Big Increase Predicted Soon In Oil Runs

By JAMES C. WATSON, Oil Editor

Crude oil production in the West Texas Permian Basin may increase approximately 73 per cent to a total daily average output of not less than 570,000 barrels by early in March, 1944, according to information received by The Reporter-Telegram Saturday from the Office of the Petroleum Administrator for War in Washington.

When additions to facilities for transporting petroleum from this region to refining centers, which now are approved and on which construction is getting started are completed, outlets will be available for handling 230,000 barrels of additional oil on top of the approximately 333,500 barrels being carried out now each 24-hour period.

When the Stanolind Pipe Line Company 16-inch line from the Slaughter field to Drumright, Okla., and the Magnolia Pipe Line Company 12-inch line from Midland to Corsicana, which is to be connected with the new loop from Midland to Andrews and Seminole, are completed, PAW executives expect sufficient pipe lines will be available to move the maximum amount of oil that can be "efficiently" produced in the Permian Basin, according to George A. Wilson, acting director of transportation for the Petroleum Administration for War.

Congressman R. E. Thomason forwarded to The Reporter-Telegram a copy of a letter from Wilson answering a suggestion that more definite arrangements be made to move more oil from the Midland area to the Kansas City-Chicago districts.

As presently planned, the Stanolind line from Sundown to Drumright will be able to move 65,000 barrels of oil daily, Wilson said. PAW has called on Stanolind, he asserts, to consider the installation of enough extra pump stations to raise the capacity of that line to 115,000 barrels per day.

The new Magnolia line will handle 42,000 barrels each day, Wilson said, with the three pump stations planned for the line at this time. Putting in of three more boosters will raise its capacity by 18,000 barrels to 60,000 barrels per day.

The Humble Pipe Line Company conduit from West Texas to Corpus Christi, recently put into full capacity service, can handle 54,000 barrels daily, Wilson told Congressman Thomason.

The three additional facilities, with present planned equipment, when all are completed around March 1, 1944, will increase the outlet for West Texas oil by 160,000 barrels daily, the PAW executive asserted. Installation of suggested additional pump stations on the Stanolind and Magnolia lines would add 70,000 barrels per day more to the aggregate capacity for moving oil, he said.

"At this time," Wilson reports, "estimates of all petroleum experts indicate a maximum efficient rate of production from the Permian Basin of 570,000 to 614,000 barrels per day."

In summing up the PAW picture on the Permian Basin, Wilson gives the impression that the federal body which is regulating the oil industry is convinced that this region will be able to move all the oil it can produce by early next spring.

Patrols Engage In Hit-And-Run Tilts With Nazis

British Eighth Army Continues Advance On Adriatic Coast

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS — (P) — American Fifth Army patrols have smashed across the Volturno River, where the Nazis have chosen to fight the first round in the battle for Rome, and clashed in hit-and-run engagements with German troops reinforced by an entire new division, headquarters announced Saturday.

The Cairo radio said in a broadcast recorded in London late Saturday that Allied forces had crossed the Volturno "on a broad front."

The Germans were retreating to positions along the Garigliano River, some 15 to 20 miles north of the Volturno and 80 to 85 miles from Rome, the broadcast added.

Caserta, strategic rail and highway center 16 miles north of Naples, fell to the Fifth Army as the last enemy resistance on the south side of the Volturno and Calore rivers was wiped out.

Rehman Morin, Associated Press correspondent with the Fifth Army, said in a dispatch from the front that Allied troops had reached the Volturno "along its whole length from the mountains to the sea."

A distance of approximately 30 airline miles.

ALLIED ARMIES ADVANCE — The American Fifth Army in the west and the British Eighth Army in the east both advanced two to three miles in spite of heavy rains which caused floods in some areas.

Although the bad weather continued, bomber and fighter squadrons of the Northwest African Air Forces kept up their hammering of enemy supply lines on both sides of the Italian mainland and teamed with Middle East air units to smash at Nazi air fields in Greece, Crete and the Dodecanese.

While Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's forces were in complete control of the south bank of the Volturno, an officer at headquarters emphasized that no major body of the Fifth Army had yet crossed the river.

Rommel Organizes Defenses — The patrols which fought their way across the stream ran into brisk small arms and light artillery fire.

The new German division hurled into the battle was the Third Armored Grenadiers, once regarded as a crack combat unit.

The Paris radio declared that the Allies now have 20 divisions in action in Italy, including fresh reinforcements for the Fifth Army.

Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, presumably is organizing his defenses for Northern Italy.

Steppingstones to the Balkans

British landings on four strategic islands of the Dodecanese group, eastern Mediterranean possessions of Italy, brought quick reaction from the Nazis who foresaw these Allied attacks as threats to the Balkans. Nazis based on Rhodes attempted to wrest Cos from the British. Other British landings were made on Samos, Liso and Castellos.

Russians Slay 20,000 Germans In Great Battle

Stalin Hints Drive Into Crimea Next On Schedule For Soviets

LONDON — (P) — Premier Marshal Joseph Stalin announced Saturday night that his Red Armies drove the last German from the Caucasus Saturday after a great battle in which 20,000 Nazi troops were killed and 3,000 taken prisoner, and he hinted triumphantly that as a result the Crimea, Russia's "Florida," would soon be invaded.

In the north the Red Army dashed to within 62 miles of the Latvian border.

The battle clearing the oil-rich Caucasus, about one-half of which the Germans at one time occupied, lasted for "many days," said Moscow's communique, and the Soviets captured great quantities of war material.

More Ground Taken — In the White Russian battle, the fourth major war theater in Russia, the town of Iozno, 25 miles southeast of Vitebsk, fell to three Soviet columns which forced the Moshina River to take the railway town.

Stalin in an order of the day to Col. Gen. Ivan Petrov said the Caucasus victory came "as the result of prolonged and bitter fighting" which "completed the destruction of the Taman forces of the enemy and completely cleared the Taman Peninsula of enemy invaders."

Ordering an extended salute of 20 artillery salvos by Moscow guns to mark this milestone in Russian success, Stalin hinted in these words that the Crimea, just a few miles across the Kerch Strait from the now-cleared Taman Peninsula, would soon feel the weight of Russian assault.

Much Booty Captured — The Russians already are threatening the peninsula from the north by their Middle Dnieper bridge-heads and by fighting along the Sevastopol - Melitopol - Zaporozhe railway.

The Moscow communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor, said that incomplete data showed 7,073 railway cars, 83 locomotives, 540 heavy mortars, 52 tanks, 337 guns, 229 machine guns, 184 stores of military supplies captured in the last Caucasus battle.

The Germans said all troops and supplies had been safely withdrawn at night under the cover of artificial fog and claimed they had killed 335,000 Russians in the fighting.

The elimination of the Germans from the Kuban River bridgehead in the Caucasus ended the last German threat to Soviet oil reserves—and now the Crimean Peninsula with its Black Sea naval base of Sevastopol is laid open for a Soviet attack from the east.

Boy Scouts Drive Continues Here

Midland's Boy Scout campaign for $4,000 to finance the Scout's expanded program and provide a full-time Scout executive for the community, starts its second week Monday with leaders determining to reach the goal as quickly as possible.

More than $2,000 is needed to meet the minimum quota set by the Midland Boy Scout Council, after a thorough study of the needs of Scouting here. It recommended that an experienced executive be employed to devote his entire time to boys of Midland.

George Abell, finance chairman, urged campaigners to visit each prospect and urge liberal contributions for Scouting. Contributions may be sent direct to Abell's office.

U. S. Planes Batter Targets In Poland

Explosives Rained On Submarine Yards At Gdynia Fall Only 450 Miles From Red Front

LONDON — (P) — A mighty American force of British-based heavy bombers made a record distance flight into Eastern Germany and Poland Saturday for smashing attacks on the fugitive German fleet's base at Gdynia, the submarine yards at Danzig, and a large Focke-Wulf components factory at Anklam in Pomerania.

An undisclosed number of enemy fighter planes were shot down in the flight which involved a round trip of at least 1,600 miles. To reach the former free city of Danzig the bombers had to strike over the world's most heavily defended territory. A returning pilot said he ran into "the damndest fighter opposition" he had encountered in 10 missions.

Bombs Fall Near Russia — Explosives dropped by the U. S. bombers fell approximately 450 miles from the active front line in Russia, offering direct support to the Soviet army on the eastern front.

Danzig is approximately 800 miles from London and the former Polish port of Gdynia is 12 miles northwest of Danzig. Anklam is 90 miles north of Berlin. The attack refuted the Germans' claim that their inner industrial empire is safe from aerial attacks.

Effectively splitting the German fighter defenses as the force roared toward its multiple objectives, the big bombers dropped heavy loads on harbor installations and docks at Gdynia, which American Army headquarters said now is used extensively by the German navy, and also on submarine slips and the ship building yard at Danzig, which is actively engaged in the construction of U-boats.

Berlin Raids Foreseen — The third objective for the precision blow, the Arado Flugzeugwerke at Anklam, formerly was the chief manufacturing plant for the standard training aircraft for the German air force but now is engaged in turning out vital parts for German fighters.

With the long flight to Poland effectively accomplished there arose the possibility that daylight raids on Berlin soon might occupy the Eighth Air Force since the German capital is considerably closer to Britain than the targets hit Saturday.

A classic remark by returning crewmen, most of whom were aware that the raid took them within fairly close range of the battling Russian armies, came from Lt. Joe W. Kane of Lynbrook, L. I., N. Y., who said with his tongue in his cheek, "I was surprised that the Russian fighter support didn't show up."

Slow Down, Officer — JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — (P) — A policeman rushed out of the station house on a hurry call. A motor tricycle stood at the curb.

The policeman jumped on, raced the motor, started off with a burst of speed and jerked to an abrupt halt. He had forgotten to unchain the tricycle from a hitching post.

Killed In Action Changes In U. S. Dealings With Allies Foreseen

WASHINGTON — (P) — The off-the-record report of the war the Senate received this week from five of its members has started the ball rolling on what may be far-reaching changes in this nation's dealings with its Allies and the peoples of reconquered lands.

Even military strategy may feel the weight of legislative pressure as a result of the net critical summary of the war's conduct given their colleagues by Senators Russell (D-Ga.), Chandler (D-Ky.), Mead (D-NY), Lodge (R-Mass) and Brewster (R-Mo.).

The effect of their serialized version of a 40,000 mile trip to the world's battlefields, delivered in two closed-door sessions, seems likely to be translated into these early results:

1. Severely weakened opposition to any declaration of foreign policy that makes specific commitments in advance of a statement of post-war intentions by Britain and Russia.

2. Revision of lend-lease operations to prevent other countries (notably Britain) from obtaining credit for furnishing supplies which originate in the United States. Along with this is promised a check on the charge-backs made by other nations as reverse lend-lease.

3. Increased demand by Congress that other countries share fully in relief and rehabilitation and that American agencies not promise postwar benefits that the United States may have difficulty delivering.

4. A developing conviction that this country must maintain military bases far from this continent as well as have military and commercial access to airports we are building everywhere.

Australians Make New Advances In Ramu Valley

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC — (P) — Australian troops moving against Madang, New Guinea, have scored a new advance in the Ramu Valley, a headquarters communique reported Sunday.

