British Lash At Three Important Cities In Germany

Nazis Bomb London In Sharp Retaliation Blow During Night

LONDON—(AP)—Ranging over a great area of Southern Germany Thursday night a powerful Royal Air Force bomber fleet pounded three important German cities—Stuttgart, Friedrichshafen and Munich—while a much weaker force of German bombers hit London and Southeast England with the sharpest retaliatory blow in many months, the British announced Friday.

Heavy cloud formations prevented full observation of the results of the RAF operations, an Air Ministry communique said, but the German radio announced that "extensive damage" was inflicted on Stuttgart when the junction of eight mainline railways rivals its industries in importance as bombing targets.

Seven Planes Lost

The Air Ministry said that the Germans were able to push through to London only 15 of 60 raiders which crossed the English coast before midnight and dropped slightly more than 33 tons of bombs on the capital city.

Besides blasting the three important German cities, British planes laid mines in enemy waters, and the Air Ministry said that seven aircraft were missing from the night's extensive operations.

DNB, German news agency, said that Norwich, important north of England city, was also a target of Nazi bombers during the night.

Other Targets Hit

This major raid on Stuttgart's big motor and electrical plants was the 13th of the war.

Friedrichshafen, attacked by a lighter force of Lancasters, is the site of Germany's largest radio location plant. The city, which lies on the shores of Lake Constance across from Switzerland, was last bombed by the RAF during a shuttle raid to Africa on June 21.

Munich, bottleneck of rail transport to the Brenner Pass and birthplace of the Nazi party, suffered new destruction in a visit from light Mosquito bombers. It had been bombed by British and American heavy bombers twice before during October.

Other Mosquitoes ranged into Northwestern Germany to attack additional war targets during the night, the announcement said.

Hitler Attempts To Stop Sagging Morale Of Nazis

LONDON—(AP)—Adolf Hitler told Nazi leaders gathered at his headquarters Thursday that the German people must not be permitted to lose morale, for if they did the war would be lost.

In a patent attempt to whip up flagging spirits of the German people he was quoted by the Berlin radio Friday as saying:

"Weapons alone will not tilt the scales unless human will backs them."

"The party has never allowed itself to be discouraged by setbacks. Its power of action, hard resoluteness and extreme readiness to help provides the German people again today with moral backing and support, particularly in the difficult hours of air attacks."

"If the German people preserve this morale which they have shown on the battlefields and at home, the war can never be lost but must and will bring a great German victory."

Merger Of Telegraph Companies In Effect

NEW YORK—(AP)—The merger of Postal Telegraph and Western Union, creating a unified country wide telegraphic communication system, became effective Friday.

Shortly after the Public Service Commission approved the move Thursday, William J. Deegan, Postal's president, gave a bill of sale to Western Union President A. N. Williams in return for 308,124 shares of a new class B non-par stock.

Names And Addresses Needed On Ration Books

Midland Counties were warned by the Ration Board Friday to put their names and addresses on their No. 3 War Ration Books so the board will know where to return them if they are lost.

Persons finding ration books must turn them over to the office.

Ten-Year-Old Boy Makes Appeal For Return Of Reuben And Rachael, Pet Crows From Infancy

Ten-year-old Louis Griffith is unhappy.

Two of his best pals—Reuben and Rachael—are lost and he has been unable to find a single trace of them. So Friday he placed an advertisement in The Reporter - Telegram offering a reward for their return.

Reuben and Rachael are Louis' pet crows, crows he raised from infancy and to which he had become fondly attached. He has had the pets since last spring when he found them near Andrews, and he raised them first on bread and milk, later on hamburger meat and corn and potato scraps. He clipped their wings when they grew old enough to fly away but he doesn't think they would do that if they could.

At his residence at 907 North D the crows were content to wander around the house and yard and sometimes down the street, but they always came back. When he called them, they cawed loudly, flapped their wings, and hurried to him.

But Louis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Griffith, moved Tuesday to another house at 1807 West Illinois. The crows went along, but apparently they got confused and wandered off looking for their more familiar haunts. Louis has looked for them at the old address but they haven't shown up.

So Louis is making his appeal. If someone found his crows he would like to know it.

He's a little lonely without Reuben and Rachael.

Japs Fleeing From Central Solomons

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC—(AP)—The Japanese are giving up the Central Solomons, pounded into retreat by continuous American air bombardments which left them short of ammunition and sank many of the loaded barges in which they tried to get away.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said Friday the enemy apparently had already abandoned all of Southern Kolombangara, including the principal air base at Vila, and is trying to get out of the northern part of the island through a tight sea and air blockade.

Barge Traffic Stops

At the South Pacific headquarters, Adm. William F. Halsey, Associated Press War Correspondent William Hippie said it was regarded as certain that Americans soon would occupy Kolombangara.

A headquarters spokesman reported that all barge traffic between Kolombangara and Choiseul to the north virtually had ceased, indicating the Japanese either had quit the island or had given up attempts to remove stragglers who have pushed on foot to the northern shores.

The Vila Japanese, for weeks compressed between American forces to the north on Vella Lavella and to the south on New Georgia, suffered losses not only in the barge retreat but also during the day attacks by American torpedo bombers and divebombers on their air base defenses.

Kahili Base Pounded

Friday's communique reported destruction or damage of 18 barges off Choiseul, the staging point to which the Vila troops have been sent on the way to Bougainville.

Estimates of the size of the Vila garrison have ranged from 3,000 to 10,000.

Friday's communique reported that on Monday a large formation of Liberators, screened by Lightnings and Corsairs, pounded anew at Japan's big Kahili airbase on Southern Bougainville, wrecking many planes on the ground. Thirty Japanese fighters tried to break up the raid. The Liberators shot down four, the Lightnings two and the Corsairs three. All planes returned.

Vichyite Purge On In Corsica

ALGIERS—(AP)—In an effort to eliminate exponents of collaboration from posts of influence in post-war France, a systematic purge of Vichyites begun in North Africa by the French Committee of National Liberation has been extended to Corsica and preparations are being made to follow-up the drive in Metropolitan France when the time is ripe.

The purge, which Gen. Charles DeGaulle insists must be carried out in the direction of Francois De Menthon, commissioner of justice, who came out of France two months ago after serving as a member of the under-cover council of resistance on French soil.

