish and die.

Meanwhile, a million fathers with low order numbers awaited the calls which their draft boards will begin sending out in October to pick the 446,000 family heads that Selective Service officials say must be inducted by the first of the year. Rejections in this class have been running about 50 per cent.

Olin Culberson Addresses Officials

Olin Culberson, State Railroad Commissioner, in an address to the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association convention here Thursday presented some thought provoking discussion with reference to how the Allied nations would approach the problem of post-war Europe. Calling attention to the failure of Allied nations following World War No. 1 to insist upon a peace that would carry with it the assurance of a type of government for the conquered nations that was the selection of the people, Culberson suggested such a plan should be decided upon at the earliest possible moment, consistent with fair judgment.

He said that unless the people of Germany, Italy and the Axis partnership are made to realize they undertook a war contrary to the interest of peace and of the general welfare of mankind, our victory will be only an empty form. "Following World War No. 1 we exacted reparations and a confession of guilt from Germany," he continued, "we never did persuade the masses of the German people that they had done wrong or that they had made a mistake in fighting the war, and that future attempts at world conquest would necessarily mean disaster to them."

The German dream of world domination went right on shinning before their eyes through all of the years of German traditionalism of Junkers or industrialists never did lose sight of their plan to someday come back and show the world that Germany is master of the world.

Culberson suggested a strong supervisory force should be sent to the Axis countries and a plan developed along the line of the former League of Nations, but with the authority and power behind its pronouncements to enforce them.

"If we are to have a lasting peace," he said, "it must be a true people's peace and it can be a people's peace only if people understand and throw the weight of their sentiment for true democratic equity and justice.

DETROIT — (AP) — Emrys Richards, 51-year-old war plant worker charged with the knife slaying of his stepson's 18-year-old bride, Mary Gallian, pleaded innocent when arraigned in recorder's court Thursday. He was held without bond for examination October 7.

Yankees In Position To Clinch Championship By Friday

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees, whose pennant possibilities have never been in any serious predicament, have reached the point where they can clinch their seventh American championship in eight years Friday.

Apparently realizing they were running behind their timetable of previous years, the bombers bowled over the Detroit Tigers 4-2 Wednesday and need only three more victories to eliminate the Washington Senators and two to dispose of Cleveland.

Keller Gets 29th Homer

Defeats for the Senators and Indians would hasten the process so that the Yanks might get the job done in two days.

They showed adequate authority in taming the Tigers with Charley

Keller hitting a three-run homer, his 29th of the year, in the first inning and Hank Boroway pitching seven-hit ball for his sixth consecutive victory and 10th in 11 games.

The Senators sailed to their 10th straight triumph in the first part of a twilight-night doubleheader as Johnny Niggeling shut out the St. Louis Browns 4-0 on two hits. But they were shelled to a 9-1 defeat in the second game as Denny Galehouse pitched a six-hitter.

Cleveland's game at Boston was postponed, making a doubleheader Thursday.

In the National League Mort Cooper chalked up his 21st success against eight defeats, as the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Brooklyn Dodgers 4-3.

The Dodgers' defeat tightened the National League scramble for second place as Cincinnati split a double bill with the New York Giants. Elmer Riddle came up with his 20th triumph in the opener, which the Reds took 4-2. In the second game the Giants routed Bucky Walters with a five-run seventh inning and won 10-4.

Phils Halve Pair

Boston beat Pittsburgh 5-3 and the Phillies halved a pair of games with the Chicago Cubs. Claude Passau took the first affair 5-1 on seven-hit pitching and Al Gerheuser hurled a six-hit 3-0 shut-out in the second game.

In the other American League action the Chicago White Sox whipped the Philadelphia Athletics twice against eight defeats, as the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Brooklyn Dodgers 4-3.

Bulldogs Ready

Team Primed For Friday Night Tilt

Midland High School's Bulldog gridgers got a respite Wednesday afternoon from the grueling scrimmage sessions which have been their lot for the past three weeks and were allowed to work out in shorts for an hour and 45 minutes.

Coaches Gene McCollum and Jack Atkins, fearing that the boys were getting stale in continuous scrimmaging, dished up a workout in which they had no contact with the shorts-clad gridgers worked on pass offenses, defenses, and punting during the session.

The team is primed for the tilt Friday at 8:30 p. m. with El Paso's Austin High School Panthers and is in good condition, both mental and physical, for the second game of the season. L. C. Neatherlin, who suffered an injured shoulder in last Friday's victory over the Brownfield Cubs, probably will not see action and M. C. Hale is slated to go into the lineup in his place.

James Moore probably will start the Austin High tilt in the line. No other changes from last Friday's starting team are expected to be made.

Other District 3-AA games on schedule Friday are: El Paso High at Odessa, Lubbock at San Angelo, and Cisco at Big Spring. Interest is focused on the Lubbock-San Angelo game, which will give fans some idea of the potency of the Concho country Bobcats, who are among the state favorites. The Westerners are expected to go down in defeat. Amarillo, incidentally, is reigning as favorite in the state play.

This column has been laboring under a mistaken idea that somehow or other the Bulldog starting lineup of last Friday weighed in at an average of 162 pounds—which isn't bad for a high school squad. But a recheck of figures shows that the average weight is about 150 pounds, which isn't too good. Austin High's Panthers average one at 159 pounds.

Jack Mashburn, who is coaching a junior squad of some 40 or more boys, has had his hands full this past week, but he has whipped together a likely-looking team. Although his charges are young and light, they don't lack in spirit and willingness, and they show their pleasure over being given a chance to play football by going at it with vigor.