This force is thrusting toward Bogadjim, the outpost 20 miles south of Madang which guards the enemy's coastal base.

In a favored hunting ground for enemy ships near Kavieng, New Ireland, Liberators damaged a 1,000 ton transport, one of six ships in a convoy heading north.

Bougainville Hit — In the South Pacific, where the Japanese have pulled out of the Central Solomons, other Liberators blasted at the last big base still in enemy hands—Bougainville in the Northern Solomons.

They raided the Kahili airdrome on Southern Bougainville.

The Japanese sent planes on a weak raid in the area of Finschhafen, New Guinea, an air base recently captured on the Huon Peninsula by Australians.

Yugoslav Forces Battle Nazis In Trieste Suburbs

LONDON — (P) — Yugoslav Liberation forces are fighting the Nazis in the southern suburbs of Italian Trieste, while to the south the Germans have thrown an entire division against patriots in heights commanding the port of Fiume, Yugoslav sources said Saturday.

There was bitter fighting in these renewed drives to seize the two seaports, and in the intensity of Yugoslav the partisans declared they had surrounded the German garrison at Ogulin, 22 miles inland, and destroyed the largest bridge on the railway line from Ogulin to Karlovac and Zagreb.

Sabotage Intensified — Intensified sabotage in Southern Hungary, meanwhile, forced the Germans to proclaim martial law there, the Swedish newspaper Dagens Nyheter said in a Budapest dispatch reported by the Office of War Information.

The southern ramparts of the Hitler-ruled Balkans again were brought under two-play aerial assault with powerful fleets of the Northwest African Air Force striking at airfields in Greece, Crete and the Dodecanese, joined by RAF planes of the Middle East command bombing Heraklion in Crete and Calato in Rhodes.

Pacific War Hero Is Midland Visitor

Capt. Wesley C. Holcombe, who recently returned from the Australia and New Guinea battlefronts, where he went on 155 combat missions, is in Midland visiting his Walter Cowden. With him is his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. mother, Mrs. G. H. Yates of Alpin.

The Army flier returned to the United States about two weeks ago. He has been in the South Pacific war area 22 months and has been in the Army Air Forces about two and a half years.

He wears the Distinguished Flying Cross and clusters, the Air Medal with clusters, and ribbons for two Presidential citations.

When a youth, Captain Holcombe attended school in Midland and he has many friends here.

Outnumbered U. S. Warships Inflict Humiliating Defeat On Nippon Navy

Outnumbered U. S. warships have inflicted a humiliating defeat on Japan's navy in the Central Solomons, and the enemy's 19-month hold on two strategic islands there has been smashed.

An imperial headquarters communique, broadcast by Domei news agency, admitted both Kolombangara and Vella LaVella islands had been given up. The broadcast, recorded by OWI, said troops had been removed "almost without enemy interference."

Three Jap Ships Sunk — But a small force of United States destroyers last Wednesday night sank at least three Japanese warships—a cruiser and two destroyers—and damaged two destroyers as the enemy made a last desperate attempt to rescue troops cut off by encircling Allied forces.

The engagement took place northwest of Vella LaVella Island shortly before midnight. The enemy force was southbound apparently from Raabul, New Britain, in three groups, the first comprising four destroyers and a light cruiser, the second four destroyers, the third barges and gunboats.

The U. S. destroyers, under command of Capt. Frank Robinson Walker of Alabama, tore into the warships.

U. S. Losses Light — A cruiser and a destroyer of the leading force blew up under gun fire and sank. Another destroyer was sunk by torpedo and gunfire. Two more were damaged and a spokesman for Admiral William F. Halsey said one of these probably sank.

"The second Jap force x x x lost heart and departed at high speed," the spokesman said.

American losses were described as "moderate."

Allied planes and surface units for weeks have been taking a heavy toll of Japanese attempting to escape from Kolombangara and Vella LaVella by barges.

Whatever Front It Is

The old argument about a second front goes merrily on, with all sorts of useless differences as to whether the Italian front is the second or the third—and if it is the third, where is the second? Moscow says there isn't any second, and will we please bring one on, in a hurry. Really, does it matter whether the front in Italy is the second, the third, the fourth or fifth? In spite of all denials from Russia, the Italian front is doing what the long-sought "second front" was intended to do, and to that extent the argument seems pretty fruitless.

Russia wanted a second front to pull Nazi troops out of the east—originally to relieve the pressure of German offensive, and later to soften the armor of German resistance. This the Italian front has done. It is in no way detracting from the marvelous job done by the Red armies to point out that their present rapid progress is made possible by the fact that Hitler has taken enormous numbers of men and quantities of equipment off the Russian front to meet the Anglo-American threat coming up from the Mediterranean, and to replace Italian forces no longer in the war.

The number of Nazis pulled off the Russian front has not been known, although our intelligence service undoubtedly could guess rather accurately. It includes not only those who are actually facing the Anglo-American invasion forces, but many times that number who are waiting to see where we shall strike next.

We, like Premier Stalin, would like to see a front, be it second or third or whatever, in France. It looks like the shortest way to Berlin. But our reason for favoring that route is not necessarily the same as that of Stalin. He would like to see us concentrate in the west, where he has no immediate ambitions, if any at all, and leave to him the Balkans area where Russian interest is strong.

We are interested in winning the war wherever it can be won. If victory can come quickest by an Anglo-American invasion of the Balkans before the cross-channel climax, we can't be greatly worried by post-war ambitions.

So far as we are concerned, the front designed to distract Nazis from Russia now exists. We shall develop that front to the limit, and leave it to historians to decide whether it is the Second Front.

Raider Working In U. S.

The people of the United States have again been warned that suicide air raids by the Axis may still be expected. In the meantime another raider, fire, is working daily in our midst destroying millions of dollars worth of vital property.

Whether a factory or a home is burned or bombed, the loss is the same. With farehouses now full of irreplaceable farm crops, and with vital war materials stored throughout the country, a warning should go out for every citizen to be doubly alert to fire hazards.

All over the nation, possibility of fire has been increased by housing developments of a flammable character, by war industries operating in buildings never intended to house them, by storage of irreplaceable materials in warehouses where grass or trash fires constantly menace them, and by inadequate or inaccessible water supplies in areas never prepared for storage or production purposes. These are but a few of the fire risks common to every war congested area today. They are potential hazards as deadly as any bombing raid.

These is little excuse for the existence of such fire hazards. They are generally controllable through painstaking inspections. Every individual in every plant and home should be enlisted to help with such inspection and fire prevention work, just as they are enlisted to sell War Bonds. It is as important to prevent a fire which destroys property or goods which the nation buys with the money from War Bonds, as it is to sell the bonds. It may not be as spectacular to prevent fires as it is to fight them, but it certainly is a more effective means of conserving immediately needed resources.

Fortune Magazine polled business leaders on the question: Do you think a "cradle-to-the-grave" program of minimum security for all in the United States is (a) Impossible and undesirable? (b) Economically possible but undesirable? (c) Desirable but impossible? (d) Economically possible and desirable?

Less than one out of five considers such a program both possible and desirable; only two out of five would want it if we could have it. Three out of five think it undesirable, even if it were possible.

Government Profit

The Postoffice Department made $33,000,000 on domestic airmail in the last fiscal year as compared with less than a fourth as much in 1941-42 and a loss of more than $13,000,000 ten years ago.

This represents a profit approximately 54 per cent of the gross business done. The airmail letter on which you paid six cents cost Uncle Sam somewhat less than three cents to handle, including payments to airlines, airmail postoffices, supplementary railroad mail services, etc.

Dilemma On Capitol Hill

Hurricane Hits Port In Mexico Early Saturday

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—A hurricane with 100-mile an hour winds struck the Pacific coast port of Mazatlan Saturday morning, but first reports said nothing of loss of life. Pan-American Airways reported Saturday.

The aviation company received its information over its own short-wave radio transmitters at the Mazatlan airport, but even this connection has been silent since 12:30 p. m. (CWT). Telephone and telegraph lines to the port are down and all ordinary communication is broken.

Pan-American said its airport manager, Francisco Postlethwaite, first reported shortly after the storm struck between 10 and 11 a. m., by the short-wave transmitter at the airport. Later, at 1:30, a message was received from a Pan-American clipper grounded at Mazatlan. This said the winds and rain had damaged airport buildings and the city's power plant, leaving the regular radio silent and the city of 28,000 without light or power. The local storm was reported to have originated over the Tres Marias Islands off the Mexican Pacific coast and to have moved toward the mainland.

Texas Brothers Fell Sheriff To Escape From Jail

STEAMBOAT SPRINGS, COLO. (AP)—Colorado deer hunters were warned by Sheriff Ernest Todd Saturday night to be on guard against two well-armed Texas brothers who felled him "like a clubbed steer" and fled Friday from the Routt County jail, where they were awaiting trial in the tortureslaying of a shepherd.

The state's big game season opened Saturday with hundreds of hunters going into mountainous North-western Colorado where the fugitives, O. B. Thorneberry, 28, and Randall, 26, were last reported seen driving the sheriff's maroon-colored, police-radio-equipped sedan.

"Both are desperate and highly dangerous. I'm afraid somebody's going to get killed before this is all over," the sheriff opined.

Todd said the Thorneberrys, whose escape followed two previous jailbreak attempts and who have police records in Texas and Missouri, probably would abandon his automobile and might seize a deer hunter's car. Todd said the brothers lured him into the cell with a request for stationery and struck him on the head with a leg ripped from an old-fashioned table.

The brothers were awaiting trial November 3 on charges of slaying Ethelbert Purdy, 56-year-old shepherd whose body was found at his sheep camp south of Hayden last August. Purdy was bound with a rope. He died from exposure and shock. His dog, howling nearby, attracted a rancher to the body. The camp had been robbed of a rifle and some $38.

Governor Clamps Martial Law On Louisiana Parish

POINT-A-LA-HACHE, La. — (AP)—Governor Sam Jones, invoking martial law, dethroned his bitter political enemy, District Attorney Leander H. Perez, at the Plaquemines Parish courthouse here Saturday and set up a temporary military rule under the commander of the state guard, Brig. Gen. Thomas Porter.

Jones issued a proclamation of martial law effective at 12:01 a. m. and with the use of about 600 state troopers removed Dr. Ben R. Slater from the sheriff's office and placed there his own appointee, Walter J. Blaize.

The move was carried out with such strength and precision that armed resistance to Blaize which had existed in the parish for four months was swept aside and the guard was not forced to fire a shot.

The governor's proclamation declared that martial law was invoked "to suppress insurrection and rebellion against law and order" in Plaquemines Parish and to install Blaize in office and keep him from being "interfered with" while lawfully performing "his duties."

The state guard convoy required approximately five hours to negotiate the 40 miles from New Orleans to this little river town by winding levee road.

It was held up twice by obstacles, first near the home of Perez at Braithwaite where a barricade of three trucks had to be moved from the road and then one mile outside of Point-A-La-Hache where a pile of oyster shells was fired with oil on the road.

A clash with parish special deputies was narrowly averted at the Braithwaite barricade where 75 deputies retreated and scattered without giving fight.

When the convoy reached the courthouse Perez and his deputies had departed.