Although the committee wants to remove and perhaps punish persons in authority who "went too far" along Vichy's road, the purge will not involve an indiscriminate rolling of heads, De Menthon explained Friday, asserting that it is realized that there may be some in Vichy who did no more than their duty.

Reds Expanding Holds On West Banks Of River

Battle To Wrest Kiev From Nazis Reported Started

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW—(AP)—The Red Army, pressing its new surprise autumn offensive all the way from White Russia to the Black Sea, was reported Friday expanding its three bridgeheads west of the Dnieper River, particularly the one below Kiev which threatened to cave in Germany's entire eastern front.

Front line dispatches to the army newspaper Red Star said the major crossing of the Dnieper south of Pereyaslav, 50 miles below the Ukrainian capital city of Kiev, which may prove to be one of the decisive operations of the war, caught the enemy by surprise and was carried out in four hours under the cover of darkness.

Russian forces which formed the wedge in the German line were reported already to have organized at basic points, consolidated ground and enlarged the bridgehead for further crossings.

Many places taken. Dozens of populated places already have been captured on the west bank of the Dnieper at the central crossing and at the two other north of Kiev near the confluence of the Pripiet and Dnieper rivers, and southeast of Kremenchuk between that captured city and Dnepropetrovsk, the dispatches said.

The announcement of the crossings was taken here to mean that the Red Army positions beyond the Dnieper now are secure and that the battle is under way for the complete liquidation of the German main defense line and the occupation of Kiev. The suburbs of Kiev on the east bank of the river and a city island in the Dnieper were captured previously.

New Smashes Made

The Germans' next natural line was the River Bug, roughly 150 miles to the southwest, but a withdrawal there would undermine the entire northern half of the front and if the Dnieper could not serve as an obstacle to the Red Army in autumn, the Bug would present even less difficulties for crossing in winter.

On the northern end of the front, the Red Army slashed at two sides of the Germans' Leningrad salient. In a head-on collision at the Salient, troops of the Volkohov front smashed through Kirishi, 65 miles southeast of Leningrad. On the deep flank of the salient, troops of the Kallinin front pushed through Nevel, 270 miles southwest of Leningrad.

Naples Is City Of Filth And Thirst, Scientifically Paralyzed By Germans

By HAL BOYLE

WITH THE AMERICAN FIFTH ARMY IN NAPLES—(AP)—Naples is a city with its hand out.

It is a beggar city of almost a million people without water and without food, except scraps, for a week. They have been thirsty so long they have forgotten they are hungry, too.

The city is perhaps the largest that has been completely and scientifically paralyzed. In the days when the Neapolitans were enemies Allied bombers wreaked havoc on the dock and warehouse areas, covering the harbor with the battered hulks of Axis naval and cargo vessels.

Civil War Breaks Out

Then when Italy capitulated, the Germans laid their plans to bring Naples to its knees, exacting vengeance from the men, women and children there to save their own wounded vanity. With bomb and shell they systematically destroyed all remaining communication systems, blew up power feeder plants and smashed what remained of the water supply system. There were no lights.

Civil war broke out when they tried to draft 30,000 young Italians for forced labor in north Italy and the Reich. For seven days machine-gun and rifle fire swept the streets and the noise of exploding grenades echoed all day as the Germans moved about in squads seeking the Italians. The Germans dared not travel alone.

Stench Terrible

The inhabitants—panic-stricken at the firing—ventured out only when unbearable thirst forced them to hunt broken water mains or dip into stinking sewers. Often they were caught in the cross fire in street battles. Sometimes nervous Nazis took no chances and moved them down without warning.

Bodies lay in the streets for hours. For days the wounded lay in their blood. Some died.

Still the Germans could not shoot or stab the people into submission. The guerrilla bands grew in size and daring.

The British and Americans marched into a city festering with filth. They waded through narrow streets ankle deep in dirty papers and rotten orange peelings from which all the juice had been sucked.

Swiss Paper Says Almost No One Escaped From Hamburg Holocaust Caused By Terrific Allied Bombing

By FRANK BRUTTO

BERN, SWITZERLAND—(AP)—The terrific Allied bombing of Hamburg which leveled that vital German port in early August was described Friday as a holocaust in which men, women and children perished as the flames soared to a height of six kilometers (3.7 miles).

The Swiss newspaper Allgemaine Volkszeitung said that almost no one escaped in the heavily populated area of many square kilometers on which the Allied planes planted a "carpet" of hundreds of thousands of explosive and incendiary bombs.

Reminds Typhoon

A phenomenon resulted in which the fire drew the oxygen from the surrounding air, forming a constantly increasing "air chimney" in which the flames mounted higher and higher, increasing in violence and finally forming a compact roof of fire, the newspaper said.

This phenomenon was said to have developed to such an extent at Hamburg that the movement of the air was comparable to a typhoon—a gigantic force pumping air from all directions and the streets serving as conduits with flames rushing through them to meet the offered oxygen. A life and death struggle ensued between the flames and the people, the latter inevitably losing.

The fire, the newspaper said, consumed the last bit of oxygen in cellars and finally exhausted that in air raid shelters which at the same time were subjected to unbearable heat. At the start of the bombing—when there was still time—the people did not dare leave the shelters to face the hail of flaming bombs.

Hamburg authorities who directed the cleanup work said only a minute percentage of the population that dared flee when the attack started, escaped. A few minutes later the attacked area was encircled by fire from which not even the widest streets and public squares could afford refuge.

Those who remained in the shelters—where at least 20,000 persons perished—were reduced to ashes. The authorities were quoted as saying that the heat surpassed that of incinerators. One doctor observed that the combustion of bones was more complete than in normal crematories. There were no traces for identification.

Americans Surge Ahead In Rain, Mud To Reach Main Nazi Defense Line At Volturno On Wide Front

British Eighth Army Beats Back Fierce Nazi Counter-Attacks And Opens Offensive To Take Important Heights At Termoli On Adriatic

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS—(AP)—Battling in heavy rain and mud, Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army has forged ahead and reached the Volturno River, the German defense line north of Naples, on a 16-mile front from Capua to the sea, Allied headquarters announced Friday.

Capua, in the advance were Capua, on the south side of the river, where there is an important crossing, and Castel Volturno at the river mouth, 97 airline miles from Rome.