The Pups will play the Odessa Colts here next Thursday at 4 p. m., and probably will have several other games this season. A return engagement with Odessa's juniors already has been arranged.

Debt Limit May Be Raised Again

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Congress may be asked soon to boost the national debt limit to $300,000,000.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the House appropriations committee told reporters Thursday the present rate of government spending is approaching the present statutory debt limit of $210,000,000.

He estimated the present spending rate at between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000 monthly.

A $300,000,000 limit, Cannon said, may be sufficient "if the war doesn't last too long."

Present prospects, he said, are that war appropriations, which reached a peak for the current fiscal year, will begin to decline next year.

Guesswork About Schoolboy Teams To Be Swept Aside

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

All guesswork surrounding Texas schoolboy football will be swept away this week because the schedule brings every team not here to see action into the thick of the scramble.

The so-called top teams have strong opponents with Highland Park of Dallas clashing with Waxahachie in the state feature.

Amarillo Favored

Rusty Russell is beginning his first full season as coach with the Scotties and appears to have one of Highland Park's better teams in the making. Anyway, the fans will know all about it after it has tested the well-groomed outfit Logan Stollenwerk will take to Dallas.

Other top games of the week pit Amarillo against Abilene, Breckenridge against Wichita Falls, Lubbock against San Angelo, Sherman against Greenville, Henderson with Longview, Goose Creek against Jeff Davis (Houston), and Crozier Tech against its Dallas Rival, Sunset, a 1942 state finalist.

Amarillo currently is the talk of the Interscholastic League. It appears the Golden Sandies again have what it takes to lead the touchdown parade. Lufkin, the pre-season favorite for the state title, has fallen back since its all-state star, Jitter McKinney, was ruled out, and Amarillo now ranks as No. 1.

San Angelo Gets Test

San Angelo, another state favorite, gets a good test with the Lubbock Westerners while state defending champion Austin marches against a Temple team not up to its usual standard but still dangerous for the best of them.

Of the 59 games on this week's schedule four are conferees at the state with the Crozier Tech-Sunset tilt the major struggle in the battle for district titles. Tech showed it had a good team in beating Woodrow Wilson, another highly-rated Dallas outfit, last week.

He was among the first replacements to join the 97th Bombardment Group which played such a vital part in bringing Hitler's North African sojourn to an end, and proved the potency of precision bombing in modern warfare.

Bombardier Now Assigned Here Missed Death By Only Three Seconds In Raid Over Tripoli

Lt. Eugen J. Platek, bombardier, missed certain death by three seconds.

It was over Tripoli in the North African campaign that this Axis-bomber now stationed at Midland Army Air Field as a student officer in the Central Bombardier Instructors School so narrowly eluded death. His Fortress, the "Yankee Queen," flew into the fury of an anti-aircraft barrage on its bombing run over the Libyan port. Plak tore through the wing and tail surfaces, ripped gaping holes in the fuselage and left her gas tanks leaking badly, her controls dangerously damaged. But she flew on, and Lieutenant Platek worked carefully and deliberately over his bombsight until the target, 10,000 feet below, was aligned with his fine crosshairs. He released the bomb-bay full of destruction, turned off the sight mechanism, left his seat and jumped ed for his machine guns as the Nazi fighters came in. Lieutenant Platek had just grabbed the guns when a chunk of hot steel crashed through the plexiglass nose of his compartment and tore through the seat he had left seconds before.

Cattle And Hogs Move To Market In Big Volumes

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Hogs and beef cattle are beginning to move marketwards in considerably greater volume than during August and early September, but don't get excited. The increase doesn't necessarily foreshadow larger meat rations for civilians.

Following a normal seasonal course, the movement of beef cattle from Western ranges has shown a substantial upturn in the last ten days. Reports from 12 principal markets showed receipts last week totaling 268,000 head, or about 14,000 more than the record receipts of the corresponding week last year. Receipts so far this week are running even further ahead of a year ago.

Predictions have been made in government as well as trade circles that the portion moving to feed lots this year would be much smaller than usual because of a narrow profit margin in feeding. These predictions, if borne out, would mean a larger supply of beef, this fall than if a normal portion of the cattle moved to feed lots for fattening. Feed-lot cattle do not become available for slaughter until late in the winter or early in the following summer.

Reports reaching war food administration officials this week indicate, however, that a larger portion of the western cattle are being bought by midwestern feeders for further fattening than had been predicted. Thus the chances of larger meat rations—that is, reduced meat values—are smaller than if fewer cattle were thus diverted.

War Mobilization In Britain Excels All Other Nations

LONDON—(AP)—Urging every provision be made for "the titanic struggle facing us in 1944," Labor Minister Ernest Bevin said Wednesday that the British cabinet had given priority to aircraft construction and urged women up to 50 to go to work in plane factories at once.

In a review of Great Britain's manpower situation before the House of Commons he reported that:

Mobilization has reached a stage not excelled in any other country. Nearly 23,000,000 out of 33,000,000 persons between 14 and 64 who are available for work are in the armed services, civil defense or part-time employment.

Many Women Working

Seven million women are doing part-time work. More than a million women are doing voluntary, non-paid jobs.

Ninety-one percent of Britain's unmarried women between 18 and 40 are employed. Over 80 per cent of childless married women in that group also are working.

More than a million men and women over 65 are in the war effort. Two and a quarter million more people are employed in munitions making than at the end of the last war.

Investing $300 in War Bonds pays for a hospital ward tent.