State Department Offers Papers As Answer To Critics

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The State Department, whose critics have accused it of lacking policy, submitted a mass of papers Saturday night to show it was on its toes in the years before the war, and tried hard to head it off.

Its evidence is in the form of 274 official speeches, messages and memoranda which provide a background for the White Book, "Peace and War, United States Foreign Policy, 1931-41." This book was published in January.

These selected documents set forth that the department was forewarned of the inherent dangers of political systems rising in Germany, Japan and Italy, and that this government sought to promote peace and world order and to meet the world-wide dangers resulting from Axis aggression.

The full story of "the fateful decade" cannot become known for about fifteen years, as it is customary procedure to wait that long to publish State Department papers in full. The 274 documents represent only a fraction of the thousands of diplomatic papers sifted to provide the evidence for the book's thesis.

WHAT AMERICA MEANS ---

Freedom of worship is the key to what we're fighting for ---

Where totalitarianism strikes, the first effort that is made is to repress the right of the people — especially minorities — to worship as they please. Further acts of despotism are sequels. But that shall not happen here—because our men are now dying on battlefields, and our mothers are giving up beloved sons, so that each man's Bible may be his book of worship under a free flag—forever—in our own fair land, and in nations around the world.

The 330th AAF Band at Midland Army Air Field is an attraction that is tops... The officers, cadets, WACs and enlisted men and civilian employees at the bombardier school go all out for the famous band as it tours the post on Friday mornings and they tune their ears to the scintillating music played by Master Sergeant's boys...

Now At Yucca

Dorothy Lamour is co-starred with Bing Crosby in Paramount's rousing new technicolor musical about minstrel men and their fair ladies, "Dixie," now showing at the Yucca Theater. Also in the picture is Marjorie Reynolds, Bing's sweetheart of "Holiday Inn."

"disaster," much activity was seen about the other barracks, window cleaning, floor scrubbing and general cleaning up of all description followed.

83rd Base Headquarters and Air Base Squadron: Master Sgt. Walter L. Cole, leader of the imance men, is having his troubles with physical training even though he was a letter man for three years in high school. He was a bookkeeper in civilian life for eight years. He goes in for clothes and has a uniform for each day of the week.

Technical Sgt. George Streicher spent six years working for the American Can Company in his home town of Cincinnati, Ohio. He has three brothers in the Armed Forces, one of whom was wounded in action in North Africa. He can type 80 words per minute and is an authority on travel—traveling in Midland.

Staff Sgt. George T. Cunneen is the office authority of officer's pay and allowances. He spends all his off-duty time playing golf and smoking cigars, and admits he was a part-time politician in the good old days. He recently distinguished his golf ability by a hole-in-one at the Midland Country Club.

Sgt. Harold J. Drogkamp was graduated from a Wisconsin teachers college and coached football, basketball and baseball for a Wisconsin high school. He was a teacher of commercial subjects and still talks better with his hands than with his lips. At present Harold is starting his graduate work through a correspondence course with the University of Iowa.

Tulsans Whip Tech 34 To 7

TULSA — (AP) — Clyde LeForce, gallant little triple threat artist who stepped into the shoes of All-American Glenn Dobbs, almost made Tulsa fans forget the great Dobbs Saturday night as he led the Golden Hurricane to a 34-7 victory over Texas Tech.

A crowd of 13,000 saw LeForce gallop 44 yards to one touchdown and pass to Eric Field for a second after setting it up with a 62-yard sprint that left would-be tacklers sprawled all over the field.

But it wasn't all LeForce's game, for the Bison bombardier spent a large part of the evening on the bench as Coach Henry Frka used three full teams against the Raiders, a scrappy but completely outclassed outfit.

Three days of heavy fighting on the Adriatic front subsided somewhat after Gen. Sir Bernard L. YOUR GOVERNMENT ASKS YOU TO USE LESS GAS

EVERY gas user is asked to conserve natural gas, a vital war material!

This request to all residential, commercial and industrial gas users was made recently in a letter to gas companies from J. A. Krug, Director, Office of War Utilities, War Production Board. Gas conservation is part of a broad program designed to meet a grave war-time shortage of manpower, fuels, material and equipment.

HERE'S HOW EVERY RESIDENTIAL GAS USER CAN HELP

- 1. Prepare your home for winter through insulation, weather stripping, caulking, and storm windows. 2. Close off all unused rooms. 3. Eliminate garage heating. 4. Never use the cooking range for heating the kitchen. 5. Keep home temperatures as low as possible. 6. Reduce temperatures to 55 degrees at night and when home is not occupied. 7. If heaters have no thermostatic control, use them only at such times as actually needed. 8. Save gas in other ways which will occur to you.

J. A. Krug, Director, Office of War Utilities, War Production Board. Gas conservation is part of a broad program designed to meet a grave war-time shortage of manpower, fuels, material and equipment.

Your gas company will cooperate fully with the War Production Board to the end that no essential war industry is without gas to make war materials and no home without gas for essential needs.

However, the success of the program will depend upon our customers. By saving gas you can minimize the requirements of critical materials and manpower necessary to produce, transport and distribute gas. Also, you will help make it possible for war plants to continue making weapons and munitions without interruption, so the war will be won as quickly as possible.

You are urged to heed your government's earnest request for your help.

Renewal Of Sub Warfare Proves Costly To Nazis

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill reported jointly Saturday night that the enemy lost more submarines, sunk or damaged, than the Allies lost merchant ships in the resumption of wolf-pack attacks on Atlantic shipping lanes in September.

The joint statement, issued here and in London, confirmed that the Axis had resumed intense undersea warfare in the Atlantic after a four-month lull.

It told specifically of an attack on a west-bound convoy in the North Atlantic September 19. In the four and one-half day running battle, in which at least 15 U-boats participated, three escort ships and a "small number" of merchant ships were sunk.

The Prime Minister and the President said the enemy will spare no efforts to turn the tide of the U-boat war and utmost exertion and vigilance will be required before its menace is finally removed.

Military To Get Out Of Butter Market

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Military and other government purchasing agencies have arranged to get out and stay out of the butter market until next March to permit the entire production to move into civilian consumption channels.

This action, said War Food Administration officials who disclosed it Saturday, should help relieve shortages which have developed in some areas, particularly those far distant from major producing areas, by making from ten to 30 per cent more butter available for civilians than the average consumed by them during the past seven months.

They make no prediction, however, as to possible changes in the ration point value for butter, which now is 16 points a pound compared with 8 points last summer.

Cadet Norman attended Midland High School and was a student two years at the University of Texas where he won a letter in tennis.

Jones Says Merger Means Better Service

Consolidation of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies, effected October 7, will mean more efficient communication service for patrons of the concerns, T. P. Jones, Western Union manager here, said Saturday.

He said service will be improved by "eliminating uneconomic competition which will permit the utilization of duplicate wire facilities, equipment and personnel for betterment and extension of telegraph service."

Although evidences of Postal Telegraph will not vanish overnight, he said, the public will understand that all telegraph offices will be under the same management regardless of the signs on windows. Local Postal Telegraph employees will be added to the Western Union service roll and will receive the same benefits as Western Union employees, Jones said.

More Improvements Are Ordered By Army For New Airport Here

More improvements have been ordered for Midland No. 2 Airport by the Ferrying Division of the Army Air Transport Command and work is being expedited in hopes of getting the field activated this month.

Buildings are being erected, a sewage system is being constructed, a new road is being opened into the field from the North, and orders recently were received authorizing installation of a large parking strip for airplanes.

Walls of the administration building have been erected and the roof will be installed within a few days. A telephone line has been extended to the port.

A large control tower has arrived and workmen should be here within a few days to erect it. The control room atop the tower will be 14x14 feet.

Runway lights are being installed and the port will have one of the finest lighting systems in the Southwest.

Meanwhile, other workmen are clearing weeds, sand and trash from the port.

Capt. Sam Lane is the commanding officer. He and his men now are quartered in the barracks at the airport. His detachment will be expanded to approximately 100 men when the field is activated.

Palmer To Aid With Re-Employment Work

H. A. Palmer has been appointed re-employment committeeman to work in cooperation with the Midland County Selective Service Board, Mrs. M. B. Arick, chief clerk said Saturday.

Palmer will assist discharged service men regain their former jobs or find employment in other jobs. He is adjutant of the Woods W. Lynch post, American Legion.

Engineers Praise 50 Calibre Machine Gun

DAYTON, O. —(AP)— Armament engineers at Wright Field Saturday described the 50 calibre machine gun on American fighting planes as "the finest arm of its kind in the world."

Army Air Force material command technicians credited multiple high firing rate cannon and machine gun installations with bringing "increasing superiority in the air."

"The 50 calibre gun" said one armament expert, "is capable of firing at the rate of 850 shots per minute and weighs approximately 65 pounds. The projectile, leaving the muzzle at a speed of over 3,000 feet per second, is capable of penetrating any and all parts of an airplane, including the engine."

Further Development Of Pipe Lines Seen

NEW YORK —(AP)— Further development of cross-country pipelines for transportation of oil and its products is foreseen by Mining and Metallurgy, magazine of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, as a result of the success of the government-controlled "Big Inch" project.

Two Persons Drowned In Fishing Boat Mishap

HOUSTON —(AP)— Mrs. Evelyn Tatum, 25, and her three-year-old nephew, Donald Lee Galloway, were drowned when a 14-foot fishing boat in which they were riding crashed into a log Friday night on the San Jacinto River near Highlands.

Four-year-old Kenneth Abner Tatum, son of the drowned woman, was rescued and revived, but he remained in a serious condition.

The Marine Corps has had gilder training in force for its personnel since the summer of 1941 at the Parris Island, S. C., Marine Base.

tire RECAPPING!

ARE YOUR TIRES WORN SMOOTH!

When the non-skid pattern on your tires disappears and you're riding on the smooth surface . . . it's time to check with the experts! Not all tires can be successfully recapped . . . if the side-walls are bruised or if the carcass is damaged by improper inflation the tires may not be worth recapping! But our mechanics can tell you if your tires are in line for more mileage . . . We now have installed new recapping machines and can give you a first class job . . . We suggest that you come in and see this new equipment and let us look your tires over. With the equipment that we now have we know that we can recap your tires and give you thousands of miles more service at very little cost to you.

10 WAYS TO CONSERVE:

1. Drive at moderate speeds.
2. Use brakes with care.
3. Take curves slowly.
4. Look out for bumps.
5. Keep tires properly inflated.
6. Keep brakes equalized.
7. Keep wheels aligned.
8. Cross-switch your tires.

FREQUENT INSPECTION

HELPS KEEP YOUR TIRES IN TOP CONDITION! Experts can tell when you're not caring for your tires properly. They also can tell about how soon recapping should be done.

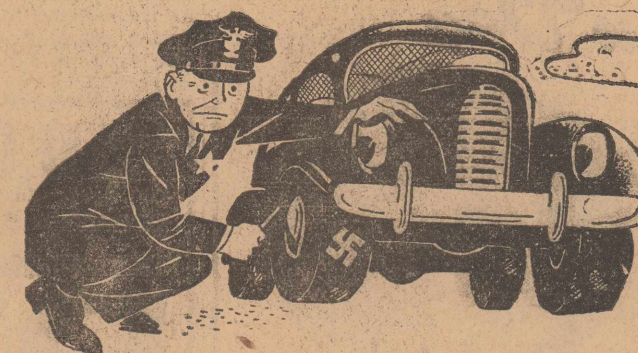

RECLAIMED TIRES

can serve rubber so that civilians may continue to have what they need for essential use, after the armed forces have taken out what they need for fighting.