Capua, the main town on the Mazzoni plain on which the first phase of Gen. Clark's battle for Rome is being waged, is 17 miles north of Naples and 106 straight-line miles southeast of the Italian capital. It was taken in a 10-mile advance along the Via Cassalina, one of the two main roads from Naples to Rome. The other is the Appian Way, nearer the coast.

On the right, where the British Eighth Army was fighting another battle on the approaches to the side door to the Italian capital, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's forces beat back more fierce German counterattacks, took the offensive and occupied an important high area above Termoli along the Adriatic.

Six German divisions were now fighting along the Italian front in fierce action.

Yanks Hit Airport

In their first sweep into Greece, American Lightning fighters of the Northwest African Air Forces destroyed a number of parked planes on the ground at Araxos, on the coast of the Gulf of Patras in the northwest corner of the Peloponnese, an official report disclosed Friday.

The Lightning raid was carried out Oct. 5. On the same day belated reports announced American Liberators bombed Eleusis, an airfield near Athens, shooting down six enemy fighters out of a pack of 30 to 35 which attacked them.

On the Adriatic coast the British Eighth Army again beat off several fierce German tank and infantry attacks and improved its position, the communique said.

Thursday's operations took place in heavy rain and mud and the fighting raged in muddy areas.

Repairs Are Made

The bulletin said that the Fifth Army, in addition to capturing Capua, 160 miles below Rome, has

Keeping The Faith

Once more, and increasingly day by day, the quasi-political strategy followed by the Allies in the Mediterranean is paying dividends in American and English lives. Some of the more impatient, who want no truck with expediency, insist upon denouncing our willingness to deal with Darlan in North Africa and with Badoglio in Italy. Their arguments will carry decreasing weight as the relatives and friends of fighting men discover the very practical results that have been obtained from the policy we are following.

We took Marshal Badoglio at his face value as a non-fascist and, at this time at least, an anti-fascist. He could not deliver Italy to us on a silver platter because the Nazis had too many troops present. But he appears to be doing everything in his power to make good on his commitments to us.

Not only have the Italians stopped fighting against us, but to a greater extent than we had the right to expect they are trying to fight on our side. In continental Italy they are just about as powerless to help us as they had been to harm us; but against Nazis, as previously against us, they do possess a considerable nuisance value.

In Sardinia, where they were not outnumbered, they took the initiative and drove the Germans out, giving us, without the expenditure of a single American or English life, the use of several valuable airfields and some very fair harbors.

If the die-hard haters had had their way Italy would still have been obliged to surrender unconditionally, but we certainly would not have had the active military collaboration that we now are receiving.

About Badoglio, even more than Darlan, we must keep in mind that nationalism is very deeply entrenched in Europe, and we must remember that military men are bred from adolescence in the tradition of obedience to their superiors.

When Mussolini imposed his will upon a weak king, Badoglio went along. There is no evidence that he ever liked the situation. There is much evidence that he did not. But he was loyal to his country and his king.

Now that circumstances have given him opportunity to work and fight against Fascism, he is keeping the faith.

Opening The Portals Of WPB

Tourists have been saying for years that New York is a wonderful place to visit but they'd hate to live there. Maybe they said it about Washington, too, before the war. But no transient caller in our nation's capital has delivered himself of any such observation since then. In fact, few of them have probably said anything printable in a family newspaper, what with the crowded trains, hotels, restaurants, theaters, busses and whatever else is likely to attract more than two people at one time.

And when an out-of-towner's visit involves business with the War Production Board, his feelings are apt to take on a violent tinge. By the time he has been through the involved process of getting to see his man and getting out again, the average visitor is more than ready to flee the town forever and let WPB do with him as it will.

Visitors find that any WPB employee, however humble his position, is slightly less accessible than the Grand Lama of Tibet. But if they think that the time and red tape involved in getting to him is the result of inefficiency and lack of system, they're wrong.

It's all planned. And it may cheer the visitor who has been through the mill to discover that the receptionist who kept him from his quarry may have been quite as confused and frustrated as the visitor himself.

This heartening conclusion is the result of reading a WPB booklet titled "Regulations Governing Entrance to Offices of the Board." In 14 pages of fine type it sets forth the front-door ceremonies involving the leisurely welcome of everybody from a cabinet member to a Western Union messenger onto the premises.

All the rules are different and none of them is easy. Employees, delivermen, the press, special visitors, frequent visitors and just plain visitors, all require a different technique.

Surplus Income:

The Northwestern National Life Insurance Company has made a survey to determine how war wage increases are being spent, and comes up with the findings: Largely on women.

The big increases in spending, says the company, show up in quantity and quality of women's and misses' garments, in jewelry, in furs, in admissions to amusements, in playing cards, in cigarets. Some of these are exclusively for women; others, the company says, like amusements and playing cards and even cigarets, are in considerable part for women.

Meanwhile, a roving reporter finds the jeweler in Eagle Grove, Ia., population 4000, selling two dozen $50 and $75 watches by noon of the day they arrived; the music store at Ames sold out of pianos, some priced up to $565.

There is no necessary conflict between the two reports.

Supper Honors Mrs. Lancaster

Mrs. N. A. Lancaster was the guest of honor Thursday evening in her home, 1705 West Louisiana, when a group of Civic Theater friends surprised her with a spaghetti supper brought by the guests.

Mrs. Lancaster gave a clever talk during the supper hour. Informal dancing, ensemble singing, music on the piano and other instruments made the evening one of delightful informality, which will long be remembered by the honoree, who plans to leave Sunday for Santa Fe, New Mexico, to make her home.

Forty guests attended, most of whom were members of the Civic Theater Association, in which Mrs. Lancaster has been active during the last several years.

Mrs. B. C. Albert of Beatrice, Nebraska, sister and house guest of Mrs. Lancaster, was a special guest.

Betsy Beckham Bundy's Advice To The Lovelorn

Q. I have been engaged to a man who is past 38 for more than six years. He never accumulates enough money for us to be married. He wants to have our home paid for and money in the bank and everything else in the world taken care of before he marries. I do not know of his going with anyone else, and he certainly would not have much time to devote to another as he has been making our home his headquarters for years. I have the opportunity to go out with other men whom I have met recently through girl friends, and I am inclined toward doing so. I know he will be furious, but I want to go more and I am tired of his constant company at our home when there perhaps is no hope of a wedding.
Discouraged.

