

National 4-H Club Week March 3-10

by Alice L. Kemp

Texas 4-H Club members will join with more than two million 4-H Club members in the nation in the observance of National 4-H Club Week, March 3-10.

Purpose of the week long observance is to give members a chance to measure progress, set new goals and to influence more young people to join or form 4-H Clubs. Other aims include acquainting more parents with 4-H and to encourage able, youth-minded citizens to volunteer as local leaders.

Texas 4-H members want you to know that you have a special invitation to attend and take part in the many activities that mark 4-H club week. If you are between the ages of 9 to 21, you are invited to join this voluntary organization. If you are a parent of a boy or girl of 4-H age, or if you are interested in working with youth, why not find out more about this movement. Voluntary local leaders are needed to teach and guide 4-H members in their many projects.

Fisher county 4-H Clubs will observe National 4-H Week with a county-wide 4-H party Tuesday March 6, at 7:30 p. m. in the Agriculture Building in Roby. The party will be for all 4-H members, their parents and friends of 4-H in the county. Mr. Joel Wilson of Abilene will direct recreation. Host for the party will be members of the Fisher County Junior Leaders 4-H Club. Refreshments will be served by this group.

Also in observance, several displays will be erected in windows of local stores to let others know what 4-H members are doing.

For additional information about any part of 4-H Club work, contact the county Extension agents in your county.

Young People Give Program For WSCS

The choir sang several songs. Ann Tillotson read Isaiah 9 chap. 2-7 and the group sang "Blessed Assurance". Mrs. Phil J. Malouf then conducted a business session, reading a letter in regard to the sub-district meeting to be held Wednesday in Jayton.

Mrs. W. A. Shope reported on the World Day of Prayer to be on Friday, March 9. Mrs. J. W. Porter gave the closing prayer.

Mr. Norman showed us how to keep records and what we should have in our notebook. Then Clyde McKimney adjourned the meeting. The next meeting has not been set.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M. D. Commissioner of Health

Laboratory services offered by the Texas State Department of Health have come a long way since a State chemist and bacteriologist first began work at the tail-end of the Nineteenth Century.

Since then, needed services have been added as the State grew and progressed. During the same period of growth, many local health departments installed their own laboratories to meet the needs in their areas.

During World War II the demand for decentralization of laboratory services, especially serology tests, was enhanced by Selective Service Commission. Quicker results were required on venereal disease serological tests because sending the samples all the way to Austin and waiting for results often took several days—delaying the draft program in some areas of the State.

Also, personnel at the local laboratories became aware of the need for greater standardization among the regional laboratories.

For these reasons, a system of regional laboratories was established. As financing became available the number of laboratories and services provided were expanded, until today there are 22 laboratories located outside of Austin serving nearly the entire population of Texas. Areas without regional services continue to submit specimens for testing to Austin.

The bulk of regional laboratory services include serological studies, water milk bacteriology and some identification of disease organisms related to communicable disease control.

Biologics production -- manufacture of vaccines -- and rabies identifications, except in Houston, are performed solely in the Austin laboratory.

Standardization is maintained among the regional laboratories with frequent seminars and training sessions in Austin and by standardization tests. Syphilis serology is tested, for instance, by distributed examination which have been coded, so that the central laboratory knows in advance which are positive and which are negative.

Scores are recorded. Each laboratory must maintain a certain percentage of correct examinations. Additional regional laboratories are planned for the future.

WHAT? BUILD A PICKUP TRUCK SPECIALLY FOR TEXAS?

YES SIR--THE '62 FORD!

IT STARTED IN TEXAS--when Ford engineers came here to track down exactly what Texans need in a pickup. They drove Texas roads... talked to Texas truck owners... and produced a truck that fits Texas to a "T." Drive the '62 Ford pickup and you'll agree!