YOU'RE ELIGIBLE

IF YOU HOLD A GAS RATION BOOK . . . FOR TIRE RECAPPING WITHOUT A SPECIAL PURCHASE ORDER. TAKE GOOD CARE OF YOUR TIRES . . . OBSERVE THE TEN POINTS AT THE TOP OF THIS PAGE . . . HAVE YOUR TIRES CHECKED OFTEN . . . AND WHEN THEY ARE WORN SMOOTH LET US CHECK THEM.

SHOT TIRES ARE SABOTAGE!

The Government did away with ration certificates for recapping as soon as it could, to stretch the mileage of tires in action over the gap to the point where the synthetic product becomes plentiful. To wear any tires down to the worn-out stage is to get in a blow for the Axis, and pile up the risk of a smash-up, with major damage to your car and self, from blowouts.

Aggies 28 L.S.U. 13

BATON ROUGE, LA. — (AP)—Texas A. and M., an eleven man crack team in football togethery, out-sprinted and out-passed Louisiana State's powerful but slower Tigers 28-13 here Saturday night before a crowd of 25,000.

The speedy cadets zig-zagged and passed the previously undefeated Bengals dizzy and at the same time dashed through and around the LSU forewall to break up all but a few runs and heaves by Tiger star back Steve Van Buren.

At least four Aggie backs shared their team's third victory of the season almost equally, with Jim Hallmark of Kilgore probably deserving the largest share because of his accurate tossing.

Middies Mar Duke's Undefeated Record

BALTIMORE STADIUM.—(AP)—In a bitterly contested, rough and tumble battle Navy's Middies barely managed to drop Duke's Blue Devils from the undefeated class Saturday night, 14 to 13, as Bob Giant, an expert place kicker, missed the tying point with two minutes left to play after the Durham eleven had rallied to push over a final touchdown.

Fighting Irish Beat Michigan

ANN ARBOR.—(AP)—Roaring to the heights reached by many of Notre Dame's greatest teams, the Fighting Irish Saturday battered Michigan's touted Wolverines, 35-12, for their worst defeat in six years before a record crowd of 86,000 at the vast Michigan Stadium.

History was dramatically repeated as Creighton Miller streaked to two of five Irish touchdowns to match the performance of his father, the immortal Harry (Red) Miller, in Notre Dame's only other win over Michigan in 11 games. That was 34 years ago in 1909 when the Fighting Irish last invaded Ann Arbor.

Frank Leahy's "T" formation, sparked by Angelo Bertelli, Miller and stabbing Jim Mello, slashed the Wolverines to ribbons with the Irish scoring in all but an error-shortened fourth period. The closing quarter went seven minutes by agreement of the coaches after the time clock went awry in a 23-minute third quarter.

The Irish rallied once in the opening period and twice each in the second and third quarters, with Bertelli converting after all five scores to extend his place-kicking record to 14 out of 15.

BOILERMAKERS ROLL OVER CAMP GRANT LAFAYETTE, Ind.—(AP)—Purdue's mighty Boilermakers took another step forward Saturday toward the top among the nation's best football teams by rolling to an impressive 19 to 0 victory over Camp Grant before a Dad's Day crowd of 13,000. It was Purdue's fourth straight triumph.

Lanier And Russo Named To Pitch In Sunday Game

By JUDSON BAILEY ST. LOUIS.—(AP)—Two south-paws, Max Lanier and Marius Russo, were named Saturday to the pitching assignments for the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees Sunday when the World Series is resumed at Sportsman's Park.

Russo's selection by Manager Joe McCarthy surprised many of the observers who expect to be in the crowd of 34,000 at the fourth installment of baseball's annual classic and it surprised Manager Billy Southworth of the Cardinals, too.

Southworth Surprised Before the two teams worked out on the practice grounds Saturday Southworth said he doubted very much that the Yankees would pitch a left-hander. Essentially the Cardinals are a righthanded hitting ball club and Russo has been bothered for two years by a sore arm which reduced his record this season to five victories and ten defeats.

But after Russo was named, Southworth declared, "That's okay with us. We don't care whom they pitch." He said there would be no change whatever in the St. Louis batting order, which includes three lefthanded batters, Stan Musial, Harry Walker and Ray Sanders.

McCarthy, reticent as ever, gave no explanation of his reason for choosing Russo, but it appeared that Spud Chandler needed another day of rest.

Mustang Power And Deceptiveness Prove Too Much For Midland Squad

The Midland High School Bulldogs didn't have the answer to the $64 question on "Who's got the ball, now?" and as a result lost a 33 to 18 touchdown parade to the powerful Sweetwater Mustangs here Friday night. It was the second conference tilt for the Midland team.

A combination of power, speed, deceptiveness and Backs Towner Leeper and Buddy Hedrick proved too much for the Bulldogs, who were suffering a relapse from the highly keyed-up condition which won them praises for their iron-man stand against the San Angelo Bobcats the previous Friday.

Passes Didn't Click The two teams played a fairly even game throughout the first period and the early part of the second, but the Mustangs then started hiding the ball and ball-carrier somewhere in the backfield, only to have him break out of the line or around end at the most unexpected times.

Leeper, sweet quarterback, was almost uncatchable for the Bulldogs, who could hardly lay hands on him before he had picked up considerable ground. Hedrick, fast and hard-charging back, battered his way through the line time after time for Sweetwater gains.

But the Mustang pass offensive didn't click. Leeper was thrown for losses time after time when he attempted to pass, with Linemen Red Roy, Jack Taylor and Jimmy Watson, and Back Bill Richards breaking through to deal him plenty of misery. Roy displayed an outstanding brand of blocking throughout the contest.

Leeper scampered off the right side of the line midway of the first period and raced 57 yards to score the first Sweetwater touchdown. Randle Brown's conversion attempt was blocked.

Pass Evens Score The pass combination of Richards to Watson evens the score early in the second when the big end snagged a perfect toss on the goal line. Sweetwater retaliated by blocking Ivan Hall's kick for point.

In the same period, Scott intercepted a Midland ozone toss on the 50 and returned it to the Midland 34. The ball was advanced in a series of plays to the four, where Hedrick powered through for the tally. Brown's kick was wide.

A few plays later Hedrick raced off around his own right end and dashed 58 yards for the third Mustang score, and Brown put the extra point kick between the uprights.

In the third canto, the Mustangs advanced the ball from Midland's 45 yard stripe to the one yard line, and Leeper crushed through center to reach paydirt. Brown again added the point from placement.

Bulldogs Suffer Injuries Following the touchdown, Brown kicked to Hall on the Midland 35. On the first play, Hall broke off tackle and scampered 65 yards for the second Midland score with the assistance of beautiful blocking by Roy. Hall's conversion boot was blocked.

Taking the ball on their own 40, the Mustangs drove downfield to the Midland 19, where Leeper hit center and crashed through to score. Brown's kick was good.

The final score in the parade of touchdowns was marked up by the Bulldogs near the end of the contest. Taking the ball on the Sweetwater 14, Richards passed to Neatherlin who advanced to the 32. After a toss to Hall was knocked down, Richards lofted the ball to M. C. Hale on the 45, and the fleet back raced the remaining 55 yards for the tally. Hall's kick was partially blocked.

Richards suffered a severely bruised leg and Watson a slight neck injury in the tilt, which also added more bruises to the already battered team. Joe Stickney, one of the mainstays in the Bulldogs backfield, was on the bench as the result of injuries suffered at San Angelo.

Courtney Eagles Win Over Forsan Team In Six-Man Grid Battle

COURTNEY.—Forsan's Buffaloes were on the losing side of a 20 to 18 score in an action-packed six-man football battle with the Courtney Eagles Friday night. It was the second game for the Eagles, who previously had lost to Water Valley.

Big "Dub" Graham, fullback, and Wayne Stroud, halfback, were standouts for Courtney, and Grant, back, and Pointer, center, were outstanding.

Courtney's blue and gold pep squad, led by Miss Billie Faye Rhodes, drum major, performed between halves. Drummers for the group are Alice Ruth Cross and Bobbie Blocker, and cheer leaders are Leola Holloway, Jerry Davis and Frances Rhodes.

Washington Pro Team Opens Season Sunday

CHICAGO.—(AP)—The Washington Redskins, favored to repeat as champions of the eastern section of the National Football League despite an exhibition record of only one win in four games, open their league season Sunday at home against Coach Pete Cawthon's Brooklyn Dodgers.

In some respects the game is considered a rather easy touch for the 1942 national champions and their aerial circus featuring Sling-in' Sammy Baugh. But the Dodgers, also displaying a strong overhead attack, may be about primed for a victory after losing both their previous league starts—27-0 to Detroit and 17-0 to the Phil-Pitt Eagles. Cawthon's immediate problem is formation of a running game to blend with his passing thrusts. In both games, the Dodgers' total ground-gaining record was a minus 35 yards.

Missouri Overwhelms Kansas State 47-14 COLUMBIA, Mo.—(AP)—The University of Missouri Tigers, Big Six defending champions, overwhelmed Kansas State, 47-14, Saturday in the opening conference football game for both teams. It was Missouri's first victory in three contests.

Pennsylvania Takes Win Over Dartmouth PHILADELPHIA.—(AP)—Pennsylvania's unbeaten football team won its third game in a row Saturday, dosing out Dartmouth, 7 to 6, before 45,000 at Franklin Field.

Bobcats Defeat Plainview 25-0

SAN ANGELO.—Milton Rathbone, the Bobcats' shining light, had to be inserted into the game Friday night to keep the San Angeloans from a shameful showing over the Plainview Bulldogs whom they finally defeated 25-0. Rathbone set out the first period but was sent in after the Bobcats failed to click without him.

Rathbone scored two touchdowns and passed to Horner for another. Horner scored the other tally. Rathbone added the only extra point scored by the Bobcats.

The hot headed, 160-pound fullback faded deep. Down the sidelines sprinted Ralph Ellsworth, a Texas trackman recruited in the manpower emergency to fill in the Texas backfield. Thirty yards from the Oklahoma goal line Ellsworth turned and took the throw. In came two Oklahoma backs. They both grabbed at the flying Longhorn. They got their arms around him but skidded off. Ellsworth ran like a scared rabbit straight for the goal posts.

Cook scored three touchdowns for Odessa, Bates two, Reynolds one and Kelly one. Blue Eyes Kelly, barefoot kicker, added four points.

Rice Institute Upset By Tulane

HOUSTON.—(AP)—Underrated Tulane smashed slow-moving Rice Institute into its worst defeat of their 37-year rivalry Saturday, scoring in every period for an upset 33-0 inter-sectional victory.

That perfect combination of smart, fast backs operating behind a hard-hitting line gave the Green Wave from New Orleans more than enough stuff to overrun the floundering Owls.

Statistics of the game told the story: Tulane's 18 first downs to Rice's five; 282 yards gained against to Rice's net 23.