A. Begin dating the other fellows. Go right on with them. Leave your old sweetheart home to talk with the folks. If he is annoyed by the fact that you are going out with others, there is nothing that will serve to awaken him toward the realization that a wedding is necessary to prevent you from keeping company with others. If he complains to you, you will have the opportunity to tell him frankly that your "hope chest is out-moded" and that you're tired waiting year in and year out for him. Tell him you really are interested in another, or several others, and continue to be interested until he asks you to name the day. If he does not ask this, merely have no time for him in the future and go on with the others. You certainly have given him plenty of time and you should bring the case to a close.

Fire Prevention Week Is Good Time To Remove Risks By Cleaning Up Premises, Obtaining Proper Insurance

This week the nation is observing Fire Prevention Week and citizens have been urged to take special precautions to rid their premises of possible fire hazards to help cut down the nation's fire losses.

Fire strikes without warning and its losses sometimes are irreplaceable. But one of the best precautions against the loss of a lifetime's savings is a good fire insurance policy, the Mims & Crane Insurance Agency points out. Although personal belongings of a sentimental value cannot be replaced, fire insurance is a guarantee that the comforts and necessities will not be denied if fire strikes. It is better to have insurance and not need it than not to have it and need it.

"It is a wise move to protect your investment on your home, household goods, and other valuable property," citizens are reminded by Percy J. Mims. He urges that special care be taken in removing all possible fire hazards during this nationwide observance of Fire Prevention Week, and that those per-

Health Films Will Be Shown To Students

All Midland school students, 10 years of age and older, are invited to a special showing of health films at the Civic Auditorium at 10 a. m. Saturday. The showing of the State Health Department films is sponsored by the Midland County Health Unit.

Students are invited to bring their parents to the program.

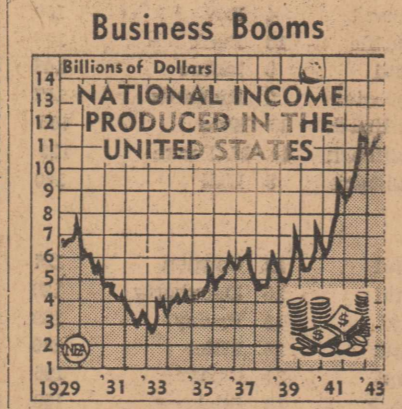

sons who have not removed all risks and gambles with hazards such as fire, lightning, windstorm, hail, explosion and riot by means of insurance do so at once.

The Mims & Crane Agency has a wide reputation for its reliability. It represents the best companies, in which both the agency and the customer can have complete confidence. The firm has been operating here since 1922 and Mims has been connected with it since that time. Claude O. Crane became associated with the firm in 1929.

In addition to general insurance the Mims & Crane also handles real estate, loans and abstract matters. Ranch and city loans are made to responsible parties.

MISSISSIPPI'S SOURCE

Itaska State Park's 32,000 acres in Minnesota contains the source of the mighty Mississippi, discovered in 1832 by Henry Rowe Schoolcraft.

Two years of all-out war production have sent the U. S. national income sky high, according to figures released by Alexander Hamilton Institute. Record high peak was reached last October, and first seven months of 1943 showed an over-all increase of 20.7 per cent over same period last year.

Midland Studio Urges Customers To Have Christmas Portraits Made Now

"Avoid the rush — have your Christmas portraits made now!" is the reminder of the Midland Studio, 118 South Lorraine.

Quality in portraits requires time, and good work cannot be turned out in a rush, Randolph Ruben, manager, points out. Persons planning to have pictures made for Christmas gifts should arrange for sittings as soon as possible, since about 16 days are required for delivery of portraits now. As the Christmas season draws nearer that time may necessarily have to be increased.

Deliver Good Prints Only

"We take particular pride in delivering a picture the customer likes," Ruben said, "and no picture is delivered until the patron is truly pleased. To maintain this standard, we must require sufficient time to turn out the work properly."

The Midland Studio has received a good supply of film and frames — enough to handle an anticipated rush of orders for Christmas portraits. Although it has been fortunate in obtaining this excellent stock, there is a possibility that increased orders may deplete the supply before the holiday period. For this reason, too, the customer should have his portrait made now.

Last year The Midland Studio had all of its orders ready for delivery in plenty of time for Christmas, but to do so it was necessary to refuse sittings after December 10. "We are anxious to avoid the last minute rush this year and this can be accomplished if customers will place their orders this month."

Make Appointments Now

"We would hate to disappoint you by not having your pictures ready in plenty of time, so we suggest appointments be made immediately," Ruben said.

The Midland Studio is well supplied with modern equipment throughout and is staffed with experienced workers. Ruben has had special training with the New York Institute of Photography and has been in professional photography a number of years.

Mrs. Ruben has specialized in portraits and does the oil painting. Fine photography is a watchword with The Midland Studio.

Don't be disappointed — have your Christmas portrait made now at The Midland Studio.

Argentina Starts Speculation Over Ambassador Shift

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Argentina, playing a lone game in the Western Hemisphere, aroused new wonder among diplomats Friday by a sudden switch of ambassadors to the United States.

Felipe A. Espl, ambassador here since 1931 and one of the most popular men in his circles, was ordered home. Adrian C. Escobar, former ambassador to Brazil and Spain, replaces him.

The question was: Is this a rebuff to the United Nations?

Some thought that the action was only part of the Argentine's revamping of its diplomatic setup. A decree recently retired the envoys to Mexico and Vatican City, for instance.

There existed though the possibility that the only South American republic refusing to enter the orbit of the United Nations simply was showing again its independence of thought.

The wavering relations between the U. S. and Argentina weren't especially helped recently by Secretary of State Hull's flat refusal to lend lease war materials. Hull made it plain that Argentina could have the same aid as Brazil, for example, only if it followed Brazil's example and broke with the Axis.

Hull's announcement that Ambassador Norman Armour, here since August for consultations, would return to Buenos Aires, cleared the atmosphere somewhat.

Aviation Cadet Is Champ Sitter-Upper

STATE COLLEGE, MISS. — (AP) — A month ago young Gregory Seros, an aviation student from Springfield, O., did 1,150 sit-up exercises only to have this school record surpassed by aviation student Hal Nease, who managed 1,440.