The wheelbase is long--114 easy-riding inches (122 for 8-foot bodies). There's little chance of bumper-scraps on inclines because of the short front overhang--and more ride stability. The ride is smooth. To the long wheelbase, add easy springing--and the ride's as soft as a Texas drawl!

The frame is strong. It's built to stand the twisting of high-crowned Texas roads.

The savings are BIG--and they start right today! You save now on Ford's pickup prices--the lowest of any leading make.* And you save from now on! Save on gas with Ford's modern engines, Six and V-8. Save on oil--go 4,000 miles between oil changes, thanks to Ford's Full-Flow oil filter. Save on tires because Ford's I-beam suspension keeps front tires tracking true. In certified tests against pickups using independent front suspension, Ford front tires lasted up to 83% longer!

Stop in and drive a '62 Ford pickup today. It's built for Texas, built in Texas. Let us show you why Ford's full-time economy only starts with low price!

LETTER TO EDITOR

NOT SO FUNNY, BUT TRUE

Lots of small businessmen are still squealing like a pig under a gate; but they just as well face the facts. We, who have supported prices for our products or services, or a direct government handout, or just a member of the family working for some tax supported job; can pull up our belts another notch or two, underbid all competition, cut prices to the bottom, let some of our debts ride, and still be around by stealing a little here and there.

All others can starve by the wayside for there is worse to come when we get our bill for the trip to the moon. As yet the trip abroad for little Bobby is not yet paid for.

Mrs. W. E. Partin spent last week in Lawton, Oklahoma. She visited Mr. Partin who is doing construction work on Atlas Missile bases. She visited in the home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Menees. Mr. Partin brought her home Sunday and returned to Lawton Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Clark of El-Dorado visited his mother Mrs. J. N. Clark last Saturday and Sunday. They intended to take Mrs. Clark home with them for a visit, but she did not feel up to the visit at this time, having just been released from the hospital for treatment.

Program Progressing
On Screwworm
Eradication Project

"The screwworm eradication program is in its third week of operation in Texas. Five million sterile screwworm flies were released in the lower Rio Grande Valley two weeks ago," says County Agent James S. Norman. "The first phase of the eradication program, the raising of funds to support the program, is almost complete. The second phase of the eradication program is just beginning. The individual stock owner will play an important part in this phase of the eradication program," says Norman.

"A buffer zone in the Southern portion of Texas along the Mexican border will be maintained," officials in charge of the eradication program say. If the eradication program is to be effective, the individual rancher must: inspect his livestock frequently -- treat screwworm cases immediately with a recommended insecticide -- collect ten worms from each wound and take his county agent -- not move animals from any areas unless they all have been treated with recommended insecticide -- not accept or move animals from other States where screwworms may exist unless the cattle dealer, buyer, or hauler inspects and treats all animals at origin with the recommended screwworm smear or spray -- do everything possible to prevent screwworm infested animals from entering his neighborhood.

Governors Proclamation

Greetings:

For each of the past 12 years, Public Schools Week in Texas has been set aside as a special time to place increased emphasis on our education system.

During this period, parents are encouraged to visit the public schools, and all citizens are urged through special programs to recognize the tremendous importance of our system of education. Our goal is to make Texas public schools the finest in the Nation, and to achieve this our citizens are urged to take an active interest in the school systems and to cooperate with their school boards, superintendents, principals and teachers.

Never before in our history has there been a greater need for educated leadership. As we rush to train young people in science and technology to keep pace with world events, it is also important to remember that our public schools will furnish our leaders tomorrow with the basic human, moral and spiritual foundations necessary for more advanced training and knowledge.

Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the period of March 5-9, 1962, as Public Schools Week in Texas.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 9th day of Oct., 1961.

Price Daniel
Governor of Texas.

Periods Of War

Since many of the benefits that are available to the various veterans who served during a period of war, are available only to the veterans I thought perhaps it might be of value to list the various periods of war, as set forth in Veterans Administration Regulations.