Among the many backs who shone for the Louisianians was a half-pint named James Shiver, 158 pounds, a Valdosta, Ga., boy who played freshman football for Auburn. He scored the first touchdown and was on hand for much of the later scoring.

Marian L. Dickson Is President Of Treble Clef Music Club

The Treble Clef Club, member of the State Federation of Music Clubs, held its initial meeting of the autumn season Saturday morning in the studio of the Watson School of Music.

Fifteen members were present, and others will enroll at a later date.

An election of officers was the outstanding feature of a business session in which Miss Marian Lynn Dickson was elected president; William Flatters, Jr., vice president, and Raymond Doyle, secretary.

At the close of the season a gold medal will be awarded by the Watson School of Music to the student who can play the largest memorized program of music.

A musical program given included a piano solo, "Anchors Aweigh" by Evelyn Hej; a violin number, "The Floral Parade" by Martin, played by Jan Hauck; piano solo, "The Owl's Question" by Thompson, played by Elizabeth Sprinkle; a piano number, "Airy Fairy," by Spaulding, played by Glenda McNeill.

The program closed with a piano number, "Fairy Polka," by Streabog, played by Lydia Sellers.

RAILINGS INTO MUNITIONS

Four-fifths of the half-million tons of iron and steel railings collected for scrap in Great Britain has gone into munitions.

Texas Federation President

Miss Ethel Foster, state president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, will have charge of the annual convention in Austin November 9-11. Women from all parts of the state will be present.

Dates For TFWC Convention Set By Miss Foster

In announcing Sunday that the forty-sixth annual convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs will be held November 9-11 in Austin, Miss Ethel Foster of Sterling City, TFWC president, also said that Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will be the chief convention speaker.

Post-war planning will be the general convention theme and this question will pace all discussion groups as well as for the board of directors meeting on Tuesday, November 9. Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland, convention program chairman, has chosen Ephesians 6-15 for the meeting's theme study—"And your feet shod with preparation of the Gospel of Peace."

It is understood there will be several major constitutional changes to come before the convention body.

Mrs. Whitehurst, as the convention's chief speaker, will give a word picture of women's activities in Great Britain based upon facts gleaned during her recent visit to the British Isles. Her speech will have four points of discussion—black markets, possible conscription of American women as compared to conscription now in force in England, nursery schools in war time, and just what American clubwomen can do about these problems. Mrs. Whitehurst will also direct a challenge to Texas clubwomen as to post-war planning.

Junior clubwomen will have charge of the opening session and their part of the program will be directed by Mrs. Ed Hamann of Fort Worth, TFWC junior chairman. Each session will be strictly work meetings with social events cut to a minimum of one formal dinner honoring the Texas pioneer clubwomen.

Betsy Beckham Bundy's Advice To The Lovelorn

Q—Please give me details on what to do at an evening party, youngsters 13, where we cannot dance, as our parents object.

A—At this particular time of the year, a Halloween party is most appropriate. There are many decorations in black and orange for such an occasion, and it is the right one for girls and boys of that age.

Have your home decorated with gay gold and brown autumn leaves and chrysanthemums, in yellow and orange tones. Get real pumpkins now, and have them on hand for the party. Halloween is October 31, so anytime during October will be an appropriate time for the party.

Get Spooky Accessories
You can obtain all sorts of spooky things at the stores, such as orange lanterns shaped like pumpkins, skeletons, black cats, owls, bats, and everything which might scare or frighten.

Have your home decorated, and wield dim lights, with glaring green eyes staring out to greet the guests. Have someone at the door with a white sheet drawn about his head like a ghost, and have him wear wet glove with which to shake hands. In the back-ground you might have the skeleton, with a light in its head, dangling in some dark corner. After the guests have all arrived they should be entertained with games appropriate for the season and the date. There are many at the book stores and the library.

For the dining room you might have a large punch bowl as the central figure for the table. Apple cider is served at Halloween, but fruit punch is all right. Have apples in various forms. You may also play crazy games, like biting apples on a string and finding the way down a dark cellar. There are dozens of such scare-makers.

Give Favors To Winners
Candies in orange and black should be placed about in candy jars and trays. The tiny cakes may be used effectively for the black of the cake.

Favors for winners in the games should be wrapped in orange and black paper, and if possible should carry out the Halloween idea in some other way.

A Halloween party can be the gayest and the most interesting of all the autumn parties. You can combine many of the "Harvest Home" ideas in this party and make it one of the outstanding ones of the year, and one all your friends will remember always.

Mrs. De Lo Douglas Resigns As Music Teacher In High School

Mrs. De Lo Douglas, music teacher in Midland High School, has announced her resignation effective October 15. Midland High was the first and only place in which Mrs. Douglas taught, and this is her fifteenth year here.

Mrs. Douglas resigned her position after the board of stewards of the First Methodist Church voted her full-time church secretary and educational and recreational director of the Young People's Department.

Since the time she began teaching at Midland High School in September of 1929, Mrs. Douglas has made an impressive record. She is currently teaching three classes of music, one of which is a girls' choral group, one class of world history, and two study hall periods daily. Several years ago, she asked for and obtained four affiliated music credits for the benefit of the music students. In former years, she not only organized an a cappella choir, but a large number of trios, quartets, and sextets composed of boys or girls or both.

She has directed mixed choruses and glee clubs and coached countless soloists. On occasion she has taught speech classes, and directed school plays, with such success that four years ago her group presented a one-act play which won the district meet. She has guided the liveliness of declamations, coached cheer leaders, and sponsored the Junior Music Club.

Bentley Trio Will Give Unique Program Oct. 12

On October 12 the Bentley Musical Trio will present a paid assembly in the High School auditorium.

The Musical Bentleys have an international reputation. They have appeared throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, Hawaiian Islands, Fiji Islands, and have made three tours of Australia.

The Bentleys feature their cathedral marimba-xylophone, the largest instrument of its kind in the world. The Bentleys use ten and twelve mallets on many of their selections, which gives a combination of tone equal to an orchestra.

In Colorful Costumes
 These fascinating instrumentalists and entertainers are obtained in gay, colorful Spanish costumes of beautiful design. The Bentleys bring a new program of music, costumes, and dances to their audiences this season.

Their previous repertoire included many classical and semi-classical numbers such as Post and Petasant, La Paloma, Bells of St. Marcella, The Glow Worm, Chi-Bri-Bri, Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life, When Day is Done, Indian Love Call, and Just A-Wearyin' For You.

Miss Bentley offers several characteristic dance specialties in costume. Among these are: Mexican Hat Dance, Spanish Hoel Dance, an Irish Folk Dance, and an imitation of Pat Rooney in his famous Waltz Clog.

One Performance
 Ben Bentley has a lot of fun with odd musical novelties and strange instruments, such as a one-string Chinese fiddle, musical bottles, and a tubaphone.

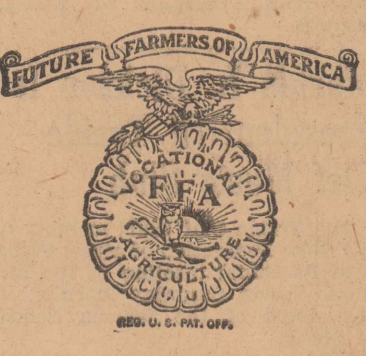

The Bentleys are well featured radio stars, having been featured artists on weekly broadcasts over both CBS and NBC nation-wide hookups.

There will be only one performance. The program will start at one o'clock for the High School students. The price of admission will be 10c.

Bentley Trio Will Entertain

The Bentley Trio will present a program at the High School at 1 p. m. Tuesday

Midland High School Observes National Fire Prevention Week

Fire prevention was uppermost in the minds of Midland High students last week. In observance of Fire Prevention Week, as designated by President Roosevelt, the senior and sophomore English classes were given the choice of writing themes or plays on fire insurance, fire departments, and fire prevention, or drawing illustrative posters. The students turned in many splendid themes and unique posters to the English teachers, Misses Carden and Farnham. Posters made by senior students are on display in the library.

The play is a comedy. It is the story of a high school newspaper staff and their difficulties. The faculty advisor, a young woman, has appointed a boy editor and a girl co-editor. The editor and one of his pals, who is on the staff, too, decide they don't want any girls on the staff and interesting events occur, including measles, proms, and newspapers.

Briggs said try-outs would be held as soon as the play copies, which have been ordered, arrive.

SNEC'S DIARY

Monday—Some fun, some fun. Come to school at 8 o'clock, work hard (or hardly work) until noon, one hour for lunch, back to school, out at four (maybe). You know, it's getting so bad I think my bright friend is affected in the head. The other day I overheard him say: "Let me see now, today is the fourth and tomorrow is the sixth. As usual this is "Blue Monday." Pity us next Monday.

Tuesday—School work is picking up today. All the teachers seem to be out to get us. What with about ten different assignments to get I'm afraid we won't have much to say today.

Wednesday—There was a special called assembly today at eleven o'clock. The speaker was extremely interesting and held the attention of the entire student body for more than three-quarters of an hour. I believe we could have listened throughout the entire noon hour.

Thursday—These fire drills are lots of fun. It's a wonder that more people than yours truly haven't been picked up with blotters, but some people just seem to have an edge on the good luck. However, toward the end of the day the drills were very efficiently and precisely executed. We hear that some brilliant typing student made this chance remark—"This typewriter isn't like mine—mine can spell!"

Friday—Band students who went on the concert trip yesterday appeared at school today very bleary-eyed. We wonder why. Everyone seems to think that the all-school dance will come off in fine order. These small posters around school really help a lot. Tonight our Bulldogs step up to the Sweetwater Mustangs and we know who will win—hurray for our team!

Personals

Max Allen, '43 graduate, has been chosen to play the French horn in the ensemble at the University of Texas.

J. C. Locklar, graduate of '43, is taking a post-graduate course. He is taking physics and aeronautics.

Betty Jo Stewart, graduate of '43, has returned from a visit in San Diego, Calif.

Jack Scannell, high school junior, is spending the weekend in Alpine.

Tommy Jean Newsome, who spent the summer at Balboa Island, Calif., enrolled in school Monday.

Jean Ann Preskitt withdrew from school Wednesday.

Mrs. W. R. Swain, the former Miss Ethel Harkins, attended the Sweetwater-Midland game Friday night.

Who's Who—Charles

Charles Roripaugh, Jr., the 16-year-old editor of the Bulldog, is our Who's Who for this week.

Charles was snapshot editor of the Catoico last year, and is a member of the Quill and Scroll honorary society for high school journalists. He also is in the national honor society.

This year Charles is taking English, physics, solid geometry, typing and journalism, his favorites of which are physics and solid geometry. He is planning to go to the University of California in Berkeley after he has finished high school. He intends to become an electrical engineer or a journalist; he has not decided which.

Charles enjoys dancing and is not only a lover of music but also a creator of it. He played his drums in the dance band for a while last year, but now he spends more of his time with his large collection of phonograph records. His favorite orchestra is Jan Savitt's old orchestra. He likes the symphony orchestra of Irving Zathumir, too. His favorite radio program used to be the Hit Parade until Frank Sinatra took it over—now he has no favorite. His favorite food is lemon meringue pie.