Said the wage: "This will make Seros sit up and take notice." That it did.

Of a Saturday afternoon when military discipline relaxed sufficiently, Seros borrowed a large electric fan and a radio. He took these items and 30 student witnesses to his dormitory room, laid a mattress on the floor and set to work.

Witnesses saw Seros lie on his back, hook his toes under a desk at the foot of the mattress and begin raising and lowering his body to the varied beat of the radio's music. They saw Seros, hands locked behind his neck, perform 3,650 air-cooled sit ups.

The standard test for aviation students rates a man 100 per cent on sit-up if he is able to do 114.

Marines In Pacific Complete Education Through Paperwork

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC — (AP) — Marines on this South Pacific outpost are preparing themselves for their part in the post-war world by completing their educations via the correspondence school method.

Many of those who are high school graduates have enrolled in university extension, and many more are taking the courses and subjects offered by the Marine Corps Institute and the United States Armed Forces Institute. The subjects being studied range from Greek to railroad engineering.

It is not uncommon to find a Marine, who has spent a long, dawn-to-dusk day working in the jungle, hunched over a homemade table or desk solving some problem in higher mathematics by lantern light. Radio, telephonics and areology head the list, closely followed by accounting, economics, business administration, personnel management, law and mechanical courses.

Some of the Marines are completing their high school education by mail. Others are keeping up with their university or college classes, working for the diploma which they would have gotten had they not joined the Leathernecks.

Vanishing Patrolman

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Pedestrians on downtown Sanson Street couldn't believe their eyes. Where a mounted patrolman had been a second before, there was just a hole in the pavement.

Patrolman Clark Hill and his horse, Pal, were removed from a cellar two hours later, with the help of an S.P.C.A. ambulance, two fire trucks and a 10-ton crane.

Detectives Seek Dog In Hunt For Clues To Slaying

DALLAS — (AP) — Charles Beals, 44, plumber, surrendered to Chief Deputy Bill Decker Friday and said he fired the shot which killed Weldon Westmoreland, 24-year-old Motley County farmer, whose body was found Thursday night in thick underbrush on the shore of White Rock Lake.

DALLAS — (AP) — Dallas detectives would like to find a reddish-brown dog named Junior as a possible clue in the slaying of Weldon Westmoreland, 24, a Motley County farmer.

The victim's wife, 22, led detectives Thursday afternoon to White Rock Creek, where they found her husband's body in thick underbrush. He had been shot once in the chest.

Detective Inspector Will Fritz quoted Mrs. Westmoreland as saying two men whom she did not know killed her husband and abducted her for a short time. Detectives E. R. Gaddy and M. W. Stevenson quoted her as saying later that one of the men had a dog named Junior.

Story Is Related
Fritz said this was Mrs. Westmoreland's story.

The Westmoreland's left their farm home near Matador Wednesday to come here, where she was to take a beauty course. They arrived Thursday and decided to rest by the roadside before going to her aunt's house here. Two men approached while they rested on blankets near the creek. Her husband engaged them in conversation and later the three men went into the underbrush and shot at a target with her husband's and their own guns. Mrs. Westmoreland went back to the Westmoreland car to wait. She later became worried, went to find her husband, and was met by one of the strangers who forced her at pistol point to get into the strangers' car. They drove around for a while before she induced the men to free her. She stopped at a cafe and called police.

Uncle George Has Good Word For Washington

KNOXVILLE, TENN. — (AP) — Washington, believes "Uncle" George Worsham, is the wonder city of the world.

Worsham was in dire need of an alarm clock. He couldn't find one in Knoxville so he wrote to the state welfare department in Nashville, explaining the government ought to do something about it. After all, he said, he fought for America and never asked for a pension for his services.

Errand for Q-74

By Malcolm Taylor

COPYRIGHT, 1943, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Capt. Raymond Imhof, Q-74, U. S. Army Intelligence, has been assigned to follow elev-trail of Enzeli, Q-49, leading to certain important information which Enzeli has been unable to bring out of Germany. The plane from which Imhof was to parachute into enemy territory is forced down over the Moselle. He and RAF Pilot Officer Danforth escape unharmed. On the road to Coblenz, Imhof accidentally discovers Danforth is a girl.

PAT AND RICK

FOR a second Imhof's brain whirled like a pinwheel in a strong wind.

Danforth a girl! But a girl in the RAF—nobody could get away with that! Yes, but she had! He himself had been fooled in their interview at Skipford.

Dismay succeeded amazement in Imhof's whirling thoughts. His mission! He was on a spot. A girl! That altered things—complicated them. What was he to do? He and the girl stared at each other. She was the first to speak. "How rotten!" she exclaimed. "I meant that you shouldn't know, I ought to have peeled off right away."

"Great Scott!" said Imhof, staring at her and trying to stop the pinwheel in his head. "This is—this is—" he gestured helplessly. "How you got into the RAF or fooled me at Skipford, I don't know, but—"

"I'm not! I didn't!" she disclaimed. "I meant I'm not in the RAF and I didn't fool you at Skipford. It was my brother, Patrick Danforth, you saw there. I'm Patricia, his sister. We're twins, identical twins."

"You certainly are!" said Imhof and stopped the pinwheel. "But why are you here, I'd like to know—not your brother?"

"He couldn't come. Had an accident."

"Surely he didn't send you in—" his place?" Imhof asked incredulously. "Of course not," Patricia Danforth denied. "Rick had no idea I was coming."

"Tell me what happened," said Imhof. "I KNEW nothing about tonight's flight till Rick told me about it at our home this evening," explained the girl. "We live a few miles from Stansbury, so he stopped over to see us on his way from Skipford."

"We were having dinner early as Dad had to go on Home Guard duty and Mother had a first-aid class in the village. Rick decided to stay and have dinner with us instead of at the stuffy mess at Stansbury. After dinner Dad and Mother said goodby and left. Rick and I talked about the flight some more till it was time for him to start for Stansbury. He went up to his room a minute to get something and we were coming down again when it happened. Rick was in front and he turned to say something when he stepped on Beetle's ball. Beetle, our Scottie," she added parenthetically.

"Rick took a terrific spill. He sat on the floor and grinned, but when he tried to stand up he nearly fainted."