(A). Indian Wars: January 1, 1817, through December 31, 1898, both dates inclusive. Service must have been rendered with the United States military forces against Indian tribes or nations.

(B). Spanish-American War: April 21, 1898, through July 4, 1902, both dates inclusive. If the veteran served with the United States military forces engaged in the More Province, the ending date is July 15 1903. The Philippine Insurrection and Boxer Rebellion is included.

(C). World War I: April 6, 1917, through November 11, 1918, inclusive. If the veteran served with the United States Military forces in Russia, the ending date is April 1, 1920. Service after November 11, 1918, and before July 2, 1921, is considered World War I service, if the veteran served in the active military services after April 5, 1917, and before November 12, 1918.

(D). World War II: December 7, 1941, through December 31, 1946, both dates inclusive. If the veteran was in service on December 31, 1946, continues service before July 26, 1947, is considered World War II service.

Aggravation of Pre-Service Disability

In cases involving aggravation by active service, the VA rating will reflect only the degree of disability over and above the degree of disability existing at the time of entrance into active service. This applies whether the particular condition was noted at the time of the person's entry into active service or whether it is determined upon the evidence of record to have existed at the time. In order to arrive at the percentage of disability compensation payable to the veteran, it is necessary to deduct from the present evaluation the degree of the disability existing at the time of entrance into active service, if such is ascertainable. VA regulations state that if such disability is one hundred per cent disabling, then no deduction will be made. Likewise, no deduction will be made if the degree of disability at the time of entrance into active service is not ascertainable in terms of the VA rating schedule.

This simply means that if the records show that a veteran had a ten per cent disability at the time

Health Dept. Receives Much Blood From American Red Cross

The State Health Department of Texas received 42,720 milliliters of the blood fraction, gamma globulin, without charge from the American Red Cross in the fiscal year ending last June 30, Philip Schenkenberg, manager, Midwestern Area Office, announced in St. Louis today. In addition, 1,062 ml. went direct to doctors to meet special needs.

Mr. Schenkenberg said that distribution of the blood derivative to state health departments and in special cases to individual physicians is made possible by contributions of voluntary donors to the Red Cross Blood Program through its 55 centers located in 40 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. Production of the derivation from outdated whole blood and its distribution to all 50 states, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico is financed through contributions to annual March or fall federated fund drives.

Gamma globulin is used to prevent or modify measles and hepatitis and to fight various other infections. It is the most widely used of a small but increasing group of blood derivatives distributed without charge by the Red Cross, each of which has a specific application in medical treatment. In the last fiscal year, nearly 1,148,300 ml. were produced for the Red Cross by commercial laboratories from the plasma, or liquid portion, of blood that had become outdated by not being requisitioned for direct transfusion within 21 days of its collection.

Of this total, 617,164 ml. were distributed to health departments to be administered without charge by public health agencies. Another 37,810 ml. were used by national Red Cross blood laboratories in research or sent to other laboratories for this purpose. Some of the remainder went direct from Red Cross headquarters in Washington, D. C., to doctors, on request, for patients with continuing needs for gamma globulin because of blood deficiencies or for use by those physicians for research. The rest was requisitioned by the 55 regional blood centers of the Red Cross to fill special of entrance into active service, and this same disability is shown to be twenty per cent at the time of discharge, he is then entitled to disability compensation from the VA at the rate of 10 percent.

Thank you and come see me, Your County Service Officer Steve Kelley.

Mr. Schenkenberg said that the blood fractionation program is one of the many important local, national, and international Red Cross services supported entirely through voluntary contributions to local independent or federated fund campaigns. Many Texas communities, he said, will be conducting campaigns in March to raise their share of the funds needed to support these services.

Religion of the Mistaken

Many people wrongly think and tirk of communism as if it were merely another system of political thought, another philosophy of government. If communism were only that, it would be relatively unimportant -- no more than a freakish aberration from the social and moral norm. But there is much more to communism.