Charles says he owns tons of mechanical junk, such as radio and phonograph parts, and would like to be a "ham" operator some day. There is a little saying that Charles has in his notebook where he can see it often. It goes like this: "There are 37 rules for success in business. The first is to deliver the goods; never mind the other fifty-six!"

M.A.A. Club Meets With Griffen Driver

New members are Norma Jean Fitzpatrick, Dorothy Sue Wright, Rosemary Johnson and Betty Rice. After the business meeting, refreshments were served to Marie Barber, Billie Marie Benedict, Charles Wood, Doris Mickey, Sue Davis, Jane Stringer, Allyne Kelly, and the hostess.

The next meeting will be at Allyne Kelly's.

Book Return Chute Installed In Library

A return chute for books is a feature which students will be using in the months to come when they return their books to the library. All students are asked not to place their returned books on the counter or on the librarian's desk, but in the chute from now on. This will avoid confusion and assist the librarian greatly. Everyone's cooperation will be appreciated.

Student Government — Yes Or No?

AN EDITORIAL

How many Midland High School students have considered student government? These questions are coming up more frequently in the minds of students, faculty, and parents: would student government be advisable in a school of our size? What form of government would we want? Some schools have student governments which closely resemble our federal government while others are more like state or municipal governments. Many of us have very little or no idea of what student government is—if it is installed in our school, each of us will have a voice in student affairs. All of these suggestions are food for thought. Let's talk it up. Maybe some of you have had experience with student government in another school you have attended recently. What do you think of it? Let your teachers know what you think. If you have an idea of student government—make yourself known.

Female 'Baggage-Buster' At Texas And Pacific Depot Is Carrying On Family Tradition Of Workin' On Railroad

By JIM SPRINKLE

Dorothy Swancey of Fort Worth is causing old heads with the Texas & Pacific Railroad to wonder what's going to happen next.

Miss Swancey, better known as "Pete," is one of the few female "baggage smashers" in Texas. She was sent to Midland about two weeks ago by the company and now handles loading and unloading of baggage and mail at the depot in her capacity as general clerk.

She isn't. Miss Swancey is 22 years old, very pretty, is five feet six inches tall and weighs only 12 3/4 pounds. "Sometimes it is a race between me and the mail bag to see which will hit the floor first," she said. But she handles the job well and says the hard and heavy work doesn't bother her. "I'm crazy about the job and I'm going to stay on it as long as the company wants me to," she said.

Entire Family Working
She has been employed by the Texas & Pacific about two months and worked at Odessa, Monahan and Abilene before coming to Midland. Before, accepting the job she was employed as a typist at Camp Barkley for five months. "Pete" had a good reason for wanting to work for the Texas & Pacific. Her father, Bedford Ray, telegraph operator at Fort Worth, has been with the line about 28 years. Her mother has been a ticket clerk with the railroad in Fort Worth about a year, and her sister, Mrs. T. J. Graves has been a bookkeeper in the Texas & Pacific office at Abilene about the same length of time.

"We're all up and down the line," Miss Swancey said. "The railroad has a large number of women employed in various jobs, but there are only two or three 'baggage smashers' in the state. That term is one used by railroaders but it is a misfit.

The attractive brunette has no complaints about her job other than it is dirty work, but she doesn't mind that so much. She dresses for the work in coveralls and wears gloves while handling baggage.

In addition to loading and unloading trains, she checks baggage and keeps her records. She works from 4 p. m. until 1 a. m., and says that the eastbound train shortly after nine causes her the most work.

D. Davis, station agent, says "Pete" is doing a bang-up job and he isn't referring to any lack of care in her work. "Baggage handling is no job for a woman," Davis said, "but Dorothy is doing it capably."

"Well I'll Be—"
Davis and Miss Swancey's father started railroading at about the same time more than a quarter of a century ago and have been good friends ever since.

"Pete" says the old-timers with the line are beginning to get used to seeing her and don't stand around with their mouths open any more.

"They used to gape so I couldn't see their faces," she recalls smilingly.

Definite Needs For General Hospital In Midland Advanced By Committee

Definite needs for a general hospital in Midland are advanced in a report by a committee appointed by the Midland County Public Health Council to investigate various phases of the program.

The population of the city and surrounding area is increasing rapidly, the report sets out, and indications are that the city will continue to grow in the future. The committee says there are only four small private hospitals within Midland's trade territory, comprising Midland, Martin, Andrews, Glasscock, Reagan, Crane and Ector counties.

Although no attempt was made by the committee to determine the type of hospital needed here, the report says that estimates of the size needed ran from 30 to 100 beds. On the basis of the average need of five beds per 1000 population, the city should have at least 75 beds to care for the present population, the committee said.

All but one of the Midland physicians contacted told the investigating body, it reported, that there is a definite need for better hospitalization in the city, and their suggestions for the type included a city-county operated hospital or one managed by Catholic sisters.

Estimate Building Costs
"Because of difficulties in the way of new construction at this time, the possibility of taking over the existing private hospital should be considered before plans for building a new hospital are considered," the report said.

It pointed out, however, that plans for additions and enlargements should be taken into consideration.

Hospital building costs are estimated from between $3,000 to $5,000 per bed, the committee said. The annual operating cost per bed would range from $1,200 and $1,800.

The committee recommended that any group interested in building and operating a general hospital in Midland County should study bulletins and other materials which it had prepared and gathered during its investigation.

People Who Don't Understand Ration Plan Cause Many Clerks' Headaches

People as a whole know what rationing is all about but a lot of them as individuals don't know what the score is.

That seems to be the general consensus of clerks in Midland grocery stores.

Rationing has been in effect in the United States since May, 1942, when sugar and coffee sales were restricted. Other foods went on the list early this year.

Not Used To Rationing
After a year of buying canned goods and other foods with ration stamps, you'd think everyone would know all about how the system works," said one clerk. "But many of them don't. We still have people who gather up a lot of canned goods or butter and so forth and then seem surprised when they are asked for their ration stamps.

Some of these people are forgetful, some are trying to put something over on us, and others are just plain ignorant. Thank goodness they're only a very small minority of our customers."

Another clerk told about a customer who repeatedly attempts to buy canned goods after he has used up his ration stamps. The clerk said the customer gets mad when he is not allowed to carry off his purchases.

People who forget how many coupons they have left cause quite a bit of trouble and some unpleasantness for the clerks, but they don't mind this too much. After all they say, ration coupons are hard to keep up with. It's the people who deliberately forget that get their goats. They can sympathize with those people who aren't sure which stamps are good when, because they know it is a hard job to keep up with the various changes.

Right now, the No. 3 ration book

INDUCTEES X-RAYED

A chest X-ray is a part of the medical examination of all men before induction into military service. This step aims to protect our armed forces from tuberculosis, a disease which in World War I cost our government approximately a billion dollars in compensation, vocational training, insurance, and hospitalization for disabled veterans.

is causing lots of minor trouble. Many persons have the mistaken impression that they can buy canned goods with stamps from the book. They can't.

Taking it all in all, however, the clerks aren't too put out by the extra cares and efforts rationing requires.

"It won't seem right when we don't have to collect stamps again," said one veteran grocery checker. "We're used to it now."

Men At Midland Army Air Field Know 'And' Is Loos More Than A Simple Little Conjunction

"AND," one, two, three, four; one, two, three, four, etc., etc., etc. "AND," one, two, three, four; one, two, three, four, etc., etc., etc. The little word "AND," so long looked upon as just another word in the English language thrown in to separate important things or to bridge the gap between phrases or sentences, has finally, after hundreds of years, come forward to take its place alongside of "fight," "struggle," "work," and many others as a word denoting action. It is playing a big part in the war effort.

To doubt this is to incur the wrath of the officers, cadets, and enlisted men who take physical training at the Midland Army Air Field, because many, many times a week they hear that word during their P. T. period and they know it means hard work and more effort.

"AND," is their cue to take a different position, to get down on the ground or get up from the ground in any case, to work another set of muscles enough to give the muscles an incentive to grow larger and stronger. It is, according to P. T. instructors, truly a word of action and anyone obeying promptly the command it denotes and carrying on until "AND" commands another change and another type of effort will have as his reward, stamina and endurance.

MIND Your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is it important to make an effort to remember the names of the people to whom you are introduced?
2. If you can't remember a name, but must make an introduction, should you apologize for not remembering when you ask the person's name?
3. When two men are introduced to each other should they shake hands?
4. When a man is introduced to a woman should he offer to shake hands or wait for her to do so?
5. When shaking hands with a woman should a man be careful that he doesn't give her such a strong handclasp he hurts her hand?

What would you do if—
You want to introduce a girl and a man who happen to be across the room from each other—
(a) Say to the girl, "Come here a minute, Jane; there is someone I want you to meet?"
(b) Take the man over to where the girl is standing or sitting?

Answers
1. Yes.
2. Yes.
3. It is customary.
4. A woman should be the one to offer her hand first.
5. Yes.

Legionnaires Collect Funds To Buy Smokes For American Fighters

More than 100 boxes were placed in strategic points in Midland Saturday by members of the Woods W. Lynch Post of the American Legion for the collection of funds to purchase cigarettes for fighting men overseas.

The attractive red and blue boxes carry white stickers headed "Free Cigarettes for Our Fighting Men Overseas."

A contribution of 50 cents buys a carton of cigarettes. Five cents buys a package.

No cigarette substitute can be found in foreign lands to compare with the American brands which the fighters desire.

Doolittles Very Clannish, Member Of Tribe Reports

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The Doolittles are an exceptionally clannish family according to one of the latest of them to seek the wings of an Army Air Forces pilot.

Aviation Cadet Elton W. Doolittle of Trenton, N. J., a third cousin of Major General James H. Doolittle, said at the San Antonio Aviation Cadet Center, where he is receiving preflight pilot training, that members of the family in the United States and Canada are organized in an association which holds biennial meetings and elects officers.

There are now approximately 11,000 Doolittles in this country and in Canada," Cadet Doolittle said. "The original members of the American Doolittles came on a boat that arrived next after the Mayflower. The official genealogist of the family and the most active officer of the association is Dr. Isaac D. Doolittle, a minister of South Bend, Ind."

The cadet has attended several gatherings of the clan and seen a lot of Doolittles from many parts of the North American continent, but the only time he saw the famous raider of Tokyo was at an airport "eight or 10 years ago."

"He was always flying to Europe or something when the meetings were held," the cadet explained.

WHAT PRICE EDUCATION?
During the 15th century Oxford students who were short of money for their studies, were allowed to beg in the streets or sing at the homes of noble and rich patrons.

So carefully must parachutes be constructed that every stitch taken by the makers is examined by passing it over brilliant fluorescent lights to catch the slightest imperfection.

Aircraft officials maintain that anyone intellectually and temperamentally fitted to drive an automobile safely can learn to pilot a light plane.

"YOUR STORE"

Errand for Q-74

By Malcolm Taylor

COPYRIGHT, 1943, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Capt. Raymond Imhof, Q-74, U. S. Army Intelligence, has been assigned to follow a trail of Enzeli, Q-49, leading to certain important information which Enzeli has been unable to bring out of Germany. The plane from which Imhof was to parachute into enemy territory is forced down. He discovers the pilot is a girl. They make their way toward Cozlenz.

LOOTERS

CHAPTER XII

IMHOF turned east toward New Cozlenz and the stores there, then halted at sight of a great fan of red glare ahead beneath a pillaring tower of smoke.