"I raced to the phone and tried to get Skipford, but the line was engaged."

Imhof nodded. That was probably just when the C. O. at Stansbury was calling Skipford.

"But I kept on trying, meanwhile discussing with Rick what to do about coaching his substitute. Things like where and when and at what altitude he was to pick up the bombers. Rick had his flight instructions from London about all these things. I'd read them, gone over them with him. The new pilot would have to have them. So we decided that as soon as I got Skipford and arranged for a substitute, I was to—"

"I thought you Yanks were quicker steppers," she said. "Pat—"

Nazi Navy Chief Promises Revival Of Sub Warfare

LONDON —(AP)—Admiral Karl Doenitz, supreme commander of the German navy, declared in a Berlin broadcast Friday that submarines still are Germany's greatest threat to the Allies and promised a new naval war "greater than anything witnessed so far."

"It is my firm and fanatical intention to carry on the war against the enemy's tonnage to the highest level of perfection and with all means at our disposal," he said in a war summary broadcast by the Germany news agency DNB.

"With new weapons and new devices, German U-boats will engage the enemy in all the seas," he asserted, adding that "in the long run this type of warfare may be of decisive significance."

Referring to new technical devices with which the German U-boat fleet recently was reported outfitted for the revival of the battle of the Atlantic, the Nazi naval chief declared that "German science will remain on the enemy's heels."

Nazis Used Plastic Mines To Slow U. S. Landing At Salerno

BOSTON —(AP)—Lt. Walter A. Reynolds, USCG, of New London, Conn., who was aboard the first Coast Guard landing craft to enter Salerno harbor, told Friday of a new type German land mine encountered on the battle-scarred beaches.

He said the land mines were made almost entirely of plastic and concrete to escape our electric mine detectors.

Lieutenant Reynolds pointed out that in the past troops had been able to move across enemy territory only as fast as the mine detectors could go.

"At Salerno," he said, "that speed was reduced by the necessity of prodding into the ground with rods and bayonets for these non-metallic mines.

"The Germans had some of these new mines in North Africa, but not until we got to Salerno did they use them almost exclusively."

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Here is a hand that caused quite an argument. You will notice that it was rubber bridge and both sides were vulnerable, and in addition, both sides had 40 on the score. The argument started when North passed his partner's three-diamond bid. Someone took the hand to Alvin Roth, holder of the world championship Masters individual title, who, by the way, went into the Army recently. He more or less agreed with the pass, but Al was probably thinking more of the Army than of the bridge hand when he gave that opinion. Most players who have discussed the hand since agree that North is justified in responding with four no trump, in which case South should not bid six diamonds, but should bid six no trump. After all, he could have bid three diamonds on a much weaker hand.

Someone said, "Suppose that North had the queen and jack of spades, instead of the king-eight." Then it was agreed that the proper response would be three no trump. South would then bid four hearts. North could make another slam try by bidding five clubs. Now if South had a singleton spade and two clubs, he could bid six diamonds. But having a doubleton spade, he should be content with a bid of five diamonds.

Study Discloses Bullets Bounce

NEW YORK — (AP) — A high velocity rifle bullet, shot into a can filled with water, explodes the can, and this explosion occurs after the bullet has passed through, and not during its passage.

This fact is from a study of explosions in War Medicine by Col. George R. Callender, Army Medical Corps.

The water in the can pulsates after the bullet strikes. First the inertia of the fluid is such that the energy transmitted from the speed of the bullet to the particles of water is momentarily stored. There is a sharp but brief rise in the pressure in the can, which however, causes no visible change.

Pressure Explodes Cans
The initial pressure rise is followed by what appears to be a rebound, which sets up a negative pressure of less intensity but greater duration than the first positive pressure.

The negative pressure amounts to contraction of the fluid. It is followed by a positive, outward pressure, which is less intense than the initial pressure rise, but which lasts longer. This last positive pressure explodes the can.

This action of fluid explains some of the damage done in wounds, where sometimes a bullet penetrates cleanly but tears on other occasions.

Another explanation is the precession of a bullet as it slows down. Precession causes the bullet to wobble like a dying top.

SEATTLE — (AP) — As their part in the third war loan drive, five young high school boys held an auction. The items, they asserted gravely, included Churchill's bow tie, Eleanor Roosevelt's baby tooth, and rivets from a Russian ship.

Only the rivets were authentic — but the boys' auction netted $1,125 in war bonds.

SMETHPORT, Pa. — (AP) — A saddled, riderless horse trotted up to a group of well diggers and stood patiently while the men talked, puzzled.

Finally one of them mounted into the saddle. The horse turned and galloped about a mile to where Norman Hull lay with a fractured leg.

Hull, hurt in a fall, said he sent the horse for rescuers.

Bulldogs Meet Sweetwater Team Here Friday

Johnny Lindell's Blocking Gives Yankees Rally Point In Eighth Inning To Pave Way For 6-2 Win Over Cards

By SID FEDER
ENROUTE TO ST. LOUIS.—(AP)—This was strictly an American League league party that headed for the Missouri flatlands Friday and the final fling of the 1943 World Series, all because Jumpin' Johnny Lindell showed that as a baseballer he's a pretty good blocking back. The Yankees took an important—almost a vital—2-1 edge in games with them into the enemy's back yard for the opening of the Series stretch run starting Sunday in St.

Louis. And since their five-run eighth inning spree gave them a tremendous psychological lift as well as a 6-2 win Thursday before a series record get-together of 69,900 customers, all the heat now was on the Cards in defense of the world championship they won a year ago.

Wins For Yanks

Hank Borowy

Hank Borowy went the route Thursday to pitch the New York Yankees to their second victory in the World Series as they blasted the St. Louis Cardinals 6-2.

Mustangs Rated As Favorites In Conference Tilt

Midland To Be Minus Services Of Stickney

Midland High School's Bulldogs will square off at 8:15 p. m. Friday under the lights of Lackey Field with the Mustangs of Sweetwater High in the second conference tilt for the charges of Coaches Gene McCollum and Jack Atkins.

Ready or not, the Bulldogs will find themselves facing one of the toughest and most consistent opponents of their 1943 season, an opponent which has won its first three games by big margins. And they will be battling the Mustangs without the services of at least one of their top-notch ball carriers, Joe Stickney.