Communism is a religion -- a godless and dangerous religion, but a religion all the same -- and that is its strength. Since the acknowledgment and adoration of God -- the insistence on the innate dignity of mankind as God's greatest creation -- are the principal stumbling blocks in the path of communist progress, the communists have created a false religion to oppose all true religion.

If you read Pravda and other publications from the Kremlin you will constantly find terms that are common to religious writers and thinkers. You will find references to heresy, dogmatism, orthodoxy, and sectarianism. Communism has elevated its own writings to the stature of sacred books. This is the way the writings of Marx and Engels, Lenin and Stalin are treated by the Mistaken. In fact, the communists have substituted a party doctrine. They have godless counterparts for Christian customs and rites. They have their own missionary program and their own system stewardship.

The writings of the communists bear a shocking resemblance to Christian writings -- only in reverse, as if they were being read in a mirror. For instance, there is this quotation: "Thou shalt not love the Lord thy God with all thy might because man is the highest being for men." Or, here is another parody of one of God's commandments: "Thou shalt kill if the resistance of the owners of property makes it necessary."

The list of parallels could go on endlessly. But the importance of this is that religion -- even godless religion -- can create zealots while a simple system of political thought cannot. Remember that Lucifer was able to recruit battalions of angels to fight the hopeless battle against God Almighty himself.

The preachers of the communists religion claim that what we say is the true religion of decent people is actually the opiate of the masses, the enemy of progress. They claim that if they can destroy religion and drive God from the center of our universe, then all men will be unselfish, loving and peaceful. They hold that the two stumbling blocks in the achievement of their Utopia are religion and capitalism, and they are dedicated to the destruction of these two evils. In their perverted religion, Satan is capitalism and must be defeated and thrust down into oblivion. To refuse to believe fully in the revealed religion of communism is sin and the wages of sin are death. However, they will agree that socialism is a useful stepping stone to communism -- a half-way house on the road to the communization of all property and all people.

The principal objective of this international conspiracy is to reduce man to the role of an animal -- to eliminate every trace of the Divine spark which differentiates man from the lower orders. In order to do this they seek to take away from us our most prized possession -- the saving of God Almighty, our only hope for time and eternity.

This is the keystone of our faith and it is this keystone the communists seek to destroy. For if they destroy this, they destroy hope -- and people must be without hope to accept the godless, degrading, materialistic dogma of communism. And they have been succeeding in all parts of the world. The communists now control approximately a billion people, one third of the world's population. They have accomplished this by killing everyone who opposes them, everyone who nurtures hope in his heart, and by reducing the survivors to the status of mere animals. This has been the story in Russia, Latvia, Estonia, Lithuania, Bulgaria, Rumania, Czechoslovakia and Jugoslavia.

RURAL ELECTRICS repay billionth dollar on U.S. loans

A $43,272.06 check from Allamakee-Clayton Electric Cooperative, Inc., Postville, Iowa, recently pushed repayment of Rural Electrification Administration loans past the one billion dollar mark. Now, more than one dollar out of every four loaned has been returned -- plus almost half a billion dollars in interest!

Since the start of rural electrification in 1935, REA has advanced $3 3/4 billion in long-term loans to nearly 1,000 locally-owned rural electric systems. Rural people have used this money to build their own electric lines . . . the only way they could get electricity.

They've helped boost the number of farms with electricity from 10.9 to 97 per cent. And today rural electricians are bringing the most modern electric service to residences, farms, churches, schools, and businesses all over rural America . . . serving more than 17 million people.

Best of all, their loan repayment record is 99.99 per cent "perfect" . . . one of the finest in banking history. Rural electricians are making regularly scheduled payments on principal and interest. And in addition, they have already repaid more than $170 million ahead of the dates it was due.

In all these ways, locally-managed rural electric systems continue to demonstrate that rural electrification, financed by REA loans, is one of the soundest investments our Nation has ever made.