The first encounter with people came at an air-raid post farther along. Pat drew closer to Imhof. It was her first sight of Nazis in their lair. No one paid Imhof or herself the least attention.

Soon civilians began to appear in the streets, singly or in small groups—stunned, dazed people, still numb from the suspense and dread they had endured.

This was devastation, and for Pat and Imhof the going became slow and hard. Time and again they had to backtrack, to by-pass blocked streets or to pick a way around great bomb craters, over piles of debris, under tottering walls or between raging fires.

Imhof became anxious. Time was precious. He would be wasting it looking for clothes in Old Cozlenz. He turned right and headed for New Cozlenz, urging the man ruthlessly till Pat, out of character and situations are fictitious. Any resemblance to actual persons or happenings is coincidental.

breath, was almost trotting to keep up. At length, and quite without warning, they reached a part that the bombs had straddled.

"Glory be!" Imhof panted. "Bit of the shopping district spared. Watch out for a clothing store." They went more slowly, scanning the building fronts, when Imhof pointed ahead. "Across the street. One of the biggest."

"Watch out!" Pat hissed. "People coming."

IMHOF checked from crossing and walked on.

"Anti-looting patrol!" he cursed under his breath.

Pat pulled up a shade behind Imhof to help her soiled uniform pass muster in the dark.

"Where are you going?" The demand was curt.

Imhof promptly named a street in the residential quarter off the Rhine Promenade.

"Where did you come from?" Suspicious eyes bored into them. "Cusanustrasse."

The suspicious eyes still bored into them. At last, "Keep going!" came the significant warning.

Crossing over, they returned to a side street they had passed after meeting the patrol. After a careful look up and down they followed it for half a block to the rear of the large store.

Stocks were scant and of poor quality. Imhof pointed hopefully at a display model before he moved forward to keep watch.

Pat laughed. "Something a little more practical, Ray," she said, not unmoved. His offering was a teagown.

Her choice, quickly made, was a dark dress of ersatz wool with a short jacket to match. She measured it against her person for fit.

Further foraging provided a cloth jaeger hat of make-believe tweed and a raincoat. Refitting with her booty to a dressing room, she made a rapid change.

"Better grab some spares," whispered Imhof from the store front.

"Free shopping sprees are rare. Pat hastily collected some handkerchiefs and a few pairs of stockings. Suddenly, a half dozen swift, soundless strides brought Imhof to her side. He pulled her down behind a counter, himself ducking at the same instant.

"Someone coming," he warned, palming an automatic.

THEIR eyes level with the counter top, they watched a shape frame itself in one of the front windows. The intruder carried no rifle, and Imhof breathed easier. The newcomer, it was clear, was also on looting bent.

After a hasty look up and down the street outside the man stole in and began hastily gathering an indiscriminate pile of garments. At first he would pause apprehensively now and then, but he soon became absorbed.

"Come out of there!" rang a harsh command from the street.

In a panic the looter whirled and dived for the back of the store. A rifle cracked and he crumpled up under the window that had betrayed him to the patrol, two of whose number now entered, passing Pat and Imhof where they crouched behind their counter.

"Toot!" pronounced one, bending over the body. "Toot!" he called loudly to the pair in the street. "Good shot, Ernst. Drilled him right through the back of the head. What do we do with him?"

"Leave him rot," came the answer. "Any others in there?"

Imhof heard Pat's swift intake of breath as she clutched his arm. He himself tensed, readying his automatic.

"Ach, he was alone I tell you," was the grumbled objection. "I saw him sneak in."

"Do as I tell you."

The two obeyed, and Imhof and Pat, with pounding pulses, heard them moving about, torches flashing, now near, now farther off, now near again—and yet nearer. A light swept along the counter top, down the wall behind them.

Midland Soldier Who Didn't Like Radio Makes Highest Grade Of Trainees In Two Classes

Ffc. Billy J. Layton, 18, of Midland didn't like radio at all when he was transferred to the U. S. Army Radio School at Scott Field, Ill. from the 25th Army Band at Sheppard Field, Texas, but he was enough of a soldier to tackle his new job with vigor.

"Each day he grew to like it more and more," the Camp Grant newspaper reported in a special story, "and when the time for graduation rolled around he had done so well that he led Classes 75 and 76 with an average of 90.2 and a code speed of 30 words per minute."

Pfc. Layton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Layton of Midland, and his father is telegraph operator for the Magnolia Pipe Line Co. He was attending Southern Methodist University when he first went into the service in February, and was majoring in music. He first was sent to Sheppard Field, then assigned to the Scott Field radio school. He is remaining at Scott Field for the present time.

Pfc. Layton's brother, First Sgt. Roy W. Layton Jr., is stationed at Brooks Field, Texas. His sister's husband, Lt. A. C. Aephtericht, is in the Chemical Warfare Service at Dallas. His father was in the Navy in his youth.

Lower Interest Rates On Land Bank Loans Have Been Authorized

Ben Carpenter, secretary-treasurer of the Stanton-Midland National Farm Loan Association, has received information that directors of the Federal Land Bank of Houston have authorized the lowering of the interest rate to 4 per cent on all Federal Land Bank loans, made through national farm loan associations that now bear interest rate at above 4 per cent per annum, effective July 1, 1943.

This reduction in the contract rate of interest will affect about 80 per cent of the Land Bank borrowers in this area, Carpenter said. Prior to 1935, he said, loans were closed at 4 1/2 to 6 per cent, depending upon the cost of money in the bond markets at that time. All Land Bank loans have been made at a contract rate of 4 per cent since March 1935.

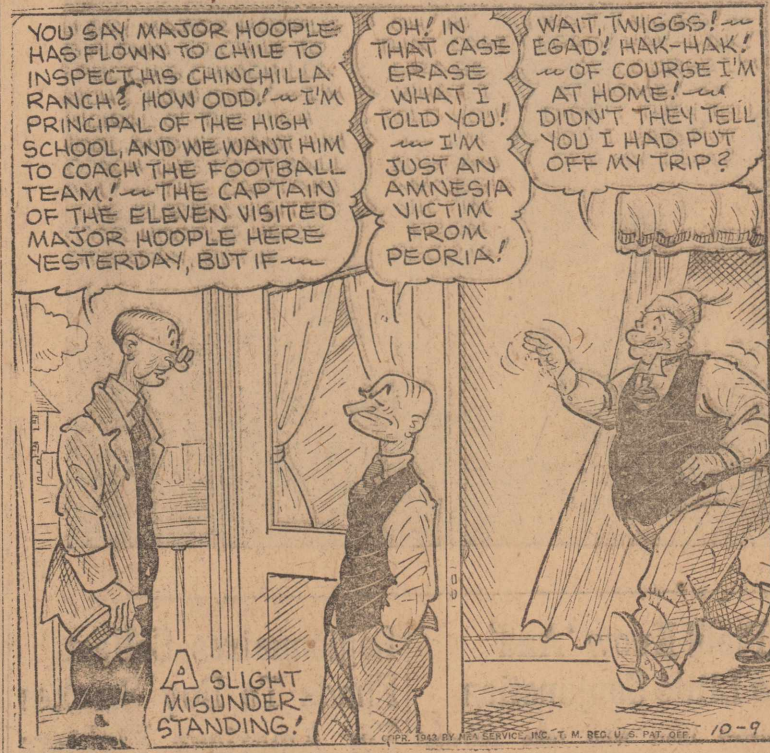

The Stanton National Farm Loan and Midland National Farm Loan associations were consolidated Sept. 11, 1943, under name of Stanton-Midland National Farm Loan Association. It is located at Stanton.

FIRE QUICKLY EXTINGUISHED

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority Often in tournament bridge a player finds himself in an unmakeable contract, and correctly so. For instance, in the hand shown today, North and South had no trouble in making three no trump, but good players should arrive at five clubs at least—which, due to the distribution can be defeated.

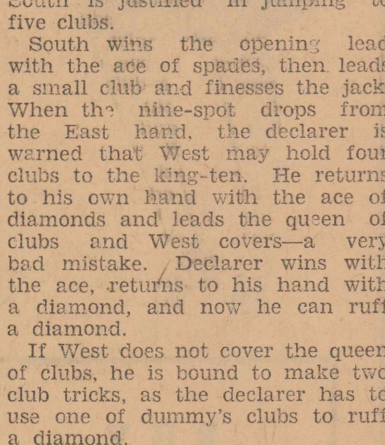

Most players will agree that over one club North should bid one heart. The bid of two diamonds is a reverse bid and is used by most players to show a very strong hand. North's correct response is three clubs, not two no trump. Certainly South cannot be criticized for making another slam try by bidding three spades. When North bids three no trump, South is justified in jumping to five clubs.

South wins the opening lead with the ace of spades, then leads a small club and finesses the jack. When the nine-spot drops from the East hand, the declarer is warned that West may hold four clubs to the king-ten. He returns to his own hand with the ace of diamonds and leads the queen of clubs and West covers—a very bad mistake. Declarer wins with the ace, returns to his hand with a diamond, and now he can ruff a diamond.

If West does not cover the queen of clubs, he is bound to make two club tricks, as the declarer has to use one of dummy's clubs to ruff a diamond.

Freshman At Denton Former Movie Star

DENTON — First-hand recollections of famous Hollywood stars who were friendly to a tiny Texas starlet are among the souvenirs of an attractive freshman at North Texas State Teachers College, Grace Foster.

Miss Foster, an unassuming freshman intent on learning her music lesson for tomorrow, has the kind of glamorous past that her fellow co-eds dream about, for she spent three years in Hollywood, appearing in approximately 60 movies.

Only 15 now, Miss Foster began her screen career at the age of six, when she and her mother went to Hollywood for a short vacation. Friends persuaded her to try out for the movies; she was accepted at Central Casting; and the first thing she knew, her vacation had become a career.

She appeared in pictures starring Jear Harlow, Will Rogers, Barbara Stanwyck, Irene Dunne and Allan Jones.

Few Choice Lockers Still Are Available

The Conner Brothers Company which plans installation here soon of a food locker service, said Saturday that only a few choice lockers still are available.

Leases have been signed with the company for about 350 of the food lockers and most of the choice lockers have been taken.

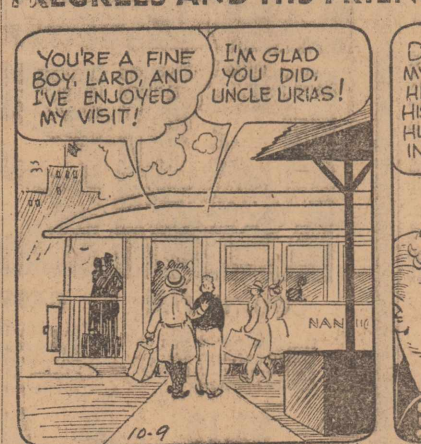

As soon as a few more leases are signed, applications will be made for priorities so installation of the lockers can be started. The company has determined that the lockers are available as soon as priority requirements are met.