Odds One-Sided
The two mentors will be sending their players into the fray with little hopes for victory, since the odds are stacked against them. In addition to Sweetwater's record of three overwhelming wins, the Bulldogs have a black mark against their side of the ledger because of a natural let-down following their keeled-up battle with the highly-touted San Angelo Bobcats last Friday. In addition to Stickney there are other injury casualties among the squad, none serious enough to keep the victims out of play, however. L. C. Neatherlin, lightweight back, suffers shoulder hurts but probably will see some action and Signal Barker Bill Richards has a sore foot. Bruises are rife.

But once again the Midland team will show fans a good brand of ball game—a brand that won them praise for their courageous battle against the all-powerful San Angeloans.

Ivan Hall has been shifted into the slot left vacant when Stickney suffered severe bruises on the inside knee. Hubert Drake has been moved into the Bulldog backfield to Hall's slot and the remainder of the lineup is the same.

New Plays Given Out
New plays have been given the team this week, and rugged drills on both offense and defense have been on the schedule during the practice sessions. Both Sweetwater and Midland work from the T formation.

The Mustangs will have an all-veteran backfield working behind a well-balanced line Friday night. The starting team will average about 182 pounds, while the Bulldog average is only 150 pounds. The Mustangs boast a letterman guard weighing 170, another guard 200, two tackles, tilting the scales at 202 and 165, a center weighing 147, and two ends weighing 150 and 153. The letterman backfield weighs 157, 130, 160 and 145. In addition, Coaches Larry Priddy and Max Alexander have plenty of reserves ready for call.

Sweetwater is rated in the favored light for the game by virtue of its sweeping triumphs over Roscoe 35-0, over Brownwood 26-7, and over Plainview 33-0. The Bulldogs meet Plainview next Friday.

The probable line-ups:

Dismuke LE Watson
Bryer LG Spangue
Pate LG Taylor

Tarver RG Roy
Gainer RT Funk
Hayler RE Moore

Humble To Broadcast Four Football Games
The third week of the football season finds four games scheduled for broadcast by the Humble Oil & Refining Company Saturday.

The game to go on the air is the University of Texas and Oklahoma University clash at 2:50 p. m. It will be heard over WOAI, San Antonio, and WFAA, Dallas-Port Worth.

2:50 the game between Rice Institute and Tulane will go on Station KRLD, Dallas.

Both evening broadcasts will start at 7:50. The Texas A. & M.-L. S. U. game will be on Stations KGKO, Fort Worth-Dallas, and KTTSA, San Antonio.

The S. M. U. and the Naval Air Technical Training Center game at Memphis will be heard over Station KRLH, Midland.

Yanks' Forgotten Man Rapped Out $4,000 Hit
NEW YORK.—(AP)—Oscar Grimes is the forgotten man of the Yankees. Until the McCarthymen clinched the American League pennant, the former Cleveland Indian had made just one hit in 15 trips to the plate.

That hit cost $4,000, or whatever full share sum the Yanks draw after the World Series.

Grimes will not get in the Series unless one or two Yank infielders come up with injuries.

Grimes' record recalls the Yank's former third-string catcher, Arndt Jorgens, who sat around the bullpen for years, very seldom getting into a game, but always drawing a full Series share. Arndt retired and now is in the wholesale grocery business in Chicago.

Babe Ruth led the American League in bases on balls 11 times. In 1923 he walked 170 times.

Four Conference Squads Will See Action Saturday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor

Only four of the six games will be in action but close to 65,000 fans are due to see Southwest Conference teams play outside opponents Saturday.

Texas meets Oklahoma at Dallas and Rice tackles Tulane at Houston in day games while Texas A. and M. engages Louisiana State at Baton Rouge in a nocturnal affair.

Arkansas goes outside the conference but not for an inter-sectional joust as the Razorbacks entertain Arkansas A. and M. of Monticello.

If the conference splits even in the four tilts it can figure on a pretty good week-end.

Southern Methodist and Texas Christian rest this week, SMU because travel restrictions prevented Naval Air Technical Training Center from playing the Mustangs, and TCU because it just doesn't have a game.

Texas A. and M. plays an important tilt with Louisiana State—that is, important so far as the conference's national ambitions are concerned. It will also be the real test for Homer Norton's "glorified" high school team.

Having hit every game last week and feeling quite cocky, we pick 'em like this Saturday.

Texas vs. Oklahoma at Dallas—Taking Texas by a narrow squeak but the Longhorns probably will have to score more than a touchdown and a field goal. Bob Brumley is pretty sure to get ten points for the Sooners.

Rice vs. Tulane at Houston—The Owls ought to climb into the win column in this one.

Arkansas vs. Arkansas A. and M. at Fayetteville—Arkansas is the selection because the Razorbacks should have more teamwork.

Texas A. and M. vs. Louisiana State at Baton Rouge—Louisiana State in a scoring battle but an Aggie triumph would be no major upset.

U. S. FIGHTER BASE IN ENGLAND.—(AP)—The rabbits around this P-47 Thunderbolt base are taking a beating these days all because a young American air force officer from Iowa got special permission to have his bow and arrows shipped to the land of Robin Hood.

Back in Marshalltown, Iowa, Lt. Dale Leaf was a member of the local archery club but when he went off to war he figured his days with the long bow were done. He left his archery equipment behind.

Gees Into Action
Then duty brought him to this aldrone situated in lovely English countryside and literally alive with rabbits. Memories of his rabbit-hunting days in Iowa spurred Leaf to action.

"I decided to send home for my bow," said Leaf, a ground officer. "But I hadn't figured on the trouble involved. I had to get a special letter from my commanding officer addressed to the postmaster back in Marshalltown authorizing him to waive the postal regulations. You know you're not supposed to send packages that big in wartime."

When the equipment arrived Leaf and his roommate, Capt. Edwin Caudill of Patchogue, L. I., bought three bales of straw from neighboring farmers and the boys in the parachute department painted a target on some spare cloth.

Plan To Hunt Deer
It wasn't long before they started on the rabbits with extremely good results. Presently they began to look about for bigger game—and they think they have even that lined up now.

Bullpups Beaten 13-7 In Contest With Big Spring

Coach Jack Mashburn's Bullpups dropped a 13-7 decision to the Big Spring Yearlings Thursday night in Big Spring, giving the Midland junior team one win and one loss in two starts this season.

Fumbles and faulty work cost the Bullpups, who led in first downs, the ball game. The two teams were about evenly matched.

The Bullpups scored in the third quarter on a 25-yard pass from Yeager to Goode, with Goode running about 10 yards to cross into pay dirt.

The Yearlings' first score was made on a 57-yard run in the first period and the second came on a long pass in the second canto.

The two teams will meet in a return engagement here October 21. The Bullpups play Odessa their next Thursday.

Neely Grabs At All Possible Candidates

HOUSTON.—(AP)—Those who don't want to play football had better stay away from the Rice practice field.

Coach Jess Neely grabbed his student manager, Jack Simms, and made him a starting end. Simms broke his leg in the opening game. That didn't stop Neely. He reached into the cheering section.

Now Assistant Yell Leader Jimmy Cotton, a junior, is slated to start at wingback in the game Saturday.

Chicago Bowler Posts Season's Record Score

Chicago.—(AP)—A Chicago bowler posted a three-game total of 770 in league competition to claim the highest score for the new league season.

Joe Aubert started his series heading for a perfect game, getting 10 consecutive strikes before he blew his chance to get 300. But he finished with 288, then rolled games of 235 and 247.

He had only one open frame—the last one of the third game.

Youth Killed While Playing Football In Parlor Of Residence

GOULD, ARK.—(AP)—Several teen-age boys were playing indoor football in the parlor of a Gould residence Thursday night.

On a kickoff, the ball slanted off the kicker's foot and struck a loaded small-caliber rifle standing in one corner of the room.

The gun discharged, the bullet striking 14-year-old Joe Bernon Boren, Jr., over the heart. He died shortly afterwards.

Big Spring Man Back From Mediterranean

HOUSTON.—(AP)—Captain Olie Cordill, former Rice football star from Big Spring, is home on furlough, fully recovered from a back injury received when his plane cracked up in a takeoff July 20 in the Mediterranean area.

Captain Cordill is getting acquainted with 17-pound Olie Cordill Jr., born June 20 while his father was flying over Borzeo airport on one of his 12 bombing missions during the African and Sicilian campaigns—exploits which earned the Air Medal and Oak Leaf Cluster.

MORROW IS PROMOTED

Sgt. Ray Morrow, formerly at the Midland Army Air Field, has been promoted to staff sergeant at the Liberal, Kansas, Army Air Field.

Don't Bank Too Strong On It

Robertson Picks Notre Dame Over Ramblin' Wrecks, Navy Over Duke

By ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK.—(AP)—Confronted by what figure to be three of the best games of the season, involving six unbeaten teams, we give you the following football selections for this week-end with the hope that the final figures will be something better than the identical record for each of the first two weeks (32 wins, eight losses and one tie).

Notre Dame-Michigan—Tempted to toss a coin after comparing Bertell's pitching with Daley's running. But off the Irish's 55 points against Georgia Tech as compared to only 21 scored by the Wolverines on Northwestern we'll pick Notre Dame.

Navy Over Duke—Two strong teams well fortified in reserves meeting their first big tests. Calling on a slightly prejudiced fortune-teller we give you the Middies in a close one.

Dartmouth-Pennsylvania—I'll take Pennsylvania.

Cornell-Princeton—Capt. John Wheelchel, Navy coach, is the authority that Cornell has a good first team but no reserves. Neither has Princeton. Realizing we haven't yet called the Tigers correctly one vote is cast for Cornell.

Illinois-Wisconsin—The Badgers have too much for the weak Illini squad.

Indiana-Nebraska—Off the Hoosiers' showing against Northwestern two weeks ago it's Indiana.

Tulane To Be Rice
Rice-Tulane—The Greenies from Tulane.

Temple-Army—The Owls are not going to stop that high-powered machine at West Point.

Texas Aggie-L.S.U.—Steve Van Buren to lead the Bayou Tigers to victory.

Oklahoma-Texas—Eenie, meenie, minie, moe—Texas.

Colgate-Penn State—If for no other reason than the Nittany Lions are playing at home, Penn State.

Clemson-Virginia Military—Clemson on the upgrade.

Tulsa Over Tech
Kansas State-Missouri—A sticker we'll take a job at Kansas State on strength of surprise victory over Washburn last week.

Texas Tech-Tulsa—Tulsa should continue unbeaten.

St. Marys Pre-Flight—Southern California—Southern California.

College of Pacific—California—Stagg has too many Navy stars at Pacific for the Golden Bears.

Right down the line: March Field over U.C.L.A., Holy Cross over U.S. Coast Guard Academy, Pittsburgh to win its first game of the year at the expense of West Virginia, and on Friday—Georgia to beat Wake Forest.

San Antonio Tech Is Off Undeclared List

By The Associated Press
There's one less undefeated-untied team to contend with Friday in the Texas high school football race. Previously unbeaten San Antonio Tech fell 28 to 7 Thursday before Brackenridge of San Antonio.

Two others of the perfect record class came through with victories by big scores. Masonic Home (Fort Worth) defeated Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) by 34 to 0. Sunset of Dallas defeated Adamson, also of that city, 30 to 7.

In other Thursday games, Milby defeated San Houston, both of Houston, 27 to 0; and Palestine edged by Nacogdoches, 14 to 13.

A's Trade For Radcliff
NEW YORK.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics have obtained Rip Radcliff, 35-year-old outfielder, from the Detroit Tigers in a swap for Catcher Bob Swift and Infielder Don Heffner.

Radcliff has been with the Browns and the Chicago White Sox, as well as the Tigers, in his 10 years in the majors.

Ammonia has at least 2,000 different industrial uses.

Repentance
Clemson's drum-beater, Joe Sherman, who moaned that the 17-year-old Tigers would be afraid to run against the wind this season, now wins: "After ten twice, I've gone overboard for them and am now calling them the Whiz Kids". Illinois still holds the copyright on that name, but it adds up to a good tip on Saturday's Clemson-VMI game.

POINTS OF PRIORITIES
To produce 1,000,000 pounds of war goods daily, an ordnance plant must haul in and out 18,000,000 pounds of material, enough to fill 500 freight cars.

Redding, Calif., has a municipally owned gold mine.