LANDS TO LEAVE SOON

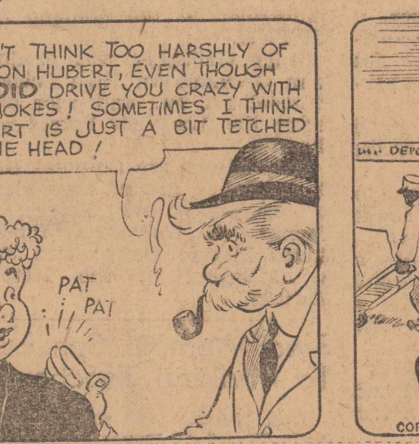

Mr. and Mrs. Rector Land plan to leave this week for Houston, where they will make their home. Prior to going to Houston, they expect to visit points in Illinois.

Imagine this goose-stepping Nazi prisoner giving me that! "What makes you think so?", says I

"Your home front," he comes back . . . "your people at home are too soft and selfish to make sacrifices. And unless they buy you the guns and tanks and planes, your INVASION will be a slaughter."

"Listen Nazi," I snapped, "right now, my countrymen are buying War Bonds—to pay for this INVASION. I've got a family—mother, father, sisters and brothers, aunts and uncles. I've got friends that write to me regularly. They won't let me down."

"Fool," sneers this Nazi, "your Americans at home talk big—but they're more interested in luxuries than in your life. When it comes to sacrifice, that's your job—alone." I walked away . . . I was seeing red.

But I thought I'd better speak to you, anyway. Just in case you might think they're kidding about the War Bonds you are purchasing. They're not—that money will pay for INVASION equipment.

I know a lot of you can and will invest thousands — you've got to, to put it over. Buy War Bonds out of pay checks, dig the money out of the old sugar bowl or wherever it is—but for the luvva Mike, buy all you can! Over here, we know how important it is, and we're buying Bonds out of our pay. But we don't make much, so it's up to you at home, really.

It's a darned good investment, anyway. What else carries the backing of the whole United States Government behind it?

Well—I know you'll buy extra bonds—I just wanted to make sure you know how important it is to put everything you've got behind us.

Stanotex Stakes 8,000-Foot Wildcat In Northwest Pecos

By JAMES C. WATSON
Oil Editor

Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 1 Joseph C. Trees, 1,980 feet from the south and west lines of section 27, block 3, H&GN survey, Northwest Pecos County is to be an 8,000-foot wildcat test to explore through the lower sections of the Permian lime. The new project was officially announced Saturday.

Another Shot For Reeves
Standard of Texas has staked No. 2 Texas Pacific Land Trust, (TXL) as another try for production in the Delaware formation in Reeves County. The venture will be 600 feet from the south and east lines of section 47, block 57, TPKP survey, T-2, and 3,734 feet southeast of Standard No. 1 TXL, now reported to be installing a pump to test an unannounced "something" supposed to be bottomed at 3,145 feet.

Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company No. 52-A Lane, McCamey area deep wildcat in Southwest Upton County was preparing to start a core from 8,199 feet in dolomite Saturday.

Some local geologists—not Texas Pacific—have marked top of the Fillenburger, from drilling samples at 8,194 feet. Progress of the test for the next several days will be watched closely by the operating company and many other interested concerns and individuals.

Pass Staining in Farmer
The Texas Company No. 1 Parmer County fee, Southeast Gaines County wildcat was drilled Saturday below 5,410 feet in lime after checking a reported very slight stain and very slight porosity at 5,355 feet and again at 5,306-65 feet.

Shell Oil Company No. 2 Cox Northwest Gaines County development project, south of the Wasson field San Andres prospect, is making new hole under 4,926 feet after the samples from 4,889-4,919 feet in crystalline lime showed a trace of poor to fair porosity with bare stain.

The Texas Company No. 1 Mabbe, Southeast Andrews discovery for production 17 1/2 miles northwest of Midland went through another 24-hour period of swabbing a mixture of water, basic sediment and oil. The last report showed that during the latest around the clock session the test swabbed for six hours into the pits and 18 hours into test tanks.

A total of 364 barrels of fluid was recovered, 97 barrels being "free" water. In the other 267 barrels the cut was 20 per cent sulphur water and 40 per cent basic sediment.

Looks Like More Plug-Back
Casing pressure was maintained at 17 pounds and the fluid stayed at about 1,500 feet from the surface. Unofficial reports indicate that another plug-back from the present bottom of 4,745 feet will likely be undertaken soon.

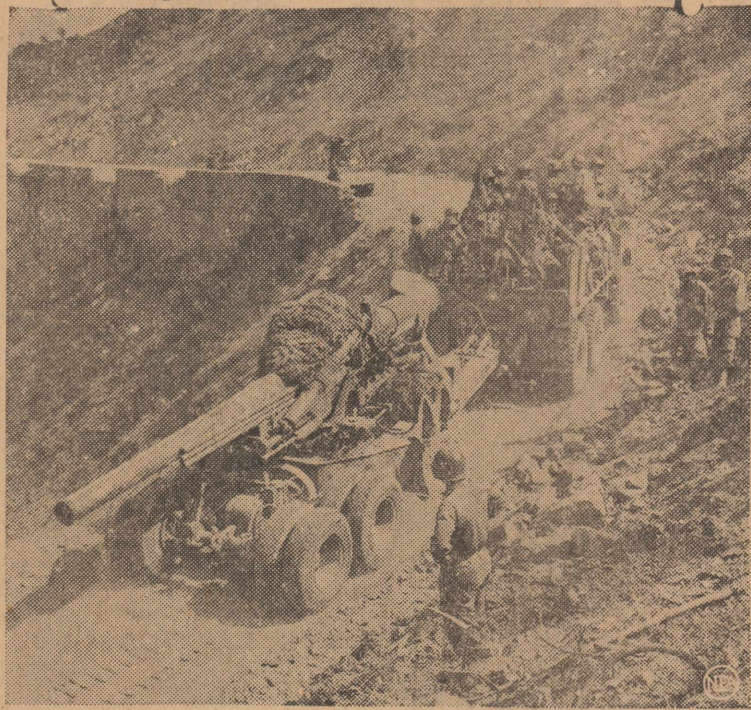

Sunray Oil Company No. 1 Reed, Central Cochran County wildcat is reported to be preparing to abandon at a total depth of 5,200 feet after testing some light showings of saturation and porosity above that depth. Apparently there was too much water at the same place the oil was trapped.

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 Dean Northeast Dawson County development is drilling ahead below 9,530 feet—30 feet past the original contract depth of 9,500 feet. Nothing has been said officially about quitting the venture.

Passing Sulphur Showings
Seaboard Oil Company No. 1 Spraberry, Southeast Dawson wildcat is making new hole beyond 4,015 feet in a porous lime section which is developing indications of sulphur water.

Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 1 Hermann prospecting project six miles northeast of Seminole in Gaines County has punched out the plug set at 3,710 feet with 250 sacks of cement to hold 7-inch casing and is now grinding ahead below 3,875 feet with no change reported in the formation. Continental Oil Company No. 1-A Jones, Northwest Gaines Ordovician test is drilling around 9,495 feet in chert.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Cox, West Gaines deep try is making new hole beyond 7,725 feet in lime.

Amerasia Petroleum Corporation No. 7 Robertson, outpost to the Seminole field has progressed by 4,460 feet in lime.

Right Near A Record
Humble No. 1 Crews & Mast, North Andrews wildcat is drilling around 10,562 feet in shale and lime.

Humble No. 1 Carter, Central Andrews exploration has passed 9,511 feet in shale.

C. U. Bay No. 1 Bitler & Lowe, wildcat project two and one-eighth miles northeast of the Fullerton field in Northwest Andrews is drilling ahead below 6,078 feet in lime.

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 1-B University, has injected a second stage treatment of 6,000 gallons of acid in the saturated sections. No report has been released on the results of swabbing after the first 3,000 gallons of acid.

Skelly Oil Company No. 1-M University, South Andrews prospecting effort has drilled below 7,130 feet and is still in black shale.

Testing About To Tell
Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Embarras still swabbing to clean out and test. The first free oil and gas has just started appearing.

TEXAS MID-CONTINENT MEETS IN FORT WORTH
—Eric Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and a outstanding leader and thinker of the side of retaining the free capitalist system, and Coke Stevenson, governor of Texas, an outspoken exponent of state rights, will be the featured speakers at the annual meeting of the Texas Association of Oil & Gas Association in Fort Worth. The sessions will be held Wednesday and a golf tournament on Thursday will close the affair.

J. E. WARREN NAMED OFFICER OF CONTRACTOR GROUP

—In electing J. E. Warren of Midland as vice president to represent rotary tools for the ensuing year, the American Association of Oil Well Drilling Contractors, at the annual meeting of the organization in Houston during the last week, did itself and the industry a distinct "good deed."

—Ed Warren is a worker and a thinker and he believes many of the problems of the drilling contractors and of the entire petroleum industry can be solved by co-operative action.

—The Toolpusher is anxious to be of any service possible to Vice-President Warren in his new responsibilities, where all who know him know he will be continually trying to use the organization to help the "brethren."

—J. H. (Harry) Reynolds and R. L. Fensler, executives of Hickok & Reynolds, independent petroleum exploration organization with headquarters at Cisco, were around this week. They have considerable undeveloped property in the Permian Basin.

—Paul C. Morrow, Dallas, owner of some "pretty" production in the Hockley County side of the Slaughter field, was a Midland visitor around the end of the week. It is reported that Paul and some of his associates may soon start some new development work in West Texas regions.

—Geo. Callihan, Abilene cable tool contractor and wildcat prospector, was seen in the community this week. A large number of oil producing areas in West Texas and West-Central Texas have been discovered because of the initiative, ingenuity and intelligence of Geo. Callihan.

—He knows how to drill wells with spudders and standard tools and insists there is going to be plenty of work for him to do for a long time. He looks younger today than he did ten years ago. The Toolpusher predicts that before long Callihan will rack up another new field—he is on the trail of it now.

—Paul G. Schaefer quit his job as West Texas land man for Cities Service Oil Company in 1941 and moved from Odessa to Midland and started building his foundation to operate as an independent. During the past week he announced his first wildcat venture, No. 1 Farmer, two miles north of the Wasson field in Yoakum County.

—It appears that Paul has taken plenty of time to figure out his first big project and he seems to be pretty sure of his objective on this deal. Best of luck.

Dealer-Permit Order Revoked

The Midland County ACA officer has been advised by the War Food Administration that Food Distribution Order 26 has been revoked, effective September 26. The order required all livestock dealers except farmers to obtain permits to buy and sell livestock and to keep records of their operations.

The order, which had been in effect since April 1, was needed to supplement the quota system regulating the deliveries of meat to civilians, the WFA said. Since the quota system has been suspended, it no longer is necessary to have the dealer-permit order in effect.

Under the dealer-permit plan, anyone except farmers who bought and sold cattle, hogs and sheep and kept them less than 30 days was required to have a permit and to keep a complete record of his livestock purchases and sales.

They Died That Other Americans Might Live

Sometimes it is a simple set of gray crosses with Old Glory flying nearby, sometimes it is an ornate marker of bullet belts and a propeller, and sometimes it is row upon row of shining white crosses that mark the graves of American dead. But the fact stands out that the number of graves like these on Guadalcanal and Attu is constantly growing as U. S. soldiers fall on world fighting fronts that other Americans might live as free men. Your war bond purchases will help avenge these honored dead.
